Stemmata quid faciunt? What is a long pedigree worth?
Stet. Let it stand.
Sturm und Drang. (Ger.) Storm and stress.
Sua cuīque voluptas. Every man has his own idea of pleasure.
Suāviter in modo, fortiter in re. (Gently in manner, firmly in act). "The iron hand in the velvet glove."
Sub hoc signo vinces. Under this standard will you conquer.
Sub jūdice. (Under the judge.) Under consideration.
Sublāta causa, tollitur effectus. Remove the cause and the effect ceases.
Sub poena. Under a penalty.
Sub rosa. Under the rose, privately.
Sub silentio. In silence.
Sub voce, s.v. Under such and such a word.
Suggestio falsi. An insinuation of what is not true.
Sui generis. (Of its own kind). Unique.
Summum bonum. The supreme good.
Summum jus summa injūria. Rigorous justice often proves to be the height of injustice.
Sum quod eris, fui quod es. I am now what you will be one day, what you are now I once was.
Sunt lachrymae rerum. Tears are not wanting for such fortunes.
Sunt superis sua jura. The gods are a law to themselves.
Suo marte. By his own unaided skill.
Suppressio veri. A suppression of what is true.
Surgit amāri aliquid. There comes a bitter flavour.
Sursum corda. Lift up your hearts.
Suum cuīque. Every one to have his own.
Suus cuīque mos. Every one has his own characteristic ways.
Tableau vivant. (F.) A scene in which living persons represent statuary or pictures.
Table d' hôte. (F.) A common table for guests.
Tabula rasa. A blank writing-tablet.
Tâche sans tache. (F.) A work without stain.
Talis pater, qualis filius. Like father, like son.
Tam Marte quam Minerva. As much by courage as by wisdom.
Tantaene animis cœlestibus irae? Do the gods indulge in such resentment.?
Tant mieux. (F.) So much the better.
Tant pis. (F.) So much the worse.
Tarde venientibus ossa. Late-comers only get bones.
Tel maître, tel valet. (F.) Like master, like man.
Tempora mutantur, nos et mutāmur in illis. Times change, and we change with them.
Tempori parendum. One must move with the times.
Tempus edax rerum. Time, which devours all.
Tempus fugit. Time flies.
Tempus omnia revēlat. Time discovers all things.
Teres atque rotundus. (Smooth and round). A man polished and complete.
Terminus ad quem. The goal, the end.
Terminus a quo. The starting-point.
Terrae filius. (See filius terrae).
Terra incognita. An unknown land.
Tertium quid. A third alternative.
Tete-à-tête. (F.) (Head to head). A private conversation.
Tiens ta foi. (F.) Keep faith.
Tiers état. (F.) (The third estate). The commons.
Timeo Danaos et dona ferentes. I mistrust the Greeks, even when they proffer presents.
Tirer le diable par la queue. (F.) To tweak the devil by the tail). To take the bull by the horns.
Toga virīlis. The garb of manhood.
Τὸ καλόν, [to kalon.] (Gr.) The beautiful.
Το πρέπον, [to prepon.] (Gr.) The seemly.
Tot homines, tot sententiae. Many men, many minds.
Totidem verbis. In so many words.
Toties quoties. As often as.
Toto cælo. (By the whole heaven). Wide as the poles asunder.
Toujours perdrix. (F.) (Always partridge!) The same thing again and again.
Toujours prêt. (F.) Always ready.
Tour de force. (F.) A feat of strength.
Tourner casaque. (F.) (To turn one's coat). To change one's party.
Tout-à-fait. (F.) Entirely.
Tout bien ou rien. (F.) All or nothing.
Tout ensemble. (F.) The whole, the general effect.
Tout le monde est sage après le coup. (F.) Every one is wise after the event.
Traduttori, traditori. (It.) Translators are traitors.
Trahit sua quemque voluptas. Every one follows his own fancy.
Tria juncta in ūno. Three joined in one.
Troja fuit. Once Troy existed.
Tua res agitur. It is a matter that concerns you.
Tulit alter honōres. Your rival has carried off the honours.
Tu ne cede malis. Yield not to misfortunes.

Tu quoque. You also; "you're another."
Ubi bene ibi patria. One's fatherland is where one is successful.
Ubi jus incertum, ibi jus nullum. Where the law is uncertain, there is no law.
Ubi mel, ibi apes. Where is honey, there are bees.
Ubi supra. Where above mentioned.
Ultima ratio regum. The last argument of kings (i.e., an appeal to arms).
Ultimus Romanorum. The last of the Romans.
Ultra vires. Beyond one's legal or constitutional powers.
Un fait accompli. (F.) An accomplished fact.
Unguibus et rostro. With talons and beak.
Urbi et orbi. For the city (i.e., Rome), and the world.
Usque ad aras. To the very altars.
Usque ad nauseam. To utter disgust.
Usus loquendi. The usage in speaking.
Utile dulci. The expedient with the agreeable.
Ut infra. As below mentioned.
Uti possidētis. As you now possess.
Ut supra. As above mentioned.
Vacuus cantat coram latrōne viātor. The traveller whose pockets are empty sings when the highwayman comes.
Vade mecum. (Go with me). A constant companion.
Vade retro. Avaunt.
Vae victis! Woe to the conquered!
Valeat quantum valēre potest. Let it pass for what it is worth.
Valet de chambre. (F.) A personal attendant.
Valēte ac plaudite. Farewell, and give us your applause.
Vānitas vanitātum, omnia vānitas. Vanity of vanities, all is vanity.
Varia lectio; Variae lectiōnes; v.l.; vv. ll. Variant reading or readings.
Varium et mutābile semper fēmina. Woman is ever fickle and changeable.
Velis et rēmis. With sails and oars.
Veluti in speculum. As in a mirror.
Veni, vidi, vici. I came, I saw, I conquered.
Ventis secundis; Vento secundo. With favourable winds.
Ventre affamé n' a point d' oreilles. (F.) An empty stomach has no ears.
Vera incessu patuit dea. She stood revealed a goddess by her gait.
Verbatim et līterātim. Word for word, and letter for letter.
Verba volant, scripta manent. What is spoken flies abroad, what is written remains behind.
Verbum sat sapienti; verbum sap. A word is enough for a wise man.
Vēritas parit odium. Telling the truth begets ill-will.
Veritas praevalebit. Truth shall prevail.
Vestīgia nulla retrorsum. There are no footprints of a return journey.
Vexāta quaestio. A disputed point.
Via media. The middle course.
Via trita, via tuta. The beaten track is safe.
Vice. In place of.
Vice versa. Interchanged.
Victis honos. Honour to a fallen foe.
Vide ut supra. See above.
Video meliōra probōque, deteriōra sequor. While I see what is better and approve it, I follow what is worse.
Vi et armis. By main force.
Vigilāte et orāte. Watch and pray.
Vincit amor patriae. Love of fatherland will prevail.
Vincit omnia vēritas. Truth overcomes everything.
Vincit qui patitur. He who suffers conquers.
Vires acquīrit eundo. As she goes she gathers strength (of Rumour).
Virtus in arduis. Courage in difficulties.
Virtus laudatur et alget. People praise virtue and leave it to starve.
Virtus semper viridis. Virtue never fades.
Vis à-vis. (F.) Opposite; face to face.
Vis consili expers mole ruit sua. Strength, not tempered with judgment, falls to ruin by its own weight.
Vis inertiae. The force of passive resistance.
Vita brevis, ars longa. (See ars longa, vita brevis).
Vivat rex. Long live the king.
Viva voce. With the living voice.
Vive la bagatelle. (F.) Good luck to trifling!
Vive la république. (F.) Success to the republic.
Vive le roi. (F.) Long live the king!
Vizēre fortes ante Agamemnona. There were brave men alive before Agamemnon.
Voilà tout. That's all.
Voilà une autre chose. (F.) That's another matter.
Volenti non fit injūria. There is no injustice if the other party consents.
Volo, non valeo. I am willing but not able.
Vox et praeterea nihil. A voice and nothing more; a mere sound.
Vox faucibus haesit. The word stuck in his throat, died on his lips.
Vox populi, vox Dei. The voice of the people is the voice of God.
Vultus est index animi. The face is the index of the mind.
Weltpolitik. (Ger.) (World policy). The political considerations that determine the policy of a nation in relation to all other nations.
Zeitgeist. (Ger.) The spirit of the age.
Zonam perdidit. (He has lost his purse). He is in distressed circumstances.

CHARACTERS IN FICTION, POETRY, AND DRAMA (chiefly English).

Abdiel, a seraph, "Among the faithless faithful only he"; Paradise Lost, Book V., Milton.

Aben-Ezra, Raphael, friend of the Prefect of Alexandria; Hypatia, C. Kingsley.

Abou Hassan, a youth of Bagdad who is carried, while asleep, to the Caliph's bed, and is surprised next morning to find himself saluted as Caliph; Arabian Nights.

Absalom, stands for the Duke of Monmouth in Dryden's famous satire; Absalom and Achitophel. Dryden.

Absolute Captain, son of Sir Anthony, in love with Lydia Languish, whom he courts under the name of Captain Beverley; The Rivals, Sheridan.

Achitophel, who "for a calm unfit would steer too near the sands to boast his wit," represents Shaftesbury; Absalom and Achitophel, Dryden.

Acrasia, the fair enchantress representing Intemperance, whose abode is the "Bower of Bliss" where she transforms her victims into beasts; Faerie Queene, Spenser.

Acres, Bob, a blustering coward with fantastic oaths; The Rivals, Sheridan.

Adam, a type of the good old servant of ancient times "when service sweat for duty not for meed"; As You Like It, Shakespeare.

Adams, Parson, an ideal country clergyman, devoid, however, of practical wisdom; Joseph Andrews, Fielding.

Adhem, Abou Ben, showed his love for God by loving his fellow-man; Abou Ben Adhem, Leigh Hunt.

Adonais, stands for Keats in the immortal elegy of his poet friend; Adonais, Shelley.

Aguecheek, Sir Andrew, the parrot-like repeater of other people's stale jests and the butt of the witty and unscrupulous Sir Toby; Twelfth Night, Shakespeare.

Ahmed, Prince, had a tent that could cover a whole army, and squeeze into a pocket; Arabian Nights.

Aimwell, Viscount, a beau who schemes successfully for the hand of Dorinda, daughter of Lady Bountiful; The Beaux' Stratagem, Farquhar.

Aladdin rubs his magic lamp and all his desires are gratified; Arabian Nights.

Alasnam, a prince who had eight valuable statues, but sought one still more precious, and this he found in the person of a pure and beautiful woman; Arabian Nights.

Alceste, a straightforward, honest man, generous at heart but surly in manner; Le Misanthrope, Molière.

Aldiborontiphoscophornio, a character in a burlesque, whose extraordinary name was humorously given by the Author of Waverley to his printer, James Ballantyne; Chrononhotonthologos, H. Carey.

Ali Mahbub, an Indian Secret Service officer, employed by government to collect frontier news: Kim, Kipling.

Allan M'Aulay, a cousin of Lord Menteith, supposed to have the gift of "second sight"; Legend of Montrose, Scott.

Allworthy, Mr., "did good by stealth, and blushed to find it fame"; Tom Jones, Fielding.

Alnaschar, spends all his money in buying a basket of glassware, but while dreaming of the fortune he is going to make with his wares, kicks over his stock-in-trade and ruins his prospects; Arabian Nights.

Altamont, Col., an escaped convict, first husband of Lady Clavering, and the sword of Damocles suspended over the head of her second; Pendennis, Thackeray.

Almeria, heroine of the tragedy beginning "Music hath charms"; The Mourning Bride, Congreve.

Amadis de Gaul, the most prominent figure in many Spanish and Portuguese romances.

Amaryllis, the name often given to a country maiden in ancient pastoral poetry; hence commonly applied to a rustic beauty.

Amelia, "the most charming character," says Thackeray, "in English fiction"; Amelia, Fielding.

Amoret and Belphœbe, the twin sisters found in a wood by Venus and Diana; the former, brought up by Venus, stands as a type of womanly charm, the latter, trained by Diana, as a type of womanly purity; Faerie Queene, Spenser.

Amory, Blanche, an insipid young lady to whom Pendennis was engaged for a time; Pendennis, Thackeray.

Ancient Mariner, the hero of a story which turns on his shooting an albatross, a bird of good omen; The Ancient Mariner, Coleridge.

Andrea del Sarto, "the faultless painter"; Men and Women, Browning.

Anna Karenina, the heroine of a powerful Russian story; Anna Karenina, Tolstoi.

Apollyon, an angel of "the bottomless pit," with whom Christian has a terrible encounter; Pilgrim's Progress, Bunyan.

Aram, Eugene, scholar, schoolmaster, and murderer; Eugene Aram, E. B. Lytton and Tom Hood.

Archimago, the "arch-enchanter," who deceives unwary knights, represents Hypocrisy; Faerie Queene, Spenser.

Arden, Enoch, returning, after a long absence, to find his wife happily married, departs without a word; Enoch Arden, Tennyson.

Aresby, Captain, feather-brained and affected in parading French phrases; Cecilia, Madame D'Arblay.

Ariel, the spirit of the air who is forced to serve Prospero for a season; The Tempest, Shakespeare.

Armida, an enchantress who seduced Rinaldo and other Crusaders from their great enterprise; Jerusalem Delivered, Tasso.

Artegal, Sir, the hero of the Fifth Book, representing Justice in the spiritual allegory; Faerie Queene, Spenser.

Artful Dodger, a young pickpocket; Oliver Twist, Dickens.

Ashford, Isaac, a noble peasant "contemning all things mean"; Parish Register, Crabbe.

Ashton, Lucy, see Lammermoor, Bride of.

Asmodeus, a demon with more drollery than malice, "un diable bon-homme"; Devil on Two Sticks, Lesage.

Aspasia, the gifted friend of Pericles, the most cultured woman of her time; Pericles and Aspasia, Landor.

Astarte, heroine of the poem; Manfred, Byron.

Astrophel, the faithful shepherd, stands for Sir Philip Sidney, while Colin Clout stands for the poet himself; Shepherd's Calendar, Spenser.

Athalie, or Athaliah, the central figure of Racine's chef d'œuvre; Athalie, Racine.

Athelstane, "The Unready"; Ivanhoe, Scott.

Autolycus, a thievish pedlar, "a snapper-up of unconsidered trifles"; Winter's Tale, Shakespeare.

Bab, copies the grand airs of her mistress; High Life Below Stairs, Townley.

Baba, Ali, discovered the pass-word, "Sesame"; Arabian Nights.

Backbite, a scurrilous poet and scandal-monger; School for Scandal, Sheridan.

Bagstock, Major, varies his Christian name, "Old Joe," "Josh," "J. B." etc., an admirer of Miss Tox; Dombey and Son, Dickens.

Bailey, Harry, mine host of the Tabard, who proposes to the Canterbury pilgrims that they should tell tales on the way; Canterbury Tales, Chaucer.

Balderstone, Caleb, the devoted and resourceful servant of Ravenswood, who ingeniously strives to hide his master's poverty; Bride of Lammermoor, Scott.

Balwhidder, Rev. Micah, an excellently drawn character; Annals of the Parish, Galt.

Baly, a "godlike king" outwitted by a dwarf; Curse of Kehama, Southey.

Banquo, a general of Duncan's army whose ghost appears to Macbeth; Macbeth, Shakespeare.

Bardell, Mrs., plaintiff against Pickwick for breach of promise of marriage; Pickwick Papers, Dickens.

Bardolph, "white-livered and red-faced, faces it out but fights not"; Henry V., Shakespeare.

Barkis, the carrier who proposed marriage by sending the message "Barkis is willin'"; David Copperfield, Dickens.

Barlasch, a taciturn old soldier of Napoleon's Guard, who becomes the guardian of the family on whom he is quartered; Barlasch of the Guard, Merriman.

Barlass, Kate, the heroic Katharine Douglas, who thrust her arm through the staple of the door to save the life of James I. of Scotland; The King's Tragedy, Rossetti.

Barnwell, George, gradually sinks in crime induced by Sarah Millwood (both were hanged in 1732); George Barnwell, Lillo.

Barraclough, Rev Amos, Primitive Methodist in love with Jessie Roantree; Life's Handicap, Kipling.

Barton, Mary, the heroine of a tale of Lancashire factory workers; Mary Barton, Mrs. Gaskell.

Bates, Charley, Fagin's precocious pupil; Oliver Twist, Dickens.

Battle, Mrs., her opinions on whist are proverbial, "a clear fire, a clean hearth, and the rigour of the game"; Essays of Elia, C. Lamb.

Bayham, Fred, an impecunious, thriftless, good-hearted friend of Pendennis; The Newcomes, Thackeray.

Bean, Alice, daughter of a Highland robber chief, who nurses Waverley; Waverley, Scott.

Beatrice, (1) Dante's guide through the Paradise, and his ideal of womanly perfection; The Divine Comedy, Dante. (2) The brilliant niece of the Duke with whom Benedick falls in love; Much Ado about Nothing, Shakespeare.

Beau Tibbs, foppish, showy, and "hard-up"; Citizen of the World, Goldsmith.

Beck, Gilead P., an American who "strikes ile," and reveres the learned; The Golden Butterfly, Besant and Rice.

Beck, Madame, head of a girls' boarding-school, noiseless and watchful, "shod with the shoes of silence"; Villette, C. Brontë.

Bede, Adam, a carpenter, but one of Nature's noblemen; Adam Bede, G. Eliot.

Bedivere, Sir, "first made and latest left of all the knights" of the Round Table; Passing of Arthur, Tennyson.

Belch, Sir Toby, the witty and unscrupulous uncle of Olivia, who turns her house into an ale-house; Twelfth Night, Shakespeare.

Belinda, the heroine of a mock-heroic poem arising out of the incident of a gentleman cutting off a lock of the lady's hair; Rape of the Lock, Pope.

Bell, Laura, the sweet, lovable, deeply religious heroine of Pendennis, whom she marries; Pendennis, Thackeray.

Bellaston, Lady, the shameless "friend" of Tom Jones; Tom Jones, Fielding.

Belvidera, heroine of the tragedy, becomes insane from grief; Venice Preserved, Otway.

Benedick, professes to despise women till enthralled by Beatrice; Much Ado about Nothing, Shakespeare.

Bennett, Elizabeth, captivating in mind and person; wise and penetrating in her judgment of character; Pride and Prejudice, Jane Austen.

Beowulf, the Norse viking who is the hero of our first English poem.

Bessie of Bethnal Green, the blind beggar's daughter; Reliques, Percy.

Bickerstaff, Isaac, the supposed author of a prophetic almanack written by Dean Swift.

Binnie, James, a shrewd, kindly Scot, an Indian Civil servant, and Col. Newcome's friend; The Newcomes, Thackeray.

Blatant Beast, supposed to typify slander or the unthinking outcry of a mob; Faerie Queene, Spenser.

Blimber, Dr., conducted a high-class school at Brighton; Dombey and Son, Dickens.

Blondel de Nesle, favourite minstrel of Richard I., who is said to have discovered where the king was imprisoned; The Talisman, Scott.

Blood, Col., emissary of the Duke of Buckingham; Peveril of the Peak, Scott.

Bloughram, Bishop, a worldly-minded bishop who had scant sympathy for high and unattainable ideals; Bishop Bloughram's Apology, Browning.

Bluff, Capt. Noll, champion of fighting for its own sake; Old Bachelor, Congreve.

Boanerges, a lion in the pulpit, a sucking-dove at the tea-table; Salem Chapel, Mrs. Oliphant.

Bobadil, Capt., a coward and braggart; Every Man in His Humour, Ben Jonson.

Bœuf, Front de, a brutal adherent of King John; Ivanhoe, Scott.

Boffin, Nicodemus, an untaught dustman, who became unexpectedly wealthy, "a man of high simplicity," shrewd and kindly; Our Mutual Friend, Dickens.

Bois Guilbert, Sir Brian de, a Knight Templar, made insulting love to Rebecca, killed in a duel with Ivanhoe; Ivanhoe, Scott.

Boldwood, Farmer, shot Troy the unworthy husband of Bathsheba; Far from the Madding Crowd, Hardy.

Boniface, landlord of the inn at Lichfield, always says, "as the sayin is"; The Beaux' Stratagem, G. Farquhar.

Booby, Lady, a caricature of Pamela; Joseph Andrews, Fielding.

Booth, Capt., scoundrel husband of Amelia; Amelia, Fielding.

Bors, Sir, a type of humility and unselfish devotion, who saw the vision of the Holy Grail; Holy Grail, Tennyson.

Bottom, Nick, a consequential weaver, who leads a band of artisans to a wood to rehearse "Pyramus and Thisbe"; Midsummer Night's Dream, Shakespeare.

Bounderby, Josiah, "the bully of humility"; Hard Times, Dickens

Bountiful, Lady, benefactress of the whole parish; The Beaux' Stratagem, Farquhar.

Bowling, Tom, a naval character in Roderick Random and Dibdin's song; Roderick Random, Smollett.

Boythorn, Lawrence, a kind-hearted gentleman who affects great ferocity in a stentorian voice; Bleak House, Dickens.

Bradwardine, Baron, supporter of "Prince Charlie," a true gentleman; Waverley, Scott.

Bradwardine, Rose, modest and charming, marries Waverley; Waverley, Scott.

Brady, Widow, courted when twenty-three by a suitor of sixty-three, whom she shocks by her bold manners, and then marries his nephew; The Irish Widow, Garrick.

Brag, Jack, vulgar, boastful, and amusing; Jack Brag, Theodore Hook.

Braggadochio, the type of empty boastfulness, distinguished also by his utter cowardice; Faerie Queene, Spenser.

Bramble, Matthew, a gouty, splenetic, but generous country gentleman ; Humphrey Clinker, Smollett.

Bramble, Tabitha, sister of Matthew, vain, prim, mean, and ridiculous ; Humphrey Clinker, Smollett.

Brass, Sampson and Sally, brother and sister, engaged in the lowest kind of legal practice, with manners and morals to match ; Old Curiosity Shop, Dickens.

Bratts, Ned, hanged with his wife for crimes confessed ; Dramatic Idylls, Browning.

Bride of Abydos, her lover being shot by her father, she dies of a broken heart ; Bride of Abydos, Byron.

Bridgenorth, Major Ralph, a staunch Roundhead, the neighbour and friend of Julian Peveril ; Peveril of the Peak, Scott.

Briggs, " the stoney," petrified by drops of wisdom ; Dombey and Son, Dickens.

Britomart, the maiden warrior who represents the virtue of Chastity ; Faerie Queene, Spenser.

Brocklehurst, Rev. Mr., the " black-marble " clergyman of Lowood school ; Jane Eyre, C. Brontë.

Browdie, John, a hearty, bluff, and boisterous Yorkshireman ; Nicholas Nickleby, Dickens.

Brown, Mrs., symbol of English ignorance and mother-wit combined ; Mrs. Brown, Arthur Sketchley.

Brown, Tom, a not uncommon type of the English Public School boy, fonder of sports than books, able to give and take hard knocks without malice ; Tom Brown's Schooldays, T. Hughes.

Brownlow, Mr., the benevolent old gentleman who rescues Oliver from the gang of thieves ; Oliver Twist, Dickens.

Brunhild, a princess of extraordinary strength and prowess, who vowed that none should wed her that could not excel her feats of strength ; Nibelungenlied.

Brutus, a true, single-minded patriot, who is prevailed upon by the subtle Cassius to head the conspiracy against Cæsar ; Julius Cæsar, Shakespeare.

Bucket, the detective who discovered the real murderer of Mr. Tulkinghorn ; Bleak House, Dickens.

Bumble, the embodiment of petty parochialism, with a ludicrous sense of its official importance ; Oliver Twist, Dickens.

Bunsby, Jack, owner of the " Cautious Clara," a phenomenon of wisdom in the eyes of Captain Cuttle ; Dombey and Son, Dickens.

Burchell, Mr. (Sir William Thornhill), generous benefactor of the Primrose family ; Vicar of Wakefield, Goldsmith.

Burton, James, the honest Chelsea blacksmith, the ideal of all blacksmiths ; Hillyars and Burtons, H. Kingsley.

Burton, Samuel, a type of the convict class, a cunning villain, " more fiendish than the snake, more savage than the shark " ; Hillyars and Burtons, H. Kingsley.

Buzfuz, Sergeant, the pompous advocate for Mrs. Bardell ; Pickwick Papers, Dickens.

Caliban, a mis-shapen, brute-like savage, who is quick to assimilate evil, and slow to assimilate good ; The Tempest, Shakespeare.

Calidore, Sir, represents the virtue of Courtesy, and in the personal allegory stands for that flower of chivalry, Sir Philip Sidney ; Faerie Queene, Spenser.

Cambel and Triamond jointly represent Friendship ; Faerie Queene, Spenser.

Canace, the heroine of the unfinished Squire's Tale, mentioned in Milton's Il Penseroso : " And who had Canace to wife, that owned the virtuous ring and glass " ; Canterbury Tales, Chaucer.

Candour, Mrs., Queen of backbiters ; School for Scandal, Sheridan.

Capechi, Cavalieri, the wicked and ill-fated brother of Lauretta ; John Inglesant, Shorthouse.

Cantwell, Dr., " the meek and saintly hypocrite," who endeavours to seduce the wife of his best friend ; The Hypocrite, Bickerstaff.

Caponsacchi, the noble priest who aided Pompilia in her flight ; Ring and the Book, Browning.

Casabianca, a type of noble, unquestioning obedience in the face of deadly peril ; Casabianca, F. Hemans.

Carker, James, the evil-minded manager of Dombey's house, whose smile was like " the snarl of a cat " ; Dombey and Son, Dickens.

Carton, Sydney, goes to the guillotine to save from death the husband of the woman he loves ; Tale of Two Cities, Dickens.

Casaubon, an elderly pedant, more fossil than man, a genuine Dr. Dryasdust, Middlemarch, G. Eliot.

Castlewood, Beatrix, heroine of Esmond ; Esmond, Thackeray.

Caudle, Mrs., the wife who lectures in her nightcap her long-suffering husband ; Curtain Lectures, Douglas Jerrold.

Caxon, Jacob, a humorous, gossiping barber ; Antiquary, Scott.

Caxton, Mr., a scholar and a gentleman amusingly dreamy and absent-minded ; The Caxtons, Bulwer Lytton.

Caxton, Pisistratus, the chief figure in the charming family picture ; The Caxtons, Bulwer Lytton.

Cedric the Saxon, a Thane who disinherits his only son for becoming a Crusader under King Richard ; Ivanhoe, Scott.

Celadon and Amelia, lovers, the latter struck dead by lightning ; The Seasons (Summer), Thomson.

Celia, Rosalind's devoted cousin ; As You Like It, Shakespeare.

Cenci, Beatrice, daughter of a Roman nobleman, who was hanged with two others for the murder of her cruel father; The Cenci, Shelley.

Chadband, Rev. Mr., a self-indulgent ranter ; Bleak House, Dickens.

Champneys, Sir Geoffrey, " blue-blood " neighbour of Middlewick, a retired butterman ; Our Boys, H. J. Byron.

Cheeryble Brothers, Twins, who rose to wealth by sheer industry and integrity, were most kind to the unfortunate, and never failed at dinner to drink " to the memory of our dear mother " ; Nicholas Nickleby, Dickens.

Chester, Sir John, cold-hearted and swaggering, killed in a duel by Mr. Haredale ; Barnaby Rudge, Dickens.

Cheyne, Harvey, son and heir of an American millionaire, a spoilt boy and highly objectionable until cured by an involuntary fishing cruise on the Grand Banks ; Captains Courageous, Kipling.

Chick, Louisa, gives poor Mrs. Dombey the counsel to " make an effort " ; Dombey and Son, Dickens.

Chickweed, Conkey, the man who robbed himself when on the eve of bankruptcy ; Oliver Twist, Dickens.

Chinn, John, " the slender little hookey-nosed boy," afterwards the apostle of vaccination in his district ; The Tomb of his Ancestors, Kipling.

Christabel meets in the forest " a serpent woman " whom she takes home and befriends ; Christabel, Coleridge.

Christian, the pilgrim who sets out from the City of Destruction to the Celestial City ; Pilgrim's Progress, Bunyan.

Chriemhild, same as Gudrun (which see).

Chucks, the boatswain under Captain Savage ; Peter Simple, Marryat.

Chuzzlewit, Martin, the hero of novel of same name ; Martin Chuzzlewit, Dickens.

Chuzzlewit, Jonas, a scoundrel who poisons himself to escape being hanged ; Martin Chuzzlewit, Dickens.

Cid, The, the King Arthur or the Roland of the Spaniards, their champion against the Moors ; Chronicle of the Cid, Southey.

Claypole, Noah, one of Dickens's family of hypocrites, a sneak, a spy, an impostor ; Oliver Twist, Dickens.

Clementina loves Sir Charles Grandison without return of affection ; Sir Charles Grandison, Richardson.

Clifford, Paul, a highwayman redeemed by love ; Paul Clifford, Bulwer Lytton.

Clifford, Rosamond, the mistress of Henry II., famed for her beauty, commonly called " Fair Rosamond " ; Talisman, Scott.

Clinker, Humphrey, the methodistical, excellent servant of the Brambles ; Humphrey Clinker, Smollett.

Clon, dumb porter at Cocheforêt ; Under the Red Robe, Stanley Weyman.

Cloudesley, William of, a famous north-country archer and robber ; Reliques, Percy.

Codlin and Short, travelling showmen of the Punch-and-Judy type, both thoroughly selfish—" Codlin's the friend not Short " ; Old Curiosity Shop, Dickens.

Cœlia, mother of Faith, Hope, and Charity, who lived in the Hospice, Holiness ; Faerie Queene, Spenser.

Coffin, Long Tom, a fine specimen of a sailor ; The Pilot, Fenimore Cooper.

Collet, Mary, one of the saintly and devoted family of Little Gidding ; John Inglesant, Shorthouse.

Collingwood, popped an acorn into every vacant place in his estate ; Vanity Fair, Thackeray.

Colombe of Ravenstein, a duchess who refuses a prince and marries an advocate; Colombe's Birthday, Browning.

Compeyson, a flash " gentleman " and forger ; Great Expectations, Dickens.

Comus, son of the enchantress, Circe, who lures unwary travellers to drink of his magic goblet ; Comus, Milton.

Conachar, one who escaped death in the terrible clan duel, described in The Fair Maid of Perth, Scott.

Coningsby, hero of novel, said to stand for Lord Lyttleton ; Coningsby, Disraeli.

Cophetua, a legendary king of Africa, who married a beggar-maid ; An Old Ballad.

Conrad, Lord, a corsair, afterwards called Lara ; Corsair and Lara, Byron.

Conrade, Marquis of Montserrat, conspired against Cœur de Lion, assassinated by the Templar ; Talisman, Scott.

Consuelo, impersonation of moral purity ; Consuelo, George Sand.

Copperfield, David, hero of perhaps the best of Dickens's novels ; David Copperfield, Dickens.

Cordelia, a touching picture of filial affection, most loving when most wronged ; Lear, Shakespeare.

Corinne, the heroine of a novel which is supposed to be autobiographical in character ; Corinne, Mme. de Staël.

Corney, Mrs., matron of the workhouse where Oliver Twist was born, marries Bumble and makes him stand in awe of her ; Oliver Twist, Dickens.

Costigan, Captain, a reprobate, dram-drinking, out-at-elbows old scamp ; Pendennis, Thackeray.

Costigan, Emily, an actress, with whom as a lad Pendennis falls violently in love ; Pendennis, Thackeray.

Coverley, Sir Roger de, an ideal squire, who is loyal to his Sovereign and his Church, and beneficent to the poor ; Spectator, Addison.

Cratchit, Bob, Scrooge's clerk, underpaid and overworked, but always contented and even cheerful; Christmas Carol, Dickens.

Crawley, Rawdon, an officer in the Guards, who lived at other people's expense, and became Becky Sharp's husband; Vanity Fair, Thackeray.

Crimsworth, Edward, the brutally hard master of his brother William; The Professor, C. Brontë.

Crusoe, Robinson, the hero of Defoe's wonderful story, in which fiction appears as fact from the realistic way in which it is told; Robinson Crusoe, Defoe.

Cute, Alderman, "resolved to put down everything"; Chimes, Dickens.

Cuttle, Captain, a retired mariner, guileless, tender-hearted, simple-minded, whose favourite phrase was "when found make a note on"; Dombey and Son, Dickens.

Cynthia, "the moon-goddess," the name by which Queen Elizabeth is celebrated by Spenser in "Colin Clout," by Raleigh in his "Cynthia," and by Ben Jonson in his "Cynthia's Revels."

Dagonet, Sir, the fool of King Arthur's court, made mock-knight of the Round Table; Idylls, Tennyson.

Dale, Lætitia, marries the Egoist after making him do many generous acts; Egoist, Meredith.

Dalgetty, Dugald, laird of Drumthwacket, pedant and soldado; Legend of Montrose, Scott.

Damosel, The Blessed, subject of a picture and a poem by the painter-poet, Rossetti; The Blessed Damosel, Rossetti.

Dane, William, the hypocritical thief who accused Silas Marner and robbed him of Sarah; Silas Marner, G. Eliot.

Darch, Car and Nancy, Queen of Spades and Queen of Diamonds respectively; Tess of the D'Urbervilles, Hardy.

Dawson, Phœbe, a rustic beauty, whose loss too late "the marriage rite repaired;" Parish Register, Crabbe.

Dean, Mrs., Lockwood's housekeeper and narrator in the early part of the story; Wuthering Heights, Emily Brontë.

Deans, Jeanie and Effie, two daughters of Davie Deans of Edinburgh. Effie went wrong and was convicted of the murder of her illegitimate child. Jeanie saved her life by walking to London and appealing to the Queen for her pardon; Heart of Midlothian, Scott.

Deborah, Miss, the devoted admirer of Dr. Johnson, and a great stickler for the proprieties; Cranford, Mrs. Gaskell.

Dedlock, Sir Leicester, his "family as old as the hills," his wife, Lady Dedlock, mother out of wedlock to Esther Summerson; Bleak House, Dickens.

Deerslayer, an often recurring character in Cooper's novels; Deerslayer and four other novels, Cooper.

Desdemona, the innocent victim of the fatal jealousy of her husband, the Moorish chief, Othello; Othello, Shakespeare.

Dewy, Dick, hero of the novel, Under the Greenwood Tree, Hardy.

Dick, Mr., a crazy gentleman, mad about King Charles's head; David Copperfield, Dickens.

Diddler, Jeremy, a clever swindler, who wheedles money out of reluctant hands by his drollery; Raising the Wind, Kenny.

Dinmont, Dandie, a lowland farmer, owner of a famous breed of dogs; Guy Mannering, Scott.

Dirkovitch, Col., a Russian soldier and spy, travelling in India as war correspondent; Life's Handicap, Kipling.

Dobbin, William, the hero of "a novel without a hero"—awkward, shy, blundering, but truthful, honest and reliable; Vanity Fair, Thackeray.

Dodson and Fogg, lawyers who sue Pickwick for breach of promise; Pickwick Papers, Dickens.

Dogberry, a city officer who teaches the watchmen how to do their duty by evading it; Much Ado About Nothing, Shakespeare.

Dombey, Mr., egoistic and phenomenally proud, most sensitive as to the standing of the firm of "Dombey and Son," in the eyes of the City; Dombey and Son, Dickens.

Dombey, Florence, chilled by her father's unkindness, she makes friends everywhere outside his house, from which she makes her escape; Dombey and Son, Dickens.

Donnithorne, Arthur, seducer of Hetty Sorrel, appeared with her reprieve at the moment for mounting the scaffold; Adam Bede, G. Eliot.

Donovan, an earnest-minded youth who passes through a period of dark unbelief into light; Donovan, Edna Lyall.

Doones, The, a band of outlaws who settled in one of the valleys of Exmoor, and kept the district in terror; Lorna Doone, Blackmore.

Doorm, the russet-bearded Earl, who loved Enid, and was killed by her husband, Geraint; Idylls, Tennyson.

Douglas, Jim, an Englishman whose courage and resource stood the test in Delhi during the siege; On the Face of the Waters, Mrs. Steele.

Dousterswivel, astrologist and master of the black art; Antiquary, Scott.

Dromio, the name of twin brothers, who are attendants on twins, thus giving rise to amusing complications; Comedy of Errors, Shakespeare.

Duessa, "the double-faced," represents Falsehood, and in the personal allegory stands for Mary Queen of Scots; Faerie Queene, Spenser.

Dulcinea del Toboso, a country wench, but in Don Quixote's eyes a high-born lady; Don Quixote, Cervantes.

Dumbiedikes, the laird whose advice to his son was, "Plant trees, Jack; they're aye growin' while you are sleepin'"; Heart of Midlothian, Scott.

Dundreary, Lord, a most gentlemanly noodle, who puzzled over the simplest matter in the most diverting way; Our American Cousin, Tom Taylor.

Durbeyfield, Tess, heroine of the novel, seduced, executed for the murder of her seducer; Tess of the D'Urbervilles, Hardy.

Durward, Quentin, a Scottish lad who by extraordinary courage and address won his way with Louis XI.; Quentin Durward, Scott.

Easy, Midshipman, an adventurous hero; Midshipman Easy, Marryat.

Easy, Sir Charles, the good-for-nothing husband; Careless Husband, Colley Cibber.

Edwin and Angelina, hero and heroine of the ballad; The Hermit, Goldsmith.

Elaine, "the lily maid of Astolat," loved Sir Launcelot "with that love which was her doom;" Idylls of the King, Tennyson.

Elia, Bridget, Lamb's sister Mary who in a fit of insanity killed her mother; Essays of Elia, Lamb.

Elsie, a pure, true-hearted maiden who offers her life to save the life of the Prince; The Golden Legend, Longfellow.

Endymion, the youth who fell in love with Diana, the moon; Endymion, Keats.

Enid, wife of Geraint, to whom she is loyal and obedient under harsh treatment; Idylls of the King, Tennyson.

Epicœne, "the silent woman," after marriage suddenly becomes a virago, and turns out to be a boy in disguise; Epicœne, Ben Jonson.

Erl King, an elf of evil genius that haunts the Black Forest; Ballad, Goethe.

Esmond, Beatrix, a heartless, brilliant coquette; Esmond, Thackeray.

Esmond, Henry, a colonel in the service of Queen Anne, and one who intrigues for the succession of the Stuarts; Esmond, Thackeray.

Ettarre, though beloved by the noble knight, Pelleas, scorns him for the false Gawain; Idylls of the King, Tennyson.

Euphorion, impatient of the limitations of human existence, he springs into space and vanishes; Faust, Goethe.

Euphues, a young Athenian who, after an idle life of pleasure in Italy, returns home "a sadder and a wiser man"; Euphues, Lyly.

Eva, the daughter of an indulgent slave-owner, adored by her father's slaves, and the sunbeam of her home; Uncle Tom's Cabin, Mrs. Stowe.

Evangeline, the heroine of the poem founded on the expatriation of the French colonists of Acadia (Nova Scotia); Evangeline, Longfellow.

Evelina, a young orphan whose "coming out" gives scope for spirited sketches of the manners of the day; Evelina, F. Burney.

Eyre, Jane, one of the most marvellous figures in fiction; Jane Eyre, C. Brontë.

Faggus, Tom, a cousin of John Ridds, a highwayman by profession, owner of the wonderful mare Winnie; Lorna Doone, Blackmore.

Fagin, the hideous Jew who trains thieves and lives upon their spoil; Oliver Twist, Dickens.

Fairleigh, Frank, hero of a novel of this name; Frank Fairleigh, Smedley.

Fair Maid of Perth, coquettish daughter of Simon Glover; Fair Maid of Perth, Scott.

Fair Rosamond, see Clifford, Rosamond.

Fairservice, Andrew, gardener at Osbaldistone Hall, full of Scotch "canniness"; Rob Roy, Scott.

Faithful, the companion of Christian on the way to the Celestial City; Pilgrim's Progress, Bunyan.

Falconer, Mrs., a powerful type of rugged Scotch Calvinism; Robert Falconer, Macdonald.

Falstaff, Sir John, the fat knight who was the boon companion of Prince Hal in his wild days; Henry IV., Merry Wives of Windsor, Shakespeare.

Fang, magistrate prevented from convicting Oliver by Mr. Brownlow; Oliver Twist, Dickens.

Farintosh, Marquis of, suitor for the hand of Miss Ethel Newcome; The Newcomes, Thackeray.

Fat Boy, the gormandizer, who sleeps often, but sometimes sees more than is desirable; Pickwick Papers, Dickens.

Faust, a famous magician who sold himself to the devil on condition that he gave him the capacity and means of enjoyment for a certain period; Faust, Goethe, and Dr. Faustus, Marlowe.

Fenella, feigned to be deaf and dumb to discover the secrets of her mistress, the Countess of Derby; Peveril of the Peak, Scott.

Ferrar, Nicholas, the saintly founder of a religious society at Little Gidding; John Inglesant, Shorthouse.

Feste, the jester attached to the household of Olivia. His chief characteristics are his wit, his fine voice, and his love of money; Twelfth Night, Shakespeare.

Festus, the friend of Paracelsus before he set out on his aspiring quest; Paracelsus, Browning.

Fielding, Mary, marries her old lover, who returns on the morning when she is going to marry Tackleton against her will; Cricket on the Hearth, Dickens.

Fifine, the gipsy who fascinates the wicked Don Juan; Fifine at the Fair, Browning.

Figaro, in one play he appears as a barber, in the other as a valet, and in both he outwits every one by his extraordinary cunning: Barbier de Seville and Mariage de Figaro, Beaumarchais.

Filch, a notorious thief; Beggars' Opera, Gay.

Filomena, Santa, stands for Florence Nightingale, "the lady with the lamp . . . a noble type of good, heroic womanhood;" Santa Filomena, Longfellow.

Findlayson, C. E., the plucky and persistent engineer; Bridge Builders, Kipling.

Fips, Mr., the legal agent of old Martin Chuzzlewit, who engages Tom Pinch as a librarian in the Temple; Martin Chuzzlewit, Dickens.

Flanders, Moll, a profligate beauty of varied and discreditable fortune; The Fortunes of Moll Flanders, Defoe.

Fledgeby, "Fascination," dolt and dandy, but keen as a fox in money matters; Our Mutual Friend, Dickens.

Fleming, Marjorie, Sir Walter Scott's child friend, whose letters give a vivid picture of her short life; Marjorie Fleming, Dr. J. Brown.

Flibbertigibbet, a mischievous imp of a boy; Kenilworth, Scott.

Flite, Miss, the little crazy lady who haunts the Court of Chancery; Bleak House, Dickens.

Florac, Count de, a buoyant, extravagant, light-hearted Frenchman, for much of his life "chronically impecunious"; The Newcomes, Thackeray.

Florimel, in whom are combined both grace and chastity, stands as a type of perfect womanhood; Faerie Queene, Spenser.

Fluellen, a Welsh soldier, hot-tempered and dictatorial, but true as steel and full of valour; Henry V., Shakespeare.

Foker, Harry, a dashing Cambridge undergraduate of the tandem-driving, barge-fighting type; Pendennis, Thackeray.

Foppington, Lord, "the prince of coxcombs;" The Relapse, Vanbrugh.

Ford, Mrs., one of the women who made Falstaff the victim of their practical jokes; Merry Wives of Windsor, Shakespeare.

Francesca da Rimini, condemned to dwell with her lover Paolo in the Inferno with other guilty lovers; Divine Comedy, Dante.

Frankenstein, the student who creates a monster in human form from gruesome materials, and loathes his own creation; Frankenstein, Mrs. Shelley.

Freeport, Sir Andrew, the type of a shrewd and upright British merchant; Spectator, Addison and Steele.

Friar John, a profane and dissolute reveller, always in the heart of the fun; Gargantua and Pantagruel, Rabelais.

Friar Tuck, chaplain and steward to Robin Hood, a sort of Falstaff masquerading as a monk; Ivanhoe, Scott.

Friday, My man, Robinson Crusoe's faithful savage and companion; Robinson Crusoe, Defoe.

Friendly, Dinah, marries "the bashful man"; The Bashful Man, Moncrieff.

Fritchie, Barbara, an aged American patriot who, when ninety, defended her country's flag at the risk of her life; Barbara Fritchie, Whittier.

Gadsby, Captain, a Hussar officer, eight scenes from whose life form the "Story of the Gadsbys," and give a picture of garrison life in India; Story of the Gadsbys, Kipling.

Galahad, Sir, the purest of Arthur's knights the only one who had the full vision of the Holy Grail; Holy Grail, Tennyson.

Gamp, Sairey, a drunken nurse of the old school. "Leave the bottle on the chimley-piece, and don't ask me to take none, but let me put my lips to it when I am so dispoged"; Martin Chuzzlewit, Dickens.

Gareth, son of Queen Bellicent, bound by an oath to serve for a year and a day as a scullion; Gareth and Lynette, Tennyson.

Gargantua, the gigantic hero of a fantastic romance; Gargantua, Rabelais.

Gargery, Joe, a blacksmith, a noble-hearted fellow who had the misfortune to marry a virago; Great Expectations, Dickens.

Garth, Caleb, a fine type of a noble and simple-hearted English yeoman of unblemished integrity; Middlemarch, G. Eliot.

Gautier, Marguerite, a fallen woman redeemed by love, subject of the opera "La Traviata" and of La Dame aux Camélias; Dumas (fils).

Gawain, a bold, irreverent knight; Holy Grail, Tennyson.

Geddes, a Quaker family in Redgauntlet, Scott.

Geierstein, Anne of, "the maiden of the mist," Baroness of Arnheim; Anne of Geierstein, Scott.

George, a time-expired dragoon, "a fine, bluff-looking man of a frank, free bearing," keeper of a shooting gallery; Bleak House, Dickens.

Geraldine, The Lady, the mysterious serpent-woman whom Christabel met in the forest and befriended; Christabel, Coleridge.

Geraint, a noble knight who for a season mistrusts and harshly treats his true and devoted wife; Idylls of the King, Tennyson.

Giant Despair, the lord of Doubting Castle from which Christian and Hopeful escaped by the key "Promise"; Pilgrim's Progress, Bunyan.

Gibbie, Guse, a daft laddie in the service of Lady Bellenden; Old Mortality, Scott.

Gil Blas, the hero of a diverting novel, brimful of wit and humour; Gil Blas, Lesage.

Ginevra, the bride who hid in an old chest where she was entombed alive; Ballad, T. H. Bayley.

Gilpin, John, a London linen-draper, the hero of a famous ride; John Gilpin, Cowper.

Ginx's Baby, the type of a poor gutter child; Ginx's Baby, Edward Jenkins.

Giovanni, Don, Italian form of Don Juan, (which see).

Glegg, Mrs., aunt of Maggie Tulliver, succumbs to the eloquence of the packman; Mill on the Floss, G. Eliot.

Glenalvon, slays Norval and is in turn slain by Randolph; Douglas, Home.

Glendining, a family raised by worth and marriage from poverty to nobility and affluence; Monastery, Scott.

Glenthorn, Lord, personification of ennui; Ennui, Miss Edgeworth.

Gloriana, the "Queene of Faerie," who sends out her knights on their respective quests, and represents in the political allegory Queen Elizabeth; Faerie Queene, Spenser.

Glover, Simon, father of the "fair maid," a glover by trade; Fair Maid of Perth, Scott.

Gobbo, Launcelot, the clown who forsakes the service of Shylock for that of Bassanio; Merchant of Venice, Shakespeare.

Goodfellow, Robin, also called Puck (which see).

Gorboduc, an ancient king of Britain. The dissensions between his two sons form the plot of our first English tragedy; Gorboduc, Sackville and Norton.

Gordon, Lord George, the hare-brained Protestant leader of the riots in London, 1780; Barnaby Rudge, Dickens.

Gow, Harry, the man who fought "for his own hand" from pure love of fighting, in the famous Highland combat; Fair Maid of Perth, Scott.

Gradgrind (father and son), the father was a retired wholesale hardware merchant, devoted to "facts," whilst the son was the victim of an education of "facts"—sensual, selfish, and dishonest; Hard Times, Dickens.

Grandet, Eugenie, the daughter of a miser whose besetting sin is vividly described; Eugenie Grandet, Balzac.

Grandison, Sir Charles, intended as an ideal Christian and gentleman; Sir Charles Grandison, Richardson.

Grantly Archdeacon, a lax ecclesiastic; Barchester Towers, Trollope.

Greatheart, the faithful guide to the Celestial City of Christiana and her children; Pilgrim's Progress, Bunyan.

Green, Verdant, as a freshman at Oxford an unqualified greenhorn, at whose expense many practical jokes were played; Verdant Green, Bradley.

Grenville, Sir Richard, a naval hero, celebrated for his last fight on the "Revenge"; Westward Ho! C. Kingsley, and The Revenge, Tennyson.

Grimwig, Mr., the irascible but warm-hearted friend of Mr. Brownlow, who would "eat his head," if his opinions were ever upset; Oliver Twist, Dickens.

Griselda, the patient, whose story is portrayed in a series of pictures at the National Gallery, is a type of wifely devotion and patience; Canterbury Tales, Chaucer.

Grueby, John, imperturbable servant of Lord George Gordon; Barnaby Rudge, Dickens.

Grundy, Mrs., personification of Conventional Propriety or of Social Criticism on "proper" behaviour; Speed the Plough, Morton.

Gudrun, wife of the mighty warrior Sigurd (Siegfried), at whose murder she suffers tragic grief; Volsunga Saga and Niebelungenlied.

Guido, Franceschini, a wicked nobleman who kills his wife and her supposed parents; Ring and the Book, Browning.

Guinevere, wife of King Arthur, who had a guilty love for Launcelot; Idylls of the King, Tennyson.

Gulliver, a sea-captain who visits Lilliput, Brobdingnag, Laputa, and the land of the Houyhnhnms; Gulliver's Travels, Swift.

Gumbo, a manumitted slave, the servant of Harry Warrington on his European tour; The Virginians, Thackeray.

Gummidge, Mrs., widow of Peggotty's partner, "a lone, lorn creetur"; David Copperfield, Dickens.

Gurth, swineherd, a thrall of Cedric's; Ivanhoe, Scott.

Guster, maid-of-all work to the Snagsbys, subject to fits; Bleak House, Dickens.

Guyon, Sir, represents the virtue of temperance, the golden mean; Faerie Queene, Spenser.

Haidee, daughter of a Greek pirate who falls in love with Don Juan; Don Juan, Byron.

Hakim, Saladin disguised as a physician who came to cure his enemy, Cœur de Lion; Talisman, Scott.

Hall, Father, an intriguing ecclesiastic; John Inglesant, Shorthouse.

Hallam, Arthur Henry, the A. H. H. of Tennyson's "In Memoriam," a man of brilliant promise, who died in early manhood.

Hamlet, Prince of Denmark, naturally a dreamer, who fails through irresolution; Hamlet, Shakespeare.

Hardcastle, Squire, step-father of Tony Lumpkin, and father of the young lady who assumes the role of chambermaid in order "to conquer" young Marlow; She Stoops to Conquer, Goldsmith.

Harding, Mr., precentor and lover of music, an admirable clergyman of the old school; Barchester Towers, Trollope.

Harlowe, Clarissa, "the sweetest martyr in fiction"; Clarissa Harlowe, Richardson.

Harold, Childe, "Lord Byron in a fancy dress"; Childe Harold, Byron.

Haroun al Raschid, Sultan of the Saracen Empire (786–808), having Bagdad as its capital, a familiar figure in many Eastern Tales; Arabian Nights.

Harpagon, the typical miser in Molière's Comedy; L'Avare, Molière.

Harrington, Melchizedec, "The Great Mell," a fashionable tailor; Evan Harrington, Meredith.

Harrington, Evan, son of the above, after many adventures marries Rose Jocelyn, daughter of Sir Franks Jocelyn; Evan Harrington, Meredith.

Harris, Mrs., oft-quoted but imaginary friend of Sairey Gamp; Martin Chuzzlewit, Dickens.

Harrison, Dr., a discriminating philanthropist; Amelia, Fielding.

Hatteraick, Dirk, half smuggler and half pirate, a consummate villain; Guy Mannering, Scott.

Hawk, Sir Mulberry, "a fashionable gambler, roué, and knave," who ruins young men; Nicholas Nickleby, Dickens.

Headrigg, Cuddie, in danger of execution, but saved by his adroitness under examination; Old Mortality, Scott.

Headstone, Bradley, schoolmaster, in love with Lizzie Hexam, dies in a death-grapple with Rogue Riderhood; Our Mutual Friend, Dickens.

Heathcliff, a terrible example of a nature utterly warped and degraded by cruel treatment in early years; Wuthering Heights, E. Brontë.

Heep, Uriah, an oily hypocrite, unspeakably "'umble," who inveigles Mr. Wickfield, his employer, but is counterchecked by Micawber; David Copperfield, Dickens.

Helbeck, Alan, Roman Catholic squire, deeply religious, in love with Laura; Helbeck of Bannisdale, Mrs. H. Ward.

Henri, Mdlle., the charming pupil, afterwards wife, of the "Professor"; The Professor, C. Brontë.

Hereward the Wake, the "Last of the English"; Hereward the Wake, C. Kingsley.

Hermione, after sixteen years' absence from her jealous husband, Leontes, is restored to him as a living statue; Winter's Tale, Shakespeare.

Hernani, a noble Spaniard who commits suicide on "a point of honour"; Hernani, Victor Hugo.

Hiawatha, prophet, teacher, and civilizer of his Indian tribe; Hiawatha, Longfellow.

Higden, Mrs., the old woman who hated the workhouse more than death; Our Mutual Friend, Dickens.

Hinchcliffe, Henry Salt, a first-rate engine-room artificer—capable, resourceful, daring; Their Lawful Occasions, Kipling.

Holmes, Sherlock, a celebrated detective, with wonderful powers of observation and reasoning, equal to the unravelling of any plot, however strange and mysterious; Strand Magazine, Conan Doyle.

Honeycombe, Will, an oracle on matters of fashion, and "where women are not concerned, an honest and worthy man"; Spectator, Steele.

Honeyman, Charles, a "society" clergyman, showy and superficial, worldly-minded, and unprincipled; The Newcomes, Thackeray.

Hope, Evelyn, a maiden of sixteen beloved by a man of forty-eight; Men and Women, Browning.

Horatio, Hamlet's one faithful friend, well-balanced in mind, unemotional in temperament; Hamlet, Shakespeare.

Horatius, famed for his heroic defence of the Tiber bridge against the host of Tarquin; Lays of Ancient Rome, Macaulay.

Howe, Miss, the confidential and prudent adviser of Clarissa; Clarissa Harlowe, Richardson.

Hoyden, Miss, type of ill-educated, romping, rustic damsels; The Relapse, Vanbrugh.

Hudibras, Sir, hero of a laughable satire directed against the Puritans; Sir Hudibras, Samuel Butler.

Hudson, Sir Geoffrey, Queen Henrietta's dwarf page; Peveril of the Peak, Scott.

Hunsden, Mr., a manufacturer rough in tongue and manners but possessed of a kind heart; The Professor, C. Brontë.

Hypatia, one of the "martyrs of philosophy," she suffered a cruel death at the hands of the mob of Alexandria; Hypatia, C. Kingsley.

Hyperion, god of the sun, at the fall of the Titans had to give place to Apollo, the new sun-god; Hyperion, Keats.

Hythloday, Raphael, a Portuguese mariner whose tongue More employs to express his ideas on an ideal commonwealth; Utopia, More.

Iago, a clever villain who poisons Othello's mind against his loyal wife, Desdemona; Othello, Shakespeare.

Ida, Princess, founds a college for the emancipation of women; The Princess, Tennyson.

Imogen, falsely accused by Iachimo of infidelity to her husband, triumphantly establishes her innocence; Cymbeline, Shakespeare.

Inglesant, John, a gentleman who played a noble part in the time of the Civil War in the courts of England and Italy; John Inglesant, Shorthouse.

Isaac of York, a rich Jew, persecuted and plundered by the dissolute followers of King John; Ivanhoe, Scott.

Isengrim, the name of the wolf in the German story of Reineche Fuchs.

Iseult, bride of King Mark, who, through drinking a love-potion unawares, fell in love with Sir Tristram; Tristram and Iseult, M. Arnold.

Ithuriel, one of the angels appointed to guard Adam and Eve at night; Paradise Lost, Bk. IV., Milton.

Ivanhoe, Wilfrid of, son of Cedric, who was disinherited for becoming a Crusader under King Richard; Ivanhoe, Scott.

Jachin, the parish clerk who stole the money given at Holy Communion; The Borough, Crabbe.

Jacynth, the maid who fell asleep while the gipsy bewitched the Duchess; Flight of the Duchess, Browning.

Jaggers, Mr., a typical Old Bailey advocate, known to and knowing half the criminals in the metropolis; Great Expectations, Dickens.

Jakin, Bob, the kind-hearted packman who befriends Tom Tulliver; Mill on the Floss, G. Eliot.

Jaques, the typical cynic, his famous speech on the "Seven Ages" is a graphic picture of the cynic's view of life; As You Like It, Shakespeare.

Jarley, Mrs., owner of the unrivalled wax-work show; Old Curiosity Shop, Dickens.

Jarvie, Bailie Nicol, a shrewd and kindly man of business, rather pompous and not over-valiant; Rob Roy, Scott.

Jean Valjean, a convict hero who strives to expiate a past crime by a life of self-forgetfulness and devotion to others; Les Miserables, Victor Hugo.

Jekyll, Dr., the noble-minded doctor whose other self was the vicious Mr. Hyde; Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde, R. L. Stevenson.

Jellyby, Mrs., neglects her home in her devotion to the natives of Borrioboola Gha; Bleak House, Dickens.

Jess, a brave, patient soul who for twenty years viewed the world from her cottage window and had "a terrible lot to be thankful for"; A Window in Thrums, Barrie.

Jessica, daughter of Shylock, who forsakes him to marry Lorenzo; Merchant of Venice, Shakespeare.

Jingle, Alfred, strolling actor, boaster, and swindler, who speaks most rapidly in disjointed sentences; Pickwick Papers, Dickens.

Jo, a poor outcast, living in "Tom-all-alone's"; Bleak House, Dickens.

Jones, Tom, a young man of an attractive and generous nature, but many of the details of his life are of an unsavoury nature; Tom Jones, Fielding.

Joseph, Heathcliff's canting servant: "ransacked the Bible for promises to himself and curses to his neighbour"; Wuthering Heights, Emily Brontë.

Jourdain, Monsieur, a plain citizen who aspires to be a gentleman and discovers to his surprise that he has been talking prose all his life; Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme, Molière.

Juan, Don, a partly legendary character of the 14th century, of Spanish origin, noted for his amours. The hero of a remarkable poem by Byron; Don Juan, Byron.

Julian, Count, although a Spanish Goth, invites the Moors to Spain to dethrone the ravisher, Roderick; Roderick, Southey.

Juliet, the young bride whose heroism was rendered useless by Romeo's rash despair; Romeo and Juliet, Shakespeare.

Jupe, Cecilia, a clown's daughter adopted by Gradgrind; Hard Times, Dickens.

Kailyal, an heroine distinguished for virtue; Curse of Kehama, Southey.

Kamal, Border chieftain, robber, and outlaw, who generously gives up his son to the service of the Empress of India; East and West, Kipling.

Katusha, the poor ruined girl sent to Siberia for a crime of which she was innocent; Resurrection, Tolstoy.

Kehama, the almighty rajah who wished to die but could not for the curse; Curse of Kehama, Southey.

Kettle, Captain, the most amusing and pugnacious hero of a series of books called The Adventures of Captain Kettle, Cutcliffe Hyne.

Kew, Countess of, a society "great lady," elderly and domineering, of the world, worldly; The Newcomes, Thackeray.

Kezia, "the bad-tempered, good-hearted housemaid;" Mill on the Floss, G. Eliot.

Kilmansegg, Miss, an heiress with a golden leg; Miss Kilmansegg, Thomas Hood.

Kim, son of a sergeant in a regiment stationed in India, brought up by a half-caste, combines the qualities of his parentage and training; Kim, Kipling.

Kite, Sergeant, "a striking picture of low life and humour;" The Recruiting Sergeant, Farquhar.

Knight, The, a type of the noblest form of chivalry, embodying courage, courtesy, and humility; Canterbury Tales, Chaucer.

Krook, keeper of a rag-and-bone shop, so soaked with spirits from hard drinking, that he died of spontaneous combustion; Bleak House, Dickens.

Kubla Khan, the prince who built the "pleasure-dome" seen by the poet in a dream; Kubla Khan, Coleridge.

La Creevy, Miss, a little talkative, miniature-painter, as blithe as a lark; Nicholas Nickleby, Dickens.

Lady of Shalott, The, bound by a curse to weave, night and day, without a look towards Camelot; Lady of Shalott, Tennyson.

Lady of Lyons, The, a proud Lyons beauty who unwittingly marries a gardener's son; Lady of Lyons, Lytton.

Lady of the Lake, (1) Vivien, the mistress of the enchanter Merlin. (2) Ellen Douglas, who retired with her father from the court of King James V. to the vicinity of Loch Katrine; Lady of the Lake, Scott.

Laila, the Moorish maiden who leapt with her lover, Manuel, from a precipice; The Lovers' Rock, Southey.

Lalla Rookh, an Indian princess for whose behoof the four stories of the poem were told on the way to meet her betrothed; Lalla Rookh, Moore.

Lambert, Hetty, the sprightly daughter of Col. Lambert, whose sharp tongue made Harry Warrington a soldier; The Virginians, Thackeray.

Lamia, a serpent-woman who wedded Lycius, a Corinthian youth; Lamia, Keats.

Lammermoor, Bride of, baffled in love, wounds her husband and goes mad; Bride of Lammermoor, Scott.

Languish, Lydia, an insatiable novel-reader; The Rivals, Sheridan.

Launce, a servant who plays the part of a clown; Two Gentlemen of Verona, Shakespeare.

Launcelot, Sir, the greatest of the knights of the Round Table; Idylls of the King, Tennyson.

Launfal, Sir, a knight of the Round Table, the subject of a poem entitled The Vision of Sir Launfal, J. R. Lowell.

Laura, the lady to whom Petrarch addresses his sonnets; Sonnets, Petrarch.

Lauretta di Guardino, first the temptress and then the wife of John Inglesant, dies in the plague; John Inglesant, Shorthouse.

Lavington, Squire, denied that any duties were attached to property; Yeast, C. Kingsley.

Lear, a terrible picture of madness brought on by ungovernable rage; King Lear, Shakespeare.

Learoyd, John, "six-and-a-half feet of slow-moving, heavy-footed Yorkshireman"; Life's Handicap, Kipling.

Lee, Alice, daughter of the old and staunch Royalist, Sir Henry Lee; Woodstock, Scott.

Lefevre, Lieut., an officer who died from starvation. His death is an affecting scene; Tristram Shandy, Sterne.

Legree, a brutal overseer of a slave plantation; Uncle Tom's Cabin, Mrs. H. B. Stowe.

Leigh, Amyas, son of a noble mother, and hero of the novel; Westward Ho! C. Kingsley.

Leigh, Aurora, heroine of the poem so-named; Aurora Leigh, Mrs. Browning.

Leontes, having wrongly accused his wife, loses her for 16 years; Winter's Tale, Shakespeare.

Lewsome, Mr., sells Jonas the drugs with which to poison Old Anthony, and finally confesses; Martin Chuzzlewit, Dickens.

Lillian, the heroine of the story; Alton Locke, C. Kingsley.

Limmason, Lieut., a Hussar officer, treacherously held a prisoner in Siberia for many years. Escapes, but only when a mental and physical wreck; Life's Handicap, Kipling.

Linkinwater, Tim, confidential clerk to Cheeryble Bros., to whom he is loyal and faithful; Nicholas Nickleby, Dickens.

Lismahago, Obadiah, the contentious and mutilated officer who marries Tabitha Bramble; Humphry Clinker, Smollett.

Little Billee, a young and gifted artist, who with two friends leads a Bohemian life in Paris; Trilby, Du Maurier.

Little Dorrit, the "child of the Marshalsea," a debtors' prison, where she spent her childhood, like a sunbeam unsoiled by the sordid vice around her; Little Dorrit, Dickens.

Little Em'ly, betrayed and ruined through her vanity; David Copperfield, Dickens.

Little Lord Fauntleroy, a simple-hearted, graceful child, who charms away the fierceness of his grandfather; Little Lord Fauntleroy, F. H. Burnett.

Little Mildred, the junior subaltern, worth £4,000 a year; The Man who was, Kipling.

Little Nell, the guardian angel of her gambling grandfather. The story of her death is now classical; Old Curiosity Shop, Dickens.

Lochinvar, the hero of the ballad in which "the laggard in love" is forestalled; Marmion, Scott.

Locke, Alton, tailor, poet, chartist; Alton Locke, C. Kingsley.

Lorelei, the siren of the Rhine who by her sweet songs lured the sailors to destruction; German Legend.

Lothario, a libertine, the seducer of Calista. His name has become the synonym for a fashionable and unscrupulous rake; The Fair Penitent, Rowe.

Lovelace, an unscrupulous libertine, the principal male character in the novel; Clarissa Harlowe, Richardson.

Lumpkin, Tony, the bibulous, ignorant, conceited, and loutish country squire; She Stoops to Conquer, Goldsmith.

Luria, the ill-treated champion of Florence against the Pisano; Luria, Browning.

Lynedale, Lord, a liberal-minded and intelligent peer; Alton Locke, C. Kingsley.

Lycidas, a shepherd youth whose untimely death is lamented in this famous elegy; Lycidas, Milton.

Lydgate, a talented young doctor, thwarted at every turn by professional jealousy and ignorant prejudice; Middlemarch, G. Eliot.

Lyndon, Barry, an amusing Irishman whose story, told by himself, is full of humour and adventure; Barry Lyndon, Thackeray.

McAndrews, the dour Scottish engineer, the lover of his engines, deeply religious though irreverent in speech; McAndrews' Hymn, Kipling.

Macbeth, dominated by his own mad ambition and spurred on by his wife, murders King Duncan; Macbeth, Shakespeare.

Macbeth, Lady, a woman of iron will and boundless ambition, who ends by losing her reason and killing herself; Macbeth, Shakespeare.

Mac Flecknoe, represents the poet Shadwell in the satire that bears this name; Mac Flecknoe, Dryden.

Macheath, captain of a band of highwaymen, marries Polly Peachum; Beggars' Opera, Gay.

Mc Intyre, Capt. Hector, nephew of Oldbuck, famous for his adventure with the "phoca"; Antiquary, Scott.

Mac Ivor, Fergus and Flora, the famous brother and sister in Waverley, who befriended "Prince Charlie"; Waverley, Scott.

Mackage, Sandy, a second-hand bookseller, sagacious adviser of the young tailor; Alton Locke, C. Kingsley.

Mackenzie, Mrs., "The Campaigner," who gets her pretty, empty-headed daughter, Rosa, married to Clive Newcome; The Newcomes, Thackeray.

Mac Stinger, Mrs., the termagant landlady of Captain Cuttle, who finally marries Captain Busby; Dombey and Son, Dickens.

Madge Wildfire, ruined and discarded by her lover, and her babe destroyed by its grandmother, she lost her wits; Heart of Midlothian, Scott.

Maggy, aged twenty-eight, but thinks she is ten, at which age she had a fever that has arrested her intellect; Little Dorrit, Dickens.

Malagrowther, Sir Mungo, from having been king's "whipping-boy" became crabbed and censorious; Fortunes of Nigel, Scott.

Malaprop, Mrs., famous for her mutilations of the King's English; The Rivals, Sheridan.

Malvolio, Olivia's faithful but pompous and conceited major-domo, who is hated and flouted by the rest of the household; Twelfth Night, Shakespeare.

Mammon, the money god, who dwells in the underworld with the evil spirits of covetousness and ambition; Faerie Queene, Spenser.

Manfred, sells himself to the Evil One, who gives him seven demons to do his bidding for a season; Manfred, Byron.

Mannering Guy, hero of a novel so-named; Guy Mannering, Scott.

Mantalini, Madame, the fashionable milliner who supports her worthless, foppish husband; Nicholas Nickleby, Dickens.

Marcella, an impulsive girl with socialistic tendencies; Marcella, Mrs. H. Ward.

March, Ursula, a girl of gentle birth who becomes the wife of John Halifax, Gentleman, Mrs. Craik.

Marchioness, The, the little "slavey" who nurses Dick Swiveller in his illness, and becomes his wife; Old Curiosity Shop, Dickens.

Marguerite (Gretchen) is betrayed by Faust and reduced to great misery through her sin; Faust, Goethe.

Maria, the witty and diminutive waiting-maid of Olivia, who devises the plan for the humbling of Malvolio; Twelfth Night, Shakespeare.

Marlow, the man who is bashful with ladies, but much "at home" with bar-maids; She Stoops to Conquer, Goldsmith.

Marmion, a haughty English knight, slain at Flodden; Marmion, Scott.

Marner, Silas, the weaver whose heart was healed of many sorrows by a foundling child; Silas Marner, G. Eliot.

Mason, Bertha, Rochester's lunatic wife, who burns the mansion; Jane Eyre, C. Brontë.

Matty, Miss, a gentle, old-fashioned maiden lady in straitened circumstances; Cranford, Mrs. Gaskell.

Maud, "Faultily faultless, icily regular, splendidly null"; Maud, Tennyson.

Mauprat, Adrien de, "the wildest, gallant and bravest knight of France"; Richelieu, Lytton.

Mawworm, an admirer of Dr. Cantwell, and a vulgar edition of that hypocrite; The Hypocrite, Bickerstaff.

Mazeppa was bound to the back of a wild horse and sent on a terrible death-ride. His sufferings are vividly portrayed in Mazeppa, V. Hugo and Byron.

Medora, the faithful and beloved wife of the Corsair; Corsair, Byron.

Meg Merrilies, gipsy, thief, smuggler, and kidnapper; Guy Mannering, Scott.

Meister, Wilhelm, one who, like Saul, "went out to find his father's asses and found a kingdom"; Wilhelm Meister, Goethe.

Melnotte, Claude, hero of the play, a gardener's son who passes himself off as a prince and marries the proud beauty of Lyons: Lady of Lyons, Lytton.

Mephistopheles, an impersonation of the spirit of evil, the jeering, sneering attendant of Faust; Faust, Goethe.

Mercutio, a "gentleman that loves to hear himself talk"; Romeo and Juliet, Shakespeare.

Merlin, the mighty bard and wizard of Arthur's Court; Idylls of the King, Tennyson.

Mertoun, Earl, guilty lover of Mildred Tresham, killed by her brother, Earl Tresham; A Blot in the Scutcheon, Browning.

Micawber, improvident, impecunious, grandiloquent, and always "waiting for something to turn up"; David Copperfield, Dickens.

Middleton, Rev. Dr., a worldly, port-loving, grandiloquent ecclesiastic; The Egoist, Meredith.

Miggs, Miss, a shrewish maidservant who continually stirred up strife in the Varden household; Barnaby Rudge, Dickens.

Mignon, becomes insane when with all her charms her love is unreturned; Wilhelm Meister, Goethe (tr., Carlyle).

Millwood, Sarah, the wanton by whom George Barnwell was ruined; George Barnwell, Lillo.

Miranda, lives with her father, Prospero, on a spirit-haunted island, seeing no other man but the savage Caliban; The Tempest, Shakespeare.

Mirza, a holy man of Bagdad who has a vision of the Bridge of Life; Vision of Mirza, Addison.

Modred, the traitor knight slain by Arthur with the last stroke of Excalibur; The Passing of Arthur, Tennyson.

Mohun, Lord, a fashionable rake of Queen Anne's time, a gambler, a roué; Esmond, Thackeray.

Monaldeschi, Marquis, the grand equerry and treacherous lover of Queen Cristina of Sweden, who had him executed; Cristina and Monaldeschi, Browning.

Moniplies, Ritchie, the pertinacious and patriotic Scot, who never yielded to an Englishman any superiority of England over Scotland; Fortunes of Nigel, Scott.

Monkbarns, Laird of, Mr. Jonathan Oldbuck, the antiquary whose supposed house, Hospitalfield, stands near Arbroath; Antiquary, Scott.

Monte Cristo, the Count whose adventures are most wonderful; Monte Cristo, Dumas.

Morgan, valet to Major Pendennis, to whom he is invaluable as a collector of gossip; Pendennis, Thackeray.

Morgiana, the female slave of Ali Baba, "crafty, cunning, and fertile in devices"; Arabian Nights.

Morris, Dinah, the earnest preacher of excellent gifts, whose life exemplifies her words; Adam Bede, G. Eliot.

Mould, Mr., an undertaker whose facial expression denotes both melancholy and smirk satisfaction; Martin Chuzzlewit, Dickens.

Moucher, Miss, a dwarf, but a very useful person, deals in cosmetics, and practises hairdressing; David Copperfield, Dickens.

Muddle, the carpenter under Captain Savage; Peter Simple, Marryat.

Mulvaney, the Irish type of a private soldier — humorous, good-tempered, reckless, convivial; Soldiers Three. Kipling.

Muxworthy, Betty, servant and friend in the Ridd family, held many quaint and original opinions; Lorna Doone, Blackmore.

Naddo, the Philistine critic of a poet's function; Sordello, Browning.

Nancy, the poor, degraded, faithful paramour of Bill Sikes; Oliver Twist, Dickens.

Nathan der Weise, a wealthy Jewish merchant, teaches Saladin the lesson of religious toleration; Nathan der Weise, Lessing.

Newcome, Barnes, a contemptible cad and snob, but a keen man of business; The Newcomes, Thackeray.

Newcome, Col., no finer specimen of an English gentleman in fiction, answered death's summons with the word "Adsum"; The Newcomes, Thackeray.

Nickleby, Mrs., mother of Nicholas, whose rambling and mazy talk makes her ridiculous but amusing; Nicholas Nickleby, Dickens.

Nipper, Susan, a sharp-tongued young woman who gives Mr. Dombey a piece of her mind; Dombey and Son, Dickens.

Noggs, Newman, clerk to old Ralph Nickleby, tall, red-nosed, with joints that cracked, honest and courageous; Nicholas Nickleby, Dickens.

Norna, a weird, uncanny prophetess; Pirate, Scott.

Norval, the hero of the tragedy; Douglas, Home.

Nubbles, Kit, devoted to Little Nell, dismissed by her grandfather, imprisoned on a false charge; Old Curiosity Shop, Dickens.

Nydia, the blind girl of the Last Days of Pompeii, by Bulwer Lytton.

Nym, a coward and boon companion of Bardolph and Pistol, "sworn brothers in filching"; Henry V., Shakespeare.

Ochiltree, Edie, a king's bedesman or "blue-gown," a walking newspaper, honest, sagacious, and garrulous; Antiquary, Scott.

Oenone, daughter of a river-god, beloved by Paris, but deserted by him for Helen; Oenone, Tennyson.

Ogniben, the legate who suppressed the insurrection at Faenza; one of Browning's finest creations; A Soul's Tragedy, Browning.

Oldbuck, Jonathan, see Monkbarns.

Oliver, one of the most renowned of Charlemagne's paladins. His name is associated with Roland as his equal in prowess.

Olivia, (1) the daughter of Dr. Primrose, who eloped with her worthless lover; Vicar of Wakefield, Goldsmith. (2) The Countess Olivia, who has for her steward the pompous Malvolio; Twelfth Night, Shakespeare.

Ophelia, loving yet weak, cast off by Hamlet she becomes insane, and drowns herself; Hamlet, Shakespeare.

Ophelia, Miss, the worthy lady who tries to train Topsy; Uncle Tom's Cabin. Mrs. H. B. Stowe.

Orgoglio, the giant, Pride, who overpowers the Red Cross Knight; Faerie Queene, Spenser.

Orlando, (1) The same as Roland (which see). (2) Rosalind's lover in As You Like It, Shakespeare.

Ortheris, a private soldier of the Cockney type; Soldiers Three, Kipling.

Osborne, Capt. George, a conceited, empty-headed coxcomb, killed at Waterloo; Vanity Fair, Thackeray.

O'Shanter, Tam, the hero of a story told in verse, in which witches play an exciting part; Tam O'Shanter, Burns.

Othello, a brave Moor in command of the Venetian forces, the victim of jealousy aroused by the villain Iago, and the murderer of his suspected wife, Desdemona; Othello, Shakespeare.

O'Trigger, Sir Lucius, a fortune-hunting Irishman, always ready for a fight; The Rivals, Sheridan.

Oxenford, Clerk of, bears the hall-mark of the true scholar, since "Gladly would he learn and gladly teche"; Canterbury Tales, Chaucer.

Overreach, Sir Giles, his name is sufficiently descriptive of himself, but in the end he is himself over-reached; A New Way to Pay Old Debts, Massinger.

Pacchiarotto, painter, and reformer of things in general; How he Worked in Distemper, Browning.

Page, Mrs., one of the women who by their practical jokes punished Falstaff for his unwelcome attentions; Merry Wives of Windsor, Shakespeare.

Palamon and Arcite, the heroes of a tale of chivalry told by "The Knight"; Canterbury Tales, Chaucer.

Pamela, the virtuous domestic who resists the vicious advances of her master, and ultimately becomes his wife; Pamela, Richardson.

Pangloss, Dr. (1) a ridiculous, literary prig; Heir-at-Law, Colman. (2) An optimistic philosopher; Candide, Voltaire.

Pantagruel, son of Gargantua, and like his father of colossal dimensions; Gargantua and Pantagruel, Rabelais.

Panza, Sancho, a Spanish peasant, squire to Don Quixote, famous for his practical good sense, mother-wit, and knowledge of Spanish proverbs; Don Quixote, Cervantes.

Paracelsus, student in search of the highest truths about God and man; Paracelsus, Browning.

Parolles, Bertram's cowardly servant, whom Helena justly calls "a notorious liar and a fool"; All's Well that Ends Well, Shakespeare.

Partington, Mrs., an imaginary old lady who, according to Sydney Smith, tried to sweep back the Atlantic with a broom; also a humorous character noted for her misuse of words; Mrs. Partington, B. Shillaber.

Partridge, Mr., half barber, half schoolmaster, whose criticisms on Hamlet have become proverbial; Tom Jones, Fielding.

Paul and Virginia, the central figures of a charming idyll containing exquisite descriptions of nature; Paul and Virginia, Bernadin de St. Pierre.

Paul, son and heir of Mr. Dombey, the story of whose short life is most pathetic; Dombey and Son, Dickens.

Paul, The Professor, the ruling spirit at Madame Beck's pensionnat; Villette and The Professor, C. Brontë.

Pauline, redeems the poet by the highest love; Pauline, Browning.

Pawkins, Major, a New York politician, who "runs a moist pen slick through everything and starts afresh"; Martin Chuzzlewit, Dickens.

Pecksniff, Seth, the prince of canting hypocrites, with two daughters after his own heart; Martin Chuzzlewit, Dickens.

Peebles, Peter, principal in a suit in which he pleads in forma pauperis; Redgauntlet, Scott.

Peerybingle, John and Mary, the sturdy, good-humoured carrier and his little wife, "Dot"; Cricket on the Hearth, Dickens.

Peggotty, Clara, a faithful servant to Mrs. Copperfield and nurse to David, marries Barkis; Daniel, a rough, leal-hearted fisherman of Yarmouth; Ham, engaged to Daniel's adopted niece, Em'ly; David Copperfield, Dickens.

Pelagia, a famous courtesan at Alexandria; Hypatia, C. Kingsley.

Pelleas, see Ettarre.

Pendennis, Arthur, the historian of the Newcomes, and the writer of the autobiography of Pendennis; Pendennis, Thackeray.

Pendennis, Helen, Arthur's mother, an earthly saint, but not altogether free from jealousy and prejudice; Pendennis, Thackeray.

Pendennis, Major, a club habitué par excellence, on terms of intimacy with the whole peerage; Pendennis, Thackeray.

Pendragon, King Arthur's predecessor, whom some believed to be his father; Coming of Arthur, Tennyson.

Percivale, one of the few knights that saw the Holy Grail; Holy Grail, Tennyson.

Perdita, daughter of Leontes, exposed to death in her infancy by her father, rescued and brought up by a shepherd; Winter's Tale, Shakespeare.

Persoun, The Poore, a type of the good parish priest, who not only taught the right way, but followed it himself; Canterbury Tales, Chaucer.

Petit André, the executioner who tried to cheer his victim with merry quips on the scaffold; Quentin Durward, Scott.

Petruchio weds Katherine the Shrew, and makes her a submissive wife; The Taming of the Shrew, Shakespeare.

Phèdre, or Phaedra, the victim of an ancestral curse, the effect of which is marvellously described in Phèdre, Racine.

Philip, a self-satisfied prig with insufferable airs of superiority; The Heir of Redcliffe, C. Yonge.

Piccolomini, Max, a soldier betrothed to Wallenstein's daughter, dies in a wild charge against the Swedes; Wallenstein, Schiller.

Pickle, Peregrine, spendthrift, fonder of playing jokes upon others than of bearing them himself; Peregrine Pickle, Smollett.

Pickwick, Samuel, the immortal founder of the Pickwick Club, the embodiment of simplicity and benevolence; Pickwick Papers, Dickens.

Pied Piper, the mysterious Piper who, by the sound of his magic flute, could draw anyone after him; Pied Piper, Browning.

Piers Plowman, the central figure of a political allegory, published about 1370; Piers Plowman, Langland.

Pinch, Tom, Pecksniff's assistant, whose simplicity leads him to put perfect trust in his hypocritical employer, who treats him as a drudge; Martin Chuzzlewit, Dickens.

Pip, enriched by a convict, brought up by Joe Gargery, who married Pip's sister; Great Expectations, Dickens.

Pipchin, Mrs., the cross old boarding-house keeper, drained dry of the milk of human kindness; Dombey and Son, Dickens.

Pippa, a silk-winder at Asolo, whose songs work moral miracles on the passers-by; Pippa Passes, Browning.

Pistol, a pothouse bully and braggart, who is forced by Fluellen to eat the leek; Henry V., Shakespeare.

Pleydell, Mr. Paulus, an advocate and sheriff with considerable social qualities; Guy Mannering, Scott.

Plummer, Caleb, toymaker, wholly devoted to Bertha, his blind daughter; Cricket on the Hearth, Dickens.

Podsnap, Mr., a self-satisfied, narrow-minded person, who dissolves all difficulties with a magnificent sweep of his arm; Our Mutual Friend, Dickens.

Polonius, Ophelia's father, pompous and self-complacent, with an eye, as he thinks, for searching out truth, though really blind as a bat; Hamlet, Shakespeare.

Pompilia, murdered along with her putative parents by her husband, Guido; Ring and the Book, Browning.

Ponto, Major, a retired officer whose wife leads him to play a snobbish part, from her ambition to associate only with "county families"; Book of Snobs, Thackeray.

Poole, Mrs., the gin-loving nurse whose carelessness allows her charge, Mrs. Rochester, to set fire to the house; Jane Eyre, C. Brontë.

Portia, the lady disguised as a doctor of law, who saves Antonio from paying to Shylock the pound of flesh; Merchant of Venice, Shakespeare.

Poyser, Mrs., the inimitable critic of life and people with her caustic tongue and strong common sense; Adam Bede, G. Eliot.

Prig, Betsy, the woman who "nusses turn and turn about" with Sairey Gamp; Martin Chuzzlewit, Dickens.

Primrose Family: (1) father, the good old Vicar of Wakefield, (2) his wife, a good housekeeper, but worships at the shrine of gentility, (3) Moses, the simple-minded youth, who sold the Vicar's horse for a gross of spectacles, (4) Olivia, whose head was turned with grand notions. She eloped with the young Squire; Vicar of Wakefield, Goldsmith.

Prometheus steals fire from heaven, and as a punishment is chained to a rock and tortured by a vulture; Prometheus, Shelley.

Prospero, through devotion to the study of magic he lost his dukedom of Milan, and by his magical arts he regained it; The Tempest, Shakespeare.

Proudie, Mrs., emphatically the "grey mare" in the palace and diocese of Barchester; Barchester Towers, A. Trollope.

Pry, Paul, a busybody in other people's business, a most diverting character; Paul Pry, John Poole.

Puck, a mischievous sprite, who acts as jester to King Oberon, and delights in playing pranks; Midsummer Night's Dream, Shakespeare.

Puff, Dangle, and Sneer: Puff writes a play, Dangle produces it, Sneer criticises it; The Critic, Sheridan.

Pumblechook, Mr., obsequious to wealth and a bully to misfortune; Great Expectations, Dickens.

Pure, Simon, a Quaker from America, who is jockeyed out of a rich wife by Colonel Feignwell, who passes himself off as the Quaker before the real Simon Pure arrives; A Bold Stroke for a Wife, Mrs. Centlivre.

Pycroft, Emanuel, a naval petty officer, quick-witted and humorous; Their Lawful Occasions, Kipling.

Quickly, Mrs., hostess of the Boar's Head Tavern, frequented by Falstaff and his boon companions; Henry IV., Henry V., Merry Wives, Shakespeare.

Quilp, a dwarf, ferocious and fiendish; Old Curiosity Shop, Dickens.

Quiverful, Rev. Mr., rector of Puddingdale, with fourteen children; Barchester Towers. A. Trollope.

Quixote, Don., the hero of a most diverting novel, which tells the story of his adventures as a Knight-errant; Don Quixote, Cervantes.

Rab, a mastiff "as mighty in his own line as Julius Cæsar or the Duke of Wellington"; Rab and his Friends, Dr. J. Brown.

Ralpho, squire of Sir Hudibras, whom he attends in his adventures; Sir Hudibras, Butler.

Random, Roderick, unscrupulous, sensual, and callous; Roderick Random, Smollett.

Raphael, an "affable angel" who plays a considerable part in Milton's great epic; Paradise Lost, Milton.

Rasselas, Prince of Abyssinia, who goes in search of a Paradise in this world; Rasselas, Dr. Johnson.

Ravenshoe, Charles, a generous and high-spirited youth who, after dire distress, inherits the family estates; Ravenshoe, H. Kingsley.

Ravenswood, Master of, the melancholy, misunderstood, persecuted hero of The Bride of Lammermoor, Scott.

Rebecca, the beautiful, gifted, and unhappy daughter of Isaac the Jew, Ivanhoe, Scott.

Red Cross Knight, The, better known as "St. George of Merry England," who for the sake of Una (Truth) slays the dragon; Canterbury Tales, Chaucer.

Redgauntlet, name of a family in the interest of Prince Charles Edward; Redgauntlet, Scott.

Redlaw, Mr., a learned chemist who tries to obliterate his many sorrows from his memory, with the consequent loss of the power to sympathize; The Haunted Man, Dickens.

Regan and Goneril, the undutiful daughters of King Lear, Shakespeare.

Reineke Fuchs (Reynard the Fox), hero of a satirical poem in which the characters are animals. There are many versions of the story.

Ridd, John, a Devonshire yeoman of gigantic build and phenomenal strength, the hero of the tale; Lorna Doone, Blackmore.

Riderhood, Rogue, a desperate waterside villain, who meets his death in a struggle, fatal to both, with Bradley Headstone; Our Mutual Friend, Dickens.

Riel, Herve, a simple Breton pilot, who saved a French fleet from the English; Herve Riel, Browning.

Robert of Sicily, for his pride was punished with the temporary loss of reason; Tales of a Wayside Inn, Longfellow.

Robsart, Amy, wife of the Earl of Leicester, secretly married, supposed to be murdered to gain Leicester's favour; Kenilworth, Scott.

Rochester, Mr., husband of mad Bertha Mason, and finally of Jane Eyre; Jane Eyre, Brontë.

Roderick Dhu, a half savage Highland chieftain and freebooter; Lady of the Lake, Scott.

Roister Doister, hero of the earliest English comedy, 1556; Roister Doister, Udall.

Roland, one of Charlemagne's paladins, a hero of romance and Italian epic (see Oliver).

Romeo, wedded the youthful Juliet in spite of an ancestral feud; Romeo and Juliet, Shakespeare.

Romola, lived at Florence in the time of Savonarola, and married Tito, a subtle and perfidious Greek; Romola, G. Eliot.

Roland, Lord, the noble lover of Lady Clare; Lady Clare, Tennyson.

Rosalind, the witty daughter of the banished Duke, whom she seeks in the Forest of Arden; As You Like It, Shakespeare.

Rowena, The Lady, a Saxon lady, ward of Cedric, married to Wilfrid of Ivanhoe; Ivanhoe, Scott.

Rudge, Barnaby, the half-crazed son of the murderer of Reuben Haredale; Barnaby Rudge, Dickens.

Sabrina, nymph of the Severn, is invoked to release the lady from the spell of Comus; Comus, Milton.

Saddletree, Bartoline, the pedantic saddler who affects law terms, which he misunderstood, misapplied, misquoted, and mispronounced; Heart of Midlothian, Scott.

St. Cecilia, the patron saint of music; Ode to St. Cecilia's Day, Dryden.

Saladin, the Saracen Sultan, who visited Cœur de Lion disguised as a doctor; Talisman, Scott.

Salterne, Rose, deserted by her jealous husband, Don Guzman, and burnt by the Inquisition as a heretic and witch; Westward Ho! C. Kingsley.

Saltire, Lord, under a cynical and worldly exterior he hid a warm heart and a great sorrow; Ravenshoe, H. Kingsley.

Sampson, Dominie, "a stickit minister," and so became private tutor and librarian; his favourite expression was "prodigious"; Guy Mannering, Scott.

Sampson, Parson, the horse-racing, wine-drinking domestic chaplain of Lord Castlewood; The Virginians, Thackeray.

Samson Agonistes, "Samson the Wrestler," the blind hero of a poem written by one who was old and blind; Samson Agonistes, Milton.

Sangrado, Dr., the physician whose invariable prescriptions were bleeding and hot water; Gil Blas, Lesage.

Sansfoy (Unbelief), the first enemy with whom the Red Cross Knight has to fight after deserting Una (Truth); Canterbury Tales, Chaucer.

Saracinesca, a fine type of the old Roman nobility—sturdy and proud; Saracinesca, Marion Crawford.

Sarchedon, hero of the fine novel so named; Sarchedon, Whyte Melville.

Sawyer, Bob, the hilarious surgeon, host of Mr. Pickwick, who tried to start a practice at Bristol; Pickwick Papers, Dickens.

Scapin, a wily, scheming valet; Les Fourberies de Scapin, Molière.

Schehezerade, "that empress of tale-tellers," as Sir Walter Scott calls her, who saves her life by relating a fresh story each night; The Arabian Nights.

Scrooge, Ebenezer, converted by three visions on Christmas Eve from being a covetous, hard, grinding man into a benevolent character; Christmas Carol, Dickens.

Sedley, Amelia, the gentle, feeble, somewhat characterless heroine, much given to weeping; Vanity Fair, Thackeray.

Sedley, Joseph, a coarse type of Indian Collector, a lazy gourmand, vain and selfish; Vanity Fair, Thackeray.

Sentry, Capt., the representative of the army in the select club to which "the spectator" belongs; The Spectator, Addison.

Serjeant of Law, The, a busy man, but always seemed busier than he was; Canterbury Tales, Chaucer.

Shallow, Justice, a foolish and consequential country magistrate; Merry Wives of Windsor, Shakespeare.

Sharp, Becky, an adventuress, brilliant, fascinating, unprincipled; Vanity Fair, Thackeray.

She, a weird, mysterious being dwelling in the wilds of South Africa; She, Rider Haggard.

Shirley, a warm-hearted, noble-minded girl; Shirley, C. Brontë,

Short, see Codlin and Short.

Shylock, consumed by two evil passions—the love of money and a desire for revenge, the latter of which prevails; The Merchant of Venice, Shakespeare.

Siddartha, Prince, the incarnation of Buddha, whose gentle life, self-sacrifice, and noble teaching form the subject of The Light of Asia, Edwin Arnold.

Sigurd (or Siegfried), a mighty warrior, who marries Gudrun and is slain by the jealous wiles of Brynhild; Volsunga Saga and Niebelungenlied.

Sikes, Bill, the burglar who murdered his paramour, Nancy; Oliver Twist, Dickens.

Simple, Peter, hero of the novel so named; Peter Simple, Marryat.

Sindbad the Sailor, one who made seven fortunate voyages in which he experienced many surprising adventures; Arabian Nights.

Sintram, a youthful warrior who suffers from fits of demoniacal rage; Sintram, La Motte Fouqué.

Skimpole, Harold, a thriftless and selfish grown-up child; Bleak House, Dickens.

Slender, a foolish cousin of Justice Shallow; Merry Wives of Windsor, Shakespeare.

Slick, Sam, an American pedlar, who makes his way by his acuteness, drollery, and "soft sawder"; Sam Slick, Judge Haliburton.

Slope, Rev. Obadiah, the odious chaplain of Bishop Proudie "with always an anathema in the corner of his eye"; Barchester Towers, A. Trollope.

Slowboy, Tilly, a foundling nurse to "Dot's" baby, quaint, awkward, well-meaning; Cricket on the Hearth, Dickens.

Sludge, the medium who in the act of cheating is detected by his dupe; Dramatis Personæ, Browning.

Smike, son of Ralph Nickleby, who places him at Dotheboys Hall; Nicholas Nickleby, Dickens.

Snagsby, a law stationer, mild and timid, his favourite phrase—"Not to put too fine a point on it"; Bleak House, Dickens.

Snowe, Lucy, the heroine and relator of the story; Villette, C. Brontë.

Sohrab and Rustum, two great warriors, father and son, who meet in battle, unknown to each other, when Rustum kills his son; Sohrab and Rustum, M. Arnold.

Sordello, an Italian minstrel and forerunner of Dante; Sordello, Browning.

Sorrel, Hetty, Mrs. Poyser's niece, who falls through her vanity and inexperience, condemned to death for child-murder, but reprieved; Adam Bede, G. Eliot.

Spenlow and Jorkins, proctors, the latter keeping in the background served as bogie to the firm; David Copperfield, Dickens.

Squeers, a schoolmaster of incredible barbarity and ignorance, who rules over Dotheboys Hall; Nicholas Nickleby, Dickens.

Stalky, the master-spirit of three outrageous school boys, whose main purpose in life was to outwit authority; Stalky and Co., Kipling.

Standish, Miles, sailed to New England in the Mayflower and became one of the leading colonists there; Miles Standish, Longfellow.

Staunton, George, seducer and then husband of Effie Deans, shot by a gipsy boy who proves to be his own natural son; Heart of Midlothian, Scott.

Stella (1) the heroine of the sonnets in which Sir Philip Sidney celebrates his early love; (2) the name under which Dean Swift alludes to his friend, Esther Johnson.

Steyne, Marquis of, "The Wicked Nobleman," patron of Becky Sharp; Vanity Fair, Thackeray.

Stiggins, Shepherd, a self-indulgent, Dissenting minister in great favour with Mrs. Weller; Pickwick Papers, Dickens.

Strap, Hugh, the ill-rewarded but faithful follower of Roderick Random; Roderick Random, Smollett.

Strickland, an Indian police officer well acquainted with native life and much inclined to believe in "the occult"; Life's Handicap, Kipling.

Strong, Dr., "the idol of the whole school . . . . the kindest of men, with a simple faith in him"; David Copperfield, Dickens.

Surface, Charles and Joseph, the former good at heart with evil on the surface, the latter just the reverse; School for Scandal, Sheridan.

Svengali, a Polish Jew of great musical and hypnotic powers; Trilby, Du Maurier.

Sweedlepipe, Paul, a bird-fancier and hairdresser, with many resemblances to the birds he loved; Martin Chuzzlewit, Dickens.

Swiveller, Dick, a complex character of self-indulgence and generosity, who was put to many shifts to avoid his creditors; Old Curiosity Shop, Dickens.

Syntax, Dr., a pious clergyman and an excellent scholar in search of the picturesque; The Tour of Dr. Syntax, W. Coombe.

Tackleton, toymaker, a domestic Ogre, who hated children; Cricket on the Hearth, Dickens.

Tadpole and Taper, two electioneering agents; Coningsby, Disraeli.

Tamberlaine, the great Tartar, Timur the Great, Conqueror of Central Asia; Tamberlaine, Marlowe.

Tam o' Shanter, who "saw an unco' sight, warlocks and witches in a dance"; Tam o' Shanter, Burns.

Tapley, Mark, tries to be "jolly under all circumstances," fights against adversity with a cheerful countenance; Martin Chuzzlewit, Dickens.

Tartarin of Tarascon, a typical Gascon boaster, who can draw the long bow most skilfully; Tartarin, Daudet.

Tartuffe, a hypocrite unsurpassable; Tartuffe, Molière.

Teazle, Lady, married to Sir Peter, old enough to be her grandfather. Ignorant of the world she acts imprudently, and becomes the subject of scandal; School for Scandal, Sheridan.

Telemaque, the hero of a romance founded on the wanderings of Telemachus in search of his father, Ulysses; Télémaque, Fénelon.

Teufelsdrockh, an eccentric German philosopher, hero of the satire in which he makes war on all shams; Sartor Resartus, Carlyle.

Thalaba, the destroyer of evil spirits by means of magical power which he ultimately loses by an act of folly; Thalaba the Destroyer, Southey.

Thornhill, Sir William, alias Mr. Burchell (which see); Vicar of Wakefield, Goldsmith.

Thornhill, Squire, a libertine who eloped with Olivia Primrose, and found to his surprise that the "false marriage" was valid; Vicar of Wakefield, Goldsmith.

Tiny Tim, Bob Cratchit's little lame boy, to whom he was tenderness itself; Christmas Carol, Dickens.

Titania, Queen of the Fairies and wife of Oberon. Puck contrives by his magic juice that she shall fall in love with Bottom, the weaver; Midsummer Night's Dream, Shakespeare.

Todgers, Mrs., keeper of a commercial boarding-house where the demand for gravy is the sorrow of her life; Martin Chuzzlewit, Dickens.

Toots, Mr. P., "thick-headed," by his own avowal, hopelessly in love with Florence Dombey. Everything "is of no consequence"; Dombey and Son, Dickens.

Topsy, slave-girl, who could give no other account of her origin than "I 'spects I growed"; Uncle Tom's Cabin, Mrs. H. B. Stowe.

Torquil of the Oak, chief of the clan Quhele, gifted with second sight; Fair Maid of Perth, Scott.

Touchstone, the Court jester whose wise sayings win the admiration of the melancholy Jaques; As You Like It, Shakespeare.

Touchy, Tom, "A fellow for taking the law of everybody"; Spectator, Addison.

Traddles, Thomas, "the merriest and most miserable of the boys" at Salem House, draws skeletons to solace himself; David Copperfield, Dickens.

Tregarva, Paul, gamekeeper to Squire Lavington, a radical and a poet; Yeast, C. Kingsley.

Trilby, a Parisian artists' model; Trilby, Du Maurier.

Trinculo, a jester cast on Prospero's island; The Tempest, Shakespeare.

Trim, Corporal, the faithful, voluble, and devoted servant of "My Uncle Toby"; Tristram Shandy, Sterne.

Tristram, Sir. See Iseult.

Troil, Magnus, a well-to-do Shetlander with two charming daughters, Minna and Brenda; The Pirate, Scott.

Troop, Disco, captain of the fishing-boat on which the millionaire's son is made a man; Captains Courageous, Kipling.

Trotter, Job, the canting, cunning, clever servant of Alfred Jingle; Pickwick Papers, Dickens.

Trotwood, Betsy, David Copperfield's imperious and kind-hearted great-aunt, well known for her cry of "Janet! Donkeys!"; David Copperfield, Dickens.

Troy, Sergeant, a wretch who married and deserted Bathsheba Everdene, and was shot by Farmer Boldwood; Far from the Madding Crowd, Hardy.

Trulliber, Parson, a gross and ignorant cleric, a contrast to Parson Adams; Joseph Andrews, Fielding.

Trunnion, Commodore, the one-eyed naval officer who, when retired, equips and manages his house like a ship; Peregrine Pickle, Smollett.

Tug, Tom, a hearty young waterman; The Waterman, Dibdin.

Tulkinghorn, Mr. a cold-blooded, subtle lawyer," a tight, unopenable oyster of the old school"; Bleak House, Dickens.

Tulliver, Mr. and Mrs., father and mother of the hero and heroine; the former dies from excitement in a tussle with Wakem; the latter was a shrewd woman with remarkable powers of dialectic speech; Mill on the Floss, G. Eliot.

Tulliver, Tom and Maggie, the hero and heroine, who at the end of the story are both drowned together in the Floss; Mill on the Floss, G. Eliot.

Tupman, Mr. Tracy, a member of the Pickwick Club, a bit of a dandy, and an admirer of the fair sex; Pickwick Papers, Dickens.

Turveydrop, Mr., teacher of deportment, who modelled himself on the Prince Regent; Bleak House, Dickens.

Twist, Oliver, a boy of good parentage, brought up in a workhouse, and afterwards thrown among thieves; Oliver Twist, Dickens.

Twitcher, Jemmy, a rascally highwayman, who at last "peaches" on his leader, the gentlemanly highwayman, "Captain Macheath"; Beggars' Opera, Gay.

Tybalt, nephew to Lady Capulet, who kills Mercutio and is killed by Romeo; Romeo and Juliet, Shakespeare.

Udeschini, Cardinal, an excellent ecclesiastic, much addicted to snuff-taking; Cardinal's Snuffbox, Harland.

Una (the One True Faith, or Truth), is guarded in her wanderings by a lion; Faerie Queene, Spenser.

Uncle Toby, the inimitable hero of many of his own stories; Tristram Shandy, Sterne.

Uncle Tom, a slave of sterling Christian character, the hero of the novel depicting the evils of slavery; Uncle Tom's Cabin, Mrs. H. B. Stowe.

Undine, a gentle water-spirit that gains a human soul and much sorrow therewith; A German Story.

Urgan, an elf restored to human form by the tri-signature of the Cross; Lady of the Lake, Scott; Undine.

Uriel, the great archangel, "regent of the sun"; Paradise Lost, Milton, and Golden Legend, Longfellow.

Valentine, a gallant gentleman of Verona, who marries Silvia; Two Gentlemen of Verona, Shakespeare.

Valentine and Orson, twin nephews of King Pepin, the former brought up at court, the latter carried away and suckled by a bear; Legends of Charlemagne.

Vanessa, Swift's name for his young friend Esther Vanhomrigh; Cadenus and Vanessa, Swift.

Varden, Mr. and Mrs., the former a locksmith, bluff, hale, and hearty; the latter the most exasperating woman since the time of Job's wife; Barnaby Rudge, Dickens.

Varden, Dolly, the sweet, fresh, and pretty daughter of the above; Barnaby Rudge, Dickens.

Vathek, an eastern monarch, in league with demons. He perpetrates the most horrible crimes and is at last plunged into Eblis (hell); Vathek, Beckford.

Veck, Trotty, the ticket porter who invested church bells with thought and speech; The Chimes, Dickens.

Veiled Prophet of Khorassan. He claims to have magical powers, and wears a veil, as he pretends, to conceal the excessive brightness of his face, but in reality to hide his ugliness; Lalla Rookh, Moore.

Venus, Mr., articulator of human bones, bird-stuffer and animal preserver; Our Mutual Friend, Dickens.

Verges, a foolish old constable, who helps Dogberry to keep the peace of the city; Much Ado About Nothing, Shakespeare.

Verisopht, Lord. He bears a name descriptive of his character as a pupil and admirer of Sir Mulberry Hawk; Nicholas Nickleby, Dickens.

Vernon, Diana, the beautiful mistress of Osbaldistone Hall, a secret adherent of the Stuarts; Rob Roy, Scott.

Vicar of Wakefield. See Primrose.

Vincy, Rosamund, a heartless, extravagant girl, a failure both as a sister and as a wife; Middlemarch, G. Eliot.

Viola, a beautiful type of unselfish loyalty and courage; Twelfth Night, Shakespeare.

Virgil, the great Roman poet who is Dante's guide through the Inferno and the Purgatorio; The Divine Comedy, Dante.

Vivien, the wily enchantress who ensnared the wise Merlin; Idylls of the King, Tennyson.

Volpone, "the Fox," the type of a crafty hypocrite; Volpone, Ben Jonson.

Wadman, Widow, pursues "my Uncle Toby" with matrimonial intentions; Tristram Shandy, Sterne.

Wagg and Wenham, two despicable characters employed by the Marquis of Steyne to do his dirty work; Vanity Fair, Thackeray.

Wallenstein, an idealised portrait of the great Austrian general in the Thirty Years' War; Wallenstein, Schiller.

Wamba, jester of Cedric the Saxon; Ivanhoe, Scott.

Warrington, George, a barrister living by his pen, the life-long friend of Pendennis, a rugged, manly, genuine fellow; Pendennis, Thackeray.

Warrington, Madam Esmond, mother of the Virginians, an imperious dame, a queen in her colony; The Virginians, Thackeray.

Waverley, Captain Edward, hero of the novel so named; Waverley, Scott.

Wegg, Silas, ballad-monger and fruit seller, engaged by Mr. Boffin to read to him, proves a scoundrel; Our Mutual Friend, Dickens.

Weller, Sam, Mr. Pickwick's servant, one of the most original, amusing, and sterling characters ever depicted; Pickwick Papers, Dickens.

Weller, Tony, a misogynist when a widow was in question; Pickwick Papers, Dickens.

Wemmick, John, confidential clerk of Mr. Jaggers, fortifies his house as a mimic fortress; Great Expectations, Dickens.

Werther, a sentimental lover; The Sorrows of Werther, Goethe.

Western, Squire, ignorant of literature, irascible, generous, unpolished, convivial; Tom Jones, Fielding.

Western, Sophia, virtuous, beautiful, and amiable, marries and reforms Tom Jones; Tom Jones, Fielding.

Wickfield, Agnes, the charming, amiable, and sensible young lady who becomes David Copperfield's second wife; David Copperfield, Dickens.

Wildfire Madge, a young woman whose brain has been turned, in consequence of the murder of her illegitimate child; Heart of Midlothian, Scott.

Wild, Jonathan, a villain who had ten maxims and six wives; executed; Jonathan Wild, Defoe and Fielding.

Wildrake, Roger, a dissipated Royalist with many good parts; Woodstock, Scott.

Wilfer, Bella, wayward, playful, affectionate, giddy for want of some sustaining purpose, which love at length supplies; Our Mutual Friend, Dickens.

Wilfer, Mr. and Mrs., the former a poor, hen-pecked clerk with a large family; the latter famous for her headgear and indoor gloves; Our Mutual Friend, Dickens.

Willet, John and Joe, father and son, the former landlord of the Maypole, stolid, ruminative, and obstinate; the latter a fine young fellow who enlists and finally marries Dolly Varden; Barnaby Rudge, Dickens.

Willoughby, Sir Patterne, the unconsciously selfish and self-deluding baronet —"the Egoist"; The Egoist, Meredith.

Wimble, Will, a country Squire "well versed in all the little handicrafts of an idle man"; Spectator, Addison.

Witherington, the famous hero who "when his legs were smitten off did fight upon his stumps"; Ballad of Chevy Chase.

Wren, Jenny, the deformed child of a drunken father. The parts of father and child are reversed. She has to think and work for both of them; Our Mutual Friend, Dickens.

Yasodhara, the gentle bride of Prince Siddartha (Buddha); The Light of Asia, Edwin Arnold.

Yeo, Salvation, a sailor of Clovelly; "a tall man and black, and sweareth awfully in his talk"; Westward Ho! C. Kingsley.

Yorick, (1) Jester to the King of Denmark in Shakespeare's Hamlet; (2) Stands for Sterne himself in his Tristram Shandy and Sentimental Journey.

Zambullo, can see into every private dwelling; Devil on Two Sticks, Lesage.

Zanoni, alchemist, hero of the story; Zanoni, Bulwer Lytton.

Zelica, betrothed to Azim, who finally kills her, mistaking her for the "Veiled Prophet"; Lalla Rookh, Moore.

Zimri, (i.e. Buckingham), "stiff in opinions, always in the wrong, was everything by starts and nothing long"; Absalom and Achitophel, Dryden.

Zuleika, daughter of the pasha of Abydos, who shoots Selim, her lover, which causes her death; Bride of Abydos, Byron.

FAMILIAR QUOTATIONS.

ABSENCE.—Absence makes the heart grow fonder.
Isle of Beauty. Bayly.

ACTS.—
Our acts our angels are, or good or ill,
Our fatal shadows that walk by us still.
An Honest Man's Fortune. Beaumont and Fletcher.

ADVERSITY.—Sweet are the uses of adversity.
As You Like It. Shakespeare.
Adversity's sweet milk, philosophy.
Romeo and Juliet. Shakespeare.
The good are better made by ill,
As odours crushed are sweeter still.
Samuel Rogers.
Certainly virtue is like precious odours, most fragrant when they are incensed or crushed.
Of Adversity. Bacon.

AGE.—
The soul's dark cottage, battered and decayed,
Lets in new light through chinks which time has made;
Stronger by weakness, wiser men become,
As they draw near to their eternal home.
Waller.
Age cannot wither her, nor custom stale
Her infinite variety.
Antony and Cleopatra. Shakespeare.

ALCOHOL.—Crime may almost be said to be concentrated alcohol. The Use of Life. Lubbock.

ALLURED.—
And, as a bird each fond endearment tries,
To tempt her new-fledged offspring to the skies,
He tried each art, reproved each dull delay,
Allured to brighter worlds, and led the way.
The Deserted Village. Goldsmith.

ALONE.—They are never alone that are accompanied with noble thoughts. Arcadia. Sir P. Sidney.
I am never less at leisure than when at leisure, nor less alone than when alone.
Publius Scipio Africanus.

AMBITION.—
When that the poor have cried, Cæsar hath wept,
Ambition should be made of sterner stuff.
Julius Cæsar. Shakespeare.
Cromwell, I charge thee, fling away ambition;
By that sin fell the angels.
Henry VIII. Shakespeare.
Wild ambition loves to slide, not stand,
And fortune's ice prefers to virtue's land.
Absalom and Achitophel. Dryden.

ANGELS.—But sad as angels for the good man's sin,
Weep to record, and blush to give it in.
Pleasures of Hope. Campbell.
Like angel visits, few and far between.
Pleasures of Hope. Campbell.

ARGUE.—Not to know me, argues yourselves unknown,
The lowest of your throng.
Paradise Lost. Book IV. Milton.
In arguing, too, the parson owned his skill,
For e'en though vanquished, he could argue still.
The Deserted Village. Goldsmith.

ART.—Art is long and time is fleeting.
A Psalm of Life. Longfellow.
One science only will one genius fit;
So vast is art, so narrow human wit.
An Essay on Criticism. Pope.
Art was given for that;
God uses us to help each other so,
Lending our minds out.
Fra Lippo Lippi. R. Browning.

ASHES.—Even in our ashes live their wonted fires.
Elegy. Gray.

BARREN.—I pity the man who can travel from Dan to Beersheba, and cry "'Tis all barren."
Sentimental Journey. L. Sterne.

BEAUTY.—
A thing of beauty is a joy for ever.
Endymion, Keats.
'Tis beauty calls and glory leads the way.
Alexander the Great. Lee.
Fair tresses man's imperial race insnare,
And beauty draws us with a single hair.
Rape of the Lock. Pope.
Beauty is truth, truth beauty,—that is all
Ye know on earth, and all ye need to know.
Hyperion. Keats.

BEST THINGS.—
A man's best things are nearest him,
Lie close about his feet.
The Men of Old. Lord Houghton.

BIRTH.—Our birth is nothing but our death begun.
Night Thoughts. Young.
Death borders upon our birth, and our cradle stands in the grave. Epistles. Bishop Hall.
Our birth is but a sleep and a forgetting.
(See under Soul.)

BOOKS.—Some books are to be tasted, others to be swallowed, and some few to be chewed and digested.
Essays. Bacon.
Deep vers'd in books, and shallow in himself.
Paradise Regained. Book IV. Milton.
Books cannot always please, however good;
Minds are not ever craving for their food.
Schools. Crabbe.
'Tis pleasant, sure, to see one's name in print;
A book's a book, although there's nothing in't.
English Bards and Scotch Reviewers. Byron.
The mighty minds of old;
My never-failing friends are they,
With whom I converse day by day.
Occasional Pieces. Southey.
And this our life exempt from public haunt,
Finds tongues in trees, books in the running brooks,
Sermons in stones, and good in everything.
As You Like It. Shakespeare.
A good book is the precious life-blood of a master-Spirit, embalmed and treasured up on purpose to a life beyond life. Areopagitica. Milton.
Learning hath gained most by those books by which the printers have lost. Of Books. Fuller.

BORROWER.—Neither a borrower nor a lender be,
For loan oft loses both itself and friend.
Hamlet. Shakespeare.

BOURN.—
The undiscover'd country from whose bourn
No traveller returns. Hamlet. Shakespeare.

BRAVE.—None but the brave deserve the fair.
Alexander's Feast. Dryden.

BREAD.—Bread is the staff of life.
Tale of a Tub. Swift.

BUILDERS.—
In the elder days of Art
Builders wrought with greatest care
Each minute and unseen part,
For the gods see everywhere.
The Builders. Longfellow.
He builded better than he knew.
The conscious stone to beauty grew. Emerson.

CAKE.—Wouldst thou both eat thy cake and have it?
The Size. Herbert.

CANDLE.—
How far that little candle throws its beams,
So shines a good deed in a naughty world.
Merchant of Venice. Shakespeare.

CAVIARE.—'Twas caviare to the general.
Hamlet. Shakespeare.

CHAIN.—
From Nature's chain whatever link you strike,
Tenth or ten thousandth, breaks the chain alike.
Essay on Man. Pope.

CHANCE.—
All nature is but art, unknown to thee;
All chance, direction, which thou canst not see.
Essay on Man. Pope.
And grasps the skirts of happy chance,
And breaks the blows of circumstance.
In Memoriam. Tennyson.
A lucky chance, that oft decides the fate of mighty monarchs.
Summer. Thomson.

CHANGE.—Let the great world spin for ever down the ringing grooves of change.
Locksley Hall. Tennyson.
What, have fear of change from Thee
Who art ever the same!
Abt Vogler. Browning.
The old order changeth, yielding place to new,
And God fulfils Himself in many ways,
Lest one good custom should corrupt the world.
The Passing of Arthur. Tennyson.

CHARACTER.—Character is destiny. Novalis.
That inexorable law of human souls, that we prepare ourselves for sudden deeds by the reiterated choice of good or evil which gradually determines character.
Romola. George Eliot.

CHARITY.—
In Faith and Hope the world will disagree,
But all mankind's concern is charity.
Essay on Man. Pope.

CHARMER.—
How happy could I be with either,
Were t'other dear charmer away.
Beggars' Opera. Gay.

CHARMS.—
Charms strike the sight, but merit wins the soul.
The Rape of the Lock. Pope.

CHICKENS.—
To swallow gudgeons ere they're catched,
And count their chickens ere they're hatched.
Hudibras. Butler.

CHIEL.—A chiel's amang you takin' notes,
And, faith, he'll prent it.
Captain Grose's Peregrinations. Burns.

CHILDHOOD.—The childhood shows the man,
As morning shows the day.
Paradise Regained. Book IV. Milton.

COMMENTATORS.—
Give me Commentators plain,
Who with no deep researches vex the brain;
Who from the dark and doubtful love to run,
And hold their glimmering tapers to the sun.
Parish Register. Book IV. Crabbe.

CONCEALMENT.—
She never told her love,
But let concealment, like a worm in the bud,
Feed on her damask cheek.
Twelfth Night. Shakespeare.

CONFUSION.—With ruin upon ruin, rout on rout,
Confusion worse confounded.
Paradise Lost. Book II. Milton.

CONSCIENCE.—Thus Conscience does make cowards of us all. Hamlet. Shakespeare.
A peace above all earthly dignities,
A still and quiet conscience.
Henry VIII. Shakespeare.
I made them lay their hands in mine and swear
To reverence their king, as if he were
Their Conscience, and their Conscience as their king.
The Round Table. Tennyson.

CONSTABLE.—Thou hast
Outrun the constable at last.
Hudibras. Butler.

CONSUMMATION.—
'Tis a consummation
Devoutly to be wished. Hamlet. Shakespeare.

CONVERSE.—
Form'd by thy converse, happily to steer
From grave to gay, from lively to severe.
Essay on Man. Pope.
There studious let me sit,
And hold high converse with the mighty dead.
Winter. Thomson.

COUNTRY.—God made the country and man made the town. The Task. Cowper.

COURAGE.—Life is mostly froth and bubble, &c.
(See under Kindness).

COURTESY.—I am the very pink of courtesy.
Romeo and Juliet. Shakespeare.

CRITICAL.—I am nothing if not critical.
Othello. Shakespeare.

CROWN. Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown.
King Henry IV. Part II. Shakespeare.

CRUEL.—I must be cruel, only to be kind.
Hamlet. Shakespeare.

CUCKOO.—O cuckoo! shall I call thee bird,
Or but a wandering voice?
To the Cuckoo. Wordsworth.

CULTURE.—The great law of culture is: Let each become all that he was created capable of being.
Essays. Carlyle.

CUP.—Life's enchanted cup but sparkles near the brim.
Childe Harold. Byron.

CUSTOM.— It is a custom
More honour'd in the breach than the observance.
Hamlet. Shakespeare.
The tyrant custom, most grave senators,
Hath made the flinty and steel couch of war
My thrice-driven bed of down.
Othello. Shakespeare.
The slaves of custom are the sport of time.
Novum Organum. Bacon.
Men think according to nature, speak according to precept, but act according to custom.
Novum Organum. Bacon.
Lest one good custom should corrupt the world.
(See under Change).

CUT.—This was the most unkindest cut of all.
Julius Cæsar. Shakespeare.

CYNOSURE.—The Cynosure of neighbouring eyes.
L'Allegro. Milton.

DANGER.—Out of this nettle, danger, we pluck this flower, safety. King Henry IV. Part I. Shakespeare.

DARKNESS.—
Yet from those flames
No light but rather darkness visible.
Paradise Lost. Book I. Milton.

DEATH.—How wonderful is Death!
Death and his brother Sleep.
Queen Mab. Shelley.
Death came with friendly care (see under Sin).
The sense of death is most in apprehension.
Measure for Measure. Shakespeare.
Knowledge by suffering entereth,
And life is perfected by death.
A Vision of Poets. E. B. Browning.
'Tis not the whole of life to live,
Nor all of death to die.
The Issues of Life and Death. Montgomery.
Cowards die many times before their deaths;
The valiant never taste of death but once.
Julius Cæsar. Shakespeare.
Dear beauteous Death, the jewel of the just.
H. Vaughan.
And like the hand which ends a dream,
Death with the might of his sunbeam,
Touches the flesh and the soul awakes.
The Flight of the Duchess. R. Browning.

DEATH.—
There is no Death! What seems so is transition;
This life of mortal breath
Is but a suburb of the life Elysian,
Whose portal we call Death.
Resignation. Longfellow.
Death is the veil which those who live call life;
They sleep, and it is lifted.
Prometheus Unbound. Shelley.
Who could have thought such darkness lay concealed
Within thy beams, O Sun! or who could find,
Whilst flower and leaf and insect stood revealed,
That to such countless orbs thou mad'st us blind!
Why do we then shun Death with anxious strife?
If Light can thus deceive, wherefore not Life?
To Night. Blanco White.

DEGREES.—Fine by degrees and beautifully less.
Henry and Emma. Prior.

DESPAIR.—Shall I, wasting in despair,
Die because a woman's fair?
The Shepherd's Resolution. Whittier.

DEVIL. The Devil can cite Scripture for his purpose.
The Merchant of Venice. Shakespeare.
He will give the Devil his due.
King Henry IV. Part I. Shakespeare.
The Devil hath power
To assume a pleasing shape.
Hamlet. Shakespeare.
Devil take the hindmost.
Bonduca. Beaumont and Fletcher.
He must needs go that the Devil drives.
All's Well That Ends Well. Shakespeare.

DIFFICULTY.—Difficulty adds to result, as the ramming of the powder sends the bullet further.
R. Falconer. G. Macdonald.

DISEASES.—
Diseases, desperate grown,
By desperate appliance are relieved,
Or not at all. Hamlet. Shakespeare.

DISTANCE.—
'Tis distance lends enchantment to the view,
And robes the mountain in its azure blue.
Pleasures of Hope. Campbell.

DITCH, THE LAST.—"There is one certain means," replied the prince, "by which I can be sure never to see my country's ruin, I will die in the last ditch."
Saying of William of Orange, quoted by HUME.

DIVINITY.—
There's a divinity that shapes our ends,
Rough hew them how we will.
Hamlet. Shakespeare.
Why shrinks the soul
Back on herself, and startles at destruction?
'Tis the divinity that stirs within us.
Cato. Addison.

DOCTORS.—
Who shall decide, when doctors disagree,
And soundest casuists doubt like you and me?
Moral Essays. Pope.

DOUBTS.—
Our doubts are traitors,
And make us lose the good we oft might win
By fearing to attempt.
Measure for Measure. Shakespeare.

DREAMS.—
We are such stuff
As dreams are made of, and our little life
Is rounded with a sleep.
The Tempest. Shakespeare.

DRUDGERY.—A servant with this clause
Makes drudgery divine;
Who sweeps a room as for Thy laws
Makes that and the action fine.
The Elixir. George Herbert.

DUST.—To the vile dust from whence he sprung
Unwept, unhonoured, and unsung.
The Lay of the Last Minstrel. Scott.

DUST.—
Can honour's voice provoke the silent dust,
Or flattery soothe the dull cold ear of death?
Elegy in a Country Churchyard. Gray.

DUTY.—He holds no parley with unmanly fears;
Where duty bids, he confidently steers.
Wordsworth.
When I'm not thanked at all, I'm thanked enough;
I've done my duty and I've done no more.
Tom Thumb the Great. Fielding.
The primal duties shine aloft, like stars;
The charities that soothe, and heal, and bless,
Are scattered at the feet of man, like flowers.
The Excursion. Wordsworth.
Stern daughter of the voice of God!
Ode to Duty. Wordsworth.
Never can anything be amiss
When simpleness and duty tender it.
Midsummer Night's Dream. Shakespeare.
Not once or twice in our rough island-story
The path of duty was the way of glory.
Duke of Wellington. Tennyson.

EARTH.—For so the whole round earth is every way
Bound by gold chains about the feet of God.
The Passing of Arthur. Tennyson.

EDUCATION.—
'Tis education forms the common mind;
Just as the twig is bent the tree's inclined.
Moral Essays. Pope.
We advocate education, not merely to make the man the better workman, but the workman the better man.
The Use of Life. Lubbock.

ENEMY.—O that men should put an enemy in their mouths to steal away their brains. Othello. Shakespeare.

ENGLAND.—
Nought shall make us rue,
If England to itself do rest but true.
King John. Shakespeare.
This royal throne of kings, this sceptred isle,
This earth of majesty, this seat of Mars,
This other Eden, demi-paradise,
This fortress built by Nature for herself
Against infection and the hand of war,
This happy breed of men, this little world,
This precious stone set in the silver sea.
King Richard II. Shakespeare.
Slaves cannot breathe in England: if their lungs
Receive our air, that moment they are free;
They touch our country and their shackles fall.
The Task. Cowper.

ENSLAVED.—
All spirits are enslaved that serve things evil.
Prometheus Unbound. Shelley.

EPITOME.—
A man so various that he seemed to be
Not one, but all mankind's epitome:
Stiff in opinions, always in the wrong,
Was everything by starts, and nothing long,
Absalom and Achitophel. Dryden.

ERR.—To err is human, to forgive divine.
Essay on Criticism. Pope.

EVENTS.—
'Tis the sunset of life gives me mystical lore,
And coming events cast their shadows before.
Lochiel's Warning. Campbell.

EVERYONE. Everyone is as God made him, and oftentimes a great deal worse. Don Quixote. Cervantes.
Everyone can master a grief, but he that has it.
Much Ado About Nothing. Shakespeare.

EVIL.—There is some soul of goodness in things evil,
Would men observingly distil it out.
King Henry V. Shakespeare.
The evil that men do lives after them,
The good is oft interred with their bones.
Julius Cæsar. Shakespeare.

EVIL.—
But evil is wrought by want of thought
As well as want of heart.
The Lady's Dream. Hood.

FACE.—If to her share some female errors fall,
Look on her face, and you'll forget them all.
Rape of the Lock. Pope.

FACTS.—Facts are stubborn things.
Gil Blas (translated by) Smollett.

FAILURE.—How far high failure overleaps the bound
Of low successes. Marsyas. Lewis Morris.
Better to have failed in the high aim, as I,
Than vulgarly in the low aim succeed.
The Inn Album. R. Browning.

FAITH.—Perplext in faith, but pure in deeds
At last he beat his music out.
There lives more faith in honest doubt
Believe me, than in half the creeds.
In Memoriam. Tennyson.
For modes of faith let graceless zealots fight;
His can't be wrong whose life is in the right.
Essay on Man. Pope.
We have but faith; we cannot know;
For knowledge is of things we see;
And yet we trust it comes from Thee,
A beam in darkness; let it grow.
In Memoriam. Tennyson.

FAME.—
Fame is the spur that the clear spirit doth raise
(That last infirmity of noble mind)
To scorn delights, and live laborious days;
Lycidas. Milton.
Who builds a church to God, and not to fame,
Will never mark the marble with his name.
Moral Essays. Pope.
Fame makes a quick messenger but a rash judge.
Novum Organum. Bacon.
Fame, like a river, buoys up things light and swollen, but drowns those that are weighty.
Novum Organum. Bacon.

FASHION.—The glass of fashion and the mould of form,
The observed of all observers.
Hamlet. Shakespeare.
The fashion wears out more apparel than the man.
Much Ado About Nothing. Shakespeare.
Thou art not for the fashion of these times
Where none will sweat, but for promotion.
As You Like It. Shakespeare.

FATE.—
Heaven from all creatures hides the book of fate,
All but the page prescribed—their present state;
From brutes what men, from men what spirits know;
Or who could suffer being here below?
Essay on Man. Pope.

FEARS.—
He either fears his fate too much,
Or his deserts are small,
Who dares not put it to the touch
To win or lose it all. Montrose.

FEET.—
Her feet have touched the meadows
And left the daisies rosy.
Quoted in Sesame and Lilies. RUSKIN.

FLATTERY.—Flattery is the varnish of vice.
Novum Organum. Bacon.
'Tis an old maxim of the schools,
That flattery's the food of fools;
Yet now and then your men of wit
Will condescend to take a bit.
Cadenus and Vanessa. Swift.

FLOWER.— But through all this tract of years
Wearing the white flower of a blameless life.
Idylls of the King (Dedication). Tennyson.
Flowers to these "spirits in prison" are all
They can know of the Spring,
They freshen and sweeten the wards like
The waft of an angel's wing.
Flowers in a Hospital. Tennyson.

FLOWER.—None of all the flowers ye prize
But was nursed by weeping skies.

Full many a flower is born to blush unseen,
And waste its sweetness on the desert air.
Elegy. Gray.

FOOL.—The fool doth think he is wise, but the wise man knows himself to be a fool.
As You Like It. Shakespeare.
Be wise with speed;
A fool at forty is a fool indeed.
Love of Fame. Young.
For fools rush in where angels fear to tread.
Essay on Criticism. Pope.
No creature smarts so little as a fool.
Epistle to Dr. Arbuthnot. Pope.
A fool must now and then be right by chance.
Conversation. Cowper.
Truth from his lips prevailed with double sway:
And fools, who came to scoff, remained to pray.
The Deserted Village. Goldsmith.
They fool me to the top of my bent.
Hamlet. Shakespeare.

FORCE.— Who overcomes
By force, hath overcome but half his foe.
Paradise Lost. Milton.

FORGET (Lest we).—
God of our fathers, known of old,
Lord of our far-flung battle line,
Beneath whose awful hand we hold
Dominions over palm and pine—
Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet,
Lest we forget! lest we forget!
Recessional. Rudyard Kipling.

FRIEND.—The friends thou hast, and their adoption tried,
Grapple them to thy soul with hooks of steel.
Hamlet. Shakespeare.
But of all plagues, good Heaven, thy wrath can send,
Save, save, oh save me from the candid friend.
The New Morality. Canning.
Old friends are best. Judgments. Selden.
For he that wrongs his friend
Wrongs himself more, and ever bears about
A silent court of justice in his heart;
Himself the judge and jury, and himself
The prisoner at the bar, ever condemned.
Sea Dreams. Tennyson.

FRIENDSHIP.—
Friendship is constant in all other things,
Save in the office and affairs of love.
Much Ado About Nothing. Shakespeare.
Friendship redoubleth joys and cutteth griefs in halves.
Of Friendship. Bacon.
They seem to take away the sun from the world who withdraw friendship from life.
On Friendship. Cicero.

GENIUS.—Genius is an infinite capacity for taking pains.
Frederick the Great. Carlyle.
The true genius is a mind of large general powers accidentally determined to some particular direction.
Johnson.

GIVE, GIFT.—Give every man thine ear, but few thy voice.
Hamlet. Shakespeare.
Rich gifts wax poor, when givers prove unkind.
Hamlet. Shakespeare.
Give an inch he'll take an ell.
Sir Thomas Wyatt. Webster.
Do not look a gift horse in the mouth.
Hudibras. Butler.

GLOBE, THE GREAT.—
And, like the baseless fabric of this vision,
The cloud-capp'd towers, the gorgeous palaces,
The solemn temples, the great globe itself,
Yea, all which it inherit, shall dissolve;
And, like this insubstantial pageant faded,
Leave not a rack behind.
The Tempest. Shakespeare.

GLORY.—But trailing clouds of glory do we come.
(See under Infancy.)

Who pants for glory, finds but short repose,
A breath revives him, or a breath o'erthrows.
Epistles of Horace. Pope.

The way of glory. (See under Duty.)

GODS.—Whom the gods love die young.
Don Juan. Byron.

Take the good the gods provide thee.
Alexander's Feast. Dryden.

GOLD.— To gild refined gold, to paint the lily,
To throw a perfume on the violet.
King John. Shakespeare.

GOOD.—Do good by stealth, and blush to find it fame.
The Satires. Pope.

And learn the luxury of doing good.
The Traveller. Goldsmith.

O yet we trust that somehow good
Will be the final goal of ill. In Memoriam. Tennyson.

Behold, we know not anything.
I can but trust that good shall fall
At last, far off, at last, to all,
And every winter turn to spring.
In Memoriam. Tennyson.

GRATITUDE.—The gratitude of place expectants is a lively sense of future favours. Walpoliana. Walpole.

I've heard of hearts unkind, kind deeds
With coldness still returning;
Alas! the gratitude of men
Hath oftener left me mourning.
Simon Lee. Wordsworth.

GRAVE.—Life is real! life is earnest!
And the grave is not its goal.
A Psalm of Life. Longfellow.

The grave itself is but a covered bridge
Leading from light to light through a brief darkness.
Golden Legend. Longfellow.

GREAT, GREATNESS.—Some are born great, some achieve greatness, and some have greatness thrust upon them.
Twelfth Night. Shakespeare.

None think the great unhappy, but the great.
Love of Fame. Young.

And in me there dwells
No greatness, save it be some far-off touch
Of greatness to know well I am not great.
Lancelot and Elaine. Tennyson.

GRIEF.—In all the silent manliness of grief.
The Deserted Village. Goldsmith.

GUEST.—Welcome the coming, speed the parting guest.
Odyssey. (Pope's translation of) Homer.

GUIDE.—Thou wert my guide, philosopher, and friend.
Essay on Man. Pope.

HABITS.—Ill habits gather by unseen degrees,
As brooks make rivers, rivers run to seas.
Metamorphoses. (Dryden's translation of) Ovid.

Small habits well pursued betimes
May reach the dignity of crimes.
Florio. H. More.

Sow an action, reap a habit; sow a habit, reap a character; sow a character, reap a destiny.
Boardman.

HANDSOME.—Handsome is that handsome does.
Vicar of Wakefield. Goldsmith.

HAPPINESS.—That action is best which procures the greatest happiness for the greatest number.
Inquiry Concerning Moral Good and Evil. Hutcheson.

All who joy would win
Must share it,—happiness was born a twin.
Don Juan. Byron.

Domestic Happiness! thou only bliss
Of Paradise that has surviv'd the fall!
The Garden. Cowper.

O happiness! our being's end and aim!
Good, pleasure, ease, content! whate'er thy name:
That something still which prompts th' eternal sigh,
For which we bear to live, or dare to die.
Essay on Man. Pope.

HARMONY.—
Look how the floor of heaven
Is thick inlaid with patines of bright gold;
There's not the smallest orb that thou behold'st
But in his motion like an angel sings,
Still quiring to the young-eyed cherubims:
Such harmony is in immortal souls;
But, whilst this muddy vesture of decay
Doth grossly close it in, we cannot hear it.
Merchant of Venice. Shakespeare.

HEAD.—
And still they gazed and still the wonder grew
That one small head could carry all he knew.
The Deserted Village. Goldsmith.

HEALTH, HEALTHY.—
Better to hunt in fields for health unbought,
Than fee the doctor for a nauseous draught.
The wise for cure on exercise depend;
God never made his work for man to mend.
Cymon and Iphigenia. Dryden.

A healthy body is the tabernacle, but a sickly one the prison of the soul. Essays. Bacon.

HEART.—
It is the secret sympathy,
The silver link, the silken tie,
Which heart to heart, mind to mind,
In body and in soul can bind.
The Lay of the Last Minstrel. Scott.

Faint heart ne'er won fair lady.
Love Laughs at Locksmiths. Colman.

And many a word at random spoken,
May soothe, or wound, a heart that's broken!
The Lord of the Isles. Scott.

Never morning wore
To evening, but some heart did break.
In Memoriam. Tennyson.

A merry heart goes all the day,
Your sad tires in a mile-a.
Winter's Tale. Shakespeare.

Thou Lord hast made us for Thyself; therefore our hearts are restless until they rest in Thee.
St. Augustine.

HEAVEN.—
If God hath made this world so fair,
Where sin and death abound,
How beautiful beyond compare
Will heaven itself be found.
God's Goodness. Montgomery.

Bubbles we buy with a whole soul's tasking;
'Tis heaven alone that is given away,
'Tis only God may be had for the asking,
No price is set on the lavish summer;
June may be had by the poorest comer.
The Vision of Sir Launfal. Lowell.

I have been there and still would go,
'Tis like a little heaven below.
Divine Songs. Watts.

HEROES.—Heroes, it would seem, exist always, and a certain worship of them! We will also take the liberty to deny altogether that of the witty Frenchman, that no man is a hero to his valet-de-chambre. Or, if so, it is not the hero's blame but the valet's.
Hero Worship. Carlyle.

HIGHEST.—We needs must love the highest when we see it.
Guinevere. Tennyson.

HOME.—
'Mid pleasures and palaces though we may roam,
Be it ever so humble, there's no place like home.
Home, Sweet Home. Payne.

Home-keeping youth have ever homely wits.
Two Gentlemen of Verona. Shakespeare.

Such is the patriot's boast, where'er we roam,
His first, best country ever is at home.
The Traveller. Goldsmith.

From God, who is our home.
(See under Infancy.)

HONEST, HONESTY.—An honest man's the noblest work of God. Essay on Man. Pope.
Honest labour bears a lovely face.
Patient Grissell. Dekker.

HONOUR.—
Honour and shame from no condition rise;
Act well your part, there all the honour lies.
Essay on Man. Pope.
War, he sung, is toil and trouble,
Honour but an empty bubble.
Alexander's Feast. Dryden.
I could not love thee, dear, so much,
Loved I not honour more.
To Lucasta. Lovelace.
Mine honour is my life.
(See under Reputation).

HOPE.—Hope springs eternal in the human breast,
Man never is but always to be blest.
Essay on Man. Pope.
True hope is swift, and flies with swallow's wings;
Kings it makes gods, and meaner creatures kings.
King Richard III. Shakespeare.
All hope abandon—ye who enter here.
Inferno. Dante.
While there is life there's hope, he cried.
The Sick Man and The Angel. Gay.

HOSTAGES.—He that hath wife and children hath given hostages to fortune; for they are impediments to great enterprises, either of virtue or mischief.
Essay on Marriage. Bacon.

HOUSE.—For a man's house is his castle.
Third Institute. Sir Edward Coke.

HYPOCRISY.—Hypocrisy is a sort of homage that vice pays to virtue. Maxims. Duc de Rochefoucauld.

IDEA.—
Delightful task, to rear the tender thought,
To teach the young idea how to shoot.
The Seasons (Spring). Thomson.

IDEALS.—Still through our paltry stir and strife
Glows down the wished Ideal,
And longing moulds in clay what life
Carves in the marble Real;
To let the new life in we know
Desire must ope the portal;
Perhaps the longing to be so
Helps make the soul immortal.
J. R. Lowell.

IDLER, IDLENESS.—
An idler is a watch that wants both hands,
As useless if it goes as if it stands.
Retirement. Cowper.

IF.—Your IF is the only peacemaker; much virtue in If.
As You Like It. Shakespeare.

IGNORANCE.—Where ignorance is bliss
'Tis folly to be wise.
On a distant prospect of Eton College. Gray.

ILLS.—And makes us rather bear those ills we have,
Than fly to others that we know not of?
Hamlet. Shakespeare.

IMPEACHMENT.—I own the soft impeachment, pardon my blushes. Rivals. Sheridan.

IMPERFECTION.—But, accurately speaking, no good work whatever can be perfect, and the demand for perfection is always a misunderstanding of the ends of art.
Stones of Venice. Ruskin.
On earth the broken arcs; in heaven a perfect round.
Abt Vogler. Browning.

INEBRIATE.— The cups
That cheer but not inebriate.
The Task. Cowper.

INFANCY.— Not in entire forgetfulness,
And not in utter nakedness,
But trailing clouds of glory do we come
From God, who is our home.
Heaven lies about us in our infancy!
Intimations of Immortality. Wordsworth.

INFANT.— But what am I?
An infant crying in the night:
An infant crying for the light:
And with no language but a cry.
In Memoriam. Tennyson.

INGRATITUDE.—Blow blow, thou winter wind,
Thou art not so unkind
As man's ingratitude.
As You Like It. Shakespeare.

JEALOUSY.—
O, beware, my lord, of jealousy;
It is the green-eyed monster which doth mock
The meat it feeds on. Othello. Shakespeare.

JEST.—Of all the griefs that harass the distrest,
Sure the most bitter is a scornful jest.
London. Johnson.
The Right Honourable gentleman is indebted to his memory for his jests, and to his imagination for his facts. In Reply to Mr. Dundas. Sheridan.
He jests at scars that never felt a wound.
Romeo and Juliet. Shakespeare.

JEWEL.—And I as rich in having such a jewel,
As twenty seas, if all their sand were pearl,
The water nectar, and the rocks pure gold.
Two Gentlemen of Verona. Shakespeare.

JUNE.—
And what is so rare as a day in June?
Then, if ever, come perfect days;
Then heaven tries the earth if it be in tune,
And over it softly her warm ear lays.
The Vision of Sir Launfal. Lowell.

JUSTICE.— Yet I shall temper so
Justice with mercy. . . .
Paradise Lost. Book X. Milton.
Though justice be thy plea, consider this,—
That in the course of justice none of us
Should see salvation.
The Merchant of Venice. Shakespeare.

KIND.— Be to her virtues very kind;
Be to her faults a little blind.
An English Padlock. Matthew Prior.
A fellow-feeling makes one wondrous kind.
Prologue on Quitting the Stage. Garrick.

KINDNESS.—
That best portion of a good man's life,
His little, nameless, unremembered acts
Of kindness and of love.
Tintern Abbey. Wordsworth.
Life is mostly froth and bubble;
Two things stand like stone—
Kindness in another's trouble
Courage in your own.
Bush Ballads. A. L. Gordon.

KNOWLEDGE.—Knowledge is power.
Meditationes Sacræ. Bacon.
Knowledge is proud that he hath learn'd so much;
Wisdom is humble that he knows no more.
Winter Walk at Noon. Cowper.
Let knowledge grow from more to more,
But more of reverence in us dwell;
That mind and soul according well,
May make one music as before.
In Memoriam. Tennyson.
To be conscious that you are ignorant is a great step to knowledge. Sybil. Disraeli.
Knowledge is now no more a fountain sealed:
Drink deep, until the habits of the slave,
The sins of emptiness, gossip and spite
And slander, die. Better not be at all
Than not be noble. The Princess. Tennyson.

LADDER.—
Alas! we make
A ladder of our thoughts, where angels step,
But sleep ourselves at the foot: our high resolves
Look down upon our slumbering acts. Landon.

LAND.—They love their land, because it is their own,
And scorn to give aught other reason why.
Connecticut. Halleck.

Breathes there the man with soul so dead,
Who never to himself hath said,
This is my own, my native land!
Whose heart has ne'er within him burned
As home his footsteps he hath turned
From wandering on a foreign strand?
Lay of the Last Minstrel. Scott.

LANGUAGE.—
Where nature's end of language is declined,
And men talk only to conceal the mind.
Love of Fame. Young.

LARK.— "Up, up, up," called the watchman lark,
In his clear réveillée: "Hearken, oh hark!
Press to the high goal, fly to the mark."
The Prince's Progress. C. Rossetti.

The busy lark, the messenger of day,
Salueth in her song the morrow gray,
And fiery Phœbus riseth up so brightë
That all the orient laugheth of the lightë,
And with his stremës dryeth in the grevës
The silver droppës hanging on the leavës.
The Knight's Tale. Chaucer.

LAUGH.—
And if I laugh at any mortal thing,
'Tis that I may not weep.
Don Juan. Byron.

The watch-dog's voice that bayed the whispering wind,
And the loud laugh that spoke the vacant mind.
The Deserted Village. Goldsmith.

LAW.—Of law there can be no less acknowledged, than that her seat is the bosom of God, her voice the harmony of the world. Ecclesiastical Polity. Hooker.

Where law ends, tyranny begins.
Speech, January, 1770. Pitt.

Wise laws and just restraints are to a noble nation not chains, but chain-mail.
The Two Paths. Ruskin.

LEAP.—Look before you ere you leap,
For as you sow, y'are like to reap.
Hudibras. Butler.

LEARN, LEARNING.—With just enough of learning to misquote.
English Bards and Scotch Reviewers. Byron.

A little learning is a dangerous thing;
Drink deep or taste not the Pierian spring.
Pope.

Still achieving, still pursuing,
Learn to labour and to wait.
A Psalm of Life. Longfellow.

LIBERTY.—O liberty! liberty! how many crimes are committed in thy name. Madame Roland.

Liberty's in every blow!
Let us do or die.
Bannockburn. Burns.

Give me again my hollow tree,
A crust of bread and liberty. Satires. Pope.

LIE.—Dare to be true, nothing can need a lie;
A fault which needs it most grows two thereby.
The Church Porch. Herbert.

To say that a man lieth is as much as to say that he is brave towards God, and a coward towards men.
Of Truth. Bacon.

A lie which is all a lie
May be met with and fought with outright,
But a lie which is part of a truth
Is a harder matter to fight.
Jean Ingelow.

LIFE, LIVES.—
That life is long which answers life's great end.
Night Thoughts. Young.

One crowded hour of glorious life
Is worth an age without a name.
Old Mortality. Scott.

LIFE, LIVES.—
Tell me not, in mournful numbers,
"Life is but an empty dream!"
A Psalm of Life. Longfellow.

Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime,
And, departing, leave behind us
Footprints on the sands of time.
A Psalm of Life. Longfellow.

Life, like a dome of many-coloured glass,
Stains the white radiance of eternity,
Until death tramples it to fragments.
Adonais. Shelley.

Life is mostly froth and bubble, &c.
(See under Kindness).

After life's fitful fever he sleeps well.
Macbeth. Shakespeare.

To live in hearts we leave behind
Is not to die. Hallowed Ground. Campbell.

The morn that ushered thee to life, my child,
Saw thee in tears whilst all around thee smiled.
When summoned hence to thy eternal sleep
O mayst thou smile whilst all around thee weep.
From the Arabic.

Life, we have been long together
Through pleasant and through cloudy weather;
'Tis hard to part when friends are dear,
Perhaps 'twill cost a sigh, a tear.
Then steal away, give little warning
Choose thine own time
Say not "Good night," but in some brighter clime
Bid me "Good morning."
Mrs. Barbauld.

I slept and dreamed that life was beauty,
I woke and found that life was duty.
Life a Duty. E. S. Hooper.

LIGHT.—
He that has light within his own clear breast,
May sit i' the centre, and enjoy bright day;
But he that hides a dark soul and foul thoughts,
Benighted walks under the mid-day sun:
Himself is his own dungeon. Comus. Milton.

Storied windows richly dight,
Casting a dim religious light.
Il Penseroso. Milton.

LIPS.—Our spirits rushed together at the touching of the lips. Locksley Hall. Tennyson.

LITTLE.—A little fire is quickly trodden out,
Which, being suffered, rivers cannot quench.
King Henry VI. Shakespeare.

Man wants but little here below,
Nor wants that little long.
The Hermit. Goldsmith.

LIVE.—We that live to please must please to live.
Prologue. Dr. Johnson.

All that live must die,
Passing through nature to eternity.
Hamlet. Shakespeare.

LOOK.—To look is much less easy than to overlook.
The Pleasures of Life. Lubbock.

Look before you leap. Hudibras. Butler.

LOVE.—O, how this spring of love resembleth
The uncertain glory of an April day!
Two Gentlemen of Verona. Shakespeare.

The course of true love never did run smooth.
A Midsummer Night's Dream. Shakespeare.

Love looks not with the eyes, but with the mind,
And therefore is wing'd Cupid painted blind.
A Midsummer Night's Dream. Shakespeare.

Of one that lov'd, not wisely but too well.
Othello. Shakespeare.

I could not love thee, dear, so much,
Loved I not honour more.
To Lucasta. Lovelace.

Pains of love be sweeter far
Than all other pleasures are.
Tyrannic Love. Dryden.

LOVE.—
To love her was a liberal education.
The Tatler. Steele.

Love took up the harp of life, and smote on all the chords with might,
Smote the chord of self, which trembling passed in music out of sight.
Locksley Hall. Tennyson.

But to see her was to love her,
Love but her, and love for ever.
Song. Ae Fond Kiss. Burns.

Man's love is of man's life a thing apart,
'Tis woman's whole existence.
Don Juan. Byron.

'Tis better to have loved and lost,
Than never to have loved at all.
In Memoriam. Tennyson.

'Tis well to be off with the old love
Before you are on with the new.
Bertram. Maturin.

A simple fireside thing, whose quiet smile
Can warm earth's poorest hovel to a home.
J. R. Lowell.

Many waters cannot quench love, neither can the floods drown it. Song of Solomon.

There's nothing half so sweet in life
As love's young dream.
Irish Melodies. Moore.

They sin who tell us love can die.
The Curse of Kehama. R. Southey.

Love is indestructible:
Its holy flame for ever burneth,
From heaven it came, to heaven returneth.
The Curse of Kehama. R. Southey.

Love can hope where reason would despair.
Epigram. Lord Lyttleton.

LOVERS.—The falling out of lovers is the renewing of love.
Anatomy of Melancholy. Burton.

LUTE.—
It is the little rift within the lute,
That by and by will make the music mute.
Merlin and Vivien. Tennyson.

MADNESS.—Though this be madness, yet there's method in't. Hamlet. Shakespeare.

O, that way madness lies; let me shun that.
King Lear. Shakespeare.

Great wits are sure to madness near allied,
And thin partitions do their bounds divide.
Absalom and Achitophel. Dryden.

Now see that noble and most sovereign reason
Like sweet bells jangled, out of tune and harsh.
Hamlet. Shakespeare.

MAIDEN.—Standing with reluctant feet, where the brook and river meet. Maidenhood. Longfellow.

A maiden hath no tongue but thought.
Merchant of Venice. Shakespeare.

MAN.—I dare do all that may become a man;
Who dares do more, is none.
Macbeth. Shakespeare.

He was a man, take him for all in all,
I shall not look upon his like again.
Hamlet. Shakespeare.

He thought as a sage, though he felt as a man.
The Hermit. Beattie.

Then, gently scan your brother man,
Still gentler, sister woman;
Though they may gang a kennin' wrang,
To step aside is human.
Address to the Unco Guid. Burns.

The rank is but the guinea's stamp,
The man's the gowd for a' that.
For a' That. Burns.

The child is father of the man.
My Heart Leaps Up. Wordsworth.

A man he seems of cheerful yesterdays
And confident to-morrows.
The Excursion. Wordsworth.

MAN.—
Know then thyself, presume not God to scan;
The proper study of mankind is man.
Essay on Man. Pope.

Virtuous and vicious every man must be,
Few in th' extreme, but all in the degree.
Essay on Man. Pope.

Created half to rise and half to fall;
Great lord of all things, yet a prey to all;
Sole judge of truth, in endless error hurl'd;
The glory, jest, and riddle of the world!
Essay on Man. Pope.

I could have better spared a better man.
King Henry IV. Part I. Shakespeare.

These little things are great to little man.
The Traveller. Goldsmith.

Before man made us citizens, great Nature made us men. The Capture. Lowell.

Man proposeth, God disposeth.
Jacula Prudentum. Herbert.

What a piece of work is man! How noble in reason! how infinite in faculties! In form and moving how express and admirable! in action, how like an angel! in apprehension, how like a god!
Hamlet. Shakespeare.

MANNERS.—Manners makyth man.
William of Wykeham.

Manners are not idle, but the fruit
Of loyal nature and of noble mind.
Guinevere. Tennyson.

MARRY, MARRIED, MARRIAGE.—
Thus grief still treads upon the heels of pleasure;
Married in haste, we may repent at leisure.
The Old Bachelor. Congreve.

Choose not alone a proper mate,
But proper time to marry.
Pairing Time Anticipated. Cowper.

A young man married is a man that's marr'd.
All's Well That Ends Well. Shakespeare.

Soft eyes looked love to eyes which spake again,
And all went merry as a marriage-bell.
Childe Harold's Pilgrimage. Byron.

MARTYRS.—The blood of the martyrs is the seed of the Church. Tertullian.

MASTER-PASSION.—
And hence one master-passion in the breast
Like Aaron's serpent, swallows up the rest.
Essay on Man. Pope.

MEMORY.—
Canst thou not minister to a mind diseas'd,
Pluck from the memory a rooted sorrow, . . .
Macbeth. Shakespeare.

MEN.—Men were deceivers ever.
Much Ado About Nothing. Shakespeare.

For men must work and women must weep.
The Three Fishers. C. Kingsley.

Men may rise on stepping-stones
Of their dead selves to higher things.
In Memoriam. Tennyson.

Men at some time are masters of their fates.
Julius Cæsar. Shakespeare.

Men are but children of a larger growth.
All for Love. Dryden.

All men think all men mortal but themselves.
Night Thoughts. Young.

MERCY.—Who will not mercie unto others show,
How can he mercie ever hope to have?
Faerie Queen. Spenser.

The quality of mercy is not strain'd;
It droppeth as the gentle rain from heaven
Upon the place beneath; it is twice bless'd;
It blesseth him that gives and him that takes.
The Merchant of Venice. Shakespeare.

MILL.—God's mill grinds slow but sure.
Jacula Prudentum. Herbert.

MILL.—
Though the mills of God grind slowly,
Yet they grind exceeding small;
Though with patience He stands waiting,
With exactness He grinds all.
Retribution. Longfellow.

MIND.—And out of mind as soon as out of sight.
Sonnet LVI. Brooke.
The mind is its own place, and in itself
Can make a heaven of hell, a hell of heaven.
Paradise Lost. Book I. Milton.
The mind's the standard of the man.
Horæ Lyricæ. Watts.
Absence of occupation is not rest,
A mind quite vacant is a mind distress'd.
Retirement. Cowper.
It is best to have the orbits of the mind concentric with those of the universe.
Novum Organum. Bacon.
'Tis the mind that makes the body rich,
And, as the sun breaks through the darkest clouds,
So honour peereth through the meanest habit.
The Taming of the Shrew. Shakespeare.
Canst thou not minister to a mind diseased?
Macbeth. Shakespeare.
My mind to me a kingdom is.
Sir E. Dyer.

MISERY.—Misery acquaints a man with strange bed-fellows. Tempest. Shakespeare.

MISTRESS.—And mistress of herself, though china fall.
Moral Essays. Pope.

MONARCH.—I am monarch of all I survey,
My right there is none to dispute;
From the centre all round to the sea
I am lord of the fowl and the brute.
Cowper.

MORAL.—To point a moral, or adorn a tale.
Vanity of Human Wishes. Johnson.

MOTHER.—
A mother is a mother still
The holiest thing alive.
The Three Graves. Coleridge.
Unhappy is the man for whom his own mother has not made all other mothers venerable. J. P. Richter.

MUSIC.—
The man that hath no music in himself,
Nor is not mov'd with concord of sweet sounds,
Is fit for treasons, stratagems, and spoils.
The Merchant of Venice. Shakespeare.
Music hath charms to soothe the savage breast,
To soften rocks, or bend a knotted oak.
The Mourning Bride. Congreve.

NAME.—Who steals my purse steals trash.
* * * * * *
But he that filches from me my good name,
Robs me of that which not enriches him,
And makes me poor indeed.
Othello. Shakespeare.
What's in a name? that which we call a rose
By any other name would smell as sweet.
Romeo and Juliet. Shakespeare.

NATURE.—One touch of nature makes the whole world kin.
Troilus and Cressida. Shakespeare.
All are but parts of one stupendous whole,
Whose body Nature is, and God the soul.
Essay on Man. Pope.
Slave to no sect, who takes no private road,
But looks through Nature up to Nature's God.
Essay on Man. Pope.
Nature, the vicar of the Almightie Lord.
The Assembly of Foules. Chaucer.
Accuse not Nature, she hath done her part;
Do thou but thine.
Paradise Lost. Book VIII. Milton.
Come forth into the light of things,
Let Nature be your teacher.
The Tables Turned. Wordsworth.

NATURE.— And Nature's living motion lent
The pulse of hope to discontent.
The Two Voices. Tennyson.
To the solid ground
Of Nature trusts the mind that builds for aye.
Miscellaneous Sonnets. Wordsworth.
By the deep sea, and music in its roar:
I love not man the less, but Nature more.
Childe Harold's Pilgrimage. Byron.
And Nature, the old nurse, took
The child upon her knee,
Saying, "Here is a story-book
Thy Father has written for thee."
"Come, wander with me," she said,
"Into regions yet untrod,
And read what is still unread
In the manuscript of God."
Address to Agassiz. Longfellow.
Knowing that Nature never did betray
The heart that loved her.
Tintern Abbey. Wordsworth.

NECESSITY.— Necessity, the mother of invention.
The Twin Rivals. Farquhar.
And with necessity
The tyrant's plea, excus'd his devilish deeds.
Paradise Lost. Book IV. Milton.
Necessity is the argument of tyrants, it is the creed of slaves. Speech, November, 1783. Pitt.

NEW.—Be not the first by whom the new are tried,
Nor yet the last to lay the old aside.
Essay on Criticism. Pope.

NIGHT.—
Night, sable goddess! from her ebon throne,
In rayless majesty, now stretches forth
Her leaden sceptre o'er a slumbering world.
Night Thoughts. Young.
'Tis now the very witching time of night.
Hamlet. Shakespeare.
The day is done, and the darkness
Falls from the wings of Night,
As a feather is wafted downward
From an eagle in his flight.
* * * * * *
And the night shall be filled with music
And the cares that infest the day
Shall fold their tents like the Arabs
And as silently steal away.
The Day is Done. Longfellow.
How beautiful is night!
In full orbed glory, yonder moon divine
Rolls through the dark blue depths.
Beneath her steady ray
The desert-circle spreads,
Like the round ocean, girdled with the sky.
Thalaba. Southey.

NOBLE, NOBILITY.—Sweet mercy is nobility's true badge.
Titus Andronicus. Shakespeare.
Howe'er it be, it seems to me,
'Tis only noble to be good.
Kind hearts are more than coronets
And simple faith than Norman blood.
Lady Clara Vere de Vere. Tennyson.
Never yet
Was noble man, but made ignoble talk,
He makes no friend who never made a foe.
Lancelot and Elaine. Tennyson.

OBEY, OBEDIENCE.—Obey, and you shall be free in time, but in minor things, as well as in greater, it is only right service which is perfect freedom. Ruskin.
He did God's will, to Him all one
If on earth or in the sun.
The Boy and the Angel. R. Browning.
The power and glory of all creatures, and all matter, consists in their obedience, not in their freedom. The sun has no liberty—a dead leaf has much.
The Two Paths. Ruskin.

OLD.—I love everything that's old. Old friends, old times, old manners, old books, old wine.
She Stoops to Conquer. Goldsmith.

Old friends are best. King James used to call for his old shoes; they were easiest for his feet.
Friends. J. Selden.

OPINION.—He that complies against his will
Is of his own opinion still.
Hudibras. Butler.

ORACLE.—
I am Sir Oracle,
And when I ope my lips let no dog bark.
Merchant of Venice. Shakespeare.

ORDER.—
Order is heaven's first law: and this confest,
Some are, and must be, greater than the rest,
More rich, more wise; but who infers from hence
That such are happier, shocks all common sense.
Essay on Man. Pope.

ORTHODOXY.—Orthodoxy is my doxy. Heterodoxy is another man's doxy. Memoirs. Priestley.

PAIN.—One fire burns out another's burning,
One pain is lessen'd by another's anguish.
Romeo and Juliet. Shakespeare.

Sweet is pleasure after pain.
Alexander's Feast. Dryden.

Alas! by some degree of woe
We every bliss must gain;
The heart can ne'er a transport know
That never feels a pain. Song. Lyttelton.

PATIENT, PATIENCE.—Beware the fury of a patient man.
Absalom and Achitophel. Dryden.

She sat, like Patience on a monument,
Smiling at grief. Twelfth Night. Shakespeare.

The worst speak something good; if all want sense
God takes a text and preacheth Pa-ti-ence.
The Church Porch. Herbert.

PAUPER.—Rattle his bones over the stones!
He's only a pauper whom nobody owns!
The Pauper's Ride. Noel.

PEACE.—Peace hath her victories
No less renowned than war.
To the Lord General Cromwell. Milton.

Still in thy right hand carry gentle peace,
To silence envious tongues: be just, and fear not.
Let all the ends thou aimest at be thy country's,
Thy God's and truth's.
King Henry VIII. Shakespeare.

PEN.—Beneath the rule of men entirely great
The pen is mightier than the sword.
Richelieu. Lytton.

PERFECT, PERFECTION.—The very pink of perfection.
She Stoops to Conquer. Goldsmith.

Perfect I call Thy plan:
Thanks that I was a man!
Maker, remake, complete—
I trust what Thou shalt do.
Rabbi Ben Ezra. Browning.

PHILOSOPHY.—
There are more things in heaven and earth, Horatio,
Than are dreamt of in your philosophy.
Hamlet. Shakespeare.

A little philosophy inclineth a man's mind to atheism, but depth in philosophy bringeth men's minds about to religion. Essay on Atheism. Bacon.

PHYSIC.—Throw physic to the dogs; I'll none of it.
Macbeth. Shakespeare.

PITY.—Pity's akin to love. Oroonoka. Southerne.

Careless their merits or their faults to scan,
His pity gave ere charity began.
The Deserted Village. Goldsmith.

Of all the paths that lead to woman's love,
Pity's the straightest.
Knight of Malta. Beaumont and Fletcher.

PLAIN LIVING.—
Plain living and high thinking are no more.
Sonnets. Wordsworth.

PLEASURE.—But pleasures are like poppies spread,
You seize the flower, its bloom is shed.
Tam O'Shanter. Burns.

A man of pleasure is a man of pains.
Night Thoughts. Young.

POETS.—And as imagination bodies forth
The forms of things unknown, the poet's pen
Turns them to shapes, and gives to airy nothing
A local habitation and a name.
Midsummer Night's Dream. Shakespeare.

Poets are all who love, who feel great truths,
And tell them; and the truth of truths is love.
Festus. Bailey.

POISON.—What's one man's poison, signor,
Is another's meat and drink.
Love's Cure. Beaumont and Fletcher.

POVERTY.—Slow rises worth by poverty depress'd.
London. S. Johnson.

PRAISE.—Praise undeserved is scandal in disguise.
Epistles of Horace. Pope.

Damn with faint praise, assent with civil leer,
And without sneering teach the rest to sneer;
Willing to wound and yet afraid to strike,
Just hint a fault, and hesitate dislike.
Epistle to Dr. Arbuthnot. Pope.

PRAY.—He prayeth well who loveth well
Both man and bird and beast.

He prayeth best who loveth best
All things both great and small.
The Ancient Mariner. Coleridge.

Whate'er is good to wish that ask of heaven;
But if for any wish thou dar'st not pray,
Then pray to God to cast that wish away.
Hartley Coleridge.

PRAYER.—More things are wrought by prayer
Than this world dreams of. Wherefore, let thy voice
Rise like a fountain for me night and day.
The Passing of Arthur. Tennyson.

When prayer delights thee least, then learn to say,
"Soul, now is greatest need that thou shouldst pray."
Trench.

Say, what is prayer, when it is prayer indeed?
The mighty utterance of a mighty need.
The man is praying who doth press with might
Out of his darkness into God's own light.
Trench.

We, ignorant of ourselves,
Beg often our own harms, which the wise Powers
Deny us for our good; so find we profit
By losing of our prayers.
Antony and Cleopatra. Shakespeare.

PREACHER, THE VILLAGE.—
A man he was to all the country dear,
And passing rich with forty pounds a year.

* * * * * *

Pleased with his guests the good man learned to glow,
And quite forgot their vices in their woe;
Careless their merits or their faults to scan,
His pity gave ere charity began.
The Deserted Village. Goldsmith.

PRESENT (LIVING).—
Trust no future, howe'er pleasant,
Let the dead past bury its dead;
Act, act, in the living present,
Heart within and God o'erhead.
Psalm of Life. Longfellow.

PRIMROSE.—
Himself the primrose path of dalliance treads,
And recks not his own rede.
Hamlet. Shakespeare.

PRISON.—Stone walls do not a prison make,
Nor iron bars a cage.
To Althea from Prison. Lovelace.

PROVERB.—A proverb is one man's wit and all men's wisdom. Memoirs of Mackintosh. Russell.

PURPOSE.—Yet I doubt not through the ages
one increasing purpose runs,
And the thoughts of men are widen'd
with the process of the suns.
Locksley Hall. Tennyson.

QUARRELS.—Those who in quarrels interpose
Must often wipe a bloody nose.
Fables. Gay.

READING.—Reading maketh a full man, conference a ready man, and writing an exact man.
Essays. Bacon.

REASON.—The feast of reason and the flow of soul.
Satire I. Pope.

I have no other but a woman's reason: I think him so, because I think him so.
Two Gentlemen of Verona. Shakespeare.

REPUTATION.—Seeking the bubble reputation
Even in the cannon's mouth.
As You Like It. Shakespeare.

The purest treasure mortal times afford
Is spotless reputation: that away,
Men are but gilded loam or painted clay.
A jewel in a ten times barr'd up chest
Is a bold spirit in a loyal breast.
Mine honour is my life; both grow in one;
Take honour from me, and my life is done.
King Richard II. Shakespeare.

REVENGE.—Certainly in taking revenge a man is but even with his enemy, but in passing it over he is superior: for it is a prince's part to pardon. . . . A man that studieth revenge keeps his own wounds green, which otherwise would heal and do well.
Of Revenge. Bacon.

RHETORIC.—For all a rhetorician's rules
Teach nothing but to name his tools.
Hudibras. Butler.

RHYME.—Neither rhyme nor reason can express how much.
As You Like It. Shakespeare.

RICHES.—I cannot call riches better than the baggage of virtue; the Roman word is better "impedimenta"; for as baggage is to an army, so is riches to virtue; it cannot be spared nor left behind, but it hindereth the march; yea, and the care of it sometimes loseth or disturbeth the victory. Of Riches. Bacon.

SAD WORDS.—
For of all sad words of tongue or pen,
The saddest are these: "It might have been!"
Maud Muller. Whittier.

SCHEMES.—The best laid schemes o' mice and men
Gang aft agley. To a Mouse. Burns.

SEE.—O wad some power the giftie gie us,
To see oursels as others see us!
To a Louse. Burns.

SELF.—
Love took up the harp of life, and smote on all the chords with might,
Smote the chord of self that, trembling, passed in music out of sight. Locksley Hall. Tennyson.
Self reverence, self knowledge, self control,
These three alone lead life to sovereign power.
Œnone. Tennyson.

SERMONS.—Sermons in stones, and good in everything.
(See under Books.)

SERPENT.—The trail of the serpent is over them all.
Paradise and the Peri. Moore.

SERVE.—Thousands at His bidding speed,
And post o'er land and ocean without rest;
They also serve who only stand and wait.
Sonnets. Milton.

SILENCE.—Silence is like sleep, it refreshes wisdom.
Novum Organum. Bacon.

SILENT, SILENCE.—
There was silence deep as death,
And the boldest held his breath
For a time. Battle of the Baltic. Campbell.

Spires whose "silent finger points to heaven."
The Excursion. Wordsworth.

SIN.—Compound for sins they are inclined to,
By damning those they have no mind to.
Hudibras. Butler.

Ere sin could blight or sorrow fade,
Death came with friendly care;
The opening bud to heaven conveyed,
And bade it blossom there.
Epitaph on an Infant. Coleridge.

I am a man
More sinned against than sinning.
King Lear. Shakespeare.

For a good man's sin.
(See under Angels.)

SLEEP.—
To sleep! perchance to dream: ay, there's the rub.
Hamlet. Shakespeare.

Tired Nature's sweet restorer, balmy sleep!
Night Thoughts. Young.

We are such stuff
As dreams are made of; and our little life
Is rounded with a sleep.
The Tempest. Shakespeare.

Sleep that knits up the ravelled sleave of care,
The death of each day's life, sour labour's bath,
Balm of hurt minds, great nature's second course.
Macbeth. Shakespeare.

O sleep, O gentle sleep,
Nature's soft nurse, how have I frighted thee?
Henry IV. Part II. Shakespeare.

SMILES.—Eternal smiles his emptiness betray,
As shallow streams run dimpling all the way.
Epistle to Dr. Arbuthnot. Pope.

Smiles from reason flow,
To brute deny'd, and are of love the food.
Paradise Lost. Book IX. Milton.

He chilled the popular praises of the King
With silent smiles of slow disparagement.
Guinevere. Tennyson.

SOLITUDE.—
O Solitude! where are the charms
That sages have seen in thy face?
Cowper.

How sweet, how passing sweet is solitude!
But grant me still a friend in my retreat,
Whom I may whisper, solitude is sweet.
Retirement. Cowper.

He makes a solitude, and calls it—peace.
The Bride of Abydos. Byron.

The worst solitude is to want friendship.
Novum Organum. Bacon.

For solitude sometimes is best society,
And short retirement urges sweet return.
Paradise Lost. Book X. Milton.

SORROW.—The path of sorrow, and that path alone,
Leads to the land where sorrow is unknown.
To an Afflicted Lady. Cowper.

Give sorrow words; the grief that does not speak,
Whispers the o'er-fraught heart, and bids it break.
Macbeth. Shakespeare.

When sorrows come, they come not single spies,
But in battalions. Hamlet. Shakespeare.

Never to blend our pleasure or our pride
With sorrow of the meanest thing that feels.
Hart-Leap Well. Tennyson.

A sorrow's crown of sorrow is remembering happier things. Locksley Hall. Tennyson.

'Tis sorrow builds the shining ladder up,
Whose golden rounds are our calamities,
Whereon our firm feet planting, nearer God
The spirit climbs, and hath its eyes unsealed.
On the Death of a Friend's Child. J. R. Lowell.

SORROW.—
Ere sin could blight or sorrow fade.
(See under Sin.)

SOUL.—
There is some soul of goodness in things evil,
Would men observingly distil it out.
King Henry V. Shakespeare.

Breathes there the man with soul so dead.
(See under Land.)

Our birth is but a sleep and a forgetting:
The soul that rises with us, our life's star,
Hath had elsewhere its setting,
And cometh from afar.
Intimations of Immortality. Wordsworth.

A fiery soul, which, working out its way,
Fretted the pigmy body to decay,
And o'er-informed the tenement of clay.
Absalom and Achitophel. Dryden.

A healthy soul, imprison it as you will, in squalid garrets, shabby coat, bodily sickness, or whatever else, will assert its heaven-granted indefeasible freedom, its right to conquer difficulties, to do work, even to feel gladness.
Essay on Johnson. Carlyle.

SPIRITUAL CREATURES.—
Millions of spiritual creatures walk the earth
Unseen, both when we wake and when we sleep.
Paradise Lost. Milton.

STAR.—A violet by a mossy stone
Half hidden from the eye;
Fair as a star when only one
Is shining in the sky. Lucy. Wordsworth.

At whose sight all the stars
Hide their diminish'd heads.
Paradise Lost. Book IV. Milton.

The fault, dear Brutus, is not in our stars
But in ourselves that we are underlings.
Julius Cæsar. Shakespeare.

Silently, one by one, in the infinite meadows of heaven
Blossomed the lovely stars, the forget-me-nots of the angels. Evangeline. Longfellow.

STRENGTH, STRONG.—
O! it is excellent
To have a giant's strength; but it is tyrannous
To use it like a giant.
Measure for Measure. Shakespeare.

SUBLIME.—The sublime and the ridiculous are often nearly related. Age of Reason. Paine.

Know how sublime a thing it is
To suffer and be strong.
The Light of Stars. Longfellow.

SUCCESS.—
'Tis not in mortals to command success,
But we'll do more, Sempronius; we'll deserve it.
Cato. Addison.

SUFFERANCE.—Sufferance is the badge of all our tribe.
Merchant of Venice. Shakespeare.

SUFFERING.—
Most wretched men
Are cradled into poetry by wrong,
They learn in suffering what they teach in song.
Julian and Maddalo. Shelley.

SYSTEMS.—Our little systems have their day;
They have their day and cease to be;
They are but broken lights of Thee,
And Thou, O Lord, art more than they.
In Memoriam. Tennyson.

TASKS.—
We cannot kindle when we will
The fire which in the heart resides;
The spirit bloweth and is still,
In mystery our soul abides,
But tasks in hours of insight willed
Can be through hours of gloom fulfilled.
Morality. Matthew Arnold.

TAUGHT.—
Men must be taught as if you taught them not,
And things unknown propos'd as things forgot.
Essay on Criticism. Pope.

TEACH.—I can easier teach twenty what were good to be done than be one of the twenty to follow mine own instructions.
The Merchant of Venice. Shakespeare.

TEAR.—So bright the tear in beauty's eye,
Love half regrets to kiss it dry.
Bride of Abydos. Byron.

TEMPLE.—No sooner is a temple built to God, but the devil builds a chapel hard by.
Jacula Prudentum. Herbert.

Then towered the palace, then in awful state,
The Temple reared its everlasting gate,
No workman's steel, no ponderous axes rung:
Like some tall palm the mystic fabric sprung.
Palestine. R. Heber.

The solemn temples, &c. (See under Globe).

THINKETH.—
As a man thinketh, so is he.
Essays. Emerson.

THOUGHT.—Thought is deeper than all speech;
Feeling deeper than all thought.
Stanzas. Cranch.

And Thought leapt out to wed with Thought
Ere Thought could wed itself with Speech.
In Memoriam. Tennyson.

To me the meanest flower that blows can give
Thoughts that do often lie too deep for tears.
Intimations of Immortality. Wordsworth.

Thoughts that breathe, and words that burn.
Progress of Poesy. Gray.

Thoughts hardly to be packed
Into a narrow act,
Fancies that broke through language and escaped:
All I could never be,
All, men ignored in me,
This was I worth to God, whose wheel the pitcher shaped. Rabbi Ben Ezra. R. Browning.

THRONE.—In that fierce light which beats upon a throne
And blackens every blot.
Idylls of the King (Dedication.) Tennyson.

TIDE.—There is a tide in the affairs of men,
Which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune.
Julius Cæsar. Shakespeare.

TIME.—In records that defy the tooth of time.
Love of Fame. Young.

Procrastination is the thief of time.
Night Thoughts. Young.

We take no note of time
But from its loss. Night Thoughts. Young.

We live in deeds, not years; in thoughts, not breaths;
In feelings, not in figures on a dial.
We should count time by heart throbs.
Festus. Bailey.

The time is out of joint; O cursed spite!
That ever I was born to set it right.
Hamlet. Shakespeare.

Come what come may;
Time and the hour runs through the roughest day.
Macbeth. Shakespeare.

TO-MORROW.—
Defer not till to-morrow to be wise,
To-morrow's sun to thee may never rise.
Letter to Cobham. Congreve.

TRADE.—In every age and clime we see
Two of a trade can never agree.
Fables. Gay.

TREASON.—
Treason doth never prosper, what's the reason?
Why if it prosper, none dare call it treason.
Epigrams. Sir John Harrington.

TRIFLE. TRIVIAL.—What mighty contests rise from trivial things. The Rape of the Lock. Pope.
Since trifles make the sum of human things,
And half our misery from our foibles springs.
Sensibility. H. More.
Think naught a trifle, though it small appear;
Small sands the mountain, moments make the year,
And trifles life. Love of Fame. Young.
Trifles make perfection, and perfection is no trifle.
Michael Angelo.

TRUE, TRUTH.—
—To thine own self be true;
And it must follow, as the night the day,
Thou canst not then be false to any man.
Hamlet. Shakespeare.
For truth has such a face and such a mien,
As to be lov'd needs only to be seen.
The Hind and Panther. Dryden.
And spite of pride, in erring reason's spite,
One truth is clear, whatever is, is right.
Essay on Man. Pope.
Dare to be true, nothing can need a lie;
A fault which needs it most grows two thereby.
The Church Porch. Herbert.
No pleasure is comparable to the standing upon the vantage-ground of truth. Essays. Bacon.
He is the freeman whom the truth makes free.
Winter Morning Walk. Cowper.
'Tis strange—but true; for truth is always strange!
Stranger than fiction. Don Juan. Byron.
And the truth of truths is love.
(See under Poets.)
True as the dial to the sun
Although it be not shined upon.
Hudibras. Butler.
Tell the truth and shame the devil.
King Henry IV. Shakespeare.
Truth is as impossible to be soiled by any outward touch as the sunbeam.
The Doctrine and Discipline of Divorce. Milton.
Who ever knew truth put to the worse in a free and open encounter? Areopagitica. Milton.

UNSEEN.—
Full many a flower is born to blush unseen,
And waste its sweetness on the desert air.
Elegy in a Country Churchyard. Gray.

VALOUR.—The better part of valour is discretion.
King Henry IV. Part I. Shakespeare.

VANITY.—Where doth the world thrust forth a vanity.
So it be new, there's no respect how vile.
Richard II. Shakespeare.

VARIETY.—Variety's the very spice of life
That gives it all its flavour.
The Task. Cowper.

VICE.—Vice is a monster of so frightful mien,
As, to be hated, needs but to be seen;
Yet seen too oft, familiar with her face,
We first endure, then pity, then embrace.
Essay on Man. Pope.
The gods are just, and of our pleasant vices
Make instruments to plague us.
King Lear. Shakespeare.
Vice in its own pure native ugliness.
Tales of the Hall. Crabbe.

VILLAGE MASTER, THE.—
There in his noisy mansion skilled to rule,
The village master taught his little school;
A man severe he was and stern to view;
I knew him well, and every truant knew,
Well had the boding tremblers learned to trace
The day's disasters in his morning face.
The Deserted Village. Goldsmith.

VIRTUE.—
Know then this truth (enough for man to know)
"Virtue alone is happiness below."
Essay on Man. Pope.

VIRTUE.—
To maken vertue of necessite.
The Knighte's Tale. Chaucer.
Negative virtues argue innocence not merit.
Novum Organum. Bacon.
Virtue is its own reward.
Imitations of Horace. Prior.
Men's evil manners live in brass; their virtues
We write in water.
King Henry VIII. Shakespeare.
Virtue could see to do what virtue would
By her own radiant light, though sun and moon
Were in the flat sea sunk.
Comus. Milton.
I cannot praise a fugitive and cloistered virtue, unexercised and unbreathed, that never sallies out and seeks her adversary. Milton.

WAIT.—All things come round to him who will but wait.
Tales of a Wayside Inn. Longfellow.

WALNUTS.—In after-dinner talk
Across the walnuts and the wine.
The Miller's Daughter. Tennyson.

WAR.—But war's a game which, were their subjects wise,
Kings would not play at.
Winter Morning Walk. Cowper.
To be prepared for war is one of the most effectual means of preserving peace.
Speech to Congress. Washington.
The sinews of war. Life of Cleomenes. Plutarch.

WAX.—
His heart was one of those which most enamour us—
Wax to receive and marble to retain.
Beppo. Byron.

WEALTH.—
His best companions, innocence and health,
And his best riches, ignorance of wealth.
The Deserted Village. Goldsmith.
Can wealth give happiness? Look around and see
What gay distress, what splendid misery;
I envy none their pageantry and show,
I envy none the gilding of their woe. Young.

WEB.—The web of our life is of a mingled yarn, good and ill together.
All's Well that Ends Well. Shakespeare.
O what a tangled web we weave
When first we practise to deceive.
Marmion. Scott.

WEEDS.—
Small herbs have grace, great weeds do grow apace.
Richard III. Shakespeare.

WIFE.—
She thrives, God's blessed husbandry;
Most like a vine which full of fruit
Doth cling and lean and climb toward heaven,
While earth still binds its root.
The Lowest Room. C. Rossetti.

WIND.—God tempers the wind to the shorn lamb.
The Sentimental Journey. Sterne

WISE, WISDOM.—
Type of the wise who soar, but never roam;
True to the kindred points of Heaven and Home.
To a Skylark. Wordsworth.
Wisdom is ofttimes nearer when we stoop
Than when we soar.
The Excursion. Wordsworth.
A sadder and a wiser man,
He rose the morrow morn.
The Ancient Mariner. Coleridge.
Full of wise saws and modern instances.
As You Like It. Shakespeare.

WISH.—Thy wish was father, Harry, to that thought.
Henry IV. Part II. Shakespeare.

WIT.—Brevity is the soul of wit. Hamlet. Shakespeare.
True Wit is Nature to advantage dress'd,
What oft was thought, but ne'er so well express'd.
Essay on Criticism. Pope.

WOMAN.—Frailty, thy name is woman.
Hamlet. Shakespeare.

The woman that deliberates is lost. Cato. Addison.

He is a fool who thinks by force or skill
To turn the current of a woman's will.
Adventures of Five Hours. Tuke.

Blessing she is; God made her so.
And deeds of week-day holiness
Drop from her, noiseless as the snow.
My Love. Lowell.

A creature not too bright or good
For human nature's daily food:
For transient sorrows, simple wiles,
Praise, blame, love, kisses, tears and smiles.
She was a phantom of delight. Wordsworth.

The path of a good woman is indeed strewn with flowers, but they rise behind her steps, not before them. Sesame and Lilies. Ruskin.

Do you not know I am a woman? When I think I must speak. As You Like It. Shakespeare.

O woman! in our hour of ease,
Uncertain, coy, and hard to please. . . .
When pain and anguish wring the brow,
A ministering angel thou. Marmion. Scott.

Her voice was ever soft,
Gentle and low,—an excellent thing in woman.
King Lear. Shakespeare.

When lovely woman stoops to folly,
And finds too late that men betray,
What charms can soothe her melancholy,
What art can wash her guilt away?
Vicar of Wakefield. Goldsmith.

WORDS.—For words are wise men's counters, they do but reckon by them; but they are the money of fools.
The Leviathan. Hobbes.

Words are like leaves; and where they most abound,
Much fruit of sense beneath is rarely found.
Essay on Criticism. Pope.

But words are things, and a small drop of ink
Falling, like dew, upon a thought, produces
That which makes thousands, perhaps millions, think.
Don Juan. Byron.

My words fly up, my thoughts remain below:
Words without thoughts never to Heaven go.
Hamlet. Shakespeare.

Immodest words admit of no defence;
For want of decency is want of sense.
Lord Roscommon.

WORK.—For there is a perennial nobleness, and even sacredness in Work. Were he never so benighted, forgetful of his high calling, there is always hope in a man that actually and earnestly works: in Idleness alone is there perpetual despair.
Past and Present. T. Carlyle.

WORLD.—
I hold the world but as the world, Gratiano;
A stage, where every man must play a part.
The Merchant of Venice.* Shakespeare.

All the world's a stage,
And all the men and women merely players:
As You Like It.* Shakespeare.

If God hath made this world so fair.
(See under Heaven.)

The world is too much with us; late and soon,
Getting and spending, we lay waste our powers:
Little we see in Nature that is ours;
We have given our hearts away, a sordid boon.
Sonnets. Wordsworth.

The year's at the Spring
And day's at the morn, . . .
God's in His heaven
All's right with the world.
Pippa Passes. R. Browning.

You have too much respect upon the world;
They lose it that do buy it with much care.
Merchant of Venice. Shakespeare.

WORM.—The smallest worm will turn, being trodden on.
King Henry VI.* Shakespeare.

A worm is in the bud of youth,
And at the root of age.
Bill of Mortality. Cowper.

WRATH.—
Gathering her brows like gathering storm,
Nursing her wrath to keep it warm.
Tam O' Shanter. Burns.

WROTH.—
And to be wroth with one we love
Doth work like madness in the brain.
Christabel. Coleridge.

WRITING.—
True ease in writing comes from art, not chance,
As those move easiest who have learn'd to dance.
Essay on Criticism. Pope.

Hard writing makes easy reading.
The Pleasures of Life. Lubbock.

You write with ease to show your breeding,
But easy writing's curst hard reading.
Life of Sheridan. Moore.

YOUNG, YOUTH.—
In gallant trim the gilded vessel goes,
Youth on the prow and pleasure at the helm.
The Bard. Gray.

Bliss was it in that dawn to be alive,
But to be young was very heaven.
The Prelude. Wordsworth.

He wears the rose of youth upon him.
Antony and Cleopatra. Shakespeare.

ENGLISH AUTHORS.

(British and American).

À Beckett Gilbert A., 1811–56, comic historian.
Abbott, John Stevens Cabot, 1805–1877, Amer. historian.
Abbott, Lyman, 1835, Amer. religious writer.
Adams, Wm., 1814–1848, sacred allegory.
Adamson, Robert, 1852, philosophical writer.
Adeler, Max (see Clark).
Addison, Joseph, 1672–1719, poet, essayist dramatist.
Ady, Mrs. Henry (née Julia Cartwright), art critic, biographer.
Aelfric, c. 1000, sacred writer, translator.
Aflalo, F. G., 1870, writer on British coasts and fishing.
Agassiz, Louis, 1807–1873, Amer. naturalist.
Aidé, Hamilton, dramatist, novelist.
Aikin, Lucy, 1781–1864, historian.
Ainger, Canon Alfred, 1837–1904, literary critic, editor, preacher.
Ainsworth, W. Harrison, 1805–1882, novelist.
Airy, Sir G. B., 1801–1892, astronomer.
Airy, Osmund, 1845, historian.
Akenside, Mark, 1721–1770, poet, essayist.
Alcott, Louisa M., 1832–1888, Amer. novelist.
Alcuin, 733–804, theologian.
Aldhelm, 656–709, hagiologist.
Aldrich, Dr. H., 1647–1710, scholar and divine.
Alexander, Mrs., see Hector.
Alford, Henry, Dean, 1810–1871, editor, translator, theologian.
Alfred, King, 849–901, translator.
Alfred of Beverley, c. 1130, chronicler.
Alison, Sir Archibald, 1792–1867, historian.
Allen, Grant, 1848–1899, novelist, scientist.
Allen, James Lane, 1849, Amer. novelist.
Allingham, William, 1824–1889, poet, editor.
Allison, Thomas, c. 1697, arctic voyager.

A.L.O.E., see Maria Charlotte Tucker.
Andrewes, Lancelot (Bishop), 1555–1626, theologian.
Anselm (Archbishop), 1034–1109, theologian.
Anstey, F., see T. A. Guthrie.
Arber, Edward, literary historian.
Arbuthnot, Dr. John, 1667–1735, satirist.
Archer, William, 1856, dramatic critic.
Argyle, Duke of, 1823–1900, philosopher and controversialist.
Armstrong, John (Physician), 1709–1779, medical writer.
Armstrong, Sir Walter, 1850, art critic.
Arnold, Sir Edwin, 1832–1904, orientalist, poet, journalist.
Arnold, Edwin L., novelist.
Arnold, Matthew, 1822–1888, critic, essayist, poet.
Arnold, Dr. Thomas (Headmaster of Rugby), 1795–1842, historian.
Arnold-Forster, H. O., 1855, historian, military critic.
Ascham, Roger, 1515–1568, educationalist.
Ashby-Sterry, Joseph, humorous poet, editor.
Ashmole, Elias, 1617–1692, diarist, antiquarian, scientist.
Asser, c. 900, chronicler.
Atherton, Gertrude Franklin, Amer. novelist.
Atterbury, Francis (Bishop), 1662–1732, theologian.
Aungerville (Bishop), Richard of Bury, 1281–1345, librarian.
Austen, Jane, 1775–1817, novelist.
Austin, Alfred (Poet Laureate), 1835, poet, descriptive writer.
Avebury, Lord, 1834, naturalist, antiquarian, geologist, ethical writer.
Avesbury, Robert de, c. 1356, chronicler.
Aytoun, William, E., 1813–1865, poet.
Babbage, Charles, 1792–1871, mathematician.
Bacon, Francis (Lord Verulam), 1561–1626, philosopher, essayist.
Bacon, Roger, 1214–1292, metaphysician, scientist.
Baden Powell, Major-Gen., 1857, military writer.
Bagehot, Walter, 1826–1877, essayist, historian.
Bailey, Philip James, 1816–1902, poet.
Baillie, Joanna, 1762–1851, dramatist.
Bain, Alexander, 1818–1903, philosopher, grammarian.
Baker, Sir Richard, 1568–1645, chronicler.
Baker, Sir Samuel, W., 1821–1893, traveller.
Bale, John (Bishop), 1495–1563, chronicler.
Balfour, Andrew, 1873, medical writer, novelist.
Balfour, Arthur J. (statesman), 1848, philosophical and theological writer.
Ball, Sir Robert, 1840, astronomer.
Ball, Walter W. R., 1850, mathematician.
Ballantyne, R. M., 1825–1894, writer of boys' books.
Bancroft, George, 1800–1891, Amer. historian.
Banks, Mrs. G. L., 1821, novelist.
Barbauld, Anna Letitia, 1743–1825, poetess.
Barbour, John (Archdeacon), 1316–1396, chronicler in verse.
Barclay, Alexander, 1476–1552, poet.
Barclay, Robert, (Quaker), 1648–1690, apologetic writer.
Barclay, Sir Thomas, international trade.
Barham, Richard H., 1788–1845, humorous poet (see "Ingoldsby").
Baring-Gould, Rev. Sabine, 1834, novelist and miscellaneous writer.
Barlow, Joel, 1755–1812, Amer. poet, politician.
Barnes, Albert, 1798–1870, Amer. religious writer.
Barnes, William, 1800–1886, Dorsetshire poet.
Barnet, Percy A., 1858, educationalist.
Barnfield, Richard, 1574–1627, poet.
Barr, Robert, 1850, novelist, journalist.
Barrett, Frank, 1848, novelist.
Barrie, James M., 1860, novelist, dramatist.
Barrow, Isaac, 1630–1677, theologian.
Bate, Percy, 1868, art critic.
Batson, Mrs. Stephen, novelist, writer.
Baxter, Richard, 1615–1691, theologian.
Bayliss, Sir Wyke (artist), writer on art.
Bayly, Ada Ellen, (Edna Lyall), d. 1903, novelist.
Beaconsfield, Earl of, see Disraeli.
Beattie, James, 1735–1803, poet.
Beaumont, Francis, 1586–1615, dramatist.
Becke, Geo. L., 1848, novelist.
Beckford, William, 1760–1844, art connoisseur, author.
Beddoes, Thomas L., 1803–1849, poet.
Bede or Beda, 673–735, (Latin) poet, historian, theologian.
Bede, Cuthbert, see Rev. Edward Bradley.
Beecher, Henry Ward, 1813–1887, Amer. essayist, religious writer.
Beeching, Rev. H. C., 1859, poet, literary critic.
Begbie, Harold, 1871, novelist, journalist.
Behn, Mrs. Aphra, 1640–1689, poetess, dramatist.
Bell, Mrs. Arthur, art critic, miscellaneous writer.
Bell, C. Moberly, 1847, manager of the "Times."
Bell, Currer, see C. Brontë.
Bell, H. T. Mackenzie, 1856, poet, biographer.
Belloc, Hilaire, 1870, poet, misc. writer.
Belsham, William, 1753–1828, historian.
Benham, Rev. Canon William, 1831, theologian, antiquarian, biographer.
Benson, Arthur C., 1862, poet, biographer.
Benson, Ed. Frederick, 1867, novelist.
Bent, Mrs. Theodore, Arabian travel.
Bentham, Jeremy, 1748-1832, ethical philosopher, economist.
Bentley, Dr. Richard, 1662–1742, scholar and controversial writer.
Berkeley, George (Bishop), 1684–1753, philosopher.
Berners, Lord John, 1467–1533, translator of Froissart.
Berners, Juliana (Prioress), c. 1470, descriptive poetess.
Besant, Mrs. Anne, 1847, theosophist.
Besant, Sir Walter, 1836–1901, novelist, antiquarian, historian.
Bickerdyke, John (C. H. Cook), 1858, novelist, writer on sports.
Bigelow, Poulteney, 1855, Amer. modern history.
Birrell, Augustine, 1850, essayist, critic.
Bishop, Mrs. Isabella, 1832–1904, traveller, writer.
Black, William, 1841–1898, novelist.
Blackie, John Stuart (Professor), 1809–1895, Greek scholar, misc. writer.
Blackmore, Sir Richard, 1650–1729, poet.
Blackmore, Richard D., 1825–1900, novelist.
Blackstone, Sir Wm., 1723–1780, writer on law.
Blaikie, William G., 1820–1899, editor, biographer.
Blair, Hugh, 1718–1800, poet, lecturer.
Blair, Robert, 1699–1746, poet.
Blake, William, 1757–1827, poet, painter.
Blatchford, Robert, 1851, socialistic journalist.
Blind, Mathilde, writer on women's rights.
Bloomfield, Robert (shoemaker), 1766–1823, poet.
Blunt, Wilfred Scawen, 1840, poet.
Bodley, J. E. Courtenay, 1853, writer on France, historian of the coronation of Edward VII.
Boker, George H., 1823–1890, Amer. poet, dramatist.
Boldrewood, Rolf, see Browne, T. A.
Bolingbroke, St. John, Lord, 1678–1751, political writer, philosopher.
Bond, R. Warwick, 1857, poet, editor.
Bonney, Rev. T. G., 1833, geologist, mountaineer.
Booth, Charles, 1840, philanthropist, statistician.
Boothby, Guy N., 1867–1905, novelist.
Borroughs, John, 1837, farmer, author.
Borrow, George, 1803-1881, novelist, traveller.
Boswell, James, 1740–1795, biographer of Dr. Johnson.
Bowles, W. Lisle, 1762–1850, poet, antiquary.
Boyd, Rev. A. K. H., 1825– , essayist, miscellaneous writer.
Boyle, Charles, Earl of Orrery, 1676–1731, translator, controversialist.
Boyle, Robert, 1627–1691, philosopher, essayist.
Boyle, Roger, Earl of Orrery, 1621–1679, poet, dramatist.
Brackenridge, Hugh H., 1748–1816, Amer. legist.
Braddon, Mary E. (Mrs. J. Maxwell), 1837, novelist.
Bradley, Rev. Ed, (Cuthbert Bede), 1827–1889, author of "Verdant Green."
Bradley, Henry, 1845, philologist, lexicographer, critic.
Brainard, John G. C., 1796–1828, Amer. poet, editor.
Brandes, George, 1842, critic, man of letters.
Brassey, Lord, 1836, economist, naval writer.
Brassey, Lady, d. 1887, writer on voyages.
Breitmann, Hans, see Leland.
Brewer, Ebenezer C., compiler of dictionaries.
Brewster, Sir D., 1781–1868, natural philosopher.
Bridges, Robert, 1844, poet.
Bright, Mrs. Golding (Egerton, George), novelist.
Brightwen, Eliza, writer on natural history.
Brome, William, 1689–1745, poet, translator.
Brontë, Anne, 1819–1849, novelist, poetess.
Brontë, Charlotte (Currer Bell), 1816–1855, novelist, poetess.
Brontë, Emily, 1818–1848, novelist, poetess.
Brooke, Fulk Greville, Lord, 1554–1628, poet (tragedies), biographer.
Brooke, Stopford, A., 1832, poet, biographer, critic.
Brooks, Charles, S. 1816–1874, novelist.
Brooks, Phillips (Bishop), 1835–1893, Amer. theologian, sermons.
Broughton, Rhoda, 1840, novelist.
Brown, Charles Brockden, 1771–1810, Amer. poet, novelist.
Brown, G. B., art critic.
Brown, Horatio R. F., 1854, historian (Venice), biographer.
Brown, John, 1715–1766, essayist, poet, theologian.
Brown, John, 1810–1882, essayist, miscellaneous writer.
Brown, Peter Hume, 1850, historian.
Brown, Dr. Thomas, 1778–1820, philos.
Browne, Charles Farrar (Artemus Ward), 1834–1867, Amer. humorist.
Browne, John R., 1817–1875, Amer. writer on travel (China).
Browne, Sir Thomas, 1605–1682, philosophical writer, antiquarian.
Browne, T. A., 1826, novelist.
Browne, William, 1590–1645, pastoral poet.
Browning, Elizabeth Barrett, 1809–1861, poetess.
Browning, Oscar, 1837, historian.
Browning, Robert, 1812–1889, poet.
Bruce, Michael, 1746–1767, poet.
Bryant, Mrs. Sophie, D.Sc., educationalist.
Bryant, William Cullen, 1794–1878, Amer. poet, editor.
Bryce, Rt. Hon., James, 1838, historian, essayist.

Buchanan, George, 1506–1581, historical writer.
Buchanan, Robert, 1841–1901, poet, novelist.
Buckland, Frank, 1826–1880, natural historian.
Buckle, Henry, T., 1822–1862, historian.
Buckley, Arabella, writer on natural history.
Budge, Dr. E. Wallace, F.S.A., Assyrian and Egyptian antiquities.
Bullen, Frank Thomas, 1857, writer of nautical tales.
Bulwer Lytton, see Lytton, Lord.
Bunyan, John, 1628–1688, author of Pilgrim's Progress.
Burgin, Geo. B., 1856, novelist.
Burke, Edmund, (statesman), 1729–1797, political writer, essayist.
Burnaby, Col. F., 1842–1885, traveller.
Burnand, Sir F. C., 1836, editor of Punch, dramatist.
Burnet, Gilbert (Bishop), 1643–1715, ecclesiastical historian.
Burnett, Mrs. Frances H., 1849, Amer. novelist, dramatist.
Burney, Fanny (Madame D'Arblay), 1752–1840, novelist, diarist.
Burns, Robert, 1759–1796, poet.
Burritt, Elihu (the learned blacksmith), 1810–1879, Amer. social reformer.
Burrows, Montagu, 1819–1905, historian, biographer.
Burton, John Hill, 1809–1882, historian
Burton, Sir Richard, 1821–1890, traveller and translator.
Burton, Robert, 1576–1640, philosopher.
Bury, Professor J. B., 1861, historian.
Butcher, Prof. Samuel H., 1850, Greek scholar.
Butler, Joseph (Bishop), 1692–1752, theologian.
Butler, Samuel, 1612–1680, satirist, poet.
Butler, William A., 1825–1902, Amer. poet, satirist.
Butler, Sir William Francis, 1838, military biography, writer on Canada.
Byron, George Gordon, Lord, 1788–1824, poet.
Cædmon, 680, Anglo-Saxon poet.
Caffyn, Mrs. Mannington ("Iota"), novelist.
Caine, T. H. Hall, 1853, novelist.
Caird, Edward, 1835, philosophical writer.
Caird, Mrs. Mona, novelist.
Calverley, Charles Stuart, 1831–1884, translator, poet, and humorist.
Camden, William, 1551–1623, antiquarian, historian.
Cameron, Mrs. Lovett, novelist.
Campbell, Thomas, 1777–1844, poet.
Canning, A. S. G., 1832, essayist, philosopher.
Canning, George (statesman), 1770–1827, satirist, poet.
Capes, Bernard E. J., novelist.
Carew, Thomas, 1598–1639, poet.
Carey, Rosa Nouchette, novelist.
Carleton, Will, 1845, Amer. writer of ballads.
Carleton, William, 1789–1896, Irish descriptive writer.
Carlyle, Thomas, 1795–1881, philosopher, historian, essayist.
Carpenter, W. Benjamin, 1813–1885, naturalist, microscopist.
Carpenter, W. Boyd (Bishop), 1841, theological writer.
Carr, Joseph W. Comyns, 1849, art critic, dramatist.
Carroll, Lewis, see Dodgson, C. L.
Carton, R. C., see Critchett, R. D.
Cartwright, William, 1610–1643, poet, dramatist.
Cary, Alice, 1820–1871, Amer. poetess, novelist.
Cary, Henry Francis, 1772–1844, translator of Dante.
Castle, Egerton, 1858, novelist, playwright.
Caxton, William, c. 1422–1491, printer, translator.
Chalmers, Alexander, 1759–1834, biographer (Dictionary).
Chalmers, Dr. Thomas, 1780–1847, economist, theologian.
Chambers, Charles Haddon, 1860, dramatist.
Chambers, G. F., 1841, meteorology, public works, etc.
Chambers, Robert (Publisher), 1802–1871, compiler of the "Book of Days."
Chambers, William (Publisher), 1800–1883, miscellaneous writer.
Channing, William E. (senior), 1780–1842, Amer. theologian.
Channing, William E. (junior), 1818–1901, Amer. poet, essayist, editor.
Chapman, George, 1557–1634, poet, dramatist.
Chatterton, Thomas, 1752–1770, poet.
Chaucer, Geoffrey, 1340–1400, poet.
Chesterfield, Lord, 1694–1773, letter-writer.
Chesterton, Gilbert K., 1873, biographer, critic, novelist.
Cheyne, Rev. Thomas K., D.D., 1841, biblical critic.
Chillingworth, William, 1602–1644, theologian.
Cholmondeley, Mary, novelist.
Church, Rev. R. W. (Dean), 1815–1890, historian and miscellaneous writer.
Church, Rev. A. J., 1829, translator, historian, novelist.
Churchill, Charles, 1731–1764, satirist, poet.
Churchill, Winston, 1871, Amer. novelist.
Churchill, Winston L. Spencer, M.P., 1874, war correspondent, miscellaneous writer.
Churchyard, Thomas, 1520–1604, translator.
Cibber, Colley, 1671–1757, actor, dramatist.
Clarendon, Edward Hyde, Earl of, 1609–1674, historian, biographer.
Clark, Charles Heber (Max Adeler), 1841, Amer. humorist.
Clarke, Charles Cowden, 1787–1877, literary critic and Shakespearian.
Clarke, James F., 1810–1888, Amer. theologian.
Clarke, Mrs. Mary Cowden, 1809–1898, author of "Concordance to Shakespeare."
Clay, Henry, 1777–1852, Amer. orator, politician.
Cleeve, Lucas, see Kingscote, Mrs. Howard.
Clemens, Samuel Langhorne (Mark Twain), 1835, Amer. humorist.
Clifford, Dr. John, 1836, controversialist, miscellaneous writer.
Clifford, W. K., 1845–1879, mathematician.
Clifford, Mrs. W. K., novelist, dramatist.
Clough, Arthur H., 1819–1861, poet.
Cobb, Thomas, 1854, novelist.
Cobban, James M., 1849–1903, journalist, novelist.
Cobbe, Francis Power, 1822–1904, journalist, essayist, philanthropist.
Cobbett, William, 1762–1835, political writer.
Coke, Sir Edw., 1551–1633, legist.
Colenso, J. W. (Bishop), 1814–1883, commentator, mathematician.
Coleridge, Christabel, 1843, editor, novelist.
Coleridge, Ernest Hartley, 1846, editor, critic.
Coleridge, Hartley, 1796–1849, poet.
Coleridge, Samuel Taylor, 1772–1834, poet, philosopher, critic.
Coleridge, Hon. Stephen, 1854, antivivisectionist.
Collier, Jeremy, 1650–1726, divine, essayist, historian.
Collins, Anthony, 1676–1729, theologian, deist.
Collins, Wilkie, 1824–1889, novelist.
Collins, William, 1720–1759, poet.
Colman, George (elder), 1732–1794, dramatist.
Colman, George (younger), 1762–1836, dramatist.
Colquhoun, Archibald R., 1848, essayist.
Colvin, Sidney, 1845, biographer, art critic.
Combe, William, 1741–1823, misc. writer.
Congreve, William, 1670–1729, poet, dramatist.
Connor, Ralph, see Gordon, C. W.
Conrad, Joseph, novelist.
Constable, Henry, 1562–1613, poet.
Conway, Dr. Moncure D., 1832, Amer. biographer, essayist.
Conway, Sir William M., 1856, art critic, mountaineer.
Conybeare, Fredk. C., 1856, orientalist, (Armenia), historian.
Cook, Captain James, 1728–1779, navigator.
Cook, Eliza, 1818–1889, poetess.
Cook, Theodore A., 1867, literary and art critic, journalist.
Cooke, John Esten, 1830–1886, Amer. novelist.
Cooke, Rose Terry, 1827–1892, Amer. poetess, humorist.
Cooper, James Fenimore, 1789–1851, Amer. novelist.
Corbet, Richard (Bishop), 1582–1635, poet.
Corbett, Julian St. John, 1854, novelist, naval historian.
Corelli, Marie, novelist.
Cornwall, Barry, see Proctor.
Cottle, Joseph (publisher), 1770–1853, critic, poet.
Cotton, Sir Robert Bruce, 1571–1631, antiquarian, collector of MSS., etc.
Courthope, William John, 1842, literary historian.
Courtney, William L., 1850, editor, philosopher.
Coverdale, Miles (Bishop), 1488–1568, translator of Bible.
Cowley, Abraham, 1618–1667, poet.
Cowper, William, 1731–1800, poet.
Crabbe, George, 1754–1832, poet.
Craddock, C. E., see Murfree.
Craigie, Mrs., see John Oliver Hobbes.
Craik, Mrs. (Mulock, D. M.), 1826–1887, novelist.
Crane, Walter, 1845, art critic.
Cranmer, Thomas (Archbishop), 1489–1556, theologian.
Crashaw, R., 1616–1650, poet.
Crawford, F. Marion, 1845, Amer. novelist.
Crawfurd, Oswald, essayist, novelist, poet.
Creasy, Sir E. S., 1811–1878, military historian.
Creighton, Mandell, (Bishop) 1843–1901, historian.
Creighton, Mrs., 1850, history, biography.
Crespigny, Mrs., novelist.
Critchett, R. D. (Carton, R. C.), dramatist.
Crockett, Samuel R., 1860, novelist.
Crookes, Sir William, 1832, natural philosopher.
Crosland, T. W. H., 1868, satirist.
Crowest, Fred. J., 1856, editor, mus. critic.
Cruden, A., 1700–1771, author of Biblical Concordance.
Cudlip, Mrs. Pender, see Thomas, Annie.
Cudworth, Ralph, 1617–1688, philosopher.
Cumberland, Rich., 1732–1811, novelist.
Cummins, Maria Susanna, 1827–1866, Amer. novelist.
Cunningham, Allan, 1784–1842, poet, biographer.
Cunningham, Dr. William, 1849, economist.
Currie, Lady, see Fane, Violet.
Curtis, George W., 1824–1892, Amer. novelist, editor.
Curzon of Kedleston, Lord, see Kedleston.
Cust, Robert, N., 1821, essayist, linguist, poet.
Cust, Lionel, 1859, art critic.
Cutts, Edward Lewes, 1824–1901, archæologist, Church historian, past. theol.
Cynewulf, c. 750, Anglo-Saxon poet.
Dale, R. W., D.D., 1829–1895, theologian.

Dalton, John, 1767–1844, chemist.
Dana, Richard, H., 1815–1882, Amer. writer on sea-travel.
Daniel, Samuel, 1562–1619, poet, historian.
D'Arblay, Madame, see Burney, Fanny.
Darmesteter, Mdme. (Agnes Robinson), essayist (French).
Darwin, Charles R., 1809–1882, natural philosopher, evolutionist.
Darwin, Erasmus, 1731–1802, botanist, poet.
Darwin, Francis, 1848, biographer, botanist.
Davenant, Sir Wm., 1606–1668, poet.
Davidson, John, 1857, poet.
Davies, Sir John, 1570–1626, poet, essayist.
Davis, Richard, H., b. 1864, Amer. war correspondent, novelist.
Davy, Sir Humphry, 1778–1829, chemist, physicist.
Dawe, Carlton, b. 1865, novelist.
Dawkins Wilton Boyd, b. 1838, anthropologist, geologist.
Dawson, Alec John, b. 1871, novelist.
Dawson, William, b. 1860, economist.
Dawson, William, b. 1854, poet.
Day, Thomas, 1748–1789, author of Sandford and Merton.
Dearmer, Rev. Percy, 1867, ritualistic history, guide books.
Defoe, Daniel, 1661-1731, novelist, essayist.
Dekker, Thomas, 1570–1638, dramatist, poet.
De Morgan, Augustus, 1806–1871, mathematician.
Denham, Sir John, 1615–1668, poet.
Dennis, John, 1657–1734, critic, essayist.
De Quincey, Thomas, 1785–1859, essayist, critic.
Derby, Earl of, 1799–1869, translator of Homer.
De Vere, Aubrey, 1814–1902, poet.
Devine, Rev. Arthur, b. 1849, theologian.
Dewar, George A. B., naturalist, sporting writer.
De Windt, Harry, b. 1856, traveller.
Dibdin, Charles, 1745–1814, writer of sea-songs and operas.
Dibdin, Lewis T., 1852, historian.
Dicey, Albert V., 1835, writer on law.
Dick, Cotsford, 1846, author, dramatist.
Dickens, Charles, 1812–1870, novelist.
Dilke, Sir Charles W., 1843, politician, historian, critic.
Dilke, Lady, 1840–1904, art critic.
Diosy, Arthur, 1856, orientalist (Japan).
Disraeli, Benjamin (Lord Beaconsfield), 1804–1881, novelist.
Disraeli, Isaac, 1766–1848, literary hist.
Ditchfield, Rev. P. H., 1854, local historian, antiquarian.
Dixie, Lady Florence, 1858–1905, "reform" writer.
Dixon, Charles, 1858, ornithologist.
Dixon, W. Hepworth, 1821–1879, historian, traveller.
Dobell, Sidney, 1824–1874, poet, critic.
Dobson, H. Austin, 1840, poet, editor.
Doddridge, Philip, 1702–1751, theologian, expositor.
Dodgson, Charles Lutwidge (Lewis Carroll), 1838–1898, humorous writer for children.
Dods, Rev. Marcus, D.D., 1834, theologian.
Donne, Dr. John, 1573-1631, theologian, poet.
Dooley, Mr., see Dunne.
Doudney, Sarah, 1843, novelist.
Dougall, Lily, 1858, novelist.
Douglas, Gawain (Bishop), 1474–1522, poet, translator.
Douglas, Sir Geo. B., 1856, novelist, historian.
Douglas, Sir Robt. K., 1838, orientalist (China).
Doveton, Fred. B., 1841, poet, author.
Dowden, Edward, 1843, poet, literary critic.
Downey, Edmund, 1856, novelist.
Doyle, Sir A. Conan, 1859, novelist, poet.
Doyle, Sir Francis H., 1810–1888, poet.
Drake, Joseph Rodman, 1795–1820, Amer. poet.
Draper, John W., 1811–1882, Amer. historian, scientist.
Drayton, Michael, 1563–1631, poet.
Driver, Rev. S. R., 1846, Biblical critic.
Drummond, Henry, 1851–1897, writer on science and religion.
Drummond, William, 1585–1649, poet.
Dryden, John, 1631–1700, poet, dramatist.
Dudeney, Mrs. Henry, b. 1866, novelist.
Duff, Rev. Archibald, b. 1845, theologian.
Duff, Sir M. E. Grant, see Grant-Duff.
Dufferin, Lord, 1826–1902, traveller, diplomatist.
Duffy, Sir Charles G., 1816-1903, journalist, editor.
Dugdale, Sir Wm., 1605–1686, antiquarian (monasteries).
Du Maurier, George, 1834–1896, artist and novelist.
Dunbar, William (works, 1503–1508), poet.
Duncan, Sarah J., novelist.
Dunne, Finley Peter (Mr. Dooley), 1857, Amer. humorist.
D'Urfey, Thomas, 1630–1723, dramatist, wit.
Dutt, R. C., 1848, orientalist (India).
Dyce, A., 1798–1869, critic, editor.
Dyer, John, 1700–1758, poet.
Eadmer, d. 1124, Anglo-Saxon chronicler.
Eardley-Wilmot, Admiral S. M., b. 1847, naval writer.
Earle, Mrs. C. W., novelist.
Earle, John (Professor), 1824–1903, Anglo-Saxon scholar.
Eastlake, Charles L., art critic.
Edgeworth, Maria, 1767–1849, novelist.
Edmunds, Lewis H., 1860, writer on law.
Edwards, Amelia B., 1831–1892, novelist, Egyptian explorer.
Edwards, Jonathan, 1703–1758, Amer. metaphysician, theologian.
Edwards, Richard, 1523–1566, poet, dramatist.
Egerton, George, see Mrs. Golding Bright.
Eggleston, Edward, 1837–1902, Amer. pastor, writer of tales, historian.
Eliot, George (Marian Evans), 1820–1881, novelist.
Elkington, E. W., 1872, novelist.
Elliott, Ebenezer, 1781–1849, poet.
Ellis, Robinson, 1834, classical scholar.
Ellis, Thos. M., 1850, novelist, journalist.
Ellwood, Thomas, 1639–1713, autobiographer.
Emerson, Ralph Waldo, 1803–1882, Amer. poet, essayist.
Escott, T. H. S., 1844, lecturer, author.
Esmond, Henry V., actor, dramatist.
Etheridge, Sir Geo., 1634–1694, dramatist.
Evans, Daniel S., 1818–1903, Celtic scholar.
Evans, Sir John, 1823, historian, antiquarian.
Evans, Marian, see George Eliot.
Evelyn, John, 1620–1706, diarist.
Everett-Green, E., 1856, novelist.
Everett, Edward, 1794–1865, Amer. orator, editor, scholar.
Everett, Joseph D., 1831–1904, physicist.
Ewart, James C., 1851, natural historian.
Ewing, Mrs. Julia Horatio Orr (née Gatty), 1842–1885, stories for children.
Eyre-Todd, George, 1862, editor (Scottish works).
Faber, Frederick W., 1814–1863, writer of hymns.
Fairbairn, Rev. A. M., 1838, theologian.
Falconer, William, 1730–1769, nautical poet.
Fane, Violet (Lady Currie), d. 1905, novelist, poetess.
Faraday, Michael, 1791–1867, natural philosopher.
Fargus, F., 1810–1885, novelist.
Farmiloe, Mrs. E. C., novelist.
Farquhar, George, 1678–1707, dramatist.
Farrar, Rev. Fred. W. (Dean), 1831–1903, novelist, theologian.
Farrow, George E., 1866, humorist.
Fawcett, Mrs. M. G., 1847, political economist, biographer.
Fayrer, Sir Joseph, 1824, physician.
Fea, Allan, b. 1860, novelist.
Felkin, Mrs., see Fowler.
Fenn, G. Manville, 1831, novelist.
Fenton, Ferrar, 1832, orientalist, theologian.
Ferguson, Robert, 1750–1774, poet, satirist.
Fergusson, James, 1808–1886, architectural writer.
Field, Dr. Richard, 1561–1616, theologian.
Fielding, Henry, 1707–1754, dramatist, novelist.
Fields, James T., 1817–1881, Amer. editor, literary historian.
Filmer, Sir Robert, d. 1653, political scientist.
Findlater, Jane Ellen } sisters, novelists.
Findlater, Mary W. }
Finlay, George, 1799–1875, historian.
Firth, Chas. H., 1857, historian, biographer.
Fiske, John, 1842–1901, Amer. historian, philosopher.
Fitzgerald, P. H., 1834, theatrical history.
Fitzgerald, Edward, 1809–1883, poet, translator of Omar.
Fitzmaurice, Lord E. J., b. 1846, biographer.
Fletcher, Banister, b. 1866, historian, architect.
Fletcher, John, 1576–1625, poet, dramatist, the literary partner of Beaumont.
Fletcher, Phineas, 1582–1650, poet.
Florio, John, 1553–1625, translator of Montaigne.
Foote, Samuel, 1719–1777, dramatist, actor.
Forbes, Archibald, 1838–1900, war correspondent.
Ford, John, 1586–1640, dramatist.
Forman, H. B., 1842, editor and critic.
Forster, John, 1812–1876, biographer and historian.
Foster, Sir Michael, b. 1836, physiologist.
Foster, Stephen Collins, 1826–1864, Amer. writer of popular songs.
Foster, Sir Walter, medical and sanitary writer.
Fowler, Ellen Thorneycroft (Mrs. A. Laurence Felkin), novelist and poet.
Fowler, Rev. Joseph T., 1833, antiquarian, historian.
Fowler, Rev. Thomas, 1832–1904, philosopher, logician.
Foxe, John, 1517–1587, martyrologist.
Frances, M. E. (Mrs. Frances Blundell), novelist.
Francis, Sir Philip, 1740–1818, political writer.
Franklin, Benjamin, 1706–1790, Amer. statesman, philosopher, diplomatist.
Fraser, Alex. C., 1819, philosopher, logician.
Fraser, James George, 1854, archæologist.
Fraser, Mrs. Hugh, novelist.
Freeman, Edward A., 1823-1892, historian.
Frere, John H., 1769–1846, satirist, poet.
Freshfield, Douglas W., 1845, mountaineer, Asiatic explorer.
Froude, James A., 1818–1894, historian, biographer.
Fry, Sir Edward, b. 1827, naturalist.
Fuller, Sarah M., 1810–1850, Amer. miscellaneous writer.
Fuller, Thomas, 1608–1661, theologian, historian.
Fuller-Maitland, J. A., 1856, musical critic and historian.
Furness, Horace Howard, 1833, Amer. Shakespearean editor.
Furnivall, Frederick James, 1825, literary historian, philologist.
Fyfe, Hamilton, 1869, editor, misc. writer.
Gairdner, James, 1828, historian.
Gale, Norman, 1862, poet, novelist.
Gale, Thomas, 1628–1702, historian, scholar.
Gallienne, Richard Le, 1866, poet, misc. writer.

Gallon, Tom, 1866, novelist.
Galt, John, 1779–1839, novelist, biographer.
Galton, Francis, b. 1822, traveller.
Galton, Francis, 1853, statistician.
Gardiner, Samuel R., 1829–1902, historian.
Gardner, Ernest A., b. 1862, archæologist.
Gardner, Percy, b. 1846, archæologist.
Garland, Hamlin, b. 1860, novelist.
Garnett, Richard, b. 1835, poet, essayist, editor, critic.
Garrick, David, 1716–1779, actor, dramatist.
Garth, Sir Samuel, 1660–1718, poet.
Gascoigne, George, 1540–1577, poet, dramatist.
Gaskell, Elizabeth, 1810–1866, novelist, biographer.
Gasquet, Rev. F. A., historian.
Gatty, Mrs., 1809–1873, juvenile stories.
Gay, John, 1688–1732, dramatist, poet.
Geikie, Sir Archibald, b. 1835, geologist.
Geikie, Rev. Cunningham, b. 1824, theologian.
Geikie, James, b. 1839, geologist.
Geoffrey of Monmouth, c. 1154, chronicler.
George, Henry, 1849, Amer. political economist.
Gerard, Morice, (Rev. J. J. Theague), b. 1856, novelist.
Gibbon, Edward, 1737–1794, historian.
Giberne, Agnes, popular scientist.
Gifford, William, 1757–1826, poet, satirist.
Gilbert, Henry, b. 1868, editor, novelist.
Gilbert, Wm. S., b. 1836, dramatist, humorous poet, librettist.
Gilbey, Sir Walter, b. 1831, writer on horses.
Gilchrist, Robert M., 1868, novelist.
Gildas, c. 550, Anglo-Saxon historian.
Gilder, Richard Watson, 1844, Amer. poet, editor.
Giraldus de Barri, 1147–1210, Norman historian.
Gissing, Algernon, 1860, novelist.
Gissing, George, 1857–1903, novelist.
Gladstone, Wm. Ewart (statesman), 1809–1898, scholar, translator.
Gleig, Charles, novelist.
Glover, Richard, 1712–1785, poet.
Godley, A. D., 1856, humorous poet.
Godwin, Parke, 1816, Amer. journalist, historian, biographer.
Godwin, William, 1756–1836, novelist, social theorist.
Goldsmith, Oliver, 1728–1774, poet, playwright, novelist, historian.
Gollancz, Israel, 1864, Shakespearean editor.
Gomme, George L., 1853, editor, antiquarian.
Goodrich, Samuel G. (Peter Parley), 1793–1860, Amer. writer of miscellaneous information for children.
Googe, Barnaby, 1540–1594, poet.
Gordon, Rev. Charles William (Ralph Connor), 1860, novelist.
Gordon-Cumming, C. F., 1837, traveller, artist.
Gore, Charles (Bishop), 1853, theologian, essayist.
Gore, Mrs. C. G. F., 1799–1861, dramatist, novelist.
Gore, John E., 1845, astronomer.
Gosse, Edmund, b. 1849, literary historian, critic.
Gosse, Philip H., 1810–1888, zoological writer.
Gould, Fred. J., 1855, secularist writer.
Gould, Nathaniel, b. 1857, novelist (sporting).
Gow, Rev. Dr. James, 1854, educational writer.
Gower, John, 1320–1402, poet.
Gowing, Mrs. A., novelist, poetess.
Graham, Winifred, novelist.
Grahame, Kenneth, novelist.
Grand, Mdme. Sarah (Frances E. MacFall), novelist.
Grant, James, 1822–1887, novelist.
Grant-Duff, Sir Montstuart, 1829, diarist.
Graves, Alfred P., 1846, poet (Father O'Flynn, etc.).
Gray, Annabel, 1853, novelist.
Gray, Maxwell (Miss M. G. Tuttiett), novelist, poetess.
Gray, Thomas, 1716–1771, poet.
Greeley, Horace, 1811–1872, Amer. essayist, autobiographer.
Green, J. Reynolds, botanist.
Green, John Richard, 1837–1883, historian.
Green, Mrs. A. Stopford, historian.
Green, Thomas Hill, 1836–1882, philosopher.
Greene, Robert, 1560–1593, dramatist, poet.
Greenwell, Rev. Dr. William, archæologist.
Greenwood, Grace, see Lippincott.
Gribble, Francis, novelist.
Grierson, George A., b. 1851, orientalist (India.)
Griffith, George C., novelist, journalist.
Griffiths, Major Arthur G., b. 1838, novelist, criminologist.
Grote, George, 1794–1871, historian of Greece.
Grove, Sir George, 1820–1901, writer of dictionary of music.
Grundy, Sydney, b. 1848, dramatist.
Guthrie, Thomas Anstie, novelist, humorist.
Gwilliam, Rev. G. H., 1846, orientalist (Palestine).
Gwynn, Stephen, 1864, author, poet, essayist.
Habberton, John, 1842, Amer. humorous novelist.
Habington, William, 1605–1654, poet, historian.
Haeckel, Ernest, 1834, scientist, biologist.
Haggard, H. Rider, 1856, novelist, agricultural writer.
Hakluyt, Richard, 1553–1616, writer of sea-discoveries.
Hales, Prof. John Wesley, 1836, editor, literary historian.
Haliburton, Thomas Chandler (Sam Slick), 1796–1865, Amer. humorist and miscellaneous writer.
Halliburton, William Dobinson, 1860, physiologist, pathologist.
Hall, Edward, 1499–1547, chronicler.
Hall, John R. C., 1855, Anglo-Saxon scholar.
Hall, Joseph (Bishop), 1574–1656, theologian.
Hall, Samuel Carter, 1800–1889, miscellaneous writer.
Hall, Mrs. Samuel Carter 1800–1881, novelist.
Hallam, Henry, 1777–1859, historian.
Halleck, Fitz-Greene, 1790–1867, poet.
Halpine, Charles G., 1829–1868, Amer. journalist, humorist.
Hamerton, Philip G., 1834–1894, art critic, misc. writer.
Hamilton, Alexander, 1757–1804, Amer. statesman, political writer.
Hamilton, Edwin, 1849, poet.
Hamilton, Sir William, 1788–1856, philosophical writer.
Harcourt, Sir William Vernon, 1827–1904, Letters on International Law.
Hardy, Thomas, 1840, novelist.
Hare, Augustus, J. C., 1834–1903, biographer, historical writer.
Harland, Henry, 1861, novelist.
Harraden, Beatrice, 1864, novelist.
Harrington, Sir John, 1561–1612, translator, poet.
Harris, Joel Chandler (Uncle Remus), 1848, Amer. humorist.
Harrison, Frederick, 1831, positivist, historian, literary critic.
Harrison, Jane Ellen, 1850, writer on Greek art.
Harte, Francis Bret, 1839–1902, Amer. novelist, writer of tales, poet.
Harting, James E., 1841, ornithologist.
Harvey, Gabriel, 1545–1630, poet, critic.
Hasluck, Paul, 1854, editor, scientist.
Hassall, Arthur, 1853, historian, biographer.
Hatton, Joseph, 1840, editor, novelist.
Havergal, Frances Ridley, 1836–1879, devotional writer.
Haweis, Rev. Hugh R., 1839–1901, lecturer, miscellaneous writer.
Hawker, Robert S., 1805–1875, poet.
Hawkesworth, John, 1715–1773, writer, biographer.
Hawkins, Anthony Hope, 1863, novelist.
Hawthorne, Nathaniel, 1804–1864, Amer. novelist.
Hay, John, (statesman), 1838, Amer. poet, humorist.
Hayens, Herbert, 1861, novelist, educationalist.
Hayes, Isaac I., 1832–1881, Amer. writer on Arctic exploration.
Hazlitt, William C., 1834, historian, writer of memoirs.
Hazlitt, William, 1778–1830, critic, essayist, lecturer.
Headlam, Cecil, 1872, novelist, poet.
Hearn, Lafcadio, 1850–1904, writer on Japan.
Hearne, Thomas, 1678–1735, antiquarian.
Heber, Reginald (Bishop), 1783–1826, poet.
Hector, Mrs. Annie French, 1825, novelist.
Helps, Sir Arthur, 1817–1875, essayist.
Hemans, Felicia D., 1794–1835, poetess.
Hemsley, William B., 1843, botanist.
Henley, William E., 1849–1903, poet, essayist, miscellaneous writer.
Henniker, Hon. Mrs. A., novelist.
Henson, Canon H. Hensley, 1863, theologian, controversialist.
Henty, Geo. A., 1832–1902, writer for boys.
Herbert, George, 1593–1632, poet.
Herford, Prof. Charles Harold, literary historian.
Herrick, Robert, 1591–1674, poet.
Herschel, Sir John, 1790–1871, astronomer.
Hervey, Rev. James, 1714–1758, devotional writer.
Hewlett, Maurice H., 1861, novelist.
Heylin, Peter, 1600–1662, historian, biographer.
Heywood, John, 1506–1565, playwright, poet.
Heywood, Thomas, 1640, playwright.
Hickey, Emily, poetess, translator.
Hickson, Sydney J., 1859, naturalist.
Higginson, Thomas Wentworth, 1823, Amer. anti-slavery writer.
Hill, Alexander, 1856, scientist, physiologist.
Hill, George Birkbeck, 1835–1903, literary editor and critic.
Hill, Rowland, 1745–1833, theologian.
Hillard, George Stillman, 1808–1879, Amer. journalist, miscellaneous writer.
Hillhouse, James A., 1789–1841, Amer. poet.
Hissey, James J., writer on travel.
Hobbes, John Oliver (Mrs. Craigie), 1867, novelist.
Hobbes, Thomas, 1588–1679, political scientist.
Hobhouse, Rev. Walter, 1862, editor (Guardian), scholar.
Hobson, John A., 1858, essayist, biographer.
Hocking, Joseph, novelist.
Hocking, Rev. Silas K., 1850, novelist.
Hodder, Edwin, 1837, novelist, historian.
Hodgkin, Thomas, 1831, historian, biographer.
Hodgson, Geraldine, 1865, novelist.
Hoffman, Charles F., 1806–1884, Amer. poet, novelist.
Hogarth, David G., 1862, explorer.
Hogg, James, 1772–1835, poet (Ettrick Shepherd).
Hole, Rev. Samuel R. (Dean), 1819–1904, horticulturist (roses).
Holinshed, Raphael, d. 1580, historian.

Holland, Clive, 1866, novelist, playwright.
Holland, Josiah Gilbert, 1819–1881, Amer. editor, poet, miscellaneous writer.
Holland, Rev. Canon Scott, 1847, theologian.
Holmes, Fred. M., b. 1851, novelist.
Holmes, Oliver Wendell, 1809–1894, Amer. poet, miscellaneous writer, novelist.
Holmes, Thomas R. E., 1855, historian.
Holyoake, George J., 1817, socialist, journalist.
Home, Andrew, novelist.
Hood, Capt. Basil, 1854, dramatist.
Hood, Thomas, 1798–1845, poet, humorist.
Hook, Theodore E., 1788–1841, editor, novelist, wit.
Hook, Walter Farquhar (Dean), 1798–1875, "Lives of the Archbishops of Canterbury."
Hooker, Richard, 1553–1600, theologian.
Hope, Anthony, see Hawkins, A. H.
Hopkins, Tighe, 1856, novelist.
Hopkinson, Francis, 1737–1791, Amer. essayist, poet.
Hornung, Ernest W., 1866, novelist.
Horton, Rev. Robert F., D.D., 1855, theologian, biographer.
Houghton, Richard Monkton Milnes, Lord, 1809–1885, poetry, memorials, etc.
Housman, Laurence, 1867, novelist, dramatist.
How, Fred. D., 1853, biographer.
Howard, Sir Robert, 1626–1698, playwright.
Howe, Mrs. Julia W., 1819, Amer. essayist, poet.
Howells, William D., 1837, Amer. novelist.
Howitt, Mary, 1800–1880, novelist.
Howitt, Wm., 1792–1879, poet, miscellaneous writer.
Hudson, Henry Norman, 1815–1857, Amer. Shakespearean editor.
Hughes, Thomas (Judge), 1822–1896, novelist, author of "Tom Brown."
Huish, Marcus B., 1845, writer on art.
Hulme, F. E., 1841, heraldry, natural history.
Hume, David, 1711–1776, historian, essayist.
Hume, Major Martin, 1847, historian (Spain), biographer.
Humphreys, Mrs. Desmond ("Rita"), novelist.
Humphry, Mrs. C. E. (Madge), books on social behaviour.
Hungerford, Mrs. M. Wolfe, 1855–1897, Irish novelist.
Hunt, Jas. H. Leigh, 1784–1859, poet, critic.
Hunt, Violet, novelist.
Hunter, Sir W. Wilson, 1840, history and languages of India.
Huntley, Lydia, see Sigourney.
Hutcheson, Francis, 1694–1746, moralist, essayist.
Hutchings, Ven. William H., 1835, devotional writer.
Hutton, Rev. A. W., 1848, theologian, biographer.
Hutton, Fred. W., 1836, geologist.
Hutton, Richard Holt, 1826–1897, philosophical (editor of "Spectator").
Hutton, Rev. William H., 1860, biographer, historian.
Huxley, Thomas H., 1825–1895, scientist.
Hyde, Douglas, Irish dramatist and poet.
Hyde Edward, Earl of Clarendon, 1608–1674, historian, biographer.
Hyne, Chas. J. C. W., 1866, novelist.
Inchbald, Elizabeth, 1753–1821, editor, dramatist, novelist.
Ingelow, Jean, 1820–1897, poetess.
"Ingoldsby," see Barham, R. H.
Ingram, John K., 1823, historian, essayist.
Innes, A. Taylor Innes, 1833, historian, biographer.
"Iota," see Caffyn, Mrs. Mannington.
Irving, Washington, 1783–1859, Amer. humorist, novelist.
Irving, Edward, 1792–1832, theological writer.
Jackson, Mrs. Helen H., 1831–1885, Amer. poetess, novelist, miscellaneous writer.
Jacobs, John, 1854, editor, translator.
Jacobs, Wm. Wymark, 1863, novelist.
James, I., 1566–1625, theologian, moralist.
James I. of Scotland, 1391–1437, poet.
James, George, P. R., 1801–1860, novelist.
James, Henry (senior), 1811–1882, Amer. theologian.
James, Henry (jun.), 1843, Amer. novelist.
James, William, 1843, Amer. psychologist.
Jameson, Mrs. Anna, 1797-1860, art critic, historian.
Jane, Fred. T., 1865, tactician, novelist.
Jeaffreson, John C., 1831–1901, biographer.
Jebb, Sir Richard C., 1841, Greek scholar.
Jefferies, R., 1848–1887, naturalist, novelist.
Jeffrey, Francis I., 1773–1850, editor, essayist.
Jenks, Edw., 1861, lawyer, misc. writer.
Jerome, Jerome K., 1860, novelist.
Jerrold, Douglas, 1803–1857, playwright, humorist, wit.
Jerrold, Walter, 1865, editor, biographer.
Jessopp, Rev. Augustus, 1824, historian.
Jewel, John (Bishop), 1522–1571, theologian.
Jewett, Sarah Orne, 1849, Amer. novelist, miscellaneous writer.
Johnson, Dr. Samuel, 1709–1784, lexicographer, essayist, biographer.
Johnston, Sir H. H., 1858, administrator (Uganda), scientist.
Jones, Henry A., 1851, dramatist.
Jonson, Benjamin, 1573–1637, dramatist, satirist.
Jowett, Benjamin, 1817–1895, Greek scholar, philosopher.
Julian, Rev. John, 1839, hymnologist.
Kane, Elisha K., 1820–1857, Amer. Arctic explorer, scientist.
Kavanagh, Julia, 1824–1877, novelist, essayist.
Kaye, Sir John W., 1814–1876, historian.
Keane, A. H., 1833, geographer.
Kearton, Richard, 1862, ornithologist.
Keary, Annie, 1825–1879, novelist, writer for children.
Keary, Charles F., novelist, historical writer.
Keats, John, 1795–1821, poet.
Keble, John, 1792–1866, poet, biographer.
Kedleston, Baron (Lord Curzon), 1859, oriental traveller.
Keene, Henry G., 1825, historian.
Keith, Leslie (G. L. Keith Johnson), novelist.
Kelvin, Lord (Sir W. Thomson), 1824, philosopher, scientist.
Ken, Thomas (Bishop), 1637–1711, theologian, hymn writer.
Kennard, Mrs. Edward, novelist.
Kenworthy, John C., 1861, novelist, pamphleteer.
Ker, William Paton, 1855, literary historian.
Kernahan, Coulson, 1858, novelist, poet.
Kidd, Benjamin, 1858, political economist.
Killigrew, Thomas, 1611–1682, dramatist.
Kinglake, Alex. W., 1809–1891, historian, writer on travel.
Kingscote, Mrs. Howard (Lucas Cleeve), novelist.
Kingsley, Rev. Charles, 1818–1875, novelist, essayist.
Kingsley, George Henry, 1827–1892, writer on sport and travel.
Kingsley, Henry, 1830–1876, novelist.
Kingsley, Mary Henrietta, d. 1900, writer on travel (Africa).
Kipling, Rudyard, 1865, novelist, poet.
Kirk, John Foster, 1824, Amer. historian.
Kitchin, Rev. G. W. (Dean), 1827, historian, linguist.
Knight, Charles, 1791–1873, editor, misc. writer.
Knight, Joseph, 1829, biographer, editor.
Knight, William Angus, 1836, philosopher, essayist.
Knowles, James Sheridan, 1784–1862, dramatist.
Knox, John, 1505–1572, controversial theologian.
Krauth, Charles P., 1823–1883, Amer. theological writer.
Ladd, George T., 1842, psychologist, philosopher.
Lamb, Charles, 1775–1835, critic, essayist, poet.
Landon, Letitia E., 1802–1838, poetess.
Landor, Walter S., 1775–1864, poet, orientalist.
Lane-Poole, Stanley, 1854, historian, essayist (folk-lore).
Lang, Andrew, 1844, historian, miscellaneous writer.
Langbridge, Rev. F., 1849, poet, novelist.
Langland, William, c. 1332–1400, old English poet.
Lanier, Sidney, 1842–1881, Amer. poet, novelist.
Larcom, Lucy, 1826–1893, Amer. poetess, editor.
Lardner, Dr. Nathaniel, 1684–1768, theologian.
Latimer, Hugh (Bishop), 1491–1555, theologian.
Laud, William (Archbishop), 1573–1645, theologian.
Lawrence, G. A., 1827–1876, novelist.
Layard, Sir Henry Austen, 1817–1894, Assyrian explorer.
Layamon, 13th century poet.
Lecky, William E. H., 1838–1903, historian.
Lee, Rev. Albert, 1855, novelist.
Lee, Nathaniel, 1655–1692, dramatist.
Lee, Sidney, 1859, biographer, Shakespearean critic.
Le Gallienne, Richard, see Gallienne.
Lehmann, Rudolph C., 1856, prose and verse (humorous), editor, writer on rowing.
Leighton, Marie C., novelist.
Leith, Mrs. Adams, novelist.
Leland, Charles Godfrey (Hans Breitmann), 1824–1903, Amer. humorist, writer on legends.
Leland, John, c. 1506–1552, antiquary.
Lemon, Mark, 1809–1870, dramatist.
Le Queux, William, 1864, novelist.
L'Estrange, Sir Roger, 1616–1704, poet, pamphleteer.
Lethbridge, Sir R., 1840, historian.
Lever, Charles J., 1809–1872, novelist.
Lewes, George H., 1817–1878, philosopher, essayist.
Lewis, Matthew G., 1775–1818, novelist.
Liddon, Henry P. (Dean), 1829–1890, biographer, theologian.
Lightfoot, Joseph B. (Bishop), 1828–1889, theologian, historian.
Lilly, W. S. 1840, historian, essayist.
Lindsay, Sir David, 1490–1555. poet.
Lindsay, Wallace M., 1858, classical scholar.
Lingard, Dr. John, 1771–1851, historian.
Linton, Mrs. Eliza Lynn, 1822, novelist.
Lippincott, Sara J. (Grace Greenwood), 1823, Amer. poetess, writer of romance.
Locke, John, 1632–1704, philosopher.
Locker-Lampson, Fred., 1821–1895, poet.
Lockhart, John G., 1794–1854, biographer.
Lockyer, Sir Norman, 1836, astronomer.
Lodge, Sir Oliver J., 1851, scientist, theological writer.
Lodge, Thomas, c. 1558–1625, poet, dramatist.
Logan, John, 1748–1788, poet.
London, Jack, 1876, novelist.
Longfellow, Henry Wadsworth, 1807–1882, Amer. poet.
Lorimer, G. H., novelist.
Lovelace, Richard, 1618–1658, poet.
Lover, Samuel, 1797–1868, novelist, dramatist.
Lowe, Charles, biographer, novelist.

Lowell, James Russell, 1819–1891, Amer. poet, essayist.
Lucas, Edward V., 1868, editor, poet.
Lucy, Henry W. (Toby, M.P.), 1845, humorist.
Ludlow, Fitzhugh, 1837–1870, Amer. poet, writer on travel.
Lyde, Lionel W., 1863, geographer.
Lydgate, John, 1375–1430, poet, translator.
Lyall, Edna, see Bayly, Ada Ellen.
Lyell, Sir Charles, 1797–1875, geologist.
Lyly, John, 1554–1603, Elizabethan novelist, dramatist.
Lyttleton, Lord George, 1709–1773, poet.
Lytton, Lord E. Bulwer, 1803–1873, novelist.
Lytton, E. R. Bulwer, Earl (Owen Meredith), 1831–1891, poet.
Maartens, Maarten J., 1858, novelist.
Macaulay, T. B. M., Lord, 1800–1859, historian, poet, essayist.
Macdonald, George, 1824–1905, novelist.
Macdonnell, Arthur A., b. 1854, orientalist (Sanskrit).
MacFall, Frances E., see Sarah Grand.
Mackarness, Ven. Charles C., b. 1850, theologian.
Mackay, Charles, 1812–1880, poet.
Mackenzie, Henry, 1745–1831, novelist.
Mackie, John, 1862, novelist.
Mackintosh, Sir James, 1765–1832, historian, philosopher.
Maclaren Ian, see John Watson.
Macleod, Rev. Donald, b. 1831, editor, theologian.
Macleod, Fiona, poetess, novelist.
Macleod, Rev. Norman, 1812–1872, editor, miscellaneous writer.
Macpherson, James, 1738–1796, poet.
Macquoid, Katherine S., novelist, traveller.
M'Carthy, Justin, 1830, historian.
McCarthy, Justin Huntly, 1860, dramatist, novelist.
Magnus, Sir Philip, 1842, scientist.
Mahaffy, John P., 1839, Greek scholar, historian.
Maine, Sir Henry J. S., 1822–1888, writer on primitive institutions.
Maitland, Fred. W., 1850, historian (legal).
Mallock, Wm. H., critic, philosopher.
Malmesbury, William of, c. 1140, chronicler.
Malone, Edmund, 1741–1820, Shakespearean editor.
Malory, Sir Thomas, 15th century, compiler of "Morte d'Arthur."
Malthus, Thomas R., 1766–1834, political economist.
Mandeville, Bernard, 1670–1733, poet.
Mandeville, Sir John, 14th century, "voyages and travel."
Manning, H. E. (Cardinal), 1808–1892, theologian.
Marchbank, Agnes, see Marshall.
Marchmont, Arthur W., 1852, novelist.
Markham, Admiral A. H., 1841, biographer, naval writer.
Markham, Gervase, 1570–1655, poet.
Markham, Sir Clements R., 1830, geographer, historian.
Marlowe, Christopher, 1564–1593, dramatist, poet.
Marryat, Captain F., 1792–1848, novelist.
Marryat, Florence, 1838–1899, novelist.
Marsh, George P., 1801–1882, Amer. philologist, politician.
Marsh, Richard, novelist.
Marshall, Mrs. (Marchbank Agnes), novelist.
Marshall, Captain R., 1863, dramatist, novelist.
Marston, John, c. 1575–1633, dramatist, satirist.
Marston, Philip Bourke, 1850–1887, poet.
Martin, Sir Theodore, 1816, translator, biographer, poet.
Martineau, Harriet, 1802–1876, historian, miscellaneous writer.
Martineau, Dr. James, 1805–1900, philosopher, theologian.
Marvell, Andrew, 1621–1678, poet, satirist.
Marziales, Frank T., 1840, biographer, poet.
Mason, Alfred E. W., 1865, novelist.
Massey, Gerald, 1828, poet.
Massinger, Philip, 1584–1640, dramatist.
Masson, Prof. David, 1822, biographer, literary critic.
Mather, Cotton, 1663–1728. Amer. Religious History of America.
Mathers, Helen, 1853, novelist.
Matheson, Rev. Geo., 1842–1906, theologist.
Maurice, Major-Gen., 1841, biographer.
Maurice, Rev. F. D., 1805–1872, philosopher, theologian.
Maury, Matthew F., 1806–1873, Amer. marine geography.
Maxwell, Mrs. John, see Braddon, M. E.
Maxwell, Sir Herbert, 1845, biographer, naturalist.
Maxwell, Mrs. Heron, novelist.
May, Sir Thomas Erskine, 1815–1886, jurist.
Meade, L. T., novelist.
Melville, see Whyte Melville.
Melville, Herman, 1819–1891, Amer. nautical adventure.
Menpes, Mortimer, artist, illustrator.
Meredith, George, 1828, poet, novelist.
Meredith, Owen, see Lytton.
Merivale, Charles, 1808–1893, historian.
Merivale, Herman C., b. 1839, poet, essayist, author.
Merrick, Leonard, 1864, novelist, dramatist.
Merriman, H. Seton, see Hugh S. Scott.
Meynell, Mrs. Alice, poetess, editor.
Middleton, Thomas, 1570–1627, dramatist, poet.
Miles, Alfred H., b. 1848, journalist.
Mill, James, 1773–1863, philosopher, political economist.
Mill, John Stuart, 1806–1873, political economist, logician.
Millais, John J., b. 1865, biographer.
Miller, Hugh, 1802–1856, geologist.
Milman, Henry H., 1791–1868, historian.
Milner, Alfred, Lord, "England in Egypt."
Milton, John, 1608–1674, poet.
Mitford, Bertram, novelist.
Mitford, Mary R., 1786–1866, novelist, memoirs.
Mitford, William, 1744–1827, historian.
Mitton, G. E., editor, novelist.
Mivart, St. George, 1827–1900, scientist, philosopher.
Moir, D. M., 1798–1851, poet, novelist.
Mogridge, George (Old Humphrey), 1787–1854, writer for juveniles.
Molesworth, Mrs. Mary L., novelist.
Montagu, Lady Mary Wortley, 1689–1762, poetess, letter-writer.
Montgomery, Florence, 1843, novelist.
Montgomery, James, 1771–1854, poet.
Moore, Frank Frankfort, 1855, novelist, dramatist.
Moore, George, poet, novelist.
Moore, Thomas, 1779–1852, poet, biographer.
More, Hannah, 1745–1833, poetess, novelist.
More, Sir Thomas, 1480–1535, historian, political philosopher.
Morgan, Lady, 1783–1837, novelist.
Morgan, Benj. H., 1874, engineer.
Morgan, Conway L., b. 1852, biologist, psychologist.
Morley, Henry, 1822–1894, literary historian.
Morley, John, 1838, biographer, historian, essayist.
Morris George P., 1802–1864, Amer. journalist, poet.
Morris, Sir Lewis, b. 1833, poet.
Morris, Judge W. O'Connor, 1824–1904, biographer, essayist.
Morris, William, 1834–1896, poet.
Morrison, Arthur, 1863, novelist.
Moscheles, Felix, 1833, painter, writer.
Motley, John Lothrop, 1814–1877, Amer. historian.
Muddock, J. E. P., b. 1843, novelist.
Müller, F. Max, 1823–1900, philologist, orientalist.
Mullinger, J. Bass, 1837, historian.
Mulock, D. M., see Craik, Mrs.
Munro, Neil, 1864, novelist.
Munro, Robert, 1835, archæologist, anthropologist.
Murfree, Mary Noailles, (Charles Egbert Craddock), 1850, Amer. novelist.
Murray, David Christie, 1847, novelist.
Murray, Dr. James A. H., 1837, lexicographer, philologist.
Murray, John, 1778–1843, publisher.
Murray, John, 1808–1892 (son of above), publisher, "Murray's Guide Books."
Murray, Sir John, 1841, scientist.
Murray, Lindley, 1745–1826, Amer. grammarian, philosopher.
Myers, Ernest, 1844, poet, author.
Myers, F. W. H., 1843–1901, writer on psychical research.
Napier, Sir Wm., 1785–1860, historian.
Nash, Thomas, 1564–1601, pamphleteer, dramatist.
Neal, Daniel, 1678–1743, historian.
Neal, John, 1793–1876, Amer. journalist, novelist, miscellaneous writer.
Neale, Rev. John Mason, 1818–1866, writer of hymns, church historian.
Nesbit, E., poet, novelist.
Nettleship, Henry, 1839–1893, scholar and editor.
Newbolt, Henry John, 1862, poet, novelist.
Newbolt, Canon W. C. E., 1844, theologian.
Newcastle, Marg., Duchess of, 1624–1673, poetess.
Newman, Geo., medical writer (bacteriology).
Newman, Cardinal John Henry, 1801–1890, theologian, poet.
Newton, Sir Isaac, 1642–1727, natural philosopher.
Nichol, John, 1833–1894, man of letters.
Nicholl, W. Robertson, 1851, editor, critic.
Nicholson, Edward W. B., 1849, poet, theologian.
Nisbet, Hume, 1849, novelist.
Noel, Hon. Roden, 1834–1894, poet.
Norman, H., travels, economics.
Norris, Wm. Ed., 1846, novelist.
North, Christopher, see John Wilson.
North, Sir Thomas, 1535–1601, translator (Plutarch).
Norton, Caroline, 1809–1877, poetess, novelist.
Norton, Charles Eliot, 1827, Amer. translator (Dante), history.
Norton, Thomas, 1532–1584, dramatist, poet.
O'Brien, Richard B., 1847, historian, biographer.
Ockley, Simon, 1678–1720, historian.
O'Connor, Thos. P., 1848, editor, critic.
O'Keeffe, John, 1747–1833, dramatist.
O'Leary, Arthur, 1729–1802, theologian, essayist.
Oldham, John, 1653–1683, satirist.
Oldmixon, John, 1673–1742, historian.
Oldys, William, 1696–1761, biographer.
Oliphant, L., 1829, novelist, traveller.
Oliphant, Margaret, 1820–1897, novelist, biographer.
Oman, John Campbell, 1841, orientalist (India).
Oman, Chas. W. C., 1860, historian.
Opie, Amelia, 1769–1853, novelist.
Oppenheim, Edward P., 1866, novelist.
Orr, Mrs. Sutherland, writer on Browning.
O'Shaughnessy, A. W. E., 1844–1881, poet.
Otway, Thomas, 1651–1685, dramatist.
Ouida (Louise de la Ramée), novelist.
Overbury, Sir Thomas, 1581–1613, poet.

Owen, Robert D., 1804–1877, Amer. spiritualist, social reformer.
Owen, Robert, 1771–1858, socialist.
Owen, Sir Richard, 1804–1892, zoologist, anatomist.
Oxenham, John, novelist.
Pain, Barry, novelist.
Paine, Thomas, 1737–1809, nationalist and revolutionist writer.
Paley, William, 1745–1805, philosopher, theologian.
Palgrave, Sir Francis, 1788–1861, historian.
Palgrave, Sir Francis Turner, 1824–1897, poet, editor of poetry.
Palmer, E. H., 1840–1882, orientalist.
Parker, John Henry, 1806–1884, archæologist, church historian.
Parker, Sir Gilbert, M.P., 1862, novelist, historian.
Parker, Matthew, 1504–1575, theologian, biographer.
Parker, Theodore, 1810–1900, Amer. theological writer.
Parkman, Francis, 1823–1893, Amer. historian.
Parley, Peter, see Goodrich.
Parton, James, 1822–1891, Amer. biographer, miscellaneous writer.
Pater, Walter H., 1839–1894, critic, humanist.
Patmore, Coventry, 1823–1896, poet.
Pattison, Mark, 1813–1884, philosopher, literary critic.
Paulding, James Kirke, 1779–1860, Amer. poet, novelist.
Payne, James, 1830–1898, novelist.
Payne, John, 1842, novelist, poet.
Payne, John Howard, 1792–1852, Amer. dramatist, writer of "Home, Sweet Home."
Peacock, Thomas Love, 1785–1866, novelist, poet.
Peard, Frances M., novelist.
Pearson, John (Bishop), 1612–1686, expositor.
Pearson, Karl, 1857, mathematician, statistician.
Peele, George, c. 1558–1598, poet, dramatist.
Pemberton, Max, 1863, editor, novelist.
Pennell, H. Cholmondeley, 1837, writer on angling and sport.
Pennell, Joseph, 1860, book illustrator.
Pepys, Samuel, 1632–1703, diarist.
Percival, James G., 1795–1856, Amer. scholar, poet.
Percy, Thomas, 1728–1811, collector of ballads.
Perry, Nora, 1841–1896, Amer. poetess.
Petrie, W. M. Flinders, 1853, Egyptologist, archæologist.
Petty, Sir William, 1623–1687, political economist.
Phelps, Elizabeth Stuart (Mrs. Ward), 1844, Amer. novelist.
Philips, Ambrose, 1671–1749, poet.
Phillips, Stephen, 1868, poet.
Phillpotts, Eden, 1862, novelist.
Piatt, John James, 1835, Amer. poet, journalist.
Pinero, Arthur W., 1855, dramatist.
Piozzi, Hester Lynch (previously Thrale), 1739–1821, anecdotes of Dr. Johnson.
Planché, J. R., 1796–1880, herald, playwright.
Poe, Edgar Allan, 1811–1849, Amer. metaphysician.
Pollard, A. W., 1859, literary critic and historian.
Pollock, Sir Fred., 1845, editor and author (law-books).
Pollok, Robert, 1799–1827, poet.
Pope, Alexander, 1688–1744, poet, satirist, translator.
Porson, Richard, 1759–1808, classical scholar.
Porter, Anna M., 1781–1832 } sisters,
Porter, Jane, 1776–1850 } novelists.
Powell, F. York, 1850–1904, historian.
Poynter, Sir E. J., P.R.A., 1836, writer on art and painting.
Praed, Mrs. Campbell, 1825, novelist.
Praed, W. M., 1802–1839, poet.
Prescott, William Hickling, 1796–1859, Amer. historian.
Preston, Margaret J., 1825–1897, Amer. poetess.
Prichard, H. Hesketh, 1876, novelist.
Priestley, Joseph, 1733–1804, scientist, philosopher.
Prior, Matthew, 1666–1721, poet.
Procter, Adelaide A., 1825–1864, poetess.
Proctor, Bryan W. (Barry Cornwall), 1787–1874, poet.
Prothero, R. E., 1852, biographer.
Prynne, William, 1600–1669, Puritan satirist.
Pugin, Augustus W., 1811–1852, writer on architecture.
Purchas, Samuel, 1577–1626, compiler of travels and voyages.
Pusey, Dr. Edward B., 1800–1882, High Church theologian.
Quarles, Francis, 1592–1644, poet.
Quiller-Couch, A. T. ("Q"), 1863, novelist, poet.
Radcliffe, Ann, 1764–1823, novelist.
Raleigh, Sir Walter, 1552–1618, historian, poet.
Raleigh, Walter, 1861, literary historian.
Ramsay, Allan, 1685–1758, poet.
Ramsay, Wm. Mitchell, 1851, New Testament critic, explorer.
Randolph, Thomas, 1605–1634, poet.
Rawlinson, G. (Canon), 1812–1902, historian, orientalist.
Rawlinson, Sir Henry, 1810–1895, Assyriologist.
Rawnsley, H. D. (Canon), 1850, poet, essayist.
Reade, Charles, 1814–1884, novelist.
Reid, Captain Mayne, 1818–1883, novelist.
Reid, Dr. Thomas, 1710–1796, philosopher, psychologist.
Reid, Sir T. Wemyss, 1842, biographer.
Remus, Uncle, see Harris.
Reynolds, Sir Joshua, 1723–1792, discourses on painting.
Ricardo, David, 1772–1823, political economist.
Richardson, Samuel, 1689–1761, novelist.
Riddell, Mrs. J. H., 1832, novelist.
Ridge, W. Pett, novelist.
Rigg, Rev. James H., b. 1821, theologian, biographer.
Rita, see Humphreys, Mrs. D.
Ritchie, Mrs., see Thackeray.
Ritson, Joseph, 1752–1803, balladist.
Robert of Gloucester, c. 1280, chronicler.
Roberts, Earl, 1832, military history.
Robertson, Rev. Fred. W., 1816–1853, preacher.
Robertson, Tom, 1829–1871, dramatist.
Robertson, William, 1721–1793, historian.
Robinson, G. (Canon), 1812, Old Testament critic, orientalist.
Rochester, John W., Earl of, 1647–1680, poet, satirist.
Rogers, J. E. Thorold, 1823–1890, economic historian.
Rogers, Samuel, 1763–1855, poet.
Rolfe, Fred. Wm., novelist.
Romanes, Prof. G. J., 1848–1894, naturalist.
Roosevelt, Theodore (Pres. U.S.A.), 1858, naval hist., adventure, ethics.
Ropes, Arthur R., 1859, librettist, poet.
Rose, J. Holland, 1855, historian.
Rosebery, The Earl of, b. 1847, biographer, essayist, critic.
Rossetti, Christina G., 1830–1894, poetess.
Rossetti, Dante Gabriel, 1828–1882, poet.
Rossetti, Wm. Michael, 1829, poet, biographer, critic.
Round, John Horace, 1854, historian.
Rowe, Nicholas, 1673–1718, poet, dramatist.
Rowley, William, c. 1620, dramatist.
Royce, Josiah, Amer. philosophical writer.
Rush, Benjamin, 1745–1813, Amer. physician.
Ruskin, John, 1819–1900, art critic, philosopher.
Russell, John, Earl, 1792–1878, biographer.
Russell, Dr. William, 1746–1794, historian.
Russell, William Clark, 1844, novelist (sea-stories).
Russell, Sir William H., b. 1821, journalist, war correspondent.
Rutherford, Mark, see W. H. White.
Sackville, Thomas, Lord, 1536–1608, poet.
Saintsbury, Geo. E. B., 1845, literary historian and critic.
Sala, George Augustus, 1828–1895, misc. writer.
Sale, George, 1680–1736, translator.
Salmon, Rev. Geo., 1819–1904, mathematics, theology.
Sanday, Rev. Wm., 1843, Biblical critic.
Savage, Richard, 1698–1743, poet.
Savage-Armstrong, G. F., 1845, poet, dramatist.
Saxe, John Godfrey, 1816–1887, Amer. humorous poet.
Sayce, Archibald H., 1846, philologist, orientalist.
Schoolcraft, Henry R., 1793–1864, Amer. writer on Red Indian legends.
Scott, Clement, 1841–1904, dramatic critic.
Scott, Hugh S. (H. Seton Merriman), d. 1904, novelist.
Scott, Michael, 1789–1835, novelist.
Scott, Sir Walter, 1771–1832, poet, novelist.
Seaman, Owen, 1861, parodist, humorist.
Seccombe, Thomas, 1866, literary historian.
Sedgwick, Catherine M., 1789–1867, Amer. novelist.
Sedley, Sir Charles, 1639–1701, poet, dramatist.
Seeley, Henry G., 1839, geologist.
Seeley, Sir John R., 1834–1895, historian, essayist, theologian.
Selden, John, 1584–1654, antiquarian, historian.
Selous, Fred. C., 1851, sporting writer.
Sergeant, Adeline, 1851–1904, novelist.
Seth, Prof. Jas., philosophical writer.
Seton-Thompson, Ernest, 1860, Amer. artist, writer on wild animals.
Settle, Elkanah, 1648–1724, poet, dramatist.
Seward, William H., 1801–1872, Amer. orator, essayist, statesman.
Sewell, Elizabeth M., b. 1815, novelist.
Shadwell, Thomas, 1640–1692, poet, dramatist.
Shairp, J. C., 1819–1885, scholar, literary critic.
Shakespeare, William, 1564–1616, poet, dramatist.
Sharp, William, 1856, novelist, biographer, critic.
Shaw, George Bernard, 1856, essayist, dramatist.
Shelley, Mrs. Mary W., 1797–1851, novelist, editor.
Shelley, Percy Bysshe, 1792–1822, poet.
Shenstone, William, 1714–1763, poet.
Sheridan, Richard Brinsley, 1751–1816, dramatist, wit.
Sherlock, Dr. Wm., 1641–1707, theologian.
Shiel, M. P., 1865, novelist.
Shirley, James, 1596–1666, dramatist, poet.
Shorter, Clement K., editor, essayist.
Shorthouse, J. H., 1834–1903, novelist.
Sidgwick, Arthur, b. 1840, classical scholar.
Sidgwick, Henry, 1838–1900, philosopher, political economist.
Sidney, Algernon, 1622–1683, political scientist.
Sidney, Sir Philip, 1544–1586, poet.
Sigourney, Mrs. (Lydia Huntley), 1791–1865, Amer. poetess, miscellaneous writer.

Simms, William Gilmore, 1806–1870, Amer. poet, novelist, historian.
Sims, George R., 1847, editor, dramatist, poet.
Skeat, Rev. W. W., b. 1835, philologist, lexicographer.
Skelton, John, c. 1460–1529, poet, satirist, dramatist.
Skrine, John H., 1848, poet, theologian.
Sladen, Douglas (Brooke Wheelton), b. 1856, editor, traveller, novelist, poet.
Smedley, F. E. 1818–1864, novelist.
Smiles, Samuel, 1812–1904, philosopher, biographer.
Smith, Adam, 1723–1790, philosopher, political economist.
Smith, Alexander, 1830–1867, poet.
Smith, Goldwin, 1823, historian, biographer, essayist.
Smith, Rev. J. Gregory, philosophical writer.
Smith, Horace, 1779–1849 } joint authors,
Smith, James, 1775–1839 } etc.
Smith, Horace and James, c. 1775–1850, joint authors of "Rejected Addresses."
Smith, Sydney, 1771–1845, humorist, political writer.
Smith, W. Robertson, 1846–1894, biblical critic, editor Ency. Brit.
Smith, Sir William, 1813–1894, editor of Classical Encyclopædia.
Smollett, Tobias G., 1721–1771, novelist, satirist, historian.
Somerville, Mrs., 1780–1872, scientific writer.
Somerville, William, 1692–1742, poet.
South, Robert, 1633–1716, theologian.
Southern, Thomas, 1660–1746, poet, dramatist.
Southey, Robert, 1774–1843, poet, historian.
Southwell, Robert, 1560–1595, poet.
Sparks, Jared, 1789–1866, Amer. biographer, historian.
Speed, John, 1552–1629, historian.
Spence, Rev. H. D., 1836, historian, commentator.
Spencer, Herbert, 1820–1903, philosopher.
Spenser, Edmund, 1553–1599, poet.
Spielmann, Marion H., b. 1858, editor, art critic, biographer.
Spofford, Harriet P., 1835, Amer. poetess, novelist.
Sprague, Charles, 1791–1875, Amer. poet.
Sprat, Thomas, 1635–1713, historian, biographer.
Spurgeon, Charles H., 1834–1892, sermons.
Staley, Rev. Vernon, church ceremonial, theology.
Stanhope, Philip D., Earl, 1805–1875, historian.
Stanley, Arthur P. (Dean), 1815–1881, historian, biographer.
Stanley, Sir H. M., 1841, African traveller.
Stannard, Mrs. (John Strange Winter), 1856, novelist.
Stead, William T., 1849, journalist, topical writer, editor ("Review of Reviews").
Stebbing, Rev. T. R., 1835, naturalist, zoologist.
Stedman, Edmund Clarence, 1833, Amer. editor, poet, critic.
Steel, Mrs. Flora A., 1847, novelist.
Steele, F. M., novelist.
Steele, Sir Richard, 1671–1729, dramatist, essayist.
Steevens, G. W., 1870–1900, journalist, war correspondent.
Stephen, Sir Leslie, 1832–1904, critic, biographer.
Stephens, Riccardo, 1860, novelist.
Sterling, John, 1806–1844, essayist.
Sterne, Lawrence, 1713–1768, novelist, divine.
Stevenson, Robert Louis, 1850–1894, novelist, essayist, poet.
Stewart, Dugald, 1753–1828, philosopher.
Stillingfleet, Edward (Bishop), 1635–1699, theologian, controversialist.
St. John, Henry, Viscount, 1678–1751, philosopher, essayist.
Stirling-Maxwell, Sir William, 1818–1878, historian, biographer.
Stockton, Frank Richard, 1834–1902, Amer. journalist, novelist.
Stoddard, Richard Henry, 1825–1903, Amer. critic, poet.
Stoker, Bram, novelist.
Stokes, Whitley, 1830, philologist (Celtic).
Storr, Francis, 1839, educationalist, literary critic.
Stout, George F., 1860, psychologist.
Stow, John, 1525–1605, chronicler.
Stowe, Harriet Beecher, 1812–1896, Amer. novelist (Uncle Tom's Cabin).
Street, Alfred B., 1811–1881, Amer. poet, librarian.
Strickland, Agnes, 1806–1874, historian.
Strype, John, 1643–1737, annalist, biographer.
Strange, E. F., 1862, writer on Japanese art.
Stubbs, Rev. Chas. W., 1845, Christian socialist.
Stubbs, William, (Bishop), 1825–1901, historian.
Suckling, Sir John, 1609–1641, poet, dramatist.
Sully, James, 1842, psychologist.
Sumner, Charles, 1811–1874, Amer. orator, statesman.
Surrey, Henry Howard, Earl of, 1516–1547, poet.
Sutcliffe, Halliwell, 1870, novelist.
Sutro, Alfred, dramatist.
Swan, Annie S., novelist.
Sweet, Henry, 1845, philologist.
Swift, Jonathan, 1667–1745, satirist, pamphleteer.
Swinburne, Algernon C., 1837, poet, critic, essayist.
Symonds, John A., 1840–1893, historian, poet, critic.
Symons, Arthur, 1865, poet, critic.
Tanner, Thomas, 1674–1735, historian.
Taylor, Bayard, 1825–1878, Amer. writer, poet, naturalist.
Taylor, Sir Henry, 1805–1886, dramatic poet.
Taylor, Rev. Isaac, 1829–1901, philologist.
Taylor, Jeremy, 1613–1667, theologian.
Taylor, Tom, 1817–1880, dramatist.
Tegetmeier, Wm. B., 1816, natural historian.
Temple, Sir Wm., 1628–1698, essayist.
Tennyson, Alfred, Lord, 1809–1892, poet.
Tennyson, Charles (brother of above), 1808–1879, poet.
Tennyson, Frederick, 1807 (brother of above), poet.
Thackeray, Anne Isabel (Mrs. Ritchie), 1838, novelist, miscellaneous writer.
Thackeray, Wm. Makepeace, 1811–1863, novelist, essayist, satirist.
Theague, Rev. J. J., see Gerard.
Thomas, Annie, novelist.
Thompson, Sir E. Maunde, 1840, Director British Museum.
Thomson, J. A., natural history.
Thomson, James, 1700–1748, poet.
Thomson, James, 1834–1882, poet.
Thomson, Sir William, see Lord Kelvin.
Thoreau, Henry David, 1817–1862, Amer. on travel, poet, novelist.
Thornbury, Walter, 1828–1876, novelist, poet.
Thornton, Percy M., 1841, historian.
Thrale, Mrs., see Piozzi.
Thurston, Kath. C., novelist.
Tickell, Thomas, 1686–1740, poet.
Tiddiman, Lizzie E., novelist, writer for children.
Tillotson, John (Archbishop), 1630–1694, theologian.
Todhunter, John, 1839, poet, critic.
Tooke, J. Horne, 1736–1812, philologist.
Torrey, Reuben Archer, 1856, revivalist preacher, theologian.
Tourgee, Albion Winegar, 1838, Amer. novelist.
Tout, Thomas Fred., 1855, historian.
Toynbee, Paget J., b. 1855, modern linguist.
Toynbee, William, 1849, poet.
Traill, Henry D., 1842–1900, literary critic, miscellaneous writer.
Trench, Richard C., 1807–1886, philologist, theologian.
Trevelyan, Sir Geo. O., 1838, biographer.
Trevelyan, George M., 1876, historian.
Tristram, Canon H. B., 1822, traveller, naturalist.
Trollope, Anthony, 1815–1882, novelist.
Trollope, Mrs. F., 1779–1863, novelist.
Trotter, Captain L. J., 1827, historian, biographer.
Trowbridge, John Townsend, 1827, Amer. writer for boys, poet, editor.
Tucker, Abraham, 1705–1774, metaphysician.
Tucker, Maria Charlotte (A.L.O.E.), 1821–1893, writer for children.
Tullock, Rev. W. W., 1846, biographer.
Tupper, Martin F., 1810–1889, philosopher, poet.
Turberville, George, c. 1530–1595, poet.
Turner, Chas. Tennyson, 1808–1879, poet.
Turner, Sharon, 1768–1847, historian.
Tuttiett, M. G., see Gray, Maxwell.
Twain, Mark, see Clemens.
Tweedie, Mrs. Alec., traveller.
Tylor, Edward B., 1832, anthropologist.
Tynan, Katharine, 1861, novelist, poetess.
Tyndale, William, c. 1485–1536, translator of Bible.
Tyndall, John, 1820–1893, scientist.
Tyrrell, Prof. R. Y., 1844, classical scholar.
Tytler, Sarah, 1827, novelist.
Udall, Nicholas, 1506–1564, dramatist, translator.
Urquhart, Sir Thomas, 1605–1660, translator, poet.
Usher, James (Archbishop), 1580–1656, theologian.
Vachell, Horace A., 1861, novelist, traveller.
Vanbrugh, Sir John, 1672–1726, dramatist.
Vane, Frank S., 1847, novelist.
Vaughan, Rev. C.T., 1816–1897, theologian.
Vaughan, Henry, 1614–1695, poet.
Vernham, Miss K. E., 1858, writer of children's books.
Verplanck, Gulian C., 1786–1870, Amer. legist, literary editor.
Vincent, Sir Howard, 1849, military critic.
Visger, Mrs. J. A. Owen, journalist.
Voysey, Charles, 1828, theistic writer.
Wace, Rev. Henry D.D. (Dean), b. 1838, theologian, ecclesiastical historian.
Wace, Robert, c. 1170, chronicler.
Wagner, Leopold, 1858, miscellaneous writer (drama, names, etc.).
Waldstein, Charles, 1856, art critic and essayist.
Walford, Lucy B., 1845, novelist.
Walker, Archibald S., 1869, biographer, essayist.
Walker, Hugh, 1855, literary critic.
Walkley, A. B., 1855, dramatic critic.
Wallace, Lewis (Lew), 1827–1905, Amer. novelist.
Wallace, Alfred Russel, 1823, scientist, natural historian.
Waller, Edmund, 1605–1687, poet.
Wallis, John, 1616–1703, philosopher, logician.
Walpole, Horace, 1717–1797, satirist, historian.
Walsingham, Thomas, 1440, historian.
Walton, Isaak, 1593–1683, naturalist (angling), biographer.
Warburton, Eliot, 1810–1852, traveller.
Warburton, William, 1698–1779, theologian.
Ward, Adolphus W., 1837, historian, biographer.
Ward, Artemus, see Browne.

Ward, Mrs. Humphry, 1851, novelist.
Ward, Wilfred, 1856, biographer.
Ware, William, 1797–1852, Amer. novelist, miscellaneous writer.
Warden, Florence, 1857, novelist.
Warner, Charles Dudley, 1829–1900, Amer. editor, humorist, miscellaneous writer.
Warner, Susan (Elizabeth Wetherall), 1818–1885, Amer. novelist.
Warner, William, 1558–1609, poet.
Warren, Samuel, 1807–1877, novelist.
Warren, Thomas H., 1853, classical scholar, poet, biographer.
Warton, Thomas, 1729–1790, essayist, historian.
Waterton, Charles, 1782–1865, naturalist, traveller.
Watson, Henry B. M., 1863, novelist.
Watson, John ("Ian Maclaren"), 1850–1907, novelist.
Watson, William, 1858, poet.
Watt, Francis, 1849, historian, biographer.
Watts, Dr. Isaac, 1674–1748, hymn writer.
Watts-Dunton, Theodore, 1832, critic, novelist, poet.
Waugh, Arthur, 1866, biographer, editor.
Webb, Sidney, 1859, writer on economics.
Webster, Daniel, 1782–1852, Amer. orator, statesman, lawyer.
Webster, John, c. 1620, dramatist.
Webster, Noah, 1758–1843, Amer. lexicographer, miscellaneous writer.
Wedmore, Fred., 1844, art critic.
Wells, H. G., 1866, novelist, scientist.
Wesley, Chas. W., 1708–1788, hymnist.
Wesley, John, 1703–1791, theologian, poet.
Westcott, Brooke Foss (Bishop), 1825–1901, theologian.
Westcott, Edward Noyes, 1846–1898, Amer. author of "David Harum."
Wetherall, Elizabeth, see Susan Warner.
Weyman, Stanley J., 1855, novelist.
Whateley, Richard, 1787–1863, logician.
Wheelton, see Sladen.
Whewell, William, 1794–1866, natural philosopher.
Whibley, Charles, critic, reviewer.
Whipple, Edward P., 1819–1886, Amer. essayist, critic.
Whistler, James McNeill, 1834–1903, Amer. artist, controversial writer.
White, Arnold H., 1848, writer on social problems.
White, Gilbert, 1720–1793, naturalist.
White, Henry Kirke, 1785–1806, poet.
White, Percy, novelist, journalist.
White, Richard Grant, 1822–1885, Amer. Shakespearean scholar.
White, W. Hale (Mark Rutherford), novelist, man of letters.
Whiteing, Richard, 1840, novelist, journalist.
Whitlock, Bulstrode, 1605–1676, historian.
Whitman, Walt., 1819–1892, Amer. poet, essayist.
Whitney, Mrs. Adeline Dutton Train, 1824, Amer. poet, novelist, writer for children.
Whitney, William Dwight, 1827–1894, Amer. lexicographer, philologist.
Whittier, John Greenleaf, 1807–1892, Amer. reformer, poet, essayist.
Whymper, Edward, 1840, mountaineer, critic, writer of travels.
Whyte-Melville, Geo. J., 1821–1878, novelist.
Wiclif, John, c. 1324–1384, translator of Bible, theologian, translator.
Wilberforce, Samuel (Bishop), 1805–1873, theologian.
Wiggins, Kate Douglas, 1857, Amer. novelist.
Wilde, O. O., 1856–1900, dramatist, novelist, poet.
Wilkins, John, 1614–1672, theologian.
Wilkins, Mary E., Amer. novelist.
Wilkinson, Henry Spencer, b. 1858, military critic.
William of Malmesbury, 1095–1142, Amer. chronicler.
Williams, Ernest E. G., 1866, economist.
Williams, Henry S., scientist.
Williams, James, 1851, poet and writer on law.
Williams, Sir M. Monier, 1819, orientalist (India).
Williamson, Alice Muriel, novelist.
Williamson, Geo. C., 1858, editor, biographer.
Willis, Nathaniel Parker, 1806–1867, Amer. poet, writer on travel.
Willock, John, 1853, commentator, biographer.
Wilson, Alexander, 1766–1813, Amer. writer on birds, editor.
Wilson, Andrew, 1852, biologist, hygienist.
Wilson, John (Christopher North), 1785–1854, essayist, editor.
Winter, John Strange (Mrs. Stannard), 1856, novelist.
Winthrop, Theodore, 1828–1861, Amer. novelist, soldier.
Wirt, William, 1772–1834, Amer. orator, essayist.
Wither, George, 1588–1667, poet, satirist.
Wolcot, Dr. John (Peter Pindar), 1738–1819, satirist, poet.
Wolfe, C., 1791–1823, "Burial of Sir John Moore and other poems."
Wolseley, Viscount, b. 1833, biographer, military writer.
Wood, Anthony à, 1632–1695, historian.
Wood, Mrs. Henry, 1814–1887, novelist.
Wood, Rev. J. Geo., 1827–1889, naturalist.
Wood, Rev. Theodore, 1862, biologist, zoologist.
Woods, Mrs. M. L., 1856, poetess, novelist.
Woodworth, Samuel, 1785–1842, Amer. poet.
Woolsey, T. Dwight, 1801–1889, Amer. essayist and classical scholar.
Wordsworth, Christopher, 1807–1884, (Bishop), historian, theologian.
Wordsworth, Rev. Christopher, b. 1848, editor, classical scholar.
Wordsworth, William, 1770–1850, poet.
Worsley, P., 1831–1866, translator, poet.
Wotton, Sir Henry, 1568–1639, poet.
Wright, Thomas, b. 1859, biographer.
Wright, W. Aldis, 1862, editor, scholar, author.
Wyatt, Sir Thomas, 1503–1542, poet.
Wycherley, William, 1640–1715, dramatist, poet.
Wynne, Chas. W., 1869, poet.
Wyntoun, Andrew, d. 1420, Scottish chronicler.
Yates, Edmund, 1831–1894, novelist.
Yeats, William B., b. 1865, Irish poet, dramatist.
Yonge, Charlotte M., 1823–1901, novelist, historian, biographer.
Yorke, Curtis (Mrs. S. R. Lee), novelist.
Young, Arthur, 1741–1820, traveller, agriculturalist.
Young, Edward, 1681–1765, theologian.
Younghusband, Col. F. E., 1863, Asiatic explorer.
Yoxall, James H., 1857, novelist, educationalist.
Zangwill, Israel, 1864, novelist, dramatist.
Zangwill, Louise, b. 1869, novelist.

PSEUDONYMS.

Pseudonyms (fictitious names) are often assumed by a writer for securing greater freedom to express his opinions. It has not always been safe to write frankly on religious or political subjects, and in times when no personal danger is incurred by the expression of unorthodox or subversive opinions on such subjects, the use of a pseudonym affords a convenient cover under which to attack long-established customs and beliefs. A young writer may also think it expedient to assume a nom de plume or "pen-name" to conceal his identity in case of failure. If, on the other hand, his work is favourably received he generally finds it to his advantage to continue to use the name associated with his writings in the minds of the public. "George Eliot," for instance, soon became a household word among the reading public, but a new work by Marian Evans (the author's real name) would have had to work its way to the front at a comparatively slow pace. Authors have also sometimes stuck to a pseudonym, or preserved their anonymity, to whet the curiosity of the public and to provoke discussion as to the authorship of the book so many are reading. The author of "Waverley" launched his first novel into the world anonymously, because he regarded it as a doubtful experiment, but he probably kept on his mask to obviate all personal discussions as to his productions and to stimulate interest and curiosity therein. The talk about the "Great Unknown" must also have afforded him much secret enjoyment. Many authors having published their first successful work anonymously have continued to withhold their name by speaking of themselves as the author of so-and-so; thus Mrs. Craik (née Muloch) appeared on the title page of her subsequent works as the author of "John Halifax, Gentleman"; G. A. Lawrence, as the author of "Guy Livingstone"; Mrs. Charles as the author of "Chronicles of the Schönberg-Cotta Family"; and F. W. Robinson as the author of "Grandmother's Money." The pseudonyms of authors are sometimes transposed forms, more or less exact, of their names; thus Bryan Waller Proctor becomes "Barry Cornwall, poet"; Henry Rogers, "R. E. H. Gregson." It may be noted, however, that these two pseudonyms are not perfect anagrams as an "r" has been left out in both cases. The most remarkable pseudonym of this class is the name "Voltaire," which the celebrated philosopher assumed instead of his family name "François Marie Arouet," and which is now generally allowed to be an anagram of Arouet L. J., that is, Arouet the Younger. The following list of pseudonyms contains chiefly the best known of those adopted by British and American authors.

Adeler, Max	Chas. Heber Clark
Agapida, Friar Antonio	Washington Irving
A. K. H. B.	Dr. A. K. H. Boyd
A. L. O. E.	Charlotte M. Tucker
Alexander, Mrs.	Mrs. A. F. Hector
Amateur Casual	Jas. Greenwood
Anglicanus	Dean Stanley
Anstey, F.	F. Anstey Guthrie
Ape ("Vanity Fair")	Carlo Pellegrini
Atlas ("The World")	Edmund Yates
Aunt Judy	Mrs. Alfred Gatty
Bab	W. S. Gilbert
Balfour, Clara	Mrs. Hemans
Bede, Cuthbert	Rev. Edw. Bradley
Bell, Acton	Annie Brontë
Bell, Currer	Charlotte Brontë
Bell, Ellis	Emily Brontë
Berwick, Mary	Adelaide Anne Procter
Bickerstaff, Isaac	Dean Swift
Bickerstaff, Isaac	Sir Richard Steele
Biglow, Hosea	J. Russell Lowell
Blacksmith, The Learned	Elihu Burritt
Boldrewood, Rolf	T. A. Browne
Bon Gaultier	W. E. Aytoun
Bon Gaultier	Sir Theo. Martin
Bostonian	Edgar Allan Poe
Boz	Charles Dickens
Brietmann, Hans	C. Godfrey Leland
Brown, Mrs.	George Rose
Brown, Pisistratus	William Black
Brown, Tom	Thomas Hughes
Burchall, Old	Elihu Burritt
Bystander	Goldwin Smith
Carmen, Sylva	Elizabeth, Queen of Roumania
Carroll, Lewis	Rev. C. L. Dodgson
Cavendish	Henry Jones
Carton, Pisistratus	Lord Lytton
Cleeve, Lucas	Mrs. Kingscote
Cleishbotham, Jedediah	Sir Walter Scott
Coffin, Joshua	H. W. Longfellow
Conway, Hugh	F. Fargus
Cornwall, Barry	B. W. Proctor
Country Parson	Dr. A. K. H. Boyd
Crayon, Geoffrey	Washington Irving
C. S. C.	C. S. Calverley
Dagonet	G. R. Sims
Dangerfield, John	Oswald Crawford
Delta	D. M. Moir
Democritus, Junior	Robert Burton
Donovan Dick	J. E. P. Muddock
Dunshunner Augustus	W. E. Aytoun
Elia	Charles Lamb
Eliot, George	Mrs. Cross (née Marian Evans)
Ettrick Shepherd	James Hogg
Fairleigh, Frank	Frank E. Smedley
Fane, Violet	Lady Currie
Fern, Fanny	Mrs. Sarah Parton
Graduate of Oxford	John Ruskin
Graham, Ennis	Mrs. Molesworth
Gray, Maxwell	Miss M. G. Tuttiett
Greenwood, Grace	Mrs. Lippincott
H. H.	Mrs. Helen Hunt Jackson
Historicus	Sir William Vernon Harcourt
Hobbes, John Oliver	Mrs. Craigie
Hope, Anthony	A. Hope Hawkins
Hornem, Horace	Lord Byron
Iconoclast	Charles Bradlaugh
Ingoldsby, Thomas	Rev. R. H. Barham
Iron, Ralph	Olive Schreiner
Jean, Paul	J. P. F. Richter
Junius	Sir Philip Francis
Knickerbocker, Diedrich	Washington Irving
Latouche, John	Oswald Crawford
Laurence, Slingsby	Geo. H. Lewes
L. E. L.	Letitia E. Landon
Limner, Luke	Sir John Leighton
Little, Thomas	Thomas Moore
Ludlow, Johnny	Mrs. Henry Wood
Lyall, Edna	Ada Ellen Bayly
Maclaren, Ian	Rev. John Watson
Macleod, Fiona	William Sharp
Maitland, Thomas	R. Buchanan
Malet, Lucas	Mrs. W. Harrison (d. of C. Kingsley)
Malagrowther Malachi	Sir Walter Scott
Meredith, Owen	Lord Lytton
Merriman, H. Seton	Hugh Stowell Scott
New Writer, A	Sir Lewis Morris
North, Christopher	Prof. John Wilson
O'Dowd, Cornelius	Charles J. Lever
Ogilvie, Gavin	J. M. Barrie
Old Humphrey	G. Mogridge
Old Merry	E. Hodder
Opium Eater	T. De Quincey
O' Rell, Max	Paul Blouet
Ouida	Louise de la Ramée
Painter, A	Sir Noel Paton
Parley, Peter	S. G. Goodrich and others
Person of Quality	Dean Swift
Phiz	Hablot K. Browne
Pindar, Peter	Dr. John Wolcot
Plymley, Peter	Sydney Smith
Poor Richard	Benjamin Franklin
Power, Cecil	Grant Allen
Prendergast, Paul	Douglas Jerrold
Q.	A. T. Quiller-Couch
Quiz	Charles Dickens
Rita	Mrs. D. Humphreys
Roslyn, Guy	Joseph Hatton
St. Aubyn, Allan	Mrs. Marshall
Sand, George	Madame Dudevant
Scriblerus Martinus	Arbuthnot, Pope, Swift
S. G. O.	Lord Sydney. Godolphin Osborne
Sharp, Luke	Robert Barr
Shirley	John Skelton
Sketchley, Arthur	Rev. George Rose
Slick, Sam	Hon. T. C. Haliburton
Slingsby, Philip	N. P. Willis
Sloper, Ally	C. H. Ross
Spectator	A. B. Walkley
Syntax, Dr.	William Combe
Teufelsdröckh	Thomas Carlyle
Tirebuck, W.	William Sharp
Titcomb, Timothy	J. G. Holland
Titmarsh, Michael Angelo	W. M. Thackeray
Toby, M.P.	Henry W. Lucy
Twain, Mark	S. L. Clemens
Uncle Remus	J. C. Harris
Vacuus Viator	Thomas Hughes
Voltaire	François M. Arouet
Ward, Artemus	C. F. Browne
Wetherall, Elizabeth	Susan Warner
Wilson, J. Arbuthnot	Grant Allen
Winter, John Strange	Mrs. Stannard
Zadkiel	Capt. R. J. Morrison

FORMATION OF A PRIVATE LIBRARY.

It will be understood that the intention of the compiler of the appended list of books is not to supply a professional man with the technical implements of his profession, but to give to an intelligent book-lover some light and guidance in the gradual stocking of his home-shelves. Much money is wasted in early life by the purchase of inferior literature. We trust we are not flattering a vain hope when with some confidence we recommend the annexed list as one likely to place in the hands of the intelligent reader the best of its kind in each department of literature. We have limited our selection to 500 books, but of course the number of volumes will considerably exceed this; and if the purchaser feels that he must stop far short of our list, he will no doubt find some assistance by its guidance in drawing upon the contents of the Public Library in his neighbourhood. When we cannot buy, it is a great thing if we can borrow.

PHILOSOPHY.

ADAMSON	Development of modern philosophy.
HOFFDING	History of modern philosophy.
JOWETT	Dialogues of Plato.
KANT	Philosophy of, (Edward Caird).
LECKY	European morals.
LLOYD-MORGAN	Int. to comparative psychology
LUTHARDT	History of Christian ethics.
MARTINEAU	Study of Spinoza.
MASSON	British philosophy.
MILL	Comte and positivism.
MÜLLER	Six systems of Indian philosophy.
MYERS	Human personality.
ROYCE	Outlines of psychology.
SAISSET	Essay on Religious Philosophy. English translation, T. and T. Clark, Edinburgh.
SETH	A study of ethical principles.
SIDGWICK	History of ethics.
SMITH	Ethics of Aristotle.
SPENCER	First principles.
,,	Principles of ethics.
STOUT	Manual of psychology.
VEITCH	Method, meditations of Descartes.

THEOLOGY.

THE BIBLE	Revised Version.
AUGUSTINE, ST.	Confessions.
BUTLER	Analogy of religion
CARPENTER	Popular history of the Church of England.
CHURCH	The Oxford movement.
CRIGHTON	History of the Papacy.
DRIVER	Introduction to Old Testament.
FAIRBAIRN	The philosophy of the Christian religion.
FARRAR	Life of Christ.
JULIAN	Dictionary of hymnology.
KEBLE	Christian year and sermons.
KEMPIS, T. a	Imitation of Christ.
LIGHTFOOT	Biblical essays.
LUX MUNDI	Theological Essays.
MARTINEAU	Study of religion.
MAURICE	Theological essays.
MULLER	Origin and growth of religion.
NEWMAN	Apologia pro vita sua, and parochial sermons.
PASCAL	Letters.
RAMSAY	The Church in the Roman Empire.
ROBERTSON OF BRIGHTON	Sermons.
SALMON	Introduction to New Testament.
SANDAY	The Gospels in the second century.
SAYCE	Races of the Old Testament
,,	Religions of ancient Egypt and Babylonia.
SMITH G. A.	Isaiah (2 vols).
SMITH, W. R.	The religion of the Semites.
SMITH	Dictionary of the Bible.
TAYLOR, JER.	Holy living and holy dying.
WESTCOTT	History of the English Bible.

PHILOLOGY and CLASSICS.

BARDSLEY, C. W.	English surnames
CLODD, E.	The story of the alphabet.
MÜLLER, MAX.	Lectures on the science of language.
SAYCE	Introduction to the science of language.
SKEAT	Principles of English etymology.
SWEET	The history of language.
TEN BRINK, B.	Language and metre of Chaucer
THOMPSON, E. M.	Greek and Latin palæography.
WAGNER, L.	Names and their meaning
YONGE, C. M.	History of Christian names.
ÆSCHYLUS	Tragedies.
ÆSOP	Fables.
ARISTOTLE	Metaphysics.
CICERO	Orations.
DEMOSTHENES	Orations.
HERODOTUS	Works.
HOMER	Iliad.
HOMER	Odyssey.
HORACE	Odes.
MARTIAL	Epigrams.
PLATO	Republic
PLINY	Letters.
PLUTARCH	Lives.
TACITUS	Annals.
VIRGIL	Aeneid.

All these can be had in English translations, the poets often in English verse.

SCIENCE.

AFLALO	Natural history of the British Isles.
AVEBURY	Scenery of England.
BALL	The earth's beginnings.
,,	Story of the heavens.
,,	Story of the sun.

BONNEY . Volcanoes.
BUCKLAND. Natural history of British Fishes.
CARPENTER The microscope and its revelations
CHAMBERS, G. F. The weather.
DARWIN . Descent of man.
,, . Origin of species.
DENIKER . Races of man.
DIXON . British birds.
,, . Our favourite song birds.
GEIKIE . Scenery of Scotland.
HAMMER . Radium and other radio-active substances.
HUXLEY . Man's place in nature.
JEFFERIES . Life of the fields.
,, . Wild Life.
KEARTON, R. With Nature and a camera.
KELVIN, LORD Molecular dynamics.
LOCKYER . Astronomy.
MAETERLINCK The life of the bee.
MARR J. E. Scientific study of scenery.
NEWMAN . Bacteria.
SCHARFF . History of European fauna.
SERVISS . Pleasures of the telescope.
STORY . Story of wireless telegraphy.
THOMSON, J. A. Outlines of zoology.
TYNDALL . Glaciers of the Alps.
WHITE . Natural history of Selborne.
WILLIAMS . Story of 19th century science.

FINE ARTS.

ANDERSON & SPIERS Architectures of Greece and Rome.
BATE, PERCY. The English Pre-Raphaelite painters.
BROWN, G. B Arts in early England.
,, The fine arts.
COLLIGNON . Manual of mythology in relation to Greek art.
COLLINGWOOD, W. G. The art teaching of John Ruskin.
CONWAY, SIR W. M. Artistic development of Reynolds and Gainsborough.
,, The dawn of art in the ancient world.
,, Early Tuscan art.
CRANE. . Bases of design.
,, . . The claims of decorative art.
,, . . Decorative illustration of books.
FERGUSSON History of architecture in all countries.
,, Illustrated handbook of architecture.
FITZGERALD. History of the English stage.
,, Romance of the English stage.
FLAXMAN . Lectures on sculpture.
FLETCHER, B. History of architecture.
HAMERTON, P. G. Drawing and engraving.
HARRISON, JANE E. Introductory study in Greek art.
HULME, F. E. The history of symbolism in Christian art.
JAMESON, MRS. Legends of the Monastic Orders as represented in the fine arts.
,, Sacred and legendary art.
LLOYD, H. G. Short history of ancient Greek sculpture.
LETHABY, W. R. Architecture, mysticism and myth.
PENNELL, JOS. Modern illustration.
PITRIT, W. M. F. Egyptian decorative art.
PRYTHIAN, J. E. The story of art in the British Isles.
POYNTER . Lectures on art.
RUSKIN . Aratra Pentelici: lectures on sculpture.
,, . Ariadne Florentina: lectures on wood and metal engraving.
,, . Lectures on architecture and painting.
,, . Lectures on art.
,, . Modern painters.
,, . Seven lamps of architecture.
,, . Stones of Venice.
,, . The two paths: lectures on art.
STRANGE, E. F. Japanese illustration.
WALPOLE . Anecdotes of painting.
WITT, R. C. How to look at pictures.

HISTORY.

ALISON History of Europe.
ARNOLD . The Roman Empire.
BANCROFT . History of the United States.
BROWN, H. F. Venice.
BRYCE . The American commonwealth.
,, . The Holy Roman Empire
BUDGE, E. A. W. Babylonian life and history.
BURTON, J. H. History of Scotland.
CARLYLE . The French Revolution.
,, . History of Frederick the Great.
CLARENDON History of the rebellion and civil wars in England.
DOYLE, A. C. The great Boer War.
FREEMAN . General sketch of European history.
FROUDE . History of England.
,, . The Spanish story of the Armada.
GARDINER . History of the Commonwealth and Protectorate.
,, History of the great civil war.
GIBBON . The decline and fall of the Roman Empire.
GREEN . Short history of the English people.
GREY, J. G. Australasia, old and new.
GROTE . History of Greece.
HAZLITT . The Venetian Republic: its rise, its growth, and its fall.
HUNTER . History of British India.
JEBB . . Modern Greece.
KINGLAKE. The invasion of the Crimea.
LANG . . A history of Scotland from the Roman occupation.
M'CARTHY . A history of our own times.
MACAULAY. A history of England.
MICHELET . History of France.
MILMAN . Latin Christianity.
,, . History of the Jews
MOTLEY . Rise of the Dutch Republic.
PRESCOTT . The conquest of Mexico.
,, . History of the reign of Ferdinand and Isabella.
SAYCE . Assyria; its princes, priests, and people.
,, . The "Higher Criticism," and the verdict of the monuments.
STANLEY . Historical memorials of Westminster Abbey.
STUBBS . Constitutional History.
THEALE . History of South Africa.
THIERS . History of the French Revolution.

BIOGRAPHY.

AINGER, CANON. Letters of Charles Lamb.
BOSWELL . Life of Samuel Johnson.
BROWNING. Letters of Robert and E. B. Browning.
CARLYLE, J. W. Letters and memorials.
CARLYLE . Life of John Sterling.
,, . Oliver Cromwell's letters.
CHURCHILL W. Life of Lord Randolph Churchill.
COWPER . Letters.
DARWIN, F. Life and letters of C. Darwin.
DOWDEN . Life of Shelley.
EVELYN . Diary.
FIRTH, C. H. Oliver Cromwell.
FORSTER . Life of Charles Dickens.
FROUDE . Life and letters of Erasmus.
,, . Thomas Carlyle.
GASKELL, MRS. Life of Charlotte Brontë.
KNIGHT, W. Journals of Dorothy Wordsworth.
,, . Life of Wordsworth.
LEE, SYDNEY. Life of Shakespeare.
LOCKHART . Life of Burns.
,, . Life of Sir Walter Scott.
MACKAIL . Life of William Morris.
MAURICE, F. Life of Frederick Denison Maurice.
MOORE . Letters and journals of Lord Byron.
MORLEY . Life of Gladstone.
PEPYS Diary.
PROTHERO AND BRADLEY. Life and correspondence of Dean Stanley.
ROSE, J. H. Napoleon.
ROSEBERY . Napoleon: the last phase.
,, . Pitt.
ROSSETTI, W. M. Pre-Raphaelite diaries and letters.
RUSKIN . Letters.
,, . Præterita.
SOUTHEY, C. C. Life and correspondence of Robert Southey.
SOUTHEY, ROB. Life of Nelson.
STANLEY . Life of Thomas Arnold.
SYMONDS, J. A. Life of Benvenuto Cellini.
TENNYSON, HALLAM. A memoir of Lord Tennyson.
TREVELYAN, G. O. Life and letters of Lord Macaulay.
VILLARI . Life and times of Savonarola.
WRIGHT, W. A. Letters and literary remains of Edward Fitzgerald.

TRAVELS.

ALLEN, GRANT. Paris.
,, Venice.
BENT, THEO. Tent work in Arabia.
BISHOP, MRS. Korea and her neighbours.
,, The Yangtze Valley and beyond.
BORROW . The Bible in Spain.
BRASSEY . Voyage in the "Sunbeam"
BURNABY . Through Asia Minor.
CONWAY . The Alps from end to end.
,, . The first crossing of Spitsbergen.
DE WINDT. The new Siberia.
DU CHAILLU The world of the great forest.
FOUNTAIN, PAUL. Great deserts and forests of North America.
FREEMAN . Studies of travel: Greece.
,, . Studies of travel: Italy.
GORDON, LADY DUFF. Letters from Egypt.
HARE . . Cities of Italy.
,, . Walks in Rome.
HEDIN, SVEN. Through Asia.
JOHNSON, SIR HARRY. Uganda Protectorate.
KINGSLEY, MARY. Travels in West Africa.
MILNER . England in Egypt.
PORTAL, GERALD. My mission in Abyssinia.
RAMSAY . Everyday life in Turkey.
SELOUS . Sport and travel.
,, . Travel and adventure in Africa.
STANLEY . Sinai and Palestine.
STEEVENS . With Kitchener to Khartoum.
SYMONDS . Sketches in Italy and Greece.
WALLACE . Malay Archipelago.
WELLBY, CAPT. Twixt Sirdar and Menelik.
WHYMPER. Ascent of the Matterhorn.
,, . The great Andes.
,, . Scrambles among the Alps.
WORDSWORTH. Tour in Scotland.
YOUNGHUSBAND. Philippines and round about.

FICTION.

AUSTEN, JANE. Northanger Abbey.
,, Pride and prejudice
,, Sense and sensibility.
BALZAC . Père Goriot.
BARRIE . Auld Licht idylls.
,, . Little Minister.
,, . Sentimental Tommy.
BLACK, W. Princess of Thule.
,, . White heather.
BLACKMORE. Lorna Doone.
BOCCACCIO. Decameron.
BRONTE, C. Jane Eyre.
,, . Shirley.
,, . Villette.
BRONTE, E. Wuthering Heights.
CERVANTES. Don Quixote.
CORELLI, MARIE. Thelma.
,, The Master Christian.
,, God's Good Man.
CAINE, HALL. Deemster
,, Manxman.
,, Prodigal son.
CROCKETT . Lilac sunbonnet.
,, . Stickit minister.
DAUDET Tartarin de Tarascon
DICKENS . David Copperfield.
,, . Old Curiosity shop.
,, . Oliver Twist
,, . Pickwick Papers.
DUMAS . Monte Cristo.
,, . Three musketeers.
ELIOT . Adam Bede.
,, . Daniel Deronda.
,, . Felix Holt.
,, . Romola.
,, . Silas Marner.
FIELDING . Tom Jones.
GASKELL . Cranford
GOETHE . Wilhelm Meister.
GOLDSMITH Vicar of Wakefield
HARDY, T. Far from the madding crowd.
,, . Tess of the D'Urbervilles.
HARTE, BRET. Luck of Roaring Camp.
HAWTHORNE, N. Scarlet letter.
HUGHES. . Tom Brown's schooldays.
HUGO . . Hunchback of Notre-Dame.
,, . . Les misérables.
HEWLETT . Queen's quhair.
KINGSLEY, C. Alton Locke.
,, Westward Ho!
KIPLING . Kim.
,, . Light that failed.
,, . Plain tales from the hills.
,, . Soldiers three.
LE SAGE . Gil Blas.
LYTTON. Last days of Pompeii.
MACDONALD, G. David Elginbrod.
,, Robert Falconer.
MACLAREN, IAN. Beside the bonnie brier bush.
MAUPASSANT. The odd number.
MEREDITH . Egoist.
,, . Richard Feverel.
READE, C. . Cloister and the hearth.
RUTHERFORD, M. Autobiography of Mary Rutherford.
SCOTT . . Antiquary.
,, . . Guy Mannering.
,, . . Heart of Midlothian.
,, . . Ivanhoe.
,, . . Legend of Montrose.
,, . . Old Mortality.
,, . . Waverley.
SHORTHOUSE. John Inglesant.
STEVENSON. Kidnapped.
,, Master of Ballantrae
,, Strange case of Dr. Jekyll.
,, Treasure Island.
,, Weir of Hermiston.
STOWE . Uncle Tom's cabin.
SWIFT . Gulliver's travels.
THACKERAY. Henry Esmond.
,, The Newcomes.
,, Pendennis.
,, Vanity Fair.
,, Virginians.
TOLSTOI . Anna Karenina.
,, . Resurrection.
,, . War and peace.
TWAIN, M. Tramp abroad.
WEYMAN, S. J. Gentleman of France.
WOOD, MRS. East Lynne.

GENERAL LITERATURE.

(Including Poetry and Drama).

ADDISON . The Spectator.
ARNOLD, M. Essays in criticism.
,, Literature and dogma.
AVEBURY, LORD. Pleasures of life.

BACON . Essays.
BIRRELL . Collected essays.
BRADLEY . Tennyson's "In Memoriam."
BRANDES, G. Shakespeare.
BREWER . Dictionary of phrase and fable
BROOKE, STOPFORD. Poetry of Robert Browning.
,, Primer of English literature.
,, Tennyson: his art in relation to modern life.
BROWN . Horae subsecivae.
BRUNETIERE, F. Essays in French literature.
BURROUGHS, J. Pepacton.
,, Winter sunshine.
BURTON . The book hunter.
CARLYLE . Critical and miscellaneous essays.
,, . Heroes and hero worship.
CHAMBERS . Cyclopædia of English literature.
CHESTERFIELD. Letters.
CHESTERTON, Twelve types.
CORBETT, F. ST. J. History of British poetry.
COURTHOPE. History of English poetry.
,, Life in poetry, law in taste.
DARMESTETER. Selected essays.
DE QUINCEY. Confessions of an opium eater.
DOBSON . 18th century essays.
DOWDEN . Shakespeare: critical study of his mind and art.
,, . Sonnets of Shakespeare.
DUNNE . Mr. Dooley in peace and war.
,, . Mr. Dooley's philosophy.
EMERSON . Essays.
FROUDE . Short studies in great subjects.
GOSSE . Critical Kit-Kats.
,, . Questions at issue.
HAZLITT . Essays.
HENLEY, W. E. Views and reviews: art.
,, Views and reviews: literature.
HOLMES . Autocrat of the breakfast table.
,, . Over the tea-cups.
,, . Poet at the breakfast table.
,, . Professor at the breakfast table.
HUNT . Essays.
,, . Men, women, and books.
HUTTON, R. H. Literary essays.
HUXLEY . Lay sermons.
IRVING, W. Sketch book.
JOHNSON . Lives of the English poets.
JUSSERAND, J. J. English essays from a French pen.
LAMB . Essays of Elia.
,, . Tales from Shakespeare.
LANDOR . Imaginary conversations.
LANG, A. . Essays in little.
LORIMER . Letters from a self-made merchant to his son.
LOWELL . Among my books.
LUTHER . Table Talk.
MACAULAY . Critical and historical essays.
MACKAIL, J. W. Latin literature.
MAHAFFY . Greek literature.
MALORY . Morte d'Arthur.
MASSON . Life and times of Milton.
,, . Select essays of De Quincey.
MONTAIGNE. Essays.
MORLEY, J. Critical miscellanies.
,, . Studies in literature.
,, . Voltaire.
MÜLLER . Chips from a German workshop.
,, . Selected essays.
MYERS . Classical essays.
,, . Modern essays.
,, . Wordsworth.
ORR, MRS. . Handbook to Robert Browning.
PATER . Appreciations.
,, . Greek studies.
PATTISON, M. Essays.
PERCY . Reliques of ancient English poetry
RALEIGH, W. Milton.
,, Wordsworth.
RAMSAY, DEAN. Scottish life and character.
RUSKIN . Crown of wild olive.
,, . Ethics of the dust.
,, . Sesame and lilies.
SAINTE-BEUVE. Essays.
SAINTSBURY. Essays.
,, French literature.
,, A history of criticism.
,, Short history of English literature.
SCHOPENHAUER. Essays.
SECCOMBE, T. Age of Johnson.
,, Age of Shakespeare.
SMITH, SYDNEY. Essays.
STEELE . Essays.
STEPHEN, L. Studies of a biographer.
STEVENSON. Familiar studies of men and books.
,, . Memories and studies.
,, . Virginibus puerisque.
SWANWICK. Poets the interpreters of their age.
SYMONDS, J. A. In the key of blue, and other prose essays.
,, Italian literature.
,, Renaissance in Italy.
,, Shakespeare's predecessors in the English drama.
TEN BRINK. History of early English literature.
THACKERAY. Roundabout papers.
THOREAU . Essays.
,, . Walden.
WALKER . Age of Tennyson.
WARD, A. W. History of English dramatic literature.
WATSON, W. Excursions in criticism.
WHITMAN . Complete prose works.

POETRY.

ARNOLD, M. Works.
BLAKE, W. Selections.
BROWNING, MRS. Poems.
BROWNING, ROB. Works.
BURNS . Works.
BYRON . Works.
CHAUCER . Canterbury Tales.
COLERIDGE . Works.
COWPER . Works.
DANTE . Divine comedy.
DRYDEN . Works.
FITZGERALD, E. Omar Khayyám.
GOETHE . Faust.
GOLDSMITH. Poems and plays.
GRAY . Poetical works.
HOOD . Poems.
KEATS. Works.
KEBLE . Christian year.
KIPLING . Barrack room ballads.
LONGFELLOW. Works.
LOWELL . Poems.
MACAULAY. Lays of Ancient Rome.
MILTON . Poetical Works.
MOLIERE . Works.
MORRIS . Earthly Paradise.
PFEIFFER, EMILY. Sonnets.
POPE . Works.
SCHILLER . Dramas.
SCOTT . Poetical Works.
SHAKESPEARE. Works.
SHELLEY . Poetical works.
SOUTHEY . Works.
SPENSER . Works.
SWINBURNE, Poems and ballads.
TENNYSON . Works.
WATSON, W. Collected works.
WHITMAN . Leaves of grass.
WHITTIER . Works.
WORDSWORTH. Works (including Prelude).
YEATS, W. B. Poems.

We append a list of one hundred books selected by Lord Avebury, as those which have been most frequently recommended as best worth reading, and generally known as:—

SIR JOHN LUBBOCK'S ONE HUNDRED BEST BOOKS.

(Works by Living Authors are omitted.)

The Bible.
The Meditations of Marcus Aurelius.
Epictetus.
Aristotle's Ethics.
Analects of Confucius.
St. Hilaire's "Le Bouddha et sa religion."
Wake's Apostolic Fathers.
Thomas à Kempis's Imitation of Christ.
Confessions of St. Augustine.
The Koran (portions of).
Spinoza's Tractatus Theologico-Politicus.
Pascal's Pensées.
Butler's Analogy of Religion.
Taylor's Holy Living and Dying.
Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress.
Keble's Christian Year.

Plato's dialogues: Apology, Crito and Phædo.
Xenophon's Memorabilia.
Aristotle's Politics.
Demosthenes' De Corona.
Cicero's De Officiis, De Amicitia, and De Senectute.
Plutarch's Lives.
Berkeley's Human Knowledge.
Descarte's Discours sur la Méthode.
Locke's On the Conduct of the Understanding.

Homer.
Hesiod.
Virgil.
Maha Bharata.
Ramayana.
The Shahnameh.
The Nibelungenlied.
Malory's Morte d' Arthur.

The Sheking.
Kalidasa's Sakuntala, or The Lost Ring.
Æschylus's Prometheus and the Trilogy of Orestes.
Sophocles' Œdipus.
Euripides' Medea.
Horace.

Chaucer's Canterbury Tales (perhaps in Morris's edition; or if expurgated in C. Clarke's or Mrs. Hawcis's).
Shakespeare.
Milton's Paradise Lost, Lycidas, Comus, and the shorter poems.
Dante's Divina Commedia.
Spenser's Faerie Queen.
Dryden's Poems.
Scott's Poems.
Wordsworth (Mr. Arnold's selection).
Pope's Essay on Criticism, Essay on Man, and Rape of the Lock.
Burns.
Byron's Childe Harold.
Gray's Poems.
Tennyson's Idylls and smaller poems.

Herodotus.
Xenophon's Anabasis.
Thucydides.
Tacitus's Germania.
Livy.
Gibbon's Decline and Fall.
Hume's History of England.
Grote's History of Greece.
Carlyle's French Revolution.
Green's Short History of England
Lewes's History of Philosophy.

Arabian Nights.
Swift's Gulliver's Travels.
Defoe's Robinson Crusoe.
Goldsmith's Vicar of Wakefield.
Cervantes' Don Quixote.
Boswell's Life of Johnson.
Molière.
Schiller's William Tell.
Sheridan's The Critic, School for Scandal and The Rivals.
Carlyle's Past and Present.

Bacon's Novum Organum.
Smith's Wealth of Nations.
Mill's Political Economy.
Cook's Voyages.
Humboldt's Travels.
White's Natural History of Selborne.
Darwin's Origin of Species and Naturalist's Voyage.
Mill's Logic.

Bacon's Essays.
Montaigne's Essays.
Hume's Essays.
Macaulay's Essays.
Addison's Essays.
Emerson's Essays.
Burke's Select Works.
Smiles's Self Help.

Voltaire's Zadig and Micromegas.
Goethe's Faust and Autobiography.
Thackeray's Vanity Fair and Pendennis.
Dickens's Pickwick and David Copperfield.
Lytton's Last Days of Pompeii.
George Eliot's Adam Bede.
Kingsley's Westward Ho!
Scott's Novels.

GLOSSARIES.

1. TERMS USED IN ART, ARCHITECTURE, AND HERALDRY.

(H = Heraldry).

Abacus : A rectangular slab of marble, etc., forming the uppermost member or division of a capital.

Abutment : The solid part of a pier or wall, forming a support to an arch or other structure.

Acanthus : a plant (bear's breech) the leaves of which are imitated in Corinthian capitals.

Accessories (H) : All the paraphernalia of an heraldic achievement other than the shield, such as the helm, crest, badge, scroll, wreath, &c.

Accosted : (H) ; Placed side by side ; addorsed, back to back.

Accidental Colour : = Complementary Colour ; e.g., Orange is the complement of blue ; green of red ; purple of yellow.

Accidental Light : Such lights as that of the sun darting through a cloud, or through the trees in a glade ; moonlight and candle-light effects ; e.g., in Gerard Dow's pictures.

Achievement (H) : The shield and accessories fully represented. See also Hatchment, which is a corrupt form of "Achievement."

Acroteria : Pedestals for statues on the apex and lower angles of a pediment.

Aerial Perspective : The interposition of the atmosphere between the object and the eye, so as to produce the appearance of distance.

Aisle : The division of a church on either or both sides of the nave.

Alla-prima : Application of the pigments all at once to the canvas.

Allerion. (H) A young eagle without beak or feet.

Almery, Aumery, Aumbry, Ambry : The niches or cupboards formed in the thickness of a wall, to contain the altar vessels and other valuables.

Alto-relievo : "High-relief," a term applied to sculptured forms that stand out from the background on which they are carved by at least half their thickness.

Amphisbæna. (H) A serpent having a head at each end of its body.

Ambulatory : The promenade either behind the altar or in the cloisters.

Ancones : Brackets supporting the cornice of Ionic doorways.

Annealing : Leaving glass in an oven after the fire has been withdrawn, to render it less brittle ; reheating metals after hammering.

Ante-chapel : The outer part of a chapel at the west end running north and south.

Appaumé : (H) with open hand showing the palm.

Appliqué : Enrichments "applied" to the main object after separate manufacture.

Apse : The semi-circular or polygonal termination to the choir or aisles of a church.

Aqua-tint : An effect like that of a wash of Indian ink, produced by mastic upon the copper-plate.

Arabesque (Moresque) : Fanciful combinations in design of plants, trees, flowers, and fruit.

Arcade : A series of arches, open or closed, supported by columns or piers.

Arch : May be semi-circular, segmental, elliptical, stilted, horse-shoe, pointed, trefoiled, cinquefoiled, or ogee.

Architrave : In classical architecture, the lowest division of the entablature resting immediately on the abacus of the capital. Also the ornamental mouldings round the openings of doors, windows, etc.

Archivolt : The under curve or surface of an arch from impost to impost.

Ashlar : Hewn or squared stone used in building.

Astragal : A small semi-circular moulding or bead.

Atlantes and Caryatides : Male and female figures respectively, supporting entablatures.

Atrium : The entrance hall in the houses of the ancients, generally open to the sky and frequently with a fountain in the centre.

Attired (H) Applied (instead of "armed") to a deer with horns, the points of which are called cors.

Attitude : Immobile pose, opposed in Art to gesture and action.

Badge (H) : Also called cognizance. A distinctive of high families who wore it upon sleeves, etc. ; not to be confounded with the crest.

Bailey : The courts of a castle formed by the spaces between the defences and the keep.

Baldachin or Baldachino : A canopy over altars, thrones, beds, etc.

Ballistraria : A cruciform aperture in the walls of a fortress for the discharge of arrows.

Ball-flower : An ornament resembling a ball placed in a circular flower, the three petals of which form a cup round it.

Balustrade : A parapet formed by a range of small balusters supporting a coping or cornice.

(1) Bar ; (2) Barrulet ; (3) Barruly ; (4) Barry-bendy ; (5) Bar-wise (H) : (1) is a diminutive of the fess, covering $\frac{1}{5}$ of the field ; (2) = $\frac{2}{10}$ of the field ; (3) the field divided by horizontal lines into four, six, or more equal parts counterchanged ; (4) Field divided into lozenges ; (5) = Placed in a horizontal direction.

Barbican : Any outwork at a short distance from the main works of a castle, etc.

Barge-board or Verge-board : The external gable-board of a house, often decorated with elaborate wood-carvings.

Bartizan : The small overhanging turrets which project from the angles on the top of a tower.

Basilica : A Roman law-court. Many were converted into churches, apsidal and rectangular. Early churches built on the same lines were called basilicas.

Bas-relief : "Low-relief," a form of relief in which the figures project slightly from the background on which they are carved.

Bastion : A rampart or bulwark projecting from the face of a fortification.

Batter : Walls gently sloping inwards are said to batter.

Battlement : An indented parapet on fortresses or churches.

Belvidere : A room built above the roof of an edifice to give a wide view of the country around.

Bema : The chancel of a church.

(1) Bend ; (2) Bend Sinister ; (3) Bendy ; (4) Bendlet (H) : (1) An ordinary running diagonally from the dexter chief to the sinister base ; (2) Runs the reverse way ; (3) Describes a field divided bend-wise into any number of equal portions ; (4) = half the breadth of the Bend.

Billet : A Norman moulding ornament resembling thick cartridges, arranged in alternating rows.

Biting-in : the action of aqua fortis upon the bared parts of the copper or steel plates.

Body-colour : The measure of consistence, substance, and tinging power of the pigments employed in oil-painting.

Border or Bordure (H) : Runs round a shield, and = $\frac{1}{5}$ of its extent.

Bosses : Projecting ornaments, usually of foliage, placed at the intersections of the ribs of ceilings.

Botonny (H) : Ending in a trefoil shape (crosses, etc.).

Braces : Timbers which strut or prop the principal rafters. Also called Struts.

Bracket : An ornamental projection from the face of a wall to support a statue.

Breadth : The effect of spaciousness produced by the skilful use of colour and shading.

Burin : A prismatically shaped tempered steel instrument used for engraving on copper.

(1) Burnt Paper ; (2) Burnt Sienna ; (3) Burnt Terra Verde ; (4) Burnt Umber ; (1) Yields a black pigment ; (2) a transparent orange-red ; (3) a fine warm brown ; (4) a russet brown.

Buttress : A projection from a wall to create additional strength and support.

Byzantine Art : The style of art and architecture that arose in Byzantium, after Constantine made that city the capital of the Eastern Roman Empire.

Cabossed or Caboshed (H) : Describes a head cut off clean from the neck.

Cadency (H) : The rank in order of the members of the same family and is thus distinguished :—Eldest son, a label of three points placed in chief ; second son, a crescent ; third son, a mullet ; fourth son, a martlet ; fifth son, an annulet ; sixth son, a fleur de lis ; seventh son, a rose ; eighth son, the cross moline ; ninth son, the octofoil.

Caltrop : Radiated spikes of metal, thrown upon the ground to lame cavalry.

Cameo : gems cut in relief.

Campanile : A bell-tower sometimes attached to, sometimes detached from, the main building.

Canopy : In Gothic architecture an ornamental projection over doors, etc.

Canting Arms (H) : Have a punning reference to the name of the bearer.

Canton : (H) A corner sub-ordinary, either dexter or sinister : = $\frac{1}{5}$ of the chief.

Capital : The head of a column, pilaster, etc, abounding in variety of shape.

Cap of Maintenance : A crimson velvet cap, lined and turned up with ermine.

Caricature : A satirical image ; an extravagant representation.

Cartouche : An oval shield ; in Egyptian inscriptions the ovals enclosing the names of kings, &c.

Cenotaph : A monument which does not contain the remains of the deceased.

Chamfer : The surface formed by cutting away the rectangular edge of wood or stonework.

Chantry : A chapel often containing the tomb of the founder in which masses are said for his soul.

Charge (H) : A figure borne on the field in a coat of arms.

Chequy (H) : Divided into rectangular pieces of alternate tinctures.

(1) Chevron ; (2) Chevronel ; (3) Chevronny (H) : (1) An Ordinary representing the two rafters of a house, $= \frac{1}{5}$ of the field : (2) $= \frac{1}{2}$ chevron ; (3) Divided into several equal portions chevron-wise.

Chiaro-oscuro : The management of light and shade in pictorial art.

Chief (H) : The upper horizontal third of a shield.

Ciborium : The Sacrament-house or tabernacle in which the Reserved Sacrament is kept ; also the baldachino over an altar.

Cinquefoil : "Five-leaved," an ornament much used in Gothic architecture in the tracery of windows, &c. It somewhat resembles five leaves around a common centre. It is also a common bearing in Heraldry representing a flower with five petals.

Clerestory : An upper story of a church standing above adjacent roofs, and pierced by a row of windows to give increased light.

Cloister : A covered ambulatory running round a cathedral quadrangle.

Cognizance : See Badge.

Colonnade : One row (Monostyle), or many rows (Polystyle) of columns supporting a building or roof.

Colossus : A statue much larger than natural size, e.g., that of Rhodes 100 feet high.

Columbarium : Holes left in walls for the insertion of pieces of timber ; also sepulchral chambers having niches all round to receive the urns of the dead.

Complement, In her (H) : A term applied to the full moon.

Composition : The creation of a whole artistic idea out of several parts.

Console : A bracket.

Corbel : A projecting stone or piece of timber to support a superincumbent weight.

Cornice : In architecture, a series of mouldings forming the uppermost member of the entablature just above the frieze.

Cortile : A courtyard or area, which in Italian houses was frequently ornamented with statues and frescoes.

Couchant (H) : A beast lying down with its head up ; dormant, if the head is down.

Couped (H) : Head or limb cut off clean is couped ; if with a jagged edge, erased.

Crancelin (H) A wreath of peculiar shape placed in bend (see Prince Consort's arms).

Crined (H) : Bearing a mane (chevelé is said of a human being with hair).

Crockets : Projecting leaves, flowers, foliage used to decorate the angles of spires, etc.

Cross (H) : An ordinary compounded of the fess and pale.

Dado : In architecture, the cubic block which forms the body of a pedestal.

Dancetty (H) : Indented with the larger sort of vandyke, with never more than three points.

Debruised (H) : Said of an animal over whose body is placed a bend, etc., defamed if the tail has been cut off.

Device (H) : A motto and a pictorial design emblematic thereof. The term is often, though improperly, applied to any heraldic figure.

Dexter (H) : The right hand side.

Disclosed, Displayed (H) : With wings expanded : (the latter refers to birds of prey).

Diptych : Double folding tablets made of beautifully carved ivory.

Dormer : A gabled window pierced through a sloping roof.

Double tressure flory counterflory (H) : Two small orles one within the other, ornamented with fleur de lis, whose heads and stalks point alternately outwards and inward.

Echinus : The egg and anchor ornament in Classical architecture.

Embowed (H) : Crooked like a bow (said of a bent arm, etc.).

Endorse (H) : A diminutive of the pale. It is only used in pairs.

Engraving : the art of producing designs by lines incised on metal or wood ; the print obtained by filling the lines with ink and impresing them on paper.

Ensigned (H) : Adorned, ornamented ; e.g., A man's heart gules, ensigned with a crown or. (Douglas)

Entablature : Consists of architrave, frieze and cornice, and is the superstructure which lies horizontally upon the columns in Classic architecture.

Entasis : The swelling outline given to the shaft of a column.

Escutcheon of Pretence (H) : The small shield borne upon his own achievement, and bearing the arms of the heiress he has married.

Etching : Scratching away the ground of the metal plate which has been covered with wax by a fine steel needle. An acid is then poured over the plate to eat away the metal exposed by the lines, thus scratched through. An etching, the print obtained by filling the lines thus formed, with ink and taking off an impression.

Faience : All kinds of glazed earthenware and porcelain.

Fan tracery vaulting : (Late Perpendicular). All the ribs rise fan-like from the springing of the vault, have the same curve, and diverge equally in every direction.

(1) Fess ; (2) Fess Point ; (3) Party per Fess (H) ; (1) The broad belt ($= \frac{1}{3}$ of the field) drawn horizontally across the shield ; (2) The central point of an escutcheon ; (3) Field divided equally by an horizontal line (H).

Field (H) : The surface of the shield upon which the charges are depicted.

Fimbriated (H) : Having a narrow bordure or hem.

Finial : In Gothic architecture, an ornament usually resembling foliage, which forms the termination of gables, pinnacles, spires, &c.

Fitché (H) : Having a sharp point to pierce the earth.

Flamboyant : Tracery with flame-like wavings ; a French style contemporary with the English Perpendicular.

Flutings : Channels cut perpendicularly in the shafts of Classical columns.

Foreshortened : Represented at an oblique angle.

Fret : In Classical architecture an ornament formed by small fillets intersecting each other at right angles. In Heraldry a saltire interlaced within a mascle.

Frieze (see Entablature).

Galilee : a porch or chapel at the entrance of a church (Lincoln, Ely, Durham).

Gamb (H) : The whole fore-leg of a beast.

Garb (H) : A sheaf of grain, generally banded of another tincture.

Gardant (H) : A beast looking straight at the spectator : Regardant : looking over its shoulder.

Gargoyle : A projecting spout, grotesquely carved, used to throw off the water from the gutter of a building.

Genre-painting : Pictures of common, every-day life and manners, grave or gay.

Gorged (H) : Wearing a crown round its neck said of a lion, etc.).

Gules (H) : The colour red, said to be derived from Persian gul, a rose.

Gyron : Gyronny (H) : A triangular division of the field into figures resembling the sails of a windmill.

Hatching : Lines laid on an engraving side by side by the crayon or graver to give uniform tint.

Hatchment (H) : A lozenge-shaped frame or panel, placed outside the house of a person lately deceased, on which are painted the arms of the deceased.

Impaled (H) : Two coats of arms conjoined pale-wise, e.g., a Bishop's personal arms placed side by side with those of his see.

Impost : Horizontal mouldings on the summit of a pillar or pier, from which an arch springs.

In pride (H) : Said of a peacock with outspread tail.

Intaglio : Figures cut into the materials used for seals, matrices, etc.

Invecked (H) : A partition line the reverse of "engrailed."

Isometrical Perspective : Dispenses with a vanishing point ; hence everything is perfectly cubical in form and does not diminish in size according to distance.

Jamb : The side of a window, door, chimney, etc.

Jambe (H) : The whole fore-leg of a beast.

Jesse, Tree of : Represents the descent of Christ from Jesse, whose descendants appear on scrolls of foliage branching out of the tree.

Jessed (H) : Having straps or throngs.

"Kept down" : Subdued in tone or tint in favour of another part of the picture intended to rivet the eye of the spectator.

King-post : The middle post of a roof, standing on the tie-beam and reaching up to the ridge.

Knop : A boss, a round bunch of leaves or flowers.

Line of beauty : A curve, combining a kind of concave and convex termination.

Lithography : Lines are not cut into the stone, but drawn upon it with an unctuous material to which the printing-ink adheres, and is imparted to the paper in the process of printing.

Langued (H) : The giving a different tincture to the tongue from that of the body of the beast.

Lacunar ; Laquear : A ceiling.

Lady-Chapel : A chapel dedicated to the Blessed Virgin Mary, dating from the 13th century, variously placed (e.g., at Ely, Rochester, Oxford, Bristol, Durham, etc.).

Lantern : A small structure or open erection placed on the top of domes or towers for the purpose of admitting light.

Lich-gate (i.e., Corpse gate) : A shed over the entrance of a church-yard, where the coffin rested a short while.

Louvre : A small turret on the roof to allow smoke to escape.

Lymphad (H) : An old-fashioned, one-masted ship rowed with oars.

Mantlings (H) : Ornamented foliage-work for the adorning of helmets.

Martlet (H) : Heraldic swallow, generally represented without feet.

Mascle (H) : A hollow square placed diamond-wise ; in other words, a voided lozenge.

Mausoleum : A sepulchre of extraordinary magnificence, named after Mausolus, King of Caria, whose sepulchre was one of the wonders of the world.

Merlon : The solid part of an embattled parapet, standing up between the embrasures.

Mezzo-tinto (Middle-tint) : The whole plate is first scratched by a "cradle" ; then the drawing is traced and the strongest lights are scraped and burnished until the effect resembles the old style of Indian-ink drawings.

Monochrome : In one colour, the outline giving the varied expression by tint, light, and shade.

Motive : That which produces conception, invention, or creation in the mind of the artist, combined with his own spirituality.

Mouldings : In Classical architecture, the fillet, the astragal, the cyma reversa (ogee), the cyma recta ; the cavetto ; the ovolo (quarter-round) ; the scotia (casement) ; the torus (or round). A general term for all the varieties of outline given to the angles of subordinate parts of buildings.

Mullet (H) : A five-pointed star supposed to represent the rowel of a spur, and generally pierced ; in fact, Woodward makes the piercing the distinction between a star (estoile) and a mullet.

Mullions : The stone divisions in Gothic windows.

Naiant (H) : Fish swimming horizontally ; hauriant, fish erect sucking in the air.

Narthex : An ante-chapel at the west end of Italian churches for catechumens and penitents.

Nave : The main body of a church westward of the choir, often flanked by aisles.

Niche : A recess in a wall for a statue, vase, or other erect ornament.

Ogee : A moulding combining a round and a hollow, part being concave and part convex ; also used of arches.

Oillettes : Small openings, or loop-holes, sometimes circular, through which missiles were discharged by those in the fortress.

Or (H) : Gold.

Ordinaries (H) : Certain heraldic devices of common occurrence, viz., the Chief, the Pale, the Fess, the Bend, (and the Bend Sinister), the Chevron, the Cross, and the Saltire. (All these have their diminutives).

Orle (H) : A narrow border within the shield but removed from its edge.

Outlines : Contours such as are to be found in Flaxman's works, wherein much effect is produced by the skilful use of the scanty light and shade.

Over-all (H) : When any charge is borne over another.

(1) Pale ; (2) Pallet ; (3) Paly (H) : (1) Two perpendicular lines drawn from the top to the base of the shield, = ⅓ of the middle part of the field ; (2) = ½ breadth of Pale : (3) The field is divided into four or more even number of parts by Pales alternating in tincture.

Parapet : A low wall to protect the ramparts of military structures and the roofs of churches, mansions, etc.

Parclose or Perclose : The screen protecting a tomb or chantry.

Passant-Gardant (H) : said of a beast walking and looking ahead.

Passant-Regardant (H) : said of a beast walking and looking behind.

Passe-par-tout : An engraving with an ornamental border, the centre of which is cut out to allow another engraving to be inserted.

Pendants : Hanging ornaments on ceilings and roofs.

Pedestal : The substructure of Classical columns containing (1) the foot or base next the ground, (2) the dado, the main body (3) the cornice at the top.

Pediment : The triangular gable which crowns the portico of a classical building ; also the small gables and triangular decorations over niches, doors, and windows in Gothic architecture.

Pelican in her piety (H) : A pelican vulning her breast from which drops of blood are distilled for the nourishment of her young beneath her in the nest.

Pheon (H) : The broad head of a dart or javelin pointed downward.

Pietra dura : Ornamental work in coloured stone representing birds, fruit, etc., used for the decoration of coffers or panels of cabinets.

Pietre commesse : Inlaying precious stones, exclusively natural, in the surface of caskets, cabinets, etc. Thus a sumptuous decoration of birds, flowers, etc., is produced by thin veneers of agates, jaspers, lapis-lazuli, etc.

Piqué : Pricked or dotted ; inlaid work in the form of small ornaments in metal.

Piazza (Place) : An open area surrounded by houses, whose upper stories are supported by pillars, forming a vaulted promenade beneath.

Pier : The solid mass between doors, windows, and other openings in buildings ; the support of a bridge, etc., on which arches rest.

Pilaster : The square column generally attached to a wall as an ornamental support to an arch.

Piscina : The stone basin, supplied with a drain pipe, into which the cleansing water is poured when the chalice is washed.

Plaque : A flat plate of metal, upon which enamels are painted.

Plates : In engraving the impressions from an engraved copper or steel plate are called copper-plates, steel-plates. The term cannot be used for wood-cuts, and only by accommodation for lithograph impressions.

Plinth : The lower projecting base of a column, pedestal, or wall.

Polychromy : The art of colouring statuary to imitate nature ; or the use in architecture of prismatic or compound tints.

Powdered (H) : (French semé) Covered all over with the same charge, e.g, the shield of St. Margaret of Scotland is powdered with martlets ; the banner of old France with fleur-de-lis.

Pre-Raphaelites : A school of modern artists who adhere rigidly to natural forms and effects like the painters who flourished before Raphael.

Portico : A range of columns in front of a building (if four, called tetrastyle ; if six, hexastyle, if eight, octostyle ; if ten, decastyle).

Postern : a private entrance to a castle, town, monastery, etc.

Presbytery : The eastern termination of a choir where stands the High Altar.

Predella : The step on the top of the altar, forming the base of the altar-piece.

Pronaos : The vestibule or portico in front of the cella of a Greek temple.

Purpure (H) : Purple.

Quatrefoil : "Four-leaved," an ornament much used in Gothic architecture, resembling a four-leaved or cruciform flower.

Quoin : The external angle of a building, commonly of ashlar.

Quarterings (H) : The partitions of a shield containing many coats of arms.

Raguled (H) : Ragged like the trunk of a tree, showing only the stumps of the branches which have been lopped off.

Rampant (H) : Said of a beast standing upright on his hind legs. If he is looking backward he is described as rampant-regardant.

Reredos : The wall or screen at the back of an altar.

Rebus (H) : A coat allusive to the name of the bearer, e.g., three salmons for Salmon, a pine tree for Pines ; a bolt piercing a tun for Bolton, etc., etc.

Renaissance : A term applied to the style of decoration revived by Raphael as the result of his discoveries of the paintings in the then recently exhumed Thermæ of Titus, and in the Septizonia.

Repoussé : Chasing : The former strikes up metal from behind with a punch until the forms are produced roughly in relief on the surface ; the latter finishes the process.

Rococo : Baroque : A medley of incongruous objects in decoration.

Romanesque ; A general term for all the debased styles of architecture which flourished in Europe from the fall of the Roman power to the introduction of Gothic architecture.

Rood-beam : Rood-loft : The beam over the entrance to the chancel upon which stands the large cross often flanked by the figures of the Blessed Virgin Mary and Saint John.

Rose Window : A circular window such as adorns the transepts of Westminster Abbey.

Rotunda : A temple, church, or other building, circular within and without.

Sable (H) : Black.

Sacellum : Classically, a small unroofed enclosure containing an altar. Ecclesiastically, a chapel with a tomb enclosed, used as an altar for masses to be said on behalf of the deceased.

Saltire or Saltier (H) : A St. Andrew's Cross.

Sanguine (H) : Blood-colour.

Sarcophagus ("flesh eating") : Anciently a tomb made of a pumice-stone found near Troas, said to be able to destroy all but the teeth of the body in forty days.

Sedilia : Seats on the south side of the chancel for the priests and attendants.

Segreant (H) : A griffin erect on its hind legs ready to fly.

Shrine : A feretory or repository for relics.

Sinister (H) : The right hand facing you of the shield.

Slipped (H) : A flower or branch plucked from the stock.

Soffit : The under side of an arch or cornice presenting a flat surface.

Spandrel : The triangular spaces between the arch of a doorway and a rectangular formed by the outer mouldings over it.

Still Life : A term applied to pictures of fruit, flowers, furniture, and other inanimate objects.

Stipple : Dots instead of lines used in engravings in imitation of chalk drawings.

Strap-work : An enrichment consisting of a narrow fillet or band, folded, crossed, and elaborately interlaced.

Stanchion : The upright iron bar between the mullions of a window.

String-course : A projecting horizontal band or line of mouldings in a building.

Systyle : A Classical arrangement of columns where the interspaces = diameter of column doubled.

Tænia : The fillet on the top of the Doric frieze.

Tenny (H) : Orange.

Tooth ornament : Early English ornament—a square four-leaved flower with the centre projecting in a point.

Transom : A horizontal cross-bar in a window or panel.

Triforium : A gallery or arcade between the vaulting and the roof of the aisles of a church.

Triptych : A tablet in three divisions, to open and shut, the two outer folding over the centre when closed.

Truss : The collection of timbers forming one of the principal supports in a roof, framed together so as to give mutual support to each other.

Vert (H) : Green.

Vesica piscis : An oval figure formed by two equal circles cutting each in their centres: the vesica is often used in episcopal seals.

Vignette: Ornaments of vine-leaves, tendrils, and grapes used in Gothic architecture; also woodcuts and engravings which are not enclosed within a definite border.

Voided (H): When an ordinary has nothing but an edge to show its form so that the field appears through, it is said to be voided.

Volute: In architecture, the scroll or spiral ornament forming the characteristic feature of the Ionic capital.

Wood Engraving: The art of cutting designs on wood so as to leave the pattern in relief. A wood-cut, a print in ink from a wood engraving.

Wyvern (H): A kind of flying serpent, the upper part resembling a dragon, and the lower an adder or snake.

2. MUSICAL TERMS.

Alla Capella.—In the church style.

Accelerando.—Gradually increasing the speed.

Accidental.—An alteration of the pitch of a note by sharp, flat, or natural.

Acciacatura.—An ornamental note of very short duration, immediately preceding its principal note and one degree from it.

Adagio.—Very slowly.

Ad libitum.—The speed and expression according to the pleasure of the performer.

Al fine.—To the end.

Alla breve.—Counting twice (two minims) to the bar.

Allegro.—Quickly, cheerfully.

Allegretto.—Not so quickly as Allegro.

Allemande.—A dance of German origin; also a movement in a Suite.

Andante.—Rather slowly.

Andantino.—A little slower than Andante. Sometimes means a little less slowly.

Animato.—With spirit.

Anthem.—A musical setting of words generally selected from Holy Scripture.

Appogiatura.—An auxiliary note, struck immediately before the principal note and taking from it half its duration.

Aria.—A somewhat extended solo in an opera. It is of special form and often brilliant in style.

Arpeggio.—The notes of a chord spread and played in succession instead of simultaneously.

Assai.—Enough, very.

A tempo.—In time.

Aubade.—Originally a morning song. The term is also applied to some pianoforte pieces of no special form.

Ballad.—Originally a dance, or a pastoral song. Later, a song in which the music is the same for each verse.

Ballet.—Formerly a simple song or dance. Now consists of an elaborate arrangement of dances illustrating a story.

Barcarolle.—A gondolier's song. The time, which is characteristic of the movement of boat and oars, is six quavers to the bar, and the style smooth, graceful, and melodious.

Bassoon (Fagotto).—A wooden instrument played with a double reed. It is the natural bass of the oboe.

Bass Tuba (Tuba).—A large brass instrument of purer tone than the Ophicleide. It has a practical compass of three octaves upwards from second F below bass stave.

Bombardon.—A large brass instrument; the lowest of the Saxhorns.

Bolero.—A Spanish dance of a dignified character in 3—4 time; a modification of the seguidilla and fandango.

Bourrée.—A French or Spanish dance in duple or common time. Its peculiarity is a graceful gliding movement.

Breve.—A note equal in value to two semibreves; nearly obsolete.

Cachuca.—A Spanish dance in 3—4 time.

Cadence (or Close).—The last two chords of a phrase or movement arranged to satisfy the ear in suggesting a feeling of repose.

Cadenza.—A passage in the "ad libitum" style, introduced towards the close of an instrumental solo, but not forming any part of the rhythmical structure. It sometimes recapitulates in a free manner the melodies previously heard.

Calando.—Diminishing in force and speed.

Canon.—A form of music in which the voices or instruments imitate strictly the leading part at an interval above or below, the parts entering a few beats after one another.

Cantabile.—In a singing manner.

Cantata.—A sacred or secular work of the oratorio kind, but shorter.

Canto fermo.—Ancient church melody.

Capriccio.—A light and bright instrumental piece, the form exhibiting the ingenuity of the composer.

Catch.—A round, the words so arranged as to produce a humorous effect.

Cavatina.—An aria or song of a short description and without repetition.

Chaconne.—A dance of Spanish origin. A "ground bass" (q.v.) is its chief characteristic.

Chord.—A combination of three or more sounds. The simplest is the common chord consisting of the first, third, and fifth of the scale.

Chorale.—A German hymn-tune.

Chromatic Scale.—A scale in semitones.

Clarinet.—A wooden instrument played with a single reed. There are three varieties:—C, A, and B flat; the first is little used, being inferior in tone (See Transposing Instruments).

Clavichord.—A precursor of the pianoforte The keys operated on quills which plucked the strings.

Clef.—A sign affixed to the staff of five lines to show the absolute pitch of the notes written.

Coda (A tail).—The last section of a movement, generally designed to contain in a shortened or suggestive manner what has gone before, and to form a suitable conclusion.

Common time.—Time in which two or four are counted to the bar.

Compound time.—Time in which each division of a bar is equivalent to a dotted note, and therefore divisible into three parts. Its signatures are $\frac{6}{4}$, $\frac{9}{8}$, $\frac{9}{4}$, etc.

Con brio.—With life; lively.

Con fuoco.—With fire, energy.

Con moto.—With motion; moving.

Con spirito.—With spirit.

Concerto.—A composition designed to display the skill of the performer and the capabilities of his instrument; it is accompanied by the full orchestra. A concerto consists of three movements of different character, its form being derived from the Sonata.

Concord.—A simple combination of sounds satisfactory to the ear.

Cor Anglais.—An alto or tenor oboe with a range one fifth lower than the ordinary variety. It is very seldom used.

Cornet.—A brass instrument fitted with pistons which, being depressed either singly, or in combination, produce with the natural notes of the tube a complete scale.

Corno di Bassetto (Basset Horn).—A tenor or baritone clarinet with a compass extending down to F below bass stave. It is a beautiful but neglected instrument.

Counterpoint.—The art of combining melodic parts in strict accordance with certain rules. In Counterpoint the parts are considered horizontally and the smooth melodic flow of sounds for each voice is the object aimed at. Music written in this style is termed contrapuntal. (cf. "Harmony.").

Courante.—A dance of French and Italian origin. In the Suite it is generally found with "doubles" or variations.

Crescendo.—Growing louder.

Da Capo.—Repeat from the beginning.

Dal Segno.—Repeat from the Sign. (𝄋).

Diatonic.—Relating to the normal intervals of the scale. (See Chromatic Scale).

Diminuendo.—Decreasing in loudness.

Discord.—A combination of sounds not satisfactory of itself to the ear, and requiring another chord—the chord of resolution—to follow it.

Divertimento.—A composition of a light character and generally simple construction; the subjects are sometimes operatic airs.

Dominant.—The fifth note in the diatonic scale.

Doppio movimento.—Doubling the rate of movement.

Double Bass.—The largest of the violin family. It generally "doubles" the bass part in playing an octave below.

Double Counterpoint.—A melody in counterpoint so contrived as to be available either above or below its "subject."

Drums.—The kinds in use are:—(a) Kettle-drum (Tympani). Tuned by screws on the rims. Two are generally employed in the orchestra. (b) Bass-drum. This is not tuned to any particular note, and is used only for rhythmic effect. (c) Side-drum. Chiefly used in military bands—seldom in the orchestra.

Enharmonic Change.—A change of notation without change of sound, e.g., C sharp to D flat.

Euphonium.—A large brass instrument—the bass of the Saxhorn group.

Fanfare.—A flourish of trumpets.

Fantasia.—An instrumental composition in which the author gives free rein to his fancy. The term was formerly applied to movements only partially irregular in form.

Flute.—The old English flute (flute-à-bec) had a mouthpiece and was held like a clarinet. The instrument now in use (flauto traverso)(1720)is held crossways, and has an orifice instead of a mouthpiece. The natural key is D with a compass of three octaves upwards from middle C. It is made in ebony, cocoa-wood, boxwood, and silver.

Forte.—Loud.

Fortissimo.—Very loud.

French Horn.—A brass instrument, circular in shape and of considerable compass. Its normal key is C; crooks have to be employed for music written in other keys. Horns are generally used in pairs in the orchestra. (See Transposing Instruments).

Fugue.—A complex form of music practically developed from a "subject." This "subject" has its "answer," both being furnished with an accompaniment in double counterpoint. The principal parts of a fugue are the exposition of the subject and answer, the episodes, stretto, pedal point, and coda. The subject, either in its original or altered form, appears and re-appears constantly throughout the piece.

Galliard (Romanesca). An old Italian dance of lively character.

Galop.—An old form of dance still popular. It is in 2—4 time and of rather quick rate of movement.

Gamut.—The scale of sounds.

Gavotte.—A dance of French origin in common time. It is somewhat similar to the Bourrée.

Gigue (Jig).—An old Italian dance written in various rhythms.

Glee.—A vocal conposition for at least three voices, unaccompanied and containing solos. The form originated in the 18th century when the finest examples were written, Generally, as its name implies, it is of a cheerful character, but there are many "serious" examples.

Grave.—In a slow and solemn style

Gregorian Modes.—These modes or scales, consisting of eight natural notes each, date probably from the time of St. Ambrose (4th century). St. Gregory (6th century) collated them and defined their form.

Ground Bass.—A bass melody or figure, repeated with varied harmonies in the accompaniment.

Guitar.—An instrument of the lute species. It has a flat back and the sides resemble in shape those of a violin. There are six strings—three of gut and three of silver wire woven over silk. The sounds are produced by plucking the strings with the fingers.

Harmonics (Partials).—When a string, or other sonorous body, is set vibrating, it not only does so as a whole, but its aliquot parts (half, third, etc.) are also set in motion, and each part produces a tone higher in pitch but of decreasing intensity. These tones are called harmonics and can be heard in most instruments.

Harmony.—The art of combining sounds according to certain rules, which govern the construction of the chords and their progression.

Harp.—An instrument of very ancient origin. The frame is triangular, thus allowing an arrangement of strings gradually increasing in length and differing in pitch. By the invention of pedals (1720), and the double-action pedals (Erard, 1810), the strings can be shortened and semitiones produced.

Harpischord.—An instrument like the clavichord in principle, but in shape similar to a grand pianoforte. It was supplied with two or three strings to each note, and had sometimes two rows of keys.

Hautboy.—See Oboe.

Horn.—See French Horn.

Hornpipe.—An old English dance, lively in character, in triple or duple time.

Impromptu.—A kind of composition which suggests improvisation. It is somewhat free from prescribed forms.

Intermezzo. Interlude.—A short piece played between other and larger movements, or between the acts of a play, or the verses of a hymn.

Intrada.—Introduction.

Key.—The particular scale of sounds in which a piece is written; also certain mechanical contrivances in musical instruments.

Larghetto.—Similar to Largo in style, but hardly as slow.

Largo.—In a solemn stately style; slower than Adagio.

Ledger lines.—The small auxiliary lines used above and below the staff when the notes extend beyond its compass.

Legato.—In a smooth, connected manner, the notes following each other closely without the slightest gap.

Leggiero.—Lightly (in quick passages).

Lento.—Slow.

L'istesso tempo.—The same time.

Lute.—A stringed instrument of Eastern origin introduced into Europe by the Crusaders. It resembles a guitar except that it has an oval back, and was played by plucking the strings with or without a plectrum.

Lyre.—An ancient Greek instrument. It had fewer strings than a harp and was played with a plectrum.

Madrigal.—The term originally signified a poem, and, afterwards, the music to which it was sung. A Madrigal is a song for three or more voices, written in the contrapuntal style without accompaniment. English Madrigals are unsurpassed. (See Counterpoint).

Maestoso.—In a majestic style.

Mandoline.—An instrument of the lute kind but smaller, and with a more rounded back. It has either four pairs (Neapolitan) or five pairs (Milanese) of strings, and is played with a plectrum.

Manual.—A set or row of keys.

Marcato.—In a marked manner to attract attention to the melody.

March.—A form of music chiefly used for military purposes. The time is duple or quadruple, and the style bold, melodious and attractive.

Masque.—An old English drama with music. Ben Jonson was famous as an author of masques which were frequently performed at Court.

Mazurka.—Formerly only a Polish national dance, but now also Russian. The rhythm, in 3—4 time, is often peculiar, the accent being on the second beat. The style is sentimental.

Mediant.—The third note of the scale, midway between tonic and dominant.

Melody.—A rhythmic arrangement of single sounds pleasing to the ear.

Meno mosso.—Less movement, slower.

M. D. (Ital. mano destra). With the right hand.

Metronome.—An instrument used for indicating the rate at which a movement is to be performed.

Minuet.—A graceful dance, in 3—4 time, of French origin. In its present form it consists of two strains or phrases each repeated, and a trio, after which the two strains are heard again. Formerly it was composed of two eight-bar phrases only.

Modulation.—Generally understood to mean changing the key by means of intermediate chord or chords. Some musicians call this change "Transition" and hold that "Modulation" means passing from one mode to another—major to minor, minor to major.

Mordent.—An instrumental embellishment somewhat similar to a trill though shorter, having the additional note below the principal one.

Motet.—A sacred composition—originally in contrapuntal form only—for three or more voices, with or without accompaniment.

Motif.—The principal theme of a musical composition. As the piece proceeds it is heard again and again on one or other of the instruments, either entire or in part.

Musette.—An old French bagpipe with two "drones"; also a kind of small Oboe with a very penetrating tone.

Mute.—A small piece of metal or wood made to fit on the bridge of a stringed instrument. Its effect is to lessen the volume and also to modify the character of the sound.

Natural Notes (Open notes).—The natural notes produced by the open tube of a brass instrument, without the use of valves or pistons, are the octave, fifth, double-octave, major third, octave fifth, seventh, etc. They are obtained by varying the force of the air in blowing.

Nocturne.—A form of composition invented by Field, who wrote many graceful and attractive specimens. Subsequently Chopin adopted the form, but his marked individualism considerable altered its character.

Notturno.—A piece for several instruments, or orchestra, of somewhat light and dainty character.

Obbligato.—Necessary. The term is generally used when an instrument is supplying an accompaniment which is indispensible.

Oboe (Hautboy).—A wooden instrument played with a double reed. With the exception of the mouthpiece the shape resembles that of the clarinet, but its tone is more penetrating.

Octave.—The eighth note above or below a given sound; or the series of the eight notes of the scale.

Octett.—A piece of music written for eight instruments.

Opera.—A drama in which all the words are sung. The music is usually arranged for full orchestra.

Ophicleide.—A large brass instrument fitted with keys like a bassoon. It was invented about a century ago and superseded the old wooden "serpent."

Oratorio.—A sacred subject, or drama, written principally for chorus interspersed with solos, duets, etc. The form is more massive and important than the Cantata.

Orchestra.—A combination of instruments forming a band. A well constituted orchestra includes violins, violas, violoncellos, double-basses, flutes (2), oboes (2), clarinets (2), bassoons (2), horns (2 or 4), trumpets (2), and kettle-drums (2), with, as occasion may require, piccolo, harp, ophicleide, bass-tuba, bass drum, cymbals, triangle. The total number of instruments in such an orchestra would be from 70 to 100, the strings largely predominating.

Organum.—The primitive accompaniment to Plain Song.

Ottavino.—The "octave flute" or piccolo.

Overture.—The instrumental opening movement of an opera or oratorio. The kind known as "Concert" overture is not associated with either, but is generally illustrative or suggestive of some particular idea (e.g., Mendelssohn's "Meerestille"). Operative overtures are more free in form and also of lighter texture.

Partita.—See Suite.

Partition (Partitur).—Full orchestral score.

Part Song.—A composition for three or more voices and generally of simple construction.

Passacaglia or Passecaille.—Originally a Spanish dance. The form was developed by composers of the 17th and 18th centuries. It is very similar in construction to a chaconne.

Passepied.—An old French dance of the 16th century in triple time; sometimes included in the Suite where it preceded the minuet.

Passing Notes.—Unessential notes forming a bridge between essential notes. Though discordant their effect is not unpleasant owing to their brief duration.

Pasticcio.—A name applied to a kind of opera which was made up of favourite but disconnected numbers from various sources.

Pastorale.—A simply constructed instrumental movement of a quiet pastoral character, generally in 6–8 or 12–8 time.

Pavan.—A slow and stately dance and song of either Italian or Spanish origin.

Pedalier.—A pedal board fitted to a pianoforte, the pedals either acting on the keys of the latter, or on an independent mechanism with its own set of strings.

Pedal point.—A point in a movement where one part holds or sustains a note while the others supply varied harmonies. The pedal note must be either tonic or dominant, and the first and last chords of the point must be in harmony with the note sustained.

Perdendosi.—Lessening the sound: dying away.

Pesante.—The notes to be played heavily and in a marked manner.

Phrasing.—The grouping of the sounds into definite phrases. The notes become more linked together and the melody more apparent.

Piacevole.—Agreeably, pleasantly.

Piano.—Soft. Pianissimo.—Very soft.

Pianoforte.—The strings of the harpsichord were plucked, those of the pianoforte are struck by felt-covered hammers This device made it possible, by varying the force, to produce loud or soft tones —hence the name Pianoforte. The invention of the hammer was the work of Cristofori (18th century).

Pibroch.—An air and variations for the Gaelic bagpipe.

Piccolo.—An octave flute. Its upper notes are powerful and piercing, the lower ones are comparatively weak.

Più.—More.

Pitch.—The acuteness or gravity of a musical sound. The higher the rate of vibration the higher the pitch.

Plagal Modes.—The four ancient Church modes or scales arranged, as it were, across the four original or authentic modes. They are ascribed to St. Gregory.

Plain Song.—The tunes or melodies of the Ancient Church.

Plectrum.—A small piece of wood, metal, or other material for plucking the strings of certain instruments.

Poco.—A little, somewhat. Poco adagio.—Somewhat slow.

Point d'Orgue.—Either the "pedal-point" (q.v.), or the point in a concerto where the Cadenza is introduced.

Polacca.—The Italian form of the Polish polonaise. It is less sentimental and more brilliant than the latter.

Polka.—A favourite dance having its origin in Bohemia in the middle of the last century. It is written in 2—4 time and is of a bright and lively character.

Polonaise.—A Polish dance in 3—4 time and well marked rhythm. The emphasis is frequently placed on a weak accent. In the famous Polonaises of Chopin, melancholy and tender strains alternate with passages of massive grandeur.

Pomposo.—Pompously.

Ponticello.—The bridge of a stringed instrument. "Sul ponticello"—play close to the bridge.

Portamento.—A gliding from one note to another—only really possible by the voice or a stringed instrument. Occasionally applied to music for a keyed instrument, but the effect is naturally quite different.

Positions (Shifts).—The various positions of the left hand in playing a stringed instrument.

Positive (Organ).—The "choir" organ. The term "positif" is still used in France to indicate the "choir" manual. The name was originally given to the instrument fixed in the chancel and used to accompany the choir, to distinguish it from the movable organ ("portative") used in processions.

Postlude, Postludium.—A concluding organ voluntary.

Pot-Pourri.—An instrumental arrangement of operatic or popular airs. Beyond a few short interludes by way of modulation there is no attempt at construction.

Prelude.—An introductory movement to a church service, oratorio, cantata, etc.

Presto.—Quickly, more so than Allegro. The term Prestissimo is reserved for the highest rate of movement.

Psaltery.—An ancient trapezium-shaped instrument of the harp or dulcimer kind. It is uncertain whether it was played by the fingers or by a plectrum.

Purfling.—The narrow strip of ornament round the edge of the body of a stringed instrument. It properly consists of very thin slips of wood inserted with great care, which serve not only to beautify the instrument but also to prevent the spreading of cracks at the edges.

Quadrille.—A "square" dance originated in France about the beginning of last century.

Quartet.—A composition for four solo voices or instruments. The string quartet—consisting of two violins, viola, and violoncello—is generally considered the most beautiful instrumental combination.

Quasi.—As if.

Quick Step.—A quick march.

Quintet.—A composition for five solo performers, vocal or instrumental.

Quodlibet.—A humorous vocal or instrumental composition of the 18th century, often consisting of an interweaving of subjects having not the slightest connection with each other.

Rallentando, Ritenuto.—A gradual decrease in speed.

Rebec.—The precursor of the violin. Its body was pear-shaped and, for the most part, solid, the only hollow portions being at the head and broad end. The latter was roughly scooped out and covered with a thin pine-wood belly. Its three strings were bowed. The tone was powerful but rather harsh.

Recitative.—Invented at Rome at the close of the 16th century. A recitative is a declamatory passage, without bars or well defined rhythm, thus allowing considerable freedom of speed and expression. The accompaniment is of the simplest kind.

Recorder.—A kind of flute, now obsolete, held like a flageolet. Near the mouthpiece was a small hole covered with a bladder of skin, which modified the tone. Shakespeare mentions it in Hamlet (Act III., Sc. 2).

Redowa.—A Bohemian dance in 3—4 time, appearing in Western Europe about 1850.

Reed.—A small flat piece of material used as a vibrator. It is made of metal in the organ, harmonium, and concertina, and of a species of reed in the oboe, clarinet, and bassoon. In the clarinet and organ the reed beats against or towards the aperture, but in the harmonium it is free. The oboe and bassoon have double reeds.

Reel.—An ancient dance in common time (sometimes found in 6—4 time). Probably of Celtic origin. It is danced by couples who perform a series of "figures of eight." It is still found in Scotland and Ireland, and occasionally in Yorkshire.

Regal.—A very small portable organ with generally not more than one set of reeds, in use in the 15th and 16th centuries. The bellows were usually worked by the performer.

Resolution.—The process in Harmony of passing from a discord to a concord. The note forming the discord generally "resolves" by falling one degree.

Rests.—Characters which denote the duration of silence in music. Each note has its own corresponding form of rest

Resultant Tones.—When two sustained sounds are produced in sufficient strength, another or resultant tone can be heard. The vibration number of this tone is found to be equal to the difference between the vibration numbers of the generators. For instance, if the latter are 256 and 384 then the resultant tone will be 128. Helmholz discovered that yet another tone was produced equal in vibrations to the sum of the generators. This tone is exceedingly faint and cannot usually be heard without the aid of a resonator.

Retardation.—A kind of suspension (q.v.) in which the retarded note resolves upwards.

Rhythm.—The symmetrical arrangement of music into bars, each of the same duration and containing the same accents.

Ricercare.—A fugue without episodes. The devices of Augmentation and Diminution of the Subject, etc., are developed to their utmost, ingenuity being the aim of the writer. A ricercare is purely a scholar's fugue.

Rigadon.—An old French dance introduced into England in the 17th century. It is written in 2—4 or common time, and is of a broad but lively character.

Rinforzando.—A sudden and short increase in sound as in Sforzando.

Ripieno.—This term was applied formerly to certain instruments in the orchestra which re-inforced the principals of the same kind in passages where more tone was required. The method is not now practised.

Risoluto.—Resolutely; in a bold manner.

Ritardando.—Decreasing the speed.

Ritornello.—A "return" or repetition of a melody at the end of a movement, or between the verses of a song; or a short interlude played at an opera during the shifting of the scenes.

Romance.—A composition in which sentimental expression rather than any particular form plays a prominent part. In France Mendelssohn's Lieder ohne Worte are known as "Romances."

Rondo.—A form of composition consisting of a principal subject or melody—which recurs several times—and episodes. The return of the original subject is always in the same form giving the effect of a round. There is also a second subject which, unlike the principal one, may modulate into different keys.

Root.—The foundation note of a chord, i.e., the fundamental note from which the others are derived.

Roulade.—A brilliant vocal phrase.

Round.—A canon (q.v.) in the unison, that is, the answering voices begin on the same note as the leader, instead of at an interval above or below as in strict canon.

Rubato.—This term refers to the time of certain passages where, for the purpose of emphasizing the expression, the performer is allowed a little licence as to the relative values of the notes.

Sackbut.—A kind of trombone or slide trumpet now obsolete. The sackbut of the Bible was probably a stringed instrument.

Saltarello.—A lively Italian dance in which there is a characteristic jump or leap. It is generally in common time.

Saraband.—A slow dignified dance in triple time. It came from Spain, but by way of Italy, where it was considerably modified. It is generally the slow movement of the Suite.

Saxhorn.—The family of brass instruments as improved in valve construction, etc., by Sax, with the exception of two kinds they do not blend well with strings, and are therefore more in evidence in military bands than in the ordinary orchestra.

Saxophone.—A brass instrument fitted with a reed and made in all sizes. Invented by Sax.

Scale.—The series of eight notes of a key is called the diatonic scale; when divided into semitones it is termed chromatic.

Scena.—An operatic solo; an accompanied recitative; or a recitative and aria.

Scherzando.—In a playful manner.

Scherzo.—Properly, a composition of a humorous kind, but the term is often wrongly applied.

Schottische.—A dance introduced into England about the middle of last century, when it was called the German Polka. The music resembles that of the Polka, but the step is slower, and the movement different.

Seguidilla.—A Spanish national dance in 3—4 time.

Semplice.—In a simple manner.

Senza.—Without.

Septet.—A composition for seven solo voices or instruments.

Sequence.—The repetition of a figure, melody, phrase, or group of chords, on different degrees of the scale.

Serenade, Serenata.—Evening music in the open air. The term is variously applied to instrumental music, a secular cantata, or the song of the lover. The style is always light, melodious, and sentimental.

Serpent.—An instrument now seldom seen or used. The body is made of wood covered with leather and fitted with a brass mouthpiece. The tone is coarse and the instrument gradually disappeared from the orchestra on the introduction of the ophicleide.

Sextet. Sestet.—A composition for six solo voices or instruments.

Sforzando.—A sudden increase of force on a particular note or chord.

Shake (Trill).—The rapid repetition of a principal note alternating with the one above it. One of the most effective of musical ornaments.

Shawm.—An early reed instrument, probably of the clarinet type.

Siciliana.—An old Sicilian dance in 6—8 time, resembling somewhat a slow pastorale.

Slur.—A curved line placed over a passage to signify that the notes are to be played smoothly and as one phrase. But when it is used to connect two notes of the same pitch it is called a "tie," or "bind," and the second note is not struck, but made a continuation of the first.

Smorzando.—Dying away.

Sonata.—A composition in three or four movements and for either one or two instruments. Its model was practically fixed by Emanuel Bach (1714–1788). The first movement is generally an allegro, the second a slow movement, the third a minuet, or scherzo, and the fourth most often a rondo. Quartets, symphonies, and concertos are largely written on this plan. The first movement has a well defined form. It consists of three sections. The first contains two subjects,—the principal one in the tonic key, and the second in the dominant key—unless the principal subject is in the minor, in which case its subordinate is in the relative major. This first division ends in a double bar and is usually repeated. In the second division these two subjects are developed in various ways. In the third section they are recapitulated, and this time both are in the tonic key. The movement ends with a coda. Many overtures are written on this plan.

Sonatina.—A little Sonata—of the same form but shorter in length of movement and simpler in construction.

Sotto voce.—Softly, in an undertone.

Spianato.—In an even simple manner.

Spinet.—A keyboard instrument; the keys acted on jacks fitted with plectra, which plucked the strings. Spinetti of Venice made improvements in form.

Spiritoso.—In a spirited manner.

Staccato.—The notes struck and smartly left, thus leaving a very short rest after each. The signs of the staccato are dots or dashes over the notes to be so played.

Stave.—The system of parallel horizontal lines on which are represented the sounds, the actual pitch of which is fixed by the clef.

Strathspey.—A Scottish dance similar to the reel—a little slower but requiring greater exertion in the movements.

Stretto.—The section of a fugue where the subject is introduced at closer intervals—one part will commence so shortly after another that the subject is partly combined with itself. Più stretto signifies, in vocal music, an increase in speed.

Stringendo.—Accelerating the speed and increasing the tone.

Subdominant.—The note below the dominant—the 4th of the scale.

Suite.—A cyclical form. It consists of various dances arranged with a view to contrast in time and expression. The following are the chief dances found in the Suite:—Allemande, Bourrée, Chaconne, Courante, Gavotte, Gigue, Minuet, Passacagha, Rigadon, Sarabande. When other forms were interpolated—such as prelude, aria, fugue,—the series was called a Partita.

Supertonic.—The second note of the scale.

Suspension.—The holding over of a note of one chord—to which it is consonant—to another chord to which it is dissonant. The dissonant note then falls one degree to its resolution. (See also Retardation).

Symphony.—The most fully developed form in instrumental music. In structure it closely resembles the sonata, but is broader in plan, more distinctive in character and purpose, and, on account of richer colour afforded by instrumentation, more attractive to the multitude. It is a "Sonata for orchestra," and something more—according to the genius and individuality of the composer.

Syncopation.—The alteration of the usual position of the accent in a bar by placing the emphasis on the weak division. For this purpose two similar notes are tied.

Tanto.—Too much; non tanto—not too much.

Tarantella.—A graceful song-dance with tambourine. It has a rather quick movement in 6—8 time. The name is supposed by some to have been derived from tarantula—a spider, whose bite was believed to be rendered harmless by the dance. But it is more likely to have been named after Tarento, where it was originally danced.

Tempo.—Rate of movement.

Teneramente.—Tenderly.

Terzetto.—A composition for three voices.

Theorbo (Arch-lute).—A large kind of lute with a double neck.

Toccata.— A composition written to display the performer's skill or "touch" on his instrument.

Transposing Instruments.—On account of the difficulty or impossibility of playing in certain keys on some instruments, different devices are used. The clarinet is made in three sizes,—C, A, and B♭. In the trumpet and horn additional pieces of tube called "crooks" are fitted, thus raising or lowering the scale of sounds. It follows therefore that if a piece of music is in the key of C and a B flat clarinet is employed, the part must be written in D—a tone higher in order to be in harmony with the other instruments; if clarinet in A, then the part must be written a minor third higher. The same method has to be employed with all transposing instruments. The horn part is always written in the key of C, the notes themselves being transposed higher or lower.

Trio.—A composition for three voices or instruments.

Trombone.—A brass instrument with a sliding tube. Each position of the slide, by lengthening the instrument, gives a different fundamental note, and as the series of natural notes belongs to each fundamental, a complete scale is available.

Troppo.—Too much.

Trumpet.—A brass instrument producing the natural notes as in the horn. Other notes are obtained by valves, but they are not of the same power and quality. (See Transposing Instruments.)

Tuba.—See Bass Tuba.

Violin, Viola, Violoncello.—Stringed instruments played with the bow. They each have four strings tuned in fifths. The violin is the highest in range, the viola is the tenor (or alto), and the violoncello the bass, the lowest string of which gives C below the bass stave.

Virginal.—An obsolete keyboard instrument, resembling a spinet.

Vivace.—In a lively manner.

Volti Subito.—Turn over quickly.

Waltz.—A popular dance in triple time.

Zither.—A development of the ancient kithara. It has two modern forms. One consists of a flat, shallow resonance box, across the top of which are stretched metal and catgut strings which are played by a plectrum and the fingers. The other kind is shaped like a viola, and played with a bow.

3. NAUTICAL TERMS.

A1.—See p. 629 under "Lloyd's Register."

A.B.—"Able bodied," applied to fully-qualified seamen.

Aback.—A term given to the condition of the sails when through shift of wind, or bad steering, the wind presses upon the fore-side of the sails, and so impedes the vessel or brings it to a stand still.

Abaft.—On the after side of. This term is used when referring the position of one object to another, or to points of land; that which is nearer to the stern, in position or bearing, is said to be abaft the one nearer to the bow.

Abeam.—The bearing of an object when it is at right angles to the fore-and-aft line of the ship. It is used in defining the direction of the wind.

Afore.—The opposite of Abaft. It is used to define the bearing of an object, or the direction of the wind when it is on the fore-part of the vessel.

Aft.—The after part or stern of the vessel. Looking in the direction of the stern of the vessel when standing on board is "Looking Aft."

Against the Sun.—In a direction opposite to that in which the sun apparently moves. Hence if a rope is coiled upon the deck from right to left, it is said to be coiled "against the sun."

A-lee.—When the helm is put down so as to bring the ship's head to the wind, it is said to be a-lee. "Hard a-lee" refers to the position of the helm when it is so placed that it cannot be moved further in that direction.

All Hands. Every one on board connected with the working of the ship. When anything has happened that would require the muster of all the working power possible, the officer's order would be "All hands on deck," and then every-one from officer to cabin boy must obey the summons.

Amidships.—In or towards the middle or the middle line of a vessel; also middle of the vessel.

Anchor Watch.—When riding at anchor it is the custom of seamen to take turns on deck throughout the night in watching the safety of the vessel and to report to the officers any circumstance that may require attention.

A-peek.—When heaving in the cable, and immediately before the anchor is lifted from the sea-bottom, the cable will be straight up and down. It is then said to be a-peek.

Arming.—At the lower end of the lead, used for ascertaining the depth of water, is a cavity, and this cavity is filled or "Armed" with tallow or soap, as a means of ascertaining the nature of the sea-bottom.

Articles.—Agreement between the master mariner and his crew binding the latter to obey all lawful commands of the former throughout the voyage.

Athwart.—Across the vessel, in a direction at right angles to the fore-and-aft line of the ship. To fire "Athwart the bow" is to fire in front of a vessel across the line of direction in which it is moving.

Auxiliary Ships.—See Ships Auxiliary.

Avast or Vast.—The word of command to stop. "Avast heaving" is the command to stop heaving or hauling.

Aye-Aye.—An acknowledgment given by a seaman that he has heard and understands an order given to him.

Back-stays.—Wire ropes leading from the heads of the masts to the deck on each side of the masts and slanting aft. They give the main support to the masts from the after part.

Back-Water (to).—To stop a boat's way by pushing the oars in an opposite direction to that taken when rowing.

Bale.—To throw water out of a boat.

Bank fires.—To cover up the fires in a furnace with ashes so that they may smoulder without going out.

Bare poles.—The condition of a ship, when lying-to in a storm, or running before the gale, with no sails set.

Barque or Bark.—A vessel having three masts—fore-mast, main-mast, and mizen-mast, with yards on the first two similar to those of a "ship." She has fore-and-aft sails consisting of spanker and gaff topsail on the mizen or after mast. The mizen-mast consists of lower-mast, top-mast, and top-gallant-mast, the latter two being one spar. A barque is sometimes four-masted, having yards fitted to the fore-mast, main-mast, and mizen-mast, with a spanker and gaff-topsail on the jigger or after-mast. Jibs and stay-sails are also set.

Barquentine.—A vessel with three masts having yards on the fore-mast only. The main-mast and mizen-mast are fitted in the same manner as the mizen-mast of a barque, and she sets the same kind of spanker and gaff-topsail. Jibs and staysails are also carried.

Battens.—Iron laths wedged along the outside of the hatches to keep the tarpaulins down and prevent water from getting into the hold.

Beacon.—A post placed on shoals or rocks to warn mariners of danger; also similar posts on shore to make land-marks for the safe guidance of vessels.

Beam.—A vessel's beam is her breadth measured at right angles to the fore-and-aft line.

Beam-ends.—A vessel is "on her beam-ends" when she is lying over so far that the sides of the vessel are almost horizontal. The lee side will then be under water. This position may be due to a squall having caught the vessel when under canvas, or to the shifting of cargo.

Beating.—The manœuvreing of a ship to get towards a position to windward by alternate tacks, thus making her way onward by a series of zigzags.

Belay.—To make fast a rope.

Bend —To make fast. To bend a sail is to make it fast to the yards or stays.

Berth.—A room or cabin where one or more seamen sleep; also the position allotted to a vessel when at anchor or alongside a quay.

Bilges. Bilge-water.—The iron bottom of a vessel is riveted to strong iron frames that run athwartships (across the vessel) from side to side. On these frames rests the floor (termed ceiling) upon which the cargo is stowed. The space between the flooring and the bottom of the vessel is the "bilges." Drainage from the cargo or water that has entered the vessel makes its way to this compartment and takes the name of "bilge-water."

Bill-of-Health.—Refer to p. 614.

Bill-of-Lading.—Refer to p. 614.

Binnacle.—A brass case with a glass front in which the compass is placed to protect it from injury.

Blue-Peter.—A blue flag with a white square in the centre. It is hoisted at the fore-mast head to give notice that the vessel leaves the port within twenty-four hours.

Blue-Pidgeon.—The nickname given by seamen to the deep-sea lead used for sounding the depth of water.

Bluff.—A term descriptive of a vessel's bow when it is more inclined to be round than pointed.

Boatswain.—A petty officer on board a ship who is supposed to be a thorough seaman. He receives the orders from the deck officer, and then sees them carried out by the seamen. He has charge of the ropes and cordage, and is in general a leader of the men.

Boom.—A stout spar, usually about six feet from the deck, leading from a mast towards aft in a horizontal direction. The foot or lower part of the spanker in a barque, also the mainsail of any fore-and-aft rigged vessel, is hauled aft along it.

Boot-topping.—The band of paint on a vessel "between wind and water."

Bowline.—A rope leading from the weather leech of a sail for hauling it forward so that the wind may act upon it with greater effect.

Bowse.—To haul hard upon a tackle to set taut the body that it is fast to.

Bowsprit.—A large boom or spar that projects over the bow of a vessel.

Box.—A word used principally in reference to learning the points and degrees of the mariner's compass. "To box a compass" is to know any point or quarter point and its reverse bearing at sight.

Brace.—A rope leading from the deck of a ship to the arm of a yard so as to enable the seamen to haul it about in a horizontal direction and get the best position for deriving the full benefit of the wind.

Brig.—A vessel with two masts having yards on both but not setting either royals or skysails. She carries jibs and staysails.

Brigantine.—A vessel with two masts having yards on the fore-mast only. She sets fore-and-aft sails on the main-mast similar to that of a barque's mizen-mast. She carries jibs and stay-sails.

Broach-to.—When running before a heavy gale there is always a danger of the ship "broaching-to," or of deviating so far from her right course as to bring wind and sea on the side, thus imperilling the vessel.

Broken-backed.—A ship if grounding upon a mud or sand bank will, owing to her build, receive more support amidships than near the bow or stern. Should the water fall there would be a danger of the two ends of the ship sinking into the mud, and the middle of the ship, not being able to withstand the strain, "would break her back."

Bulwarks.—The vertical sides of a vessel rising above the level of the main deck, and serving as protection from the waves.

Bum-Boat.—A boat which, fitted as a floating store or shop, comes alongside of ships at anchor in a harbour and, with the captain's permission, retails such goods to the seamen as are generally unprocurable on board during the passage at sea.

Cables-length.—A measure of about 100 fathoms in length (one fathom=6 ft.).

Capstan.—A machine of drum-like shape on the fore-castle head which, by means of a chain or rope wound round it, is used for raising heavy weights and more particularly for heaving in the cable chains.

Cast.—This word is a familiar one with seamen when expressing such actions as "Cast adrift." "Cast the lead."

Cat-Head.—A baulk of timber projecting over the bow of a vessel through which is rove the tackle for lifting up the anchor to the level of the deck.

Cat's-paw.—A slight ruffling of the sea that is otherwise smooth, due to an approaching light breeze.

Caulk.—To force the oakum into the seams between planks of the deck.

Chanties.—Songs with choruses sung by seamen to lighten such arduous duties as heaving in the anchor, or to secure simultaneous action when hauling upon a rope.

Charter-Party.—Refer to p. 617.

Chock-a-Block. The term "chock" means close up. And "Chock-a-block" expresses the state of things when by hauling on the tackle-fall (which see) the lower block has reached the upper block and can go no further.

Clap on.—To put on by a sudden movement. "Clap on all sail," set all sail possible.

Clinch.—A hitch, simple but secure, that is made by means of one half hitch round another rope and the end stopped back.

Clipper-Bow.—The bow of a ship that arches well forward over the stem and overhangs the water.

Close-hauled.—Sailing as closely as the sails will allow in the direction from which the wind blows.

Coamings.—That part of the hatch sides which are above the deck to prevent any water from getting into the holds.

Cock-bill.—The position of the anchor when it is hanging in a vertical line from the bow before being let go.

Cockpit.—An apartment in a man of war used by the surgeon for operating upon seamen who have been wounded in action.

Companion.—A wooden protection covering the entrance way from the deck to a cabin.

Companion-ladder.—A ladder leading from the companion to the deck below.

Convoy.—A number of vessels sailing together under the protection of men-of-war.

Crank.—A term applied to a vessel which, either due to her build, insufficient ballast, or bad stowage of cargo, is inclined to heel over to one side or the other.

Crimp.—A man who makes a living by robbing sailors.

Cross-Jack (pron. croj-jack).—The lower yard on the mizen or after-mast of a ship.

Cutter.—A one-masted vessel with fore-and-aft sails only. The main-sail is in shape similar to a spanker, and the fore-sail sets on the fore-stay and is similar in shape to a jib.

Davits.—Iron arms projecting over the sides of a vessel to which are fixed tackles for lifting or lowering the boats.

Dead-eye.—A circular piece of hard wood through which the lanyards of the rigging are rove.

Dead-Reckoning (D. R.).—A mode of ascertaining the position of a ship resorted to in thick or cloudy weather. The courses steered are entered in the log-book, and also the distance run on each course. Certain allowances have to be made for the set and drift of the current, and these may sometimes be estimated from the chart although not to be depended upon entirely as they are often affected by the wind.

Deep-sea Lead (pron. dipsy-lead).—The heaviest lead used (weight about 28 lbs.) when sounding in deep waters.

Dog-Watch.—The times between 4 p.m. and 6 p.m., and between 6 p.m. and 8 p.m., are respectively the first and second "dog-watch."

Dunnage.—Material placed under cargo to keep it clear of any water that may accumulate at the bottom of the hold, or placed between parcels of cargo to prevent any movement.

Embargo.—Arrest placed upon ships or cargo by any public authority.

Ensign.—See p. 130.

Fag.—The end of a rope that has become teazed out or in a tangled state through lack of a twine whipping which it is the practice of seamen to secure the ends of the yarns with.

Feather.—To lay the blades of the oars parallel to the surface of the water between each stroke when rowing, and thereby reducing the pressure of wind upon them from the fore part.

Fenders.—Proctectors, made of cork, wood, or faggots, hung over the sides of vessels to guard them against injury from contact with other vessels, or with the quay alongside which they may be lying.

Figure-head.—A figure, generally of a man or woman, carved in wood and fixed on to the prow of a ship.

Fore-and-Aft.—In a direction from stem to stern.

Fore-and-Aft Sails.—See Sails, Fore-and-Aft.

Fore-and-Aft Schooner.—See Schooner, Fore-and-Aft.

Fore-Castle (pron. fo'-cas-el).—A house fitted in the bow of the vessel and raised above the level of the deck. The seamen are generally berthed in the Fore-castle although there is a tendency of latter years to berth them aft.

Fore-lock.—A piece of iron driven through a hole in the end of a shackle pin to prevent the latter getting adrift.

Frap.—To bind closely together.

Free-board.—The distance measured in a vertical line from the water's edge to the main deck line amidships. The amount so measured is limited by the Board of Trade.

Furl.—To roll a sail up and make it fast with gaskets (which see).

Gaff.—A spar leading from a lower mast head in an after direction and slanting upwards at an angle of about 45°. The lower part or foot of the gaff-topsail is hauled out upon it on its upper side, and the top part or head of the spanker is hauled out on the lower side.

Gaff Top-sail.—A three-cornered sail the height of which greatly exceeds the breadth. The head or upper part of the sail is hauled up the top-mast and top-gallant-mast, and the foot or lower part is hauled aft to the end of the gaff.

Galley.—A house, generally on the main deck, used as a kitchen.

Garboard-Strake.—The plate next to the keel of the vessel. It is about the strongest plate in the construction of a ship.

Gaskets.—Lengths of rope about half an inch in circumference, used for making sails fast to masts and yards after they have been furled.

General-Average.—A voluntary sacrifice of any part of the ship stores, freight or cargo for the benefit of all concerned.

Give way.—Begin to row; also an order when rowing to pull harder.

Goose-winged.—A square top-sail that has the weather side furled and the lee side set.

Gripe.—The action of a ship that has a tendency to run up into the eye of the wind and against the helm.

Ground-Tackle.—Anchors and cables.

Gunwale (pron. gun-el).—The top rail of a vessel which is fitted to the upper part of the bulwarks.

Halliards.—Tackles and ropes used to hoist sails and yards.

Hand-lead.—A leaden instrument about 8 lbs. in weight used for sounding in shallow waters. (See lead).

Handsomely.—Carefully. "Lower handsomely" is to lower gently.

Hard-a-lee.—Putting the helm as far down as possible, and so bringing the ship's head up into the direction of the wind.

Harness-Casks.—Casks lashed on the deck and containing sufficient salt meat for present use.

Hatch.—The entrance to a hold of the vessel from the deck.

Hawse-pipe.—The pipe through which the cable passes from windlass to water.

Head-sails.—The forward sails such as jibs.

Heave-Short.—To heave in the anchor cables until there is only sufficient to moor the ship without dragging.

Heave-to.—Placing sails aback sufficiently to deaden the way of the ship, an operation previous to taking the pilot on board or when he is leaving.

Heel.—To lie over. Also the after end of the keel; the lower end of a mast.

Helm.—The gear used for steering the vessel.

Hitch.—A method of making fast a rope.

Hogged.—Similar to "broken-backed." The ends of the vessel dropping through lack of support.

Hoist away.—The order to pull on a rope when raising a yard, sail, etc.

Holiday.—A mariner's expression referring to any patch left unpainted or untarred.

Home.—The anchor is hove "home" when it is close up to the hawse-pipe. The sheets of a sail are "home" when hauled out to the sheave holes.

House.—Any structure that may be fitted above the main deck for use as a store-room, or for living accommodation.

House (to).—To lower a mast about half way down and secure it.

Irons.—A ship is in "irons" when she comes up into the wind, through bad steering, loses her headway, and remains in that position for so long a time as to get out of control.

Jetsam.—Goods cast up on the beach, or goods thrown overboard to lighten the ship when in danger.

Jettison.—The act of throwing goods overboard.

Jib-boom.—A wooden spar the inner part of which rests upon, and is secured to, the bowsprit, the outer part projecting well forward of it. The stays from the head of the fore-royal-mast, top-gallant-mast and top-mast lead to it, inside one another.

Jibing.—When a fore-and-aft rigged vessel is running with the wind nearly aft, the booms of the main sails are out as far as possible to enable the sails set on them to be kept full of wind. If a sudden shift of wind occurs, or through bad steering the wind gets on the other side of the sail, the boom has to be passed to the other side of the vessel. This is termed "jibing."

Jibs.—Triangular sails hoisted up those stays that are on the fore part of the fore-mast and have their sheets hauled aft.

Jigger-mast.—See Masts.

Jolly-Boat.—The smallest boat carried on a ship, and used mostly for fetching provisions or running out lines to the shore.

Keelson.—A strengthening plate in the form of a T running fore and aft inside of the vessel. It is directly over and adjacent to the outside keel.

Kink.—A curling twist in a rope which would prevent it running through the sheave of a block.

Kites.—Light sails set only in very moderate breezes.

Knight-Heads.—The upper structure of the stem projecting over from the bow. The bowsprit rests upon it and the figure head is fastened to it.

Knot.—A nautical mile equal to 6.080 feet. Also the distance between two knots on a log line which is used for reckoning the ship's rate of speed.

Labouring.—A ship rolling and plunging badly through stress of weather.

Land-fall.—Sighting the land.

Lanyards.—A piece of rope used for securing objects about the deck to prevent their moving. Rope rove through the dead-eyes for setting taut the rigging.

Larboard.—An expression to represent the port side of a vessel. Now out of date. (See Port).

Lay.—A call to "set to." or bestir oneself. It is followed by a word indicating the work to be done, as "Lay aloft"; "Lay aft"; "Lay forward."

Lead.—A conical-shaped piece of lead fastened to a line which is divided into fathoms; used for sounding the depth of water. (See Arming).

Lee.—The opposite side to that from which the wind blows. Hence "Under the lee of"=under the shelter of; and "lee shore"=the shore on the lee of the vessel, or that upon which the wind blows.

Leech.—The vertical and after part of a fore-and-aft sail; also the vertical and extreme sides of a square sail.

Leeward (pronounced by seamen luard).—On the side opposite to that from which the wind blows. Toward the lee or part to which the wind blows, it is opposed to windward.

Leeway.—The distance lost by the vessel being blown to the lee side of her course. It is equal to the difference between that which the ship would make good if sailing straight ahead and that which she actually makes.

Lie-to.—The act of bringing the ship's head as closely to the wind as possible, under small sail in a gale, so that she may ride easily and not take on board large quantities of water.

List.—To heel over on one side or the other. "List to port"; "List to starboard."

Look-out.—The man stationed on the fore part of the vessel to report to the officer in charge anything that he may see.

Log-book.—A book in which a record of events is kept. e.g., state of the weather, passing vessels, courses steered, deaths, accidents, or insubordination amongst the crew.

Long-boat.—The principal boat in the ship.

Luff.—An order to the man at the wheel to put his helm down and thus bring the ship's head more up into the direction of the wind. Also, the forward edge of a fore-and-aft sail.

Lurch.—The heavy roll of a vessel to one side or the other.

Manifest.—An inventory of the cargo.

Marline-spike.—A steel bar about twelve inches long sharpened at one end, used for opening the strands of a rope when splicing. A lanyard is rove through an eye at the blunt end to enable a seaman to hang it round his neck when going aloft.

Masts.—Long, round pieces of timber or hollow pillars of iron or steel, placed upright in a vessel to support the yards, sails, &c. In a four-masted vessel the masts, counting towards aft, are named fore-mast, main-mast, mizen-mast and jigger-mast. In a five-masted vessel the one between main-mast and mizen-mast is named middle-mast. Each mast consists of lower-mast, top-mast, top gallant-mast, royal-mast, and skysail-mast. The last three named generally consist of one long tapering spar. The different parts of the mast are so fixed together ("fidded" is the correct term) that the head of each mast overlaps the foot of the one above it by about eight feet, the two being securely fastened together by an iron frame.

Mates.—The officers of the ship under the master mariner.

Miss-stays.—Failing to come round on the other tack when the helm is put down for tacking.

Mizen.—One of the aft masts of a vessel. (See Masts).

Painter.—The rope in the bow of a boat used for making it fast.

Parbuckle.—To roll a barrel or spar up a vessel's side by means of ropes passed round it.

Plimsoll Mark.—On British merchant vessels of 80 tons register and upwards, a circular disc 12 inches in diameter, with a horizontal bar 18 inches long through the centre, is painted on the outside of the vessel amidships, at a distance from the deck specified by the Board of Trade. This mark indicates the load-line below which no British ship when loaded must sink. It derives its name from that of the Member of Parliament who got an Act passed for this purpose.

Poop.—The raised structure at the after end of a vessel.

Port.—The left hand side of a vessel looking forward. To port the helm is to put the upper spokes of the wheel over to starboard. The tiller (if on the fore part of the rudder) comes over to port by mechanical arrangement, and the ship's head alters to starboard or the right hand side of a vessel looking forward.

Quarantine.—Refer to p. 633.

Quarter-Master.—A petty officer on board ship who steers, looks after the binnacles, lead lines, and signalling gear. He also acts as time-keeper by striking the bell at the appointed times. (See Watches).

Ratlines.—Lines across the rigging used by the seamen as ladders for going aloft.

Rig.—The number and arrangement of the masts, sails, and yards of a ship.

Rigging.—Wire ropes leading from the upper ends or heads of masts to the sides of the ship for giving the masts support.

Rove.—A word in frequent use among seamen, is another form of "reeved." "To reeve" meaning to pass the end of a rope through any hole in a block, &c.

Royal.—A square sail directly above the top-gallant sail.

Sagged.—Opposite to "Hogged." The vessel amidships sinking and the two ends lifting.

Sails.—Square sails take the same name as the yard upon which they are set. The upper part, or head, of the sail is secured to the yard, and the lower part, or foot, of the sail by hauling it out to the ends, or yard arms, of the next yard beneath it. This operation of setting a sail, as also of taking it in, is performed from the deck by means of tackles, but to furl a sail the seamen must go aloft.

Sails, Fore-and-Aft.—A general term for sails not set upon yards.

Salvage.—Recompense made to those who have assisted in saving ship or cargo.

Schooner, Fore-and-Aft.—A two-masted vessel with fore-and-aft sails only on each mast, rigged similarly to the mizen-mast of a barque. She also sets jibs and staysails. There are many three masted fore-and-aft schooners sailing under the British ensign, and on the American coasts, sailing under the Stars and Stripes; four and five masted fore-and-aft schooners are much in favour.

Schooner, Topsail.—A two-masted vessel having topsail yards and fore-yard on the fore-mast, but she does not set a square foresail. The foresail—or properly, driver—is a fore-and-aft sail set on the fore-mast and similar to that of the main-mast and spanker of a barque. She also sets jibs and staysails.

Scud.—Low-lying clouds. Also to run before a gale.

Scuppers.—Channels or gutters at the sides of the ship for carrying off water from the deck. In the bulwarks are holes termed "scupper-holes." through which the water makes its way outside.

Scuttle.—A hole in a vessel's deck, generally for ventilation. Also to cut a hole in the vessel's bottom to sink her.

Sheave.—A small grooved wheel in a block, mast, or yard on which a rope works.

Sheer.—The fore-and-aft curve of a ship's deck.

Sheet-anchor.—The largest anchor carried on board ship.

Ship.—A vessel having three masts, each being fitted with yards on which sails are set. It also carries jibs and staysails. "Ship," it should be noted, is in nautical language not a general name for a vessel, but a vessel of a particular rig, as described above. A "ship," however, is sometimes four-masted, each mast having yards. Masts so fitted are termed square-rigged.

Ships, Auxiliary.—Sailing-ships having a small steam power for use in calms and light head winds.

Shiver.—To slacken a sheet until the sail shivers in the wind.

Snub.—To turn a ship round by letting go an anchor when under way.

Snug.—All secure. Everything ready to meet a gale.

Spanker or Driver.—A fore-and-aft sail set on the mizen-mast. The fore part is hoisted up the mast. The head, or upper-part, is hauled aft and in an upward direction along a gaff. The foot, or lower part, is hauled aft along a boom or spar. It is similar to the mainsail set on a one-masted yacht.

Spar.—A general word for masts, yards, booms, &c.

Splice-the-main-brace.—Extra grog served out after additional work.

Square-rigged.—See under Ship.

Starboard.—The right hand side of a vessel looking forward. To starboard the helm, opposite to port. (See Port).

Stays.—Wire ropes leading from the upper ends or heads of masts forward to the deck. They support the masts from the fore part.

Steamship.—The rig of a steamer takes the same name as that of a sailing-ship similarly rigged.

Steerage.—The between deck forward of the poop. Emigrants are generally housed there.

Stowage.—The placing of cargo in such a manner as to make it immovable, even when the ship is storm-tossed, and so distributing it, in respect to position and weight, as to render the ship seaworthy in all weathers.

Stowaway.—A person who hides himself in a vessel about to sail for the purpose of getting a free passage. Such action is punishable by imprisonment.

Strike.—To lower a mast or a flag.
Surge.—To slack suddenly.
Swab.—A mop made of rope yarns, used for cleaning the decks. Also to wash the decks.
Tack.—The course of a vessel in relation to the wind.
Tack Ship.—To put her about, to go from one tack to another, that is, to change her course so as to have the wind act from the port side instead of the starboard side, or vice versâ. To effect this, the helm is put down in such a manner as to bring the ship's head towards the direction of the wind and to keep the head moving in that direction until the wind is sufficiently on the other side to once more fill the sails.
Tackle and Tackle-fall.—A rope rove through two blocks having one or more sheaves for the purpose of increasing the lifting power is called a tackle. The moving part of the rope, namely, that part of the rope in the hands of the seamen is termed the tackle-fall.
Taffrail.—A rail round the poop; the rail farthest aft in a ship.
Tarpaulin.—Canvas covered with tar to make it waterproof.
Tarpaulin-Muster.—A voluntary contribution made by the seamen of a ship towards some charitable object. In former years the money was thrown on the main hatch tarpaulin.
Taut.—Tight, not slack; applied to a rope or sail.
Tramp-Steamer.—A steamer that does not trade in any particular run but wanders from any one port in the world to any other, wherever a freight of sufficient attraction may be obtainable.
Trick.—A period of time allotted to each seamen for duty at the helm; generally two hours.
Truck.—Circular caps at the uppermost extremity of each mast. Small sheave holes are furnished in them through which the signal halliards are rove. "From truck to keelson," from the highest to the lowest part of the ship.
Veer.—To change the course in sailing by turning the stern to windward. When the wind changes towards the stern, "it veers"; when towards the bow, "it hauls."
Wake.—The track of a ship shown by the disturbed water aft.
Watches.—Divisions of time on board a vessel to regulate the turns of on and off duty. Although the hours of duty vary according to the occupation of the mariner, the signalling of the watches by means of the striking of a bell remains constant from day to day. This striking of the bell also records the time at ship with relation to her position of longitude, and such time is recognised by the number of "strikes" or strokes of the bell-tongue.

Starting from noon each half hour is signalled by an additional strike: thus, 0-30 p.m., one strike=one bell; 1 p.m., two strikes=two bells; 1-30 p.m., three strikes=three bells; and so on until 4 p.m. is reached, when eight strikes (termed eight bells) are recorded. The number of strikes then commences again from one at the following half hour to eight at the fourth hour, continuing so throughout the twenty-four hours, making 4 o'clock, 8 o'clock and 12 o'clock each eight bells. A quartermaster performs this duty of time keeping, and having "struck the bell" on a small bell, generally hung amidships in steam vessels and aft in sailing ships, his signal is answered by similar strikes on a larger and deeper toned bell hung forward (for-rard), so that all on board may hear.

The seamen in sailing vessels and steamships are divided into two equal companies termed the starboard watch and the port watch. Each watch serves a period of four hours on duty, then four hours off duty, and to prevent either watch from being on duty on the same hours each day, the time between 4 p.m. and 8 p.m. is divided into two watches called "dog watches." In steamships the officers, engineers and firemen—the latter on account of their arduous duties—serve a watch of four hours on duty and eight hours off, having the same watch each day. The helmsman or man at the wheel steers for a "trick" of two hours.
Water-logged.—Condition of a vessel full of water but kept afloat by the buoyant nature of her cargo.
Way.—Progress or motion of a vessel through the water. Hence a vessel "under way" is a vessel in motion.
Wear.—"To wear" is opposed "to tack." It is to bring the wind from one side or tack to the other by way of the stern. This practice is only resorted to when the wind or sea is too heavy to allow of tacking. The helm is put up to move the ship's head away from the direction of the wind, and the ship is kept moving in that direction until her head is on the required course, that is, on the other tack.
Weather-lecch.—That leech of the sail which is to windward, or on the side from which the wind is blowing.
Wind-bound.—Said of ships at anchor in a harbour waiting for the wind to change to a suitable direction.
Wind, Close to the.—Sailing in a direction as near to that from which the wind blows as the sails will allow.
Wind, Comes up into the.—A ship sailing with the wind abaft the beam, and much sail set aft, has a tendency "to come up into the wind," that is, to bring her head more in the direction from which the wind is blowing. (See Gripe and Irons).
Windlass.—A mechanical arrangement strongly built into the forepart of the vessel for the purpose of heaving in the cable chains.
Windward (pron. windard).—On that side from which the wind blows. Towards the part from which the wind is blowing. It is opposed to leeward.
Yacht.—A vessel of no particular rig, used for pleasure purposes only.
Yards.—Iron or wooden spars which are fixed across the masts and upon which the square sails are set. They are moved in an horizontal direction by means of ropes, named braces. The lower yard on each mast, counting aft, is fore-yard, main-yard, cross-jack-yard (pron. croj-jack), the latter being on the mizen-mast. Counting upward from these with the name of the mast prefixed, the yards are named: lower topsail yard, upper topsail yard, lower top-gallant yard, upper top-gallant yard, royal yard, skysail yard.
Yaw.—To deviate from the course through bad steering.

4. LEGAL TERMS.

OBS.—The greater number of Legal Terms are explained just as they occur in the Legal Guide, and are therefore omitted here. They may be found by reference to the General Index.

Ad valorem.—According to the value.
A fortiori.—By so much the stronger (reason).
Affinity.—Relationship by marriage.
Agnates.—Relations by the father's side.
Alias.—Otherwise.
Alibi.—Elsewhere.
Animus furandi.—Intention of stealing.
Appropriation.—Applied to the assignment of tithes to a clerical body.
Appurtenances.—Adjuncts, subsidiary rights passing with the property.
Asesssor.—An expert who sits with a judge to advise him on technical points.
Attach.—To arrest or seize by legal process, e.g., by a judge's order.
Attestation Clause.—The clause in a will or other document signed by witnesses to certify that the document was signed in their presence.
Attested Copy.—The copy of a document attested by a witness to be an exact copy.
Bequest.—A gift of personal property by will.
Bona Fide.—In good faith.
Ca. sa.—Capias ad satisfaciendum, that you take so as to satisfy.
Capital Crime.—One punishable with death.
Caveat.—"Let him take heed." Hence caveat emptor, let the buyer beware.
Certiorari.—A form of writ.
Chance Medley.—Killing in self-defence.
Charter, Royal.—A grant of special privileges or powers by the Crown.
Chattels.—Movable goods, or interests in land other than freehold.
Codicil.—A document supplementary to a will.
Cognates.—Relations by the mother's side.
Cognovit.—"He has admitted." An admission of liability.
Compos mentis.—Sound in mind.
Consanguinity.—Relationship by blood: Lineal, when in a direct line of descent; Collateral, when not.
Corporation.—A body of persons empowered by law to act as an individual. When the body corporate consists of a single person it is called a Corporation sole.
Court Baron.—A court held by the lord of a manor, or his steward, for the admission of tenants. Sometimes called a Court leet.
Coverture.—Legal state of a married woman.
Crim. Con. (Criminal Conversation).—Adultery.
Curtilage.—A piece of land adjoining a dwelling-house.
De die in diem.—From day to day.
De facto.—In fact, in reality.
De jure.—By right.
Demise.—Transfer of an estate by lease or will. Also, transfer of a dignity, e.g., "Demise of the Crown."

Deponent.—One who gives testimony under oath, whether orally or by affidavit.

De son tort.—To his own injury or risk.

Devise.—A gift of land, or interest in land, made by Will. See Bequest.

Domicile.—One's legal home or place of permament residence.

Donatio mortis causa.—"A gift on account of death." A gift not to be realised until the donor's death.

Dower.—A widow's claim to the profits of the third part of her late husband's freehold estate during her lifetime. See Jointure.

Ejusdem generis.—Of the same kind.

Escheat.—The reversion of property to the Crown through forfeiture or the failure of heirs.

Estate Tail.—See Fee Simple.

Estoppel, a bar in the course of legal proceedings, frequently caused by a man's own act or previous admission.

Evidence, Hearsay.—A statement made by a witness on the authority of another person.

Ex officio.—By virtue of one's office.

Ex post facto.—"Out of (but) after the deed." Applied to legislation having a retrospective effect.

Faculty.—A licence or authority granted by an ecclesiastical court.

Fee Simple.—An estate in fee simple is a freehold at the absolute disposal of the owner, whereas an estate tail is a freehold under certain limitations.

Felo de se.—"A felon in respect to himself." Applied to a suicide, not being insane.

Feræ naturæ.—"Of a wild nature." Applied to birds and animals not domesticated.

Fiat.—"Let it be done." An order or warrant for something to be done.

Fi. Fa.—Fieri facias. That you cause it to be done.

Flagrante delicto.—In the very act of committing the crime.

Foreclosure.—The action taken by a mortgagee to enforce payment or to gain possession of the mortgaged property.

Habeas corpus.—"That you have the body."

Heir apparent.—The person who is certain to come into possession should he survive the present owner.

Heir presumptive.—The person who would come into possession were the present owner to die at once, but whose right to succeed would lapse on the birth of a child having a prior claim.

Heirloom.—Any personal chattel that descends by custom to the heir.

Heriot.—A fee payable to the lord of a manor on the death of one of the copyholders. Also the right to take the best beast.

High Seas.—The sea beyond the three mile limit. See Territorial Waters.

Hilary Sittings.—Sittings of the Court beginning on 11th January.

Hypothec.—In Scotch law, a lien over goods belonging to a debtor.

Impropriation.—Applied to the assignment of tithes to a layman. See Appropriation.

In camera.—"In a chamber." Privately.

Infant.—A person under the age of 21.

In forma pauperis.—As a pauper.

In loco parentis.—In the place of a parent.

In re.—In the matter of.

In statu quo.—In the same state as before.

Inter alia.—Among other things.

Interim.—In the meantime. Interim Order, an order of a Court of a temporary character.

In transitu.—In course of transit.

Ipso facto.—By the act itself, or as a necessary consequence of it.

Jactitation of Marriage.—Falsely giving oneself out as married.

Jointure.—Provision made by a husband for his widow.

Jury of Matrons.—A jury of women to determine whether or not a prisoner is pregnant, on her pleading to be so.

King's Evidence.—One who, though concerned in the crime himself, has been accepted as a witness against another offender.

Letters Patent.—A grant by the Crown of certain privileges to inventors and others. The term "patent" (from L. pateo, to be open) signifies that the letter conveying the grant is open to everyone's inspection.

Lis pendens.—A pending lawsuit.

Locum tenens.—One holding another's place for a time.

Locus in quo.—The place in which.

Locus sigilli.—The place for the seal.

Locus standi.—"A place of standing." The right to appear in Court.

Mala fide.—In bad faith.

Malfeasance.—The doing of something unlawful.

Mandamus.—"We order or direct." A writ requiring a person to do some specified act.

Market overt.—Open market.

Messuage.—A dwelling-house with the adjoining land.

Mortgage.—An assignment of land or house property as a security for a loan of money.

Municipal Law.—The law of a state, whereas International Law is the law between one nation and another.

Muniments.—Writings by which claims and rights are defended or maintained.

Nisi prius.—"Unless previously." Refer to Index.

Nolle prosequi.—"To be unwilling to prosecute." A formal undertaking by a plaintiff not to proceed further with his action.

Nonsuit.—A stoppage of a suit at law ordered by a judge, or an abandonment of the suit by the plaintiff at the hearing in Court.

Nudum pactum.—"A naked agreement." A contract made without any valuable consideration, and therefore null and void.

Obiter dictum.—Something said by the way; not a decision of the question at issue.

Onus probandi.—The burden of proof, or the responsibility of proving.

Oyer and Terminer.—"To hear and settle." Court of "Oyer and Terminer" is an Assize Court.

Paraphernalia.—A woman's ornaments.

Parol contract.—Originally a contract by word of mouth; now any contract not under seal.

Pendente lite.—While a lawsuit is in progress.

Per capita.—"By heads." By the number of persons concerned.

Posse Comitatus.—"The power of the county." Men on whom the Sheriff might call for assistance.

Post mortem.—"After death." Examination of a corpse to ascertain the cause of death.

Post obitum.—"After death." Hence a post-obit bond is given by an heir to take effect on the death of the present owner.

Prescription.—Title based on long use or custom.

Prima facie.—At the first look; before examining into the matter.

Pur autre vie.—"For the life of another." During another's lifetime.

Qua.—In the character of.

Quamdiu se bene gesserit.—As long as he shall behave will.

Quantum meruit.—As much as he has deserved or earned.

Quantum valeat.—As much as it is worth.

Quasi.—"As if"; hence a quasi-contract is an implied one.

Quid pro quo.—Something for something, an equivalent.

Quo warranto.—"By what authority"; a certain type of writ.

Refresher.—An additional fee paid to counsel when the case is prolonged.

Residuary Devisee.—The person who under a will takes all the real property left over after the other devisees have received their shares.

Residuary Legatee.—The person who under a will takes all the personal property left over after the other legatees have had their shares.

Res judicata.—A matter on which judgment has been already passed.

Scienter.—Knowingly.

Secus.—Otherwise.

Sine.—Without.

Sine die.—Without a day being fixed.

Sine prole.—Without issue.

Sinecure.—An office without any duty attached to it.

Status.—The position of a person in the eye of the law.

Status quo.—The position in which things are at a certain time.

Sub judice.—"Under the judge." In course of being tried.

Sub pœna.—"Under penalty"; a summons to appear under a penalty.

Surrogate.—The deputy of a bishop or his chancellor.

Terrier.—A register of lands.

Territorial Waters.—The sea within three miles of the coast; this part of the sea is regarded as a part of the adjoining country.

Ultimus Hæres.—"The last heir," namely, the Crown.

Ultra vires.—Beyond the powers or authority (of a person or party).

Venue.—The place of trial.

Versus (v.).—Against.

Viva voce.—With the living voice.

Voire dire=Fr. vrai dire to speak truly. Applied to a certain form of oath.

OBS.—The greater number of Legal Terms are explained just as they occur in the Legal Guide, and are therefore omitted here. They may be found by reference to the Index.

N.B.—For MEDICAL TERMS refer to Medical Dictionary pp. 324-423.

For COMMERCIAL TERMS refer to Commercial Dictionary pp. 610-639.

MISCELLANEOUS FACTS AND FIGURES.

CONTENTS.

	PAGE.
PLACES OF INTEREST IN LONDON	999
GENEALOGICAL TABLES	1005
KINGS AND QUEENS OF ENGLAND	1007
FRENCH SOVEREIGNS AND PRESIDENTS	1007
PRESIDENTS OF THE UNITED STATES	1007
MEMORABLE EVENTS:—
1. Assassinations of Monarchs & Presidents	1008
2. Some Famous Battles	1008
3. Great Earthquakes & Volcanic Eruptions	1009
4. Great Pestilences, Famines, Storms, etc.	1009
5. Notable Shipwrecks	1010
6. Great Discoveries and Inventions	1010
7. Miscellaneous Events	1011
LONGEST RIVERS IN THE WORLD	1012
HIGHEST MOUNTAINS IN THE WORLD	1012
COMPARATIVE RAINFALLS	1012
RACES OF MANKIND	1013
RELATIVE HEIGHT AND WEIGHT	1013
NOTABLE RAILWAY TUNNELS	1013
SOME FAMOUS ORGANS	1013
SOME OF THE WORLD'S LARGEST BELLS	1014
NOTABLE SPIRES AND TOWERS	1014
NOTABLE BRIDGES	1014
SPORTS AND PASTIMES:—
1. Horse-racing	1015
2. Cricket	1016
3. Football	1017
4. Rowing	1018
5. Athletic Records	1019
6. Champions	1020
SPORTING SEASONS AND CLOSE TIMES	1021
PROFESSIONAL FEES	1023
HINTS TO AUTHORS:—
1. Preparation of MSS.	1024
2. Sizes of Type	1025
3. Correcting Proofs	1026
SIGNS AND SYMBOLS	1027
OLD CHINA—KEY TO MARKS	1028
MOTOR CARS AND MOTOR CYCLES:—
Registration Letters	1030

PLACES OF INTEREST IN LONDON.

1. ART GALLERIES, Etc.

Academy, Royal, Burlington House, Piccadilly, W. Open from May to August inclusive, from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Admission 1s.

Doré Gallery, 35, New Bond Street, W. Private Gallery.

Dulwich Gallery, Dulwich College, S.E. Free. Open every day from 10 a.m. to dusk. Sundays, July to September, from 2 to 5 p.m.

French Gallery, 120, Pall Mall, S.W. Private Gallery.

Goupil Gallery, 5, Regent Street, S.W. Private Gallery.

Grafton Gallery, Grafton Street, Bond Street, W. Private Gallery.

Guildhall Art Gallery, the Guildhall, King Street, Cheapside, E.C. Free. Open daily from 10 a.m. to dusk.

Hanover Gallery, 47, New Bond Street, W. Private Gallery.

Leighton House, 2, Holland Park Road, Kensington, W. Tuesdays and Saturdays free; other days 1s. by ticket. Open 10.30 a.m. to 5.30 p.m.

National Gallery, Trafalgar Square, W.C. Thursdays and Fridays, 6d., 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.; other days free from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Open Sundays from April to October.

National Gallery of British Art (Tate Gallery), Grosvenor Road, Millbank, S.W. Tuesdays and Wednesdays 6d. from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.; other days free from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Open Sundays from April to October.

National Portrait Gallery, St. Martin's Place, W.C. Thursdays and Fridays, 6d., from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.; other days free from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Open Sundays from April to October.

New Gallery, 121, Regent Street, W. Admission 1s.

Royal Institute of Painters in Water Colours, 191, Piccadilly, W.

Royal Society of Painters in Water Colours, 5a Pall Mall East, S.W.

Royal Society of British Artists, Suffolk Street, Pall Mall East, S.W.

Wallace Collection, Hertford House, Manchester Square, W. Tuesdays and Fridays 6d.; other days free. Open from 10 a.m. (excepting Monday 12 noon) to 4, 5, or 6 p.m. Open Sundays from April to October.

2. CATHEDRALS, CHURCHES, Etc.

Brompton Oratory, Brompton Road, South Kensington, W. This well known Roman Catholic Church is a fine example of the Italian Renaissance style of architecture, and is noted for the beautiful musical services held there.

Chapel Royal, Color Court, St. James's Palace, S.W.

Chapel Royal, Savoy, W.C.

City Temple, Holborn Viaduct, E.C. Was built for the late Dr. Joseph Parker. The present minister is the Rev. R. J. Campbell. A service is held every Thursday at 12 noon in addition to the Sunday services.

Great Synagogue, St. James's Place, Aldgate, E.C. Chief Rabbi: Rev. Hermann Adler, D.D.

St. Bartholomew Church, Smithfield, E.C. The oldest and one of the most interesting churches in London. Open daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

St. George's Cathedral, St. George's Road, Southwark, S.E. Roman Catholic. Bishop: Rt. Rev. Francis Bourne.

St. Paul's Cathedral. The main entrance looks down Ludgate Hill, E.C. This magnificent and colossal edifice took thirty-five years to build, and was completed in 1710. It contains the remains of some of our most famous naval and military heroes and other eminent men. The nave and transepts are open free. Admission to view the Whispering Gallery, Stone Gallery, Clock, and Library, 6d.; Crypt, 6d.; Golden Gallery, 1s.; Ball, 1s.

St. Peter's (Italian Church), Clerkenwell Road, E.C. Roman Catholic.

Southwark Cathedral, lately St. Saviour's, Southwark.

Temple (The) Church, situated in The Temple off Fleet Street, celebrated for its musical services.

Westminster Abbey, Old Palace Yard, Westminster, S.W. A magnificent ecclesiastical edifice, founded in the seventh century. From the reign of Edward the Confessor to the present day, without a break, the Sovereigns of England have been crowned in the Abbey; and here also are the tombs and monuments of many of England's monarchs and of numbers of the leading men in English history. Open daily. Ambulatory and Royal Chapels, admission 6d., except Mondays and Tuesdays, which are free days. From November to February the Abbey is closed after the afternoon service.

Westminster Cathedral, Ashley Gardens, S.W. (Roman Catholic.) When completed, this superb cathedral will be one of the finest of its class in existence. The Foundation stone was laid in 1895.

Tabernacle, Metropolitan, Newington Butts (close to Elephant and Castle). In the original building, enormous congregations were attracted by the preaching of the late Rev. C. H. Spurgeon. Burnt down in 1898 and rebuilt in 1900.

3. CLUBS.

Active Service, 117, Piccadilly, W.

Albemarle (Ladies'), 13, Albemarle Street, W.

Alexandra (Ladies'), 12, Grosvenor Street, W.

Alpine, 23, Savile Row, W.

Army and Navy, 36, Pall Mall, S.W.

Arthur's, 69, St. James's Street, S.W.

Arts, 40, Dover Street, Piccadilly, W.

Athenæum, 107, Pall Mall, S.W.

Authors', 3, Whitehall Court, S.W.

Automobile Club of Great Britain and Ireland, 119, Piccadilly, W.

Bachelors', 8, Hamilton Place, W.

Badminton, 100, Piccadilly, W.

Bath, 34, Dover Street, Piccadilly, W.

Beefsteak, 9, Green St., Leicester Square.

Boodle's, 28, St. James's Street, S.W.

Brooks's, St. James's Street, S.W.

Burlington Fine Arts, 17, Savile Row, W.

Caledonian, 30, Charles Street, St. James's, S.W.

Capital and Counties, 42 & 43, Bow Lane, E.C.

Carlton, 94, Pall Mall, S.W.

Cavalry, 127, Piccadilly, W.

City Carlton, 24, St. Swithin's Lane, E.C.

City Liberal, Walbrook, E.C.

City of London, 19, Old Broad Street, E.C.

City of London Chess, 7, Grocers' Hall Court, Poultry, E.C.

City University, 53, Cornhill, E.C.

Cobden (no Club House), 28, Victoria Street, S.W.

Cocoa Tree, 64, St. James's St., S.W.

Colonial, 4, Whitehall Court, S.W.

Conservative, 74, St. James's Street, S.W.

Constitutional, Northumberland Avenue.

Crystal Palace, Crystal Palace, S.E.

Devonshire, 50, St. James's St., S.W.

East India United Service, 16, St. James's Square, S.W.

Eccentric, 21, Shaftesbury Avenue.

Eighty, 3, Hare Court, Temple, E.C.

Garrick, 15, Garrick Street, W.C.

Golfers' 2a, Whitehall Court, S.W

Gresham, Gresham Place, E.C.

Grosvenor, 68a, Piccadilly, W.

Guards, 70, Pall Mall, S.W.

Isthmian, 105, Piccadilly, W.

Junior Athenæum, 116, Piccadilly, W.

Junior Carlton, 30, Pall Mall, S.W.

Junior Conservative, 43, Albemarle Street, W.

Junior Constitutional, 101 to 104, Piccadilly, W.

Junior Naval and Military 96 & 97, Piccadilly, W.

Junior United Service, 11, Charles St., St. James's, S.W.

Kennel, 7, Grafton Street, New Bond Street, W.

Ladies' Army and Navy, 2, Burlington Gardens, W.

Ladies' Athenæum, 31, Dover Street, Piccadilly, W.

London Polo Club, Crystal Palace, S.E.

Lyceum (Ladies'), 128, Piccadilly, W.

Marlborough, 52, Pall Mall, S.W.

National, 1, Whitehall Gardens, S.W.

National Liberal, Whitehall Place, S.W.

National Sporting, 43, King's Street, Covent Garden, W.C.

Naval and Military, 94, Piccadilly, W.

New, 4, Grafton Street, Piccadilly, W.

New County (Ladies'), 21, Hanover Square, W., and 84, Grosvenor Street, W.

New Oxford and Cambridge, 6,8 Pall Mall, S.W.

New University, 57, St. James's Street.

Oriental, 18, Hanover Square, W.

Orleans, 29, King Street, St. James's, S.W.

Oxford and Cambridge, 71, Pall Mall.

Park (Ladies'). Parkside, Knightsbridge.

Pioneer (Ladies'), 5, Grafton Street, New Bond Street, W.

Portland, 9, St. James's Square, S.W.

Primrose, 4, Park Place, St. James's, S.W.

Raleigh, 16, Regent Street, S.W.

Reform, 104, Pall Mall, S.W.

Royal London Yacht, 2, Savile Row, W.

Royal Societies, 63, St. James's Street, S.W.

Royal Thames Yacht, 7, Albemarle Street, W.

St. James's, 106, Piccadilly, W.

St. Stephen's, 1, Bridge Street, Westminster, S.W.

Savage, 6, Adelphi Terrace, W.C.

Savile, 107, Piccadilly, W.

Thatched House, 86, St. James's Street, S.W.

Travellers', 106, Pall Mall, S.W.

Turf, 47, Clarges Street, Piccadilly, W.

United Service, 116, Pall Mall, S.W.

United University, 1, Suffolk Street, Pall Mall, S.W.

Wellington, 1, Grosvenor Place, S.W.

Westminster, 4, Whitehall Court, S.W.

Whitehall, 47, Parliament Street, S.W.

White's, 37, St. James's Street, S.W.

Windham, 13, St. James's Square, S.W.

4. DOCKS.

East Indian. City Offices: 109, Leadenhall Street, E.C.
London. City Offices: 109, Leadenhall Street, E.C.
Millwall. City Offices: 36, Crutchedfriars, E.C.
Royal Victoria and Albert. City Offices: 109, Leadenhall Street, E.C.
St. Katharine. City Offices: 109, Leadenhall Street, E.C.
Surrey Commercial. City Offices: 106, Fenchurch Street, E.C.
Tilbury. City Offices: 109, Leadenhall Street, E.C.
West Indian. City Offices: 109, Leadenhall Street, E.C.

5. HOSPITALS.

GENERAL.

Bolingbroke, Wandsworth Common.
Charing Cross, Agar St., West Strand, W.C.
French, 172, Shaftesbury Avenue, W.C.
French Protestant, Victoria Park Road, Hackney, N.E.
German, 113, Dalston Lane, N.E.
Gt. Northern Central, Holloway Rd., N.
Guys, St. Thomas' Street, Boro', S.E.
Italian, Queen Square, W.C.
King's College, Portugal St., Lincoln's Inn Fields, W.C.
London, Whitechapel Road, E.
London Homœopathic, Great Ormond Street, W.C.
London Temperance, Hampstead Road, N.W.
Metropolitan, Kingsland Road, N.E.
Middlesex, Mortimer Street, Tottenham Court Road, W.
Mildmay Mission, Austin Street, Shoreditch, E.
North West London, Kentish Town Road, N.W.
Poplar, East India Dock Road, E.
Royal Free, Gray's Inn Road, W.C.
St. Bartholomew's, West Smithfield, E.C.
St. George's, Hyde Park Corner, S.W.
St. Mary's, Cambridge Place, Paddington, W.
St. Thomas', Westminster Bridge Road, S.E.
University College, Gower Street, W.C.
West London, Hammersmith Road, W.
Westminster, Broad Sanctuary, Westminster, S.W.

CANCER.

The Cancer, Fulham Road, Brompton, S.W.
Middlesex (Special wards), Mortimer Street, Tottenham Court Road.

CHILDREN.

Belgrave, 77, Glo'ster St., Pimlico, S.W.
Cheyne, Cheyne-Walk, Chelsea, S.W.
East London, Glamis Road, Shadwell, E.
Evelina, Southwark Bridge Road, S.E.
Hospital for Sick Children, Gt. Ormond Street, W.C.
North Eastern, Bethnal Green, E.
Paddington Green, Paddington Green, W.
Royal Waterloo, Waterloo Bridge Road, S.E.
Victoria, Royal Hospital Road, Chelsea, S.W.

CONSUMPTION AND CHEST.

City of London, Victoria Park, E.
Brompton Hospital, Fulham Road, S.W.
North London, 41, Fitzroy Square, W.
Royal Hospital for Diseases of the Chest, City Road, E.C.

DENTAL.

National Dental, Great Portland St., W.
Royal Dental, Leicester Square, W.C.

EYE.

Central London Ophthalmic, 238a, Gray's Inn Road, W.C.
Royal Eye, St. George's Circus, S.E.
Royal London Ophthalmic, City Road, E.C.
Royal Westminster Ophthalmic, 19, King William Street, E.C.
Western Ophthalmic, Marylebone Road, N.W.

FEVER.

London Fever, Liverpool Road, Islington, N.
South Eastern, New Cross Road, S.E.
South Western Fever, Landor Road, Stockwell, S.W.
Western Fever, Seagrave Road, Fulham, S.W.

FISTULA.

Gordon, Vauxhall Bridge Road, S.W.
St. Mark's, City Road, E.C.

HEART.

National, Soho Square, W.

HOMŒOPATHIC.

Brompton, 68, Fulham Road, S.W.
London Homœopathic, Great Ormond Street, W.C.

LOCK.

Lock Hospital, Harrow Road, W.

LYING-IN.

British, Endell Street, St. Giles', W.C.
City of London, City Road, E.C.
General, York Road, Lambeth, S.E.
Queen Charlotte's, Marylebone Road, N.W.

MENTAL DISEASES.

Bethlehem, Lambeth Road, S.E.
St. Luke's, Old Street, E.C.

NERVOUS DISEASES, PARALYSIS, &c.

Hospital for Epilepsy and Paralysis, Maida Vale, W.
National, Queen's Square, W.C.
West End, Welbeck Street, W.

ORTHOPÆDIC.

Alexandra, Queen Square, Bloomsbury W.C.
City Orthopædic, Hatton Garden, E.C.

SKIN.

British, Euston Road, N.W.
Hospital for Diseases of the Skin, 52, Stamford Street, S.E.
London Skin, 40, Fitzroy Square, W.
St. John's, Leicester Square, W.C.
St. Paul's, Red Lion Square, W.C.
Western, Great Portland Street, W.

STONE.

St. Peter's, Henrietta Street, Covent Garden, W.C.

THROAT, NOSE, AND EAR.

Central London, Gray's Inn Road, W.C.
Hospital for Diseases of the Throat, Nose and Ear, Golden Square, W.
London, Great Portland Street, W.
Metropolitan, Grafton Street, W.
Municipal Infirmary for Throat and Ear, City Road, E.C.
Royal Ear, Dean Street, Soho.

WOMEN.

Chelsea, Queen's Elm, Fulham Road, S.W.
Grosvenor, Vincent Square, Westminster, S.W.
Hospital for Women, Soho Square, W.
New Hospital for Women, Euston Road, N.W.
Royal Waterloo (for women and children), Waterloo Bridge Road.
Samaritan Free, Marylebone Rd., N.W.

6. INNS OF COURT.

Temple (Inner and Middle), Fleet Street, E.C. Entrances: Victoria Embankment; Tudor Street; Mitre Court; Devereux Court; Fleet Street (opposite Chancery Lane).
Lincoln's Inn, Chancery Lane, W.C. Entrances: Chancery Lane; Carey Street; Little Queen Street; Great Turnstile, High Holborn.
Gray's Inn, High Holborn, W.C. Entrances: High Holborn; Gray's Inn Road; Theobald's Road, Bedford Row.

7. MARKETS.

Billingsgate (Fish), North side of London Bridge, E.C.
Borough (Fruit and Vegetables), South side of London Bridge, S.E.
Covent Garden (Fruit, Vegetables, and Flowers), North of the Strand, W.C.
Cumberland Market (Hay, &c.), Regent's Park.
Leadenhall (Meat, Poultry, and Live Stock), Leadenhall Street, E.C.
London Central (City Corporation) (Meat and General), West Smithfield and Farringdon Road, E.C.
Metropolitan (Cattle), Caledonian Road, N.
Whitechapel (Hay and Straw), Whitechapel High Street, E.

8. MEMORIALS, MONUMENTS, Etc.

Albert Memorial, facing the Albert Hall, Kensington Road, W. A handsome monument, with gilt bronze statue of Prince Albert and over 150 figures in marble. Erected by Queen Victoria and the people of England in memory of the Prince Consort, at a cost of £120,000.
Cleopatra's Needle, Victoria Embankment, S.W. This famous obelisk, which originally stood before the Temple of Heliopolis, is 68 feet high. It was presented to the nation by Mehemet Ali in 1819, and conveyed to this country by Dr. Erasmus Wilson.
Duke of Wellington's Statue, opposite Apsley House, Hyde Park Corner.
Duke of York's Column, St. James's Park, S.W. A column 120 feet high, surmounted by a statue in bronze of the Duke of York, second son of George III.
Marble Arch. This sculptured arch, with its handsome bronze gates, forms the north-east entrance to Hyde Park, and cost over £80,000. It was designed by George IV. as a porte-cochère to Buckingham Palace, but was re-erected in its present position in 1851.
Monument, at the northern approach to London Bridge. A fluted column of Portland stone, 202 feet high, and ascended by a spiral staircase of 345 steps. It was erected to commemorate the Great Fire of London of 1666, which started at this spot. Admission 3d.
Nelson Column, Trafalgar Square, W.C. A granite Corinthian column 150 feet high, surmounted by a statue of the hero of Trafalgar, erected by the nation to commemorate Nelson's great victory.

9. MUSEUMS.

Bethnal Green (Branch of the Victoria and Albert Museum), Cambridge Road, E. Free. Open Mondays, Thursdays, and Saturdays, from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, from 10 a.m. to 4, 5, or 6 p.m., according to the time of year. Sundays from 2 p.m. to dusk.
British, Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, W.C. Free. Open week-days from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sundays, 2 p.m. to 4, 5, or 6 p.m., according to the time of year.
Carlyle's House, Cheyne Row, Chelsea, S.W. Open daily from 10 a.m. to sunset. Admission 1s.
Horniman, London Road, Forest Hill, S.E. Free. Open daily.
Imperial Institute, South Kensington, W. Opened by Queen Victoria in 1893. Contains interesting collections representing the industries of the British Colonies. Open daily. Admission free. The main portion of the building is occupied as the headquarters of the London University.
Indian Museum (Part of Victoria and Albert Museum), Exhibition Road, South Kensington, S.W. Free. Open daily from 10 a.m.
Museum of Practical Geology, Jermyn Street, Piccadilly, S.W. Free. Open week-days 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in winter and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. in summer. Sundays from 2 p.m. Closed from August 10th to September 10th.
Natural History (Branch of the British Museum), Cromwell Road, South Kensington, S.W. Free. Open week-days from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in winter, and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. in summer. Sundays from 2 p.m.
Royal United Service Association, Whitehall, S.W. Admission 6d. (Sailors, Soldiers, and Policemen in uniform free). Open from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. in winter and 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. in summer.
Sir John Soane's, Lincoln's Inn Fields, W.C. Free. Open daily, excepting Mondays and Saturdays, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. during March to August inclusive.
Victoria and Albert, South Kensington, S.W. Open Mondays, Tuesdays, and Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. free. On Wednesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays 10 a.m. to 4, 5, or 6 p.m., according to the time of year, Admission 6d. Sundays free from 2 p.m. to dusk.

10. MUSIC HALLS AND VARIETY THEATRES.

Alhambra, Leicester Square, W.C.
Bedford, High St., Camden Town, N.W.
Camberwell, 23, Denmark Hill.
Cambridge, 136, Commercial Street, E.
Canterbury, 143, Westminster Bridge Road, S.E.
Chelsea Palace, King's Road, S.W.
Coliseum, St. Martin's Lane, W.C.
Collins's, 10, Islington Green, N.
Empire, Leicester Square, W.C.
Empress, Brixton, S.W.
Euston, 37, Euston Road, N.W.
Foresters', 93, Cambridge Road, N.E.
Gatti's, 214, Westminster Bridge Rd., S.E.
Grand, Clapham Junction.
Granville, Broadway, Walham Green.
Hackney Empire, Mare St., Hackney.
Holborn Empire, 242, High Holborn, W.C.
Holloway Empire, Holloway Road, N.
London, Shoreditch, E.
London Hippodrome, Cranbourne Street, Leicester Square, W.C.
London Pavilion, Piccadilly Circus, W.
Lyceum, Wellington Street, Strand, W.C.
Metropolitan, 267, Edgware Road, W.
Middlesex, Drury Lane, W.C.
New Cross Empire, New Cross Road, S.E.
Oxford, 14, Oxford Street, W.
Palace, Shaftesbury Avenue, W.C.
Paragon, 95, Mile End Road, E.
Putney Hippodrome, High Street, S.W.
Royal Standard, 126, Victoria Street.
Sadlers Wells, Rosebery Avenue, E.C.
Shepherd's Bush Empire, The Green, Shepherd's Bush, W.
South London, London Road, S.E.
Stratford Empire, Broadway, Stratford, E.
Surrey, 124, Blackfriars Road, S.E.
Tivoli, Strand, W.C.

11. OFFICIAL BUILDINGS.

Bank of England, Threadneedle Street, E.C. The premises are guarded every night by the military.
Central Criminal Court. It is built on the site of Newgate prison, and takes the place of "The Old Bailey."
Custom House, Lower Thames Street, E.C.
General Post Office, St. Martin's-le-Grand. Here are situated, in a group of lofty and extensive buildings, the headquarters of the enormous postal and telegraphic business of this country.
Greenwich Hospital (now known as the Royal Naval College). The Painted Hall contains a collection of naval relics and pictures. May be viewed free daily.
Greenwich Observatory. This famous observatory is not open to the public, and cannot be viewed except by special permission of the Astronomer Royal.

Government Offices.
Admiralty, The.
Board of Trade Offices.
Colonial Office
Foreign Office.
Home Office
Horse Guards
India Office
Privy Council Office.
The Treasury
War Office.
— Whitehall and St. James's Park.

Guildhall, King's Street, Cheapside, E.C. Noted for its great civic functions and receptions to foreign potentates and distinguished persons. On the 9th November each year the Lord Mayor's Banquet is held in this historic and interesting building. An excellent Museum and Art Gallery and Free Library are contained in the Guildhall, and are open to the public free daily.

Houses of Parliament, Westminster, S.W. Visitors are admitted to view these beautiful and stately buildings on Saturdays from 10 to 4, except when Parliament is assembled. Admission to the Strangers' Gallery of the House of Commons, when sitting, can be obtained by an order from a Member of Parliament.

Lambeth Palace, Lambeth Palace Road, close to Lambeth Bridge. The town residence of the Archbishops of Canterbury. May be viewed by permission of the Archbishop's Chaplain.

Law Courts, Strand, W.C. A magnificent block of buildings, opened by Queen Victoria in 1882. Visitors are admitted to the public galleries when the Courts are sitting, or may view the Central Hall during the vacation upon application to the Superintendent.

Mansion House, Queen Victoria Street, E.C. This historic building, which dates back to the year 1739, is used as the Official Residence of the Lord Mayor of London.

Mint, Tower Hill, E.C. Upon application, by letter, to the Deputy-Master of the Mint, admission may be obtained to inspect this establishment, where the gold and silver coinage of the realm is produced by wonderful machinery.

Record Office, Chancery Lane, W.C. A splendid block of fire-proof buildings of Tudor architecture, containing priceless national records and state papers, including the celebrated Domesday Book. The public are admitted free of charge.

Royal Exchange, Threadneedle Street and Cornhill, E.C. May be viewed by anyone wishing to do so, except during business hours—3.30 to 4.30. Part of the building is occupied by "Lloyd's," known the world over in connection with underwriting and ship insurance.

Somerset House. Strand and Victoria Embankment, W.C., contains numerous Government offices, including Probate Registry Office, Inland Revenue Office, Audit Office, Office of the Registrar General of Births, Deaths and Marriages, etc. It is a remarkably fine building and one of the largest in London. It cost about £1,000,000 to build.

Stock Exchange, Capel Court, Bartholomew Lane, E.C. The money market for buying and selling Stocks, Shares and Securities. Not open to the public.

Tower of London. Tower Hill, E.C. This ancient fortress has a most interesting history dating from the time of William the Conqueror. Open daily (Sundays excepted). Mondays and Saturdays free. Admission to view the Armouries 6d., and the Crown Jewels 6d.

Westminster Hall. The entrance to the Houses of Parliament. Originally built by William Rufus, it is one of the oldest and grandest architectural structures in the Metropolis.

Woolwich Arsenal. Open for inspection by British subjects on Tuesdays and Thursdays by card, to be obtained at the War Office, Pall Mall.

12. PARKS AND GARDENS.

In and around London are the following Parks, Gardens, and Open Spaces:—

Battersea Park.
Blackheath.
Brockwell Park (Herne Hill).
Burnham Beeches.
Bushey Park.
Clapham Common.
Clissold Park (Stoke Newington).
Deptford Park.
Epping Forest.
Finsbury Park, N.
Gladstone Park (Dollis Hill).
Golder's Hill.
Green Park (St. James's).
Greenwich Park.
Hadley Common.
Hampstead Heath
Hampton Court Gardens.
Highbury Fields (Islington).
Highgate Woods.
Hounslow Heath.
Hyde Park.
Kennington Park.
Kensington Gardens.
Kew Gardens, Royal.
Mitcham Common.
Parliament Hill.
Plumstead.
Regent's Park.
Richmond Park.
Royal Botanic Gardens.
St. James's Park.
Southwark Park.
Streatham Common.
Temple Gardens.
Tooting Bec.
Victoria Park (Hackney).
Wandsworth Common.
Waterlow Park (Highgate).
Wembley Park.
West Ham Park.
Wimbledon Common.

13. PLACES OF ENTERTAINMENT.

Agricultural Hall, Royal. Upper Street, Islington, N. Trade and other exhibitions and shows are held here, including the Military Tournament, Cattle Show, Dairy Show, and Horse Shows.

Albert Hall, Royal, South Kensington, S.W. Concerts and large Meetings. The hall holds from 8,000 to 10,000 people and contains one of the largest organs in the world.

Alexandra Palace, Muswell Hill, N. Exhibitions and various Entertainments. The palace stands in delightful grounds.

Art Galleries. Under separate heading.

Crystal Palace, Sydenham, S.E. Exhibitions, Concerts, etc. Beautiful grounds of 200 acres. First class Cricket and Football grounds and Athletic tracks. The final tie for the Association Football Cup is held here. Headquarters of the London County Cricket Club, which is managed by Dr. W. G. Grace.

Earl's Court, W. Summer Exhibitions, Large Theatre, Maxim's Air Ships, etc. Large grounds, which are illuminated nightly.

Madame Tussaud's, Marylebone, N.W. Celebrated Waxwork Exhibition.

Museums. Under separate heading.

Music Halls and Variety Theatres. Under separate heading.

Olympia, Addison Road, Kensington, W. Large Spectacular Exhibitions and Shows.

Queen's Hall, Langham Place, W. Concert Hall.

Royal Italian Circus, Hengler's, Argyle Street, Oxford Street, W. Circus.

Royal Palaces. Under separate heading.

Steinway Hall, Lower Seymour Street, W. Concert Hall.

St. George's Hall, Langham Place, W. Maskelyne's Home of Mystery.

Theatres. Under separate heading.

Zoological Gardens, Regent's Park, N.W. Extensive and interesting collection of animals, birds, reptiles, etc.

14. ROYAL PALACES.

Buckingham Palace, St. James's Park, S.W. Built by George IV. The London Residence of their Majesties the King and Queen. Not open to the public, but permits to inspect the Royal Stables may be obtained from the Master of the Horse.

Hampton Court Palace, Hampton, Middlesex. This imposing mansion, erected by Cardinal Wolsey, with its beautiful grounds and park, is situate on the Thames, 15 miles from London. The State Apartments, with a choice collection of pictures, are open to the public free of charge daily (except Fridays), Sundays from 2 p.m.

Kensington Palace, Kensington Gardens, W. This Palace is of particular interest as the birthplace of Queen Victoria. The State Rooms are open to the public free daily (except Wednesdays, Christmas Day and Good Friday). Sundays 2 to 6 p.m.

Marlborough House, Pall Mall, S.W. The Town Residence of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales. It was built in 1708.

St. James's Palace, St. James's Street, S.W. Built by Henry VIII. The official town residence of the Court since the fire at Whitehall in 1698. The Park of the same name was originally the grounds of the Palace, but was opened for the public in 1829.

Windsor Castle, Windsor, Berks. Has been a residence of the British sovereigns since the time of the Conqueror, who began the first building. Many Monarchs have added to and altered the original building. When the King is not in residence the State Apartments are open to the public on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays from 11 a.m. to 3 or 4 p.m. The Stables daily from 1 to 2.30 p.m. St. George's Chapel daily, excepting Wednesdays, from 12.30 to 3 or 4 p.m.

15. THEATRES.

CENTRAL LONDON.

Adelphi, 410, Strand, W.C.
Aldwych, Aldwych, Strand, W.C.
Apollo, Shaftesbury Avenue, W.
Comedy, Panton Street, S.W.
Court, Sloane Square, S.W.
Covent Garden, Bow Street, W.C.
Criterion, Piccadilly Circus, W.
Daly's, Leicester Square, W.
Drury Lane, Catherine Street, W.C.
Duke of York's, St. Martin's Lane, W.C.
Gaiety, 345, Strand, W.C.
Garrick, 2, Charing Cross Road, W.C.
Great Queen St., Great Queen St., W.C.
Haymarket, 7, Haymarket, S.W.
Hicks Theatre, Shaftesbury Avenue, W.
His Majesty's, Haymarket, S.W.
Imperial, Tothill Street, S.W.
Lyric, 29, Shaftesbury Avenue, W.
New, St. Martin's Lane, W.C.
New Royalty (Théâtre Français), 73, Dean Street, Soho, W.
Playhouse, The, Northumberland Avenue, S.W.
Prince of Wales's, Coventry Street, W.
Princess's, 152, Oxford Street, W.
St. James's, King Street, S.W.
Savoy, Strand and Embankment.
Scala, Charlotte St., Fitzroy Square, W.
Shaftesbury, Shaftesbury Avenue, W.
Strand, 168, Strand, W.C.
Terry's, 105, Strand, W.C.
Vaudeville, 404, Strand, W.C.
Waldorf, Aldwych, East Strand, W.C.
Wyndham's, Charing Cross Road, W.C.

SUBURBAN.

Alexandra, Stoke Newington, N.
Borough, Stratford, E.
Brixton, Brixton Road, S.W.
Broadway, New Cross, S.E.
Camden, High St., Camden Town, N.W.
Coronet, High St., Notting Gate, W.
Crown, High Street, Peckham, S.E.
Dalston, Dalston Lane, N.E.
Duchess, Balham, S.W.
Elephant and Castle, New Kent Road, S.E.
Fulham, High Street, Fulham, S.W.
Grand, High Street, Croydon.
Grand, Islington, N.
Grand, Woolwich.
Kennington, Kennington Park Rd., S.E.
King's, Hammersmith, W.
Marlborough, Holloway.
Metropole, Camberwell, S.E.
Pavilion, Mile End, E.
Richmond, The Green, Richmond.
Royal W., London, Church Street, Edgeware Road.
Shakespeare, Clapham Junction, S.W.
Standard, High Street, Shoreditch, E.
Terriss, Rotherhithe.
Theatre Royal, Kilburn, N.W.
Theatre Royal, Stratford, E.

16. RAILWAY TERMINI.

Great Central Railway, Marylebone Station, Marylebone Road, N.W.

Great Eastern Railway, Liverpool Street Station, Liverpool Street, E.C.

Great Northern Railway, King's Cross Station, Euston Road, N.W.

Great Western Railway, Paddington Station, Praed Street, W.

London, Brighton & South Coast Railway, London Bridge Station, South side of London Bridge, S.E., and Victoria Station, Buckingham Palace Road, S.W.

London & North Western Railway, Euston Station, Euston Square, N.W.

London & South Western Railway, Waterloo Station South side of Waterloo Bridge, S.E.

London, Tilbury & Southend Railway, Fenchurch Street Station, Fenchurch Street, E.C.

Midland Railway, St. Pancras Station, Euston Road, N.W.

North London Railway, Broad Street Station, Liverpool Street, E.C.

South Eastern & Chatham Railway, London Bridge Station, South side of London Bridge, S.E.; Cannon Street Station, Cannon Street, E.C.; Charing Cross Station, Charing Cross, W.C.; Victoria Station, Vauxhall Bridge Road, S.W.; Holborn Viaduct Station, Holborn Viaduct, E.C.; and St. Paul's Station, Queen Victoria Street, E.C.

17. THAMES BRIDGES.

(In proper order, starting with the nearest to the sea.)

Tower (can be opened to allow large vessels to pass).
London Bridge.
Cannon Street (Railway).
Southwark.
Blackfriars (Railway).
Blackfriars.
Waterloo.
Charing Cross (Railway and Foot).
Westminster.
Lambeth (Suspension).
Vauxhall.
Grosvenor Road (Railway).
Victoria (Chelsea Suspension)
Albert (Suspension).
Battersea.
Battersea (Railway).
Wandsworth.
Putney (Railway).
Putney.
Hammersmith (Suspension).
Barnes (Railway).
Kew (Railway).
Kew.
Richmond.

GENEALOGICAL TABLES.

GEORGE III. AND HIS DESCENDANTS.

George III. = Sophia Charlotte
1760–1820. of Mecklenberg-Strelitz.

- George IV. = Caroline 1820–1830. of Brunswick.
  - Charlotte, d. 1817.
- Frederick, Duke of York, d. 1827.
- William IV. = Adelaide 1830–1837. of Saxe-Meiningen.
  - Two daughters who died in infancy.
- Edward, Duke of Kent. = Victoria of Saxe-Coburg, widow of Prince Charles of Leiningen.
  - Victoria = Prince Albert of 1837–1901. Saxe-Coburg Gotha.
- Ernest, Duke of Cumberland. = Frederica of Mecklenberg-Strelitz.
  - George, King of Hanover and 2nd Duke. = Alexandrina of Saxe-Altenburg.
    - Ernest Augustus, Duke of Cumberland. = Thyra of Denmark.
- Adolphus, Duke of Cambridge. = Augusta of Hesse. (See descendants in table below.)

DESCENDANTS OF ADOLPHUS, DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE.

- George, Duke of Cambridge, d. 1904.
- Augusta = Grand Duke of Mecklenberg-Strelitz.
- Mary = Duke of Teck.
  - Victoria Mary = George, Prince of Wales.
  - Adolphus, Duke of Teck. = Lady Margaret Grosvenor.
  - Alexander = Alice of Albany.
  - Francis.

(In addition to these enumerated in the table above, George III. had three sons and six daughters who died without issue, some of them in infancy.)

DESCENDANTS OF THE EMPRESS FREDERICK OF GERMANY.

Victoria, Princess Royal of England. = Frederick, Crown Prince and afterwards Emperor of Germany.

- William II. Emperor of Germany, b. 1859, succeeded 1888. = Augusta Victoria of Schleswig-Holstein.
  - Friedrich Wilhelm, Crown Prince of Germany, b. 1882. = Duchess Cecilia of Mecklenburg-Schwerin.
    - Wilhelm Friedrich, b. 1906.
  - Eitel Frederick, b. 1883. = Duchess Sophie of Oldenburg.
  - Adalbert, b. 1884.
  - Augustus, b. 1887.
  - Oscar, b. 1888.
  - Joachim, b. 1890.
  - Victoria Louise, b. 1892.
- Charlotte, b. 1860. = Hered. Prince of Saxe-Meiningen.
- Henry, b. 1862. = Irene of Hesse.
- Sigismund, b. 1864, d. 1866.
- Victoria, b. 1866. = Prince Adolphus of Schaunburg-Lippe.
- Waldemar, b. 1868, d. 1878.
- Sophia, b. 1870. = Duke of Sparta.
- Margaret, b. 1872. = Prince Frederick of Hesse-Cassel.

DESCENDANTS OF QUEEN VICTORIA.

Victoria, 1837–1901. = Prince Albert of Saxe-Coburg Gotha, b. 1819, d. 1861.

- (1) Victoria, Princess Royal, b. 1840, d. 1901. (For descendants see separate table.) = Frederick, Crown Prince, afterwards Emperor of Germany.
- (2) EDWARD VII. b. 1841. (For descendants see separate table.) = Alexandra of Denmark.
- (3) Alice, b. 1843, d. 1878. = Grand Duke of Hesse.
- (4) Alfred, Duke of Edinburgh and Duke of Saxe-Coburg Gotha, b. 1844, d. 1900. = Grand Duchess Marie of Russia.
  - Alfred, b. 1874, d. 1899.
  - Marie, b. 1875. = Crown Prince of Roumania. Has issue.
  - Victoria Melita, b. 1876. = (1) Grand Duke of Hesse. (Marriage dissolved). (2) Grand Duke Cyril of Russia.
  - Alexandra, b. 1878. = Hered. Prince of Hohenlohe-Langenburg.
  - Beatrice, b. 1884.

Victoria, b. 1863. = Prince Louis of Battenberg.

Elizabeth, b. 1864. = Grand Duke Serge of Russia. Assass. 1905.

Irene, b. 1866. = Prince Henry of Prussia.

Ernest, Grand Duke of Hesse, b. 1868. = (1) Victoria Melita of Saxe-Coburg Gotha. (Marriage dissolved). (2) Eleanor of Solms-Hohensolms-Lich.

Frederick, b. 1870, d. 1873.

Alix Victoria, b. 1872. = Nicholas II. of Russia. Four daughters and a son.

Mary, b. 1874, d. 1878.

DESCENDANTS OF QUEEN VICTORIA = Prince Albert (continued).

- (5) Helena, b. 1846. = Prince Christian of Schleswig-Holstein.
  - Christian Victor, b. 1867, d. 1900.
  - Albert, b. 1869.
  - Victoria, b. 1870.
  - Louise, b. 1872. (Marriage dissolved). = Prince Aribert of Anhalt.
  - Harold b. 1876, d. 1876.
- (6) Louise, b. 1848. = Marquis of Lorne, now Duke of Argyle.
- (7) Arthur, Duke of Connaught, b. 1850. = Louise Margaret of Prussia.
  - Margaret, b. 1882. = Prince Gustav Adolf of Sweden.
  - Arthur, b. 1883.
  - Victoria Patricia, b. 1886.
- (8) Leopold, Duke of Albany, b. 1853, d. 1884. = Helen of Waldeck.
  - Alice, b. 1883. = Alexander of Teck.
  - Leopold Charles Edward, Duke of Albany and Duke of Saxe-Coburg Gotha. b. 1884. = Victoria Adelaide of Schleswig-Holstein-Glücksburg.
- (9) Beatrice, b. 1857. = Prince Henry of Battenberg. d. 1896.
  - Alexander, b. 1886.
  - Victoria Eugénie, b. 1887. = Alfonso XIII. of Spain, 1906.
    - Alfonso, b. 1907.
  - Leopold, b. 1889.
  - Maurice, b. 1891.

DESCENDANTS OF EDWARD VII.

Edward VII. 1901– = Alexandra of Denmark.

- Albert Victor, Duke of Clarence, b. 1864, d. 1892.
- George, Prince of Wales, b. 1865. = Victoria Mary of Teck.
  - Edward, b. 1894.
  - Albert, b. 1895.
  - Victoria, b. 1897.
  - Henry, b. 1900.
  - George, b. 1902.
  - John, b. 1905.
- Louise (Princess Royal), b. 1867. = Duke of Fife.
  - Alexandra, b. 1891.
  - Maud, b. 1893.
- Victoria, b. 1868.
- Maud, b. 1869. = Prince Charles of Denmark (Haaken VII. of Norway, elected 1905).
  - Alexander (Olaf), b. 1903.
- Alexander, b. 1871, d 1871.

KINGS AND QUEENS OF ENGLAND.

EARLY ENGLISH.

ANGLO-SAXON LINE.

Egbert	827–839
Ethelwulf	839–858
Ethelbald	858–860
Ethelbert	860–866
Ethelred	866–871
Alfred	871–901
Edward the Elder	901–925
Athelstan	925–940
Edmund	940–946
Edred	946–955
Edwy	955–959
Edgar	959–975
Edward the Martyr	975–979
Ethelred the Unready	979–1015
Edmund Ironside	1016–1016

DANISH LINE.

Canute	1016–1035
Harold I.	1035–1040
Hardicanute	1040–1042

ANGLO-SAXON LINE.

Edward the Confessor	1042–1066
Harold II.	1066–1066

SINCE THE CONQUEST.

		MARRIED.
HOUSE OF NORMANDY.
William I.	1066–1087	Matilda of Flanders
William II.	1087–1100	died unmarried
Henry I.	1100–1135	1. Matilda of Scotland 2. Adeliza, daughter of the Count of Louvain
Stephen	1135–1154	Matilda of Boulogne
HOUSE OF PLANTAGENET.
Henry II.	1154–1189	Eleanor of Aquitaine
Richard I.	1189–1199	Berengaria of Navarre
John	1199–1216	1. Avisa, daughter of Earl of Gloucester 2. Isabella of Angoulême
Henry III.	1216–1272	Eleanor of Provence
Edward I.	1272–1307	Eleanor of Castile
Edward II.	1307–1327	Isabella of France
Edward III.	1327–1377	Philippa of Hainault
Richard II.	1377–1399	1. Anne of Bohemia 2. Isabella of France
HOUSE OF LANCASTER.
Henry IV.	1399–1413	1. Mary Bohun, daughter of the Earl of Hereford 2. Joan of Navarre
Henry V.	1413–1422	Catherine of France
Henry VI.	1422–1461	Margaret of Anjou
HOUSE OF YORK.
Edward IV.	1461–1483	Elizabeth Woodville
Edward V.	1483–1483	died unmarried
Richard III.	1483–1485	Anne, daughter of Earl of Warwick
HOUSE OF TUDOR.
Henry VII.	1485–1509	Elizabeth of York daughter of Edward IV.
Henry VIII.	1509–1547	1. Catharine of Aragon 2. Anne Boleyn 3. Jane Seymour 4. Anne of Cleves 5. Catherine Howard 6. Catherine Parr
Edward VI.	1547–1553	died unmarried
Mary	1553–1558	Philip of Spain
Elizabeth	1558–1603	died unmarried
HOUSE OF STUART.
James I.	1603–1625	Anne of Denmark
Charles I.	1625–1649	Henrietta Maria of France
(Commonwealth	1649–1660)
Charles II.	1660–1685	Catherine of Braganza
James II.	1685–1689	1. Anne Hyde, daughter of Earl of Clarendon 2. Mary of Modena
William III. and Mary	1689–1694
William III.	1694–1702
Anne	1702–1714	George of Denmark
HOUSE OF HANOVER.
George I.	1714–1727	Sophia Dorothea of Zell
George II.	1727–1760	Caroline of Anspach
George III.	1760–1820	Charlotte of Mecklenberg-Strelitz
George IV.	1820–1830	Caroline of Brunswick
William IV.	1830–1837	Adelaide of Saxe-Meiningen
Victoria	1837–1901	Albert of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha
HOUSE OF SAXE-COBURG.
Edward VII.	1901–	Alexandra of Denmark

FRENCH SOVEREIGNS AND PRESIDENTS.

(SINCE THE REVOLUTION, 1789).

Louis XVI. (executed 1793)	1774
Louis XVII. (never reigned)	—
Napoleon Bonaparte, First Consul	1799
Napoleon I., Emperor (abdicated 1814)	1804
Napoleon II. (never reigned)	—
Louis XVIII. (restored)	1814
Charles X. (deposed 1830)	1824
Louis Philippe (abdicated 1848)	1830
Louis Napoleon, President	1848
Napoleon III., Emperor (deposed 1870)	1852
M. Thiers, President	1871
Marshal Mac Mahon, President	1873
M. Jules Grévy, President	1879
M. Carnot, President (assassinated 1894)	1887
M. Casimir Perier, President (resigned)	1894
M. Félix Faure, President	1895
M. Emile Loubet, President	1899
M. Fallières, President	1906

PRESIDENTS OF THE UNITED STATES.

(THE PRESIDENTS ARE ELECTED FOR A TERM OF FOUR YEARS).

General Washington	1789 and 1793.
John Adams	1797.
Thomas Jefferson	1801 and 1805.
James Madison	1809 and 1813.
James Monroe	1817 and 1821.
John Quincy Adams	1825.
Andrew Jackson	1829 and 1833.
Martin Van Buren	1837.
William Henry Harrison	1841 (died 1841).
John Tyler	1841.
James Knox Polk	1845.
Zachary Taylor	1849 (died 1850).
Millard Fillmore	1850.
Franklin Pierce	1853.
James Buchanan	1857.
Abraham Lincoln	1861 and 1865 (assassinated 1865).
Andrew Johnson	1865.
Ulysses S. Grant	1869 and 1873.
Rutherford Birchard Hayes	1877.
James A. Garfield	1881 (assassinated 1881).
Chester A. Arthur	1881.
Grover Cleveland	1885.
Benjamin Harrison	1889.
Grover Cleveland	1893.
William McKinley	1897 and 1901 (assassinated 1901).
Theodore Roosevelt	1901.
Theodore Roosevelt	1905.

MEMORABLE EVENTS.

1.—ASSASSINATIONS OF MONARCHS AND PRESIDENTS.

(This list is of necessity very incomplete, as in earlier times so many rulers met their death by violence, that to include them all, we should require a much larger space than we can afford to devote to the subject.)

Xerxes I., King of Persia	465 B.C.
Artaxerxes III.. King of Persia	338	by Bagoas
Philip II. of Macedon	336	by Pausanias
Darius III., King of Persia	330	by Bessus
Julius Cæsar, Emperor of Rome	44	by Brutus and other conspirators
Caius Caligula	41 A.D.	by a tribune
Titus Flavius Domitian, Emperor of Rome	96
Edmund I., King of England	946	by an outlaw
Edward the Martyr, King of England	979	by his stepmother's orders
Albert I., Emperor of Germany	1308	by his nephew
Edward II., King of England	1327
James I., King of Scotland	1437	by conspirators
Edward V., King of England	1483	by order of his uncle Gloucester, afterwards Richard III.
James III., King of Scotland	1488	by his nobles
Henry III., King of France	1589	by Jacques Clément
Henry IV., King of France	1610	by Ravaillac
Gustavus III., King of Sweden	1792	by Ankarström, an ex-officer of the guard
Paul, Czar of Russia	1801	by conspirators
Abraham Lincoln, President of U.S.	1865	by Booth, an actor
Abdul Aziz, Sultan of Turkey	1876
Alexander II., Czar of Russia	1881	by Nihilists
James Garfield, President U.S.	1881	by Charles Guiteau
Marie François S. Carnot, French President	1894	by an anarchist
Nasr-ed-Deen, Shah of Persia	1896
Borda Idiarte, President of Uruguay	1897
Elizabeth, Empress of Austria	1898	by an anarchist, Luccheni
Humbert I., King of Italy	1900	by Bresci
William McKinley, President of U.S.	1901	by Czolgosz
Alexander I., King of Servia, and his wife Draga	1903	by conspirators

2.—SOME FAMOUS BATTLES.

(Naval battles are thus indicated *)

Name.	Date.	Result.
Marathon	490 B.C.	Greeks defeated Persians.
Thermopylæ	480 B.C.	Persians defeated Greeks.
Syracuse	413 B.C.	Spartans defeated Athenians.
Arbela	331 B.C.	Alexander defeated Darius.
Caudine Forks	321 B.C.	Samnites defeated Romans.
Gaza	312 B.C.	Ptolemy defeated Demetrius.
Cannæ	216 B.C.	Hannibal defeated Romans.
Metaurus	207 B.C.	Romans defeated Carthaginians.
Philippi	42 B.C.	Octavius and Antony defeated Brutus and Cassius.
Actium	31 B.C.	Octavius defeated Mark Antony.
Teutoburg	9 A.D.	Arminius with Germans defeated Romans under Varus.
Châlons	451	Romans and Goths defeated Attila the Hun.
Tours	732	Charles Martel defeated the Saracens.
Andernach	876	Louis of Saxony defeated Charles the Bald.
Hastings	1066	William I. defeated Harold.
Bannockburn	1314	Bruce defeated English.
Morgarten	1315	Swiss defeated Austrians.
Crecy	1346	English defeated French.
Patay	1429	French under Joan of Arc defeated English.
Towton	1461	Yorkists defeated Lancastrians.
Cérisolles	1544	French defeated Emperor Charles V.
Lepanto	1571	John of Austria defeated Turks.
Spanish Armada	1588	English defeated Spaniards.
Ivry	1590	Henry IV. defeated the League.
Lützen	1632	Swedes defeated Austrians.
Narva	1700	Charles XII. of Sweden. defeated Peter the Great.
Blenheim	1704	Marlborough deftd. French.
Pultowa	1709	Peter the Great defeated Charles XII.
Plassey	1757	Clive defeated Surajah Dowlah.
Quebec	1759	Wolfe defeated French.
Off Brest	1794	Howe defeated French.
Nile	1798	Nelson defeated French.
Seringapatam	1799	British defeated Tippoo Sahib.
Hohenlinden	1800	French defeated Austrians.
Austerlitz	1805	Napoleon defeated Austrians.
Trafalgar	1805	Nelson defeated French and Spaniards.
Jena	1806	Napoleon defeated Prussians.
Wagram	1809	Napoleon defeated Austrians.
Albuera	1811	English defeated French.
Salamanca	1812	English defeated French.
Borodino	1812	Napoleon defeated Russians.
Leipsic	1813	Allies defeated French.
Waterloo	1815	Allies defeated French.
Navarino	1827	English, French and Russians defeated Turks.
Alma	1854	English and French defeated Russians.
Balaklava	1854	English and French defeated Russians.
Inkermann	1854	English and French defeated Russians.
Magenta	1859	French and Sardinians defeated Austrians.
Königgrätz or Sadowa	1866	Prussians defeated Austrians.
Sedan	1870	Prussians defeated French.
Plevna	1877	Turks defeated Russians but were at length driven out of Plevna.
Liao-yang	1904	Japanese defeated Russians.
Sea of Japan	1905	Russian fleet almost annihilated by the Japanese.

3.—GREAT EARTHQUAKES AND VOLCANIC ERUPTIONS.

A.D.

79. Eruption of Vesuvius destroyed Pompeii, Herculaneum, and Stabiæ. It was at the latter place the Elder Pliny perished.
Severe eruptions of Vesuvius occurred in the 5th, 6th, and 11th centuries. There was an alarming outbreak in 1631 following a long period of quiet. The 18th century witnessed numerous eruptions. One of the most serious outbreaks of the 19th century was that which took place in 1871-2. There was also a violent eruption in 1906, when some hundreds of lives were lost and great devastation wrought.

1169. Eruption of Mount Etna; Catania and 15,000 of its inhabitants destroyed.

1318. Earthquake in England; the most severe ever experienced there.

1692. Port Royal, Jamaica, engulfed forty fathoms deep; 3,000 killed.

1693. Earthquake in Sicily; more than fifty towns and cities destroyed.
Catania with 18,000 inhabitants totally engulfed. More than 100,000 lives lost.

1755. Great Earthquake at Lisbon, city almost entirely destroyed and more than 40,000 people supposed to have perished.

1822. Aleppo in Syria destroyed by earthquake, more than half its inhabitants killed.

1859. Quito visited by a destructive earthquake.

1860. Earthquake at Mendoza, South America, in which many thousands lost their lives.

A.D.

1868. Disastrous earthquake in Peru and Ecuador; many towns destroyed.

1883. Eruption of Krakatoa, Java; more than 30,000 perished.
Severe shocks at and around Colchester, and much damage done.

1891. Terrible earthquake in Japan; 300,000 persons homeless.

1902. St. Pierre, Martinique, destroyed by eruption of Mount Pelée; "within ten minutes St. Pierre became a city of the dead."
Eruption of Mount Soufrière, St. Vincent, destroyed nearly all the buildings in one-third of the island.
Earthquake in Turkestan; the victims numbered 10,000.

1905. Earthquake at Dharmsala, India; native regiment and several Europeans lost, and some 10,000 natives killed in Lahore and other places.
Earthquake in Calabria, Italy, 3,000 killed and injured.

1906. Earthquake in Formosa, towns and villages wiped out.
Alarming earthquake at San Francisco, followed by a devastating fire that completed the ruin of the city.
Earthquake reduced Valparaiso to ruins; 3,000 perished.

1907. Earthquake destroyed Kingston, Jamaica; 700 lives lost.

4.—GREAT PESTILENCES, FAMINES, STORMS & OTHER DISASTERS.

A.D.

1016. Terrible famine throughout Europe.

1193-5. Famine in England followed by pestilence.

1348. England visited by the "Black Death." One-third of its inhabitants said to have perished. Throughout Europe the deaths amounted, it was estimated, to 20,000,000.

1485. The "Sweating Sickness" appeared in London for the first time and carried off thousands.

1665. Great Plague of London in which more than 60,000 perished.

1666. Great Fire in London, raged for five days. St. Paul's Cathedral and many churches included among the buildings destroyed.

1703. The worst storm ever known in England. Enormous damage on land and sea. The Eddystone Lighthouse was destroyed, and with it perished its designer, Winstanley.

1770. Terrible Famine in India; 2½ million people perished.

1831. Asiatic Cholera first appeared in England at Sunderland.

1834. Houses of Parliament destroyed by fire.

1846. Irish Famine caused by the failure of the potato crop.

1848. Great outbreak of Cholera in England; 50,000 deaths.

1861. Great fire near Tooley Street, London, continued for several weeks.

1865. In the descent of the Matterhorn after Mr. Whymper and his party had made the first successful attempt to reach the summit, four of their number fell over a precipice and were killed.

1871. Great Fire at Chicago; nearly 20,000 buildings destroyed.

1877. Famine in India; 5,000,000 perished.

1877-8. Dreadful famine in the northern provinces of China. Some 8,000,000 are reported to have perished.

A.D.

1892. Great famine in Russia.

1894. Terrible Colliery Disaster in South Wales; nearly 300 lives lost.

1896. More than 1,000 people crushed to death in a panic during a fête held at Moscow, to commemorate the coronation of the Czar.

1897. Disastrous fire at a Charity Bazaar in Paris; more than 100 people, mostly women, lost their lives.

1898. Terrific Hurricane in the West Indies; many hundred lives lost; numerous shipping disasters, and many sugar estates devastated.
Great City Fire at Cripplegate; damage two million sterling.

1899. Serious landslip following a severe earthquake at Darjeeling, India; hundreds of acres of tea plantations destroyed.
Great hotel fire in New York, entailing the loss of many lives.

1901. Terrible colliery disaster in Wales, between seventy and eighty lives lost.

1903. Dreadful disaster on Underground Electric Railway in Paris; more than seventy people killed, mostly by suffocation.
Terrible fire at Colney Hatch Asylum; some fifty of the patients killed.

1906. Great mine disaster near Lille, France; more than 1,000 lives lost. Three weeks after the accident fourteen men were found alive and brought to the surface.
Railway accident near Salisbury, to the train forming the American boat express; of the fifty passengers, twenty-one were killed outright.
Great Typhoon at Hong-Kong; many vessels were wrecked and thousands of Chinese killed.
Disastrous railway accident near Dundee; twenty-one killed.

5.—NOTABLE SHIPWRECKS.

A.D.
1782.	Grosvenor, Indiaman, lost off South Africa. Royal George, man-of-war, foundered off Spithead; about 800 lives lost.
1786.	Halsewell, East Indiaman, lost; about 370 people drowned.
1792.	Union, packet of Dover, lost off Calais; a similar loss had not occurred for more than 100 years.
1799.	H.M.S. Lutine, lost off Dutch coast. Only one man saved, and he died before reaching England. Vast treasure aboard; £100,000 has been recovered, but over a million still remains under the waves.
1800.	Queen Charlotte, man-of-war, burnt off Leghorn; about 700 perished.
1811.	St. George, Defiance, and Hero, three men-of-war, lost off Jutland; of all the crews, numbering about 2,000 men, only eighteen were saved.
1825.	Kent, East Indiaman, burnt in the Bay of Biscay; nearly all saved by the brig Cambria.
1833.	Amphitrite, with female convicts for New South Wales, wrecked off Boulogne; only three saved out of a total of 130.
1849.	Royal Adelaide, steamer, wrecked off Margate; 400 lives lost.
1852.	Birkenhead, troopship, lost off South Africa; between 400 and 500 perished.
1854.	Eleven British transports with cargo worth half a million, wrecked in the Black Sea; 500 drowned.
1855.	Pacific, steamer, left Liverpool for New York with nearly 200 people on board; never heard of again (supposed to have struck an iceberg).
1859.	Royal Charter, steamer, wrecked off Anglesea; 450 lost.
1866.	London, steamer, foundered in the Bay of Biscay; 200 drowned.
1870.	H.M.S. Captain, foundered near Finisterre, with the loss of all her crew except eighteen. Among the lost was Captain Coles, the designer of the ship.
1873.	Atlantic (White Star Line), lost off Nova Scotia; between 500 and 600 drowned.
1875.	Grosser Kürfurst, German ironclad, lost by collision with König Wilhelm. Mistletoe, yacht, run down in the Solent by H.M. yacht Alberta. (Queen Victoria on board). Captain of Alberta reprimanded.
1878.	Eurydice, training-ship, homeward bound, foundered off the Isle of Wight with some 300 of her crew. Princess Alice, pleasure steamer, sunk by collision in the Thames; more than 600 lost.
1891.	Utopia, British steamer, with 800 Italian emigrants for New York, sank in Gibraltar Bay; 560 persons drowned.
1893.	Victoria, warship, sank off Tripoli from collision with the Camperdown; about 300 lost, including Admiral Tryon.
1896.	Elbe, North German Lloyd steamer, lost off Lowestoft; more than 300 lost. Drummond Castle, Cape Liner, lost off Ushant; above 200 lost.
1897.	Aden, P. & O. Liner, lost in the Indian Ocean; nearly 100 drowned.
1898.	Mohegan, liner, wrecked on the Manacles, off Cornwall; over 100 lost. La Bourgoyne, French Liner, sank off Novia Scotia from collision with a British sailing-ship; about 500 lives lost.
1899.	Stella, excursion steamer from Southampton to the Channel Islands, wrecked on the Casquet Rocks in a fog; 100 lives lost.
1905.	Hilda, excursion steamer, lost off the French coast; over 100 lives lost.
1906.	Montagu, battleship, struck on the rocks off Lundy Island. All efforts to save the ship unavailing, but no lives lost.
1907.	Berlin, a passenger vessel from Harwich, with 145 persons on board, wrecked in a storm on the Hook of Holland; only fifteen saved.

6.—GREAT DISCOVERIES AND INVENTIONS.

A.D.
1320.	Invention of gunpowder by Schwarz.
1589.	Invention of the Knitting-frame by William Lee.
1607.	Galileo constructed the first Telescope.
1628.	Circulation of the Blood discovered by William Harvey.
1640.	Barometer invented by Torricelli, an Italian.
1689.	Discovery of the Law of Gravitation by Sir Isaac Newton.
1710.	Invention of the pianoforte by Cristofalli, an Italian.
1721.	First Mercury thermometer constructed by Fahrenheit.
1763.	Hargreaves' Spinning Jenny invented.
1764.	Beginning of many improvements in the Steam Engine by James Watt.
1769.	Arkwright invented the Spinning-frame.
1779.	Crompton invented a Spinning machine called the mule.
1783.	Balloon invented by the Montgolfier Brothers.
1785.	Cartwright invented a power loom for weaving.
1798.	Vaccination introduced by Dr. Jenner.
1815.	Sir Humphrey Davy's invention of a Safety-lamp for use in mines.
1830.	Electrical Induction discovered by Michael Faraday thus paving the way for electric lighting, telegraphy, etc.
1837.	The Magnetic Needle telegraph patented by Cooke and Wheatstone.
1841.	Invention of the Sewing-machine by Elias Howe.
1847.	Sir James Simpson introduces the use of Chloroform as an anæsthetic. Chloroform was discovered some years previously by an American chemist.
1840.	Steam Hammer invented by James Nasmyth.
1856.	Bessemer's patent for making Steel.
1864.	Introduction of the Antiseptic Treatment in surgery by Lord Lister.
1868.	Dynamite invented by Nobel. Invention of Whitehead's Torpedo.
1876.	Invention of Bell's Articulating Telephone.
1877.	Invention of Edison's Phonograph.
1882.	Koch discovers the bacillus of Tuberculosis and later that of Cholera.
1884.	Invention of Nordenfelt's Submarine boat.
1886.	Louis Pasteur discovers a method of Inoculation as a cure for Hydrophobia. The Pasteur Institute at Paris opened.
1890.	Cordite invented by Sir F. A. Abel.
1898.	First practical application of Marconi's System of Wireless Telegraphy.
1903.	Radium discovered by M. and Mme. Curie.

7.—MISCELLANEOUS EVENTS.

B.C.
55. Invasion of Britain by Julius Cæsar.

A.D.
1066. Invasion of England by William, Duke of Normandy.
1453. Constantinople taken by the Turks.
1473. Printing introduced into England by William Caxton.
1492. Columbus discovered America.
1520. Magellan, the first to circumnavigate the world.
1521. Conquest of Mexico by Cortes.
1532. Conquest of Peru by Pizarro.
1549. Francis Xavier, the first missionary to visit Japan.
1586. Drake introduced tobacco into England.
1588. Defeat of the Spanish Armada.
1607. Virginia, the first English Colony, founded in America.
1613. New River water brought to London.
1620. Tea introduced into England.
1620. Landing of the Pilgrim Fathers at Plymouth, Massachusetts.
1649. Trial and Execution of Charles I.
1675. Greenwich Observatory founded.
1683. London street lamps first lighted.
1688. Trial and acquittal of the seven Bishops.
1694. Bank of England founded.
1704. Capture of Gibraltar by Sir George Rooke.
1720. South Sea Bubble exploded.
1752. New Calendar adopted in England.
1754. British Museum opened.
1757. Admiral Byng tried by court-martial and shot.
Clive wins the Battle of Plassey, and lays the foundation of our Indian Empire.
1759. Capture of Quebec by General Wolfe.
1765. First tunnel for navigation constructed in England, was on the Bridgwater Canal, by Brindley.
1768. Royal Academy of Arts founded.
1780. First Derby run.
The Gordon Riots.
1783. First Execution in front of Newgate prison. Hitherto held at Tyburn near the Marble Arch.
1788. First British Settlement in Australia.
1789. Outbreak of the French Revolution.
1790. The first Lifeboat launched.
1793. Execution of Louis XVI. and Marie Antoinette.
1795. Trial of Warren Hastings, lasted seven years and ended in an acquittal.
1797. Mutiny of the Nore.
1807. Gas first used to light a street in London.
Slave Trade, throughout the British dominions, prohibited by Act of Parliament.
1812. Famous Duel between H.M.S. "Shannon" and the "Chesapeake" of the American navy, in which the former was victorious.
1814. Great Frost which lasted nearly six weeks. A fair was held on the Thames.
1820. Trial and acquittal of Queen Caroline, wife of George IV.
1829. First University Boat Race.
First Passenger Railway opened in England.
1830. Pillory in use for the last time. A perjurer named Bossy the last to suffer in this way.
1832. First Reform Bill passed.
1834. Slavery abolished in the British Empire.
1835. Lucifer Matches came into use.
1838. First Steamship crossed the Atlantic.
1840. Queen Victoria fired at by a half-witted youth, named Edward Oxford.
Penny Postage introduced.
1843. Thames Tunnel completed.
1845. Sir John Franklin's ill-fated Arctic Expedition set sail from Greenhithe.

A.D.
1847. Gold discovered in California.
1850. McClure discovered the North-west Passage.
1851. Gold discovered at Bathurst, in Australia.
First Great International Exhibition held in Hyde Park.
The New York racing yacht "America" won the R.Y.S. cup at Cowes.
1858. Speke discovered Victoria Nyanza.
1859. First Handel Festival held at the Crystal Palace.
1861. Emancipation of the Russian Serfs.
Great Comet seen in England.
Launch of the "Warrior," the first iron-plated vessel in the British navy.
Opening of the Post Office Savings Bank throughout the British Isles.
1864. Garibaldi presented with the freedom of the City of London.
1866. First Electric cable laid across the Atlantic was in 1858, but it proved a failure. The first to prove a success was laid eight years later.
1867. Wall of Clerkenwell prison, London, blown up by Fenians to free two of their number imprisoned there.
1868. Michael Barrett, one of the Fenians, executed. This was the last public execution.
1869. Suez Canal opened.
1870. Thames Embankment completed.
Diamonds discovered at Kimberley.
1874. Tichborne Trial, Conviction of Arthur Orton for perjury and forgery.
1875. Captain Webb swam from Dover to Calais. A few years later he was drowned while trying to swim the rapids of Niagara.
1878. Removal of Temple Bar from its position between the Strand and Fleet Street.
1882. Murder of Lord Frederick Cavendish, chief secretary for Ireland, and Mr. Burke, in Phœnix Park, Dublin.
1886. Gold discovered in the Witwatersrand, Transvaal.
1887. Great Naval Review held at Spithead in honour of the Queen's Jubilee.
1893. Departure of an Arctic Expedition under Nansen in the Fram.
1894. Tower Bridge opened.
Manchester Ship-Canal opened.
Captain Dreyfus' trial.
1896. Andrée set out in a balloon to reach the North Pole, but was never heard of again.
1897. Celebration of Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee.
1898. Introduction of Imperial Penny Postage between Great Britain and her Colonies.
1900. A youth named Sipido fired a pistol at the Prince of Wales at the railway station at Brussels. No one was hurt.
1901. First Parliament of the Australian Commonwealth opened by the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York.
Great Siberian Railway completed.
1902. Opening of the Gordon Memorial College at Khartoum.
Completion of the Great Nile Dam at Assouan.
Great Coronation Review held at Spithead.
Anglo-Japanese Alliance signed.
1903. Great Coronation Durbar held at Delhi.
1905. Simplon Tunnel completed.
1906. Anarchist attempt to blow up the King and Queen of Spain on their wedding-day.
Return of Commander Peary's seventh Arctic expedition, after approaching the Pole 30 miles nearer than any other Expedition.
1907. Opening of the new "Old Bailey."

THE LONGEST RIVERS IN THE WORLD.

Name.		Length in Miles (about)	Name.		Length in Miles (about).
Mississippi with Missouri	(N. America)	4,200	Colorado	(N. America)	2,000
Amazon	(S. America)	4,000	Yukon	(Alaska)	2,000
Nile	(Egypt)	3,500	Indus	(India)	1,900
Yenisei	(Siberia)	3,100	Rio Grande	(N. America)	1,800
Congo	(W. Africa)	3,000	Brahmaputra	(India)	1,800
Yang-tse-kiang	(China)	3,000	Danube	(Central Europe)	1,700
Lena	(Siberia)	3,000	Euphrates	(Asia Minor)	1,700
Hoang-ho	(China)	2,700	Ganges	(India)	1,550
Niger	(W. Africa)	2,600	Orinoco	(S. America)	1,500
Amur	(Eastern Asia)	2,500	Zambesi	(E. Africa)	1,500
La Plata	(S. America)	2,500	Columbia	(N. America)	1,300
Obi	(Siberia)	2,300	Dnieper	(Russia)	1,250
Volga	(Russia)	2,300	Don	(Russia)	1,100
St. Lawrence	(N. America)	2,200	Murray	(Australia)	1,100
*Mackenzie	(N. America)	2,200

(Compare the Thames—220 miles.)

* The name Mackenzie is often restricted to the river below Great Slave Lake, in length 1,100 miles.

THE HIGHEST MOUNTAINS IN THE WORLD.

(APPROXIMATE HEIGHTS GIVEN). THOSE MARKED THUS (*) ARE VOLCANOES.

Name	Height in feet.	Where situated.	Name	Height in feet.	Where situated.
Mount Everest	29,000	(Himalayas) India.	Mount St. Elias	18,000	(Alaska Mts.) N. America.
Dapsang	28,500	(Karakorum Mts.) Central Asia.	*Orizaba	17,400	Mexico.
Godwin Austin	28,200	(Himalayas) India.	*Popocatapetl	17,400	Mexico.
Kinchinjinga	28,100	(Himalayas) India.	Kenia	17,200	British E. Africa.
Dhawalagiri	26,500	(Himalayas) India.	Mount Ararat	17,000	Armenia.
Nanda Devi	25,700	(Himalayas) India.	Ruwenzori	16,600	E. Africa.
Tagharma	25,500	(Pamir) Turkestan.	Kazbek	16,500	(Caucasus Mts.) Russia.
Khan-tengri	24,000	(Thian Shan Mts.) China.	†Mount Brown	16,000	(Rocky Mts.) British N. America.
Aconcagua	22,400	(Andes) Chili.	Mont Blanc	15,700	(Pennine Alps) France.
Kaufmann	22,200	(Pamir) Turkestan.	Monte Rosa	15,200	(Pennine Alps) Italy.
Mercedario	22,000	(Andes) Chili.	Ras Dashan	15,100	Abyssinia.
Gualtieri	21,500	(Andes) Bolivia.	Agua	15,000	Central America.
Huascan	21,500	(Andes) Peru.	Matterhorn	14,700	(Pennine Alps) Switzerland.
Sorata	21,400	(Andes) Bolivia.	Blanca Peak	14,400	(Rocky Mts.) United States.
Chimborazo	20,600	(Andes) Ecuador.	Ligonyi (Elgon)	14,000	E. Africa.
*Antisana	19,100	(Andes) Ecuador.	Finster-Aarhorn	14,000	(Bernese Alps) Switzerland.
Demavend	19,000	(Elburz Mts.) Persia.	Jungfrau	13,700	(Bernese Alps) Switzerland.
Cayambe	19,000	(Andes) Ecuador.	Fremont's Peak	13,500	(Rocky Mts.) N. America.
*Cotopaxi	19,000	(Andes) Ecuador.	Mount Cook	12.300	(Southern Alps) New Zealand.
Kilima-Njaro	19,700	E. Africa.	*Fusi Yama	12,300	Japan.
Elburz	18,500	(Caucasus Mts.) Russia.

(Compare Ben Nevis 4,400 feet, the loftiest mountain in the British Isles).

† The heights of the peaks in British North America are variously given. Thus, some authorities put Mount Brown at 16,000 feet, while it has been given as low as 10,000 feet.

The greatest Ocean Depths are about the same distance below the sea-level as are the highest mountains above it. The greatest depth so far recorded is 30,930 feet, near the Kermadec Islands in the south-west Pacific. The greatest depth known in the Atlantic is 27,960 feet, to the north of the West Indies. In the Indian Ocean the deepest sounding hitherto made is 19,200 feet.

COMPARATIVE RAINFALLS.

The annual rainfall varies greatly in different places. In the Sahara and Gobi deserts, in parts of Mexico and Peru, it never rains at all, while at Cherrapungi, in Bengal, the annual rainfall amounts to 493 inches. The highest rainfalls occur in the tropics, in mountainous districts and in regions near the sea. In parts of England and Scotland the rainfall does not amount to thirty inches, indeed in Lincolnshire it is below twenty inches; on the other hand more than forty inches fall over a portion of England, while over a considerable part of the Scotch Highlands the amount exceeds eighty inches. The rainfall is higher in Ireland. The highest rainfall in England is at Seathwaite, in the Lake District. The difference is in some cases very striking; thus, in Norway and in Spain the annual fall varies from nearly seventy inches to thirteen. In Russia and Siberia it drops from twenty inches to three, and France and Germany have a rainfall varying from thirty-five to twenty inches, though the figures are much larger in mountainous districts. The annual rainfall of Australia is as low as seven inches in some parts, while in others it mounts as high as fifty or sixty inches. The accompanying table shows the annual fall of rain in various parts of the world.

Place.	Situation.	Annual Rainfall in inches.	Place.	Situation.	Annual Rainfall in inches.
Seathwaite	England	146	New York	United States	38
London	England	24	San Diego	California	9
Bergen	Norway	72	Hokitika	New Zealand	120
North Cape	Norway	11	Christchurch	New Zealand	26
Cherrapungi	Bengal	493	Zanzibar	E. Africa	59
Bombay	India	74	Port Elizabeth	S. Africa	24
Karachi or Kurrachee	India	7	Port Said	Egypt	2
Ratnapura	Ceylon	148	Brisbane	Queensland	50
Colombo	Ceylon	87	Gawler	S. Australia	13
Vera Cruz	Mexico	180

RACES OF MANKIND.

The human family has been divided into five great races. They are as follows: The Caucasian; the Mongolian; the Negro; the Malay; the American. The table below will give an idea of the tribes or nations comprising these five great races.

The Caucasian or Indo-European Race. (white)	The natives of Europe (with the exception of the Magyars of Hungary, and the Laplanders and Finns), the Persians, Jews, Arabians, Hindoos, Afghans, and the people of Northern Africa; also the descendants of Europeans in America, South Africa, Australia, etc.
The Mongolian Race (yellow)	The Chinese, Japanese, Siamese, Burmese, Tibetans and Koreans; also the Laplanders, Finns, Magyars, Tartars and Turks, and many Russians.
The Negro Race (black)	The natives of Africa south of the Sahara with the exception of the colonists of Cape Colony, etc. The natives of Australia, Tasmania and some of the Malaysian Islands are also included under this heading.
The Malay Race (brown)	The natives of the Malay Peninsula, the Indian Archipelago and most of the islands of Oceania.
The American Race or Red Indians	The Indian tribes of America, who are gradually dying out.

RELATIVE HEIGHT (1) OF MEN (2) OF WOMEN.

A glance at the table below will give a fair idea of what people's weight should be in proportion to their height. The average man or woman grows stouter with advancing years, and slimness is becoming to the young, but to be well-proportioned, the fully-developed man or woman should conform to the following standard:

WOMEN.	STONES.	POUNDS.	MEN.	STONES.	POUNDS.
Five feet	about 7	5	Five feet two inches	about 9	0
Five feet one inch	„ 7	10	Five feet three inches	„ 9	7
Five feet two inches	„ 8	0	Five feet four inches	„ 9	13
Five feet three inches	„ 8	7	Five feet five inches	„ 10	2
Five feet four inches	„ 9	0	Five feet six inches	„ 10	5
Five feet five inches	„ 9	7	Five feet seven inches	„ 10	8
Five feet six inches	„ 9	13	Five feet eight inches	„ 11	1
Five feet seven inches	„ 10	6	Five feet nine inches	„ 11	7
Five feet eight inches	„ 10	12	Five feet ten inches	„ 12	1
Five feet nine inches	„ 11	2	Five feet eleven inches	„ 12	6
			Six feet	„ 12	10

NOTABLE RAILWAY TUNNELS.

Name.	Length in miles (about.)	Situation.
Simplon (completed February, 1905. The total cost is roughly about £3,000,000.)	12	connects Switzerland and Italy.
Mount St. Gothard	9¼	connects Switzerland and [Italy.
Mont Cenis	8	connects France and Italy.
Arlberg	6	Austria.
Hoosac Mountain	5	Massachusetts.
St. Clair	2	under the river St. Clair in North America.

Alpine tunnels.

Name.	Length in miles (about.)	Situation.
Severn	4¼	Great Western Railway.
Totley	3⅛	Midland Railway.
Woodhead	3	Great Central Railway.
Standedge	3	North Western Railway.
Bramhope	2⅛	North Eastern Railway.
Medway	2	South Eastern Railway.
Cowburn	2	Midland Railway.
Box	1¾	Great Western Railway.
Mersey	1½	between Liverpool and Birkenhead.

(There are in all about thirty tunnels in England which exceed one mile in length.)

SOME FAMOUS ORGANS.

The earliest organs were water-organs, and the first specimen was the work of Ctesibius of Alexandria. Instruments built from his designs found their way to Rome and were patronized by the Emperor Nero. They were employed to accompany the contests in the public games and for other secular purposes. The date of the introduction of the organ into the Church is uncertain, but it was probably towards the end of the 7th century.

The following is a list of the most famous organs.

Haarlem Cathedral	This organ was for a long time the largest in the world. Begun in 1735 it took more than three years to complete.
Seville Cathedral	The bellows of this organ are worked "see-saw" fashion by a man walking up and down a long plank.
Royal Albert Hall, London
Crystal Palace, Sydenham	This huge organ was erected in 1857.
St. George's Hall, Liverpool	Erected at a cost of about £10,000.
Church of St. Maurice, Olmutz, Austria
Leeds Town Hall
Church of St. Peter and St. Paul, Görlitz, Silesia
Roman Catholic Cathedral Montreal
Music Hall, Cincinnati, U.S.
Town Hall, Sydney, N.S.W.	This organ has the distinction of being the largest ever built for an English Colony.
Church of St. Nicholas, Freiburg, Switzerland	One of the finest-toned organs in Europe.

SOME OF THE WORLD'S LARGEST BELLS.

We do not know who invented the bell; it probably had no single inventor, but was the outcome of the combined ideas of many. It is uncertain, also, at what date large bells were introduced, though it is probable they came into use at the time of the dawn of Christianity. "But for fully a thousand years, we may feel certain that Christendom, and England as part of it, has heard the far-reaching tones of the bells ring out, now gladly, now sadly, across broad acres of field and woodland, and over the busy hum of the bustling town. And in all that time there has been scarce an event of interest in the life of nations or of districts, not many even in the lives of private individuals, in which the tones of the bells have not mingled with the emotions that were aroused thereby."—From "A Book about Bells," by the Rev. George S. Tyack, B.A.

	Approximate Weight in Tons.	Remarks.
"Tsar Kolokol," the Great Bell of Moscow (the largest bell in the world.)	200	Supposed to have been cast in 1653. In 1737 a fire caused its fall, and it remained on the ground, cracked and useless, until 1837, when it was made to serve as the dome of a chapel which was excavated beneath it.
Great Bell at Mingoon, Burmah	125	Said by some authorities to rival the giant of Moscow in point of size.
Another Moscow Bell	125	This is the largest bell in use in the world.
The Great Bell at Pekin	53
Novgorod, Russia	31
"Kaiserglocke," Cologne Cathedral	26
St. Isaac's Cathedral, St. Petersburg	22	Like the bell of Moscow, this fine specimen is adorned with imperial portraits.
Olmütz, Austria	18
Notre Dame, Paris	18
Vienna	18
St. Paul's, London	17	"Great Paul" was cast and hung in 1882.
Sens, France	15
Erfurt Cathedral, Prussian Saxony	13	This bell was cast at the end of the 15th century.
Montreal (R.C. Cathedral)	13
York	12
"Big Ben," Westminster	12	See under "Bells" in Dict. of Gen. Inf.
Görlitz, Silesia	10
Bruges	10
"Great Tom," Oxford	7

NOTABLE SPIRES AND TOWERS.

The following are the heights of some of the most notable spires and towers in the world.

	Height in Feet.		Height in Feet.
Eiffel Tower, Champ-de-Mars, Paris	984	Salisbury Cathedral	404
Ulm Cathedral	532	Freiburg Minster, Baden	380
Cologne Cathedral	512	Florence Cathedral	370
Rouen Cathedral	483	Chartres Cathedral, France	370
St. Nicholas, Hamburg	480	St. Paul's, London	365
Strasburg Cathedral	464	St. Isaac's Cathedral, St. Petersburg	330
St. Stephen's Cathedral, Vienna	450	St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York	325
St. Peter's, Rome	440	Norwich Cathedral	314
Amiens Cathedral	420	Notre Dame, Paris	310
Notre Dame, Antwerp	405	Canterbury Cathedral	235

NOTABLE BRIDGES.

The earliest bridges were made of wood. The most famous bridge of antiquity was Trajan's stone structure over the Danube, 4,600 feet in length. The accompanying list gives a few details of some of the most famous of modern bridges.

Name.	Length in feet (about.)	Date of Completion.	Designer.	Description.
Britannia	1510	1850	Stephenson and Fairbairn	Tubular Suspension bridge over the Menai Strait, on the Chester and Holyhead Railway.
Brooklyn	5990	1883	Roebling	Suspension bridge over East River, connects Brooklyn with New York.
Calcutta	1530	—	Sir Bradford Leslie	A pontoon bridge, probably the longest floating bridge in the world.
Clifton Suspension	700	1864	Brunel	Bridge over the Avon near Bristol. (Formerly Hungerford Bridge over the Thames near Charing Cross).
Forth	8290	1889	Sir John Fowler and Sir Benjamin Baker	Railway bridge across the river Forth, Scotland.
Grosvenor	340	1832	Harrison	Single span stone bridge over the Dee at Chester.
Kew Bridge	1300	1903	Sir Wolfe Barry	Over the Thames; connects Brentford with Kew.
London Bridge	1000	1831	Sir John Rennie	Over the Thames.
Menai	1700	1825	Telford	Suspension Bridge over the Menai Strait.
Newcastle High Level	1400	1849	Robert Stephenson	Connects Newcastle with Gateshead.
Niagara Suspension.		1855	Roebling	Over the Niagara.
St. Lawrence (Quebec)	3200	—	Mr. E. A. Hoare	Cantilever bridge across the St. Lawrence, six miles above Quebec. Main span 1800 feet, the widest in the world. Now building (1907).
Tay	10,500	1887	Barlow	Railway bridge over the Tay in Scotland.
Tower	800	1894	Sir Wolfe Barry	Suspension and bascule bridge over the Thames at London.
Zambesi	650	1905	Mr. G. A. Hobson	Cantilever bridge across the Zambesi, 700 yards below the Victoria Falls.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

HORSE-RACING.

(a) Won The Derby; (b) The 2000 Guineas; (c) The 1000 Guineas; (d) The Oaks; (e) The St. Leger

THE DERBY (a).

For 3 years old. Colts 9 st.; Fillies 8 st. 11 lbs. 1 mile 4 fur. 29 yds. Record Time 2 m. 36⅘ s.

Year.	Owner.	Winner.	Betting.	Jockey.	Trainer.	Time.
						mln. sec.
1857	Mr. W. I'Anson	Blink Bonny (c)	20 to 1	Charlton	W. I'Anson	2 45
1858	Sir J. Hawley	Beadsman	10 to 1	Wells	G. Manning	2 54
1859	Sir J. Hawley	Musjid	9 to 4	Wells	G. Manning	2 59
1860	Mr. Merry	Thormanby	4 to 1	Custance	M. Dawson	2 55
1861	Col. Towneley	Kettledrum	16 to 1	Bullock	W. Oates	2 43
1862	Mr. Snewing	Caractacus	40 to 1	J. Parsons	W. Smith	2 45½
1863	Mr. R. C. Naylor	Macaroni (b)	10 to 1	T. Chaloner	J. Godding	2 50½
1864	Mr. W. I'Anson	Blair Athol (e)	14 to 1	J. Snowden	W. I'Anson	2 43
1865	Count F. de Lagrange	Gladiateur (b) (e)	5 to 2	H. Grimshaw	T. Jennings	2 46
1866	Mr. R. Sutton	Lord Lyon (b) (e)	5 to 6	Custance	J. Dover	2 50
1867	Mr. Chaplin	Hermit	1000 to 15	Daley	G. Bloss	2 52
1868	Sir J. Hawley	Blue Gown	7 to 2	Wells	J. Porter	2 43½
1869	Mr. J. Johnstone	Pretender (b)	11 to 8	J. Osborne	T. Dawson	2 52½
1870	Lord Falmouth	Kingcraft	20 to 1	T. French	M. Dawson	2 45
1871	Baron Rothschild	Favonius	9 to 1	T. French	J. Hayhoe	2 50
1872	Mr. H. Savile	Cremorne	3 to 1	Maidment	W. Gilbert	2 45½
1873	Mr. Merry	Doncaster	45 to 1	F. Webb	R. Peck	2 50
1874	Mr. W. S. Cartwright	George Frederick	9 to 1	Custance	T. Leader	2 46
1875	Prince Batthyany	Galopin	2 to 1	Morris	J. Dawson	2 48
1876	Mr. A. Baltazzi	Kisber	4 to 1	Maidment	J. Hayhoe	2 44
1877	Lord Falmouth	Silvio (e)	100 to 9	F. Archer	M. Dawson	2 50
1878	Mr. W. S. Crawford	Sefton	100 to 12	Constable	A. Taylor	2 56
1879	Mr. Acton	Sir Bevys	20 to 1	G. Fordham	J. Hayhoe	3 2
1880	Duke of Westminster	Bend Or	2 to 1	F. Archer	R. Peck	2 46
1881	Mr. P. Lorillard	Iroquois (e)	11 to 2	F. Archer	J. Pincus	2 50
1882	Duke of Westminster	Shotover (b)	11 to 2	T. Cannon	J. Porter	2 45⅗
1883	Sir F. Johnstone	St. Blaise	5 to 1	C. Wood	J. Porter	2 48⅖
1884	Mr. J. Hammond dead heat; Sir J. Willoughby dead heat	St. Gatien	100 to 8	C. Wood	R. Sherwood	2 46⅕
		Harvester	100 to 7	S. Loates	Jewitt
1885	Lord Hastings	Melton (e)	75 to 40	F. Archer	M. Dawson	2 44⅕
1886	Duke of Westminster	Ormonde (b) (e)	4 to 9	F. Archer	J. Porter	2 45⅗
1887	Mr. Abington	Merry Hampton	100 to 9	J. Watts	Gurry	2 43
1888	Duke of Portland	Ayrshire (b)	5 to 6	F. Barrett	G. Dawson	2 43
1889	Duke of Portland	Donovan (e)	8 to 11	T. Loates	G. Dawson	2 44⅖
1890	Sir J. Miller	Sainfoin	100 to 15	J. Watts	J. Porter	2 49⅕
1891	Sir F. Johnstone	Common (b) (e)	10 to 11	G. Barrett	J. Porter	2 56⅘
1892	Lord Bradford	Sir Hugo	40 to 1	F. Allsopp	T. Wadlow	2 44
1893	Mr. McCalmont	Isinglass (b) (e)	4 to 9	T. Loates	Jewitt	2 43
1894	Lord Rosebery	Ladas (b)	2 to 9	J. Watts	M. Dawson	2 45⅘
1895	Lord Rosebery	Sir Visto (e)	9 to 1	S. Loates	M. Dawson	2 43⅗
1896	Prince of Wales	Persimmon (e)	5 to 1	J. Watts	R. Marsh	2 42
1897	Mr. Gubbins	Galtee More (b) (e)	1 to 4	C. Wood	S. Darling	2 44
1898	Mr. J. Larnach	Jeddah	100 to 1	O. Madden	R. Marsh	2 47
1899	Duke of Westminster	Flying Fox (b) (e)	2 to 5	M. Cannon	J. Porter	2 42⅕
1900	Prince of Wales	Diamond Jubilee (b) (e)	6 to 4	H. Jones	R. Marsh	2 42
1901	Mr. W. C. Whitney	Volodyovski	5 to 2	L. Reiff	J. Huggins	2 40⅘
1902	Mr. J. Gubbins	Ard Patrick	100 to 14	Martin	S. Darling	2 42⅕
1903	Sir J. Miller	Rock Sand (b) (e)	4 to 6	Maher	Blackwell	2 42⅕
1904	Mr. L. de Rothschild	St. Amant (b)	5 to 1	K. Cannon	A. Hayhoe	2 45⅕
1905	Lord Rosebery	Cicero	4 to 11	Maher	P. Peck	2 39⅗
1906	Major E. Loder	Spearmint	6 to 1	Maher	Gilpin	2 36⅘

Year.	2000 GUINEAS (b). (Newmarket). 3 yrs. old. Colts 9 st.; Fillies 8 st. 9 1 mile. Record 1 m. 38⅘ s.	1000 GUINEAS (c). (Newmarket). 3 years old Fillies. 9 st. 1 mile. Record	THE OAKS (d). (Epsom). 3 years old Fillies. 9 st. 1 m. 4 f. 29 y. Record 2 m. 38⅖ s.	ST. LEGER (e). (Doncaster). 3 yrs. old. Colts 9 st.; Fillies 8 st. 11 1 m. 6 f. 132 y. Record 3 m. 4⅕ s.
1892	Bona Vista	La Flèche (d) (e)	La Flèche (c) (e)	La Flèche (c) (d)
1893	Isinglass (a) (e)	Sifflеuse	Mrs. Butterwick	Isinglass (a) (b)
1894	Ladas (a)	Amiable (d)	Amiable (c)	Throstle
1895	Kirkconnel	Galeottia	La Sagesse	Sir Visto (a)
1896	St. Frusquin	Thais	Canterbury Pilgrim	Persimmon (a)
1897	Galtee More (a) (e)	Chelandry	Limasol	Galtee More (a) (b)
1898	Disraeli	Nun Nicer	Airs and Graces	Wildfowler
1899	Flying Fox (a) (e)	Sibola	Musa	Flying Fox (a) (b)
1900	Diamond Jubilee (a) (e)	Winifreda	La Roche	Diamond Jubilee (a) (b)
1901	Handicapper	Aida	Cap and Bells II.	Doricles
1902	Sceptre (c) (d) (e)	Sceptre (b) (d) (e)	Sceptre (b) (c) (e)	Sceptre (b) (c) (d)
1903	Rock Sand (a) (e)	Quintessence	Our Lassie	Rock Sand (a) (b)
1904	St. Amant (a)	Pretty Polly (d) (e)	Pretty Polly (c) (e)	Pretty Polly (c) (d)
1905	Vedas	Cherry Lass (d)	Cherry Lass (c)	Challacombe
1906	Gorgos	Flair	Keystone II.	Troutbeck

NEWMARKET STAKES.

3 yrs old. Colts 9 st.; Fillies 8 st. 11. 1½ miles.

		yrs.	wght.
1895	The Owl
1896	Galeazzo
1897	Galtee More (a, b, c)
1898	Cyllene
1899	Dominie II.
1900	Diamond Jubilee (a, b, e)
1901	William III.
1902	Fowling Piece
1903	Flotsam
1904	Henry I.
1905	Cicero (a)
1906	Lally

GRAND NATIONAL.

Steeplechase (Liverpool). 4 miles 856 yards. (Handicap).

		yrs.	wght.
1895	W. M. from Borneo	6	10–11
1896	The Soarer	7	9–13
1897	Manifesto	9	11–3
1898	Drogheda	6	10–12
1899	Manifesto	11	12–7
1900	Ambush II.	6	11–3
1901	Grudon	11	10–0
1902	Shannon Lass	7	10–1
1903	Drumeree	9	11–3
1904	Moifaa	8	10–7
1905	Kirkland	9	11–5
1906	Ascetic's Silver	a	10–9

GRAND PRIX.

(Paris). 3 years old. 1 mile 7 furlongs.

1895	Andrée
1896	Arreau
1897	Doge
1898	Le Roi Soleil
1899	Perth
1900	Semendria
1901	Cheri
1902	Kizil Kourgan
1903	Quo Vadis
1904	Ajax
1905	Finasseur
1906	Spearmint (a)

JUBILEE.

(Kempton). 1½ miles (Handicap).

		yrs.	wght.
1895	Victor Wild	5	8–4
1896	Victor Wild	6	9–7
1897	Clwyd	6	7–5
1898	Dinna Forget	6	7–7
1899	Kt. of Thistle	6	8–4
1900	Sirenia	5	8–6
1901	Santoi	4	8–9
1902	Royal George	4	6–9
1903	Ypsilanti	5	8–1
1904	Ypsilanti	6	9–5
1905	Ambition	4	7–1
1906	Donnetta	6	8–11

ECLIPSE STAKES.

(Sandown). 1½ miles. (£10,000)

		yrs.	wght.
1895	Le Justicier	3	9–1
1896	St. Frusquin (b)	3	9–4
1897	Persimmon (a, e)	4	10–2
1898	Velasquez	4	10–2
1899	Flying Fox (a. b. e)	3	9–4
1900	Diamond Jubilee (a.b.e)	3	9–1
1901	Epsom Lad	4	9–13
1902	Cheers	3	8–8
1903	Ard Patrick (a)	4	10–2
1904	Darley Dale	3	9–1
1905	Val D'Or	3	9–1
1906	Llangibby	4	9–13

PRINCESS OF WALES.

(Newmarket). 1½ miles. (£10 000 Stakes).

		yrs.	wght.
1895	Le Var	3	8–3
1896	St. Frusquin (b)	3	9–2
1897	Velasquez	3	8–13
1898	Goletta	4	9–11
1899	Flying Fox (a.b.e)	3	9–5
1900	Merry Gal	3	7–13
1901	Epsom Lad	4	9–2
1902	Veles	4	9–2
1903	Ard Patrick (a)	4	9–8
1904	Rock Sand (a, b, e)	4	9–2
1905	St. Denis	4	8–3
1906	Dinneford	4	8–4

JOCKEY CLUB.

(Newmarket). 1½ miles. (£10,000 Stakes).

		yrs.	wght.
1895	Laveno	3	8–4
1896	Persimmon (a, e)	3	9–7
1897	Love Wisely	4	9–7
1898	Cyllene	3	9–1
1899	Flying Fox (a, b, e)	3	9–9
1900	Disguise II.	3	8–9
1901	Pietermaritzburg (a)	3	8–10
1902	Rising Glass	3	8–13
1903	Sceptre (b. c. d. e)	4	10–0
1904	Rock Sand (a, b. e)	4	9–11
1905	St. Amant (a, b)	4	10–3
1906	Beppo	3	8–1

MIDDLE PARK PLATE.

(Newmarket). 6 furlongs. 2 years old.

		weight.
1895	St. Frusquin (b)	9–3
1896	Galtee More (a, b, e)	9–0
1897	Dieudonne	9–3
1898	Caiman	9–0
1899	Democrat	9–0
1900	Floriform	8–10
1901	Minstead	8–10
1902	Flotsam	9–3
1903	Pretty Polly (c, d, e)	9–0
1904	Jardy	9–3
1905	Flair (c)	9–0
1906	Galvani	9–3

ASCOT GOLD CUP.

2½ miles.

		yrs.	wght.
1895	Isinglass (a, b, e)	5	9–4
1896	Love Wisely	3	7–7
1897	Persimmon (a, e)	4	9–0
1898	Elf II.	5	9–4
1899	Cyllene	4	9–0
1900	Merman	a	9–4
1901	Santoi	4	9–0
1902	William III.	4	9–0
1903	Maximum II.	4	9–0
1904	Throwaway	5	9–4
1905	Zinfandel	5	9–4
1906	Batchelor's Button	a	9–4

ROYAL HUNT CUP.

(Ascot). 7 furlongs 166 yards. (Handicap)

		yrs.	wght.
1895	Clorane	4	8–11
1896	Quarrel	5	7–11
1897	Kt. of Thistle	4	7–5
1898	Jacquemart	4	8–6
1899	Refractor	3	6–3
1900	Royal Flush	a	7–0
1901	Stealaway	4	6–7
1902	The Solicitor	4	7–4
1903	Kunstler	5	7–5
1904	Csardas	5	7–5
1905	Andover	4	8–0
1906	Dinneford	4	7–8

GOODWOOD CUP.

2½ miles.

		yrs.	wght.
1895	Florizel II.	4	9–6
1896	Count Schomberg	4	8–2
1897	Count Schomberg	5	10–2
1898	King's Messenger	3	7–7
1899	Merman	a	9–5
1900	Mazagan	4	9–3
1901	Fortunatus	3	8–0
1902	Perseus	3	7–1
1903	Rabelais	3	7–2
1904	Saltpetre	4	7–10
1905	Red Robe	4	7–10
1906	Plum Tree	3	7–12

DEWHURST PLATE.

(Newmarket). 7 furlongs. 2 years old.

		weight.
1895	St. Frusquin (b)	9–5
1896	Vesuvian	8–9
1897	Hawfinch	8–9
1898	Frontier	8–9
1899	Democrat	9–3
1900	Lord Bobs	8–9
1901	Game Chick	9–3
1902	Rock Sand (a, b, e)	9–5
1903	Henry I.	9–2
1904	Rouge Croix	8–9
1905	Picton	8–9
1906	My Pet II.	9–2

LINCOLNSHIRE.

(Lincoln). 1 mile. (Handicap).

		yrs.	wght.
1895	Euclid	6	7–12
1896	Clorane	5	9–4
1897	Winkfield's Pride	4	8–9
1898	Prince Barcaldine	5	7–5
1899	General Peace	5	7–5
1900	Sir Geoffrey	5	8–6
1901	Little Eva	6	7–5
1902	St. Maclou	4	7–12
1903	Over Norton	6	7–6
1904	Uninsured	4	7–10
1905	Sansovino	4	7–6
1906	Ob	5	8–0

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

(Epsom). 1¼ miles. (Handicap).

		yrs.	wght.
1895	Reminder	4	8–9
1896	Worcester	6	8–12
1897	Balsamo	4	7–4
1898	Bay Ronald	5	8–0
1899	Newhaven II.	6	9–0
1900	Grafter	a	8–10
1901	Australian Star	5	7–10
1902	First Principal	5	7–6
1903	Brambilla	3	7–1
1904	Robert le Diable	5	8–2
1905	Pharisee	6	8–5
1906	Dean Swift	5	7–11

CESAREWITCH.

(Newmarket). 2¼ miles. (Handicap).

		yrs.	wght.
1895	Rockdove	4	6–10
1896	St. Bris	3	6–8
1897	Merman	5	7–5
1898	Chaleureux	4	7–5
1899	Scintillant	3	7–0
1900	Clarehaven	4	7–13
1901	Balsarroch	3	6–5
1902	Black Sand	5	8–2
1903	Grey Tick	a	6–9
1904	Wargrave	6	7–4
1905	Hammerkop	5	8–9
1906	Mintagon	5	7–0

CAMBRIDGESHIRE.

(Newmarket). 1 mile 1 furlong. (Handicap).

		yrs.	wght.
1895	Marco	3	7–9
1896	Winkfield's Pride	3	6–10
1897	Comfrey	3	7–2
1898	Georgic	6	7–8
1899	Irish Ivy	3	7–11
1900	Berrill	4	7–9
1901	Watershed	3	7–7
1902	Ballantrae	3	6–8
1903	Hackler's Pride	3	6–10
1904	Hackler's Pride	4	8–10
1905	Velocity	3	6–5
1906	Polymelus	4	8–10

CRICKET. (See also next page.)

CHAMPION COUNTIES.

1885	Notts.	1895	Surrey
1886	Notts.	1896	Yorkshire
1887	Surrey	1897	Lancashire
1888	Surrey	1898	Yorkshire
1889	Surrey, Lancashire, Notts.	1899	Surrey
		1900	Yorkshire
		1901	Yorkshire
1890	Surrey	1902	Yorkshire
1891	Surrey	1903	Middlesex
1892	Surrey	1904	Lancashire
1893	Yorkshire	1905	Yorkshire
1894	Surrey	1906	Kent

CHAMPION BATSMEN.

	(12 completed innings.)	Runs	Aver.
1896	K. S. Ranjitsinhji	2780	57.9
1897	F. G. J. Ford	805	53.6
1898	Quaife (W. G.)	1219	60.9
1899	Major Poore	1551	91.2
1900	K. S. Ranjitsinhji	3065	87.5
1901	C. B. Fry	3147	78.6
1902	Shrewsbury	1250	50.0
1903	C. B. Fry	2683	81.3
1904	K. S. Ranjitsinhji	2077	74.1
1905	C. B. Fry	2801	70.6
1906	C. J. Burnup	1207	67.0

CHAMPION BOWLERS.

	(Over 100 wkts.)	Wkts	Aver.
1896	Hearne (J. T.)	257	14.2
1897	Richardson	273	14.4
1898	Hearne (J. T.)	222	14.0
1899	Trott (A. E.)	239	17.0
1900	Rhodes	261	13.8
1901	Rhodes	251	15.1
1902	Haigh	158	12.5
1903	Mead	131	13.6
1904	Hearne (J. T.)	145	18.8
1905	Haigh	129	15.3
1906	Haigh	174	14.5

CRICKET RECORDS. (Also see previous page.)

ALL ROUND.

Hirst, in 1904 and again in 1905 made over 2000 runs, and took over 100 wi kets. In 1906 he made 2,385 runs and took 208 wi kets.

W. G. Grace, C. L. Towsend and G. L. Jessop, have each made over 2000 runs, and taken over 100 wickets in one season.

W. W. Armstrong, for the 1905 Australian team in England, made 2002 runs and took 130 wickets; heading both the batting and bowling averages.

BATTING.

W. G. Grace heading the batting averages n 1866-68-69-70-71-72-73-74-76-77-79-80.

1739 runs were scored in the match, New South Wales v. Stoddart's te m, in 1898.

New South Wales scored 918 v. South Australia, in 1901.

Yorkshire scored 887 v. Warwickshire, in 1896.

Oxford University (1 man short) scored 12 only v. M.C.C., in 1877.

Notts scored 13 only v. Yorkshire, in 1901.

Brown (J. T.) and Tunnicliffe made 554 for the 1st wicket for Yorkshire v. Derbyshire, in 1898.

M. A. Noble and W. W. Armstrong made 4?8 for the 6th wicket for Australians v. Sussex, in 1902.

A. C. Maclaren and Hayward (T. made 314 for the 1st wicket for Maclaren's team v. New South Wales, in 1902.

R. W. Nicholls and Roche made 240 for the last wicket for Middlesex v. Kent, in 1839.

A. C. Maclaren made 424 for Lancashire v. Somerset, in 1895.

W. G. Grace made 400 not out for United South of England v. 22 of Grimsby, in 1876.

Clem Hill made 365 not out for South Australia v. New South Wales, in 1900.

Hayward (T.) made 3,518 runs during the season, 1906.

C. B. Fry, in 1901, and Hayward (T.) in 1906, made 13 centuries in one season, and Abel (R.) in 1900 made 12.

C. B. Fry, in 1901, made six consecutive centuries.

C. B. Fry has made two separate centuries in one match on four occasions. W. G. Grace, R. E. Foster and Hayward (T.) have made two separate centuries on three occasions. Hayward, in 1906, did so in two consecutive matches.

BOWLING.

All ten wickets in one innings:—
Barnett; Players v. Australians, 1878.
G. Giffen; Australian team v. Rest of Australia, 1884.
W. G. Grace; M.C.C. v. Oxford University, 1886.
Burton; Middlesex v. Surrey, 1888.
S. M. J. Woods; Cambridge University v. Thornton's XI., 1890.
Richardson; Surrey v. Essex, 1894
Pickett; Essex v. Leicestershire, 1895.
Tyler; Somerset v. Surrey, 1895.
W. P. Howell; Australians v. Surrey, 1899.
Bland; Sussex v. Kent, 1899
Briggs; Lancashire v. Worcestershire, 1900.
Trott; Middlesex v. Somerset, 1900.
Fielder; Players v. Gentlemen, 1906.

Four wickets with successive balls:—
Hide (Jesse); Sussex v. M.C.C., 1890.
Lockwood; Surrey v. Warwickshire, 1891.
Shacklock; Notts v. Somerset, 1893.
Martin; M.C.C. v. Derbyshire, 1895.
Mold; Lancashire v. Notts, 1895.
W. Brearley; (Not all in the same innings). Lancashire v. Somerset, 1905.

It is also worthy of note that C. T. B. Turner took 314 wickets for the 1888 Australian Team, in England.

Richardson took 290 wickets, in 1895.

TEST MATCHES.

ENGLAND v. AUSTRALIA.

Played in Australia—
England won 18, Australia 21, Drawn 2.
Played in England—
England won 15, Australia 6, Drawn 13.
Remarkable Scores—
England 576 at the Oval, 1899.
England 577 at Sydney, 1903.
Australia 551 at the Oval, 1884.
Australia 5?6 at Sydney, 1894
England 53 at Lord's, 1888.
Australia 36 at Birmingham, 1902.

R. E. Foster made 287 for England at Sydney, in 1903; W. L. Murdoch 211 for Australia at the Oval, in 1884; W. G. Grace 170 for England at the Oval, in 1886.

The following batsmen made centuries in their first test match:
C. Bannerman (1877), W. G. Grace (1880), H. Graham (1893), K. S. Ranjitsinhji (1896), R. A. Duff (1902), R. E. Foster (1903).

The following bowlers have done the "Hat trick" in test matches:—
F. R. Spofforth (1879), W. Bates (1883), Hearne J. T. (1899), H. Trumble (1902 and 1904).

Rhodes took 15 wickets in one test match (1901).

INTER-VARSITY.

Cambridge 35, Oxford 30, Drawn 7.

Public Schools.

Harrow 33, Eton 31, Drawn 17.

FOOTBALL.

ASSOCIATION CUP WINNERS.

Years.
1871–2	Wanderers beat Royal Engineers	1–0
1872–3	Wanderers beat Oxford University	2–0
1873–4	Oxford University beat Royal Engineers	2–0
1874–5	Royal Engineers beat Old Etonians*	2–0
1875–6	Wanderers beat Old Etonians*	3–0
1876–7	Wanderers beat Oxford University†	2–0
1877–8	Wanderers beat Royal Engineers	3–1
1878–9	Old Etonians beat Clapham Rovers	1–0
1879–80	Clapham Rovers beat Oxford University	1–0
1880–1	Old Carthusians beat Old Etonians	3–0
1881–2	Old Etonians beat Blackburn Rovers	1–0
1882–3	Blackburn Olympic beat Old Etonians†	2–1
1883–4	Blackburn Rovers beat Queen's Park	2–1
1884–5	Blackburn Rovers beat Queen's Park	2–0
1885–6	Blackburn Rovers beat West Bromwich Albion*	2–0
1886–7	Aston Villa beat West Bromwich Albion	2–0
1887–8	West Bromwich Albion beat Preston North End	2–1
1888–9	Preston N. End beat Wolverhampton W.	3–0
1889–90	Blackburn Rovers beat Sheffield Wednesday	6–1
1890–1	Blackburn Rovers beat Notts	3–1
1891–2	West Bromwich Albion beat Aston Villa	3–0
1892–3	Wolverhampton Wanderers beat Everton	1–0
1893–4	Notts County beat Bolton Wanderers	4–1
1894–5	Aston Villa beat West Bromwich Albion	1–0
1895–6	Sheffield W. beat Wolverhampton W.	2–1
1896–7	Aston Villa beat Everton	3–2
1897–8	Notts Forest beat Derby County	3–1
1898–9	Sheffield United beat Derby County	4–1
1899–1900	Bury beat Southampton	4–0
1900–1	Tottenham Hotspur beat Sheffield United*	3–1
1901–2	Sheffield United beat Southampton*	2–1
1902–3	Bury beat Derby County	6–0
1903–4	Manchester City beat Bolton Wanderers	1–0
1904–5	Aston Villa beat Newcastle United	2–0
1905–6	Everton beat Newcastle United	1–0
1906–7	Sheffield Wednesday beat Everton	2–1

* After a drawn game. † Extra half-hour played.

INTER-VARSITY.

(Including Season 1906–7.

ASSOCIATION.

Cambridge	17	Oxford	16	Drawn	1

RUGBY.

Oxford	13	Cambridge	13	Drawn	8

INTERNATIONALS.

(Including Season 1906–7.

ASSOCIATION.

Scotland	16	England	11	Drawn	9
England	21	Wales	2	Drawn	6
England	24	Ireland	0	Drawn	2
Scotland	21	Wales	3	Drawn	5
Scotland	21	Ireland	1	Drawn	2
Wales	12	Ireland	9	Drawn	5

RUGBY.

Scotland	14	England	11	Drawn	9
England	11	Wales	11	Drawn	2
England	19	Ireland	11	Drawn	1
Scotland	13	Wales	9	Drawn	1
Scotland	22	Ireland	5	Drawn	3
Wales	13	Ireland	8	Drawn	1

New Zealand (1905–6 tour) defeated England (15 pts. to nil). Scotland (12 pts. to 7). Ireland (15 pts. to nil). but were beaten by Wales (3 pts. to nil). The latter was the only defeat of the tour.

South Africa (1906–7 tour) defeated Ireland (16 pts. to 12). Wales (11 pts. to nil). drew with England (3 pts. each). and were beaten by Scotland (6 pts. to nil).

CHAMPIONS.

Years.	ASSOCIATION. The League.	ASSOCIATION. Southern League.	RUGBY. County.
1889–90	Preston N.E.	—	Yorkshire
1890–1	Everton	—	Lancashire
1891–2	Sunderland	—	Yorkshire
1892–3	Sunderland	—	Yorkshire
1893–4	Aston Villa	—	Yorkshire
1894–5	Sunderland	Millwall	Yorkshire
1895–6	Aston Villa	Millwall	Yorkshire
1896–7	Aston Villa	Southampton	Kent
1897–8	Sheffield U.	Southampton	Northumberland
1898–9	Aston Villa	Southampton	Devon
1899–00	Aston Villa	Tottenham H.	Durham
1900–1	Liverpool	Southampton	Devon
1901–2	Sunderland	Portsmouth	Durham
1902–3	Sheffield W.	Southampton	Durham
1903–4	Sheffield W.	Southampton	Kent
1904–5	Newcastle U.	Bristol Rovers	Durham
1905–6	Liverpool	Fulham	Devon
1906–7	Newcastle U.	Fulham	—

ROWING.

UNIVERSITY BOAT RACE.

Year.	Course.	Winner.	Time.	Won by
			m. s.
1829	Henley	Ox.	14.0	100 yards
1836	Westmstr. to Putney.	Cam.	36.0	1 min.
1839	Westmstr. to Putney.	Cam.	31.0	1¾ min.
1840	Westmstr. to Putney.	Cam.	29.30	¾ length
1841	Westmstr. to Putney.	Cam.	32.30	1 m. 4 s.
1842	Westmstr. to Putney.	Ox.	30.45	13 secs.
1845	P. to M.	Cam.	23.30	30 secs.
[1]1846	M. to P.	Cam.	21.5	2 lengths
1849	Putney to Mortlake.	Cam.	22.0	8 lengths
1849	Putney to Mortlake.	Ox.	—	foul
1852	Putney to Mortlake.	Ox.	21.36	27 secs.
1854	Putney to Mortlake.	Ox.	25.29	11 strokes
1856	M. to P.	Cam.	25.50	½ length
[2]1857	Putney to Mortlake.	Ox.	22.35	35 secs.
1858	Putney to Mortlake.	Cam.	21.23	22 secs.
1859	Putney to Mortlake.	Ox.	24.40	Cam. sank
1860	Putney to Mortlake.	Cam.	26.5	1 length
1861	Putney to Mortlake.	Ox.	23.30	48 secs.
1862	Putney to Mortlake.	Ox.	21.41	30 secs.
1863	M. to P.	Ox.	23.6	43 secs.
1864	P. to M.	Ox.	21.40	26 secs.
1865	Putney to Mortlake.	Ox.	21.24	4 lengths
1866	Putney to Mortlake.	Ox.	25.35	15 secs.
1867	Putney to Mortlake.	Ox.	22.40	½ length
1868	Putney to Mortlake.	Ox.	20.56	6 lengths
[3]1869	Putney to Mortlake.	Ox.	20.5	3 lengths
1870	Putney to Mortlake.	Cam.	22.4	1¼ length
1871	Putney to Mortlake.	Cam.	23.5	1 length
1872	Putney to Mortlake.	Cam.	21.15	2 lengths
[4]1873	Putney to Mortlake.	Cam.	19.35	3½ lengths
1874	Putney to Mortlake.	Cam.	22.35	3 lengths
1875	Putney to Mortlake.	Ox.	22.2	10 lengths
1876	Putney to Mortlake.	Cam.	20.20	8 lengths
[5]1877	Putney to Mortlake.	—	24.8	dead heat
1878	Putney to Mortlake.	Ox.	22.13	10 lengths
1879	Putney to Mortlake.	Cam.	21.18	3½ lengths
[6]1880	Putney to Mortlake.	Ox.	21.23	3¾ lengths
1881	Putney to Mortlake.	Ox.	21.51	3 lengths
1882	Putney to Mortlake.	Ox.	20.12	7 lengths
[7]1883	Putney to Mortlake.	Ox.	21.8	4 lengths
1884	Putney to Mortlake.	Cam.	21.39	2½ lengths
1885	Putney to Mortlake.	Ox.	21.36	3 lengths
1886	Putney to Mortlake.	Cam.	22.29	⅝ length
[8]1887	Putney to Mortlake.	Cam.	20.52	3½ lengths
1888	Putney to Mortlake.	Cam.	20.48	5 lengths
[9]1889	Putney to Mortlake.	Cam.	20.14	2¾ lengths
1890	Putney to Mortlake.	Ox.	22.3	1 length
1891	Putney to Mortlake.	Ox.	21.48	½ length
1892	Putney to Mortlake.	Ox.	19.21	2¼ lengths
[10]1893	Putney to Mortlake.	Ox.	18.47	1 l. 4 ft.
1894	Putney to Mortlake.	Ox.	21.39	3½ lengths.
1895	Putney to Mortlake.	Ox.	20.50	2½ lengths
1896	Putney to Mortlake.	Ox.	20.1	⅝ lengths
1897	Putney to Mortlake.	Ox.	19.12	2½ lengths
[11]1898	Putney to Mortlake.	Ox.	22.15	easily
1899	Putney to Mortlake.	Cam.	21.4	3½ lengths
[10]1900	Putney to Mortlake.	Cam.	18.47	easily
[12]1901	Putney to Mortlake.	Ox.	22.31	⅝ length
[12]1902	Putney to Mortlake.	Cam.	19.9	5 lengths
1903	Putney to Mortlake.	Cam.	19.32	6 lengths
1904	Putney to Mortlake.	Cam.	21.34	4½ lengths
1905	Putney to Mortlake.	Ox.	20.35	3 lengths
[13]1906	Putney to Mortlake.	Cam.	19.24	3½ lengths
1907	Putney to Mortlake.	Cam.	20.26	4½ lengths

Total Races 64; Oxford won 34, Cambridge 29, Dead Heat 1.

[1] Rowed in outriggers for first time. [2] First race rowed in keelless boats and with round oars. [3] Oxford also defeated Harvard this year (fours). [4] Sliding seats first used. [5] Oxford bow damaged his oar. [6] Postponed on account of fog. [7] Rowed in a snowstorm. [8] Oxford 7 broke his oar. [9] Cambridge had the same crew as 1888. [10] "Record Time." [11] Rowed in a gale; Cambridge waterlogged. [12] Oxford used Dr. Warre's short boat. [13] Cambridge also defeated Harvard this year.

Famous Blues:—G. A. Selwyn (C. 1829) became Bishop of Lichfield. W. B. Brett (C. 1839), Lord Esher, Master of the Rolls. Hon. L. Denman (C. 1841), the famous judge. A. de Rutzen (C. 1849), now London's chief magistrate. W. H. Waddington (C. 1849), Prime Minister of France. J. W. Chitty (O. 1849), Lord Justice. J. J. Hornby (O. 1849) and E. Warre (O. 1857), Headmasters of Eton. A. L. Smith (C. 1857), Master of the Rolls.

HENLEY REGATTA.

Year.	Grand. Record 6 m. 51 s.	Ladies. Record 7 m. 1 s.	Thames. Record 7 m. 5½ s.	Stewards. Record 7 m. 30 s.	Visitors. Record 7 m. 37 s.
1895	Trinity Hall	Eton	Nereus	London	Trin. Coll., Oxford
1896	Leander	Eton	Emmanuel	London	Caius College
1897	New College	Eton	Kingston	Leander	Trin. Coll., Oxford
1898	Leander	Eton	Trin. Coll., Oxford	Leander	New College
1899	Leander	Eton	First Trinity	Magdalen College	Balliol College
1900	Leander	New College	Trin. Coll., Cam.	Leander	Trin. Coll., Cam.
1901	Leander	Univ. College	Trinity Hall	Third Trinity	Balliol College
1902	Third Trinity	Univ. College	Trinity Hall	Third Trinity	Jesus College
1903	Leander	Magdalen College	Trin. Coll., Dublin	Third Trinity	Univ. College
1904	Leander	Eton	Caius College	Third Trinity	Third Trinity
1905	Leander	Eton	Thames	Leander	Trinity Hall
1906	Gand, Belgium	First Trinity	Christ's College	Leander	Third Trinity

Year.	Wyfolds. Record 7 m. 46 s.	Goblets. Record 8 m. 15 s.	Diamonds. Record 8 m. 11 s.
1895	London	V. Nickalls and Guy Nickalls	Hon. R. Guinness
1896	Trinity College, Oxford	V. Nickalls and Guy Nickalls	Hon. R. Guinness
1897	Kingston	E. R. Balfour and Guy Nickalls	E. H. Ten Eyck
1898	Kingston	A. Bogle and W. J. Fernie	B. H. Howell
1899	Trinity Hall	C. K. Philips and H. W. M. Willis	B. H. Howell
1900	Trinity Hall	C. J. D. Goldie and G. M. Maitland	E. G. Hemmerde
1901	Trinity Hall	H. J. Hale and F. W. Warre	C. V. Fox
1902	Burton-on-Trent	W. Dudley Ward and C. W. H. Taylor	F. S. Kelly
1903	Kingston	Lothar Klaus and A. Ehrenberg	F. S. Kelly
1904	Birmingham	C. J. D. Goldie and C. W. H. Taylor	L. S. Scholes
1905	London	R. H. Nelson and P. H. Thomas	F. S. Kelly
1906	London	B. C. Johnstone and R. V. Powell	H. T. Blackstaffe

Year.	WINGFIELD SCULLS. Record 22 m. 6⅘ s.	DOGGETTS. Coat and Badge.	Year.	PROFESSIONAL CHAMPIONS.
1898	B. H. Howell	A. J. Carter	1880	E. Hanlan beat E. Trickett
1899	B. H. Howell	J. See	1884	W. Beach beat E. Hanlan
1900	C. V. Fox	J. J. Turffery	1888	P. Kemp beat T. Clifford
1901	H. T. Blackstaffe	A. H. Brewer	1888	H. E. Searle beat P. Kemp
1902	A. H. Cloutte	R. G. Odell	1890	J. Stanbury beat W. O'Connor
1903	F. S. Kelly	E. Barry	1896	J. Gaudaur beat J. Stanbury
1904	St. George Ashe	W. A. Pizzey	1901	G. Towns beat J. Gaudaur
1905	H. T. Blackstaffe	H. Silvester	1905	J. Stanbury beat G. Towns
1906	H. T. Blackstaffe	E. Brewer	1906	G. Towns beat J. Stanbury

ATHLETIC RECORDS.

WORLD'S.

Run.	Made by.	Year.
			m. s.
100 yards	A. F. Duffey (A)	1902	9 3
120 hur.	A. C. Kraenzlein (A)	1898	15 1/5
220 yards	B. J. Wefers (A)	1897	21
¼ mile	M. W. Long (A)	1900	47
½ mile	C. H. Kilpatrick (A)	1895	1 53 2/5
1 mile	W. G. George (P)	1886	4 12 3/4
3 miles	A. Shrubb (B)	1903	14 17 3/5
4 miles	A. Shrubb (B)	1904	19 23 2/5
10 miles	A. Shrubb (B)	1904	50 40 2/5
			ft. ins
High Jump. M. Sweeney (A)		1895	6 5 3/8
Long Jump. P. O'Connor (B)		1901	24 11 3/4
Pole Jump. F. Gonder (F)		1904	12 3
Putting 16 lb. weight. W. W. Coe (A)		1905	49 6
Throwing 16 lb. hammer. J. Flanagan		1901	175 4 3/8

WALKING.

			m. s.
1 mile	A. T. Yeomans (B)	1906	6 19 3/5
2 miles	A. T. Yeomans	1906	12 53 1/5
3 miles	J. W. Raby (P)	1883	20 21 1/2
4 miles	G. E. Larner (B)	1905	27 14
5 miles	J. W. Raby (P)	1883	35 10
6 miles	J. W. Raby	1883	43 1
7 miles	J. W. Raby	1883	51 4
8 miles	G. E. Larner (B)	1905	58 18 2/5
9 miles	J. W. Raby (P)	1883	67 14
10 miles	J. W. Raby	1883	74 45

BICYCLING.

Flying starts.

¼ mile	A. A. Chase (P)	1902	19 2/5
½ mile	A. A. Chase	1902	40 1/5
¾ mile	A. A. Chase	1902	1 0 2/5
1 mile	R. Walthour (P)	1903	1 7

Standing starts.

¼ mile	J. Green (P)	1899	27 2/5
½ mile	J. Green	1899	51 1/5
¾ mile	J. Green	1899	1 15
1 mile	E. Bouhours (P)	1903	1 30 2/5
5 miles	H. Elkes (P)	1900	7 7 1/5
10 miles	W. T. Hall	1903	11 29 3/5

SWIMMING.

100 yards	C. M. Daniels (B)	1906	57 2/5
200 yards	B. B. Kieran (B)	1905	2 13 3/5
440 yards	B. B. Kieran	1905	5 19
880 yards	B. B. Kieran	1905	11 11 1/5
1 mile	B. B. Kieran	1905	23 16 1/5
			ft. ins.
Plunging W. Taylor (P)		1906	82 7

BRITISH AMATEUR.

Made by.	Year.
		m. s.
A. F. Duffey	1901	9 1/5
A. C. Kraenzlein	1900	15 2/5
C. G. Wood	1887	21 4/5
H. C. L. Tindall	1889	48 1/2
E. C. Bredin	1895
F. J. K. Cross	1888	1 54 3/5
J. Binks	1902	4 16 4/5
A. Shrubb	1903	14 17 3/5
A. Shrubb	1904	19 23 2/5
A. Shrubb	1904	50 40 3/5
		ft. ins.
P. Leahy	1898	6 4 3/4
P. O'Connor	1901	24 11 3/4
R. D. Dickinson	1891	11 9
D. Horgan	1897	48 2
J. Flanagan	1900	163 4

INTER-VARSITY.

Made by.	Year.
		m. s.
Several	—	10
K. Powell (C)	1907	15 3/5
—	—	—
W. Fitzherbert (C)	1896	49 3/5
K. Cornwallis (O)	1904	1 54 1/5
C. C. Henderson-Hamilton (O)	1905	4 17 4/5
F. S. Horan (C)	1893	14 44
—	—	—
—	—	—
		ft. ins.
M. J. Brooks (O)	1876	6 2 1/2
C. B. Fry (O)	1892	23 5
—	—	—
W. W. Coe (O)	1902	43 10
A. M. Stevens (O)	1907	146 9

LONG DISTANCE RUNNING.

Professional :—25 miles in 2h. 33m. 42s. by L. Hurst (1903). 50 miles in 5h. 55m. 41½s. by G. Cartwright (1887). 100 miles in 13h. 26m. 30s. by C. Rowell (1882). In 1 hour H. Watkins ran 11 miles 1286 yards (1899). Amateur :—25 miles in 2h. 33m. 44s. by G. A. Dunning (1881). 50 miles in 6h. 18m. 26⅕s. by J. E. Dixon (1885). 100 miles in 17h. 36m. 14s. by J. Saunders (1882). In 1 hour A. Shrubb ran 11 miles 1136 yards (1904).

LONG DISTANCE WALKING.

25 miles in 3h. 40m. 20s.. and 50 miles in 7h. 52m. 27s.. by J. Butler (B) (1905). 100 miles in 18h. 8m. 50s. by W. Howes (P) (1880). In 1 hour G. E. Larner (B) walked 8 miles 438 yards (1905). In 12 hours J. Hibberd (P) walked 70 miles 677 yards (1888).

London to Brighton (52½ miles): J. Butler in 8 hours 23 minutes 27 seconds (1906).

LONG DISTANCE CYCLING.

50 miles in 55m. 16s. by W. T. Hall (P) (1903). 100 miles in 2h. 26m. 8s. by E. Bouhours (P) (1903). In 1 hour P. Guignard (P) rode 59 miles 86 yards (1906). In 12 hours E. Bouhours rode 475 miles 256 yards (1906). In 24 hours E. Bouhours rode 815 miles 1408 yards (1906).

Land's End to John o' Groats :—
- Paced :—G. P. Mills. 3 days 5 hours 49 min (1894).
- Unpaced :—G. A. Olley, 3 days 20 hours 15 min. (1905).
- Tricycle :—G. P. Mills. 3 days 16 hours 47 min. (1893).
- Tandem Bicycle. G. P. Mills and T. A. Edge, 3 days 4 hours 46 min. (1895).

London to Brighton and back :—
- Paced :—W. J. Neason, 5 hours 6 min. 42 sec. (1897).
- Unpaced :—R. Shirley, 5 hours 15 min. 29 sec. (1906).
- Tandem :—J. C. Paget and M. R. Mott, 5 hours 9 min. 30 sec. (1906).

(A) American Amateur. (B) British Amateur. (C) Cambridge. (F) French. (O) Oxford. (P) Professional.

BILLIARDS.

HIGHEST BREAKS. "All-in" :—W. J. Peall 3,304 (1890).
Spot barred :—J. Roberts junior. 1,392 (1894).
Billiard Association Rules:—H. W. Stevenson 802 (1905).
T. Reece 1,269 March 5th, (1907).
With the aid of the "Anchor" cannon :—
T. Reece 6,138. March 30th, 1907.
C. Dawson 6,245, " "
W. Cook 19,780, April 27th. 1907.
T. Reece 23,810, May 2nd, 1907.

NOTABLE SWIMS.

Captain Webb swam from Dover to Calais (about 21 miles) in 21 hours 45 min., on August 24th, 1875. He was drowned in attempting to swim Niagara Rapids on July 24th, 1883.

Miss Beckwith swam 20 miles in the Thames in 6 hours 25 min., on July 5th, 1876.

J. Finney remained under water 4 min. 29½ sec., on April 7th, 1886.

CHAMPIONS.

Year.	TENNIS.	LAWN TENNIS.
	Singles.	Ladies.	Gentlemen.	Doubles.
1892	H. E. Crawley	Miss L. Dod	W. Baddeley	H. S. Barlow, E. W. Lewis
1893	H. E. Crawley	Miss L. Dod	J. Pim	J. Pim, F. O. Stoker
1894	H. E. Crawley	Mrs. Hillyard	J. Pim	W. and H. Baddeley
1895	Sir E. Grey, Bt.	Miss C. Cooper	W. Baddeley	W. and H. Baddeley
1896	Sir E. Grey, Bt.	Miss C. Cooper	H. S. Mahony	W. and H. Baddeley
1897	J. B. Gribble	Mrs. Hillyard	R. F. Doherty	R. F. and H. L. Doherty
1898	Sir E. Grey, Bt.	Miss C. Cooper	R. F. Doherty	R. F. and H. L. Doherty
1899	E. H. Miles	Mrs. Hillyard	R. F. Doherty	R. F. and H. L. Doherty
1900	E. H. Miles	Mrs. Hillyard	R. F. Doherty	R. F. and H. L. Doherty
1901	E. H. Miles	Mrs. Sterry	A. W. Gore	R. F. and H. L. Doherty
1902	E. H. Miles	Miss M. Robb	H. L. Doherty	S. H. Smith, F. L. Riseley
1903	E. H. Miles	Miss D. K. Douglass	H. L. Doherty	R. F. and H. L. Doherty
1904	V. Pennell	Miss D. K. Douglass	H. L. Doherty	R. F. and H. L. Doherty
1905	E. H. Miles	Miss M. Sutton	H. L. Doherty	R. F. and H. L. Doherty
1906	E. H. Miles	Miss D. K. Douglass	H. L. Doherty	S. H. Smith, F. L. Riseley

Year.	GOLF.			RIFLE SHOOTING.
	Open.	Amateur.	Ladies.	The King's Prize.
1892	Mr. H. H. Hilton	J. Ball, Junr.	—	Major Pollock, 3rd A. and S. Hdrs.
1893	W. Auchterlonie	P. Anderson	—	Sergt. Davies, 1st Welsh
1894	J. H. Taylor	J. Ball, Junr.	Lady M. Scott	Pte. Rennie, 3rd Lanark
1895	J. H. Taylor	L. Balfour-Melville	Lady M. Scott	Pte. Hayhurst, Canada
1896	H. Vardon	F. G. Tait	Miss Pascoe	Lieut. Thomson, Queen's Ed.
1897	Mr. H. H. Hilton	A. J. T. Allan	Miss E. C. Orr	Pte. Ward, 1st Devon
1898	H. Vardon	F. G. Tait	Miss L. Thomson	Lieut. Yates, 3rd Lanark
1899	H. Vardon	J. Ball, Junr.	Miss M. Hezlet	Pte. Priaulx, Guernsey
1900	J. H. Taylor	H. H. Hilton	Miss R. Adair	Pte. Ward, 1st Devon
1901	J. Braid	H. H. Hilton	Miss M. A. Graham	L.-Corp. Ommundsen, Queen's Ed.
1902	A. Herd	C. Hutchings	Miss M. Hezlet	Lieut. Johnson, 1st London
1903	H. Vardon	R. Maxwell	Miss R. Adair	C.-Sergt. Davies, 3rd Glam.
1904	J. White	W. J. Travis	Miss L. Dod	Pte. Perry, Canada
1905	J. Braid	A. G. Barry	Miss B. Thompson	C.-Sergt. Comber, 2nd E. Surrey
1906	J. Braid	J. Robb	Mrs. Kennion	Capt. Davies, 1st Middlesex

BILLIARDS.

PROFESSIONALS.

1870	W. Cook beat J. Roberts, Sen.
1870	J. Roberts, Junr., beat W. Cook
1870	J. Roberts, Junr., beat A. Bowles
1870	J. Bennett beat J. Roberts, Junr.
1871	J. Roberts, Junr., beat J. Bennett
1871	W. Cook beat J. Roberts, Junr.
1871	W. Cook beat J. Bennett
1872	W. Cook beat J. Roberts, Junr.
1874	W. Cook beat J. Roberts, Junr.
1875	J. Roberts, Junr., beat W. Cook
1875	J. Roberts, Junr., beat W. Cook
1877	J. Roberts, Junr., beat W. Cook
1880	J. Bennett beat W. Cook
1881	J. Bennett beat T. Taylor
1885	J. Roberts, Junr., beat W. Cook

From this date there has been no proper championship match, the barring of the "spot" and "push" strokes causing claims to be made to championship honours under different rules. W. J. Peall was for some years undoubtedly the "all-in" champion, but with the "spot" stroke barred, J. Roberts, Junr., could find no one good enough to play him on level terms up to his retirement in 1906. Of the other players, C. Dawson and H. W. Stevenson have evenly contested the question of supremacy for some years. Handicaps in the big tournaments of 1906-7, in games of 9,000 up under Billiard Association Rules were:—Dawson and Stevenson (scratch); Diggle (rec. 1000); other players (rec. 2000 and upwards).

AMATEURS.

1894 (May)	H. Mitchell	1903 (Mar.)	A. R. Wisdom
1894 (Dec.)	T. Maughan	1903 (Dec.)	S. S. Christey
1896	S. H. Fry	1904	W. A. Lovejoy
1899	A. R. Wisdom	1905	A. W. T. Good
1900	S. H. Fry	1906	E. C. Breed
1901	S. S. Christey	1907	H. C. Virr
1902	A. W. T. Good

COURSING.

Year.	WATERLOO CUP.
	Nominator.	Winner.
1893	R. L. Cotterel	Character
1894	Count Stroganoff	Texture
1895	R. B. Carruthers	Thoughtless Beauty
1896	G. F. Fawcett	Fabulous Fortune
1897	T. P. Hale	Gallant
1898	J. Trevor	Wild Night
1899	J. B. Thompson	Black Fury
1900	J. H. Bibby	Fearless Footsteps
1901	J. H. Bibby	Fearless Footsteps
1902	G. F. Fawcett	Farndon Ferry
1903	J. H. Bibby	Father Flint
1904	E. Darlinson	Homfray
1905	W. H. Pawson	Pistol II.
1906	H. Hardy, jun.	Hoprend
1907	Sir R. W. Buchanan-Jar-	Long Span

SKATING.

Year.	GREAT BRITAIN.
	Amateur.	Professional.
1880	F. Norman	G. Fish Smart
1881	F. Norman	G. Fish Smart
1887	R. Wallis	G. Fish Smart
1889	W. Loveday	James Smart
1890	W. Loveday	James Smart
1891	W. Housden	—
1892	J. C. Aveling	George See
1895	A. E. Tebbit	James Smart
1900	A. E. Tebbit	Fred Ward
1902	A. E. Tebbit	Jos. Bates
1906	A. E. Tebbit	Fred Ward

SPORTING SEASONS AND CLOSE TIMES.

1. GAME SEASONS.

From a legal standpoint the word Game includes hares, pheasants, partridges, grouse, heath or moor game, black game and bustards.

No game can be killed or taken on a Sunday or Christmas Day.

LEGAL SEASONS FOR KILLING GAME.

Grouse or Moor Fowl. For the whole of the United Kingdom, Aug. 12th to Dec. 10th.

Black Game or Heath Fowl Somerset, Devon and New Forest, Sept. 1st to Dec. 10th. All other parts of the United Kingdom, Aug. 20th to Dec. 10th.

Pheasant. For the whole of the United Kingdom, Oct. 1st to Feb. 1st.

Partridge. Great Britain. Sept. 1st to Feb. 1st. Ireland. Sept. 20th to Jan. 10th.

Bustard England and Wales. Sept. 1st to Mar. 1st. Scotland. No close time. Ireland. Sept. 1st to Jan. 10th.

Hare Great Britain. No close time.* Ireland. Apr. 20th to Aug. 12th.

Male Deer Great Britain. No close time. Ireland. June 10th to Dec. 31st.

Fallow Male Deer Great Britain. No close time. Ireland. June 10th to Sept. 29th.

Quail . Landrail Great Britain. As wild birds. Ireland. Sept. 20th to Jan. 10th.

Ptarmigan England and Ireland. As wild birds. Scotland. Aug. 12th to Dec. 10th.

* It is not lawful to sell or expose for sale any hare or leveret in any part of Great Britain during the months of March, April, May, June, or July. This does not apply to foreign hares.

2. HUNTING SEASONS.

Stag Hunting. August 12th to October 12th.
Deer Hunting. November 10th to March 3rd.
Fox Hunting. November 1st to April 1st.
Hare Coursing. July 1st to February 28th.
Otter Hunting. April 15th to September 15th.

3. PROTECTION OF WILD BIRDS.

A series of Acts of Parliament have been passed for the protection of wild birds in the United Kingdom during the breeding season. These Acts—The Wild Birds Protection Acts, 1880–1904—make it unlawful for any person, during the period between March 1st and August 1st, to shoot or attempt to shoot, or use any boat for the purpose of shooting or causing to be shot, any wild bird; or to use any lime, trap, snare, net, or other instrument for the purpose of taking any wild bird. No person must expose or offer for sale, or have in his control or possession after March 15th, any wild bird recently killed or taken.

The Acts apply to all wild birds, but more especially to those given in the following schedule:

American quail.	Kittiwake.	Sealark.
Auk.	Lapwing.	Seamew.
Avocet.	Loon.	Sea parrot.
Bee-eater.	Mallard.	Sea swallow.
Bittern	Marrot.	Shearwater.
Bonxie.	Merganser.	Shelldrake.
Colin.	Murre.	Shoveller.
Cornish chough.	Night-hawk.	Skua.
Coulterneb.	Night-jar.	Smew.
Cuckoo.	Nightingale.	Snipe.
Curlew.	Oriole.	Solan goose.
Diver.	Owl.	Spoonbill.
Dotterel.	Ox Bird.	Stint.
Dunbird.	Oyster catcher.	Stone curlew.
Dunlin.	Peewit.	Stonehatch.
Eider duck.	Petrel.	Summer snipe.
Fern-owl.	Phalarope.	Tarrock.
Fulmar.	Plover.	Teal.
Gannet.	Ploverspage.	Tern.
Goatsucker.	Pochard.	Thickknee.
Godwit.	Puffin.	Tystey.
Goldfinch.	Purre.	Whaup.
Grebe.	Razorbill.	Whimbrel.
Greenshank.	Redshank.	Widgeon.
Guillemot.	Reeve or Ruff.	Wild duck.
Gull (except Black-backed gull).	Roller.	Willock.
	Sanderling.	Woodcock.
Hoopoe.	Sandpiper.	Woodpecker.
Kingfisher.	Scout.

The Penalties are:—

In the case of wild birds included in the schedule a fine not exceeding £1 for each bird in respect of which an offence has been committed.

In the case of any other wild bird, for the first offence a reprimand and payment of costs, and for subsequent offences a fine of 5s. for each bird in addition to the payment of costs.

Owners or occupiers of land, or persons authorised by them, can on such land kill or take any wild bird not in the schedule.

Any person can demand the full name and address of any person found offending against the Acts.

A Secretary of State, in the case of England and Wales, the Secretary for Scotland, or the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland can, upon the application of the Local Authorities,

Extend or vary the time during which the killing and taking of wild birds or any of them is prohibited; in any particular county or district.

Prohibit the taking or destroying of wild birds' eggs in any year or years in any place or places, or of the eggs of any specified kind of wild birds.

Local authorities that obtain powers for the variations of the Acts must in every year give public notice of any order which is in force in any place within their districts during the three weeks preceding the commencement of the period of the year during which the order operates; (1) by advertising the order in two local newspapers; (2) by fixing notices of the order in conspicuous spots within or near each place in which the order operates; (3) in any other manner that may be thought expedient to make the order known to the public.

When any person is convicted of an offence against the Acts, the Court may, in addition to any penalty that may be imposed, order any wild bird, or wild bird's egg, or any trap, net, snare, or decoy bird to be forfeited and disposed of as the Court shall think fit.

Every person who, on any pole, tree or cairn of stones or earth, shall affix, place, or set any spring, trap, gun, or other instrument calculated to cause bodily injury to any wild bird coming in contact therewith, and every person who shall knowingly permit or suffer or cause any such trap to be so affixed, placed, or set, shall be guilty of an offence, and shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding £2, and for a second or subsequent offence to a penalty not exceeding £5.

4. CLOSE TIME FOR FRESHWATER FISH.

Under this head "freshwater fish" includes all kinds of fish (other than pollan, trout, and char), which live in fresh water, except those kinds which migrate to or from the open sea.

The close time for freshwater fish is from the 15th day of March to the 15th day of June, both inclusive, for England and Wales (excepting parts of Norfolk and Suffolk, where the close time is from March 1st to June 30th.

Any person who, during the close time, takes, sells, buys, or has in his possession for sale, any freshwater fish, is liable for the first offence to a fine of £2, and for subsequent offences to a fine of £5, with the following exceptions:—

Owners of private fisheries where trout, char, or grayling are specially preserved may destroy within such fisheries any "freshwater fish" other than grayling.

Persons may fish in such fisheries with the leave of the owners.

Persons may take fish for bait or scientific purposes.

5. CLOSE TIME FOR TROUT AND CHAR.

In England and Wales, the general close time for Trout and Char is from October 2nd to February 1st, but there are exceptions. Any private owner can of course, within the legal limit, restrict the fishing in his own water. In parts of Norfolk and Suffolk the close time, for nets only, is from September 10th to January 25th. In the Thames from September 11th to March 31st.

6. CLOSE TIME FOR SALMON.

England and Wales.

The general close time for Salmon in England and Wales is November 2nd to February 1st for rods and September 1st to February 1st for netting. The following are the exceptions:—

	Rods.	Nets.
Adur	Oct. 1 to Feb. 2	Sep. 1 to Feb. 2
Avon and Stour (Hants)	Oct. 2 to Feb. 1	July 31 to Feb. 1
Avon and Erme (Devon)	Nov. 30 to May 1	Sep. 30 to May 1
„ (in Erme)	Nov. 30 to Apr. 4	Sep. 30 to Apr. 4
Axe	Nov. 20 to Apr. 30	Sep. 20 to Apr. 30
Camel	Dec. 1 to Apr. 30	Sep. 21 to Apr. 4
Clwyd and Elwy	Nov. 15 to May 15	Sep. 15 to May 15
Conway	Nov. 15 to Apr. 30	Sep. 15 to Apr. 30
Coquet	Nov. 1 to Jan. 31	Sep. 15 to Mar. 25
Cumberland West	Nov. 14 to Mar. 10	Sep. 15 to Mar. 31
Dart	Oct. 1 to Feb. 28	Aug. 17 to Feb. 28
Dee	Nov. 2 to Mar. 31	Sep. 1 to Mar. 31
Derwent (Cumb.)	Nov. 15 to Mar 10	Sep. 15 to Mar. 10
Dovey	Nov. 1 to Apr. 30	Sep. 14 to Apr. 30
Eden (below Old Sandsfield)	Nov. 16 to Feb. 15	Sep. 10 to Feb. 10
Exe	Oct. 20 to Mar. 1	Sep. 1 to Mar. 1
„ (above Woodbury Rd. Stn.)	Oct. 20 to Mar. 1	Sep. 1 to Apr. 15
Fowey (below Lostwithiel Bridge)	Dec. 1 to Apr. 30	Nov. 1 to Apr. 4
Kent	Nov. 15 to Mar. 31	Sep. 15 to Mar. 31
Ribble	Nov. 2 to Mar. 1	Sep. 1 to Mar. 1
Severn	Oct. 16 to Feb. 1	Aug. 16 to May 1
Stour (Kent)	Nov. 2 to May 1	Sep. 1 to May 1
Taff and Ely	Nov. 15 to Apr. 30	Aug. 31 to Apr. 30
Teign	Nov. 1 to Mar. 2	Sep. 1 to Mar. 2
Usk	Nov. 2 to Mar. 1	Sep. 1 to Mar. 1
Wye	Oct. 16 to Feb.1	Aug. 16 to Feb. 1
„ (above Bigs Weir Bridge)	Oct. 16 to Feb. 1	Aug. 16 to May 1
Yorkshire	Nov. 16 to Feb. 28	—

Ireland.

The close time varies considerably in Ireland. The following gives the general times in different districts for rod fishing:—

Ballina	Sep. 16 to Jan. 31
Ballycastle	Nov. 1 to Jan. 31
Bangor	Oct. 1 to Apr. 30
Bantry	Nov. 1 to Mar. 16
Coleraine	Oct. 1 to Feb. 28
Connemara	Oct. 16 to Jan. 31
Cork	Oct. 13 to Jan. 31
Dublin	Nov. 1 to Jan. 31
Drogheda	Sep. 16 to Feb. 11
Dundalk	Oct. 1 to Jan. 31
Galway	Oct. 16 to Jan. 31
Kenmare	Nov. 1 to Mar. 31
Killarney	Nov. 1 to Mar. 31
Letterkenny	Nov. 2 to Jan. 31
Limerick	Nov 1 to Jan. 31
Lismore	Oct. 1 to Jan. 31
Londonderry	Oct. 11 to Mar. 31
Skibbereen	Nov. 1 to Jan. 31
Sligo	Oct. 1 to Jan. 31
Waterford	Oct. 1 to Jan. 31
Waterville	Oct. 16 to Jan. 31
Wexford	Oct. 1 to Mar. 14

Scotland.

The general close time for Salmon in Scotland is November 1st to February 10th for rods and August 27th to February 10th for nets. The following are the exceptions:—

	Rods.	Nets.
Annan & Stinchar	Nov. 16 to Feb. 24	Sep. 10 to Feb. 24
Beauly, Dunbeath, Lossie, Ness, Spey	Oct. 16 to Feb. 10	Aug. 27 to Feb. 10
Bervie, Carradale, Fleet, Garnock, Girvan, Howmore, Inner, Iorsa, Irvine, Laggan, Luce, Sorn, Ugie, Ythan, All rivers in Harris, Benbecula, N. Uist, Orkney	Nov. 1 to Feb. 24	Sep. 10 to Feb. 24
Earn	Nov. 1 to Jan. 31	—
Forth	Oct. 16 to Jan. 14	—
Hope & Polla	Sep. 11 to Jan. 10	—
Nith	Nov. 15 to Feb. 24	Sep. 10 to Feb. 24
Tay	Oct. 16 to Jan. 14	Aug. 21 to Feb. 4
Thurso	Sep. 15 to Jan. 10	—
Tweed	Dec. 1 to Jan. 31	—

PROFESSIONAL FEES.

ARCHITECTS' FEES.

1. A commission of 5 p.c. on cost of works executed under his direction.
2. But a higher percentage is charged in all works costing less than £1,000, and in those requiring designs for furniture, fittings, &c.
3. When several distinct buildings on the same plan are erected at the same time, the usual commission is charged on one building, and for the rest a modified charge is arranged.
4. When the work under consideration is not carried out: (1) For preliminary sketches and interviews the charge depends on the time and trouble involved. (2) For drawing out the approved design with plans, specifications, &c., 2½ p.c. on the estimated cost.
5. For approving plans submitted by the lessee and for inspecting the buildings during their progress, 1¼ p.c. up to £5,000, and above that by special arrangement.
6. For valuing freehold, copyhold or leasehold property, the charge is: 1 p.c. on £1,000; then ½ p.c. up to £10,000; and ¼ p.c. above £10,000. In valuations for mortgage, if an advance is not made, ⅓ of the above scale, with a minimum fee of 3 guineas.
7. For estimating dilapidations and furnishing or checking a schedule of the same, 5 p.c. on the estimate, with a minimum fee of 2 guineas.
8. The charge per day depends on an architect's professional position, the minimum charge being 3 guineas.
9. For all other services according to arrangement. In all cases travelling and other out-of-pocket expenses are paid by the client.

SURVEYORS' FEES.

1. For surveying an estate and preparing plan—if under 100 acres according to agreement; if over 100 acres, 2s. per acre.
2. For setting out on an estate the position of the proposed roads, taking levels, getting out drawings and tracings, &c.—2s. p.c. on estimated cost.
3. For subsequently preparing specifications and working drawings of roads and sewers, obtaining tenders, supervising the works, checking the accounts, &c.—1 p.c. on cost of work executed.
4. For valuing to fix rent—5 p.c. on first £200, and 2½ p.c. on remainder of one year's rental value.
5. For valuing timber or cropping—5 p.c. on first £100, and 2½ p.c. on the excess.
6. For valuing land—6d. per acre with 5 guineas as minimum fee. If valuing for probate—2 p.c. on first £500, and 1¼ p.c. on the excess.
7. For inspecting and reporting on the sanitary condition of premises the charge is—according to the nature and extent of the services rendered.

See also 5-9 under Architects' Fees.

DISTRICT SURVEYORS' FEES.

Before building operations are begun it is necessary to give notice to the Local Authority and to comply with its bye-laws. Several towns have their own Building Acts and Schedules of fees. In some cases no fees are charged by the Local Authority for supervision, the salaries of the officials being charged on the rates. In the County of London surveyors are appointed to the various Districts, whose duties and fees are settled by Act of Parliament as follows:—

1. ON NEW BUILDINGS: (1) For any building not exceeding 30 square feet in area and 10 feet in height—10s. (2) When not exceeding 400 square feet in area and two storeys in height—£1 10s.; for every additional storey, 5s., and for every additional 100 square feet, 2s. 6d. (3) When not exceeding 400 square feet in area and of one storey only—15s.
2. ON ADDITIONS OR ALTERATIONS: For every addition or alteration made or done to a building after the roof has been covered in, one half of the fee charged on a new building, calculation being made upon the area of the whole building.
3. ON VARIOUS WORKS. The Acts also provide for the payment of fees for various works, such as—supervising the erection of chimney shafts, temporary wooden structures, dangerous structures, formation of means of escape in case of fire, &c. Schedules of these fees will be found in the London Building Act, 1894, and Amendment Acts, 1898 and 1905.

AUCTIONEERS' AND ESTATE AGENTS' FEES.

The following are the usual fees and charges in London:—

1. Sale by Auction of Estates and Houses—a commission of 5 p.c. on the first £100, and 2½ p.c. up to £5,000, and 1½ p.c. on the residue above that sum, and in addition all out-of-pocket expenses.
2. Sale by Private Treaty—commission as per above scale, but no out-of-pocket expenses.
3. Sale of Furniture—5 p.c. on the amount realised and expenses attending the sale.
4. Disposal of Freehold Ground Rents—one year's ground rent.
5. Letting building land—one year's rent, or by arrangement
6. Letting house property, factories, shop property, &c.—when let on agreement for not more than three years, 5 p.c. on the first year's rent; when for a longer term 7½ p.c. And, in addition, 5 p.c. up to £1,000 and 2½ p.c. on the residue upon any premium or consideration. Also, 5 p.c. on the purchase price of any plant, fixtures, fittings, &c., which may be purchased by the tenant or lessee. Where the rent is weekly, one week's rent is charged.
7. Valuation of house property—1 p.c. Valuation of furniture—5 p.c. up to £500, and 2½ p.c. on the residue. If for Probate or Administration purposes—2½ p.c. on the first £100, and 1½ on the residue.
8. Obtaining money on Mortgage—1 p.c. on the advance arranged.
9. Collection of rents: The charges vary according to the circumstances, and a special arrangement is usually made; but the usual scale of commission is 2½ p.c. on quarterly property and ground rents, 5 p.c. on monthly and weekly houses, unless let in tenements, when commission is 7½ p.c.

CHARTERED ACCOUNTANTS' FEES.

The Institute of Chartered Accountants has not prescribed any scale of charges, but the following is the usual scale in London.

1. The fee per day of 7 hours is as follows:—

Principals	£3	3	0	to	£10	10	0
First Class Clerks (Chartered)	£2	2	0
First Class Clerks (not chartered)	£1	11	6
Other Clerks		10	6	to	£1	1	0

These fees do not include out-of-pocket expenses.

2. The fees payable to Public Auditors appointed by the Treasury for auditing the accounts of Friendly Societies:—

When the Society consists of less than 100 members	£1	1	0
When from 100 to 500 members for each 100	£1	1	0
When over 500 in respect of the first 500 ..	£5	5	0

with an additional 10s. 6d. for each 100 (or part) beyond.
The maximum fee in any case 50 guineas.

3. For auditing the accounts of Industrial and Provident Societies:—

When total sales do not exceed £2,000 per annum	£1	1	0
When from £2,000 to £10,000, for each £2,000	£1	1	0
When over £10,000, in respect of the first £10,000	£5	5	0

With 10s. 6d. for each additional £2,000 or fractional part.
The Auditor is free to accept lower terms than the above.

MEDICAL FEES.

1. Family Doctor. His fees vary with the rental of the patient's house. When attended at the doctor's house—from 2s. 6d. (artisans, 1s. 6d.). When visited by the doctor—from 3s. 6d. to 10s. 6d. (artisans 2s. 6d.). When immediate attendance is requested—half as much again. The fee for night-calls is double that by day. When more than one patient is seen in the same house at one visit, half fee for each patient after the first. Visits over two miles from the doctor's house—2s. 6d. a mile extra. Detention at the patient's house per half-hour after the first half-hour—from 2s. 6d. to 10s. 6d. For medicine supplied by the doctor the usual charge is 2s. 6d. a bottle. Certificates of inability to work, etc.—from 2s. 6d. upwards. Certificates for Life Insurance or Lunacy—from one guinea. Vaccination—from 5s. upwards. Setting a broken bone and similar minor surgery—from two guineas. Midwifery, including 14 days' attendance—from one to ten guineas, two or three guineas being the common fee. First confinements—half as much again as other confinements. Consultations between the family doctor and another family doctor called in—For the former double the fee for an ordinary visit; for the latter one one guinea upwards. Administration of an Anæsthetic—one guinea upwards.

2. Consultant. His fees are due at the time of consultation. At the Consultant's own house—from two to five guineas for a first visit; half fees for subsequent visits. At the Patient's house—an additional charge according to distance. Serious surgical operations—from ten to a hundred guineas.

SOLICITORS' FEES.

The charges which Solicitors are entitled to make are now prescribed and fixed by various Rules of Court, and their bills of costs are all liable to taxation, at the instance of any party chargeable therewith. No reliable statement can be made as to what costs are payable in respect of contentious matters in the various Courts, as they depend on the nature of the proceedings taken, the issues involved, and the fees paid to Counsel and witnesses, but all costs directed to be paid by one party to another are taxed by the Taxing Master.

The fees payable in respect of conveyancing matters have been fixed as follows:—

1. The Solicitor for a Vendor or Purchaser, or for a Mortgagor or Mortgagee, when the Consideration money does not exceed £1,000 is entitled to 1½ p.c.; when it exceeds £1,000 but not £3,000, to a further fee of 1 p.c. on the amount above £1,000.
2. If the Solicitor himself negotiates the sale, purchase, or mortgage loan he is entitled to an additional fee of 1 p.c. up to £3,000 of the consideration money.
3. A Lessor's Solicitor for preparing and completing a lease and counterpart, at a rack rent, is entitled to charge—When the rental does not exceed £100 a fee of 7½ p.c. When the rental exceeds £100 but not £500, then a further fee of 2½ p.c. on the amount above £100.

The minimum charge in any case is £5.

4. A Lessee's Solicitor for perusing lease and completing the same is entitled to one-half of the amount payable to the Lessor's Solicitor.

N.B.—The above fees are exclusive of stamp duties and all out-of-pocket expenses. In certain districts, Solicitors who are members of a Local Law Society, or who represent certain trades or societies, accept fees on a lower scale than those given above. It may also be mentioned that Solicitors generally are prepared to give an estimate of the probable cost of any particular transaction.

HINTS TO AUTHORS.

The following hints are more particularly in reference to preparing copy for the printers, correcting proofs, etc., and much of this affects the important question of "Author's Corrections." There is no more fruitful source of annoyance and dispute than these "Author's Corrections." The charge for them is invariably considered unsatisfactory. On the one hand, authors make many more corrections than they think they do; and on the other hand unfair charges are very often made by unscrupulous printers. It is most advisable to engage the services of a thoroughly respectable printer, even if his charges are a trifle higher than those of a less dependable firm.

The manuscript should be prepared as nearly as possible as it is intended finally to appear in print. From the printers' point of view, authors do not, as a rule, take sufficient pains in preparing the manuscript for the press, but leave a great deal to be altered when the matter is in type. This, of course, means charges for "Author's Corrections." Authors feel it is so much easier to make corrections in a printed proof than in the manuscript. This is so; but it must be remembered that such corrections have to be paid for.

The observation of the following rules will not only materially assist the printer, but will do much to obviate the objectionable charges referred to above.

PRINTERS' TECHNICAL TERMS.

Broadside.—A sheet of paper not folded, but printed as one page the whole size of the sheet.

Composing.—Setting up the type ready for printing. The mechanic who does this is called a Compositor.

Distributing.—Breaking up the type after the printing is done and returning each type to its proper box. This takes about half as long to do as the composing.

Folio.—The number of a page. The size of a sheet of paper folded once, making two leaves or four pages.

Forme.—When the make-up is complete, a number of pages (generally sixteen or some multiple of sixteen) are brought together and locked up into one complete, rigid piece, ready to place on the machine. This is known as a Forme, and from this the actual printing is done.

Fount.—A batch of type of the same size with the proper proportions of the different letters, etc. (i.e. so many a's, so many b's, etc.).

Headline.—The top line of a page, usually containing the title of the book or chapter, and the folio.

Imposing.—Arranging the pages on the machine so that when printed and the sheet is folded the pages will come in proper sequence.

Imprint.—The name of the printer or publisher, or both, at the end of the publication and on the title page.

Inset.—Pages that are sometimes printed as alterations or additions, after a publication has been printed, and inserted during the binding operations.

Make-up.—When the whole of the matter for a publication has been set up into type, it has to be arranged into pages. This is called the make-up, and is done by the author and sent to the printer.

Octavo (8vo).—Denotes a sheet of paper folded three times, making eight leaves or sixteen pages.

Proof.—When the author's copy has been set up into type, a proof is printed from the type and sent to the author. This proof is corrected by the author and returned to the printer, who makes the corrections and sends a revised proof to the author. If necessary, this process is gone through again (there may be second and third revised proofs), but when the author is finally satisfied with the proof he marks it press, and this is the press proof from which the publication is printed from.

Quarto (4to).—Denotes a sheet of paper folded twice, making four leaves or eight pages.

Register.—The printer has to put the type for the different pages on the machine in the exact position that they should print on the sheet, and in such a way that the pages on the opposite sides of the sheet should exactly back one another. This is called the Register.

Set off.—Sheets that are just printed sometimes come in contact with other sheets, and the wet ink makes an impression on these other sheets. This is called a set off.

Signature.—A sign (usually a letter or figure) on the first page of each sheet to show the binder the sequence of the sheets.

Stet.—If any part of a manuscript or proof is struck out by mistake, the word stet placed against it shows that the part struck out should stand.

PREPARATION OF MSS.

The printer's charges for Author's corrections are frequently the cause of great annoyance and dispute, but if the following rules are carried out in preparing the MSS., a considerable amount, if not all, of this annoyance may be prevented.

Use Large Post Quarto or Foolscap Quarto, as this is the most convenient size of paper for the printer to work from.

Have the paper ruled with lines wide apart to allow of alterations being made distinctly; or a good plan is to have the lines rather close together, and write on every other line.

Have a wide margin on left hand side for instructions to printer, etc.

When making alterations, strike out the part to be altered and re-write above it. If a long piece is to be altered, it is well to strike out the old part and say, "See (A)," and re-write on a separate sheet, marking the new part "To go at (A), sheet...."

Number the sheets as you go along.

Write on one side of the paper only.

Do not crowd a number of lines at foot of a sheet after the last ruled line. Start a fresh sheet if only for two or three lines.

Write as plainly as possible, giving special attention to proper names, foreign words, etc., and all words that the compositor may easily mistake.

Typewritten copy is the most easily read.

Give full instructions to the printer as to type to be used, and the marks you use for his guidance (e.g. set in minion, words underlined to be in italics, those doubly underlined in clarendon). This should be put on the first sheet of every portion of copy sent. It is best to write all instructions in red ink.

Put extracts quoted from other works in the next size smaller type.

Remember that the compositor will follow your punctuation, use of capitals, spelling (of words that are spelt in two different ways, as almanack, etc.), unless you instruct him otherwise.

Fasten the sheets together, being careful that they are all there and in order.

Mark distinctly on the MS., or "copy," what it is for and by whom sent. Also give instructions where the proofs are to be sent when ready.

SIZES OF TYPE.

The size of a type is the depth of the type and gives the number of lines that can be got on a page. Each size, however, is made with what is known as a different "face," i.e. the letters are of different widths and therefore one style of any size of type will give more words to a line than another style of the same size.

The examples given in the opposite column are all of the same "face."

The name of a type is its size, and each size has at least three different styles; these are "Roman," "Clarendon," and "Italics," and each of these three has its Large Capitals and Small Capitals. The "Roman" is the ordinary type, the others being used to emphasize any words or sentences.

Excepting the last four, the examples given in the opposite column are "Roman," the first letter "T" being a Large Capital. The last three examples show the Roman Small Capitals, Clarendon, and Italics of minion type.

There are various styles for headings and titles, but it is better to arrange these with the printer from what he has in stock or can obtain.

The Typewriting Type is an imitation of typewriting copy and is used for Circular Letters, &c.

Printers measure the length of a line by the number of ems that the line will take. Although the types vary in width it may be taken that

4⅓	ems of	Great Primer	= 1 inch.
5½	„	English	= „
6	„	Pica	= „
7	„	Small Pica..	= „
8⅔	„	Long Primer	= „
9½	„	Brevier	= „
12	„	Nonpareil	= „
17⅓	„	Diamond	= „

It can also be reckoned that

One line of	Double Pica ..	= 2 lines of	Small Pica.
„	Great Primer ..	= „	Bourgeois.
„	English	= „	Minion.
„	Pica	= „	Nonpareil.
„	Long Primer ..	= „	Pearl.
„	Bourgeois	= „	Diamond.

The types used in this work are Minion, Nonpareil and Pearl. There are 76 lines of Minion to the column, 90 of Nonpareil and 111 of Pearl.

Besides the ordinary or "Roman" minion (the type principally used in this book), we give examples of the Small Capitals, Clarendon and Italics.

DIAMOND.

The size of a type gives the number of lines that can be got on a page.

PEARL.

The size of a type gives the number of lines that can be got on a page.

NONPAREIL.

The size of a type gives the number of lines that can be got on a page.

MINION.

The size of a type gives the number of lines that can be got on a page.

BREVIER.

The size of a type gives the number of lines that can be got on a page.

BOURGEOIS.

The size of a type gives the number of lines that can be got on a page.

LONG PRIMER.

The size of a type gives the number of lines that can be got on a page.

SMALL PICA.

The size of a type gives the number of lines that can be got on a page.

PICA.

The size of a type gives the number of lines that can be got on a page.

ENGLISH.

The size of a type gives the number of lines that can be got on

GREAT PRIMER.

The size of a type gives the number of lines that ca

DOUBLE PICA.

The size of a type gives the number of

TYPEWRITING TYPE.

The size of a type gives the number of lines that can be

MINION SMALL CAPS.

THE SIZE OF A TYPE GIVES THE NUMBER OF LINES THAT CAN BE GOT ON A PAGE.

MINION CLARENDON.

The size of a type gives the number of lines that can be got on a page.

MINION ITALICS.

The size of a type gives the number of lines that can be got on a page.

HOW TO MARK A PROOF FOR CORRECTION.

1. OATMEAL is to ~~to~~ many people indigestible, very though nourishing
2. if it can be digested
3. OATMEAL water is made by placing a hanpful of oatmeal in a
4. muslin bag and allowing it to soak in a gallon of water and then boiling
5. for twenty minutes. The upper portion is then poured off gently.
6. OBESITY, literally "on account of eating"—is the term used to denote
7. an undue accumulation of fat in the body. the causes of obesity vary;
8. heredity is responsible in some cases, but unsuitable
9. diet in most cases. The anæmic shop-girl ~~or draper's assistant~~, whose
10. mid-day meal is tea and buns instead of meat, is often fat. Many
11. other examples will occur to the reader. OPHTHALMIA
12. flammation of the inner surface of the eyelids. (See Eye.)
13. OPIUM is the dried ~~juice~~ of the white poppy. It contains resin, and other bodies.

THE ABOVE PROOF AFTER CORRECTION.

OATMEAL is to many people indigestible, though very nourishing if it can be digested.

OATMEAL WATER is made by placing a handful of oatmeal in a muslin bag and allowing it to soak in a gallon of water for an hour and then boiling for twenty minutes. The upper portion is then poured off gently.

OBESITY, literally "on account of eating"—is the term used to denote an undue accumulation of fat in the body. The causes of obesity vary; heredity is responsible in some cases, but unsuitable diet in most cases. The anæmic shop-girl, whose mid-day meal is tea and buns instead of meat, is often fat. Many other examples will occur to the reader.

OPHTHALMIA. Inflammation of the inner surface of the eyelids. (See Eye.)

OPIUM is the dried juice of the white poppy. It contains morphine, codeine, resin, and other bodies.

EXPLANATIONS OF THE CORRECTIONS.

Corrections In Copy.	In Margin.	Explanation.	See Lines
—	⊖	Delete or omit the words or letters, &c., struck out	1, 8, 9, 10
═	Small Caps	Put words underlined in small capital letters	3
/	#	Divide the words	4, 7
⋏	eq	Equalize the spaces shown	5
^	^	Insert the words or letters, &c., shown in the margin	4, 6, 12
⋏	″/	Insert inverted-commas or asterisk, &c., where shown	6
/	x	Take out bad letter and replace with good one	7
/	=	Put straight	8
/	=	Correct word or letter, &c., as shown in margin	6, 9
○	○	The full-stop is shown in a circle	11
⊂	⊂	Close up	10
⊂	wf	Wrong fount, i.e. a wrong-sized type is used and must be altered	10
⊏	⊏	Bring the word or letter, &c., to where shown	11
⌐	tr	Transpose	1
=	ↄ	Reverse letter	3
/	e.c.	Lower case, i.e., use small letters, not capitals	5
—	?Space	See if there is too much (or too little) space between these lines	5, 6, 10, 11
—	cap	Letter underlined should be a capital	7
≡	Clar	Put words underlined in clarendon type	7
≡	run on	Continue in the same line	8, 9
//	N.P.	This word should start a new paragraph	11
—	Italics	Put words underlined in italics	12
.....	stet	Do not omit the parts struck out	13
		When the ends of the lines are uneven, draw lines as shown on right hand margin.
		If there is not room opposite the line, in the margin, a correction can be put anywhere, but a line must be drawn from the error to the correction	13

SIGNS AND SYMBOLS.

Roman Numerals.

There can be little doubt that in the earliest times the fingers were used for expressing numbers, and hence arose the custom of using 5 and 10 and their multiples as convenient groups.

Thus the Romans used V. for 5; X. for 10; C. for 100; and M. for 1,000. The thousand is also expressed by a line over a numeral (thus $\overline{X}.=10{,}000$), and CIↃ. It is not clearly known why capital letters were used as the numerals; C. is the initial of centum and M. of mille, but earlier forms are known. These were a circle divided vertically—Ⅾ—for 1,000 and horizontally or in quadrants —⊖—⊕—for 100. The sign for $1{,}000=$Ⅾ is really the same as CIↃ which, no doubt, easily became M. The half of this sign gives D (500). L (50), in its older form ⊥ suggests that it is the half of the symbol for 100—⊕.

When a sign is followed by others of equal or less value, the number expressed is the sum of those numerals (xvi.= 16); and when a sign is preceded by another of less value, the number expressed is the difference between the values of the numerals (XL=40). The following table gives a number of examples.

I. . . 1	XVI. . . . 16	C. 100
II. . 2	XVII. . . 17	CXC. 190
III. . 3	XVIII. . . 18	CXI. 111
IV. . 4	XIX. . . . 19	CC. 200
V. . 5	XX. . . . 20	CCXXII. 222
VI. . 6	XXX. . . 30	CCCLXXXVI. . . 386
VII. . 7	XL. . . . 40	CD. 400
VIII. . 8	L. 50	D. 500
IX. . 9	LV. . . . 55	DC. 600
X. 10	LX. . . . 60	DCCC. 800
XI. 11	LXX. . . 70	DCCCLXXXVIII. . 888
XII. 12	LXXX. . . 80	CM. 900
XIII. 13	LXXXVIII. 88	CMXCIX. 999
XIV. 14	XC. . . . 90	M. 1000
XV. 15	XCIX. . . 99	MDCCCLXXXVIII. 1888

Signs of the Zodiac.

♈	Aries, the Ram.	♏	Scorpio, the Scorpion.
♉	Taurus, the Bull.	♐	Sagittarius, the Archer.
♊	Gemini, the Twins.	♑	Capricornus, the Goat.
♋	Cancer, the Crab.	♒	Aquarius, the Water-bearer.
♌	Leo, the Lion.	♓	Pisces, the Fishes.
♍	Virgo, the Virgin.
♎	Libra, the Balance.

Solar System.

☿	Mercury.	☄	Comet.
♀	Venus.	✶	Star.
⊕	The Earth.	●	The Moon (New).
♂	Mars.	☽	The Moon (First Quarter).
♃	Jupiter.	○	The Moon (Full).
♄	Saturn.	☾	The Moon (Last Quarter).
♅	Uranus.
♆	Neptune.
☉	The Sun.

Chemical Elements.

A	Argon.	Ce	Cerium.
Ag	Silver (Argentum).	Cl	Chlorine.
Al	Aluminium.	Co	Cobalt.
As	Arsenic.	Cr	Chromium.
Au	Gold (Aurum).	Cs	Cæsium.
B	Boron.	Cu	Copper (Cuprum).
Ba	Barium.	Di	Didymium.
Be	Beryllium.	Er	Erbium.
Bi	Bismuth.	Fe	Iron (Ferrum).
Br	Bromine.	F	Fluorine.
C	Carbon.	Ga	Gallium.
Ca	Calcium.	Gd	Gadolinium.
Cb	Columbium.	Ge	Germanium.
Cd	Cadmium.	Gl	Glucinum.

Chemical Elements (continued).

H	Hydrogen.	Ra	Radium.
He	Helium.	Rb	Rubidium.
Hg	Mercury (Hydrargyrum).	Rh	Rhodium.
		Ru	Ruthenium.
I	Iodine.	S	Sulphur.
In	Indium.	Sb	Antimony (Stibium).
Ir	Iridium.	Sc	Scandium.
K	Potassium (Kalium).	Se	Selenium.
Kr	Krypton.	Si	Silicon.
La	Lanthanum.	Sm	Samarium.
Li	Lithium.	Sn	Tin (Stannum).
Mg	Magnesium.	Sr	Strontium.
Mn	Manganese.	Ta	Tantalum.
Mo	Molybdenum.	Tb	Terbium.
N	Nitrogen.	Te	Tellurium.
Na	Sodium (Natrium).	Th	Thorium.
Nb	Niobium.	Ti	Titanium.
Nd	Neodynium.	Tl	Thallium.
Ne	Neon.	Tm	Thulium.
Ni	Nickel.	U	Uranium.
O	Oxygen.	V	Vanadium.
Os	Osmium.	W	Tungsten (Wolfram).
P	Phosphorus.	Xe	Xenon.
Pb	Lead (Plumbum).	Yb	Ytterbium.
Pd	Palladium.	Yt	Yttrium.
Pr	Prascodymium.	Zn	Zinc.
Pt	Platinum.	Zr	Zirconium.

Mathematical, Commercial, &c.

+ . .	Plus, the sign of addition.
— . .	Minus, the sign of subtraction.
× . .	The sign of multiplication.
÷ . .	The sign of division.
: . . Is to :: . . As : . . Is to	The signs of proportion. Thus 3 : 6 : : 4 : 8.
∵ . .	Because.
∴ . .	Therefore.
= . .	Equals, the sign of equality.
> . .	Greater than.
< . .	Less than.
√ . .	Square Root.
∛ . .	Cube Root. ⁴√ Fourth Root. ⁵√ Fifth Root, etc.
( ) [ ] { }	Indicate that the figures enclosed are to be taken together. Thus $10\times(7+4)$; $8-[9\div3]$; $30\times\{{}^{7+3}_{4-2}\}$.
° ′ ″ . .	Degrees, minutes, seconds. Thus 25° 15′ 10″ represents 25 degrees, 15 minutes, 10 seconds.
′ ″ .	Feet, inches. Thus 9′ 10″=9 feet 10 inches.
∞ . .	Infinity.
⊥ . .	Perpendicular to.
∥ . .	Parallel to.
◯ . .	Circle.
∠ . .	Angle.
⌐ . .	Right-angle.
□ . .	Square.
▭ . .	Rectangle.
△ . .	Triangle.
0 . .	The cipher, zero.
£ . .	Pounds sterling.
$ . .	Dollars.
% . .	Per cent.
c/o .	Care of.
d/a .	Days after acceptance.
d/s .	Days after sight.
a/c .	Account.
@ . .	At.

℈ Scruple. ʒ Drachm. ℥ Ounce.	Apothecaries' weight.

OLD CHINA.

SECTION I.

Porcelain was made in China from very early times; in 1171, forty pieces were sent by Saladin to the Sultan of Damascus. In the 16th century it was imported by European merchants, first by the Portuguese, later by the Dutch and English. In 1695 St. Cloud succeeded in its manufacture of a glassy porcelain, but Böttger of Dresden in 1709 made the discovery of true porcelain. Meissen, in Saxony, secured the secret of its manufacture, but failed to keep it, and factories arose at Vienna, Höchst, Fürstenberg, Berlin, Frankenthal, and other places. In England, Dwight of Fulham, 1745, claimed to have discovered the mystery of transparent earthenware, and about 1750 there were in existence a number of factories, the earliest approximate dates being Bow 1730, Chelsea 1745, Derby and Worcester 1751, Plymouth 1768, Bristol 1770.

Porcelain is divided into two classes, according to its composition.

The whole of the marks given in the list down to the Bristol marks (Section 2, Line 1, mark d) are found on true or hard porcelain which is made of china stone and china clay and its glaze is of china stone. The body and glaze are fired at one time, so the glaze is hard, thin and lies close to the paste. When tried with a knife it will turn the edge and even a file makes but little impression. The colours on hard paste are clear, dry and well-defined and when fractured it is like a broken shell.

The other marks from Bow (Section 2, Line 1, mark e) to the end are found on artificial or soft paste porcelain which is composed largely of glass or fritted china with a little white clay and its glaze is a fusible glass which was fired at a later operation and at a lower temperature, so that it lies more thickly on the paste and often shows cracks. The paste is so soft that it can be easily scratched. The colours on soft paste sink into the body and the edges of the colours are not clear, but look as if the colour ran. Hence gilding is often used to hide the colour outline. When broken it is granular, like chalk, but harder.

The collector must use his judgment on the paste, the glaze, the decoration, and the marks. He must discount idle tales, and, when buying important or costly pieces, should obtain a written guarantee from the seller.

KEY TO MARKS.

TRUE OR HARD PASTE.

Section 1. CHINA.

Line 1.—Seal characters. a. 1723; b. 1796; c. 1821; d. 1851.

Line 2.—Symbols. a. leaf; b. fungus; c. peach and bat; d. two fishes; e. lozenge.

Line 3.—Date marks. a. 1721; b. 1796; c. 1862; d. the Pakwa.

JAPAN.

Line 4.—a. prosperity; b. gold; c. felicity; d. happiness; e. the swastika.

GERMANY.

Line 5.—a. Meissen (Böttcher), Dresden; b. Augustus Rex; c, d, e. Dresden (with star Marcolini); f. Dresden 1730.

Line 6.—a. Dresden without defect; b. with defects; c. Fürstenburg; d. Hochst; e. Höchst; f. Hesse-Darmstadt; g. Fulda; h. Gotha.

Line 7.—a. Rudolstadt 1758; b. Ludwigsburg 1758; c. Ludwigsburg; d. Hildesheim 1760; e. Nymphenburg 1758; f. Frankenthal.

Line 8.—a. Frankenthal—Carl Theodore period; b. Anspach 1718; c, d, e. Berlin 1750.

Line 13.—a, b. The old Strasburg marks.

AUSTRIA.

Line 8.—f. Schlakenwald.

Line 9.—a. Vienna 1718.

HOLLAND.

ıe 9.—b. Weesp 1756; c, d. Amsterdam; e. the Hague.

BELGIUM.

ıe 10.—a, b, c. Brussels 1780; d, e, f, g. Luxemburg.

SWITZERLAND.

ıe 11.—a. Zurich 1760; b. Nyon.

DENMARK.

ıe 11.—c, d. Copenhagen 1772.

PORTUGAL.

ıe 11.—e. Vista Allegre.

ITALY.

ıe 11.—f. Vineuf.

RUSSIA.

ıe 12.—a, b, c, d. St. Petersburg; e. Moscow, so called; f, g. Moscow (A. Popoff).

FRANCE.

ıe 13.—c. Brancas Lauraguais; d. Orleans 1764; e. Marseilles; f, g. Niederville (Count Custine).
ıe 14.—a. Bordeaux; b, c, d, e. Sèvres (c. soft paste too).
ıe 15.—a. Limoges 1773; b. Clignancourt; c. Rue Thiroux, Paris; d. Rue de Bondy, Paris (Angoulême); e. Lille 1784; f. Belleville (J. Petit).

tion II. ENGLAND.

ıe 1.—a. Plymouth 1768; b, c, d. Bristol 1770.

ARTIFICIAL OR SOFT PASTE.

ENGLAND AND WALES.

ıe 1.—e, f. Bow 1730.
ıe 2.—Chelsea marks from 1745.
ıe 3—a, b. Chelsea—Derby 1769; c, d, e. Crown Derby (e. 1797); f. g. Derby.
ıe 4.—Worcester 1751. a. three early marks; b. square mark; d. Richard Holdship transfer-printer; c, e, f, g. imitated from Dresden, Oriental, Sèvres, Chantilly.
ıe 5.—Worcester, the Flight and Barr marks.
ıe 6.—a. Chamberlain's Worcester; b. Caughley 1772; c. Salopian; d. Caughley, imitated from Dresden.
ıe 7.—Caughley. a. decorated number; b. on early printed ware; c. Rose's mark; d. Coalport; e. Colebrook Dale 1772.
ıe 8.—a. Colebrook Dale; b. Monogram—Swansea, Caughley, Nantgarw 1820; c. Newhall 1777; d, e, f. Pinxton 1793.
ıe 9.—a, b, c. Minton 1791; d. Spode 1800; e, f. Copeland 1833.
ıe 10.—a. Swansea 1780; b. Swansea; c. Nantgarw 1813; d. Liverpool.
ıe 11.—a. Wedgwood; b. Longton (Meyer and Newbold); c. Leeds; d. Lane End (Turner). (These four made earthenware).

FRANCE.

ıe 12.—a. Paris (Poterat); b. St. Cloud 1702; c. St. Cloud (Trou); d. Lille; e. Chantilly 1803; f. Mennecy—Villeroy 1735.
ıe 13.—a, b. Vincennes 1740; c. Sèvres 1756; d, e. Sceaux; f. Orleans.
ıe 14.—a, b. Arras; c, d, e. Tournay.

SWEDEN.

ıe 14.—Marieberg.

ITALY.

ıe 15.—a, b. Doccia; c. Le Nove; d, e. Venice.
ıe 16.—a. Venice; b, c, d. Capo di Monte; e, f. Capo di Monte, Naples.

SPAIN.

ıe 17.—a, b, c, d, e. Buen Retiro, Madrid which also used 16c.

SECTION II.

MOTOR CARS AND MOTOR CYCLES.

A Motor Car or Cycle must not be driven on a public highway at a speed exceeding twenty miles per hour.

No person must drive a Motor who is not licensed to do so; and no one may be licensed to drive a motor car under 17 years of age, or a motor cycle under 14.

In case of an accident, the Motorist is bound to stop, and give his name and address if required.

A Car can be registered under any Authority, but a Driver's Licence must be taken in the district in which the driver resides. Lamps must be alight from one hour after sunset until one hour before sunrise.

Each Car must exhibit the distinguishing letters of the Authority registered under and the number allotted to the Car by the Authority on both the front and rear of the car.

The Registration Letters are:—

A.	London.	C.J.	Herefordshire.	E.X.	Great Yarmouth.	L.I.	Westmeath.
A.A.	Hampshire.	C.K.	Preston.	E.Y.	Anglesey.	L.N.	London.
A.B.	Worcestershire.	C.L.	Norwich.	F.	Essex.	L.S.	Selkirkshire.
A.C.	Warwickshire.	C.M.	Birkenhead.	F.A.	Burton-upon-Trent.	M.	Cheshire.
A.D.	Gloucestershire.	C.N.	Gateshead.	F.B.	Bath.	M.I.	Co. Wexford.
A.E.	Bristol.	C.O.	Plymouth.	F.C.	Oxford.	M.S.	Stirlingshire.
A.F.	Cornwall.	C.P.	Halifax.	F.D.	Dudley.	N.	Manchester.
A.H.	Norfolk.	C.R.	Southampton.	F.E.	Lincoln.	N.H.	Northampton.
A.I.	Meath.	C.T.	Lincolnshire (Kesteven).	F.F.	Merionethshire.	N.I.	Co. Wicklow.
A.J.	Yorkshire (N. Riding)			F.H.	Gloucester.	N.S.	Sutherland.
A.K.	Bradford.	C.U.	South Shields.	F.I.	Tipperary (N.Riding)	O	Birmingham.
A.L.	Nottinghamshire.	C.W.	Burnley.	F.J.	Exeter.	O.I.	Belfast.
A.M.	Wiltshire.	C.X.	Huddersfield.	F.K.	Worcester.	O.S.	Wigtownshire.
A.N.	West Ham.	C.Y.	Swansea.	F.L.	Soke of Peterboro'.	P.	Surrey.
A.O.	Cumberland.	D.	Kent.	F.M.	Chester.	P.I.	Cork.
A.P.	East Sussex.	D.A.	Wolverhampton.	F.N.	Canterbury.	P.S.	Shetland.
A.R.	Hertfordshire.	D.B.	Stockport.	F.O.	Radnorshire.	R.	Derbyshire.
A.S.	Nairnshire.	D.C.	Middlesborough.	F.P.	Rutland.	R.I.	Dublin.
A.T.	Kingston-upon-Hull.	D.E.	Pembrokeshire.	F.R.	Blackpool.	R.S.	Aberdeen.
A.U.	Nottingham.	D.H.	Walsall.	F.T.	Tynemouth.	S.	Edinburgh.
A.W.	Shropshire.	D.I.	Co. Roscommon.	F.X.	Dorsetshire.	S.A.	Aberdeenshire.
A.X.	Monmouthshire.	D.J.	St. Helens.	F.Y.	Southport.	S.B.	Argyllshire.
A.Y.	Leicestershire.	D.K.	Rochdale.	G.	Glasgow.	S.D.	Ayrshire.
B.	Lancashire.	D.L.	Isle of Wight.	H.	Middlesex.	S.E.	Banffshire.
B.A.	Salford.	D.M.	Flintshire.	H.I.	Tipperary (S.Riding)	S.H.	Berwickshire.
B.B.	Newcastle-on-Tyne.	D.N.	York.	H.S.	Renfrewshire.	S.J.	Bute.
B.C.	Leicester.	D.O	Lincolnshire (Holland).	I.A.	Co. Antrim.	S.K.	Caithness.
B.D.	Northamptonshire.			I.B.	Co. Armagh.	S.L.	Clackmannanshire.
B.E.	Lincolnshire (Lindsey).	D.P.	Reading.	I.C.	Co. Carlow.	S.M.	Dumfriesshire.
		D.R.	Devonport.	I.D.	Co. Cavan.	S.N.	Dumbartonshire.
B.H.	Buckinghamshire.	D.S.	Peebles.	I.E.	Co. Clare.	S.O.	Elginshire.
B.I.	Co. Monaghan.	D.U.	Coventry.	I.F.	Co. Cork.	S.P.	Fifeshire.
B.J.	East Suffolk.	D.W.	Newport (Mon.).	I.H.	Co. Donegal.	S.R.	Forfarshire.
B.K.	Portsmouth.	D.X.	Ipswich.	I.J.	Co. Down.	S.S.	Haddingtonshire.
B.L.	Berkshire.	D.Y.	Hastings.	I.K.	Co. Dublin.	S.T.	Invernessshire.
B.M.	Bedfordshire.	E.	Staffordshire.	I.L.	Fermanagh.	S.U.	Kincardine.
B.N.	Bolton.	E.A.	West Bromwich.	I.M.	Co. Galway.	S.V.	Kinrossshire.
B.O.	Cardiff.	E.B.	Isle of Ely.	I.N.	Kerry.	S.W.	Kircudbrightshire.
B.P.	West Sussex.	E.C.	Westmoreland.	I.O.	Co. Kildare.	S.X.	Linlithgowshire.
B.R.	Sunderland.	E.D.	Warrington.	I.P.	Co. Kilkenny.	S.Y.	Midlothian.
B.S.	Orkney.	E.E.	Grimsby.	I.R.	King's Co.	T.	Devonshire.
B.T.	Yorkshire (E.Riding)	E.F.	West Hartlepool.	I.T.	Co. Leitrim.	T.I.	Limerick.
B.U.	Oldham.	E.H.	Hanley.	I.U.	Co. Limerick.	T.S.	Dundee.
B.W	Oxfordshire.	E.I.	Co. Sligo.	I.W.	Co. Londonderry.	U.	Leeds.
B.X.	Carmarthenshire.	E.J.	Cardiganshire.	I.X.	Co. Longford.	U.I.	Londonderry.
B.Y.	Croydon.	E.K.	Wigan.	I.Y.	Co. Louth.	U.S.	Govan.
C.	Yorkshire(W.Riding)	E.L.	Bournemouth.	I.Z.	Mayo.	V.	Lanarkshire.
C.A.	Denbighshire.	E.M.	Bootle.	J	Durham.	V.S.	Greenock.
C.B.	Blackburn.	E.N.	Bury.	J.I.	Tyrone.	W.	Sheffield.
C.C.	Carnarvonshire.	E.O.	Barrow-in-Furness.	J.S.	Ross and Cromarty.	W.I.	Waterford.
C.D.	Brighton.	E.P.	Montgomeryshire.	K.	Liverpool.	W.S.	Leith.
C.E.	Cambridgeshire.	E.S.	Perthshire.	K.I.	Co. Waterford.	X.	Northumberland.
C.F.	West Suffolk.	E.T.	Rotherham.	K.S.	Roxburgh.	X.S.	Paisley.
C.H.	Derby.	E.U.	Brecknockshire.	L.	Glamorganshire.	Y.	Somersetshire.
C.I.	Queen's County.	E.W.	Huntingdonshire.	L.C.	London.	Y.S.	Patrick.

SPEED LIMITS. In no case must the speed on a highway exceed 20 miles an hour, and in certain specified places 10 miles an hour. The penalty for a first offence is a fine not exceeding £20, and for a subsequent offence a fine not exceeding £50. Similarly, any person driving a car to the public danger, but in the latter case imprisonment not exceeding three months may be inflicted instead of a fine after the first offence.

MOTOR SIGN POSTS. (1) A white circle—speed limit given on plate below. (2) A red circle means road closed to motorists. (3) A red triangle means caution. (4) A diamond-shaped board for any other notice.

REGISTRATION FEES. For registration of a car £1; for registering a change of ownership 5s. For registration of a motor cycle 5s.; for registering a change of ownership 1s. For licence to drive a motor car 5s. (For Excise Duties see p. 555).

AN ENGLISH DICTIONARY.

[This Dictionary contains a selection of words in Current Literature, of whose meaning or spelling the ordinary reader may be in doubt, as well as Scientific and Technical Terms in common use. To make the most of our space we have, as a rule, given only one form of each word and only the meaning which it most commonly bears. Words which present no difficulty either in meaning or spelling have been omitted. It is obvious that an Abridged Dictionary cannot supersede altogether the use of a complete one, but it is hoped that by the careful selection of the 14,000 words here given it may meet all ordinary requirements.]

Abaft, on or towards the stern of a ship.
Abandon, to desert, forsake; recklessness.
A bas, down, down with.
Abash, to put to shame.
Abate, to lessen.
Abattoir, a public slaughter-house.
Abbot m., Abbess f., the head of an abbey.
Abbacy, the dignity and office of an abbot.
Abbreviate, to shorten.
Abdicate, to withdraw from, vacate.
Abdo'men, see Med. Dict.
Abduct, to draw away by force or otherwise.
Abeam, crosswise of a ship.
Aberration, wandering from the true course, mental distraction.
Abet, to side with, aid.
Abettor, one who abets.
Abeyance, state of waiting or suspension.
Abhorrence, extreme aversion and disgust.
Abib, first month of Jewish ecclesiastical year.
Ab initio, from the beginning.
Abiogenesis, life from matter that is supposed to be wholly void of life.
Ab'ject, mean, low, grovelling.
Abjure, solemnly to renounce or retract.
Ablution, purification, religious cleansing.
Abnegate, to disavow, repudiate.
Abnormal, not according to rule.
Abolish, to destroy, annul.
Abominate, to loathe, hate strongly.
Aborigines, original inhabitants.
Abortion, see "Miscarriage," Med. Dict.
Ab ovo, "from the egg," from the very beginning.
Abrasion, a wearing off by rubbing.
Abridge, to shorten, make a summary of.
Abridgment, the act of abridging.
Abrogate, to repeal, annul.
Abrupt', short and sudden, unceremonious.
Abscess, a collection of pus or matter.
Abscind, to cut off.
Abscission, a cutting off.
Abscond, to decamp, make off.
Absence, not being present.
Absentee'ism, the practice of absenting one's self from one's post, estate or land.
Absinthe, an unwholesome French drink.
Absolute, without limitation.
Absolution, the act of absolving.
Absolve, remit sin, release from some obligation.
Absorbent, capable of sucking up.
Absorption, a sucking up, preoccupation.
Abstemious, sparing in eating and drinking.
Absterge, to wipe off.
Abstract, to take away; an epitome.
Abstruse, hard to understand.
Abyss, an immeasurably deep gulf.
Abysmal, like an abyss.
Abyssinian, a native of Abyssinia.
Academy, a place of learning; a society for promoting the arts and sciences.
Academ'ic, belonging to an academy; said of a debate that has no practical result.
Academician, a member of an academy.
Acantha, prickle, thorn, spine.
Acarpous, without fruit, sterile.
Accede, to agree to some proposal.
Accelerate, to quicken, increase the speed.
Accentuate, to speak with the accents well marked; to emphasize.
Acceptance, act of receiving graciously.
Access, way of drawing near.
Accessible, admitting of approach.
Accessory, helping to gain some end.
Ac'cidence, that part of grammar which deals with inflexions.
Acclaim, to salute with shouts of joy.
Acclamation, hearty applause.
Acclimatize, to render capable of living in a particular climate; adapt.
Acclivity, an upward slope.
Accolade, a ceremony used in making a knight.
Accommodate, to supply something to meet another's convenience; to adapt.
Accompanist, one who plays an instrument in support of the chief performer.
Accompaniment, the part played by an accompanist.
Accomplice, a partner in some secret or wrong doing.
Accompt, an account.
Accordion, a musical instrument.
Accou'cheur, a surgeon who aids in childbirth.
Accoutre, to equip for battle.
Accredit, to give authority to a person sent on a mission.
Accretion, the part added by growth or other means of increase.
Accrue, to arise, result from.
Accumulate, to heap together, amass.
Ac'curacy, exactness.
Accursed, lying under a curse.
Aceph'ala, animals that seem headless, like an oyster.
Acerbity, sourness, bitterness.
Acet'ic, sour, like vinegar.
Ache, pain.
A cheval, on horseback.
Achieve, to accomplish.
Achromatic, free from colour.
Acidity, sourness, tartness.
Acme, the highest point.
Acne, see Med. Dict.
Acolyte, one who waits on a priest in performing his offices.
Aconite, a poisonous plant.
Acoustic, relating to the sense of hearing.
Acquiesce, to assent quietly without raising any positive objection.
Acquiescence, the giving a quiet assent.
Acquire, to gain, obtain.
Acquisition, the thing gained.
Acquisitive, being prone to acquire.
Acquittal, a release from the charge of guilt.
Acquittance, a setting free from a debt; the writing in which the release is conveyed.
Acre, an area containing 4840 square yards.
Acridity, a biting sharpness of taste or temper.
Ac'rimony, the same as acridity.
Acrisia, a diseased state in which the power of judgment is wanting.
Acrobat, a performer in vaulting, rope-dancing, &c.
Acrolith, a statue having the ends only of stone.
Acrop'olis, a citadel, the citadel of Athens.
Acrostic, a stanza, the first, or certain other, letters of whose lines form a word.
Actinia, a polyp, such as the sea-anemone.
Actinic, having the property of actinism.
Actinism, that property of the sun's rays which produces chemical effects, as in photography.
Actinom'eter, an instrument for finding the degree of activity of the actinic rays.
Actinozo'a, a class of zoophytes, including sea-anemones and coral polyps.
Actuality, the state of being real.
Actually, in very deed.
Actuary, an expert in calculations; a registrar.
Actuate, to induce action.
Acu'leated, having prickles or a sting.
Acu'men, keenness of mind.
Acupressure, see Med. Dict.
Adage, an old saying.
Adagio, slowly, gravely.
Adamant, anything extremely hard.
Adamantean, adamantine, extremely hard.
Adaptability, quality of being able to be adapted or fitted for a certain purpose.
Adar, the sixth month of Jewish civil year.
Addendum (pl. addenda), what is appended.
Addicted, prone (to).
Adduce, to bring forward as an instance.
Adept, one well versed in any art.
Adequate, sufficient for a particular purpose.
Ad'equacy, the state of being adequate.
Adhere, to stick together.
Adhesive, sticky.
Adieu, good-bye.
Adipose, fat or fatty.
Adit, a passage.
Adjacent, lying near.
Adjecti'val, like an adjective.
Adjourn, to put off to another day.
Adjudicate, to adjudge, award.
Ad'junct, something joined to a thing, but not forming an essential part of it.
Adjure, to charge solemnly.
Adjust, to adapt, set right.
Ad'jutant, a military officer of high rank.
Ad'jutancy, the office of an adjutant.
Adju'tor, a fellow-helper.
Administer, to direct or control the execution of laws, orders, rules, &c.
Administrative, the act of administering; a body of men who administer.
Ad'miralty, a body of men who have supreme control in the management of the navy.
Ad'mirable, worthy of admiration.
Admissible, able to be admitted or allowed.
Admittance, permission to enter.
Admonish, to warn, caution.
Admonitory, serving to admonish.
Adnascent, growing to something else.
Ad nauseam, to satiety or disgust.
Adnominal, adjectival.
Adobe, a sun-dried brick.
Adolescence, the growing time of life.
Adolescent, growing from the child into the adult.
Adopt, to regard as one's own.
Adoration, paying honour as to a divine being.
Adosculation, the impregnation of plants or animals by outward connection only.
Adrift, floating about aimlessly.
Adroit, expert, dexterous.
Adscript, one attached to an estate as a serf.
Adstriction, a close binding.
Adularia, a very fine variety of felspar.
Adulation, servile flattery.
Adulterate, to debase by mixing inferior materials.
Adultery, a breaking of the marriage-vow.
Adulterer m., Adulteress f., one who commits adultery.
Adum'brate, to shadow forth.
Aduncous, bent like a hook.
Adust, parched up, looking scorched.
Ad valo'rem, according to value.
Advanta'geous, beneficial.
Advent, arrival, coming, approach.

Adventitious, acquired accidentally.
Adventurer m., Adventuress f., one who undertakes a risky enterprise; one who sails under false colours.
Adverbially, in the manner of an adverb.
Ad'versary, an opponent, enemy.
Adversative, implying opposition.
Ad'verse, acting directly against.
Adversity, calamity, distress.
Advert, to turn the mind or attention (to).
Advertency, attention, careful regard.
Adver'tisement, warning, public notice.
Advise, to give advice; acquaint.
Advisedly, deliberately, designedly.
Advisable, expedient, wise to be done.
Advisory, having the right to advise.
Advocate, one who pleads for another.
Ad'vocacy, pleading for another.
Advow'son, the right to appoint to a benefice.
Ad'ytum, inmost sanctuary.
Adze, a kind of axe.
Ægis, originally the shield of Jupiter, now used for anything that shields.
Ægro'tat, a medical certificate in proof of illness.
Æon, same as Eon.
Æpyornis, a bird of Madagascar, now extinct.
Aerate, to charge with carbonic acid gas, &c.
Aerial, relating to the air.
Aerie or erie, nest of an eagle or other bird of prey.
Aero-dynamics, the science which treats of the force of air in motion.
Aerolite, a meteoric stone.
Aerology, the science of the atmosphere.
Aeromancy, foretelling by means of atmospheric appearances.
Aerom'eter, the instrument for measuring the weight of air.
Aeronaut, a balloonist.
Aerophyte, a plant that lives wholly on air.
Aerostat, a flying machine; a balloonist.
Æruginous, like verdigris or copper rust.
Æsculapian, relating to Æsculapius the god of healing.
Æsthetics, the science of correct taste.
Æstivation or estivation, the way in which petals in flower-buds are folded.
Ætat, aged.
Æther, see ether.
Af'fable, sociable, easy of approach.
Affect, to have an effect upon; assume or pretend.
Affectation, assuming an unnatural manner, pretence.
Af'ferent, carrying to, said of nerves that transmit sensations to nerve centres.
Affi'ance, to betroth.
Affidavit, a written declaration on oath.
Affiliate, to assign the paternity of a child; attach a minor society to one more important.
Affinity, relationship by marriage, mutual attraction.
Affirm, to assert, make a formal statement.
Affix, an addition to the stem of a word.
Affla'tus, divine or poetical inspiration.
Affliction, sorrow, grief.
Af'fluence, wealth, abundance.
Afflux, that which flows towards, addition.
Afforest, to convert land into forest.
Affran'chise, to make free.
Affray, a noisy quarrel, brawl.
Affront, open insult.
Africander, offspring of white parents in South Africa.
Aft, behind, near or toward the stern.
After-damp, poisonous gas found in coal-mines after an explosion.
After-math, a second crop of grass.
Agendum (pl. agenda), thing to be done.
Agglomeration, a heap, a mass.
Agglutinate, to make to adhere.
Ag'grandize, to cause to increase in wealth or power.
Aggravate, to intensify, irritate, provoke.
Aggregate, sum total, whole amount.
Aggression, unprovoked attack, breach of peace.
Aggrieve, to annoy, injure, distress.
Aghast, dumb with horror.
Agile, active, nimble.
Agio, the difference between real and nominal value of money.
Agitation, perturbation, excitement.
Aglet or Aiglet, the tag of a lace.
Agnail, a growth beside a nail.
Agnostic, one who disclaims knowledge of anything beyond material phenomena.
Agog, eager, stirring.
Agony, anguish, intense suffering.
Agora, a market place, place of assembly.
Agrarian, relating to land.
Agreeable, pleasant, suitable.
Agriculture, cultivation of the soil.
Ague, an intermittent fever attended with fits of shivering.
Aide-de-camp (pl. aides-de-camp), officer who attends a general on the field and acts as his messenger.
Aigret or egret, a small white heron; a plume of feathers.
Aiguille, a sharp needle-shaped peak of rock.
Air-brake, a brake worked by means of compressed air.
Air-engine, an engine worked by means of heated air.
Air-gun, a gun whose charge is propelled by means of compressed air.
Air-pump, a machine for exhausting the air from a vessel.
Aisle, part of a church on either side of the nave.
Ait or eyot, small island in a river.
Akimbo, having the elbows bent outward and the hands resting on the hips.
A la carte, according to the bill of fare.
A la mode, according to the fashion.
Alabaster, a semi-transparent mineral used in making ornaments.
Alacrity, briskness, readiness.
Alarum, a clock for giving an alarm at a fixed time.
Alastor, fate, destiny.
Alb, a white linen vestment worn under the chasuble.
Albanian, native of Albania.
Albatross, a large web-footed sea-bird.
Albinism, state of being an albino.
Albi'no, one whose skin and hair are abnormally white, and whose eyes have pink pupils.
Albu'men, white of egg.
Alchemy, an early form of chemistry aiming at the transmutation of metals into gold.
Alcohol, the intoxicating element in fermented liquors.
Alcoran, see Koran.
Alcove, a recess.
Alembic, a vessel used for purpose of distilling.
Alert, watchful, ready.
Alexandrine, a line of poetry consisting of six iambic feet.
Al fresco, in the open air.
Al'gebra, a method of calculation in which letters are used as symbols to represent quantities.
Alhambra, the famous palace of the Moorish Kings of Granada.
Alias, otherwise; an assumed name.
Alibi, a plea that the accused was elsewhere when the crime was committed.
Alien, a stranger, a foreigner.
Alienate, to transfer to another, estrange.
Alignment, a laying out by line.
Aliment, food or nourishment.
Alimony, provision for the maintenance of a wife living apart from her husband.
Aliquot, any part of a number that is contained in it an exact number of times.
Al'kali, a substance which combines with an acid to form a salt.
Alkaloid, a substance resembling an alkali.
Allah, an Arabic name for God.
Allay, to alleviate, assuage.
Allegation, assertion.
Allegiance, loyalty or fidelity to a superior.
Al'legory, a story with a hidden meaning.
Alle'gro, a quick movement in music.
Alleluiah or halleluia, "Praise be to God."
Alleviate, to lighten, relieve, allay.
All-hallows, All Saints' Day.
Alliance, union, confederation.
Alligation, a rule in arithmetic.
Alligator, kind of crocodile.
Alliteration, recurrence of the same letter at beginning of words or accented syllables.
Allocate, to allot, assign.
Allocution, a formal address.
Allodial, freehold.
Allotment, portion allotted, act of allotting.
Allotropic, existing in different forms, e.g., carbon as charcoal and diamond.
Allowance, a regular grant of fixed amount.
Alloy, an ingredient that debases the substance with which it is mixed.
Allspice, a spice which combines various flavours, pimento.
Allude, to make a reference or allusion.
Allumette, a lucifer match.
Allure, to entice, charm, beguile.
Allusion, a reference.
Alluvium, soil brought down by rivers.
Alma mater, "benign mother," term applied by students to their university.
Almanac, calendar, register of the divisions of the year.
Almond, the fruit of the almond tree.
Almoner, one who dispenses alms.
Alms, gifts to the needy.
Aloe, a medicinal plant.
Aloof, aside, apart.
Alpaca, a cloth made from the wool of the alpaca, an animal of Peru.
Alpen-stock, a stick fitted with an iron-spike for mountain climbing.
Alpha, the first letter of the Greek alphabet.
Alphabet, a list in regular order of the letters of a language.
Alsatian, belonging to Alsace; a lawless person.
Altar, a raised structure used for sacrifices, a communion table.
Alteration, change, difference.
Altercation, quarrel, wrangle, dispute.
Alter ego, one's other self, or second self.
Alter'native, a choice between two things.
Altitude, height, distance above sea level.
Alto, a male voice of highest pitch.
Alto-relievo, carving in high relief.
Altruism, self-denial for the sake of others, unselfishness.
Alum, a mineral salt.
Aluminium, a white metal of light weight resembling silver.
Alum'nus (pl. alumni), "foster son," term applied to a student in relation to his college.
Al'veolar, relating to sockets, especially the teeth.
Amalgam, a compound consisting of mercury combined with another metal.
Amalgamate, to combine or unite.
Amanuensis, one who writes from dictation.
Amaranth, a flower supposed never to fade.
Amaryllis, a genus of plants including narcissus and jonquil.
Amass, to heap up, accumulate.
Amateur, one who studies a subject for love of it, not for profit.
Amative, of an amorous disposition.
Amazement, blank astonishment, stupefaction.
Amazon, a female warrior, a manly woman.
Ambassador, an official representative of a country at a foreign court.
Ambassadress, an ambassador's wife.
Amber, a fossil resin yellow in colour.
Ambergris, a fragrant substance found in the spermaceti whale.
Ambidextrous, equally skilful with both hands.
Ambient, surrounding, encompassing.
Ambiguous, of double or doubtful meaning.
Ambit, circuit.
Ambition, lust of power or fame.
Amble, to go at an easy pace.
Ambrosia, the food of the gods.
Ambry or aumbry, a recess in the wall of a church for sacred vessels.
Ambulance, a vehicle for conveying the sick or wounded.
Am'bulatory, place for walking in, aisles, cloisters, &c.
Ambuscade, a lying in ambush.
Ambush, concealment with a view to attack.
Ameer, amir, the title of the ruler of Afghanistan.
Ameliorate, to improve, make better.
Amen, so let it be, term of solemn ratification.
Amenable, accountable, liable.
Amende, fine, penalty.
Amends honorable, an apology.
Amendment, improvement; modification of a motion in a public debate.
Amenity, geniality, courtesy.
Amentia, lack of reason, imbecility.
Amercement, a fine.
Amethyst, a kind of quartz, mauve in colour.
Amiable, of a lovable disposition.
Amice, a strip of linen worn by priests on the neck and shoulders.
Amidships, midway between prow and stern.
Amity, friendship.
Ammonia, a pungent gas of which sal volatile is a salt.
Ammoniac, medicinal gum obtained from a plant.
Ammonite, a fossil mollusc.
Ammunition, material for firearms, such as powder, shot, shell.
Amnesia, loss of memory.
Amnesty, an act of general pardon or oblivion.
Amoret, a sweetheart.
Amorous, inclined to love, of an amative disposition.
Amorphous, shapeless, without regular form.
Amour, a love affair, an intrigue.
Ampersand, &, a sign for the word "and."
Ampere, an electrical unit of measurement.
Amphibious, able to live both on land and in water.
Am'phibrach, a metrical foot consisting of a long syllable between two short ones (⏑–⏑).
Amphitheatre, a round or oval building containing tiers of seats for spectators.
Am'phora, a jar with a handle on each side.
Ample, abundant, plentiful, copious.
Amplification, an enlargement.
Amplitude, fulness, width, extent.
Amputate, to cut off (a limb).
Amuck, in mad frenzy.
Am'ulet, an object worn as a charm.
Anabaptist, one who disapproves of infant baptism.
Anach'ronism, an error in point of time.
Anacolu'thon, an irregular construction, failure in sequence of ideas.
Anadem, a wreath or band for the head.
Anæsthetic, a substance which deadens sensation or perception.
Anaglyph, a carving in low relief.
An'agram, a new word formed by transposing the letters of the original word.
Analect, a selection from an author's writings.
Anal'ogous, bearing an analogy.
Analogy, correspondence or likeness in certain respects.
Analysis, a breaking up into component parts.

Analytical, relating to analysis.
An'archist, one opposed to all forms of government.
Anarchy, state of disorder, lawlessness.
Anath'ema, solemn curse or denunciation.
Anat'omy, dissection of an organic body.
Ancestor, forefather, progenitor.
Anchor, an instrument for holding a ship at rest in the water.
Anchorite, a hermit or recluse.
Ancho'vy, a small fish from which a sauce is made.
Ancient, old, antiquated.
Andiron, an iron hearth-rest for logs.
Anecdote, a short story or incident.
Anemia or anaemia, lack of red corpuscles in the blood.
Anent, with reference to.
An'eroid, a barometer constructed without the use of any fluid.
An'eurism, see Med. Dict.
Angel, a heavenly messenger, spirit good or evil.
Angelus, a bell rung as signal for reciting the "Hail Mary!"
An'gevin, belonging to the house of Anjou.
Angi'na, severe pain, form of heart disease.
Angle, a corner, inclination of two straight lines to one another.
Anglicanism, adherence to the doctrines of the English or Anglican Church.
Anglo-mania, an unreasoning admiration for all things English.
Anglo-phobia, an unreasoning fear or hatred of the English.
Anguish, intense pain, agony of mind or body.
Angular, having angles, ungraceful.
Anhydrous, containing no water.
Anility, dotage, as applied to an old woman.
Aniline, one of the products of coal-tar yielding brilliant dyes.
Animadversion, severe remarks, strictures.
Animalism, sensualism, lack of higher instincts.
Animate, endowed with life.
Animosity, hostility, enmity.
Animus, ill-feeling, spite.
Aniseed, a cordial prepared from seeds of an aromatic plant.
Anklet, circlet worn round the ankle.
Anna, Indian coin, worth about three halfpence
Annals, yearly records.
Annates, see Dict. of Gen. Infor.
Anneal, to temper or harden by making hot and leaving to cool gradually.
Annexation, the act of appropriating and adding to previous possessions.
Annihilate, to utterly destroy, put out of existence.
Anniversary, the day of the year on which an event originally happened.
Annotation, an explanatory note or comment.
Announcement, a public or formal declaration.
Annoyance, feeling or cause of displeasure.
Annual, yearly, recurring every year.
Annu'ity, a sum of money due annually until death.
Annul, to abolish, cancel, make of none effect.
Annular, ring-shaped.
Annulet, a little ring, small circle round a pillar.
Annunciation, the announcement to the Virgin that she should be the mother of our Lord.
Anodyne, that which soothes or lulls pain.
Anoint, to smear with oil or ointment.
Anom'alous, unusual, irregular.
Anonymous, with no name attached, unacknowledged.
Anserine, goose-like, foolish, silly.
Answer, a reply, response.
Antagonism, hostility, opposition.
Antarctic, the region around the south pole.
Antecedent, going before, preceding.
Ante-chamber, an outer chamber.
Ante-date, to assign an earlier date.
Ante-diluvian, before the flood, out of date.
Ante-meridian, before mid-day.
Ante-natal, existing before birth.
Ante-penultimate, the last syllable but two from end of word.
Anterior, of earlier date; situated in front.
Anthem, a hymn of praise.
Anthology, a collection of choice passages in poetry.
An'thracite, a kind of smokeless coal.
Anthrax, a disease of sheep and cattle, carbuncle.
Anthropoid, resembling the human form.
Anthropology, the science of man in his relation to the rest of creation.
Anthropomorphic, in the likeness of man.
Anti-bilious, counteracting biliousness.
Anticipation, a looking forward, expectation.
Anti-climax, opposed to climax.
Antidote, that which counteracts evil effects.
Anti-macassar, a loose covering for the backs of chairs and sofas.
Antimony, a white metal.
Antip'athy, a feeling of strong dislike.
An'tiphon, alternate chanting.
Antip'o-des, persons or places on the opposite side of the globe.
Antiquary, one versed in antiquities.
Antique, ancient, old-fashioned.
Antiquity, ancient times.
Antiseptic, counteracting blood-poisoning and putrefaction.
Antith'esis, an opposition or contrast.
Antithetical, relating to antithesis.
Anti-toxus, see Med. Dict.
Antitrade, a wind blowing in the opposite direction to the trade wind.
Antler, a branch of a stag's horn.
Anxiety, uneasiness of mind, solicitude, apprehension.
A'orist, a Greek tense which expresses indefinite time.
A outrance, to the very end.
Apartment, a room or set of rooms.
Apathetic, without feeling; indifferent.
Aperçu, a sketch; a rough estimate.
Ape'rient, a gentle purgative.
Aperitive, opening; aperient.
Ap'erture, an opening; a passage.
Apex, the point or summit of a thing.
Aphe'lion, that part of a planet's orbit farthest from the sun.
Aphe'mia, a disease in which the patient loses the power of speech.
Aph'orism, a maxim; a precept expressed in a few words.
Apiary, a place where bees are kept.
Apiculture, bee-keeping.
Aplomb, self-possession; assurance.
Apoc'alypse, revelation; the last book of the Bible.
Apocalyp'tic, serving to reveal.
Apoc'ope (o-pe), omission of the last letter or syllable of a word.
Apoc'rypha, see Dict. of Gen. Infor.
Apod'osis, the latter part of a conditional sentence.
Ap'ogee, that point in the moon or planet's orbit farthest from the earth.
Apologet'ics, a branch of theology concerned with the defence of Christianity.
Apol'ogize, to make an apology or excuse.
Ap'ologue, a moral fable.
Ap'ophthegm or apothegm, a remarkable saying; a maxim.
Apoplexy, a disease involving the sudden loss of sensation and motion.
Apoplectic, relating to, or showing signs of apoplexy.
Aposiope'sis, a sudden breaking off of a sentence for the sake of effect.
Apos'tasy, a departure from professed principles.
A posterio'ri, a reasoning backwards from effect to cause.
Apostol'ical, relating to, or like an apostle.
Apos'trophize, to digress in a speech to address an imaginary auditor.
Apothecary, a person who prepares and sells drugs or medicines.
Apotheo'sis, deification.
Appal or appall, to dismay, to fill with terror.
Appanage, lands or income for the maintenance of the younger children of a princely house; a detached part.
Apparatus, tools necessary for any art or trade.
Apparel, clothing, equipment.
Apparent, clear, evident.
Appari'tion, an appearance, a spectre.
Appar'itor, the officer of an ecclesiastical court.
Appeal, to remove a cause to a higher court.
Appearance, the act of coming into sight.
Appease, to calm, to pacify.
Appell'ant, a person who appeals.
Appella'tion, a name, a title.
Appendage, something added.
Appendici'tis, inflammation of the appendix, see Med. Dict.
Appen'dix (pl. appendices), something added, a supplement.
Appertain, to belong to.
Appetite, a desire for food; violent longing.
Applause, approbation loudly expressed.
Appliance, the thing applied, a tool.
Ap'plicant, one who applies.
Appointment, an office, engagement, equipment.
Apportion, to distribute in just proportion.
Ap'posite, fit, well adapted.
Appraiser, one appointed to value goods or property.
Appre'ciable, that may be appreciated or estimated.
Appreciation, valuation, just estimation.
Apprehend, to arrest; to fear; to understand.
Apprehen'sion, the act of apprehending.
Apprentice, one bound to a trade or art.
Apprise, to inform, to give notice.
Approba'tion, the act of approving; support.
Appro'priate, to take for one's own use; suitable.
Appropriation, the act of appropriating; something appropriated.
Approval, commendation, sanction.
Approximation, approach; a near estimate.
Appui, a support, prop.
Appur'tenance, that which belongs to something else.
A prio'ri, a reasoning from cause to effect, the opposite to a posteriori.
Apron, a covering for the front of the body.
Apropos, to the purpose.
Apse, a term in architecture, see Dict. of Gen. Infor.
Apsidal, pertaining to an apse.
Apteryx, a New Zealand bird with merely rudimentary wings.
Aptitude, fitness; quickness in learning.
Aqua vitæ, "water of life," ardent spirits.
Aquarium, a tank or building for keeping aquatic animals or plants.
Aquatic, of or belonging to the water.
Aq'ueduct, an artificial channel for conveying water.
A'queous, watery.
Aquiline, resembling an eagle; hooked.
Arabesque, ornamentation common in Arabian architecture.
Ar'abic, the language of the Arabs.
Ar'able, fit for tillage.
Arama'ic, the language of the Syrians and Chaldeans.
Ar'biter, an umpire, an arbitrator.
Arbit'rament or arbitrement, decision by arbitration.
Ar'bitrary, despotic, capricious.
Arbitration, the determination of a cause by a judge mutually agreed on by the parties.
Arbores'cent, growing like a tree.
Arbore'tum, a place where trees and shrubs are grown for experimental and educational purposes.
Arboriculture, cultivation of trees and shrubs.
Arbour, a shady bower.
Arc, a part of a circle.
Arcade, a covered walk.
Arcadian, pertaining to Arcadia; rustic.
Arca'num, a secret.
Archæol'ogy, the study of ancient times from their relics and remains.
Archa'ic, antiquated; out of date.
Ar'chaism, an ancient or obsolete phrase.
Archangel, a chief angel.
Archbishop, a bishop in authority over other bishops.
Archdeacon, an English Church dignitary with duties connected with a bishopric.
Archery, the use of the bow and arrow.
Archetype, a model, an original pattern.
Archidiac'onal, belonging to an archdeacon.
Archiepis'copal, belonging to an archbishop.
Archiman'drite, an abbot-general in the Greek Church.
Archime'dean, relating to the ancient Greek philosopher, Archimedes.
Archipel'ago, a sea containing many small islands.
Architecture, the art of building.
Archive (generally plural), a record; a place where records are kept.
Archness, roguishness, playful cunning.
Arctic, belonging to the far north.
Ardent, hot, passionate.
Ardour, heat; warmth of affection.
Arduous, laborious, difficult.
Area, surface measurement; a space in front of a basement.
Arefaction, the act of drying.
Are'na, a space strewn with sand for combats.
Argent, silvery, bright like silver.
Argentif'erous, containing silver.
Argilla'ceous, like clay.
Argonaut, one who sailed in the ship Argo in search of the golden fleece; a mollusc.
Ar'gosy, a richly-laden merchant ship.
Argue, to reason, to dispute.
Argumentative, consisting of argument; given to argument.
Argus, a mythical being credited with having a hundred eyes; a watchful person.
Aria, an air, a melody.
A'rian, a follower of Arius, who denied the perfect equality of Christ with God the Father.
Arid, dry, parched.
Aristocracy, government by nobles; persons of rank.
Aristote'lian, a follower of Aristotle, the Greek philosopher.
Arithmeti'cian, one skilled in the art of numbers.
Armada, a fleet of armed vessels.
Armament, a force prepared for war.
Armenian, a native of Armenia.
Armistice, a short truce.
Armorial, belonging to the arms of a family.
Armourer, one who makes and repairs arms.
Armour-plate, thick iron or steel plates fixed to the sides of a warship.
Armpit, the hollow place under the shoulder.
Army-corps, a division of an army.
Army-list, a monthly publication containing information about the army.
Aromat'ic, spicy, fragrant.
Arrack, a liquor distilled in the East.
Arraignment, a calling to answer in court; an accusation.

Arrangement, the act of putting in order, settlement.
Ar'rant, infamous, downright.
Arras, tapestry.
Array, dress; order of battle.
Arrears, that which remains unpaid after it is due.
Arrest, legal seizure, stop, hindrance.
Arrière-pensée, a hidden thought.
Arrogance, haughtiness, insolent pride.
Arrogate, to assume with arrogance.
Arsenal, a magazine where warlike stores are made or kept.
Arsenic, a mineral poison.
Arsen'ical, containing arsenic.
Arson, the wilful burning of property.
Artery, a blood vessel conveying the blood from the heart.
Artichoke, a vegetable.
Articular, pertaining to the joints.
Articulation, a joint; clear pronunciation.
Artifice, a trick, a cunning device.
Artificial, made by art, not genuine.
Artillery, big guns; soldiers in charge of them.
Ar'tisan, a skilled workman.
Artlessness, simplicity.
Asbes'tos, an incombustible mineral.
Ascendancy or -ency, power, dominion.
Ascension, the act of rising.
Ascertain', to make certain.
Ascet'icism, rigid self-denial.
Ascribe, to attribute; to set down.
Ashlar or ashler, building stone.
Asiatic, belonging to, or a native of Asia.
As'inine, like an ass, doltish.
Askance, sideways; with suspicion.
Asparagus, a vegetable.
Asperity, harshness.
Aspersion, calumny, malicious report.
Asphalt, a bituminous substance.
Asphyxia, stoppage of the heart due to suffocation.
Aspirant, one who desires earnestly.
Aspirate, to pronounce with full breath.
Ass'agai or assegai, a Zulu spear.
Assailant, one who attacks.
Assassin, one who kills by a secret attack.
Assault, a fierce attack.
Assayer, a person who tests metals.
Assemblage, a number of persons met together.
Assen'tient, of the same opinion.
Assertion, a statement without proof.
Assertive, positive, dogmatical.
Assess'ment, the appraisement of property for the purpose of taxation.
As'sets, the property of a debtor.
Asseveration, solemn affirmation.
Assidu'ity, diligence.
Assid'uous, constant in application.
Assign, to transfer to another; to ascribe.
Assignation, the making over of a thing to another; an appointment to meet.
Assimilation, absorption of nutriment; the act of making or growing like.
Assistance, help, succour.
Association, a society; the act of uniting for some common object.
Associate-ship, membership.
Assoil, to absolve, to acquit.
Assonance, an imperfect rhyme.
Assortment, a number of things selected.
Assuage, to mitigate, to soften.
Assumption, a taking for granted; a supposition.
Assurance, firm trust; forwardness, self-confidence; insurance.
Assyrian, a native of Assyria.
Asterisk, a star or mark used in printing.
As'teroid, a small planet.
Asthmatical, troubled with shortness of breath.
Astig'matism, a defect of the eyesight.
Astonishment, amazement, surprise.
Astound, to fill with fear or wonder.
Astrakhan, a fur from an Eastern sheep.
Astringent, binding, contracting.
Astrol'ogy, the so-called science of predicting events by the stars.
Astron'omy, the study of the celestial bodies.
Astute', sharp, crafty, discerning.
Asylum, a refuge, a sure shelter.
Asym'metry, disproportion, absence of symmetry.
At'avism, likeness to a distant ancestor.
Atelier, a studio or workshop.
A'theism, the doctrine that denies the existence of God.
Atheist'ical, professing atheism.
Athenæum, a literary or scientific institution.
Athenian, a native of Athens.
Ath'lete, one skilled in physical exercises.
Athlet'icism, the practice of athletic exercises.
Atlas, a collection of maps.
Atmosphere, the air which surrounds the earth.
At'oll, a form of coral island.
Atom, a minute particle of matter.
Atonement, expiation, amends.
Atrocious, extremely wicked, horrible.
Atrocity, savage cruelty or wickedness.
At'rophy, gradual loss of flesh.
Attaché, a member of an ambassador's suite.
Attachment, affectionate regard.
Attainder, loss of civil rights after a judgment of death or outlawry.
Attainment, the act of acquiring or accomplishing.
Attaint, to find guilty of treason.
Attar, a valuable perfume.
Attemper, to mix in due proportions; to soften.
Attendant, a person that waits on another; one who is present.
Attentive, watchful, heedful, diligent.
Atten'uate, to make thin.
Attestation, testimony; evidence.
Attic, a room at the top of a house.
Attic, belonging to Attica or Athens; classical.
Attire, raiment, dress.
Attitude, posture, position.
Attor'ney (pl. attorneys), one who acts for another, a lawyer.
Attraction, the power of drawing something near.
Attrib'utable, that which may be ascribed.
At'tribute, a quality ascribed to a person or thing.
Attri'tion, the wearing away by friction.
Attune, to make harmonious.
Auburn, of a reddish-brown colour.
Au courant, well acquainted with.
Auctioneer, one who sells at a public sale.
Audacious, bold, impudent.
Audacity, effrontery, daring.
Audibility, the quality of being able to be heard.
Audience, a company assembled to listen; a hearing.
Auditor, a hearer; one who examines accounts.
Audito'rium, that part of a public building intended for the audience.
Au fait, expert; well versed in.
Auge'an, relating to Augeas, see Dict. of Gen. Infor.
Auger, a carpenter's tool for boring holes.
Augment', to enlarge, to increase.
Augur, to conjecture by signs; one who pretends to predict by the flight of birds.
August', grand, inspiring reverence.
Augustan, belonging to Augustus.
Auk, a web-footed bird with short wings.
Au'reole, a halo.
Au revoir, good-bye till our next meeting.
Auric'ular, told in the ear, secret.
Aurif'erous, producing gold.
Aurist, an ear specialist.
Auspices, favourable omens.
Auspicious, lucky, propitious.
Auster'ity, harshness, severe discipline.
Australian, a native of Australia.
Austrian, a native of Austria.
Authentic'ity, authority, genuineness.
Author m., Authoress f., a writer, an originator.
Author'itative, having due authority.
Authority, legal power; influence; the right to determine.
Authorize, to give a right to act.
Autobiog'raphy, the story of a person's life written by himself.
Autoc'racy, absolute power in one person.
Au'tocrat, one whose power is absolute.
Auto-de-fe or da-fe, the burning of a heretic.
Autograph, that written with one's own hand.
Automat'ic, having the power of moving itself.
Autom'aton, a figure moved by machinery hidden within it.
Auton'omy, the power of self-government.
Autop'sy, a seeing for one's self; a post-mortem examination.
Autotype, a photographic process, and the picture it produces.
Autum'nal, belonging to autumn.
Auxiliary, helping.
Available, attainable, ready for use.
Av'alanche, a mass of snow and ice falling down a mountain.
Avant-courier, a messenger sent before.
Avaricious, covetous, greedily desirous of gain.
Avast', a sea term meaning stop, cease.
Avatar', the descent of a Hindu deity to earth.
A've-Mari'a, a prayer to the Virgin.
Avenger, one who inflicts vengeance.
Avenue, a thoroughfare; a walk with trees on either side.
Aver', to declare positively.
Average, a mean proportion; middling.
Aversion, intense dislike.
Avert, to turn aside, to keep off.
Aviary, an enclosed place for keeping birds.
Avidity, greediness, eagerness.
Avocation, that which calls one away from his main business; also business, calling.
Avoidable, that may be avoided or escaped.
Avoirdupois, a system of weights in which 16 ounces go to the pound.
Avouch, to affirm, to justify.
Avowal, a frank confession.
Award, a judgment; to adjudge.
Awe-struck, filled with fear or reverence.
Awful, that which strikes with awe.
Awkward, clumsy, ungainly, inelegant.
Awning, a covering to shelter from sun and rain.
Awry', crooked, uneven.
Axiomat'ic, requiring no proof.
Axis, a real or imaginary line on which a thing revolves.
Axle-tree, the pin on which a wheel revolves.
A'yah, a waiting woman in India.
Aye, always, for ever.
Azimuth, see Dict. of Gen. Infor.
A'zure, blue like the sky.

Baby farmer, one who receives infants to bring up for payment.
Baccalau'reate, degree of Bachelor of Arts.
Bac'carat, a game of cards.
Bacchana'lian, revelling in drunkenness.
Bachelor, an unmarried man.
Bacil'lus, the name of one division of the microscopic fungi.
Backbiter, a slanderer of the absent.
Back'sheesh, Eastern term for a gratuity.
Backsword, a sword with one sharp edge.
Backwoods, the remote forest lands away from the seaboard, especially in N. America.
Baconian, belonging to the philosopher Bacon.
Bacteriol'ogy, the study of certain minute organisms known as bacteria.
Badinage, banter, playful conversation.
Badminton, a game.
Bagatelle, a game; a trifle.
Bagman, an old name for a commercial traveller.
Bagnio, a bath; a house of evil repute.
Bail, to release a person from custody by becoming surety for his appearance when wanted.
Bailiff, a legal officer: an under-steward.
Baize, a coarse woollen cloth.
Balance-sheet, a statement of the assets and liabilities of a business concern.
Balance-wheel, the part of a watch which regulates the beat.
Balcony, a projecting gallery before a window, or inside a building.
Baldachi'no, a canopy.
Bale, a bundle of goods; to dip water out of a boat.
Baleful, sorrowful: destructive.
Balk, a check; to frustrate.
Ballad-monger, a seller of ballads; a second-rate poet.
Ballast, heavy substance put in the bottom of a ship to keep it steady.
Ball-cock, a self-acting contrivance to regulate the supply of water.
Balloon, a large bag, usually of silk, which, when filled with gas, rises and floats in the air.
Ballot, a system of secret voting.
Balm, a fragrant shrub; anything which soothes.
Balsam, an aromatic resin; an ointment.
Balustrade, a row of small pillars, or balusters, joined by a rail.
Banal, commonplace, trifling.
Bandanna or bandana, a silk handkerchief of Indian manufacture.
Bandit (pl. banditti or bandits), an outlaw, a brigand.
Bandoleer, a leather shoulder belt to hold cartridges.
Bandy, crooked; a club for striking a ball; to toss to and fro.
Baneful, poisonous, destructive.
Banister, the railing of a staircase.
Bankruptcy, inability to pay one's debts.
Banneret, a knight made on the field.
Banquet, a rich feast.
Banshee, an Irish fairy attached to a particular house.
Banyan, an Indian tree.
Baptist, one who rejects infant baptism.
Baptistery, a place for baptizing.
Barbican, a fortification to defend the entrance to a castle or town.
Barbarian, savage; an uncivilised person.
Barbarism, savageness; an incorrect word or phrase.
Barbecue, a pig or other animal roasted whole.
Barbette, the platform of a fortification on which heavy guns are placed that may be fired over the parapet.
Bar'carolle, a Venetian boat-song.
Bard, an ancient Celtic minstrel; a poet.
Bargee, one of a barge's crew.
Barleycorn, a grain of barley.
Barm, yeast.
Barmecide's Feast, an ostentatious display of dishes without any food.
Barnacle, a species of shell-fish.
Barom'eter, an instrument which indicates the weight of the atmosphere.
Baronet, the lowest English title that is hereditary.
Barouche, a four-wheeled carriage.
Barque, a three-masted ship.
Barrack, a building to lodge soldiers.
Barrage, an artificial bar formed in a river to increase its depth.
Barricade, a hastily formed fortification; an obstruction.
Barrister, one qualified to plead the cause of clients in a court of law.

Barrow, an ancient burial-mound; a small hand carriage.
Bar'ytone, the voice between bass and tenor.
Basalt'ic, of the nature of basalt, a hard rock.
Bas-bleu, a blue-stocking, a learned lady.
Bashfulness, shyness, foolish shame.
Basil, the name of a plant; slope at the edge of a tool.
Bas'ilisk, a kind of lizard; a form of cannon.
Basis, foundation, groundwork.
Basque, a person or the language of the Basque provinces.
Bas-relief, sculpture, the figures of which are only slightly raised above the general surface.
Bass Clef, the figure in form of an inverted C which marks the bass-staff.
Bassinet, a wicker-work cradle.
Bastardy, the state of being illegitimate.
Baste, to sew loosely; to beat; to drip fat on a joint while roasting.
Bastina'do, the Eastern punishment of beating on the soles of the feet.
Bastion, a huge mass of earth standing out from a rampart.
Batavian, a Dutchman, or native of Batavia.
Bateau, a long light boat.
Bathos, descent from the sublime to the ridiculous.
Bathymetry, the art of measuring the depth of the sea.
Batman, a man in charge of the cooking utensils of soldiers in the field.
Battalion, a division of the army.
Batten, to make fat; a piece of wood.
Battery, a raised work for cannon; a number of cannon; assault on a person by beating.
Battlement, a parapet with openings along the top, originally to fire through.
Bat'tue, the driving of game into a limited space from cover by beaters.
Bavardage, idle chatter.
Bayonet, a sword-like weapon fixed to the end of a musket.
Bazaar, an Eastern market-place.
Bead-roll, among Roman Catholics a list of the dead to be prayed for.
Beads-man, a man employed to pray for another.
Bean-feast, annual treat of a firm's employees.
Beatif'ic, making blissfully happy.
Beat'itude, blessedness, the highest happiness.
Beau (pl. beaux or beaus), a dandy; a lover.
Beau-ideal, the highest type of perfection.
Beau monde, the world of fashion.
Beauteous, possessed of beauty.
Beaux-esprits, witty people.
Beckon, to invite to advance by a gesture.
Becoming, graceful; suitable.
Bedew, to sprinkle gently as with dew.
Bedight, to adorn, to dress.
Bedizenment, exaggerated adornment.
Bedlam, a madhouse; an excited uproar.
Bed'ouin, a wandering Arab of the desert.
Bedridden, confined to bed.
Beech-mast, the fruit of the beech-tree.
Beef-eater, a yeoman of the guard.
Bees-wing, a light filmy crust formed on port wine which has been long kept.
Beetling, projecting, overhanging.
Befitting, suitable, becoming.
Beginning, commencement, origin, outset.
Beguilement, deception by flattery; diversion.
Be'gum, an Indian princess.
Be'hemoth, a large beast mentioned in the Old Testament.
Behest, a command.
Beige, an undyed woollen material.
Belaud, to give excessive praise to.
Belch, to eject wind from the stomach; to cast up violently.
Beldam, an ugly or cross old woman.
Beleaguer, to besiege.
Belfry, a tower where the bells are rung.
Belgian, a native of Belgium.
Believer, one who believes.
Belladonna, the deadly nightshade, and the drug prepared from it.
Belles-lettres, polite literature.
Bel'licose, war-like.
Bellig'erent, a person or nation at war.
Bell-wether, the leader of a flock of sheep, with a bell round its neck.
Belvedere, a construction on the top of a house or in an elevated spot to command the view.
Bemused, overcome with musing; confused.
Bencher, a senior member of an inn of court.
Benedic'ite (i-te), a hymn of praise used as an alternative to the Te Deum.
Benedick or benedict, a newly-married man.
Benedictine, an order of monks; a liqueur made by monks in Normandy.
Benedictus, a canticle which Zacharias was inspired to sing.
Benefaction, a kind or generous deed.
Benefice, an ecclesiastical living.
Benef'icence, active goodness.
Beneficially, in a helpful manner.
Beneficiary, one who holds a benefice, or enjoys a certain privilege.
Benev'olence, the disposition to do good.
Bengalee or bengali, the language of Bengal.
Benignity, graciousness.
Benison, a blessing.
Ben trovato, well invented.
Benzene, a liquid distilled from coal-tar.
Bequeath, to leave by will to another.
Bequest, something left by will.
Berber, the language or a native of Barbary.
Bereavement, loss, especially by death.
Berth, a sleeping-place in a ship; a mooring-place; a situation.
Beryl, a precious stone.
Beshrew, to wish evil to.
Besiege, to beset with armed forces.
Besom, a broom.
Besotted, stupid with drink; infatuated.
Bespeak, to engage or order in advance.
Bessemer-steel, steel made by a process invented by Sir H. Bessemer.
Best'ial, beast-like, brutal.
Bestowal, the act of conferring.
Bête-noire, a pet aversion.
Betide, to happen, to befall.
Betoken, to indicate, to foreshow.
Betrayal, an act of disloyalty; disclosure.
Betrothal, an agreement to marry.
Bevel, an instrument for measuring angles; slanting.
Beverage, a drink.
Bevy, a party of birds or girls.
Bewilderment, a confused state of mind.
Bewitching, fascinating, full of charm.
Bewray, to betray or divulge.
Bezique, a game of cards.
Biangular, having two angles.
Bias, weight in the side of a bowl to turn it out of a straight course; leaning, inclination.
Bibacious, fond of drink, thirsty.
Biblical, belonging to or drawn from the Bible.
Bibliography, a description of books; a list of those dealing with a particular subject.
Bibliolatry, unreasoning worship of the Bible; excessive love of books.
Bibliomaniac, one who has a mania for collecting books.
Bibulous, capable of absorbing moisture; given to drinking.
Bicente'nary, 200th anniversary.
Biceps, the front muscle of the upper arm.
Bicker, to wrangle about trifles; quiver, have a tremulous motion.
Bicyclist, one who rides a bicycle.
Bidet', a small horse; a kind of bath.
Biennial, recurring every two years; lasting two years.
Bier, framework for bearing a coffin.
Bifurcate, to divide into two forks.
Bigamy, the crime of having two wives or two husbands at the same time.
Bigotry, fanatical belief, blind zeal.
Bijou (pl. bijoux), a small dainty jewel.
Bilateral, two-sided.
Bilge, the bulging part of a cask; the broadest part of a ship's bottom.
Bilin'gual, written in, or speaking, two languages.
Bill-broker, one who buys and sells bills of exchange.
Billet, to assign quarters to soldiers; a log of wood; cylindrical moulding in architecture.
Billet-doux, "a sweet note," a love-letter.
Billion, a million millions.
Bimetallism, a system of currency, see Dict. of Gen. Infor.
Binary, dual, consisting of two.
Binnacle, a box containing a ship's compass.
Binocular, fitted with an eye piece for each eye.
Biography, a written account of a life.
Biology, the science of the various forms of physical life.
Biped, an animal with two feet.
Birchen, made of birch.
Bird's-eye, a kind of tobacco; a plant; seen as with the eye of a bird flying above.
Biretta, a kind of clerical cap.
Birth-right, what is due to a man by right of birth.
Biscuit, "twice baked," a hard flat kind of bread.
Bisection, the cutting into two equal parts.
Bissextile, leap-year.
Bivalve, having two valves like the shells of an oyster.
Bivouac, to encamp for the night in the open air.
Bizarre, strange, fantastic.
Black-ball, to refuse to admit to membership by putting a black ball in the ballot-box.
Blackguardly, like a scoundrel or low fellow.
Black-jack, a black leather bottle for holding beer.
Black-letter, Old English or Gothic type or character.
Black-mail, to extort money by threats; hush money.
Black-rod, the usher of the House of Lords.
Blamable, deserving of blame.
Blanc-mange, a white pudding made of milk and isinglass.
Blandishment, coaxing, fawning, wheedling.
Blank verse, verse consisting of unrhymed lines, each of five iambic feet.
Blarney, flattering speeches.
Blasé, satiated with pleasures.
Blasphemous, profane, impious.
Blast-furnace, a furnace for smelting ore in which the fire is kept up by a constant blast of hot air.
Blatant, noisily assertive.
Blazon, to proclaim, spread abroad; to depict the figures on coats of arms.
Blear-eyed, having dim sight.
Blench, to shrink from fear, flinch.
Blight, that which blasts or withers.
Blithesome, gay, light-hearted.
Blizzard, biting storm of wind and snow.
Blockade, to hem in the enemy.
Block-house, a small fort; see Dict. of Gen. Infor.
Block-system, system for securing safety in railway travelling; see Dict. of Gen. Infor.
Block-tin, tin in the form of blocks.
Blond or blonde, fair in face and hair.
Blood-letting, bleeding a person by opening a vein.
Blood-money, money earned by betraying another to death.
Bludgeon, cudgel; stick heavy at one end.
Blue-book, a name given to government official papers and reports from the usual colour of their cover.
Blue-stocking, a learned woman who neglects her personal appearance.
Bluish, of a blue tint.
Boatswain, see Dict. of Gen. Infor.
Bodice, upper part of a woman's dress reaching to the waist.
Body-snatcher, one who unearths the bodies of the dead for dissection.
Boer, a South African farmer of Dutch descent.
Bogey, a bugbear.
Boggle, to hesitate from fear.
Bog-trotter, a term applied to an Irishman.
Bogus, false, counterfeit.
Bohemian, a native of Bohemia; one who lives in a free and easy manner.
Bolar or boyar, a Russian nobleman.
Boisterous, noisy and rough.
Bolas, a kind of lasso made of balls strung together.
Bole'ro, a lively Spanish national dance.
Bolus, medicine in the form of a big pill.
Bomb, an explosive projectile.
Bombard, to attack with shot and shell.
Bombardier, an artillery-man who serves the guns.
Bombast, boastful inflated language.
Bomb-proof, proof against bombs or shells.
Bona-fide, in good faith, genuine.
Bon-bon, a sweetmeat, a cracker.
Bond, a written obligation under seal to perform a contract or pay a sum of money.
Bonded, deposited in licensed warehouses until the customs duties are paid.
Bone-black, animal charcoal.
Boniface, a term applied to an inn-keeper.
Bon-mot, a witty saying.
Bonne, a French nurse-maid.
Bonnet-rouge, "red cap," one who wore the red cap of liberty during the French revolution; a revolutionary.
Bon-ton, tone or manners of good society.
Bonus, an extra dividend.
Bon vivant, a lover of the pleasures of the table.
Boodle, bribery amongst officials.
Book-keeping, a systematic method of keeping accounts.
Book-maker, a professional betting man.
Book-plate, a label placed on the inside of the cover of a book designed to show the author's name.
Book-worm, an inordinate reader of books.
Booming, pressing the sale of an object by puffing.
Boomerang, an Australian missile which when skilfully hurled returns to the hand.
Boon, a benefit, a blessing.
Boorish, like a boor, rough, uncouth.
Boot-jack, an implement for taking off boots.
Bootless, fruitless, unavailing.
Boot-tree, a last or block on which boots are stretched to preserve their shape.
Booty, spoil, plunder.
Borachio, a Spanish term for a drunkard.
Borderer, one living on the border-land between two countries.
Boreal, belonging to the north wind.
Boredom, state of being bored, ennui.
Borough, a town which sends a member to Parliament.
Boscage or boskage, wealth of woodland.
Bosky, bushy, woody.
Bosom, the breast.
Botany, the science of plants.
Botargo, relish made from the roe of mullet.
Boudoir, a lady's private sitting-room.
Bough, the branch of a tree.
Bouilli, a French name for meat gently cooked.
Boulder, a detached piece of rock.
Boulevard, a street or promenade with trees on either side.
Bouleversement, a turning upside-down.

Boundary, a limit.
Bounteous, liberal, plentiful.
Bouquet, a bunch of flowers; the aroma of wine or cigars.
Bourdon, the base stop of an organ; the drone of a bagpipe.
Bourgeois, belonging to the middle class.
Bourgeoisie, the French middle class, the class of shop-keepers.
Bourgeon, to put forth buds or shoots.
Bourn, a limit, boundary, goal.
Bourse, the exchange, the money-market.
Bovine, ox-like.
Bowdlerise, to expurgate to an unnecessary extent, as Bowdler did with Shakespeare's plays.
Bowels, the entrails.
Bowie-knife, a knife shaped like a dagger.
Bowling-alley, long narrow place where bowls are played.
Bowsprit, a spar projecting beyond the bows of a vessel.
Boxing-day, December 26th, the day when Christmas-boxes are given.
Boycott, to exclude from all dealings.
Brace, to tighten; to strap together; to strengthen.
Bracket, a support attached to a wall; marks used to enclose words.
Brackish, somewhat salt or briny.
Brad-awl, a tool for boring holes.
Braggadocio, a noisy boastful person; loud boasting.
Brahman or brahmin, a member of the priestly caste among the Hindus.
Braise, to stew meat with bacon.
Brand, to mark with a hot iron; a half burnt piece of wood.
Branded, marked; marked with infamy, stigmatized.
Brand-new or bran-new, perfectly new.
Brasier or brazier, a vessel for holding burning coals.
Bravado, an outward show of courage, bluster, insolent defiance.
Bravo, "well done;" a daring villain.
Brawling, noisily quarrelling, flowing noisily along.
Brawn, sinew or muscle; pickled meat made of pig's head.
Breach, an opening, a gap; a violation.
Breast-work, a wall or earth-work breast-high for defence.
Breathe, to draw in and give out breath.
Breccia, rock composed of various substances embedded in lime.
Breech-block, movable piece used for closing the breech of a gun.
Breech-loader, a gun in which the charge is inserted at the breech.
Breton, a native of Brittany.
Brevet, military rank temporarily conferred.
Breviary, the Roman Catholic prayer-book.
Brevity, shortness, conciseness.
Brewery, a place where beer is made.
Bric-à-brac, curiosities, knick-knacks.
Bridal, belonging to a bride; a wedding.
Bridewell, a prison, a penitentiary.
Bridle, a check or restraint; the bit and reins used in guiding a horse; to draw up the head in an affected manner.
Brier or Briar, a prickly shrub, a wild rose-bush; a tobacco pipe.
Brigadier, a military officer who commands a brigade.
Brigand, a highway robber, a bandit.
Brigantine, a two-masted vessel with a square-rigged foremast.
Brindled, marked with streaks and blotches.
Brine-pan, a shallow bed of sand in which salt is obtained from brine by evaporation.
Briny, like brine, salt.
Briquette, a solid block made of coal-dust.
Brisket, that part of the breast of an animal which is nearest the ribs.
Bristling, standing stiffly erect like bristles.
Britannia metal, a mixed metal consisting chiefly of tin.
Britain, the British Isles.
Briton, a native of Britain.
Broach, to open, to tap; to introduce.
Broad-arrow, a mark like an arrow-head indicating Government property.
Broad-cast, scattered freely about.
Brobdingnagian, gigantic, like the inhabitants of Brobdingnag in Gulliver's Travels.
Brocade, embossed silk or satin.
Broc'ard, a standard rule, canon.
Brochure, a short treatise, pamphlet.
Brogue, provincial accent, especially an Irish accent.
Broidery, embroidery.
Brokerage, commission charged by a broker.
Bronchitis, inflammation of the bronchial tubes.
Brooch, an ornament furnished with a pin.
Brougham, a closed carriage drawn by a single horse.
Brow-beat, to hector, bully.
Brownie, a fairy.
Brown-study, a reverie.
Browse, to graze.
Bruin, a bear.
Bruit, noise, rumour, report.
Brunette, a woman with dark eyes, hair, and complexion.
Brusque, abrupt in manner.
Brutality, brute-like conduct, inhuman cruelty.
Buccaneer, a pirate.
Buckler, a small round shield.
Buckram, a coarse stiff linen.
Bucolic, belonging to herdsmen, rustic, pastoral.
Buddhism, the religion of the Buddhists.
Budget, a collection of things; the annual statement of accounts made by the Chancellor of the Exchequer.
Buffer, a contrivance for lessening the force of concussion; a dull stupid fellow.
Buffet, a side-board; a counter where refreshments are sold.
Buffoonery, clownish behaviour, act of playing the mountebank.
Bugbear, a bogey, an imaginary object of terror.
Bulbous, bulb-shaped.
Bull, a speculator who schemes to raise the price of stocks; a papal edict; a statement involving an absurd contradiction.
Bulletin, an official notification concerning some matter of public interest.
Bullion, uncoined gold and silver.
Bulwark, a defensive screen or rampart; that part of the side of a vessel which rises above the deck.
Bum-bailiff, an under-bailiff.
Bumbledom, the pompous fussiness of low-placed officials.
Bum-boat, a boat used for carrying provisions to a vessel.
Bumptious, intolerably self-assertive.
Bungalow, a lightly built one-storied house.
Bunion or bunyon, an inflamed enlargement of the joint of the big toe.
Bunkum, big empty talk.
Bunting, the material used for flags.
Buoyancy, the power of floating, lightness; light-heartedness.
Burden, a load, weight; the refrain of a song.
Bureau, a writing table with drawers; a public office.
Bureaucracy, government by officials and red-tape.
Burgess, an inhabitant of a borough, a citizen.
Burgher, a citizen.
Burglary, the breaking into a house with intent to steal.
Burgomaster, a German term for the chief magistrate of a town.
Burke, to murder by suffocation as "Burke" did; to quietly put an end to.
Burlesque, a travesty, ludicrous imitation.
Burmese, a native of Burma.
Burnish, to polish by friction.
Burrow, a hole dug in the ground by certain animals for protection.
Bursar, a treasurer; one who holds a college exhibition.
Busby, a tall bushy fur cap worn by the hussars.
Business, occupation, trade.
Buskin, a thick-soled boot worn by tragic actors in ancient Greece.
Butchery, wholesale massacre, cruel slaughter.
Butter-milk, churn-milk, the liquid that remains after butter has been separated.
Buttery-hatch, the hatchway of a room where wine and provisions are stored.
Buttress, a projecting block of masonry built against a wall to support it.
Buxom, blithe, hearty and comely.
By-law, a regulation made by some local body or corporation.
By-product, a supplementary or subsidiary product.
By-word, an object of general contempt.
Byzantine, relating to Byzantium the ancient name of Constantinople.

Caaba, a building within the great mosque at Mecca.
Cabal, a small party united for intrigue.
Cab'aret, a tavern.
Cabalistic, having a secret meaning.
Caber, a pole tossed by Highland athletes.
Cabinet-council, a meeting of cabinet ministers.
Cable-gram, a submarine telegram.
Cabriolet, a covered one-horse carriage.
Caca'o, the chocolate-tree.
Cach'alot, the sperm-whale.
Cachet, a seal, authority.
Cachinnation, loud laughter.
Cachucha, a Spanish dance.
Cacoe'thes, a bad habit.
Cacoph'ony, a discordant sound.
Cadav'erous, resembling a corpse, pallid.
Caddie, a boy who carries a golfer's clubs.
Cadence, fall of the voice; tone or sound.
Cadet', a military or naval pupil; a junior.
Cadi, a Turkish judge.
Café, a coffee-house, a restaurant.
Caique, a small light Turkish boat.
Cairn, a heap of stones raised as a monument.
Cajol'ery, flattery, coaxing.
Calamitous, disastrous, deplorable.
Cal'culable, that may be reckoned.
Calculation, the art of reckoning, reckoning.
Caldron, a large pot or kettle.
Caledonian, a native of Scotland.
Calendar, a list of the days of the year.
Calender, a machine for giving a gloss to cloth or paper by pressing it between rollers.
Calenture, a fever which attacks sailors in the tropics.
Calibre, the bore of a gun; capacity.
Calico-printer, one who prints patterns on calico.
Calif or caliph, a recognised successor of Mahomet.
Call-boy, a boy who calls the actors when it is time for them to go on the stage.
Calig'raphy, elegant writing.
Callipers, compasses with arched legs.
Calisthenics, a light form of gymnastics.
Callousness, want of feeling.
Callow, unfledged, bare.
Calmness, the state of being quiet or placid.
Calorific, producing heat.
Calumet, the American Indians' pipe of peace.
Calumniation, a false charge.
Calumny, slander.
Calvary, the scene of the crucifixion; a representation of the scene for purpose of devotion.
Calvinism, the doctrine of the reformer Calvin.
Camaraderie, good-fellowship.
Cambrian, belonging to Wales.
Camel'opard, the giraffe.
Camera, an apparatus for taking photographs; a private room.
Campaign, the duration of a war and the operations of the opponents.
Cam'panile, a large detached bell-tower.
Campanology, the art of bell-ringing.
Canail'le, the scum of the populace.
Canal, an artificial waterway.
Canard, a hoax, a made-up story.
Cancel, to efface, to annul.
Cancerous, of the nature of a cancer, malignant.
Candelabrum, (pl. candelabra), an ornamental candlestick with branches.
Candent, at a white heat.
Candescent, glowing with a white heat.
Candidate, one who seeks some post or honour.
Candid, frank, open.
Candlemas, the festival of the Purification of the Virgin Mary; Feb. 2.
Canine, of the nature of a dog.
Canker, an ulcerous sore; a disease in trees.
Cannibalism, the eating of human flesh.
Cannonade, an artillery attack.
Canoe, a light narrow boat with paddles.
Canon-law, Ecclesiastical law.
Cañon, a deep ravine.
Canonicals, the official dress of a clergyman.
Canonization, the act of enrolling a person on the list of saints.
Canopied, having a roof-like covering.
Cantab, a student of Cambridge University.
Cantankerous, quarrelsome, ill-tempered.
Cantata, a choral work.
Canteen, a barrack refreshment room.
Canthar'ides (id-es), Spanish flies used for producing blisters.
Canticle, a sacred song.
Cantilever or Cantaliver, a heavy bracket to support balconies, &c.
Canto, a division of a poem.
Can'tonal, belonging to a canton or district, especially in Switzerland.
Canton'ment, a military station.
Canvas, a coarse kind of cloth.
Canvass, to examine; to solicit votes.
Caoutchouc, India-rubber in a raw state.
Capability, the power or skill to do a thing.
Capacious, wide, roomy.
Cap-a-pie, from head to foot.
Caparison, trappings for a horse.
Caper, to frisk; the bud of the caper-bush.
Capercailzie, a kind of grouse.
Capillary, fine like a hair; a minute blood-vessel.
Capitalist, one who has a large amount of surplus money to invest.
Capitation, a numeration by head or individual.
Capitol, in ancient Rome a temple in which the Senate met; hence a senate-house.
Capit'ulary, a statute passed by a chapter.
Capitulation, surrender on conditions.
Capon, a castrated cock.
Capote, a long cloak with a hood.
Capricious, full of whims, changeable.
Capsize, to upset.
Capstan, a machine on a ship to raise the anchor or any other great weight.
Capsule, the seed vessel of a plant; a small case containing some disagreeable medicine.
Captain-general, a commander-in-chief.
Captious, hard to please, fault-finding.
Captivating, bewitching, fascinating.
Capture, a seizure, a prize.
Capuchin', one of the orders of Franciscan friars.
Carack, a large ship of burden.
Caracole, a half-turn taken by a horse.
Caramel, a sweetmeat; burnt sugar.

Carat, a weight of four grains.
Caravan, a party of travellers in the East; a house on wheels.
Caravan'sary, a kind of inn in the East.
Carbine, a small rifle.
Carboniferous, containing coal.
Carboy, a large bottle in a case to hold acids, &c.
Carbuncle, a red gem; a large painful boil.
Carcass or carcase, the dead body of an animal.
Cardigan, a knitted woollen jacket.
Cardinal, a dignitary in the church of Rome ranking next to the Pope; bright red; chief.
Card-sharper, one who cheats at cards.
Careen, to lean to one side (said of a ship).
Career, path in life, profession.
Caress, to fondle; an embrace.
Caricature, a ludicrous likeness.
Carlist, a follower of the Spanish pretender Don Carlos.
Carmine, a crimson colouring matter.
Carnage, slaughter.
Carnal, of the flesh, not spiritual.
Carnival, in Roman Catholic countries a period of revelry just before Lent.
Carniv'orous, flesh-eating.
Carol, a song of gladness.
Car'olus, a gold coin of Charles I's. reign.
Carousal, a noisy revel.
Carpentry, the work of a carpenter.
Carpet-knight, one who has been made a knight by favour, not for his services.
Carping, cavilling, censorious.
Carriage, a vehicle; the act of or charge for carrying; deportment.
Carrion, putrid flesh.
Carron-oil, a liniment to relieve burns.
Carte-blanche, a free hand, full power to act.
Carte-de-visite (pl. cartes-de-visite), a small mounted photograph.
Cartel, an agreement between nations at war to exchange prisoners; a challenge.
Carthusian, one of an order of monks.
Cartoon, a design on strong paper; a sketch usually with some political event for subject.
Cartouch, a cartridge; a sculptured scroll.
Cartridge-paper, a thick strong paper.
Cartwright, a maker of carts.
Cascade, a waterfall.
Ca'sein or caseine, that part of milk which turns into curd.
Casement, a window opening on hinges.
Case-shot, a shell packed with shot and iron scraps.
Cashier, one in charge of the money; to dismiss from a post.
Cashmere, a soft woollen dress material.
Casi'no, a public hall of amusement on the continent.
Cassation, the annulling of a sentence.
Cassock, a long robe worn under a surplice.
Castanet, a pair of small shells of ivory or hard wood rattled in the hand when dancing.
Cast-away, one shipwrecked or outcast.
Caste, social rank, especially in India.
Cas'tellated, with turrets like a castle.
Castigation, chastisement.
Castilian, a native of Castile.
Casting-vote, the deciding vote when the others are equally distributed.
Cast-iron, iron melted and cast in a mould.
Castor, the beaver; a small roller on the leg of a chair, etc.; a vessel for sprinkling powders.
Cas'trameta'tion, the art of encamping.
Casually, without design, accidentally.
Casualty, a chance event; a fatal accident.
Casuistry, the study of cases of conscience.
Casus belli, a cause of war.
Cataclysm, a deluge; a great disaster.
Catacomb, a subterranean burial-place.
Catafalque, a tomb-like structure temporarily erected for a lying-in-state.
Cat'alan, a native of Catalonia.
Catalogue, a list of names, etc.
Catapult, an ancient instrument of war; a toy for throwing small stones.
Cataract, a waterfall; a disease of the eye.
Catarrh', a cold in the head or throat.
Catas'trophe (tro-phe), a calamity; a climax.
Catchment, a surface from which the water may be drained.
Catechism, a form of instruction by means of questions and answers.
Catechu'men, one who is being instructed in the rudiments of Christianity.
Categorical, absolute, positive.
Cat'enary, like a catena or chain.
Caterer, one who provides food or entertainment for others.
Caterpillar, the larva of an insect.
Cathedral, the head church of a diocese.
Catho'licism, adherence to the Catholic Church.
Catholicity, universality.
Catkin, the blossom of hazel and other plants.
Cat's-paw, one who is made the tool of another.
Caucasian, a name given to the white races.
Caucus, an organization that works for the success of a political party in elections.
Caudal, pertaining to the tail.
Cauliflower, a species of cabbage.
Caulk, to stop the seams of a ship.
Causation, the act of causing.
Causeway, a raised way paved with stones.
Caustic, a burning substance; stinging.
Cau'telous, cautious, wily, cunning.
Cauterize, to burn with caustic or a hot iron.
Cautious, wily, watchful.
Cavalcade, a procession on horseback.
Cavalierly, haughtily, disdainfully.
Cavalry, horse-soldiers.
Caveat, a caution, a formal warning.
Cavernous, hollow, containing caverns.
Caviare, the salted roes of certain fish.
Cavil, to raise frivolous objections.
Cavity, a hollow or empty place.
Ceaseless, continual, endless.
Cede, to yield, to give way.
Cedilla, a mark under the letter C to show it is pronounced like S; thus ç.
Ceiling, the inner roof of a room.
Celebrant, one who officiates at a religious rite.
Celebrity, a noted person; fame.
Celerity, swiftness, speed.
Celery, a plant with edible stalks.
Celestial, heavenly; a native of China.
Celibacy, the state of being unmarried.
Cellarer, one in charge of the cellar.
Cellular, consisting of little cells.
Celluloid, a hard compound used in the place of tortoiseshell, ivory, etc.
Celtic, belonging to the Celts.
Cement, a substance for making two bodies cohere; a bond of union.
Cemetery, a public burial-place.
Cenobite, a monk.
Cenotaph, a tomb built in memory of a person buried in another place.
Censer, a pan in which incense is burned.
Censorship, the office of examiner of war news, books, plays, etc., before they are published.
Censo'rious, severe, addicted to censure.
Censure, to blame, to reproach, to condemn.
Census, a periodical counting of the population.
Cent, a hundred; an American coin.
Centaur, a mythical being, half man half horse.
Centenary, a hundredth anniversary.
Centennial, occurring once in a century.
Centigrade, divided into 100 degrees.
Centimetre, the 100th part of a metre.
Centipede, an insect with many legs.
Centralization, the act of bringing to a common centre.
Centre, the middle.
Centre-board, a sliding keel.
Centri'fugal, receding from the centre.
Centurion, formerly an officer of 100 men.
Century, a hundred years; a hundred.
Cera'mic, relating to pottery.
Cer'berus, a fabulous dog with three heads.
Cereal, a grain used for food.
Cer'ebral, belonging to the brain.
Cerement, clothes for the dead.
Ceremonial, outward form; relating to ceremony.
Certificate, a written testimony.
Ceru'lean, blue, sky-coloured.
Cervical, belonging to the neck.
Cessation, a stop, a pause.
Cess-pool, a hole to receive the contents of a drain.
Chafe, to warm by rubbing; to fret.
Chagrin', vexation, regret.
Chairman, the president of a meeting.
Chaise, a two-wheeled carriage.
Chalet, a Swiss cottage.
Chalice, a communion-cup.
Chalk, a species of limestone.
Challenge, to summon to single combat or to some trial of skill; to call in question.
Cham, the ruler of Tartary.
Chamberlain, a domestic officer in the service of a king or nobleman.
Chamber-practice, the practice of a counsel who advises clients but does not plead in court.
Chameleon, a lizard which changes colour.
Chamfer, to cut to form a level.
Chamois, a species of antelope.
Champagne, a light sparkling wine.
Champaign, flat open country.
Champion, one who does battle for a cause; the victor in a trial of skill, etc.
Chancel, that part of a church which contains the altar.
Chan'cellor, the head of a court or university.
Chancery, a division of the court presided over by the Lord High Chancellor.
Chandelier', a pendant to hold a number of lights.
Chandler, a general dealer.
Changeling, a child left in the place of another; an unstable person.
Channel, a passage of water, a wide strait.
Chanticleer, a cock.
Chantry, a chapel endowed for the chanting of masses for the dead.
Chaos, confusion; a scene of disorder.
Chaotic, in a state of chaos.
Chap'eron, an older person who accompanies a young unmarried lady to public places.
Chaplaincy, the post of a clergyman in the army, navy, a private family, or some institution.
Chaplet, a wreath for the hair; a rosary.
Chapter-house, a building where the official clergy of a cathedral meet for business.
Characteristic, that which marks the character of a person or thing.
Characterize, to mark by certain qualities.
Charade', a sort of riddle.
Charing, work done by the day.
Chargé d'affaires, one in charge of an embassy during the absence of the ambassador.
Chariness, caution, sparingness.
Charioteer, the driver of a chariot.
Charity, generosity of thought and deed.
Chariva'ri, a confused din as of children playing at bands, noisy, mock music.
Char'latan, a quack, a mountebank.
Charles's Wain, a northern constellation.
Charnel-house, a place containing the bones of the dead.
Chart, a map of the sea.
Chartered, granted by charter, privileged; hired.
Chartist, a member of a democratic party.
Chartreuse, a liqueur.
Char'tulary, the record of a monastery.
Chary, careful, sparing.
Chasm, a deep gap in the earth.
Chasseur, a light foot or horse soldier.
Chas'tisement, punishment.
Chastity, purity.
Chasuble, a vestment of a priest.
Château (pl. châteaux), a castle; a country mansion.
Chatelaine, the mistress of a castle; an ornament worn at a lady's waist.
Chattel, any movable article of property.
Chauffeur, a stoker, a motor driver.
Chauvinism, exaggerated patriotism.
Cheap-Jack, a travelling vendor of cheap goods.
Cheddar, a kind of cheese.
Cheese-paring, the rind of a cheese; stingy.
Chef, a man cook; chief.
Chef-d'œuvre (pl. chefs-d'œuvre), a masterpiece.
Cheiropodist or chiropodist, one skilled in the treatment of the feet and hands.
Chemically, according to the laws of chemistry.
Chemise, an under-garment worn by women.
Chemistry or chymistry, the science that treats of the elements in nature.
Chenille, a sort of silk or worsted cord.
Cheque-book, a book made up of cheques.
Chequer-board, a board for chess, &c.
Cheroot, a cigar.
Cherub (pl. cherubs or cherubim), an angelic being; a lovely child.
Chestnut, a tree and its fruit; reddish brown.
Cheval-glass, a large swing glass on a stand.
Chev'elure, a head of hair; a part of a comet.
Chiaroscu'ro, the art of treating light and shade in a picture.
Chiboque or chibouk, a Turkish pipe.
Chic, elegance, style.
Chica'nery, trickery, quibbling.
Chicory, a plant used to mix with coffee.
Chief-justice, the chief judge of a court.
Chiffonier, a piece of furniture; a rag-picker.
Chilblain, inflammation of the hands or feet caused by cold.
Childermas-day, Holy Innocents' Day; Dec. 28.
Chiltern Hundreds, see Dict. of Gen. Infor.
Chimæra or chime'ra, an absurd fancy; a fabulous monster.
Chimerical, fanciful, imaginary.
Chinchilla, a small fur-bearing animal.
Chine, a natural opening in a cliff; the backbone of an animal.
Chinese, a native of China.
Chintz, a printed cotton fabric.
Chiromancy, fortune-telling by the hand.
Chisel, the tool of a sculptor or carpenter.
Chi'valrous, knightly, courteous, brave.
Chloroform, a colourless liquid used to produce insensibility.
Chocolate, a paste made from the fruit of the cacao-tree.
Choir, a band of singers; that part of a church occupied by them.
Cholera, a disease; see Med. Dict.
Chol'eric, hot-tempered.
Chopsticks, two small sticks of wood, &c., used to eat with in China.
Choral, belonging to a choir or chorus.
Chord, a number of notes struck together with harmonious effect.
Chorister, a member of a choir.
Chorus, a number of people singing together; a song or part of a song sung by them.
Chough, a bird resembling a crow.
Chow-chow, mixed pickles.
Chrism, consecrated oil.
Christendom, all the Christian nations.
Chromatic, relating to colour; rising in semitones.
Chromo, a kind of coloured print.
Chromo-lithography, the art of printing in colours.
Chronic, of long duration; liable to recur.

Chronicle, a record; a history.
Chronology, the method of reckoning time; the arrangement of events in their proper order.
Chronom'eter, a watch or other time-keeper.
Chrysalis, the form which a grub or caterpillar assumes before it becomes a winged insect.
Chrysan'themum, a plant with large blooms.
Churching, the returning of thanks in church on the part of a mother after child-birth.
Churlish, rough, ill-bred.
Churn, a machine for making butter.
Chute, a slide; a waterfall.
Chutney or chutnee, an Indian condiment.
Cicatrice, a scar.
Cicerone, a guide.
Ciceronian, in the style of Cicero.
Ci-devant, former.
Cigarette, tobacco rolled in thin paper.
Ci-git, here lies.
Cimme'rian, very dark, gloomy.
Cincture, a belt, a girdle.
Cinerary, for ashes (of an urn).
Cingalese, a native of Ceylon.
Cinque-ports, see Dict. of Gen. Infor.
Cipher, the figure 0; secret writing.
Circu'itous, roundabout.
Circulation, circular movement as of the blood; diffusion.
Circumambient, surrounding.
Circumcision, a Jewish rite.
Circumference, the line that encloses a circle.
Circumlocution, an indirect manner of speaking.
Circumnavigate, to sail round.
Circumscribe, to enclose, to bound, to limit.
Circumspect, prudent, watchful.
Circumstantial, detailed.
Circumvention, the act of outwitting any one.
Cirque, a circus; a valley surrounded by mountains.
Cis-alpine, to the south of the Alps.
Cis-montane, on this side of the mountains.
Cist, a chest; a tomb.
Cistercian, the name of an order of monks.
Cistern, a vessel for storing water.
Citadel, a fortress.
Citation, a call to appear before a judge; a quotation.
Citizenship, the privileges of a citizen.
Civic, relating to a city.
Civil Law, the law of a state; Roman law.
Civil List, the yearly sum granted to the crown.
Civil Service, the non-military branch of the public service.
Civil War, a war between fellow-countrymen.
Civilian, one who is not in the army or navy.
Civility, politeness.
Civilization, the state of being freed from barbarism.
Clachan, a small village.
Claimant, one who claims.
Clairvoyance, the supposed power of seeing invisible things.
Clamminess, a moist sticky state.
Clamorous, noisy, vociferous.
Clannish, united in close bonds.
Clandestine, secret, underhand.
Clangorous, loud and harsh, metallic.
Claqueur, one paid to applaud in a theatre.
Clarenceux or clarencieux, the second king-at-arms.
Claret-cup, an iced drink of claret, &c.
Clarification, the act of clearing from impurities.
Clarionet or clarinet, a wind instrument.
Classic, an author or work of the first order.
Classical, relating to the classics.
Classification, arrangement into classes.
Claustral, relating to a cloister.
Clavier, the keyboard of a pianoforte, etc.
Claymore, a Highland sword.
Cleanliness, the state of being neat and clean.
Clearance, the act of clearing.
Clearing-house, see Dict. of Gen. Infor.
Cleavage, the manner or act of splitting.
Clef, a sign in music placed at the beginning of a staff.
Clemency, mercy, leniency.
Clepsydra, a water-clock.
Cleptomania or kleptomania, a mania for stealing.
Clere'story or clearstory, the uppermost story of a church pierced by a row of windows.
Clerical, relating to the clergy or to a clerk.
Clerk, a person employed in an office; a cleric.
Client, one who has a professional man to act for him.
Clientèle, the whole body of one's clients.
Climacteric, a period in life when some constitutional change is supposed to occur.
Climatize, to accustom to a different climate.
Climax, the culminating point.
Clinical, relating to a sick-bed.
Clinker-built, built with the planks overlapping each other.
Clique, an exclusive set of people.
Cloister, a convent; an enclosed walk.
Closure, the act of closing; conclusion.
Cloven-hoofed, having the foot divided.
Cloy, to satiate, to surfeit.
Clubbable, sociable.
Clue or clew, a ball of thread; something that helps to solve a mystery.
Coact, to act in concert with.
Coadju'tor, a colleague, a fellow-helper.
Coagency, co-operation.
Coag'ulate, to curdle, to congeal.
Coales'cent, joining or growing into one body.
Coali'tion, a union of powers or individuals.
Coal-measures, strata in which coal is found.
Coast-guard, a body of men who keep watch on the coast to prevent smuggling.
Coat-armour, armorial bearings.
Coaxer, a wheedler.
Cobble-stone, a rounded stone used for paving.
Co'caine, a drug that deadens pain.
Cochineal, a scarlet dye obtained from the cochineal insect.
Cockade, a rosette worn on the hat as a badge.
Cock-and-bull, a term for a silly made-upstory.
Cockerel, a young cock.
Cockneyism, the peculiar style and speech of a Londoner.
Cockroach, a beetle found in houses.
Cockswain, one who steers or has charge of a small boat and its crew.
Cocktail, a drink made of spirits, etc.
Cocoon, the silky wrapper spun by the larvæ of certain insects.
Coda, an extra passage at the end of a musical composition.
Code, a system of laws, rules, or signals.
Codex (pl. codices), an ancient manuscript.
Codicil, an addition to a will.
Codify, to reduce to a code.
Coemption, the act of buying up the whole quantity of anything.
Coercion, restraint, compulsion.
Coe'val, of the same age.
Coexistence, existence at the same time.
Coextensive, having the same or equal extent.
Coffee-room, a public room in a hotel where refreshments are served.
Cogency, the power of convincing; force.
Cogitation, meditation, reflection.
Cognac, the finest French brandy.
Cognate, having the same origin or nature.
Cog'nizable, that may be known; that may be judicially tried.
Cog'nizance, judicial notice; knowledge.
Cohabit, to live together as man and wife.
Coheir, a joint heir.
Coherence, a sticking together; consistency in reasoning.
Cohesion, coherence, connection.
Cohibit, to restrain, to hinder.
Coiffeur, a hairdresser.
Coiffure, a head-dress.
Coincidence, a striking similarity in the time at which two events occur.
Coke, coal with the gas extracted from it.
Col'ander, a straining utensil.
Cold-chisel, a tool for cutting cold metals.
Collaborate, to work together.
Collapsible, capable of closing or shutting up.
Collar-bone, the bone joining the shoulder and breast bones.
Collate, to bring together for comparison, e.g., old MSS.
Collateral, side by side; having a common ancestor but not descended in the same line.
Colleague, an associate in an office.
Collecta'nea, passages culled from various authors.
Collectivism, a socialistic doctrine.
Collegiate, relating to, or like a college.
Collier, a coal-digger; a ship that carries coal.
Collinear, in a corresponding line.
Collision, the act of coming into violent contact.
Collo'quialism, an expression used only in familiar conversation.
Colloquy, conversation; dialogue.
Collusion, a secret compact.
Colon, a punctuation mark; the large intestine.
Colonel, the chief officer of a regiment.
Colonial, belonging to a colony.
Colonization, the act of founding a colony.
Colonnade, a row of columns.
Colophon, a device or printer's name, with date and place of publication, formerly put at the end of a book.
Colossal, huge, of great size.
Colour-sergeant, a sergeant in charge of the colours of a regiment.
Colporteur, a travelling vendor of tracts, &c.
Columbary, a dove-cot; a pigeon-house.
Column, a pillar; an upright row of lines in a book.
Coma, stupor, heavy sleep.
Comatose, lethargic, in a state of coma.
Comb, an instrument for dressing the hair; a bird's crest.
Combatant, one who fights.
Combination, a union of persons or things.
Combustible, inflammable.
Comedian, an actor or writer of comedies.
Comeliness, grace, beauty.
Comestible, an eatable.
Comet, a heavenly body with a luminous tail.
Comfit, a sweetmeat.
Comforter, one who consoles; a woollen scarf.
Comical, droll, laughable.
Comity, courtesy, civility.
Comma, a punctuation mark.
Commander-in-chief, the head of an army.
Comme il faut, correct, seemly.
Commemorate, to celebrate the memory of.
Commencement, beginning, origin.
Commendably, in a praiseworthy manner.
Commensurate, of the same measure.
Com'mentary, a comment; a book of comments.
Com'mentator, a writer of a commentary.
Commercial, belonging to trade.
Commination, a threat, a denunciation.
Commin'atory, threatening.
Commisera'tion, pity, compassion.
Commissa'riat, the provisioning department of an army.
Com'missary, one commissioned to act for another.
Commissionaire, a messenger, light-porter, or door-keeper.
Commissioner, one appointed to perform some office.
Commitment, the act of committing.
Committee, a body of persons appointed to settle some question or conduct some business.
Commodious, roomy, convenient.
Commodity, convenience; a saleable article.
Commodore, the commander of a small squadron of ships.
Common-council, the council of a city or corporate town.
Common-law, the ancient unwritten law of the land.
Common-pleas, one of the law courts.
Commonage, the right of feeding cattle on a common.
Commonalty, the common people.
Commoner, one below the rank of nobility.
Common-place book, a memorandum book.
Commonwealth, a republic; the entire body of the people.
Commotion, uproar, agitation.
Commu'nicable, that may be imparted.
Communicative, ready to impart information.
Communiqué, official information given to the Press for publication.
Com'munism, a state of things in which individual rights to property are abolished.
Commutation, exchange.
Compact', pressed together.
Com'pact, an agreement.
Companion-ladder, a ladder leading to the quarter deck.
Companionable, sociable.
Com'parable, worthy to be compared.
Comparatively, by comparison.
Comparison, the act of likening one thing to another.
Compartment, a division.
Compass, an instrument by which ships are guided; limit; range; to encircle.
Compassionate, merciful, pitiful.
Compatible, consistent, suitable.
Compatriot, a fellow-countryman.
Compeer', an equal, a companion.
Compendious, abridged, comprehensive.
Compendium, a summary.
Compensation, recompense, amends.
Competence, ability; enough to live on.
Compet'itive, relating to competition.
Compla'cency, satisfaction; civility.
Complai'nant, one who brings an action.
Complai'sance, civility; desire to please.
Complementary, completing, making up.
Completeness, the state of being finished.
Complexion, the colour of the face; aspect.
Complexity, the state of being complicated.
Compli'ance, submission, consent.
Complication, intricacy; the act of involving.
Complicity, partnership in wrong-doing.
Complimentary, expressing praise.
Com'pline, the last service at night in the Roman Catholic Church.
Complot, a plot, a conspiracy.
Component, a constituent part or ingredient.
Comportment, behaviour.
Composedly, in a self-possessed manner.
Com'posite, made of several distinct parts.
Compo'sure, self-possession, calmness.
Comprehend, to understand, include.
Comprehensive, having the power to comprehend.
Compressibility, capability of being reduced in size by pressure.
Com'promise, to settle by mutual concessions; bring under suspicion.
Comptroller, an officer appointed to verify the accounts of others.
Compulsion, force, the act of compelling.
Compunction, remorse, regret.
Computa'tion, the act of reckoning; an estimate.
Con amo're, with zest; earnestly.
Concatena'tion, a series of links.
Concave, curved like the inner surface of a sphere.
Concealment, the act of hiding; secrecy.
Concede, to admit, yield, grant.
Conceit, vanity; a fancy.

Conceivable, that may be understood or believed.
Concentration, the act of bringing to a centre.
Concen'tric, having a common centre.
Conception, the act of conceiving; an idea.
Concernment, that in which one is concerned.
Concert', to plan, contrive.
Con'cert, a musical performance.
Concer'to, a musical composition.
Concessionaire, one who holds a concession.
Conchology, the science of shells.
Conciliar, relating to a council.
Concil'iatory, tending to reconcile.
Concise'ness, brevity.
Conclave, a secret assembly.
Conclusive, decisive.
Concoction, a mixture; a design.
Concom'itant, conjoined with; accompanying.
Concordance, agreement; an index showing where each principal word of a book occurs.
Concordat, a compact, a convention.
Concourse, a gathering, a crowd.
Concretely, not in an abstract manner.
Concu'piscence, lust.
Concurrence, union, agreement.
Concussion, a violent shaking; a shock.
Condem'natory, expressing blame.
Condensation, the act of compressing.
Condescension, friendliness towards inferiors.
Condign', deserved, merited.
Conditional, on conditions, not absolute.
Condo'lence, sympathy for another's grief.
Condonement, forgiveness, pardon.
Conducive, tending or contributing to.
Conductor, a leader, manager, director.
Con'duit, a pipe to convey water.
Coney, a rabbit.
Confabulation, familiar conversation.
Confection, a sweetmeat; a mixture.
Confectionery, sweetmeats, etc.
Confederacy, a league, union.
Conference, a meeting for discussion.
Confession, avowal; an acknowledgment of wrong-doing.
Confidant m., Confidante f., a trusted friend.
Confidential, trusty; told in secret.
Confidingly, trustfully.
Configuration, external form.
Confinement, restraint, imprisonment, childbirth.
Confirmation, proof; a religious rite.
Confiscation, the seizing of forfeited goods.
Conflagration, a big fire.
Conflict, a struggle; violent collision.
Confluence, a junction of streams; a crowd.
Conformation, the act of complying with; structure.
Conformity, resemblance; consistency.
Confound, to astonish, destroy, defeat.
Confraternity, a brotherhood.
Confrère, a fellow-member.
Confront, to stand face to face, oppose.
Confucian, relating to the Chinese sage, Confucius.
Confuse, to perplex, mingle in disorder.
Confutation, disproof.
Congé, dismissal, farewell.
Congeal', to thicken by cold.
Congenial, pleasing, in sympathy with.
Congenital, belonging to one from birth.
Conge'ries, a mass of small bodies.
Congestion, a superfluity of blood in the veins.
Conglomeration, a confused mass.
Congratulate, to express pleasure at a happy event.
Congregate, to gather together, assemble.
Congregationalist, a member of the Congregational Church or Society.
Congress, a meeting, a conference.
Con'gruence, agreement, suitableness.
Conical, having the form of a cone.
Conif'erous, bearing cones.
Conject'ural, not certain, guessed at.
Conjointly, together, in union with.
Con'jugal, belonging to marriage.
Conjunction, union, league; a part of speech.
Conjuncture, a critical time.
Conjuration, a solemn calling upon; a spell.
Conjury, magical arts.
Connection or connexion, union; a relation.
Conniv'ance, the encouragement of a fault by winking at it.
Con'noisseur, a judge, a critic.
Connotation, an implied meaning.
Connubial, relating to marriage.
Conqueror, one who is victorious.
Conquest, something gained by a victory.
Consanguinity, blood-relationship.
Conscience, the faculty of distinguishing between right and wrong.
Conscien'tious, scrupulous.
Consciousness, the perception of what passes in the mind.
Conscription, compulsory military service.
Consecration, dedication to a sacred use.
Consec'utive, following in succession.
Consensus, agreement of opinion.
Consenta'neous, agreeing with, suited to.
Consentient, of the same mind.
Consequential, coming after as a result; conceited.
Conservation, preservation.
Conservative, one who dislikes a violent or radical change.
Conservatoire, a school of music.
Conservatory, tending to preserve; a greenhouse.
Considerateness, thoughtfulness for another.
Consignee', the person to whom things are sent.
Consignment, goods to be delivered.
Consistency, degree of thickness of a paste; agreement.
Consistent, not fluid; not opposed.
Consistory, a spiritual court; an assembly.
Consolable, capable of being comforted.
Consol'atory, affording solace.
Consolidate, to make solid; unite.
Consols, Government Stocks.
Consonant, a letter that cannot be sounded by itself; in agreement with.
Consort', to associate with.
Con'sort, a husband or wife.
Conspicuous, plainly visible; eminent.
Conspirator, one who plots.
Constable, a police-officer.
Constabulary, a body of constables.
Constancy, faithfulness, stability.
Constellation, a cluster of stars.
Consternation, astonishment; dismay.
Constipation, torpid action of the bowels.
Constituency, a body of electors.
Constituent, a voter; an essential part.
Constitutional, consistent with the constitution.
Constraint, compulsion; embarrassment.
Constriction, contraction, compression.
Constructive, capable of construction; implied.
Con'strue, to translate, explain.
Consubstantiation, the doctrine of the Lutheran Church respecting the Lord's Supper.
Consuetudinary, established by custom.
Consul, a government agent in a foreign land.
Consular, relating to a consul.
Consultation, a meeting of persons to take counsel together.
Consumer, one who uses or destroys anything.
Con'summate, to perfect; complete.
Consummation, perfection, end.
Consumptive, wasting; inclined to the disease consumption.
Contact, touch, close union.
Contagion, the transmission of disease by contact.
Contain, to hold, include; restrain.
Contaminate, to defile, pollute.
Contemn, to scorn, despise; to neglect.
Contem'plative, studious, thoughtful.
Contempora'neous, existing or happening at the same time.
Contem'porary, one living at the same time.
Contemptible, worthy of scorn.
Contemptuous, scornful, disdainful.
Content, satisfied; satisfaction.
Contentious, quarrelsome.
Conterminous, bordering upon.
Contest', to contend, oppose.
Con'test, a dispute.
Context, the part preceding or following a passage quoted.
Contigu'ity, contact, nearness.
Continence, self-restraint, chastity.
Continental, belonging to a continent, especially Europe.
Continently, temperately.
Contingency, a chance event.
Contingent, accidental; a share, proportion.
Continuation, prolongation, extension.
Continu'ity, unbroken connection.
Contortion, a writhing or twisting motion.
Contour, the outline of a figure.
Contraband, prohibited, unlawful.
Contraction, a shrinking; an abbreviation.
Contractor, one of the parties to a bargain.
Contradiction, contrary assertion, denial.
Contradistinguish, to distinguish by opposite qualities.
Contralto, a woman's or boy's voice with a low register.
Contrari'ety, opposition, inconsistency.
Con'trariwise, on the other hand.
Contrast', to estimate unlikeness by comparison.
Con'trast, unlikeness.
Contravention, transgression, infringement.
Contre-temps, a mishap, unlucky accident.
Contri'butory, promoting the same end.
Contrition, remorseful grief.
Contrivance, a plan, device.
Controllable, subject to control.
Controlment, restraint, control.
Controversial, related to disputed arguments.
Controvert, to dispute, debate.
Contumacious, obstinate, perverse.
Con'tumely, reproach; insolence.
Contusion, a severe bruise.
Conundrum, a riddle.
Convalescent, recovering from an illness.
Convenance, that which is fitting or proper.
Convene, to call together, assemble.
Convenience, fitness, accommodation, ease.
Convent, a religious house.
Conventicle, a religious meeting of dissenters.
Convention, an assembly; a temporary treaty.
Conventional, agreed on; customary, formal.
Conventual, belonging to a convent.
Convergence, the act of tending to one point.
Con'versant, well versed in.
Conversational, belonging to talk.
Conversazio'ne, a social meeting.
Converse', to chat.
Con'verse, conversation; opposite.
Conversion, a change from one religion or state to another.
Convertible, that may be changed.
Convex, curved like the outer surface of a sphere.
Conveyance, the act or means of carriage; a vehicle; a deed for the transfer of property.
Conviction, firm belief; the state of being found guilty of a crime.
Convince, to persuade, or satisfy by proof.
Convivial, festive, social.
Convocation, an assembly; an ecclesiastical council.
Convolution, a fold; a rolling together.
Convoy, an armed escort by sea or land.
Convulsion, a violent involuntary contraction of the muscles; a commotion.
Coolie, an East Indian porter.
Cooperage, the trade of a barrel-maker.
Co-op'erative, working together.
Co-opt, to adopt into a body by the votes of its members.
Co-ordination, the state of holding the same rank.
Co-partnership, equal share in business.
Cope, to contend with; a covering; a priest's vestment.
Copernican, relating to the astronomer Copernicus.
Copious, plentiful, abundant.
Copper-bottomed, having the bottom cased in copper.
Copper-plate, an engraved plate of copper; a print from such a plate.
Coppice or copse, a wood of small growth.
Coptic, belonging to the old Egyptian Church.
Copulative, uniting.
Copyhold, a tenure secured by entry on the rolls of the lord of the manor.
Copying-press, a machine for copying letters.
Copyist, one who copies.
Copyright, the exclusive right of an author to publish his work.
Coquet', to flirt.
Coquettish, inclined to coquet.
Coracle, a basket boat used in Wales and Ireland.
Coral-reef, a ridge formed by the growth of coral.
Corbel, a projection of masonry used to support a pillar, etc.
Cordage, a number of ropes.
Cor'delier, a Franciscan friar.
Cordial, hearty, sincere; an exhilarating drink.
Cordiality, sincerity, heartiness.
Cordillera, a chain of mountains.
Cordite, a smokeless gunpowder.
Cordon, the ribbon of an order; a line of sentries.
Cordon bleu, a first-rate cook.
Corduroy, a thick ribbed cotton material.
Cordwainer, a shoemaker.
Core, the heart or inner part of anything.
Co-respondent, a joint respondent in a lawsuit.
Cormorant, a sea-bird; a glutton.
Corner-stone, a stone joining two walls at the corner of a building.
Cornet, a brass wind instrument.
Corn-factor, a wholesale dealer in corn.
Cornice, a moulded projection at the top of a wall.
Cornish, belonging to Cornwall.
Corn-laws, laws restricting the free import of corn.
Cornucopia, the horn of plenty.
Corollary, an inference, a consequence.
Cor'onach, a funeral dirge.
Coronation, the ceremony of crowning.
Coroner, an officer who inquires into the causes and circumstances of sudden or violent death.
Coronet, the inferior crown of the nobility.
Corporal, relating to the body; a noncommissioned officer.
Corporately, as a corporate body.
Corporation, a body politic.
Corporeal, belonging to the body.
Corpse, the dead body of a human being.
Corpulence, extreme fatness.
Corpuscle, a minute body, an atom.
Corral, an enclosure for cattle.
Corrective, tending to correct; restriction.
Correlative, having a reciprocal relation.
Correspondent, agreeing with; one who holds communication with another by letter.
Correspondency, agreement; intercourse by letter.
Corridor, a passage in a building or train.
Corrigenda, corrections required in a book.
Corrigible, punishable; tractable.
Corroborate, to confirm, strengthen.
Corrode, to eat away by degrees.

Corrosive, anything which corrodes.
Corrugation, contraction into wrinkles.
Corruptible, susceptible to corruption.
Corruption, a putrid state; impurity; bribery.
Corsage, a dress bodice.
Corsair, a pirate or his ship.
Corset, a stiffened laced under-bodice.
Cortège, a procession, train of attendants.
Cortes, the Spanish Parliament.
Coruscation, a rapid flash of light.
Corvée, certain obligatory services of a vassal to his lord.
Corvette, a war-vessel.
Corybantic, madly excited.
Cosily, snugly.
Cosmetic, a preparation to beautify the skin.
Cosmic, relating to the world; rising or setting with the sun.
Cosmog'ony, the origin of the world.
Cosmology, the science of the universe.
Cosmopol'itan or cosmop'olite, one who is at home in any country.
Cosmos, the system of the universe; order.
Cossack, a Russian light cavalryman.
Costard, a large apple.
Coster-monger, a street hawker.
Costive, constipated.
Costumier, one who makes or sells costumes.
Co-surety, one who is surety with another.
Coterie, a social circle, a clique.
Cothurnus, a high boot worn by old tragedians.
Cotillion, a lively dance.
Cottager, one who lives in a cottage.
Couch, a bed; to lie down; to operate on the eye.
Cough, a spasmodic effort to remove phlegm from the lungs.
Coulée, a narrow ravine; a flow of lava.
Coulter or colter, the small blade of a plough.
Council, an assembly for consultation.
Councillor, a member of a council.
Counsel, advice; a barrister.
Counsellor, one who gives counsel.
Countenance, the face, expression; support.
Counteraction, hindrance, opposition
Counter-attraction, opposite attraction.
Counter-balance, to oppose with equal power.
Counter-charge, a charge brought in opposition to another.
Counterfeit, false; forged; an imitation.
Counter-foil, the portion of a cheque, etc., kept by the giver.
Counter-irritant, something applied to the body to remove one irritation by causing another of less consequence.
Countermand, to withdraw an order.
Counter-mark, an extra mark on a bale of goods.
Counter-move, a counteracting movement.
Counterpane, a coverlet for a bed.
Counterpart, a correspondent part; a copy.
Counterplot, a plot opposed to another plot.
Counterpoint, a kind of musical composition.
Counterpoise, equality of weight or power.
Counter-scarp, the outer side of the ditch in fortification.
Counter-sign, a military passwood.
Counter-tenor, a high tenor.
Countervail, to have equal force or value.
Counter-weight, equal weight against.
Countess, the wife of an earl or count.
Countrified, having rustic manners; rural.
County Council, a body elected by the rate-payers to administer the local government of the county.
County Court, a court for settling between debtor and creditor.
County Town, the chief town of a county.
Coup, a blow; successful stroke.
Coup de grâce, finishing stroke.
Coup d'état, a sudden political move.
Coup d'œil, a glance.
Coupé, the front compartment of a railway carriage; a four-wheeled carriage for two inside.
Coupler, that which links together.
Couplet, two lines of poetry rhyming.
Coupon, a dividend warrant.
Courageous, brave, daring, bold.
Courier, an express messenger; a travelling attendant.
Courser, a swift horse; one who hunts hares.
Court-dress, dress worn at court.
Courteous, polite, well-bred.
Courtesan, a woman of loose life.
Courtesy, politeness.
Court-martial (pl. courts martial), a court for the trial of military and naval prisoners.
Court-roll, the record of a court.
Court-yard, a yard adjoining a house, etc.
Cousin, the child of an uncle or aunt.
Cousin-german, a first cousin.
Cove, a small bay.
Covenant, a mutual agreement.
Covenantor, one who enters into a covenant.
Coverlet, an outer bed-cover.
Covert, sheltered, secret; a thicket.
Coverture, (law) the state of a married woman.
Covetous, inordinately desirous.
Covey, a number of birds together.
Cowardice, want of courage.
Cow-boy, the name given in America to one in charge of cattle.
Cow-catcher, an apparatus on the front of an engine to remove obstacles from the line.
Cowl, a monk's hood; a revolving chimney top.
Co-worker, one working with another.
Coxcombical, foppish, conceited.
Coxcombry, foppishness.
Coyness, reserve, bashfulness.
Cozener, a cheat.
Crab-apple, a wild apple.
Crabbed, peevish, morose; perplexing.
Crackling, a noise; the skin of roast pork.
Cracknel, a biscuit.
Craftiness, cunning, wiliness.
Craftsman, a skilled workman.
Cragginess, a craggy or rocky state.
Cragsman, a skilful climber of rocks.
Crambo, a rhyming game.
Cramp-iron, a piece of iron bent at each end.
Cranage, the sum charged for the use of a crane.
Cranium, the skull.
Crank, a part of a machine; a bend; a whim.
Crannied, full of crevices.
Crape, a thin fabric.
Crapulence, illness caused by intemperance.
Crassness, coarseness; stupidity.
Crate, a large wicker case.
Crater, the mouth of a volcano.
Cravat, a neckcloth.
Craven, a coward.
Crawl, to creep, to move very slowly.
Crayon, a chalk pencil.
Crazily, insanely; weakly.
Cream-cheese, a creamy kind of cheese.
Creamery, an establishment where butter and cheese are made or sold.
Crease, a mark made by doubling anything; a line on a cricket pitch.
Cre'asote' or cre'osote, an oil obtained from wood tar.
Create, to form out of nothing; beget; make.
Creator, one who creates; God.
Creature, a living being.
Crèche, a public nursery where mothers may leave their children while they go to work.
Credence, belief, credit.
Credential, that which gives a right to confidence.
Credibility, the state of meriting belief.
Cred'itable, deserving praise or credit.
Credu'lity, readiness to believe.
Creed, belief; a summary of the articles of faith.
Creek, a small bay.
Creel, a fisherman's basket.
Cremate, to reduce a dead body to ashes.
Cremation, the practice of cremating.
Cre'matory or crematorium, a place where cremation is carried out.
Cre'nellate, to furnish with battlements.
Creole, one born in the West Indies or the old Spanish States of America, but of European descent.
Crepitant, creaking.
Crepuscular, belonging to twilight.
Crescen'do, gradually increasing in sound.
Crescent, a half-moon; increasing.
Cresset, an iron frame for a beacon; a torch.
Crested, having a crest or comb.
Crest-fallen, dejected.
Creta'ceous, chalky.
Cre'tinism, an Alpine malady partly mental.
Cretonne, a printed cotton fabric.
Crevasse, a rent or split in a glacier.
Crevice, a crack, a cleft.
Crewel, an embroidery yarn.
Cribbage, a game at cards.
Cricket, an out-door game; an insect.
Criminal, one guilty of a crime.
Criminous, wicked, iniquitous.
Crimp, brittle; to curl; to decoy.
Crimson, a rich red colour.
Cringe, to fawn, to flatter in an abject manner.
Crinoline, a skirt stiffened with wire, etc.
Crisis, a turning-point, a critical moment.
Crispin, a shoemaker, from the saint of that name.
Criterion (pl. criteria), a standard to judge anything by.
Critic, a judge of merit; a fault-finder.
Critically, in the manner of a critic.
Criticism, the art of judging; a critical observation.
Criti'que, a review of a literary work, etc.
Croaking, grumbling; anticipating evil.
Crochet, a sort of knitting with a small hook.
Crockery, earthenware.
Crocodile, a large aquatic reptile.
Crocus, a small flower.
Cromlech, a prehistoric structure of stone.
Crony, an old acquaintance.
Croon, to hum softly.
Crop-eared, having the ears cropped.
Croquet, an out-door game.
Crosier, a bishop's staff.
Cross-bones, an emblem of death.
Cross-breeding, the intermixing of different varieties or breeds.
Cross-examination, the examination of a witness by the counsel of the opposite side.
Cross-fire, the crossing of two or more lines of fire.
Cross-grained, having the fibres irregular; stubborn.
Cross-purposes, a game of questions and answers; a misunderstanding.
Cross-question, to cross-examine.
Cross-reference, a reference to another part of a book.
Cross-trees, pieces of timber across the upper parts of the masts.
Crotchet, a note in music; a whim.
Croup, a disease of the throat common among children; the buttocks of a horse.
Croupier, the attendant at a gaming-table.
Crowbar, a heavy bar of iron used as a lever.
Crown-glass, the finest sort of window glass.
Crown-prince, the heir-apparent to the throne.
Crow's-nest, a look-out box at the mast-head of a ship.
Crucial, forming a decisive test.
Crucible, a chemical melting-pot.
Crucifer, a plant having its petals arranged cross-wise.
Crucifix, a cross with the figure of Christ upon it.
Cruciform, in the form of a cross.
Crucify, to put to death upon the cross.
Crudeness, unripeness; want of finish.
Cruelly, in a hard or cruel manner.
Cruet, a small bottle for condiments.
Cruise, to sail here and there.
Cruiser, a ship that cruises; a war-ship.
Crumb, the soft part of bread; a particle of bread.
Crumpet, a kind of tea-cake.
Crupper, a strap under a horse's tail.
Crusade, a religious expedition of the middle ages; a concerted attack on a supposed evil.
Crush-hat, a soft collapsible tall hat.
Crush-room, a room in a theatre to which the audience may retire during the intervals.
Crusta'cea, a class of animals including lobsters, crabs, &c.
Crustiness, the state of being crusty; snappishness.
Crutch, a support for the lame.
Crutched, using crutches; marked by a cross
Crux, something extremely puzzling or difficult to deal with.
Crypt, a vault under a church.
Cryptic, hidden, secret, occult.
Cryptogram, a secret writing.
Crystal, a regular solid body; a superior kind of glass.
Crystalline, like crystal, transparent.
Crystallization, the act of forming crystals
Cube, a regular solid body having six equal square sides.
Cubic, having the form of a cube.
Cubicle, a small separate sleeping place.
Cubit, an old measure of length.
Cucking-stool, an old instrument of punishment.
Cuckoo, a bird.
Cucumber, a garden plant and its fruit.
Cud, food which a ruminating animal chews for the second time.
Cuddy, a small cabin on board ship; a donkey.
Cue, words in an actor's speech giving a hint to another player; a hint; a rod used in billiards.
Cui bono?, for whose benefit? for what good?
Cuirass', a breastplate.
Cuirassier', a soldier having a cuirass.
Cuir-bouilli, specially prepared leather.
Cuisine, a kitchen; the cooking.
Cul-de-sac, a street with only one entrance.
Culinary, relating to the kitchen.
Cull, to gather, pick out.
Cullender, a colander, a strainer.
Culminate, to arrive at the highest point.
Culpable, guilty, deserving of blame.
Culprit, a person guilty of a crime.
Cult, worship, homage.
Cul'tivable, that may be cultivated.
Cultivation, the practice of tilling the soil; improvement.
Culture, cultivation; the result of intellectual training.
Culverin, a cannon with a long slender barrel.
Culvert, an arched drain under a road, etc.
Cumbersome, clumsy, unwieldy.
Cumbrian, belonging to Cumberland.
Cumbrous, troublesome, vexatious
Cummer-bund or kamar-band, a waist-belt.
Cumulative, increasing by additions.
Cumulus (pl. cumuli), a heap; a kind of cloud.
Cune'iform, having the form of a wedge.
Cupid, the god of love.
Cupidity, avarice, inordinate love of gain.
Cu'pola, a dome.
Cupping, a process of drawing blood.
Cur, a worthless dog; a despicable man.
Curable, that may be cured.
Curaçoa, a liqueur.
Curacy, the office of a curate.
Cu'rative, relating to the cure of disease.
Cura'tor, the superintendent of a museum, etc.
Curdle, to congeal.
Curé, a French parish priest.

Curfew, in old times the bell rung as a signal for the putting out of lights.
Curio, a curiosity; a rare work of art.
Curiosity, inquisitiveness; a singular object.
Curlew, a wading bird.
Curling-stone, a stone used for the Scottish game of curling.
Curmudgeon, a churlish fellow; a miser.
Currant, a small fruit; a kind of small raisin.
Currency, circulation; that which passes from hand to hand as money.
Current, in circulation; a running stream.
Curriculum, a course of study.
Currier, one who dresses leather.
Curry, to dress leather; to comb a horse; an Indian sauce; stew prepared with this sauce.
Curry-comb, a comb used to clean horses.
Curse, to wish evil to; to swear.
Cursive, flowing, running.
Cursory, hasty, careless.
Curt, brief, abrupt, brusque.
Curtail, to shorten, to cut the end off.
Curtain, drapery round a bed, window, etc.
Curtsy or curtsey, a low bow made by women.
Curvature, crookedness; a bending.
Curvet', to leap, bound, frisk.
Curvilinear, composed of curved lines.
Cushat, the wood-pigeon or ring-dove.
Cushioned, provided with cushions, padded.
Cusp, a sharp projecting point, as in a horn of the moon.
Custard, a milk-pudding.
Custo'dian, one in charge of a public building.
Cus'tody, imprisonment; care, security.
Cus'tomary, usual, habitual.
Custom-house, the office where duties are paid at sea-port and frontier towns.
Custos, a keeper.
Cuta'neous, relating to the skin.
Cuticle, the outer skin of the body.
Cutlery, the trade of a cutler; knives and other cutting instruments.
Cutlet, a small piece of veal or mutton.
Cutpurse, a thief.
Cutter, one who cuts; a small vessel.
Cycle, a period of time at the end of which events begin to recur; a bicycle or tricycle.
Cyclic, relating to a cycle.
Cyclom'eter, an instrument for measuring the distance covered by a bicycle.
Cyclone, a storm of great violence moving in a circle.
Cyclopædia, a book of general information.
Cyclope'an, vast, gigantic.
Cygnet, a young swan.
Cylinder, a roller-like body of uniform diameter.
Cylindrical, having the form of a cylinder.
Cymbal, a musical instrument.
Cymric, belonging to the Welsh.
Cynic, a morose or sarcastic man.
Cynicism, scorn or contempt of others.
Cy'nosure, the constellation of the little bear; an object of attraction.
Cypress, an evergreen tree.
Cyst, a bag containing morbid matter.
Cythere'an, relating to Venus.
Czar, the Emperor of Russia.
Cza'revitch, the eldest son of the Czar.
Czarevna, the wife of the Czarevitch.
Czarina, the Empress of Russia.
Czech, a native of Bohemia and Moravia.

Dabbler, one who engages in a pursuit in a desultory manner.
Da capo, a musical term indicating that the movement is to be repeated "from the beginning."
Dachsund, a special breed of dogs.
Dacoit or dakoit, a Hindu term for a brigand.
Dactyl, a metrical foot consisting of a long syllable followed by two short ones; e.g. mĕrrily.
Dado, a skirting of wood or paper around a room.
Dædalian, intricate, skilfully constructed like the maze of Dædalus.
Dæmon, see Demon.
Daffodil, a spring flower of the lily tribe.
Daguerreotype, a photograph taken on a metal plate.
Dahlia, a well-known flower.
Daimio, a Japanese noble.
Daintily, in a refined or fastidious manner.
Dairy, a place where butter and cheese are made or sold.
Dais, a raised platform, at one end of a hall, intended as a place of honour.
Daisy, a common flower.
Dalesman, one who dwells in a dale.
Dalliance, idle gossip, trifling.
Damageable, liable to be damaged.
Damascene, to adorn with patterns like those on damask.
Damask, figured material with an interwoven design.
Dame d'honneur, maid of honour.
Damnable, deserving of the strongest condemnation.
Damper, a sliding plate for regulating the draught of a stove; a kind of bread made without yeast.
Damsel, a maiden.
Damson, a kind of plum.
Dandruff or -riff, scurf which forms at the roots of hair.
Dandyism, foppishness in dress.
Danish, belonging to Denmark.
Danseuse, a female professional dancer, a ballet-dancer.
Dapple-gray, mottled gray.
Daring, venturesome, audacious.
Darkling, in the dark.
Darwinism, the theory of Darwin concerning evolution.
Dash-board, a board in front of a vehicle to keep off the mud.
Dastardly, cowardly.
Datum (pl. data), the thing given or assumed as true.
Daughter, a child of the female sex.
Dauntless, not to be daunted, fearless.
Dauphin, ancient title of the eldest son of the French king.
Davit, a projecting piece of wood or iron on the side of a vessel for hoisting and lowering a boat.
Davenport, a small writing-table furnished with drawers.
Davy-lamp, a safety lamp for use in mines, named after its inventor, Sir Humphry Davy.
Dawning, beginning to appear, breaking; day-break, dawn.
Day-dream, a waking dream, castle in the air, reverie.
Day-star, a star which heralds day, the morning-star.
Dazzling, blinding by its brilliancy.
Deacon, a clergyman who has not yet been ordained priest; a kind of elder among the Nonconformists.
Deaconess, a female church worker living under rule in a community.
Dead-heat, a race in which two of the competitors come in exactly equal.
Dead-letter, a law which has fallen into disuse; a letter insufficiently addressed for delivery.
Dead-lock, an impasse, a difficult situation from which there is no escape in any direction, a stand-still.
Dead-reckoning, a mode of determining the position of a ship without the help of astronomical observations.
Deaf-mute, a person who is both deaf and dumb.
Dean, a church dignitary at the head of the clergy of a cathedral; an officer in a university.
Dearth, scarcity, famine.
Death-rate, the percentage of deaths.
Death's-head, a skull; a moth having marks resembling a skull.
Death-warrant, a legal warrant authorising the execution of a condemned person.
Débâcle, a breaking up, a downfall.
Debar, to exclude.
Debasement, humiliation, degradation.
Debatable, open to debate, giving rise to dispute.
Debauchee, a licentious person.
Debauchery, licentiousness.
Deben'ture, a certificate or security for a loan of money.
Debilitate, to weaken, enfeeble.
Debit, to enter on the debtor side of an account.
Debonair, gay, lively, blithesome.
Debouch, to issue from a narrow place into the open.
Debou'chure, the mouth of a river.
Débris, confused mass of broken rubbish.
Debtor, one who is in debt.
Début, first formal appearance in society or before the public.
Débutante, a young girl who makes her first appearance in society.
Decade, a period of ten years.
Decadence, gradual decay or deterioration.
Decalogue, the ten commandments.
Decampment, hurried departure.
Decanter, a glass vessel with a stopper for holding wine or spirit.
Decapitation, the act of cutting off the head.
Decasyllab'ic, having ten syllables.
Decease, death.
Deceitful, underhand, not straightforward.
Deceiver, one guilty of deception.
Decency, propriety of behaviour, seemly conduct.
Decentralization, the transfer of a power from a central to a local body.
Deceptive, illusive, calculated to deceive.
Decidedly, assuredly; in a decided manner.
Deciduous, shedding its leaves annually.
Decimal system, a system of reckoning in which the value of the digits from left to right decreases in the ratio of 10 to 1.
Decimate, to punish or destroy every tenth person.
Decipher, to read what is written in cipher or very indistinctly.
Decisive, determinate, crucial.
Decla'matory, in the style of an impassioned speech.
Declaration, a formal statement.
Declination, a slanting away from a straight line.
Decline, to bend away from; to decay, diminish; to refuse.
Declivity, a slope as seen from above.
Decoct, to act upon a substance by boiling it.
Decolletée, having the neck and shoulders bare.
Decolorize, to render colourless, bleach.
Decomposition, the process of becoming decomposed.
Dec'orative, of an ornamental character.
Deco'rous, characterized by decorum or propriety.
Deco'rum, propriety, seemly behaviour.
Decoy, to entice or lure away.
Decreasingly, in a lessening degree.
Decree, an edict, statute, ordinance.
Decrepit, feeble and powerless with age.
Decrepitude, a state of feebleness resulting from old age.
Decres'cent, growing less, waning.
Decre'tal, a papal decree, a collection of ecclesiastical decrees.
Decri'al, act of running down, or depreciating.
Decumbent, in a reclining posture.
Dedal or dædal, a curiously wrought or intricate device like the labyrinth of Dædalus.
Dedalian or dædalian, curiously or cunningly wrought.
Dedicatory, of the nature of a dedication.
Deducible, capable of being deduced or inferred.
Deduction, an inference; something withdrawn or deducted.
Deductive, able to be deduced from the premises; deducing particular truths from general principles.
Deemster, one who dooms or judges, the title of one of the two chief magistrates in the Isle of Man.
Deer-stalking, hunting deer by following them stealthily.
Defacement, the act of disfiguring.
Defalca'tion, inability to account for money received in trust.
Defam'atory, slanderous, calumnious.
Defaulter, one who fails to account for money entrusted to him, or to appear in court when summoned.
Defeasible, able to be undone or annulled.
Defection, desertion, withdrawal.
Defective, imperfect, lacking in some respect.
Defence, act of defending; vindication, justification.
Defendant, one who appears in court to answer an accusation.
Defensive, connected with defence.
Deference, respect paid to a superior.
Deferential, showing deference.
Defiance, insolent resistance, contemptuous opposition.
Defiant, insolently daring.
Deficiency, lack, insufficiency.
De'ficit, a falling short due to excess of expenditure over revenue.
Defilade, to construct defences for the protection of a place against artillery or rifle fire from a higher level.
Defile', a narrow pass; to march in single file.
Definite, exactly defined, precise.
Defin'itive, exactly defining; positive, express.
Deflagration, a sudden fierce and bright combustion.
Deflection or deflexion, act of turning or swerving aside.
Deformation, act of disfiguring.
Deformity, disfigurement, mal-formation.
Defray, to bear the cost of, settle, pay.
Deftness, neatness of hand, dexterity.
Defunct', dead.
Defy, to brave or challenge insolently.
Dégagé, at ease, unconstrained.
Degeneracy, deterioration in race.
Degeneration, the process of deterioration in race or character.
Degradation, humiliation.
Degree, step, grade, stage; university distinction marking the degree of attainment; 360th part of a circle, or four right angles.
Dehortation, attempt to dissuade or deter.
Deification, the raising to the rank of a god.
De'ify, to make a god of, worship as a god.
Deign, to condescend.
Deism, belief in God but not in revealed religion.
Deity (pl. deities), godhead, divinity, the Supreme Being.
Déjeuner, a meat breakfast or luncheon.
De jure, by law.
Delaine, a mixed fabric or woollen muslin.
Delation, the act of informing against a person.
Delectable, affording delight.
Delectation, the feeling of delight.
Delegate, one despatched as a representative, a deputy.
Delete, to blot out, destroy.
Deleterious, harmful, destructive.
Deliberation, careful consideration.
Delicacy, refinement; fineness of organization; weakness, fragility.
Delicious, pleasing to the senses.
Delight, intense pleasure.
Delimitation, determination of the limits.
Delineate, to portray.

Delinquency, shortcoming, failure in duty.
Delirious, suffering from delirium.
Delirium, a wandering in mind, or raving, due to fever or strong excitement.
Deliverance, a setting free.
Delphian, Delphic—belonging to Delphi, prophetic, oracular.
Delta, Greek letter Δ = d; land enclosed by two diverging mouths of a river.
Delude, deceive, beguile.
Deluge, flood.
Delusion, erroneous impression.
Delusory, productive of delusion.
Demagogue, a popular agitator, leader of the people.
Demand, to require, ask as a right.
Demarcation, act of marking off the bounds or limits.
Demean, comport, behave; lower, degrade.
Demeanour, bearing, behaviour.
Demented, out of one's mind, insane.
Demesne, a landed estate.
Demi-god, one regarded as more than human.
Demijohn, a narrow-necked flask in a wicker case.
Demi-monde, a term applied to women of damaged reputation, courtesans.
Demise', death, transfer of an estate.
Demobilization, a disbanding of troops.
Democracy, government by the people.
Democratic, belonging to or favourable to a democracy.
Demogorgon, an imaginary spirit supposed to be invested with peculiar terror.
Demoiselle, a young lady.
Demolish, to pull down, destroy.
Demolition, the act of demolishing.
Demon or dæmon, a spirit, evil spirit.
Demoniac or demoni'acal, possessed by an evil spirit.
Demonism, belief in the existence of demons.
Demon'strable, able to be demonstrated or proved.
Demon'strative, expressing the feelings openly; proving clearly.
De'monstrator, one who makes a subject clear by means of experiment or illustration.
Demoralization, deterioration in morals.
Demos, the people, the lower orders.
Demur, to raise objections, to take exception to some point.
Demureness, affectation of gravity.
Demurrage, compensation for the undue detention of a vessel or railway waggon.
Demy', paper of a particular size; scholar of Magdalen College, Oxford.
Denationalization, the deprivation of national rights.
Dene, a dell, a small valley.
Deniable, capable of being denied.
Denizen, inhabitant, occupant.
Denomination, title, designation; a particular sect.
Denominator, the lower number in a vulgar fraction.
Denotation, extent of the application of a word.
Denoue'ment, outcome, issue.
Denouncement, a formal accusation.
De novo, anew.
Denseness, obtuseness, dullness of perception.
Density, proportion of matter in relation to bulk.
Dental, relating to the teeth.
Dentated, having a toothed edge.
Dentifrice, tooth powder.
Dentistry, the practice of dental surgery.
Dentition, the cutting of teeth.
Denudation, the act of denuding or laying bare.
Denunciation, a formal accusation.
Denun'ciatory, of the nature of denunciation, threatening.
Deny, to refuse to admit as true, contradict; to refuse.
Deodand, a personal possession which, having been the cause of death, was by ancient custom set apart for sacred purposes.
Deodorization, the act of rendering odourless.
Departmental, belonging to a department.
Departure, a going away.
Depauperize, to remove from a state of pauperism.
Dependant or dependent, depending on, subordinate.
Depict, to portray, delineate.
Depilation, the process of removing hair
Depletion, a state of emptiness or exhaustion.
Deplorable, to be deplored or regretted.
Deploy, (of soldiers) to open out into line.
Deponent, one who makes a deposition; (of a verb) passive in form and active in meaning.
Depopulate, to deprive of inhabitants.
Deportation, transportation, banishment.
Deportment, carriage, demeanour, bearing.
Depose, to remove from office, dethrone; testify.
Deposit, to lay down, to place in trust.
Depositary, one to whom something is entrusted.
Deposition, a formal statement.
Depository, a place where goods are stored, a warehouse.
Depôt, place where stores are deposited, warehouse.
Depravation, the act of corrupting, deterioration.
Depravity, turpitude, baseness, corruption.
Deprecation, an attempt to avert by entreaty.
De'precatory, of a deprecating character.
Depreciation, disparagement, undervaluing; diminution in value.
Depredation, plundering or pillaging.
De'predatory, given to plundering.
Depression, dejection, low spirits; a hollow; a sinking, lowering.
Deprivation, the being deprived, destitution, hardship.
Deputation, a body of men sent to represent the views of others.
Deputy, a member of a deputation, a delegate; a substitute.
Derelict, a vessel abandoned on the seas by its crew.
Deride, to make a mock of, jeer at.
Derisive, mocking, jeering.
Derivation, source, origin; act of tracing the origin.
Derivative, that which is derived.
Derogate, to detract from, to lessen.
Derog'atory, lowering to the dignity.
Derrick, a machine for hoisting weights.
Dervish, a Mohammedan devotee dedicated to a life of poverty and austerity.
Descant, to speak at great length, to enlarge.
Descend, to come down.
Descendant, offspring, scion.
Description, narrative, account; sort or kind.
Descry, to discern, detect, espy
Desecrate, to profane, divert from hallowed uses.
Desert', to abandon, forsake; merited reward or punishment.
Deserving, meritorious, worthy.
Deshabille, informal costume, undress.
Desiccate, to dry thoroughly.
Desid'erative, implying desire.
Desidera'tum, a thing desired or desirable.
Design, a plan, outline drawing, pattern; purpose.
Designate, to point out, indicate; nominate, name.
Desirability, the quality of being desirable.
Desirous, full of desire, eager.
Desist, to cease, forbear.
Desolation, state of dreary solitude, or of being laid waste.
Despair, the lack of all hope.
Despatch or dispatch, an official message; dismissal; speed, promptitude.
Desperado, a desperate villain.
Desperately, in a desperate or reckless manner.
De'spicable, mean, contemptible.
Despise, to look down upon, to scorn.
Despite, in spite of; malignant contempt.
Despoil, to rob, to unjustly deprive.
Despoliation, the act of robbing or spoiling.
Despondent, down-cast, dispirited.
Despotically, in a despotic or tyrannical manner.
Despotism, the government or behaviour of a tyrant.
Dessert, fruit and sweetmeats at the close of a dinner.
Destination, the place to which one is bound, the use for which anything is designed.
Destine, to pre-ordain, to devote.
Destiny, fate, lot, end for which one is destined.
Destitution, the state of being in want
Destroyer (naval), a vessel designed for the destruction of torpedo-boats.
Destructible, able to be destroyed.
Destruction, act of destroying, demolition, ruin.
Des'uetude, disuse, discontinuance.
Des'ultory, unsystematic, casual, disconnected.
Detachment, severance; a detached body of troops.
Detail'ed, circumstantial, exact.
Detain, to retain, keep back, withhold.
Detection, the discovery of something concealed.
Detective, one whose business it is to detect or investigate crime.
Detention, the act of detaining.
Detergent, cleansing.
Deteriorate, to grow worse, degenerate.
Determinable, able to be determined.
Determinant, enabling to determine; the name of a special method used in the solution of equations.
Determination, decision or resolve; strength of purpose.
Deterrent, serving to deter.
Detestable, hateful, deserving of detestation.
Dethronement, the act of dethroning or deposing.
Detonation, an explosion accompanied by a report.
Detour', a round about or circuitous way.
Detraction, disparagement, slander.
Detrain, to remove from a train, e.g. troops.
Detriment, a drawback, loss.
Detrition, act of wearing away through friction.
Detri'tus, débris due to the gradual wearing away of rocks.
De trop, too much, in the way.
Deuce, a card or die with two spots; the devil.
Deu'terogamy, a second marriage.
Deu'teronomy, the name of 5th book of the Pentateuch.
Devastation, the act of laying waste, state of being laid waste.
Develop, to arrive gradually at maturity; to bring to perfection.
Development, the gradual ripening of the faculties, growth.
Deviation, a diverging from the path; a departure from truth.
Device, plan, contrivance; emblem, motto.
Devious, wandering, erring.
Deviser, one who devises or contrives.
Devisor, one who leaves by will or bequeaths.
Devoid, lacking, destitute.
Devoir, duty.
Devolution, the act of handing over to another.
Devolve, to pass over.
Devotee, one extravagantly devoted, a fanatic.
Devout, devoted to religion, pious.
Dew-point, the temperature at which the water-vapour in the air condenses in the form of dew.
Dexter, on the right hand, right as opposed to left.
Dexterous, skilful, handy, adroit.
Dey, the title of the former rulers of Algiers, Tunis and Tripoli.
Diabe'tes, a disease in which sugar is not used up in the body as it should be.
Diabe'tic, belonging to or subject to diabetes.
Diablerie, fiendish mischief, sorcery.
Diabolical, devilish, fiendish.
Diac'onal, belonging to a deacon.
Diadem, a crown.
Diær'esis, two dots placed over the second of two vowels to show that they are to be sounded separately.
Diagnosis, the determination of the nature of a complaint.
Diagonal, the line joining the opposite angles of a quadrilateral.
Diagram, an outline figure used for the purpose of demonstration or illustration.
Dial, an instrument for indicating the time of day (See Sun-dial), a round graduated plate with a movable index.
Dialect, the form of language or manner of speaking peculiar to a district.
Dialectics, the art or rules of logical discussion.
Dialogue, discourse or conversation.
Diam'eter, a line passing through the centre of a circle and ending both ways in the circumference.
Diamet'rically, in a diametrical manner; absolutely.
Diamond-drill, a borer with a small diamond at the point.
Diapa'son, the entire compass of a voice or instrument; certain stops in an organ.
Diaper, linen towelling with an interwoven design, a similar design on metal or in stone.
Dia'phanous, transparent.
Diaphragm, the muscle separating the chest and the abdomen.
Diarrhœa, an excessive purging of the bowels.
Diary, a book in which the events of every day are recorded.
Diatonic, belonging to the natural scale.
Diatribe, invective, an attack in a public speech.
Dictation, act of dictating; imperious orders.
Dictator, one who dictates; one vested with absolute authority.
Dictatorial, imperious, overbearing.
Diction, choice of words, phraseology, style.
Dictionary, an alphabetical list of words with their meanings.
Dictum, pronouncement, verdict, authoritative assertion.
Didactic, aiming at instruction.
Die-sinker, one who engraves dies.
Dies non, a day on which the law-courts are closed.
Di'etary, a regulated course of diet.
Diete'tic, belonging to diet.
Differentiate, to distinguish points of difference between; to become different or modified.
Difficulty, something hard to tackle; obstacle; embarrassment.
Diffidence, lack of self-confidence.
Diffraction, a breaking up or bending of a ray of light when it strikes the edge of an opaque body or passes through a small aperture.
Diffuseness, prolixity.
Diffusion, wide-spread dispersion.
Digestible, easy of digestion.
Digestion, the dissolving of the food in the stomach, etc., see Med. Dict.
Digit, a finger; any of the numerals under ten.
Dignified, full of dignity, lofty in demeanour
Dignitary, a person holding an exalted position in Church or State.
Digression, a departure from the main theme
Dike or dyke, a bank of earth thrown up as a barrier against inundation.

Dilapidation, wear and tear, ruin.
Dilatation or dilation, distention, expansion.
Dilatory, given to putting off or procrastinating.
Dilemma, a difficulty involving one of two unpleasant alternatives.
Dilettante (pl. dilettanti), a superficial admirer of the fine arts.
Diligence, application, industry; a kind of omnibus used on the continent.
Dilution, the act of reducing the strength of a liquid by the addition of water or some other liquid.
Diluvial, belonging to a flood.
Dime, an American coin worth ten cents.
Dimensions, length, breadth and thickness; extent, proportions.
Diminish, to lessen, decrease.
Diminuendo, a musical direction to gradually diminish the sound.
Dimin'utive, very small.
Dimity, figured or striped white cotton material.
Dimness, a lack of clearness or brightness, obscurity.
Dimpled, having dimples.
Dinghy or dingey, a small boat belonging to a ship.
Dingo, a native Australian wild dog.
Dingy, dull or faded in colour.
Dio'cesan, belonging to a diocese; a bishop of a diocese.
Diocese, the district over which a bishop holds jurisdiction.
Diora'ma, a pictured representation of some scene viewed by the spectator through an aperture.
Diphtheria, a disease of the throat—see Med. Dict.
Diphthong, two vowel sounds pronounced in one syllable.
Diploma, a certificate testifying to the holder's proficiency in some subject.
Diplo'macy, the art of political negotiation, tact in negotiation.
Dipsomania, an irresistible longing for stimulants.
Diptych, a double or folding tablet.
Direction, line of motion; management of an affair; postal address.
Director, one who directs; a manager.
Directory, a book containing names and addresses of the inhabitants of a certain district.
Direful, terrible, fearful.
Dirge, a lament for the dead.
Dirtiness, uncleanliness.
Disability, lack of some capacity; disqualification.
Disabuse, to undeceive, remove a wrong impression.
Disadvantageous, detrimental, not to one's advantage.
Disaffection, dislike or disloyalty.
Disafforest, to deprive of the claim to be considered forest land.
Disagreeable, unpleasant.
Disallow, to reject, refuse to acknowledge.
Disannul, to abrogate entirely.
Disappearance, a ceasing to be visible, vanishing, departing.
Disappointment, sorrow for the frustration of a hope.
Disapprobation, disapproval, condemnation.
Disapproval, censure, disapprobation.
Disarm, to deprive of arms.
Disarrangement, disturbance of the regular order, throwing into disorder.
Disarray, confusion, disorder.
Disassociate, to sever the connexion between.
Disaster, a grave calamity.
Disastrous, ruinous, calamitous.
Disavowal, a disclaiming, repudiation.
Disbandment, the breaking up of a body of troops.
Disbelief, a refusal or inability to believe.
Disbursement, act of paying out money; money paid out.
Disc or disk, a flat circular plate.
Discard, to cast off, repudiate.
Discernible, able to be discerned.
Discernment, the power of perception, insight.
Discharge, to perform; dismiss; unload; set at liberty.
Disciple, one who follows the teaching of another.
Disciplinarian, one able to maintain discipline.
Disclaimer, disavowal, refusal to acknowledge.
Disclosure, a revelation of something secret or hidden.
Discoloration, the process or state of being discoloured.
Discolour, to spoil the colour of, stain.
Discomfiture, a disconcerting defeat.
Discomfort, lack of comfort, uneasiness.
Discomposure, loss of composure.
Disconcert', to put out of countenance, embarrass.
Disconsolate, incapable of being consoled.
Discontent, lack of content, state of dissatisfaction.
Discontinue, to cease; to put an end to.
Discord, lack of harmony, strife.
Discordant, inharmonious.
Discount, an allowance made for ready-money payment.
Discountenance, to refuse to countenance or sanction; to put out of countenance.
Discourage, to dishearten; to attempt to dissuade.
Discouraging, disheartening.
Discourse, conversation; formal speech.
Discourteous, lacking in courtesy, impolite.
Discourtesy, lack of courtesy, rudeness.
Discovery, something discovered, act of discovering.
Discreditable, not creditable, disreputable.
Discreet, circumspect, prudent.
Discrepancy, failure to tally or agree.
Discretion, prudence, judgment.
Discriminate, to distinguish between, to note the points of difference.
Discursive, rambling, not keeping to the point.
Discussion, debate.
Disdainful, haughty, scornful.
Diseased, suffering from disease.
Disembark, to come ashore, to land.
Disembarrass, to free from embarrassment, disencumber.
Disembody, to set free from the body.
Disembogue, to discharge at the mouth (of a river).
Disembowel, to remove the bowels.
Disembroil, to deliver from broil or strife.
Disenable, to render unable.
Disenchantment, disillusionment.
Disencumber, to free from encumbrance.
Disendowment, a depriving of endowment.
Disengage, to set free; to set the mind or attention at liberty.
Disentangle, to extricate.
Disestablish, to unsettle what has been established.
Disesteem, low esteem, light estimation.
Disfigurement, what disfigures or renders unsightly.
Disfranchisement, the being deprived of the rights of citizenship, especially the right of voting.
Disgorge, to vomit up, to restore under compulsion what has been wrongfully seized.
Disgraceful, shameful.
Disguise, to conceal by means of a deceptive exterior.
Disgusting, causing disgust, revolting.
Dishabille, see Deshabille.
Dishearten, to discourage.
Dishevelled, with ruffled or disordered hair.
Dishonesty, lack of honesty or sincerity.
Dishonourably, in a dishonourable or discreditable way.
Disillusionize, to disenchant, to free from illusion.
Disinclination, lack of inclination, unwillingness.
Disinfectant, that which destroys infection.
Disingenuous, insincere, wanting in openness.
Disinherit, to deprive of the rights of inheritance.
Disintegrate, to break up a whole into its parts, to reduce to fragments.
Disinter', to unearth something buried.
Disinterestedness, conduct not dictated by self-interest.
Disjointed, disconnected.
Disjunctively, in a disjoined manner.
Dislocation, a putting out of place or out of joint.
Disloyalty, want of loyalty, disaffection.
Dismal, gloomy, depressing.
Dismantle, to disarray.
Dismast, to deprive of its masts.
Dismay, to daunt, to discourage.
Dismemberment, the act of separating the limbs from one another.
Dismissal, the sending away, discharge.
Disobedient, not obedient, disregarding orders.
Disobliging, unwilling to oblige.
Disorderliness, state of being disorderly or untidy.
Disorganization, lack of organization, confusion.
Disown, to refuse to own.
Disparagement, depreciation.
Disparate, unequal, too unlike to be compared.
Disparity, inequality.
Dispassionate, uninfluenced by emotion, impartial.
Dispel, to drive away, to disperse.
Dispensary, a place where medicines are dispensed or medical advice given.
Dispensation, permission to infringe a rule; the dealings of Providence.
Dispense with, to do without.
Dispersal, a scattering abroad, dispersion.
Dispersion, a scattering or being scattered.
Dispiriting, disheartening.
Displacement, a putting out of place.
Display, show, ostentation.
Displeasure, anger.
Disport, to divert or amuse (one's self).
Disposal, arrangement, right of bestowing.
Disposition, natural character or tendency; act or power of disposing.
Dispossession, the being deprived of possession.
Dispraise, to find fault with, blame, censure.
Disproportion, lack of proportion.
Disputable, open to question or debate.
Disputant, one who disputes.
Disqualification, something which renders one ineligible.
Disquieting, perturbing.
Disquisition, a treatise containing a formal examination of a subject.
Disregard, lack of regard.
Disrepair, the state of being out of repair.
Disrep'utable, bringing into disrepute, not respectable.
Disrespectful, lacking in respect.
Disruption, a breaking asunder.
Dissatisfaction, discontent.
Dissection, the cutting up of an organic body into its several parts.
Disseize, to unlawfully dispossess of an estate.
Disseizin, act of unlawful dispossession.
Dissemble, to conceal the real feelings, dissimulate.
Disseminate, to scatter abroad, propagate.
Dissension, strife, contention.
Dissentient, disagreeing, holding different views.
Dissertation, a treatise, disquisition.
Disseverance, the act of disuniting.
Dissident, dissenting; one who dissents.
Dissilience, the act of springing asunder.
Dissimilarity, unlikeness
Dissipate, to disperse, scatter, waste.
Dissipation, dispersion; a dissolute manner of life.
Dissociate, to sever association.
Dissoluble, able to be dissolved or reduced to atoms.
Dissolute, licentious, intemperate.
Dissolvable, able to be dissolved.
Dissonance, discord.
Dissuade, to strive to deter by persuasion.
Dissuasion, the act of dissuading
Dissylla'bic, consisting of two syllables.
Dissyllable, a word of two syllables.
Distaff, a staff on which flax is wound for spinning.
Distant, far away, remote.
Distasteful, unpalatable, unpleasing.
Distemper, disease; method of painting used in colouring walls.
Distend, to stretch or inflate.
Distension or distention, the state of being distended.
Distich, a couplet.
Distil, to fall in drops; to convert a liquid into vapour and recondense it.
Distillation, the process of distilling.
Distillery, a place where spirits are manufactured by distillation.
Distinction, a distinctive mark, difference; a mark of honour.
Distingué, distinguished in appearance and mien.
Distinguish, to note the points of difference; to confer a mark of honour.
Distortion, a twisting out of shape, contortion.
Distracted, torn by conflicting feelings, beside one's self.
Distrain, to seize goods for non-payment of debt.
Distrait, preoccupied, absent-minded.
Distraught, frantic, beside one's self.
Distressful, fraught with distress, causing distress.
Distribu'tion, the act of distributing or allotting.
Distri'butively, assigning to each his proper share.
Distrustfulness, mistrust, suspicion.
Disturbance, anything that disturbs, commotion.
Disunion, lack of unity, strife.
Disusage, a forsaking the use of.
Dithyrambic, inspired with frantic enthusiasm, like the dithyrambs or hymns in praise of Bacchus.
Ditto, the same as before.
Ditty, the words or air of a simple song.
Diurnal, daily, recurring every day.
Divagation, a wandering away.
Divergent, parting asunder and going in different directions.
Divers, several, sundry.
Diverse, varied in form or character.
Diversity, variety.
Divertissement, amusement, diversion.
Divest, to strip, deprive, denude.
Dividend, a share of the profits in a concern paid to the shareholders.
Divination, the practice of foretelling the future by occult means.
Divine, god-like, superhuman; belonging to God, sacred; an ecclesiastic; to foretell, guess.
Diving-bell, a hollow bell-shaped structure in which divers can work under water.
Divisibility, the state of being divisible.
Divisional, belonging to a particular division.
Divorce, to separate husband and wife by legally annulling the marriage contract.
Divulsion, the act of plucking asunder.

Dizziness, vertigo, giddiness.
Doab, a term used in India for land between two rivers.
Docile, teachable, amenable, tractable.
Docility, the quality of being docile.
Docket, a descriptive label, register or note on the back of a paper indicating its contents.
Dock-yard, a yard where ships are built or repaired.
Doctorate, rank of a doctor.
Doctrinaire, one inclined to push his theories to an unpractical extent.
Doctrinal, belonging to or containing doctrine.
Documentary, derived from documents.
Dodo, a bird once found in the Mauritius but now extinct.
Doff, to take off (some article of dress).
Dog-cart, a light two-wheeled vehicle with seats back to back.
Dog-days, the hot season of the year when the dog-star is above the horizon.
Doge, the name of the chief magistrate of Venice and Genoa.
Doggedness, obstinate persistency.
Doggerel, a jingling rhyming verse.
Dogma, authoritative doctrine.
Dogmatically, in a dogmatic or authoritative manner.
Dog-star, Sirius, a bright star in the constellation of Canis Major.
Doily, a small mat for use at table.
Doldrums, the region of the ocean near the equator subject to dead calms; melancholy, depression.
Doleful, sad, full of grief.
Dollar, a gold or silver coin worth 100 cents or about 4s. 2d.
Dolmen, an ancient structure of huge stones placed upright in the earth, supporting a rough unhewn stone or table.
Do'lorous, full of grief.
Dolour, pain, grief.
Dolphin, a sea animal resembling a porpoise.
Dolt, a dull fellow, a blockhead.
Domain, estate around a country-seat.
Domesticate, to render familiar with household affairs.
Domicile, place of abode.
Domiciliary, belonging to a domicile or residence.
Dominant, ruling, predominating; fifth note of a scale.
Domineer, to act in a dictatorial or overbearing way.
Dominican, belonging to the black friars or order of St. Dominic.
Dominie, a Scotch name for a schoolmaster.
Dominion, supreme authority, territory under sovereign rule.
Domino, a cloak with a hood or half-mask used for disguise.
Dominoes, a game played with 28 pieces of dotted ivory.
Don, a fellow of a college; a Spanish gentleman; to put on.
Donation, a gift, a contribution for charitable purposes.
Donjon, the strong central tower in an ancient castle.
Donna, the title of a Spanish lady.
Donor, giver.
Doomsday, day of doom, judgment day.
Doomsday-book, an authoritative register of the lands of England made by order of William the Conqueror.
Doric, name of the simplest and strongest style of Greek architecture; a term used to denote a broad dialect.
Dormant, sleeping, quiescent, in abeyance.
Dormer, a sleeping-room, an attic.
Dormer-window, a window rising vertically from a sloping roof.
Dormitory, a large bedroom with sleeping accommodation for several persons.
Dossal, drapery or hangings for the back of an altar.
Dot, French term for a marriage portion or dowry.
Dotage, mental weakness due to old age; excessive fondness.
Dotard, an old man who is mentally weak.
Double entendre, a word or phrase used with a secondary and unpleasant meaning underlying it.
Double-entry, a method of book-keeping in which a double record is made of each transaction.
Double-first, a first-class degree in both classics and mathematics.
Doublet, one of a pair; a garment formerly worn by men.
Doubtful, uncertain.
Douceur, a money present given as a bribe or a reward.
Douche, shower-bath, jet or spray of water playing on the body.
Doughtiness, sturdy valour.
Dowager, a widow of high rank; a stately old lady.
Dower, marriage portion, widow's portion.
Down-train, a train on its way from the principal terminus.
Dowry, a bride's marriage-portion.
Doxology, a hymn of praise to the Trinity.
Dozen, a set of twelve.
Drachm or dram, ⅛ of an ounce in Apothecaries' weight.
Draconic or draconian, excessively severe like the laws of Draco.
Draff, dregs of malt, any worthless refuse.
Drag-net, a net in which fish are caught by dragging it along the bottom of the water.
Dragoman, a term used in the East for a guide and interpreter.
Dragon, a fabulous monster; a fierce woman.
Dragoon, a cavalry soldier.
Drain-trap, a contrivance for preventing the escape of foul gas from drains.
Drama, a representation of human beings speaking and acting as in real life.
Dramatist, an author of dramas.
Dramaturgic, belonging to the dramatic art.
Drastic, thorough, effectual.
Draught-board, a chequered board on which draughts are played.
Draw-bridge, a bridge over a moat which can be raised or lowered at will.
Dreadnaught, an overcoat of stout, weather-proof cloth.
Dreaminess, the state of being dreamy.
Dreary, gloomy, cheerless.
Dredger, a machine for raising sand or mud from the bottom of the water.
Dress-circle, a special part of the theatre assigned to those in evening-dress.
Dressing-case, a box supplied with toilet requisites.
Drift-net, a net kept in position in the water by floats and weights.
Drill, a tool for boring holes; strong twilled linen material; to train in physical exercises; to sow in rows.
Driveller, an idle, foolish babbler.
Droit, right, duty.
Drollery, quaint humour; a puppet-show.
Dromedary, a camel with one hump.
Drop-scene, a painted curtain to drop in front of a stage.
Dropsical, subject to dropsy.
Drosky, a Russian four-wheeled open carriage.
Droughtiness, lack of rain.
Drought or Drouth, water-famine, period of dry weather; thirst.
Drover, one who drives sheep or cattle.
Drowsily, in a drowsy or sleepy manner.
Drudgery, dull and unceasing toil.
Drui'dical, belonging to the Druids.
Drum-head, the parchment side of a drum.
Drum-head court-martial, court-martial held in war time, with perhaps an upturned drum as table.
Drunkard, one who drinks to excess.
Dry-goods, fabrics and other wares sold by drapers.
Dry wines, wines which are not sweet.
Dryad, a wood-nymph.
Dry-nurse, a nurse who rears a child without the breast.
Dry-point, a sharp needle used in engraving or etching.
Dry-rot, rot which causes timber to grow brittle and decay.
Drysalter, a dealer in chemical products; a dealer in salted or dried meats.
Dualism, a twofold division.
Dubiety, state of doubt.
Dubious, doubtful, uncertain, questionable.
Dubitation, state of doubt.
Ducal, belonging to a duke.
Ducat, a gold coin originally issued in Italy worth nearly ten shillings.
Duchess, the wife or widow of a duke.
Duchy, the dominions of a duke.
Ducking-stool, a stool on which scolds were ducked.
Duct, a little pipe or tube.
Ductile, pliable, able to be drawn out into fine threads.
Dude, a fop, a dandy.
Dudgeon, offended feeling, huffiness, petulance.
Duel, a deadly encounter between two persons to settle a private quarrel.
Duellist, one who fights a duel.
Duenna, a severe chaperon.
Duet, a piece of music for two voices or performers.
Dukedom, dominions of a duke, rank of a duke.
Dulce domum, "home, sweet home."
Dulcet, sweet, sweet-sounding.
Dulcimer, a stringed instrument played with two hammers.
Dullard, one who is dull of perception, slow-witted.
Duly, in due season, suitably.
Dumb-waiter, a movable shelf for the conveyance of dishes.
Dummy, a dumb or silent person; lay figure; exposed hand at whist.
Dungeon, a dark underground prison.
Dunnage, old canvas and timber used to protect the cargo from bilge water and keep it steady.
Duodecimo, a book the pages of which are made of sheets folded into twelve leaves.
Duomo, Italian name for a cathedral.
Dupery, the practice of duping, gulling.
Duplex, two-fold.
Duplication, doubling, or making two-fold.
Duplicity, double-dealing, deceitful conduct.
Durability, capacity for lasting.
Durance, detention, imprisonment.
Durbar, an Indian name for a grand official reception; the hall of audience.
Dusky, dark, swarthy.
Dutch auction, an auction at which goods are put up at an unreasonably high price and then rapidly lowered till a bid is made.
Dutch courage, fictitious courage inspired by alcohol.
Dutch oven, a cooking utensil in which meat can be broiled in front of the fire.
Duteous, dutiful.
Dwarfish, like a dwarf.
Dyer, one who makes a business of dyeing fabrics.
Dynamical, relating to force and motive energy.
Dynamite, a dangerous explosive containing nitro-glycerine.
Dy'namo, a machine for generating electric currents.
Dynastic, belonging to a dynasty or line of rulers.
Dys'entery, a disease resembling acute diarrhœa.
Dyspepsia, indigestion.
Dyspeptic, suffering from indigestion.

Eagerness, impetuosity, zeal, ardour.
Eaglet, a young eagle.
Earl-marshal, an English officer of state.
Earnest, serious, ardent, eager; a pledge.
Earthliness, the state of being earthly or worldly.
Earthquake, a tremor or convulsion of the earth.
Earth-shine, light sometimes visible on that part of the moon not lit up by the sun.
Earth-work, a fortification made of earth.
Ear-witness, one who can bear witness from his own hearing.
Easeful, quiet, peaceful.
Easiness, freedom from difficulty.
Easterling, a native of the East; a Baltic trader.
Easterly, from or towards the east.
Eastertide, festival of Easter.
Eau-de-Cologne, a well-known perfume.
Eau-de-vie, brandy.
Eavesdropper, one who listens to the private conversation of others.
Ebb-tide, the receding tide.
Ebon, like ebony; black.
Ebonite, vulcanised rubber.
Ebri'ety, drunkenness.
Ebullient, boiling over.
Ebullition, act of boiling; a violent display of feeling.
Ecarté, a game of cards.
Eccentric, deviating from the centre; peculiar.
Eccentricity, deviation from a centre; peculiar conduct; an oddity.
Ecclesiast, a clergyman.
Ecclesiology, the study of church architecture, &c.
Echelon, disposal of troops in the form of steps.
Echo, return or reflection of a sound.
Eclaircissement, an explanation or clearing-up.
Eclat, splendour; renown; applause.
Eclectic, selecting from the views of others.
Eclecticism, the practice of selecting from various systems.
Eclipse, a temporary obscuration; to darken; to excel.
Ecliptic, apparent path of the sun.
Eclogue, a pastoral poem.
Econom'ic, frugal; thrifty.
Economize, to save money by careful management.
Ecstasy, rapture; enthusiasm.
Ecstatic, in a state of ecstasy.
Ecumenical, universal.
Ec'zema, a skin disease.
Edacious, greedy, ravenous.
Eddying, turning round and round.
Edelweiss, an Alpine flower.
Edging, a narrow border of lace, etc., on a garment.
Edible, fit to be eaten.
Edict, an order issued by a sovereign; a decree.
Edification, instruction; mental progress.
Edifice, a building.
Edify, to build; to benefit by instruction.
Edit, to prepare for publication.
Edition de luxe, a richly bound edition of a book beautifully printed on the best paper.
Editorial, belonging to or written by an editor.
Educate, to bring up, instruct.
Educational, relating to education.
Educe, to bring out, extract.
Eerie, inspiring fear; weird.
Effaceable, that may be rubbed out.
Effective, productive of results; serviceable.
Effectual, producing the desired effect.
Effeminacy, womanish weakness in a man.
Ef'ferent, carrying outwards.

Effervescence, bubbling of a liquid due to the escape of gas.
Effete, barren; worn out.
Efficacious, able to produce the desired effect.
Ef'ficacy, the state of being efficacious.
Efficiency, ability to produce a given effect.
Efficient, effective, capable.
Effigy, an image or figure of a person.
Efflorescence, production of flowers; a redness of the skin.
Ef'fluence, that which flows out.
Effluvium, noisome vapour from decayed matter.
Efflux, the act of flowing out; effluence.
Effront'ery, impudence, shamelessness.
Effulgent, shining, bright, luminous.
Effusion, that which is poured out.
Effusive, pouring out; demonstrative.
Egg-flip, a drink of hot ale with eggs, spice, etc.
Eglantine, sweetbrier; wild-rose.
Ego, one's self.
Egoism or egotism, inordinate love of self.
Egoistical, showing egoism.
Egregious, remarkable, extraordinary.
Egress, the act of going out; a means of exit.
Egyptology, the study of Egyptian antiquities.
Eider-down, soft down of the eider-duck.
Eighteenth, next to the seventeenth.
Eikon, a likeness; a sacred picture.
Eirenicon, a suggested arrangement with the view of conciliating.
Ejaculation, a sudden exclamation.
Ejection, the act of casting out, expulsion.
Ejectment, a casting out; expulsion.
Elaboration, the act of bringing to perfection.
Elan, dash, transport.
Elapse, to pass away, to glide away.
Elastically, in an elastic or springy manner.
Elasticity, power of quick recovery.
Elated, flushed with success.
Elation, pride caused by success.
El Dorado, an imaginary land of gold.
Elect, to choose, to pick out; one chosen.
Electioneer, to work for the election of a candidate.
Electoral, relating to an elector or elections.
Electrical, belonging to electricity.
Electrician, one skilled in electricity.
Electricity, one of the forces of nature.
Electro, a short form of electrotype.
Electrocution, execution by electricity.
Electrolier, a pendant for electric lights.
Electrom'eter, an instrument for measuring electricity.
Electrotype, see Dict. of Gen. Infor.
Eleemos'ynary, given in or depending on charity.
Elegance, grace, beauty of form.
Elegi'ac, belonging to elegy; mournful.
Elegy, a mournful song; a dirge.
Elemental, arising from first principles.
Elementary, uncompounded, primary.
Elephantine, pertaining to an elephant; huge.
Elevation, the act of raising up; height; dignity.
Elf-land, fairy-land.
Elicit, to draw out, discover by reasoning.
Elide, to cut off a syllable.
Eligible, fit to be chosen, preferable.
Eliminate, to reject, leave out.
Elision, the act of cutting off a syllable.
Elite, a select body.
Elixir, an invigorating cordial.
Elizabethan, belonging to Elizabeth's reign.
Ellipse, an oval figure.
Ellipsis, omission of a word or phrase.
Elliptical, belonging to an ellipse; having a part left out.
Elocutionist, one skilled in the art of speaking.
Elogium, an oration in praise of a person or event.
Elohim, a Hebrew name for God.
Elongation, the act of lengthening; distance.
Elopement, the running away of two lovers.
Eloquence, power of speaking well and fluently.
Elucidate, to explain, to make clear.
Elude, to evade, to avoid by artifice.
Elusive, using stratagem to evade.
Elusory, evasive, deceitful.
Elvish, elfish, full of mischief.
Elysian, very delightful.
Elysium, an abode or state of exquisite bliss.
El'zevir, a book printed by the Elzevir family.
Emaciation, a wasting away; leanness.
Emanate, to issue or flow from.
Emanation, the act of proceeding from.
Emancipate, to set free, release from control.
Emasculate, to castrate, render weak.
Embalm, to preserve a dead body by aromatics.
Embankment, a raised mound.
Embargo, prohibition; a stop put to trade.
Embarrass, to perplex, entangle, abash.
Embassy, an ambassador's mission or official residence; a solemn message.
Embattled, drawn up in order of battle; furnished with battlements.
Embellish, to beautify, to adorn.
Ember, a live cinder.
Ember-days, certain fast days before the Sunday when priests and deacons are ordained.
Embezzle, to appropriate by breach of trust.
Embitter, to render bitter.
Emblazon, to adorn with heraldic figures; to embellish.
Emblematic, symbolical, typical.
Embodiment, the state of being invested with or united in a body.
Embonpoint, plumpness.
Embosom, to admit to one's affections; to enclose.
Emboss, to adorn with raised work.
Embouchure, the mouth of a river.
Embowel, to take away the entrails; to enclose in.
Embower, to enclose as with trees.
Embrace, to clasp in the arms.
Embrasure, an opening in a wall for guns.
Embrocation, a liniment.
Embroidery, fancy needlework.
Embroilment, a state of disturbance.
Embryo, the first undeveloped state of anything.
Embryology, the science which treats of embryos.
Emend, to correct, change for the better.
Emendation, the act of improving or correcting.
Emerald, a green precious stone.
Emerge, to come forth.
Emergency, an unforeseen event or necessity.
Emer'itus, retiring with a pension.
Emersion, the act of emerging.
Emery, a hard mineral used for polishing.
Emetic, a medicine to cause vomiting.
Emeute, a riot, rising.
Emigrant, one who removes to another country.
Emigration, the act of emigrating.
Emigré, a noble who left France during the revolution.
Eminence, height; distinction; title of cardinal.
Emir, an Eastern ruler.
Em'issary, a special or secret messenger.
Emit, to send forth.
Emollient, a softening application.
Emolument, profit, advantage.
Emotional, easily moved or excited.
Empale, to transfix on an upright stake; to fence in.
Empery, empire, sovereign power.
Emphasis, stress laid on certain words.
Emphatic, forcible, striking.
Empirical, based on observation only.
Empiricism, dependence on experience alone.
Employee, one employed by another.
Empoison, to poison; to infect with bitterness.
Emporium, a centre of trade.
Empressement, earnestness; eager attention.
Emprise, an enterprise.
Emptiness, the state of containing nothing.
Empurple, to make of a purple colour.
Empyr'eal, composed of pure fire or light.
Emulation, rivalry; the attempt to excel.
Emulgent, milking or draining out.
Emulous, eager to surpass another.
Emulsion, a milk-like medicine.
Enable, to make possible, confer power.
Enactment, the establishment of a law.
Enamel, a glossy, paint-like coating.
En avant, forward!
En bloc, in a lump.
Encaustic, with the colours burnt in.
Enceinte, space enclosed by ramparts; pregnant.
Enchanter, one who charms; a magician.
Enchantment, delight; the use of magic spells.
Enchiridion, a hand-book.
Encircle, to enclose in a ring.
Enclitic, that leans upon.
Encomiastic, bestowing praise.
Encomium, praise, eulogy.
Encompass, to surround; bring about; go round.
Encore, again; a recall at the theatre, etc.
Encounter, to meet face to face; an attack.
Encouragement, incitement; support.
Encroach, to advance gradually; to trespass on another's rights.
Encumber, to clog, impede; to load with debts.
Encumbrance, a clog; a burden upon an estate.
Encyclical, sent round to many people.
Encyclopædia, a book of information on every subject.
Encyclopædic, containing much information.
Endearment, a term of affection; a caress.
Endeavour, to try, to attempt.
Endemic, peculiar to a locality or people.
Endive, a plant used in salads.
Endorse, to ratify; to sign one's name on the back of.
Endorsement, act of endorsing; ratification.
Endowment, a fund settled on a person or institution.
Endue, to put on; to credit with.
Endurance, duration; the power of bearing suffering.
En'ema, see Med. Dict.
Energetic, full of activity, forcible.
Energize, to act with energy.
Enervation, the state of being weakened.
En évidence, to the fore, conspicuous.
Enfant terrible, a precocious child.
Enfeeblement, loss of strength.
Enfeoffment, formal conveyance of an estate.
En fête, making holiday.
Enfilade, to fire on a line of troops from their flank.
Enfin, at last, finally.
Enforcement, compulsion, sanction.
Enfranchise, to admit to political rights; to free.
Engagement, a promise; a betrothal; a fight.
Engaging, pleasing, attractive.
Engender, to beget; to give rise to.
Engine, a machine; an instrument.
Engineer, one who constructs or manages engines.
Englishry, people of English descent.
Engorge, to devour, swallow up.
Engrain, to dye in a lasting colour.
Engraving, a print.
Engross, to monopolise; to copy in large writing.
Engrosser, one who purchases large quantities of a commodity in order to make a profit.
Engrossment, the act of engrossing.
Engulf, to swallow up.
Enhance, to increase; to raise in esteem.
Enigma, a riddle; an obscure statement.
Enigmatical, puzzling; having a hidden meaning.
Enjoin, to direct, command, prescribe.
Enjoyment, happiness; desirable possession.
Enlace, to lace, to encircle.
Enlargement, increase in size; addition.
Enlightenment, moral or mental illumination.
Enlist, to join the army; to enrol on one's side.
Enliven, to animate; to make cheerful.
En masse, in a body, all together.
Enmity, unfriendliness, disagreement.
Ennoble, to make noble; to elevate.
Ennui, feeling of boredom, weariness.
Enormity, an atrocious crime; wickedness.
Enormous, huge; excessive; very wicked.
Enough, sufficient.
Enounce, to articulate; to state.
Enquire or inquire, to seek for information.
Enrage, to rouse to anger.
En rapport, in connection; in harmony.
Enrapture, to fill with joy or delight.
En règle, in proper order.
En revanche, in return; by way of retaliation.
Enroll or enrol, to insert in a register or in a list.
Enrolment, the act of enrolling; a register.
En route, on the way.
Ensample, an example, a specimen.
Ensanguine, to suffuse with blood.
Ensconce, to cover as with a fort; to hide.
Ensemble, the general effect.
Enshrine, to enclose in a shrine; to cherish as sacred.
Enshroud, to cover up; to conceal.
Ensign, the flag of a regiment; the officer bearing it.
Enslave, to deprive of liberty.
Ensnare, to catch in a trap; to entangle.
Ensue, to come after; to follow as a result.
En suite, in company; matching.
Ensure, to make certain.
Entail, to settle the succession to an estate.
Entanglement, intricacy; state of confusion.
En'tasis, the swelling outline of a column between its top and its base.
Entente cordiale, a friendly understanding between two nations.
Enter'ic, belonging to the intestines.
Enterprising, ready to venture on a bold scheme.
Entertaining, affording amusement.
Enthrall or enthral, to enslave, to entrance.
Enthronement, the act of placing on a throne.
Enthusiasm, heat of imagination; fervent zeal.
Enthusiast, one filled with enthusiasm.
Enticement, allurement; a tempting away.
Enticing, seductive, attractive.
Entire, whole, unbroken.
Entirety, completeness, fulness.
Entitle, to name; to give a claim to.
Entity, a real being; existence.
Entombment, burial.
Entomology, the science of insects.
Entourage, surroundings; courtiers, etc.
Entr'acte, the interval between the acts of a play.
Entrails, the bowels.
Entrain, to get into a train (used of troops).
Entrancement, a state of rapturous joy.
En'trant, one who enters; a new member.
Entreaty, an earnest prayer or petition.
Entrée, right of entry; a made dish.
Entre nous, between ourselves.
Entrepôt, a warehouse; a commercial centre.
Entry, the act of entering; an entrance passage.
Entwine, to interlace, twist together.
Enucleate, to solve, make clear.
Enumeration, a detailed reckoning.
Enunciation, the act of speaking out; declaration.
Envel'op, to cover up; to surround.
En'velope, a wrapper; a cover for a letter.
Envenom, to poison; to make odious; enrage.
Enviable, exciting envy; much to be desired.

Envious, filled with envy.
Environment, surroundings.
Envi'rons, districts round a town, etc.
Envoy, a diplomatic agent; a messenger.
Envy, jealousy of another's advantages.
Eon or æon, a very long period of time.
Epaulette, an officer's shoulder badge.
Epergne, an ornamental stand for the table.
Ephem'eral, living for one day only.
Epic, an account of some great event in lofty verse.
Epicure, a lover of the luxuries of the table.
Epicure'an, luxurious; fond of the table.
Epicurism, the principles of Epicurus; luxury.
Epidemic, affecting great numbers.
Epidermis, outer or scarf skin.
Epigram, a short pointed poem or saying.
Epigrammatic, sharp and to the point.
Epigraph, an inscription on a building, etc.
Epilepsy, a convulsive disease.
Epilogue, a poem or speech at the end of a play.
Epiph'any, a Church festival.
Episcopacy, government by bishops.
Episcopalian, relating to a bishop.
Episcopate, the whole body of bishops.
Episode, a minor event or story.
Epistle, a letter.
Epistolary, relating to letters.
Epitaph, an inscription on a tomb.
Epithalamium, a marriage song.
Epithet, an adjective denoting some quality.
Epit'ome (o-me), an abridgment of a book, etc.
Epitomize, to abridge, to condense.
Epoch, a point of time from which events date.
Epon'ymous, naming a tribe or place after some person.
Equability, evenness, uniformity.
Equality, agreement in size, rank, or value.
Equanimity, evenness of mind; composure.
Equation, an algebraic proposition in which an equality is stated.
Equatorial, on or near the equator, relating to the equator.
Equerry or equery, an officer of a royal stable.
Equestrian, a person on horseback.
Equi-distant, at the same distance.
Equil'ibrist, one skilled in balancing.
Equilibrium, state of being evenly balanced.
Equine, belonging to horses.
Equinoctial, belonging to the Equinoxes.
Equinox, time when the day and night are everywhere equal.
Equipment, accoutrements, an outfit.
Equipoise, equality of weight or force.
Eq'uitable, just, impartial.
Equity, justice, impartiality.
Equivalent, of equal value, meaning, etc.
Equiv'ocal, of doubtful signification.
Equivocation, ambiguity of speech.
Era, a period dating from some important event.
Eradicate, to uproot, to exterminate.
Erase, to rub out; to destroy.
Erastianism, see Dict. of Gen. Infor.
Erasure, something rubbed out.
Erect, upright; to build, to raise.
Erectile, capable of erection.
Eremite, a hermit, recluse.
Ergo, therefore.
Ero'dent, a drug that eats away.
Erosion, the act of eating away.
Erot'ic, relating to love.
Errand, a commission given to a messenger.
Errant, wandering, roving.
Erring, sinful, straying from the right way.
Errat'ic, wandering; uncertain; changeable.
Erra'tum (pl. errata), an error in writing or printing.
Erroneous, wrong, mistaken.
Error, a mistake; a fault.
Erse, the language of the Irish or Scotch Highlanders; Gaelic.
Erstwhile, at one time, formerly.
Eructation, the act of belching.
Er'udite, learned.
Erudition, learning, knowledge.
Eruption, a bursting out; pimples on the skin.
Erysipelas, a skin disease.
Escalade, a storming with ladders.
Escal'lop, a shell-fish.
Escapade, a mischievous prank.
Escapement, an escape; a part of a watch.
Escarpment, the steep side of a hill, etc.
Eschalot, a species of onion.
Eschatol'ogy, the doctrine of "the last things," death, judgment, etc.
Escheat, the falling of land to the state or the lord of the manor through failure of heirs.
Escheator, an officer to look after escheats.
Eschew, to avoid; to fly from.
Esclandre, an action that causes scandal.
Es'cort, one or more persons acting as a guard.
Escort', to act as an escort.
Escritoire, a writing-desk.
Esculent, suitable for food.
Escutcheon, a shield bearing a coat of arms.
Eskimo (pl. Eskimos), a native of the extreme north of North America.
Esoter'ic, secret; known to a chosen few.
Espalier, a fruit-tree grown on a trellis.
Esparto, a Spanish grass made into paper, etc.
Especially, chiefly, particularly.
Espi'al, a spy; the act of spying.
Es'pionage, the practice of a spy.
Esplanade, a level walk or drive.
Espousal, a betrothal.
Esprit de corps, a corporate spirit.
Espy, to watch narrowly; to see at a distance.
Esquire, an armour-bearer; a courtesy title.
Es'sayist, a writer of short treatises.
Essence, qualities that make a thing; perfume.
Essentially, necessarily; in a high degree.
Established, founded; firmly fixed.
Estaminet, a restaurant where one may smoke.
Estates, (of the realm), the lords, temporal and spiritual, and the commons.
Esteem, to have a great respect for; to consider.
Es'timable, worthy of esteem.
Estimation, calculation; opinion; esteem.
Estrangement, withdrawal of friendship.
Estuary, the mouth of a tidal river.
Esurience, hunger, want.
Etagère, an ornamental set of shelves.
Et cætera, and other such things.
Etching, a form of engraving.
Eternally, for ever; continually.
Eternity, duration without end.
Etesian, blowing at periodical intervals.
Ether, the upper air; an anæsthetic.
Ethereal, of the nature of air; heavenly.
Ethical, relating to morals.
Ethics, the science of morals.
Ethiopian, a native of Ethiopia; a black.
Ethnical, pertaining to race.
Ethnographical, describing the races of the earth.
Ethnology, study of mankind.
Ethos, customs and morals.
Etiolation, a growing pale from want of light.
Etiquette, rules of polite conduct.
Etymological, relating to etymology.
Etymology, science of the origin of words.
Eucalyptus, an Australian tree.
Eucharist, Sacrament of the Lord's Supper.
Eulogistic, expressing praise.
Eulogium, a eulogy.
Eulogy, a speech or writing in praise of any one.
Eunuch, a castrated man.
Eupeptic, easy to digest.
Euphemism, a mild term used for an offensive one.
Euphemistic, containing a euphemism.
Euphony, an agreeable sound.
Euphuism, high flown language.
Eurasian, the child of a Hindu woman and a European.
Eureka, cry of triumph at a discovery.
Euthanasia, an easy death.
Evacuate, to empty; to withdraw from.
Evade, to avoid by cunning; to prevaricate.
Evaluation, exact valuation.
Evanescent, vanishing; imperceptible.
Evangelical, according to the Gospel.
Evangelist, one of the writers of the Gospels; a lay preacher.
Evaporate, to disappear in vapour; to vanish.
Evasion, an excuse, a subterfuge.
Evasive, practising evasion; elusive.
Evenness, levelness; uniformity; calmness.
Eventually, in the end, finally.
Eversion, the act of upsetting or destroying.
Eviction, legal dispossession of a tenant.
Evidence, testimony; statements by a witness.
Evidently, visibly, without doubt.
Evince, to show, to prove.
Eviscerate, to disembowel.
Evolution, a gradual unrolling or development.
Evolve, to unfold, disclose itself.
Ewe, a female sheep.
Ewer, a large jug for water.
Exacerbation, increase of malignity or bitterness.
Exaction, extortion; an unjust demand.
Exactitude, accuracy, exactness.
Exaggerate, to overstep the truth.
Exaltation, elevation to power or dignity; excited feeling.
Examination, close inspection or inquiry; trial of knowledge.
Examinee, a person examined.
Example, a copy or pattern; a precedent.
Ex animo, sincerely.
Exasperation, irritation; provocation.
Ex cath'edra, given with authority.
Excavate, to hollow out.
Exceed, to go beyond; to surpass.
Excel, to surpass; to be great.
Excellence, great worth or merit; dignity.
Excelsior, higher yet.
Exceptional, unusual.
Excerpt, an extract from a book, etc.
Excess, more than enough; over-indulgence.
Exchange, to give one thing for another; to barter.
Exchequer, the State money department.
Excisable, liable to be taxed.
Exciseman, a collector of excise duties.
Excision, a cutting off; removal.
Excitableness, agitation from joy or grief.
Excitation, excitement, commotion.
Exciting, rousing; very interesting.
Exclamation, an emphatic utterance; outcry.
Exclamatory, containing an exclamation.
Exclude, to shut out; to debar; to except.
Exclusive, not taking into account; eliquish.
Excogitate, to invent; to think out.
Excommunicate, to exclude from Church privileges.
Excoriate, to flay, strip off the skin.
Excoriation, act of flaying; loss of skin.
Excortication, the stripping off of bark.
Ex'crement, matter discharged from the body.
Excrescence, a growth; an unnecessary part.
Excrete, to separate and throw off from the body.
Ex'cretory, throwing off or excreting from the body.
Excruciating, agonising; intensely painful.
Exculpate, to clear from blame, exonerate.
Excul'patory, clearing from a charge.
Excursion, an outing; expedition; digression.
Excursus, an explanation appended to a book.
Excusable, that may be excused.
Excuse, to free from blame; to pardon.
Exeat, leave of absence.
Ex'ecrable, detestable, accursed.
Execrate, to hold in abhorrence; to curse.
Exec'utant, one who performs or carries out.
Exec'utive, having the power to carry out.
Exec'utrix, a woman appointed to carry out the instructions in a will.
Exege'sis, interpretation of the Scriptures.
Exegete, a person skilled in exegesis.
Exegetical, explanatory.
Exem'plary, worthy to be imitated.
Exemplification, illustration by example.
Exemption, freedom from, immunity.
Exequies, funeral rites.
Exercise, to train for use; to employ; a task.
Exercitation, exercise; practice; use.
Exertion, the act of putting into use; effort.
Exhalation, emitted vapour; evaporation.
Exhaust, to drain entirely; to weary.
Exhaustion, act of draining; great fatigue.
Exhaust-pipe, a pipe for the outlet of waste steam.
Exhibit, to show; to offer for inspection.
Exhibitioner, one who gains an exhibition or scholarship.
Exhilarate, to make cheerful; to enliven.
Exhortation, a speech inciting to good deeds.
Exhort'atory, tending to exhort.
Exhumation, the act of disinterring.
Exigency, pressing necessity; demand.
Exigent, needing immediate attention.
Exiguous, small, diminutive.
Exile, banishment, or one banished.
Existence, state of being, life.
Exit, a going out; a place of egress.
Exodus, departure; an Old Testament book.
Exon, an officer of the Yeomen of the Guard.
Exonerate, to clear from blame, to acquit.
Ex'orable, capable of being persuaded.
Exorbitance, excessive demand; enormity.
Exorcise, to drive away an evil spirit.
Exorcism, the act of expelling evil spirits.
Exordium, a preface.
Exoter'ic, for communication to the public.
Exotic, foreign, not native to the soil.
Expand, to spread, lay open; to grow larger.
Expansion, the act of expanding; enlargement.
Ex parte, biassed, partial.
Expatiate, to range at large; to enlarge upon.
Expatriate, to banish from one's native land.
Expectancy, something expected; hope.
Expectation, prospect of coming events.
Expectoration, discharged phlegm; spittle.
Expediency, suitableness to an end.
Expedite, to hasten, to despatch.
Expedition, haste; a journey for some purpose.
Expeditiously, swiftly, promptly.
Expel, to drive out, banish, eject.
Expenditure, the act of spending; sum spent.
Experience, knowledge gained by practice.
Experiment, something done as a proof or test.
Expert, one specially skilled in a subject.
Ex'piable, that may be atoned for.
Expiation, atonement.
Expiration, act of breathing out; the end.
Explanatory, serving to make clear.
Ex'pletive, added in order to fill up; an oath.
Explication, explanation.
Explicit, plainly expressed; clear in statement.
Explode, to burst with a loud noise.
Exploit, a deed of daring; to turn to one's own advantage.
Exploitation, act of making successful use of.
Exploration, search; examination.
Explosion, a sudden loud bursting.
Exponent, a representative; a term in Algebra.
Exponential, belonging to an exponent.
Exports, goods sent abroad.
Exportation, the act of exporting.
Exposé, a formal explanation; an exposure.
Exposed, without protection; liable.
Exposition, explanation; an exhibition.
Ex post facto, after the thing is done.
Expostulate, to reason with, remonstrate.
Exposure, state of being open to view or risk.
Expression, utterance; a phrase; a look.
Expressively, significantly, so as to make an impression.
Express-rifle, a sporting rifle.

Expropriate, to renounce claim to.
Expugn, to conquer, take by assault.
Expulsion, the act of expelling; banishment.
Expunge, to blot out, efface.
Expurgate, to purge, to purify.
Ex'quisite, excellent; complete; keen.
Exscind, to cut off.
Extant, still existing.
Extemporaneous, without premeditation.
Extemporary, done or spoken extempore.
Extem'pore (o-re), without forethought or study.
Extend, to stretch out; enlarge; increase.
Extension, enlargement.
Extent, the degree to which anything is extended.
Extenuate, to lessen; to palliate.
Exterior, external, outward.
Extermination, complete destruction.
Extern, outward; visible; a day pupil.
Externals, outward forms.
Extinction, destruction; suppression.
Extinguish, to put out, suppress, destroy.
Extirpate, to root out; to cut off.
Extol, to praise; to magnify.
Extortioner, one who makes oppressive exactions.
Extraction, the act of drawing out; lineage.
Extradition, the delivery of an accused person to the authorities of the country from which he has fled.
Extrajudicial, out of the regular course of legal procedure.
Extra-mundane, beyond the material world.
Extraneous, not a real part of a thing; foreign.
Extraordinary, out of the common; remarkable.
Extravagance, wasteful expenditure; excess.
Extravaganza, a musical composition of eccentric style.
Extremist, one who holds extreme views.
Extricate, to disentangle; to set free.
Extrinsic, outward; foreign.
Extrude, to thrust out.
Extrusion, the act of driving out.
Exuberance, overgrowth; luxuriance.
Exudation, discharge by pores or incisions.
Exultant, overjoyed; triumphant.
Exuviæ, cast-off skins, shells, etc.
Ex voto, in accordance with a vow.
Eyelet, a small hole for cord, etc.
Eye-service, service performed only when under inspection.
Eyesore, something that offends the sight.
Eyot, a small river island.

Fabian, cautious, avoiding conflict.
Fabric, an edifice; cloth, etc.
Fabricator, one who manufactures.
Fabulous, feigned; not real; amazing.
Façade, the front of an edifice.
Facet or facette, one of the small, cut surfaces of a gem.
Facetious, full of playful wit.
Facial, belonging to the face.
Facile, easy; easily persuaded.
Facile princeps, undoubtedly the first.
Facility, dexterity; freedom from difficulty.
Fac-simile, an exact copy.
Faction, a political party; discord.
Factious, given to faction; clamorous.
Factitious, made by art; not natural.
Factor, an agent; any element necessary for the accomplishment of a certain result.
Factotum, one engaged for all kinds of work.
Faculty, ability; power of mind; a branch of learning.
Faddist, one addicted to hobbies; a crotchety person.
Fæces, excrements; sediments.
Faery, an imaginary being; an elf.
Fagot or faggot, a bundle of sticks.
Fahrenheit, the thermometer in common use in England, so named after its inventor.
Faience, a kind of pottery formerly made at Faenza in Italy.
Failure, non-performance; unsuccessfulness; insolvency.
Fainéant, inert; lazy.
Fait accompli, something already done.
Faith-healing, cures wrought by prayer and imagination without other means.
Faithlessness, inconstancy, perfidy.
Fakir' or fakeer', a religious mendicant of the East.
Falchion, a short, broad sword.
Falconer, a trainer of hawks.
Faldstool, a kneeling-stool.
Falernian, an excellent Italian wine praised by Horace.
Fallacious, producing mistakes; deceptive.
Fallacy, a mistake; an error in argument.
Fallibility, liability to mistakes.
Falling-sickness, a disease, epilepsy.
Fallow, pale yellow; uncultivated for a time.
Fallow-deer, the deer of English parks.
Falsehood, a lie; want of honesty.
Falsetto, higher than the natural voice.
Falsification, the act of counterfeiting or making false.
Faltering, hesitating; unsteady.
Familiarity, omission of ceremony; close acquaintance, intimacy.
Familiar spirit, a spirit accompanying an individual; a spirit that may be summoned.
Family, the members of a household; a tribe.
Famine, dearth; scarcity of food.
Famish, to perish of hunger; to starve.
Famous, renowned; celebrated.
Fanat'ic, a zealot; a religious enthusiast.
Fanaticism, enthusiasm; religious frenzy.
Fanciful, guided by imagination; whimsical.
Fancy-free, not in love.
Fandango, an old Spanish dance.
Fane, a consecrated building; a temple.
Fanfare, a flourish of trumpets.
Fanfaronade, bluster, boasting.
Fantasia, a fanciful piece of music.
Fantastical, imaginary, capricious, odd.
Far niente, doing nothing.
Farce, low comedy; to stuff (cookery).
Farceur, a joker.
Farcical, ludicrous, absurd.
Fardel, a bundle, a burden.
Far-fetched, brought from afar; forced.
Farinaceous, containing flour; mealy.
Farm-bailiff, the overseer of a farm.
Farm-stead, a farm with its outbuildings.
Farrago, a mixed mass, a medley.
Farriery, the trade of a blacksmith.
Farrow, a litter of pigs.
Farthingale, a sort of crinoline.
Fasces, an axe with a bundle of rods, a Roman emblem of authority.
Fascinate, to charm, to bewitch.
Fascination, the power of charming; witchery.
Fascines, bundles of wood bound by three rings.
Fashionable, after the prevailing mode.
Fashious, annoying.
Fastening, that which attaches or makes firm.
Fastidious, hard to please; squeamish.
Fastnesses, fortified or secure places.
Fatalism, the belief that all things are ruled by fate
Fatality, a decree of fate; a fatal event.
Fata Morgana, a mirage seen on the coasts of Italy and Sicily.
Father-land, one's native country.
Fathom, a measure of six feet; to plumb the depths of.
Fathomless, that cannot be fathomed.
Fatigue, weariness; toil.
Fatigue-duty, the work of a soldier apart from the use of arms.
Fattiness, the quality of being fat or fatty.
Fatuity, foolishness; weakness of mind.
Fatuous, foolish, feeble of mind.
Faubourg, a French suburb.
Faultily, in a culpable or imperfect manner.
Faun, a rural deity.
Fauna, the animals of a particular region.
Fauteuil, an arm-chair.
Faux pas, a false step; an error.
Favonian, pertaining to the west wind; propitious.
Favourable, kind; propitious; conducive to.
Favouritism, partiality for certain people.
Fawn, a young deer; light brown; to cringe.
Fay, a fairy.
Fealty, fidelity to a superior lord; loyalty.
Feasible, practicable.
Feat, a noteworthy deed.
Featherweight, a boxer of the lightest of the four orders of weight, viz., heavy, middle, light, and feather weights.
Feathery, clothed with, or like, feathers.
Feature, a single part of the face; a prominent part.
Febrifuge, a medicine to cure fever.
Febrile, proceeding from fever.
Feckless, weak, worthless.
Feculent, foul; dreggy.
Fecundation, the act of making prolific.
Fecundity, fruitfulness.
Federal, relating to a league or contract.
Federation, the act of forming a league; a league.
Feign, to pretend; to invent.
Feint, to move so as to deceive; to dodge; a movement to deceive.
Felicitate, to congratulate; to make happy.
Felicitous, happy, suitable.
Feline, pertaining to, or like, a cat.
Fellah, an Egyptian peasant.
Fell-monger, a dealer in hides.
Fellowship, companionship; partnership.
Felly or Felloe, one of the curved pieces that form the wooden rim of a wheel.
Felo de se', suicide.
Felonious, villainous; with criminal intent.
Felony, a severe crime.
Felucca, a small vessel with oars and lateen sails.
Feminine, belonging to women; tender, soft.
Femme covert, a married woman.
Femoral, belonging to the thigh.
Fencing, the art of attack and defence with sword and foil; material for fences or barriers.
Fend, to shut out; to keep off.
Fenestral, pertaining to a window.
Fenian, a member of an Irish secret society.
Feoff, a fief, fee, or freehold estate.
Feretory, a shrine to hold relics of saints.
Ferial, belonging to holidays.
Fermentation, a process of decomposition.
Ferocious, savage, fierce.
Ferocity, savageness, fierceness.
Ferret, an animal resembling a weasel.
Ferruginous, containing iron; rust-coloured.
Ferrule, the metal ring on the end of a stick, etc.
Fertility, fruitfulness; abundance.
Ferule, a flat stick with which to punish children.
Fervency, earnestness, ardour, zeal.
Fervid, burning, vehement; zealous.
Fervour, heat of mind, zeal.
Festal, belonging to a feast, joyous.
Fester, to become virulent; to suppurate.
Festival, a religious or joyous celebration.
Festoon, a kind of wreath or garland.
Fête, a feast-day, a holiday.
Fête champêtre, an open-air festival.
Fetid, emitting a bad smell.
Fetish, an idol; an object of worship.
Fetlock, the piece of hair above a horse's hoof.
Fetus, an embryo, the young in the womb.
Feud, a quarrel, a contention; a fief.
Feudal, pertaining to the relation between a lord and his vassal.
Feudatory, holding lands by feudal tenure.
Feuilleton, the part of a newspaper devoted to a short, or serial story.
Feverish, troubled with fever, hot, restless.
Fez, a red cap worn in oriental countries.
Fiacre, a carriage for hire in France.
Fiancé m., fiancée f., a betrothed person.
Fiasco, a humiliating failure.
Fiat, a decree, a command.
Fibre, a small thread or filament.
Fibrous, composed of fibres.
Fibula, a brooch; a surgical needle; one of the bones between the knee and ankle.
Fichu, a sort of neckerchief of muslin, etc.
Fickleness, inconstancy, unsteadiness.
Fictile, manufactured by the potter.
Fictional, invented, feigned.
Fictitious, not real, imaginary.
Fidei defensor, defender of the faith.
Fidelity, faithfulness, honesty.
Fidgety, restless, over-anxious.
Fiduciary, a trustee; of the nature of a trust.
Fidus Achates, a faithful friend.
Fief, lands held by grant from a superior or overlord.
Field-artillery, artillery for use in the field.
Field-day, a day when the troops take the field for practice.
Field-marshal, the highest rank in the army.
Fiendish, extremely cruel or malicious.
Fierceness, ferocity, violence.
Fieriness, the state of being fiery.
Fiery, hot like fire, hot-tempered.
Figment, an invention, a fiction.
Figurative, illustrative, symbolical, not literally exact; not literal.
Figure-head, the figure on the prow of a ship.
Filament, a slender thread; a fibre.
Filbert, a cultivated variety of the hazel nut.
Filcher, a thief.
Filial, befitting a son or daughter.
Filiation, the determination of the paternity of a child.
Filibuster, a piratical adventurer.
Filigree, a lacework of gold or silver wire.
Filings, fragments rubbed off with a file.
Fillet, a head-band; meat or fish boned.
Fillibeg or Philabeg, a Highland kilt.
Fillip, to strike with the finger nail; to incite.
Filly, a young mare.
Film, a thin skin; a very fine thread.
Filminess, the state of being filmy.
Filter-bed, a tank with a prepared bottom through which a liquid may be filtered.
Filthiness, a dirty or foul state.
Filtrate, to strain or filter.
Fimbriation, a fringe, a decoration of an edge or border.
Finale, the last item on a programme; a final movement.
Finality, completeness, decisiveness.
Finally, lastly, completely.
Finance, the management of money matters.
Financially, in respect to finance.
Financier, one engaged in finance.
Finery, showy dress or ornaments.
Finesse, artifice, stratagem.
Finger-board, the keyboard of a musical instrument.
Finger-plate, a plate fixed on a door near the handle.
Finial, an architectural ornamentation.
Finical, foppish, fastidious.
Finicking, particular over trifles.
Finis, the end, conclusion.
Finite, having a limit.
Finnan haddock or Findon haddock, a smoked fish cured after the manner of the curers of Findon, near Aberdeen.
Finnish, relating to Finland.
Fiord or fjord, a narrow inlet on the coast, as in Norway.

Fire-eater, one who pretends to eat fire; a furious person.
Fire-ship, a ship filled with combustibles to fire the vessels of the enemy.
Firing, fuel; the discharge of fire-arms.
Firmament, the sky, the heavens.
Firman, an order of the Turkish Government.
First-floor, the floor above the ground-floor.
First-fruit, first produce, result, or profit.
First-hand, direct from the originator.
First-water, the best quality.
Firth, an arm of the sea.
Fisc, the public treasury.
Fiscal, belonging to the public treasury, relating to taxation or revenue.
Fishgig, a dart for hurling at fish.
Fishiness, the quality of being fishy; slipperiness.
Fish plate, a plate bolted across the junction of two lengths of railway line to hold them together.
Fish-slice, a broad knife for serving fish.
Fission, a splitting up into parts.
Fissure, a cleft, a narrow chasm.
Fistic, connected with boxing.
Fisticuff, a fight with fists.
Fistula, a kind of flute. See also Med. Dict.
Fitful, uncertain, changeable.
Fitz, a prefix meaning 'son of,' as Fitzgerald.
Fives, a game of hand-ball; a disease of horses.
Fixative, something that has power to fix.
Fixed stars, stars which appear not to move.
Fixity, coherence of parts, firmness.
Fixture, a piece of furniture that goes with the house.
Flabbergast, to overwhelm with surprise.
Flabbiness, the state of being soft and loose.
Flaccid, flabby, weak, lax.
Flag'ellant, a fanatic who scourges himself.
Flagellation, the use of the scourge.
Flageolet, a small wind instrument.
Flagging, drooping; paving stones.
Flagitious, villainous, atrocious.
Flagon, a vessel with a narrow mouth to hold liquors.
Flagrancy, the quality of being flagrant.
Flagrant, burning; notorious, heinous.
Flagrante bello, during war.
Flagrante delicto, in the very act.
Flail, an implement for threshing grain.
Flakiness, the state of being flaky.
Flaky, loosely held together; lying in layers.
Flambeau, a lighted torch.
Flamboyant, a style of architecture; blazing.
Flamingo, a bird with red-coloured plumage.
Flâneur, an idler.
Flange, a projecting rim or edge.
Flanking, at the side of.
Flannel, a soft woollen material.
Flap-doodle, food for fools.
Flaring, blazing; making a show.
Flash-point, the heat at which an inflammable liquid takes fire.
Flat-race, a race on open ground.
Flatterer, one who gives undue praise.
Flatulency, wind in the stomach; emptiness.
Flatulent, full of wind; empty.
Flaunting, making a boastful display, gaudy.
Flavourless, tasteless, insipid.
Flawless, without a flaw or blemish.
Flaxen, made of flax; fair.
Flay, to strip off the skin.
Flèche, a slender spire.
Flection or Flexion, the act of bending, a bend.
Fledgeling, a young bird just able to fly.
Fleerer, a mocker.
Fleming, a native of Flanders.
Fleshings, flesh-coloured tights.
Fleshly, corporeal, carnal, worldly.
Fleur-de-lis, a lily-bloom; the royal arms of France.
Flexibility, pliancy, easiness to be persuaded.
Flighty, fanciful, frivolous.
Flimsiness, the state of being thin and unsubstantial.
Flintiness, a stony hardness; hard-heartedness.
Flint-knapper, a worker in flint, a flint-shaper.
Flippancy, a pert manner of speech.
Flirtation, a playing at love-making.
Floatation or flotation, the study of floating bodies; the act of floating.
Flocculent, flaky, or fleecy like wool.
Flock-bed, a bed stuffed with coarse wool.
Floe, a mass of floating ice.
Flood-gate, a gate to let out or keep in water.
Flood-tide, the rising tide.
Flora, all the plants of a district.
Florentine, of, or pertaining to Florence.
Florescence, the flowering of plants.
Floriculturist, one skilled in the cultivation of flowers.
Florid, bright in colour; embellished.
Florist, a cultivator of flowers.
Flotilla, a little fleet.
Flotsam, portions of a wreck found floating on the sea.
Flour, finely ground corn or grain.
Flourish, to thrive, to prosper; to brag; to wave.
Flout, to mock at, to jeer.
Floweret, a small flower.
Fluctuation, a rising and falling; uncertainty.
Flue, an outlet for smoke or heat soft down, fluff.
Fluency, volubility; ready flow of words.
Fluid'ity, a liquid state.
Fluke, the hook of an anchor; an accidental good stroke.
Flummery, a jelly made of oatmeal; nonsense.
Flunkey, a liveried man-servant.
Flush-box, the small tank by which a water-closet is flushed.
Fluted, embellished with furrows or grooves.
Fluvial, belonging to rivers.
Fluxion, the act of flowing; that which flows.
Fly-blown, tainted with the eggs of flies.
Fly-fishing, fishing with flies for bait.
Flying-buttress, a term in architecture.
Fly-wheel, a wheel to regulate the motion of machinery.
Foal, a young horse or ass.
Foamy, covered with foam; frothy.
Focal, belonging to a focus.
Focus (pl. foci), a point of concentration.
Focussing cloth, the dark cloth used by a photographer in adjusting his camera.
Foeman, an enemy in war.
Fogeyism, dull and old-fashioned habits.
Fog-signal, an alarm sounded on ships or light-houses, and by trains during a fog.
Foible, a weak side; a falling.
Foil, to defeat; a blunt rapier used in fencing.
Foist, to insert artfully; to pass off fraudulently.
Foliage, leaves of trees.
Foliation, the beating of a metal into thin plates; the act of putting forth leaves.
Folio, a large book or page of manuscript; two opposite pages of an account book.
Folk-lore, ancient legends, primitive customs and traditions of the people of a district.
Fomentation, application of warm lotions or poultices.
Fons et origo, the source and origin.
Font, the vessel containing water for baptism.
Foolhardiness, recklessness, rashness.
Foolscap, a large size of manuscript paper.
Foot-board, the step of a carriage.
Foot-cloth, a cover reaching to a horse's feet.
Footing, ground for the foot; position; entrance.
Foot-lights, lights on the front of a stage.
Foot-note, a note at the foot of a page.
Foot-pad, a highwayman on foot.
Footplate, the platform on which an engine-driver and his stoker stand.
Foppery, affectation; fondness for dress.
Forage, fodder; provisions; to plunder.
Forage-cap, a small cap worn by soldiers.
Foray, a pillaging expedition.
Forbearance, leniency; command of temper.
Forçat, a French convict or galley-slave.
Forcefully, violently, impetuously.
Forcemeat, fine chopped meat.
Forceps, surgical pincers, a pair of tongs.
Forcibly, by force.
Fordable, passable without swimming.
Fore-and-aft, from stem to stern of a vessel.
Fore-arm, the lower part of the arm; to arm in advance.
Forebode, to foretell; to cause a presentiment.
Forecast, to foresee; to plan in advance; to predict.
Forecastle, the front part of a vessel where the crew are quartered.
Foreclosure, prevention; forfeiture of the right of redemption (of a mortgage).
Forefinger, the finger next the thumb, the first finger.
Foregone, past, decided beforehand.
Foreground, the front of a picture or landscape.
Foreign, not of the same country; remote.
Foreland, a headland or cape.
Forelock, a lock of hair on the forehead.
Foreman, a head workman, chief man.
Fore-mentioned, referred to before.
Forensic, belonging to the law-courts.
Foreshore, the sloping part of a shore.
Foreshorten, to shorten parts in a drawing so as to convey the correct idea of distance.
Forestall, to anticipate; to take up beforehand.
Forestry, the management of forests.
Forethought, providential care; anticipation.
Foreword, a preface.
Forfeiture, the loss of a right by some transgression or omission; a fine.
Forfend, to forbid; to avert.
Forgather, to come together.
Forgery, the fraudulent copying of another's writing.
Forgiveness, pardon; willingness to pardon.
Forlorn, forsaken, destitute.
Form, the bed or sitting-place of a hare.
Formal, ceremonious; precise.
Formality, the strict observance of ceremony.
Formation, the manner in which a thing is formed, the act of forming.
Formic, belonging to ants.
For'midable, terrible, inspiring fear.
Formula (pl. ae), a prescribed form.
Formulary, a book of rules or established forms.
Formulation, the act of reducing to a formula.
Fornication, impurity of intercourse between unmarried people.
Forswear, to renounce or deny upon oath.
Forte, that in which one excels.
Forte (-e), loudly (music).
Fortify, to strengthen against attack; to encourage.
Fortissimo, as loudly as possible (music).
Fortitude, strength in adversity.
Fortuitous, accidental, by chance.
Fortune-hunter, a man who seeks a rich wife.
Forum, a public place in Rome where justice was dispensed.
Forwardness, presumption; preparedness.
Fosse, a ditch, a moat.
Fossil, petrified animal or vegetable remains.
Foster-child, a child nursed by one who is not its parent.
Fother, to stop a leak in the bottom of a ship.
Foudroyant, sudden and terrible like a lightning stroke.
Foul-mouthed, making use of bad language.
Foundation-stone, the stone of a building laid with ceremony.
Founder, an originator; to sink (of a boat).
Foundery or foundry, a place where metals are cast.
Foundling, a child found forsaken.
Fountain-head, a source or origin.
Four-in-hand, a carriage drawn by four horses.
Fourteenth, the ordinal of fourteen.
Fowling-piece, a gun for shooting birds.
Fracas, an uproar; a quarrel.
Fractional, forming only a part of a whole.
Fractious, fretful; given to quarrelling.
Fracture, the breaking of a bone, etc.
Fragile, delicate; brittle; easily broken.
Fragility, brittleness; frailty.
Frag'mentary, made up of broken pieces.
Fragrance, sweet perfume, an agreeable odour.
Fragrant, odorous, having a sweet scent.
Frail, fragile, wanting in strength of mind.
Frailty, weakness, infirmity.
Framework, a frame enclosing anything; a skeleton structure.
Franc, a French coin worth about 9½d.
Franchise, a privilege; the right of voting at parliamentary elections.
Franciscan friar, a monk of the order of St. Francis.
Frangible, fragile; able to be broken.
Frankincense, an odoriferous kind of resin.
Frankish, relating to the Franks.
Franklin, a steward; a landowner.
Frantically, madly, furiously.
Frappé, cooled by ice.
Fraternal, brotherly.
Fraternity, a brotherhood.
Fraternize, to become very friendly with.
Fratricide, the murder or murderer of a brother.
Fraud, deceit, artifice; a cheat.
Fraudulence, deceitfulness, dishonesty.
Fraught, laden, stored, filled.
Freakish, capricious, full of vagaries.
Free Churches, the churches separated from the Established Church.
Freebooter, a plunderer, a robber.
Freedom, liberty, independence.
Freehand, drawing unassisted by instruments.
Freehold, land held by free tenure with no duties except to the Crown.
Free-lance, a mercenary soldier of mediæval times.
Freemason, a member of a secret society.
Free-thinker, one who does not believe in the orthodox forms of religion.
Free-trade, the interchange of commodities without the payment of duties.
Free-will, unrestricted liberty of action.
Freezing mixture, a mixture of ice and salt that will cause other things to freeze.
Freightage, the charge for conveying goods.
French chalk, used by tailors to draw lines on, and remove grease spots from cloth.
French leave, departure without announcement, a slipping off.
Frenetic, mad, distracted.
Frenzied, maddened, distracted.
Frenzy, madness, distraction of mind.
Frequency, numerous repetition at short intervals.
Frequenter, one who often resorts to a place.
Fresco, a painting on freshly plastered walls.
Freshman, an undergraduate during his first year.
Freshet, a flood of fresh water.
Fretted, adorned with frets or fretwork.
Friable, easily reduced to powder.
Friar, a member of a religious order.
Fricassee, fowl, etc., cut up and dressed with sauce.
Friction, a rubbing together of two surfaces.
Friendliness, a disposition to friendship.
Frieze, a woollen cloth; an architectural term.
Frigate, a ship of war.
Frigid, intensely cold; dull; stiff.
Fringe, an ornamental edging to dress, etc.
Friskiness, gaiety; liveliness.

Frith-stool, a seat near an abbey or church which gave the right of sanctuary to any fugitive who reached it.
Frivolity, unseemly levity.
Frivolous, trifling; given to frivolity.
Frock-coat, a close-fitting long coat for men.
Frolicsome, playful, full of gaiety.
Frond, the leaf of a fern, etc.
Frondescent, bursting into foliage.
Frontage, the front part of a building.
Frontal, in front; belonging to the forehead; a cloth for the front of an altar.
Frontier, the extreme border of a territory.
Frontispiece, a picture facing the title-page of a book.
Frost-bitten, nipped by the frost.
Frothiness, the state of being frothy or foamy.
Frou-frou, the rustling of a silken skirt.
Frouzy or frowzy, dim, musty; untidy.
Froward, ungovernable, perverse.
Fructification, the act of fructifying.
Fructify, to bear fruit; to fertilise.
Frugality, thrift; parsimony.
Fruiterer, a seller of fruit.
Fruition, pleasure given by possession or use.
Fruitlessly, vainly; unprofitably.
Fruity, of the flavour of fruit.
Frumentaceous, made of, or like grain.
Frumenty, a dish made of wheaten grains boiled in milk and seasoned.
Frump, a dowdy, disagreeable woman.
Frustrate, to defeat, to balk.
Frustum, the stump of a cone after the upper part has been shorn off along a plane parallel to the base.
Fuchsia, a garden plant.
Fuddler, a drunkard.
Fuel, matter to feed a fire.
Fugacious, fleeting; volatile.
Fugitive, one who flies from danger or justice.
Fugleman, an expert soldier who stands in front as a model for the rest at drill.
Fugue, a musical composition.
Fulfil, to perform, to carry out.
Fulgent, shining.
Fulig'inous, sooty, smoky.
Full-blown, open to its full extent.
Fuller, one who cleanses cloth.
Fulminate, to thunder; to make a loud noise.
Fulsome, nauseous, offensive.
Fumarole, the hole from which volcanic smoke issues.
Fumid, smoky; vaporous.
Fumigation, a disinfecting by means of vapours.
Funambulist, a rope-dancer.
Function, the performance of an act or duty; power.
Functionary, one holding a special office.
Fundamental, serving for the foundation; essential.
Funeral, the ceremony of burial.
Fune'real, suiting a funeral; dismal.
Fungus (pl. fungi or funguses), a plant such as the mushroom, etc.; a spongy growth.
Funicular, consisting of a small cord, held by a taut cord.
Funnel, a pipe to let out smoke or steam; an instrument for filling bottles, etc.
Furbelow, a flounce or other ornament of dress.
Furbish, to burnish, polish up.
Furioso, with energy (mus.); a raging person.
Furiously, madly, violently.
Furl, to roll up and make fast, as a sail.
Furlong, the eighth part of a mile.
Furlough, leave of absence.
Furnace, an enclosed fire-place.
Furniture, useful and ornamental movables in a house; equipage.
Furor scribendi, a passion for writing.
Furore, excitement; intense enthusiasm.
Furrier, a dealer in furs.
Furrow, a trench made by the plough; a wrinkle.
Fustigate, to cudgel, to beat.
Furtherance, assistance towards an end.
Furtive, stolen, sly.
Fuscous, of a dark shade.
Fusee, a match; the cone round which the cord of a watch is wound; a light musket.
Fusel-oil, an oil obtained from fermented malt, potatoes, etc.
Fusible, capable of being melted.
Fusilier or fusileer, a soldier armed with a fusil or small musket.
Fusillade, a discharge of musketry.
Fusion, the act of melting; a blending by melting together.
Fussiness, unnecessary ado about trifles.
Fustian, a kind of cloth; bombast.
Futile, in vain; worthless.
Futility, uselessness.
Futurity, time to come.
Fuzzy-wuzzy, shaggy-headed.

Gabardine, a long cloak, formerly worn by all Jews when out of doors.
Gabel, a tax, particularly a former tax on French salt.
Gable, the triangular end of a building.
Gabions, baskets filled with earth and used in fortification.
Gaelic, a Celtic language spoken by the Highland Scotch.
Gaff, a hook used by anglers for landing large fish; a cheap theatre.
Gag, to stuff something into the mouth; to close discussion forcibly; a part put in by an actor on his own responsibility.
Gaiety, merriment, lightheartedness.
Gainsay, to contradict.
Gaiter, an outer covering for the lower part of the leg.
Gala, festive; festivity.
Galantine, a dish consisting of meat or poultry boned and pressed.
Galaxy, the milky way; a bevy of gay and brilliant people.
Galilean, of or pertaining to Galilee.
Gall, the bitter fluid secreted in the liver, bile; to annoy bitterly; to chafe the skin by friction or pressure; a brown ball produced on oak-trees by insects.
Gallantry, chivalrous valour, attention to ladies.
Gallery, a long passage or corridor; a kind of balcony in a hall or theatre overlooking the rest of the room.
Galley-slave, a slave chained to his oar on board a galley.
Gallic, belonging to Gaul or France.
Gallicè, in the French tongue.
Gallicism, the adoption in England of a French idiom, as "to assist at" for "to be present at."
Galling, chafing, annoying.
Gallon, a measure of four quarts.
Gallop, the rapid springing movement of a horse.
Gallows, the framework on which those condemned to death are executed.
Galop, a quick lively dance.
Galore, in abundance.
Galosh or galoche, an india-rubber shoe worn over ordinary shoes.
Galvanic, belonging to galvanism.
Galvanism, the production of electric currents by chemical reaction.
Galvanometer, an instrument for estimating the strength of an electric current.
Gambit, the sacrifice of a pawn in chess early in the game to secure a good opening for attack.
Gamble, to play games of chance for money, to speculate in hopes of large returns.
Gamboge, a water-colour pigment.
Gambol, to frolic or frisk about.
Game-cock, a cock bred for fighting.
Game-laws, laws for the protection of game.
Gamester, a gambler.
Gaming-house, a gambling-house.
Gammon, the salted and dried thigh of a pig; nonsense intended to impose on the hearer's credulity.
Gamp, a large umbrella, so called after Mrs. Sarah Gamp.
Gamut, the entire musical scale.
Gander, the male of the goose.
Ganger, an overseer of a gang of navvies.
Gangetic, of or pertaining to the river Ganges.
Gangrene, an eating away of the flesh.
Gangrenous, in a state of gangrene.
Gangway, a movable bridge affording means of exit from a vessel; narrow passage between blocks of seats.
Gantlet, see gauntlet.
Gaoler or jailer, a prison official who has charge of prisoners.
Garage, a place for storing motor-cars.
Garbage, offal, offensive refuse.
Garçon, the French name for a waiter.
Garde-robe, the necessary offices in a mediæval castle or building.
Gargantuan, prodigious, enormous, like the giant Gargantua.
Gargle, to wash the throat.
Gargoyle or gargoil, a grotesque head at the end of a projecting pipe for draining water from a roof.
Garibaldi, a loose shirt-blouse.
Garish, glaring, gaudy.
Garland, a wreath of flowers or foliage.
Garner, a barn, granary.
Garnish, to decorate a dish for the table; to ornament.
Garotte or garrotte, to strangle with a cord twisted tight by means of a stick; to strangle from behind.
Garret, an attic, a room immediately under the roof.
Garrison, a band of soldiers appointed to man a fortified place.
Garrulous, talkative, loquacious.
Garth, a yard, enclosure.
Gasalier or gaselier, a bracket suspended from the ceiling with branches for gas jets.
Gasconade, a boastful harangue in the style of the Gascons.
Gas-engine, an engine worked by the repeated admission of gas into a receiver followed by its compression.
Gaseous, in the form of gas, like gas.
Gasometer, a large cylindrical reservoir for gas; an instrument for measuring gas.
Gastric, having to do with the stomach.
Gastritis, inflammation of the stomach.
Gastronomy, the art of the epicure; the art of good living.
Gathering, an assembly of people; a formation of matter or pus.
Gauche, "left-handed," awkward, wanting in tact.
Gaucherie, clumsiness, want of tact.
Gaud or gawd, an article of finery or adornment.
Gaudeamus, "Let us rejoice," a festival, or merry-making.
Gaudiness, showiness.
Gauge, to estimate, measure; the distance between the rails on a railroad.
Gauntlet, a glove of mail worn by knights in armour; a glove with a wrist-piece attached.
Gauze, a transparent silky material.
Gavelkind, a system of land tenure in Kent, by which estates are equally divided among the children.
Gazelle, a kind of antelope.
Gazette, an official newspaper containing a list of all public appointments; a newspaper.
Gazetteer, a dictionary of geography.
Gear, harness, tackle, equipment; connexion by means of a toothed wheel.
Gehenna, the valley of Hinnom where human sacrifices were once offered; place of destruction, hell.
Gelatine, an animal product obtained from bones and resembling jelly.
Gelid, cold, frozen.
Gelding, a castrated horse.
Gemini, "the twins," a constellation containing the twin stars Castor and Pollux.
Gendarme, the French name for a military policeman.
Gendarmerie, French military police.
Genealogy, a table of descent, pedigree.
Genealogical, belonging to genealogy.
Genealogist, a student of genealogy.
Generalissimo, a commander-in chief.
Generality, the majority, the common run.
Generalize, to draw general conclusions from particular instances.
Generate, to beget, produce, bring into existence.
Gener'ic, belonging to or common to a genus; general as opposed to special.
Generosity, liberality, munificence; nobility of spirit.
Generous, of a liberal or noble disposition.
Genesis, the process of generating or creating; the first book of the Old Testament containing an account of the Creation.
Geneva, Hollands, a kind of gin.
Genial, cordial, warm-hearted; kindly, healthful.
Genie (pl. genii), a jinn or fire-spirit of Eastern mythology.
Genital, connected with birth, or the organs of generation.
Genius (pl. geniuses), one endowed with special gifts; a tutelary or guardian deity.
Genius loci, the presiding spirit of the place.
Genre, a term applied to pictures dealing with common or homely scenes of ordinary life.
Gens de lettres, men of letters.
Genteel, well-bred, polite.
Gentile, one of non-Jewish race, not of Jewish origin.
Gentility, the state of being genteel or well-bred.
Genuflexion, a bending of the knee.
Genuineness, freedom from spuriousness or falseness.
Genus (pl. genera), a term denoting a group of different species connected with one another by certain common characteristics.
Geodesy, the art of measuring and mapping large surfaces of the earth.
Geography, the science treating of the surface of the earth, its configuration, inhabitants, productions, etc.
Geology, the science dealing with the composition of the earth's crust and the changes it has undergone.
Geomancy, the art of divining future events by earthly signs.
Geometrician, any one versed in geometry.
Geordie, a safety lamp invented and named after George Stephenson.
Georgian, belonging to the age of the four Georges.
Georgic, a poem treating of agriculture and country life.
Germ, the most elementary form of a living organism, an embryo, the minute origin of any development.
German, belonging to Germany.
Germane, akin, relevant.
Germinal, belonging to a germ.
Gerrymander, to divide a district for voting purposes so as to give an unfair advantage to a particular party.
Gestation, the carrying of the young in the womb.
Gesticulate, to enforce one's words by making gestures.

Gesticulatory, belonging to gesticulation.
Gesture, a movement of the body to express some feeling; pose, bearing.
Gewgaw, a toy, showy trifle.
Geyser, a hot spring; a contrivance for heating a bath.
Ghastly, inspiring terror or horror.
Ghat or ghaut, steps leading to the Ganges for sacred bathing; a mountain pass in India.
Ghetto, the Jewish quarter in an Italian town.
Ghost, a spirit, the spirit of the dead appearing to the living.
Ghost-word, a misspelling due originally to a printer's or copyist's error.
Ghoul, a fabulous being in Eastern legends supposed to feed on human corpses.
Giantess, a female giant.
Giaour, a Mohammedan word signifying an infidel or Christian.
Gibberish, unmeaning gabble.
Gibbet, a gallows.
Gibbous, convex, like the moon when almost full
Gibe, to jeer, mock.
Gibeonite, a "hewer of wood and drawer of water;" a labourer, a drudge.
Gibingly, in a jeering manner.
Giblets, the heart, liver and gizzard of a fowl, which are cooked apart from the bird.
Gibus, a crush hat, an opera hat.
Giddiness, dizziness; frivolity, unsteadiness.
Gigantic, huge, enormous.
Gilding, a process of covering with gold leaf.
Gillie, a Highland servant who attends his master when hunting.
Gilt-edged, of the best quality; secure as an investment.
Gimlet, a tool for boring small holes.
Gimp, braid made of twisted cord used in upholstery and for dress trimmings.
Ginger, a hot spice obtained from the ground root of a plant.
Gingerly, cautiously.
Gingham, linen or cotton fabric made of coloured thread.
Gipsy, a member of a wandering or nomadic race whose original home was in the East.
Giraffe, a camelopard, a long necked and long legged African quadruped.
Girder, a beam of iron or timber used to bind together or support other parts of a structure.
Girder-bridge, a bridge which rests on girders.
Girlishness, the bearing or manners of a girl.
Gist, the main point, the essentials.
Gizzard, the stomach of a bird.
Glacé, iced; glossy.
Glacial, icy, belonging to a glacier.
Glacier, a river of ice.
Glacis, a gradual slope; the outer slope of a fortification.
Gladden, to make glad, rejoice.
Glade, an open space in a forest.
Gladiator, one whose profession it was to fight with wild beasts in the arena of a Roman amphitheatre.
Gladiatorial, belonging to the gladiators.
Glair, a transparent substance, such as white of egg, used as size or varnish.
Glamour, fascination, magic charm.
Gland, an organic structure in the body whose function is the secretion and alteration of some substance which passes into it through the blood.
Glaring, painfully brilliant; strikingly prominent.
Glass-blower, a glass-worker.
Glass-paper, paper with a rough surface consisting of powdered glass.
Glaucous, grayish green, sea-green.
Glazier, one whose trade it is to cut glass and fix it in frames.
Glebe, land belonging to the Church and forming part of a benefice; a clod.
Gleed, a glowing ember.
Glen, a narrow valley.
Glib, voluble.
Glimmering, shining faintly.
Glimpse, a hurried view.
Glint, a passing ray.
Glissade, the descent of a snowy slope by sliding on an alpen-stock.
Glisten, to shine with a bright lustre.
Glister, to glisten.
Gloaming, twilight.
Gloat, to view and brood over with unholy joy.
Globe-trotter, one who travels all over the world for pleasure.
Globular, globe-shaped, spherical.
Globule, a little globe, a tiny sphere, a round particle.
Glomerate, to gather into a ball.
Gloominess, a state of gloom, depression of spirits.
Gloria Patri, "Glory be to the Father," the doxology.
Glorification, the act of glorifying or exalting.
Gloriole, a circle of light, halo, aureole or nimbus.
Glorious, full of glory, splendid; worthy of glory.
Gloss, polish or lustre; an explanation of a difficult word or passage, a comment.
Glossary, an alphabetical list of difficult words with their explanations.
Glossiness, the state of polish or lustre.
Glottal, belonging to the glottis or entrance to the windpipe.
Glover, a manufacturer of gloves, a dealer in gloves.
Glow-worm, a species of phosphorescent beetle.
Gloze, to explain away speciously.
Glucose, a form of sugar obtained from dried grapes and other fruits, or by the action of sulphuric acid on starch.
Glue, a strongly adhesive substance obtained by boiling down the horns and hoofs of animals.
Glumness, sulky silence, sullenness.
Glut, to satiate, over-stock.
Glutinous, like gluten, sticky, viscid.
Gluttonous, given to excess in eating, greedy.
Gluttony, over indulgence in food, greediness.
Glycerine, a sweet, sticky, colourless fluid.
Gnarled (of trees), knotty, twisted.
Gnash, to strike the teeth together in rage or anguish.
Gnat, a small two-winged insect.
Gnaw, to bite off gradually, to eat into.
Gnome, a hobgoblin, an earth spirit; a proverbial maxim.
Gnomic, sententious; abounding in epigrams.
Gnomon, the rod of a dial; a geometrical figure.
Gnosis, knowledge of a refined kind; mystical knowledge.
Goad, a stick with a pointed end used in driving oxen; to urge, stimulate.
Goal, a winning-post; end or aim.
Go-between, an intermediary, one who negotiates between two parties.
Goblet, a large wine-cup.
Goblin, a malicious sprite.
God-child, a child for whom one stands sponsor at baptism.
Goddess, a female divinity.
Godliness, likeness to God, righteousness.
God's-acre, a church-yard.
Goffer, to crimp with hot irons.
Goggles, tubes with glasses to protect the eyes.
Goitre, (see Med. Dict.)
Gold-field, a tract of country where gold is found.
Gold-leaf, gold beaten into a thin leaf or foil.
Gold-stick, an official who attends the Sovereign on State occasions carrying a gold rod.
Golf, a game played in open country with broad-headed clubs and small balls.
Gondola, a boat used on Venetian canals.
Goods-train, a train consisting of engine and goods waggons only.
Goose-step, the act of marking time with the feet without advancing.
Goorkha, a native of Nepal in India, and an infantry soldier.
Gordian knot, a knotty problem, so called after the celebrated knot tied by Gordius and cut by Alexander the Great.
Gorge, a narrow pass between precipitous rocks; the throat, gullet; to eat to excess, gormandize.
Gorgeous, resplendent, gaudy.
Gorgon, one of three female monsters of Greek mythology, the sight of whom turned beholders to stone; terrific, hideous.
Gorgonzola, a cheese named after an Italian village.
Gorilla, a huge anthropoid ape.
Gormandize, to act like a gourmand or glutton, to gorge.
Gosling, a young goose.
Gospeller, a preacher or reader of the gospel; an evangelist.
Gossamer, fine threads of cobweb; delicate transparent gauze.
Gossip, one who indulges in idle chatter about others, a tittle-tattle.
Goth, one of a tribe of barbarians who plundered Rome in the 5th century; a barbaric uncivilized person.
Gothic, belonging to the Goths; a pointed and richly decorated style of architecture.
Gouge, a tool like a chisel with a grooved blade; to scoop out.
Gourd, a kind of pumpkin.
Gourmand, a glutton.
Gourmet, one who is fond of dainty living, an epicure.
Gout, a disease, due in some cases to luxurious living, characterised by inflammation of the joints, and acute pain (see Med. Dict.).
Goût, taste.
Governess, a lady who takes care of, and instructs the young.
Government, the governing body of a nation; the method or act of governing.
Governor, a member of a governing body, a ruler; a contrivance for regulating the passage of steam in an engine.
Governor-general, a governor invested with supreme authority.
Gowan, a daisy.
Grabber, one who greedily seizes.
Grace-cup, a health drunk at the close of a feast after grace is said.
Graceless, shameless, abandoned.
Gore, thick, clotted blood.
Graciously, in a gracious manner.
Gradation, ordered progress; a series of degrees or steps; the gradual merging of one tint into another.
Gradient, the slope of a railway line.
Graduate, to pass through the several grades of a university career, and thus obtain a degree.
Graft, to insert a cutting from one tree into another.
Grail or graal, the cup used by our Lord at the Last Supper.
Graining, painting so as to imitate the grain of wood; a kind of dace.
Gramary, magic art, enchantment.
Grammar-school, a school in which Latin grammar is taught.
Grammatical, in accordance with the rules of grammar.
Gramme or gram, a weight of about fifteen grains troy, the standard unit of weight in the metric system.
Grampus, a kind of porpoise.
Granary, a place where grain is stored, a barn.
Grandchild, the child of a son or daughter.
Grand-duke, the ruler of a grand-duchy.
Grandee, a noble of high rank, a very exalted person.
Grandeur, magnificence.
Grandiloquent, pompous in speech, bombastic.
Grandiose, pompous, bombastic.
Grand-jury, a special jury summoned to decide whether an accused person shall be put on trial.
Grand-piano, a large piano strung horizontally, as distinguished from an upright or cottage piano.
Grand-stand, the chief stand on a race-course.
Grange, a farm with its out-buildings; a barn.
Granitic, like granite, of the nature of granite.
Granivorous, grain eating.
Grantor, a legal term denoting the person by whom a grant is made.
Granular, consisting of grain-like particles.
Granulation, the forming into grains or granules.
Grape-shot, small bullets which scatter on being fired.
Grape-sugar, sugar obtained from dried grapes, glucose.
Graph, a curve, a graphical representation of a series of changes.
Graphic, vividly descriptive.
Graphite, black lead.
Grapnel, a small anchor with several flukes for grappling.
Grass-land, pasture land.
Grass-widow, a woman temporarily parted from her husband.
Gratefulness, a feeling of gratitude.
Gratification, a feeling of pleasure or satisfaction.
Gratis, for nothing, free, without payment.
Gratitude, a feeling of thankfulness.
Gratuitous, voluntary, done without payment.
Gratuity, a tip, money-present.
Gratulation, congratulation.
Grava'men, the most serious ground of complaint, burden of the complaint.
Gravelly, composed of gravel.
Gravel-pit, a pit from which gravel is obtained.
Gravimeter, an instrument for determining specific gravities.
Gravimetric, ascertained by a gravimeter.
Graving-dock, a dock where the bottoms of ships are cleaned.
Gravitation, the mutual force of attraction which all material bodies have for one another.
Gravity, the tendency, due to the force of gravitation, which all material bodies have to fall in the direction of the centre of the earth, weight; grave demeanour.
Gravy, the juice obtained from cooked meat.
Grazier, one who rears cattle and keeps them at pasture.
Greasiness, the state of being greasy or oily.
Grecian, one of the senior boys at Christ's Hospital.
Greedily, in a greedy or voracious manner.
Greek-fire, a composite substance able to burn in water, formerly used by the Greeks in war.
Green-back, green-backed paper money first issued by the United States in 1862.
Green-eyed, having green eyes; jealous.
Green-grocer, a dealer in fruit and vegetables.
Green-horn, one who is inexperienced and easily taken in.
Green-room, the actors' room behind the scenes at a theatre.
Gregarious, in the habit of living or going about in flocks and herds.
Gregorian, a term applied to a special kind of chanting introduced by Pope Gregory.
Grenade, a shell for hurling against the enemy, filled with powder and fragments of iron.
Grenadier, a soldier belonging to the first three battalions of foot-guards.

Gride, to make a harsh, grating or whirring sound.
Gridiron, a flat utensil made of iron bars, on which meat is broiled.
Grievance, ground of complaint.
Grievous, productive of grief, deplorable.
Griffin or griffon, a fabulous animal represented with an eagle's head and lion's body.
Grig, a cricket; sand-eel.
Grille, an iron grating.
Grill-room, a room in a restaurant where meat is grilled.
Grilse, salmon of the first year.
Grimace, contortion of the muscles of the face.
Grimalkin, an old cat.
Griminess, the state of being grimy or dirty.
Grippe, influenza.
Grisaille, a system of painting in gray tints.
Grisette, a French term for a gay young woman of the lower orders.
Griskin, the ribs of a pig.
Grisly, terrible, causing fear.
Grist, corn brought to the mill to be ground.
Gristle, cartilage.
Gritty, full of sand or grit.
Grizzled, gray.
Groat, an old English silver coin worth fourpence.
Groceries, wares sold by grocers.
Grogginess, intoxication, staggering.
Groining, curves formed by intersecting arches.
Groomsman, a bridegroom's best man or attendant.
Grooved, having a groove or furrow.
Groschen, a German silver coin worth about a penny.
Gross, fat, coarse, glaring; entire; twelve dozen.
Grotesque, odd, bizarre.
Grotto, a cave or hollow.
Ground-bait, bait dropped to the bottom of the water to attract the fish.
Ground-ice, ice formed at the bottom of the water before the surface is frozen.
Groundless, unfounded, baseless, unjustifiable.
Ground-rent, rent paid to the owner of land for the right of building upon it.
Groundsel, a plant which grows wild and bears small yellow flowers.
Groundswell, a wide-spread and deep heaving of the sea owing to a distant storm.
Group, a collection of things or persons, a class of persons or things having some common characteristic.
Grouse, a moor fowl, ptarmigan.
Grovelling, lying on the ground, meanly stooping or cringing.
Growler, a grumbler; a four-wheeled cab.
Growth, development, increase.
Grudgingly, in an unwilling spirit.
Gruel, thin porridge made of oatmeal.
Gruesome, horrible, terrifying.
Grume, a thick sticky fluid, clot.
Gruyère, a kind of cheese made in Switzerland.
Guano, a manure consisting of the excrement of sea birds.
Guarantee, a pledge, security, warrant.
Guarantor, one who undertakes to guarantee or to become security for.
Guard-room, a room assigned to the guard, a room where military offenders are confined.
Guardian, one who takes charge of a minor; one of a board elected to supervise public institutions.
Guard-ship, a war-vessel stationed in a harbour to protect it.
Gubernator, a governor, ruler, or helmsman.
Gudgeon, a small fish easy to catch; a person easily duped or deceived.
Guerdon, a reward.
Guernsey, a close fitting knitted woollen vest worn by sailors.
Guerrilla or guerilla, irregular warfare carried on by small bands under independent leaders.
Guess, to conjecture, divine, solve; to opine (Americanism).
Guest, a person entertained by another, visitor.
Guffaw, a noisy burst of laughter.
Guidance, leadership, direction.
Guild or gild, an association of persons for the protection of their mutual interests.
Guildhall, a hall belonging to a guild or corporation.
Guileless, without guile, innocent, sincere.
Guillotine, a wooden erection fitted with an axe, first used by the leaders of the French Revolution for beheading their victims.
Guiltiness, the state of being guilty.
Guinea, an old English gold coin worth 21/-.
Guise, outward form or appearance.
Guitar, a musical instrument with strings, played by the fingers.
Gules, a term in heraldry denoting red colour, and indicated by vertical lines.
Gullet, the food-passage in the throat.
Gullible, easily gulled or duped.
Gum-arabic, gum obtained from certain varieties of acacia.
Gumminess, stickiness, adhesiveness.
Gun-boat, a small light vessel adapted for carrying one or more guns.
Gun-carriage, a wheeled support for a gun.
Gun-cotton, cotton rendered explosive by being saturated with nitric acid, and then dried.
Gun-metal, a mixed metal consisting of copper and tin used in casting guns.
Gunwale, the part of a ship's side immediately below the bulwarks.
Gusset, a three-cornered piece of material inserted in a seam to give strength and spring to a garment; a gore.
Gustatory, belonging to the sense of taste.
Gusto, keen relish; eager zest.
Gutta-percha, the dried juice of the gutta-percha tree.
Guttural, belonging to the throat; a letter sounded by the throat; harsh-sounding.
Guy, a hideous figure representing Guy Fawkes; a fright, an odd figure; a rope used in steadying a suspended weight or tent-pole.
Gymnasium, a hall supplied with apparatus for physical exercises, a school for gymnastics.
Gymnast, one skilled in physical exercises.
Gymnastics, physical exercises specially devised for the purpose of strengthening the various parts of the body.
Gynæceum, a part of a house used exclusively by the women.
Gyp, a college servant at Cambridge.
Gyration, whirling round and round.
Gyroscope, an instrument to illustrate the characteristic features of rotation.
Gyve, a fetter.

Habeas corpus, a writ ordering a jailer to produce a prisoner and account to the court for his detention.
Haberdasher, one who deals in needles, cottons, tape, and similar small wares.
Habiliment, dress, wearing apparel.
Habitable, fit to be inhabited.
Habitat, a place of abode, natural locality.
Habit-maker, a maker of riding-habits.
Habitual, customary.
Habitué, a regular frequenter of a place.
Hachure, a method of shading by means of short lines crossing one another.
Hack, an overworked horse; one engaged in the drudgery of literary work.
Hackney, a horse kept for hire.
Hackneyed, made stale or trite by constant repetition.
Haddock, a fish much used for food.
Hades, the place of departed spirits.
Hadj, a Mohammedan pilgrimage to Mecca.
Hadji, a Mohammedan who has made a pilgrimage to Mecca.
Hæmal, relating to the blood.
Hag, a witch, a beldame.
Haggard, having a face thin and drawn with suffering.
Haggis, a Scotch savoury dish consisting chiefly of minced sheep's heart and oatmeal.
Haggler, one who drives a hard bargain and argues about trifles.
Hagiocracy, the rule or dominion of priests.
Hagiology, a work treating of the lives of the saints.
Hairiness, the state of being hairy.
Hair-splitting, given to drawing trifling and unnecessary distinctions.
Hakim, an Arabian name for a physician.
Halberdier, a soldier armed with a weapon like an axe with a long handle.
Halcyon, a king-fisher; tranquil and happy.
Half-caste, the child of a mixed union between persons of European and Hindu race.
Half-calf, a style of binding in which the back and corners of a book are bound in calf.
Half-pay, a reduced allowance made to officers in the army and navy when not on active service.
Halibut, a large flat fish.
Halidom, "holiness," a word formerly used in the phrase "By my halidom."
Haliography, a treatise on the sea.
Hallelujah or Alleluiah, "Praise ye Jehovah."
Hall-mark, an official mark stamped on articles of gold and silver to certify the purity of the metal.
Hallow-e'en, the eve of All Hallows or All Saints.
Hallucination, an illusion or imaginary perception due to mental delusion.
Halo, a circle of light, luminous ring, aureole, nimbus.
Halt, to stop suddenly; to stand in doubt; to limp; lame.
Halter, a rope to lead a horse; a hangman's noose.
Halve, to divide in half.
Halyard, a rope by which a sail or flag is raised or lowered.
Hamadryad, a tree-nymph.
Hamlet, a little village.
Hammer-cloth, the cloth upon the seat of the coach-box.
Hammock, a swinging bed made of stout canvas or netting.
Hamstring, to lame an animal by cutting the tendon of the ham.
Handbill, a small bill or advertisement for distribution by hand; a pruning-hook.
Handbook, a small book of reference, manual.
Handbreadth, popularly 2¼ inches.
Handcuffs, iron bracelets linked together for fastening on the wrists of a prisoner.
Hand-gallop, an easy gallop, one hand only being employed.
Handicapper, one who arranges a race so that the weaker competitors are allowed a corresponding advantage.
Handicraft, a trade, a manual art.
Handkerchief, a square of silk or linen for the neck or the pocket.
Handle, to feel with the hand; to deal with; the part of an implement that one grasps.
Hand-mill, a mill which can be worked by hand.
Handsel, money given as a pledge of the genuineness of a bargain.
Handsome, well-formed, good to look upon.
Hangnail, same as Agnail.
Hank, a number of skeins of flax or yarn fastened together.
Hanker, to crave, to long irresistibly.
Hansard, the record of Parliamentary speeches, so named from the former publisher.
Hanse, a league for commercial and defensive purposes.
Hansom, a two-wheeled cab with the driver's seat behind.
Haphazard, by chance, accidental.
Harangue, a formal speech.
Harass, to worry, annoy, trouble.
Harassment, the state or cause of worry.
Harbinger, a precursor, forerunner, herald.
Harbourage, refuge, place of shelter.
Hardihood, daring, audacity.
Hard-mouthed, not answering to the bit; stiff, obstinate; harsh.
Hare-brained, feather-headed, flighty, wild.
Harem, the women's apartments in an Eastern household.
Haricot, hash made of grilled meat and vegetables; kidney bean.
Harlequinade, a farce in which the harlequin is the chief actor.
Harlotry, prostitution.
Harmattan, an unhealthy east wind which blows at certain times from the interior of Africa.
Harmonics, the principles of harmony.
Harmonious, melodious, concordant.
Harmony, concord.
Harness, the trappings of a horse.
Harpoon, a dart with a barbed head attached to a line used for spearing whales.
Harpsichord, an old-fashioned musical instrument with a key-board and strings.
Harpy, a fabulous monster with the head of a woman and the body of a bird.
Harridan, a wanton and ill-tempered old woman.
Harrier, a keen-scented dog used in hunting the hare.
Harrow, a machine with iron spikes for breaking up the clods and levelling the soil after ploughing.
Hart, the male of the red deer. (See hind).
Harum-scarum, wild, heedless.
Harvest-home, a feast to celebrate the ingathering of the harvest.
Harvest-moon, a moon which is at the full about the time of the Autumn equinox.
Hasheesh, an intoxicating preparation of Indian hemp, for smoking and drinking.
Hastiness, quickness of temper, impetuosity.
Hatch, to produce from the egg; to devise or plot; a half-door, a door of lattice-work.
Hatchway, an opening leading below from a ship's deck.
Hatchments, armorial bearings within a black border put up outside a house or in a church as a memorial.
Hatred, intense dislike.
Hat trick, a cricket expression denoting that a bowler has taken three wickets with three successive balls.
Hauberk, armour for the protection of the neck and shoulders, coat of mail.
Haughtiness, arrogance.
Haul, to pull, draw, tug.
Haulm, a stalk of wheat or any other grain, straw, stubble.
Haunch, the thigh, hind part.
Haunt, a place of frequent resort; to visit frequently.
Hautboy, a wind instrument; a large species of strawberry.
Hauteur, pride, arrogance.
Havana, a cigar exported from Havana.
Haversack, a bag in which a soldier carries rations.
Havildar, the highest non-commissioned officer in an Indian native regiment.
Havoc, wide-spread ruin or devastation.
Haw-haw or ha-ha, a fence sunk in a trench.
Hawse, that part of the bow of a ship which contains the holes for the cables.
Hawser, a small cable.
Hawthorn, a shrub bearing a white or pink flower, often used for hedges.

Hay-fever, a summer fever attended by a running at the eyes and nose.
Hazard, risk, venture.
Hazardous, involving risk, perilous.
Hazel, a tree bearing small nuts; light brown.
Haziness, mistiness.
Headache, a pain in the head.
Head-gear, head-dress, head-covering.
Head-quarters, the quarters of the general in supreme command; the abode of the highest authority; the permanent quarters of a regiment.
Headsman, an executioner.
Headway, advance, progress.
Healthily, in a healthy manner.
Hear hear, an ejaculation signifying approval.
Hearken, to listen, give heed.
Hearsay, an idle rumour, an unconfirmed report.
Hearse, a funeral carriage for the dead.
Heart, the chief organ in the circulation of the blood in animals; the seat of the emotions.
Heart-burn, a burning sensation due to indigestion.
Hearth, the stone on which the grate rests, the fireside.
Heartiness, cordiality, warmth of heart.
Heathendom, the heathen world.
Heather, a heath sarub with bell-shaped flowers.
Heaven-born, of divine origin.
Heaver, one who heaves or lifts.
Heavy-weight, a boxing man of the heaviest class. (See feather-weight).
Hebdomadal, weekly.
Hebetude, dulness of perception; obtuseness.
Hebraistic, relating to Hebrew, like Hebrew.
Hebrew, a Jew; the language of the Jews.
Hebridean, belonging to the Hebrides.
Hecatomb, a sacrifice of a hundred oxen, wholesale slaughter.
Heckle, to harass with questions, badger.
Hectic, flushed, feverish.
Hector, to bully, threaten.
He'donism, the doctrine that pleasure is the supreme good.
Heedless, careless.
Heel, to cant or tilt over, as a boat.
Heelball, a black preparation of wax used by shoemakers.
Heel-tap, the liquor left in a glass.
Hege'lian, belonging to, or following the philosopher Hegel.
He'gemony, supremacy or leadership.
Heifer, a young cow.
Heighten, to raise in height; increase, accentuate.
Heinous, inordinately wicked, atrocious.
Heiress, a woman who inherits.
Heirloom, a family possession handed down from father to son.
Helical, spiral.
Heliocen'tric, having the sun as the centre.
Heliograph, an instrument for using the sun's rays as a means of signalling.
Heliotrope, a bluish purple colour.
Heliotype, see Dict. of Gen. Infor.
Helix (pl. helices), a spiral.
Helle'nes, Greeks
Helmsman, the man at the helm, steersman.
Help-meet, a wife.
Helot, a Spartan serf or slave.
Helter-skelter, pell-mell, in tumultuous haste.
Helvetic, belonging to Switzerland.
Hematherm, a warm-blooded animal.
Hematite, a variety of iron ore.
Hemiopia, weakened or partial sight.
Hemispherical, in shape like a hemisphere.
Hem'istich, half a line of poetry.
He'morrhage or hæmorrhage, an effusion of blood.
Hemorrhoids, piles (see Med. Dict.).
Hemstitch, a border to a fabric, formed by drawing out threads parallel to the border, and fastening the strands at intervals.
Henchman, a page, attendant.
Henna, an orange coloured dye used by Eastern women for the teeth.
Henotheism, the belief in one god as supreme over others, the worship of a particular god.
Hepatic, belonging to the liver.
Hep'tarchy, the "seven kingdoms" into which England was divided during Saxon times.
Heraldic, belonging to heraldry.
Heraldry, the art and science of genealogies and coats of arms.
Herbaceous, of the nature of a herb.
Herbarium, a collection of dried plants arranged and classified.
Herbiferous, producing herbage.
Herbivorous, feeding on herbage.
Herculean, gigantic, strong as Hercules.
Herdsman, one who tends cattle.
Hered'itament, any property which may be inherited.
Hered'itary, derived by inheritance.
Hered'ity, inheritance of the characteristics of a preceding generation.
Heresy, erroneous and self-chosen doctrine in religion.
Heretical, guilty of heresy.
Heritage, inheritance.
Hermaph'rodite, a plant or animal possessing the characteristic properties of both sexes.
Hermeneutics, the science of interpretation.
Hermetically, absolutely sealed so as to exclude the air.
Hermitage, the abode of a hermit or recluse.
Hernia, rupture (see Med. Dict.).
Hero (pl. heroes), a brave unselfish man; a demi-god of Greek mythology; the central figure in a work of fiction.
Heroically, in a heroic manner.
Herr, a German title equivalent to Mr.
Herring-bone, a cross-stitch used in sewing flannel.
Hesitancy, hesitation.
Hesitation, indecision, uncertainty.
Hesperian, belonging to Hesperus, western.
Hest, behest, request.
Hetairism, concubinage.
Heteroclite, irregularly declined, of varied declension; irregular.
Heterodoxy, erroneous doctrine.
Heterogeneous, composed of mixed or unlike elements.
Heteron'omy, subjection to the authority of another.
Hetman, the title of a chief commander of the Cossacks.
Heuristic, with a view to discovery.
Hewer, one who hews.
Hexagon, a six-sided plane figure.
Hexameter, a line of verse consisting of six feet.
Hexahedron, a solid body having six sides, a cube.
Hex'apla, Origen's edition of the Old Testament in six parallel versions.
Heyday, an expression of astonishment; the height or bloom.
Hia'tus, a gap, a break in sound owing to two vowels coming together.
Hibernate, to remain dormant during the winter.
Hibernian, Irish.
Hiccup or hiccough, an involuntary convulsive catch in the respiratory muscles.
Hic jacet, "here lies," a Latin inscription on a tomb.
Hidalgo, a gentleman of the lower rank of Spanish nobility.
Hideous, frightful to behold, excessively ugly.
Hi'emal, belonging to winter.
Hierarchy, the priesthood, the clergy.
Hieratic, belonging to the priests, sacred.
Hieroglyph, ancient Egyptian picture-writing; writing hard to decipher.
Hierology, the science or study of sacred writings.
Hierophant, an expounder of sacred truths.
Higgle, to haggle, to argue about the price of anything in a petty manner.
High-church, the form of churchmanship which attaches special importance to the authority of the Church in sacred matters.
High-mass, the choral celebration of the Eucharist.
High-seas, those parts of the ocean which belong to all nations in common.
Highlander, a native of the Scotch Highlands.
High-low, a kind of shoe.
High-pressure, steam-pressure which considerably exceeds the pressure of the atmosphere.
High-principled, actuated by high principles or motives.
Highwayman, a highway robber.
Hilarious, gay, uproarious.
Hilarity, gaiety, high spirits.
Hilliness, the state of being hilly.
Hilt, the handle of a sword or dagger.
Hind, the female of the red deer (see hart).
Hindrance, an impediment, obstacle.
Hindu or Hindoo, a native of India or Hindostan.
Hindustani, the language of the Hindus.
Hinge, a joint on which something turns.
Hinny, the off-spring of a stallion and a she-ass.
Hippocentaur, a centaur, a mythical monster with a man's head and a horse's body.
Hippocras, a spiced wine possessing cordial properties.
Hippodrome, a modern circus; a place where chariot races were formerly run.
Hippogriff, a fabulous monster represented as a winged horse.
Hippopathology, the science of medicine in relation to horses.
Hippopotamus, the river-horse, a pachydermatous quadruped.
Hireling, a paid servant, one who serves for hire.
Hirsute, bristly, shaggy.
Hispid (botanical term), having stiff hairs.
Histology, the science of microscopic anatomy.
Historian, one who records the facts of history.
Historiographer, a writer of official historical records.
Histrionic, belonging to an actor's art.
Histrionics, the art of actors and acting.
Hoard, an accumulated store.
Hoarding, a boarding or wall of planks which serves as a background for posters.
Hoar-frost, white frost.
Hoarse, having a harsh rasping voice due to cold or sore throat.
Hoax, a practical joke.
Hobbledehoy, an ungainly youth at the awkward stage between boyhood and manhood.
Hobby, a favourite pursuit.
Hock or hough, the joint on the hind-leg of a horse between the knee and fetlock; to hamstring.
Hockey, an out-door game played with a ball and curved sticks.
Hocus, to out-wit, cheat.
Hocus-pocus, any kind of jugglery or trickery.
Hod, a kind of trough with a pole attached, used by labourers for carrying bricks and mortar.
Hodgepodge or hotchpotch, a medley.
Hodometer, an instrument attached to the axle of a wheel to register the distance traversed.
Hoe, an agricultural implement for loosening or gathering the soil.
Hoiden or hoyden, a rough romping girl, a tom-boy.
Hoist, to heave up; run up (a flag).
Hoity-toity, an exclamation implying that a person is full of airs and graces.
Holiday, a day of leisure and amusement; formerly a holy day or saint's day.
Holiness, goodness, piety; sacredness.
Holla, hollo, hollos, a loud call to some one at a distance.
Hollands, a kind of gin made in Holland.
Hollow, a hole or cavity; having an empty interior.
Holly, a prickly evergreen with scarlet berries.
Hollyhock, an old-fashioned garden flower.
Holocaust, a whole burnt offering; wholesale sacrifice.
Holograph, writing entirely in the hand of an author.
Holster, a case for a pistol carried in front of the saddle.
Holt, a wood, grove, or copse.
Holy Week, the week before Easter.
Homage, the profession of fealty, obeisance; reverent devotion.
Home-counties, those counties into which London extends.
Homeliness, simplicity, freedom from ostentation, plainness.
Homœopathy, a system of medicine which aims at curing diseases by means of small doses. See Med. Dict.
Homeric, belonging to Homer.
Home-rule, self-government of a country, a term especially used in connection with Ireland.
Home-spun, a loose fabric made to imitate cloth woven at home.
Homestead, a house with a plot of ground attached.
Homicidal, murderous.
Homiletics, the art of preaching.
Homily, a sermon.
Hominy, flour made of ground maize.
Homogene'ity, the property of being homogeneous.
Homoge'neous, similar in kind.
Homol'ogous, corresponding, relatively situated.
Homonym, a word having the same sound as another, but differing in meaning and in spelling.
Homomorphous, similar in outward form.
Homotaxis, similarity of arrangement.
Homunculus, a little man, a dwarf.
Hone, a stone used for sharpening instruments.
Honey-combed, having small cavities like a honey-comb.
Honey-moon, the first month after marriage.
Honorarium, a gift of money in recognition of professional services.
Honorary, unpaid, voluntary; conferred as a mark of honour.
Honourably, in an honourable manner.
Hoodwink, to outwit, deceive.
Hookah, a tobacco pipe used in the East, in which the smoke passes through water.
Hooligans, bands of disorderly youths who commit rowdy assaults in the streets.
Hooping-cough, see whooping-cough.
Hop-oast, a building, shaped like an inverted funnel, for drying hops.
Hopper, a vessel or trough open at the bottom for feeding a machine; a boat for carrying river dredgings to the sea.
Horde, a throng of people roaming from place to place.
Horizon, a line where land and sky seem to meet.
Horizontal, parallel with the horizon.
Horn-book, an old-fashioned A.B.C. for children, made of a slip of mounted parchment faced with horn to preserve it.
Hornet, a wasp with a sharp sting and horn-shaped antennæ.
Horny-handed, with hands hardened by manual labour.

Horol'ogy, the art of making clocks and watches.
Horoscope, a record of the position of the stars at the moment of one's birth, from which astrologers profess to predict the future.
Horribly, in a horrible manner.
Horrify, to inspire with horror, to shock.
Horror, a feeling of shuddering dread.
Hors de combat, put out of action.
Hors d'œuvre, an extra dish which does not form a substantial part of the menu.
Horse-artillery, mounted artillery.
Horse-guards, a mounted body-guard of the sovereign; the official quarters of the commander-in-chief at Whitehall.
Horse-play, rough play.
Horse-power, the equivalent of the strength which can be exerted by a single horse; the power required to raise 33,000 lbs. avoirdupois one foot a minute.
Hortation, exhortation, admonition.
Horticulture, the art of cultivating and tending gardens.
Hortus siccus, a collection of plants pressed, dried, and classified.
Hosanna, an expression of prayer and thanksgiving to God.
Hose-pipe, india-rubber tubing for the conveyance of water.
Hosier, a dealer in hose or stockings.
Hospice, a guest-house for the accommodation of travellers in Alpine districts.
Hos'pitably, in a hospitable manner.
Hospitality, the welcoming and entertaining of strangers.
Host, the consecrated bread of the Eucharist; an innkeeper; a vast number.
Hostage, one temporarily delivered into the hands of the enemy as a pledge of good faith.
Hostel or hostelry, an inn, hotel, boarding house.
Hostess, the landlady of an inn; a lady who entertains guests.
Hostility, enmity.
Hostler or ostler, an inn-servant who has charge of the horses.
Hot-bed, a bed of manure and earth covered with a glass frame where plants are forced.
Hôtel-de-ville, a town-hall.
Hôtel-dieu, a hospital.
Hottentot, a race of aborigines in South Africa.
Hour-glass, a glass instrument for measuring the time by the trickling of fine sand.
Houri, one of the nymphs supposed by Mahommedans to people paradise.
House-boat, a river-boat with a deck chamber for living in.
Householder, an occupant or tenant of a house.
Housel, the Holy Communion.
House-warming, an entertainment which a man gives to his friends to celebrate his entry into a new house.
Housing, providing accommodation in a house.
Housings, the trappings of a horse.
Houyhnhnms, a race of intelligent horses in Gulliver's travels who ruled the Yahoos or men folk.
Hovel, a shed, a wretched cottage.
Howdah, a canopied seat for several persons on an elephant's back.
Howitzer, a kind of cannon for throwing shells.
Hub, the centre of a wheel into which the spokes run.
Hubble-bubble, a tobacco pipe in which the smoke passes through water.
Hubbub, a noisy tumult, confused din.
Huckaback, strong linen towelling with an embossed pattern.
Huckster, a hawker, one who hawks his wares from place to place.
Huddle, to crowd together in disorderly confusion.
Hudibrastic, burlesque in style, like Butler's Hudibras; quaint rhymed doggerel.
Hue and cry, a clamorous pursuit.
Hueless, colourless, dull, faded.
Hugely, immensely.
Hugger-mugger, secrecy; sly, slovenly.
Huguenot, a term formerly applied to French Protestants.
Hulk, the body of a ship which is no longer seaworthy.
Hull, the body of a ship; the husk.
Hullabaloo, a loud outcry.
Humane, kindly disposed towards all living creatures; classical (of literature).
Humanity, mankind; the quality of being humane.
Humanities, a term applied to classics and literary subjects of study, on account of their civilizing effect on the mind.
Humanitarian, a philanthropist; one who believes that the nature of Christ was human, not divine.
Humble-pie, a pie made of the entrails of venison, and eaten by the menials.
Humbly, in a humble or meek manner.
Humbug, insincere conduct masked by fair pretences; one whose conduct is affected and insincere.
Humdrum, tediously monotonous.
Humidity, dampness, moisture.
Humiliating, causing humiliation or degradation.
Humility, humbleness or meekness of spirit.
Hummock, a little mound, hillock; lump of ice cast up by larger blocks coming in collision.
Humorist or humourist, one who can see and portray the humorous side of life.
Humph, an expression of contemptuous disapproval.
Hunch, a shapeless lump.
Hunchback, a humpback or deformed person.
Hundred, a number; a division of a county, also called a wapentake.
Hundred-weight, 112 lbs. in avoirdupois weight.
Hungarian, belonging to Hungary.
Hunks, a miser.
Hunting-box, a house built for use during the hunting season.
Hurdle, a movable fence of osiers.
Hurdy-gurdy, a barrel-organ; a stringed instrument played by means of a wheel.
Hurrah, an exclamation of triumph or delight.
Hurricane, a fierce tempest.
Hurriedly, in a hurried or hasty manner.
Hurst, a wood.
Hurtling, whizzing rapidly.
Husbandry, agriculture; careful economy.
Hush-money, money paid to hush up some awkward disclosure.
Hussar, a soldier belonging to the light cavalry.
Hussif, (housewife) a needle-book.
Hussy, an impudent girl.
Hustings, a wooden erection from which candidates for a seat in parliament used to address the electors.
Hustle, to jostle.
Hyacinth, a flowering plant with a bulbous root.
Hyaline, glassy, crystalline, transparent.
Hyalography, the art of engraving on glass.
Hybrid, a mongrel; a word composed of elements derived from different languages.
Hydra, a many-headed water-serpent of mythology, which grew two heads in the place of each one cut off; prolific evil.
Hydrangea, a flowering plant which bears a very large head of flowers.
Hydrant, a pipe connected with the main, for drawing water.
Hydraulic, having to do with fluids in motion.
Hydrobarometer, an instrument which, by registering the pressure, determines the depth of the sea.
Hydrochloric, composed of hydrogen and chlorine.
Hydrodynamics, the science relating to the laws which govern fluids both in motion and at rest.
Hydrogen, a light gas which is one of the chief constituent elements of water.
Hydrography, the art of mapping out the waters of the globe.
Hydromania, a kind of madness which leads to suicide by drowning.
Hydrometer, an instrument for determining the density of liquids by immersion.
Hydropathy, a water cure.
Hydrophobia, a form of madness due to the bite of a mad dog, of which a marked feature is a fear of water.
Hydroscope, a water-clock.
Hydrostatics, the science which treats of fluids at rest.
Hydrous, containing water.
Hyena or hyæna, a wild animal something like a wolf.
Hygeia, the goddess of health.
Hygiene or hygeine, the science of health.
Hygrometer, an instrument for ascertaining the amount of moisture in the atmosphere.
Hymene'al, belonging to Hymen god of marriage.
Hymettian, covered with flowers, like Mount Hymettus.
Hymn, a song of praise to God.
Hymnology, a collection of hymns.
Hyperbola, a curve like that formed by cutting a cone by a plane parallel to the axis of the cone.
Hyper'bole, an exaggerated expression used for the purpose of giving emphasis, and frequently found in poetry.
Hyperbolical, exaggerated.
Hyperborean, belonging to the far north.
Hypercritical, over critical, captious.
Hyphen, a straight line used to join two parts of a compound word.
Hypnotic, belonging to hypnotism.
Hypnotism, an unnatural or mesmeric sleep induced by artificial means.
Hypochon'dria, a nervous disease causing confirmed melancholy.
Hypocritical, feigning, dissembling, insincere.
Hypos'tasis, an underlying principle.
Hypostyle, an edifice supported on pillars.
Hypotenuse, the side of a right-angled triangle opposite the right angle.
Hypothesis, a preliminary assumption, a statement assumed to be true.
Hypothetical, based upon an assumption, conjectural.
Hypsometer, an instrument for measuring heights.
Hyssop, a species of aromatic herb.
Hysteria, a nervous disorder which has a tendency to imitate the symptoms of other diseases, and is attended by convulsive fits.
Hysterics, a fit of hysteria.

Iambus, a poetic foot composed of a short and long syllable.
I-beam, an iron girder having its cross-section shaped like the letter I.
Iberian, Spanish.
Iceberg, a huge, floating mass of ice.
Ice-boat, a boat for travelling on, or making a way through ice.
Ich dien, "I serve;" the motto of the Prince of Wales.
Ichor, a thin watery humour like serum; the immortal fluid that coursed through the veins of the gods.
Ichthyology, the science that treats of fishes.
Icicle, a hanging piece of ice.
Icing, a coating of hard sugar used on cakes.
Icon, not an image but a sacred picture used as an aid to devotion.
Icon'oclast, a breaker of images.
Idea, a mental image, a notion, thought.
Ideal, mental; perfect, a type of perfection.
Idealist, one who forms ideals, a visionary.
Identical, exactly the same.
Identify, to prove a person or thing to be the same.
Identity, the state of being the very same.
Ides, among the ancient Romans the 15th of March, May, July, October, and the 13th of the other months.
Id est, or i.e., signifies 'that is.'
Idiocy, the condition of an imbecile.
Id'iom, a phrase peculiar to a language or dialect.
Idiomatic, according to idiom.
Idiosyn'crasy, a peculiar characteristic.
Idiotic, like an idiot; extremely foolish.
Idle, unoccupied; lazy; unprofitable.
Idol, an image worshipped as God; one loved or honoured to adoration.
Idolatrous, belonging to idolatry.
Idolatry, the worship of images; an excessive devotion.
Idyl, a descriptive poem, generally pastoral.
Idyllic, belonging to idyls.
Ig'neous, resulting from the action of fire.
Ignis fatuus, a light seen floating over marshes.
Ignition, the act of setting on fire.
Ignoble, of mean birth.
Ignomin'ious, mean, shameful.
Ig'nominy, public shame, disgrace.
Ignoramus, an ignorant person.
Ignorance, want of knowledge.
Ill-conditioned, in poor condition; surly.
Ill-disposed, harbouring malice; unkind.
Illegal, contrary to law.
Illegality, the quality of being unlawful.
Illegible, that cannot be read.
Illegitimacy, the state of being illegitimate.
Illegitimate, not born in wedlock; not lawful.
Ill-favoured, deformed; ugly.
Illicit, prohibited.
Illimitable, that cannot be limited, boundless.
Illiteracy, want of learning.
Illiterate, unlettered, untaught.
Illogical, contrary to the rules of reasoning.
Ill-omened, unlucky, auguring evil.
Ill-starred, destined to be unlucky.
Illuminati, a name formerly given to several secret sects; people who claim to be particularly learned.
Illuminator, that which gives light; one who illustrates with coloured letters, etc.
Illumine, to enlighten; to adorn.
Illusion, a mockery, false show, error.
Illusory, deceptive, false.
Illustrate, to explain; to adorn with pictures.
Illustrative, having the quality of explaining.
Illustrious, eminent, noble, conspicuous.
Imagery, images; pictures in the mind.
Imaginable, that may be conceived.
Imaginary, existing in the imagination.
Imam or imaum, a Mohammedan leader.
Imbecile, wanting strength of mind or body.
Imbecility, feebleness of mind or body.
Imbibe, to drink in; to admit into the mind.
Imbricated, arranged like the scales of a fish; overlapping.
Imbroglio, a complicated state of affairs.
Imbrue, to steep or soak.
Imbue, to tincture deeply; to impress on the mind.
Imitable, capable of imitation.
Imitative, inclined to copy.
Immac'ulate, spotless, pure, undefiled.
Im'manate, to flow in.
Immanent, inherent; internal.
Immaterial, incorporeal; of no consequence.
Immature, not mature, unripe.
Immaturity, the state of being immature.
Immediate, instant; not acting by secondary causes.
Immemorial, beyond memory or record.

Immensity, unbounded extent, infinity.
Immerge, to immerse.
Immerse, to put under water.
Immersion, the act of immersing.
Immigrant, one who comes and settles in a country.
Immigration, the act of immigrating.
Imminent, impending, at hand.
Immobile, immovable.
Immobility, the quality of being immobile.
Immoderate, passing due bounds, excessive.
Immodest, wanting in modesty.
Immolation, the act of sacrificing, a sacrifice.
Immorality, want of virtue, dishonesty.
Immortality, exemption from death; endless fame.
Immortelle, an "everlasting" flower; a wreath of such flowers.
Immovable, that cannot be moved.
Immunity, exemption; privilege, freedom.
Immure, to enclose within walls, to confine.
Immutable, unchangeable.
Imp, a mischievous little child; a little devil.
Impact, a collision.
Impair, to diminish; to injure, to make worse.
Impale, to kill by transfixing with a stake.
Impalpable, not to be perceived by the touch.
Impanel, to put on the list of jurors.
Imparity, inequality, disproportion.
Impartiality, equitableness, justice.
Impassable, that cannot be passed.
Impasse, a blind alley; a serious difficulty.
Impassible, incapable of feeling.
Impassive, unmoved, without feeling.
Impatient, not able to endure delay; eager.
Impeachment, the arraignment of an officer of state; an accusation.
Impeccable, incapable of wrong-doing.
Impecu'nious, in need of money, hard-up.
Impede, to hinder, to obstruct.
Impediment, hindrance, obstruction.
Impedimenta, baggage.
Impel, to urge forward, to incite.
Impend, to overhang; to be about to happen.
Impenetrable, that cannot be penetrated.
Impenitence, want of remorse or penitence.
Imperative, expressing command, imperious.
Imperceptible, not to be perceived; unimportant.
Imperfection, a defect, a fault.
Imperial, belonging to an empire or its ruler.
Imperialist, one imbued with the spirit of empire.
Imperil, to place in danger.
Imperiously, with disdainful authority.
Imperishable, that will not decay.
Impermeable, not to be passed through.
Impersonal, not personal, without reference to a particular person.
Impersonate, to personify, to represent a character.
Impertinence, that which has no relation to the matter in hand; rudeness.
Impertur'bable, calm and unruffled.
Impervious, impenetrable
Impetuosity, the state of being impetuous.
Impetuous, violent, vehement, passionate.
Im'petus, momentum, force impelling towards any point.
Impi, a body of Kaffir or Zulu warriors.
Impiety, want of piety or reverence.
Impinge, to strike against; to clash with.
Im'pious, irreligious, wicked, profane.
Implacable, not to be pacified, inexorable.
Implement, a tool, an instrument, a utensil.
Implication, entanglement, something implied or included.
Implicit, inferred; unquestioning.
Imply, to involve; to give to understand.
Impolitic, imprudent, ill-advised.
Imponderable, without perceptible weight.
Import', to bring from a foreign country; to mean.
Im'port, bearing or meaning.
Important, momentous, of great consequence.
Importation, the act of importing, something imported.
Importunate, incessant in solicitation, always begging.
Importune, to solicit in a pressing manner.
Importunity, the state of being importunate.
Impose, to lay or put upon.
Imposing, commanding, producing a great effect.
Imposition, the act of laying on; a punishment task; an imposture.
Impossible, that cannot exist or be done.
Impost, a tax or duty.
Impostor, one who deceives.
Imposture, a fraud; an imposition.
Im potence, want of power.
Im'potent, wanting force or power.
Impound, to confine as in a pound.
Impoverish, to render poor or feeble.
Impracticable, that cannot be done, unfeasible.
Imprecate, to call down evil upon.
Impregnable, not to be stormed or taken.
Impregnate, to saturate; to make fruitful.
Impresario, the manager of an opera company.
Impress, to stamp, to fix deeply; to force into the navy.
Impression, a mark made by pressure; effect produced on the mind; an idea.
Impressionist, a follower of a modern school of artists.
Imprima'tur, a permission to print a book, hence, a mark of approval.
Imprimis, in the first place.
Imprint, to impress; to fix on the mind.
Imprisonment, confinement as in a prison.
Improbability, unlikelihood.
Impromptu, on hand, without previous thought.
Impropriety, unsuitableness; an unbecoming action.
Improvement, the act of improving; progress.
Improvidence, want of forethought.
Improvident, careless of the future.
Improvise, to sing, play, etc. extempore.
Improvisa tion, the act of improvising.
Improvisato're, one who improvises.
Imprudence, want of prudence, indiscretion.
Impudent, shameless; impudent.
Impugn, to call in question.
Impulse, communicated force; influence acting on the mind
Impulsive, moved or acting by impulse.
Impunity, exemption from punishment
Impurity, want of purity; something impure.
Imputation, the act of attributing to; censure; suggestion.
Inability, want of ability or power.
Inaccessible, not to be reached or approached.
Inaccuracy, want of exactness; a mistake.
Inactivity, want of activity; idleness.
Inadequacy, the state of being insufficient.
Inadmissible, not to be allowed or received.
Inadvertence, negligence; inattention.
In æternum, for ever.
Inal'ienable, that cannot be alienated.
Inamorato, a male lover.
Inane, empty; stupid.
Inanimate, void of life or animation.
Inanition, exhaustion from lack of food; emptiness.
Inappropriate, not appropriate, unsuitable.
Inaptitude, unfitness.
Inarticulate, not uttered with distinctness.
Inattentive, careless, negligent, regardless.
Inaudible, not capable of being heard.
Inau'gural, belonging to inauguration.
Inauguration, a formal instalment into an office.
Inauspicious, ill-omened, unlucky.
In banco, before a full assembly of judges.
Inbred, inherent, natural.
Incalculable, that cannot be reckoned.
Incandescent, white with heat.
Incantation, a magic spell.
Incapable, not fit or capable.
Incapability, the state of being incapable.
Incapacitate, to disable, to disqualify.
In capite, in chief.
Incarcerate, to imprison.
Incarnadine, to dye red, as with blood.
Incarnation, the act of assuming a human body.
Incautious, unwary, heedless.
Incendiary, one who maliciously sets on fire.
In'cense, spices, etc., burned in religious rites.
Incense', to inflame with anger.
Incentive, that which incites or encourages.
Inception, a beginning.
Inceptive, noting a beginning.
Incertitude, uncertainty, doubtfulness.
Incessant, never ending, continual
Incest, sexual intercourse between persons closely related.
Incestuous, guilty of incest.
Inchoate, incomplete just beginning.
Incidence, a falling upon, or the direction of falling.
Incidental, casual; happening by chance.
Incip'ient, beginning.
Incision, a cut made by a sharp instrument.
Incisive, clear in expression; cutting; brief.
Incitement, a motive; an incentive.
Inclemency, the state of being inclement.
Inclement, unmerciful, harsh; stormy, rough.
Inclination, tendency towards; bent of mind.
Inclosure, the act of shutting in; that which is shut in.
Include, to contain, to comprise, to enclose.
Inclusive, encircling; including, comprising.
Incog., an abbreviation of incognito.
Incog'nito, under an assumed name.
Incoherence, want of connection, incongruity.
Incombustible, not to be consumed by fire.
Income-tax, a tax levied on incomes exceeding a certain amount.
Incommensurate, not reducible to one common measure.
Incommodious, inconvenient, vexatious.
Incommunicable, that cannot be imparted.
Incom'parable, beyond compare.
Incompatible, not agreeing with.
Incom petent, inadequate; incapable, not fitted.
Incomplete, not perfect, not finished.
Incomprehensible, not to be understood.
Incompressible, that cannot be compressed.
Inconceivable, that cannot be imagined.
Inconclusive, not conclusive.
Incongru'ity, unsuitableness; inconsistency.
Incongruous, unsuitable; not fitting.
Inconsequent, illogical, inconsistent.
Inconsiderate, thoughtless, inattentive.
Inconsistence, incongruity; absence of argument.
Inconsolable, not to be comforted.
Inconspicuous, not easily noticed.
Inconstant, fickle, changeable.
Incontinence, lack of self-restraint.
Incontrovertible, indisputable.
Inconvenience, a cause of trouble or difficulty.
Incorporate, to unite into one body.
Incorporeal, immaterial, spiritual.
Incor'rigible, bad beyond correction or amendment.
Incorruptible, not admitting of decay; not open to bribery.
Increase', to grow or make larger; to multiply.
In'crease, growth; produce.
Incredibility, the quality of surpassing belief.
Incredu'lity, the state of being incredulous.
Incred'ulous, hard of belief.
In'crement, the act of increasing; increase.
Incriminate, to charge with crime.
Incrustation, a surface-crust or coating.
Incubate, to sit on eggs.
Incubus, a nightmare; a load on the mind.
Inculcate, to impress by frequent admonitions.
Inculpate, to blame; to charge with guilt.
Incumbency, the holding of a benefice.
Incumbent, the holder of a benefice; resting upon; imposed as a duty.
Incunabula, a cradle; nursery; hence, the first stages or origin of any thing.
Incur, to become liable to.
Incurable, incapable of cure.
Incurious, without curiosity.
Incursion, an inroad, invasion.
Indebted, obliged by something received.
Indecency, anything unbefitting good manners
Indecipherable, not decipherable, impossible to make out or read.
Indecision, want of decision or determination.
Indeco'rous, contrary to good manners.
Indeco'rum, want of propriety.
Indefatigable, unwearied in effort.
Indefeasible, not to be defeated or annulled
Indefensible, unjustifiable, that cannot be defended.
Indefinable, that cannot be defined or described exactly.
Indef'inite, not limited; uncertain.
Indel'ibly, so as not to be effaceable.
Indelicacy, coarseness of behaviour.
Indelicate, not delicate or refined; coarse.
Indemnify, to secure against loss or penalty; to compensate.
Indemnity, security against loss or penalty; compensation.
Indentation, a notch or hollow.
Indented, cut in tooth-like notches.
Indenture, a written contract between two parties.
Independent, not dependent; not subject to control.
Indescribable, that cannot be described.
Indestructible, that cannot be destroyed.
Indeterminate, not defined or fixed.
Index, that which points out; the table of the contents of a book; an algebraical symbol.
Indiaman, a large ship for the Indian trade.
Indication, a mark, token, a symptom.
Indices, plural of index in Algebra.
Indict (in-dite'), to formally charge with a crime.
Indictable, that may be indicted.
Indifferent, neutral; unconcerned; passable.
Indigence, poverty, penury.
Indigenous, belonging by birth; native, not imported.
Indigestible, not easy of digestion.
Indignant, filled with anger and disdain.
Indignity, a contemptuous injury; an insult.
Indigo, a blue dye obtained from an Indian plant.
Indirect, not straight; not fair.
Indiscreet, imprudent; injudicious.
Indiscretion, want of prudence; rashness.
Indiscriminate, lacking discrimination.
Indispensable, that cannot be done without.
Indisposition, disinclination; a passing illness.
Indis'putable, that cannot be disputed.
Indissoluble, inseparable; binding for ever.
Indistinct, not clear; confused.
Indite, to compose; to dictate.
Individual, a single person or thing.
Individuality, separate or distinct existence.
Indivisible, not divisible.
Indoctrinate, to instruct in a doctrine.
Indolence, laziness, slothfulness.
Indomitable, incapable of being subdued.
Indubitable, unquestionable.
Inducement, that which persuades a person.
Induction, formal introduction into an office.
Indue, to invest; to endow.
Indulgence, a favour granted; forbearance.
In'durate, to make hard; to grow hard.
Industrial, belonging to industry.

In'dustry, diligence; assiduity; manufacture.
Indwelling, dwelling within.
Ine'briate, to make drunk; a drunkard.
Inebri'ety, drunkenness.
Ineffable, unspeakable.
Ineffaceable, that cannot be rubbed out.
Ineffective, that can produce no effect.
Ineffectual, inefficient; weak.
Inefficient, not efficient.
Inelastic, without elasticity.
Ineligible, incapable or unfit to be chosen.
Inept, unfit; foolish.
Ineptitude, the state of being inept.
Inequality, unevenness; absence of equality.
Inert, motionless, lifeless, sluggish.
Inertia, sluggishness; a property of matter.
In esse, in being.
Ines'timable, invaluable.
Inevitable, that cannot be avoided or escaped.
Inexcusable, not to be excused.
Inexhaustible, that cannot be exhausted.
Inex'orable, not to be moved by entreaty.
Inexpedient, unfit; not advisable.
Inexperience, lack of experience.
Inexpert, unskilled; not expert.
Inex'piable, that cannot be atoned for.
Inexplicable, incapable of being explained.
Inexpressible, unutterable.
In extenso, in full.
In extremis, at the point of death.
Inex'tricable, that cannot be disentangled.
Infallibility, exemption from error.
In'famous, base; publicly branded with guilt.
In'famy, public reproach; base wickedness.
In'fancy, childhood; beginning.
Infan'ta, a royal princess of Spain or Portugal.
Infanticide, the murder or murderer of an infant.
Infantry, foot-soldiers.
Infatuated, greatly enamoured, foolishly in love with.
Infect, to act upon by contagion; to corrupt.
Infectious, likely to infect.
Infelicitous, not happy or suitable.
In'ference, a conclusion drawn from previous reasoning.
Inferiority, a lower place in rank or value.
Infernal, belonging to hell, diabolical.
Inferno, the nether regions.
Infested, harassed, disturbed, plagued.
Infidel, an unbeliever.
Infidelity, want of faith; unfaithfulness.
In'finite, unbounded; immeasurably great.
Infinites'imal, infinitely small.
Infin'ity, immensity, boundlessness, endless number.
Infirmary, an establishment for the sick.
Infirmity, disease; a weakness of age or temper.
Inflammable, easily set on fire.
Inflammatory, having the power of inflaming or exciting.
Inflation, the state of being puffed out.
Inflection, the act of bending or turning; modulation of the voice; a variation in the form of a noun or other part of speech.
Inflexible, not to be bent; unyielding.
Influence, the power affecting people or things.
Influential, exerting influence or power.
Influenza, see Med. Dict.
Influx, a flowing in; infusion.
Informally, without ceremony.
Informant, one who gives information.
Infra dig, (infra dignitatem) unbecoming, beneath one's dignity.
Infrangible, not to be broken.
Infrequent, rare, uncommon.
Infringement, breach, violation.
Infuriate, to enrage, to make furious.
Infuse, to pour into; to introduce as an ingredient; to steep.
In futuro, in the future.
Ingenious, skilful; inventive.
Ingénue, an artless, candid girl; such a character when enacted on the stage.
Ingenu'ity, inventiveness, skill, acuteness.
Ingen'uous, open, candid, noble.
Inglorious, without glory, shameful.
Ingrain, to dye with a permanent colour; to impregnate.
Ingratiate, to recommend to another's favour.
Ingratitude, unthankfulness.
Ingre'dient, a component part.
Ingress, the act or means of entrance; a doorway.
Ingurgitate, to swallow with haste.
Inhabitant, one who resides in a place.
Inhale, to draw into the lungs.
Inharmonious, unmusical, discordant.
Inherent, innate, inborn, inseparable.
Inherit, to possess by inheritance.
Inheritance, a possession either hereditary or bequeathed by will.
Inhibit, to restrain, to hinder, to forbid.
Inhibitory, that prohibits or forbids.
Inhuman, barbarous, cruel, without compassion.
Inhume, to bury, to inter.
Inim'ical, hostile, contrary, repugnant.
Inim'itable, not to be imitated or copied.
Iniquitous, unjust, wicked.
Iniquity, injustice, wickedness, crime.
Initial, placed at the beginning, not complete; the first letter of a name.
Initia'tion, the act of instructing in new ideas; admission to a society.
Init'iatory, introductory, making a beginning.
Inject, to throw in; to cause to enter.
Injudi'cial, not judicial.
Injudicious, not judicious; unwise.
Injunction, a command, order, precept.
Injurious, hurtful, mischievous.
Injustice, absence of justice; an injury, wrong.
Inkling, a hint, whisper, intimation.
Inlay, to ornament with inserted pattern work.
Inlet, a creek, a narrow bay.
In limine, on the threshold.
In loco, in its proper place.
Inmate, one who is housed along with others.
In medias res, into the midst of things.
Inn, a house of call for travellers; a college of the Law Courts in London.
Innate, inborn, natural; inherent.
Innings, the period of a match during which a cricket team is at the wicket.
Innocent, free from blame; harmless.
Innocuous, harmless in its effect.
Innovation, a change by the introduction of something new.
In nubibus, in the clouds.
Innuendo, an oblique hint, an insinuation.
Innumerable, beyond counting, very numerous.
Inobtrusive, not forward, modest.
Inoculate, to ingraft; to communicate disease by the insertion of infectious matter.
Inodorous, destitute of smell.
Inoffensive, harmless; giving no offence.
Inoperative, producing no effect.
Inop'portune, inconvenient, unseasonable.
Inordinate, irregular; unbounded.
Inorganic, without the organs of a living thing; a term applied to chemical compounds that contain no carbon.
In-patient, a patient who resides in a hospital while undergoing treatment.
In perpetuam, for always.
In petto, hidden within the breast.
In posse, in possibility.
Inquest, a judicial inquiry, especially as to the cause of a sudden or violent death.
Inquietude, a disturbed or uneasy state.
Inquire or enquire, to ask questions.
Inquisition, inquiry; a Roman Catholic tribunal.
Inquisitive, curious; given to prying.
Inquisitor, a judicial inquirer; an official of the Inquisition.
In re, concerning the matter of.
Insanity, the state of being insane; madness.
Insa'tiable, incapable of being satisfied.
Inscription, inscribed letters or words on a monument, coin, etc.
Inscrutable, unfathomable.
Insectiv'orous, living on insects.
Insecurity, uncertainty; want of safety.
Insensate, stupid, wanting sensibility.
Insensible, void of feeling or emotion, imperceptible.
Inseparable, that cannot be divided or separated.
Insertion, the act of placing in or among; the thing thus placed.
Inshore, within three miles of the shore; near the shore.
Insidious, treacherous; acting stealthily.
Insight, intellectual penetration; intuition.
Insignia, badges of office; marks of distinction.
Insignificant, unimportant; wanting meaning.
Insincerity, dissimulation; want of truth.
Insinuation, the power of gaining access by stealth; a hint.
Insipid, without taste; dull, heavy.
Insistence, the act of persisting in or of urging doggedly or with determination.
In situ, in its original position.
Insobriety, drunkenness, intemperance.
Insolence, contemptuous pride or rudeness.
Insoluble, not to be dissolved, inexplicable.
Insolvency, the state of being insolvent.
Insolvent, unable to pay one's debts.
Insomnia, inability to sleep.
Insouciance, coolness, indifference.
Inspan, to yoke, as a team of oxen.
Inspector, a superintendent; an examiner.
Inspiration, the act of drawing in the breath the influence of a superior power; the flash of a new idea into the mind.
Inspissation, the act of thickening a fluid.
Installation, a formal introduction to an office.
Instalment, a part payment; a part of a whole produced periodically.
Instance, an example, precedent; demand (at the instance of).
Instantaneous, done in an instant.
Instep, the upper arch of the foot.
Instigate, to provoke or incite to a deed.
Instil or instill, to pour in drop by drop, to infuse slowly.
Instinct', moved; animated.
In'stinct, natural impulse unprompted by reasoning or experience.
Institute, to establish; an established law.
Instructive, conveying knowledge.
Instrument, a tool; the agent or means by which a thing is done.
Insubordinate, disobedient, unruly.
Insufferable, intolerable; detestable.
Insufficiency, a supply unequal to the purpose.
Insular, belonging to an island, narrow-minded.
Insularity, the state of being insular.
Insulate, to isolate.
Insulator, any thing through which an electric current will not pass; the earthenware caps on a telegraph pole.
Insult, to treat with insolence or contempt.
Insu'perable, invincible, insurmountable.
Insuppressible, not to be suppressed.
Insurance, security against loss or damage by payment of a sum agreed upon.
Insurgent, one who rises against authority.
Insurrection, a rising, rebellion.
Intaglio, a hollowed engraving on a stone, as distinct from a relief engraving.
Intake, the point at which water is diverted from its main course; a piece of land won for agriculture from a moor or common.
Intangible, not perceptible by the touch.
In'teger, a whole, not a fraction.
In'tegral, whole, complete.
Integ'rity, entireness; honesty.
Integument, a natural covering, a skin.
Intellect, the power of thinking, the mental faculty.
Intellectual, possessing intellect.
Intelligence, intellectual capability; news.
Intelligible, that may be understood.
Intemperance, want of moderation, inebriety.
Intemperate, immoderate; addicted to drink.
Intendant, a superintendent.
Intensify, to increase to a high pitch.
Intensity, the state of being highly strung.
Intentional, done by design or after consideration.
Inter, to bury.
Interact, an interval between two acts; to act mutually.
Inter alia, among other things.
Inter'calary, added to the calendar, as February 29th.
Intercede, to mediate; to plead for a person.
Intercept, to cut off; to seize on its way.
Intercession, the act of interceding.
Intercessory, interceding.
Interchangeable, that may be exchanged; succeeding alternately.
Intercolonial, between colonies.
Intercommunication, mutual communication.
Intercourse, reciprocal dealings; communication.
In'terdict, prohibition; a Papal prohibition of religious services.
Interest, concern; advantage; share of profit.
Interested, attracted; biassed by motives of self-interest.
Interference, an intermeddling.
Interim, the meantime, intervening time.
Interior, inner, internal; inland.
Interjection, a word thrown in, a part of speech.
Interlard, to sandwich, to mingle.
Interleave, to insert blank leaves.
Interlinear, written between lines.
Interloc'utor, a speaker in a dialogue.
Interloper, an intruder.
Interlude, a light playful piece between the parts of a more serious performance.
Intermarry, to marry the members of one family or tribe to the members of another.
Intermediary, one who intervenes.
Intermediate, lying between; interposed.
Intermezzo, a light piece of music played between pieces of greater importance.
Interminable, boundless; unending.
Intermission, cessation for a time, pause.
Intermittent, leaving off at intervals.
Intermixture, a mass formed by mixing.
Intern, to confine in the interior of a country; to imprison.
Internal, inward; not foreign.
International, existing between different nations.
Interne'cine, causing mutual destruction.
Inter nos, between ourselves.
Interpel'late, to put questions.
Inter'polate, to add a word or passage that is not genuine.
Interpose, to step in between; to place between.
Interpretation, explanation; translation.
Interpreter, one who interprets.
Interregnum, the interval between two reigns or governments.
Inter'rogate, to put questions to.
Interrog'ative, expressed as a question.
Interruption, hindrance; stop; intermission.
Inter se, between themselves.
Intersection, the point where two lines cross each other.
Intersperse, to scatter here and there.
Inter'stice, a slight space between things close together.
Interval, time or distance between.

Intervene, to come between things or persons.
Interview, a formal meeting or conference.
Intestate, dying without making a will.
Intestine, internal; a bowel.
Intimacy, close familiarity.
Intimation, an indirect declaration; a hint.
Intolerance, want of toleration or consideration.
Intonation, manner of sounding; modulation of the voice.
In toto, entirely.
Intoxicant, that which causes intoxication.
Intoxication, drunkenness.
Intractable, unmanageable; stubborn.
Intramural, within the walls.
In transitu, on the journey.
Intrepid, fearless; daring.
Intricacy, entanglement; perplexity.
Intrigue, a plot; an intricate scheme.
Intrinsic, inward, inherent; real.
Introduction, the act of making known or conducting to; a preface.
Introductory, forming an introduction.
Introit, a short hymn sung before the beginning of the Communion Service.
Introspection, the act or habit of examining one's own thoughts and feelings.
Intrude, to enter without right or invitation.
Intrusion, the act of intruding.
Intuition, power of perception without reasoning.
Intu'itive, seen by intuition.
Inundation, a flood; an overflowing.
Inure, to harden; to habituate.
In vacuo, in empty space.
Invade, to make a hostile entrance.
In'valid, one disabled by sickness or injury.
Inval'id, of no weight; without legal force.
Invalidate, to weaken, to render invalid.
Invaluable, precious above estimation.
Invariable, unchangeable, constant.
Invective, an abusive expression.
Inveigh, to utter censure or reproach.
Inveigle, to persuade to something wicked, to entice.
In'ventory, a list of articles.
Inversion, a change of place or order.
Invertebrate, having no backbone.
Invest, to dress, to surround, to confer.
Investigate, to inquire or search into.
Investiture, the act of giving possession.
Inveterate, long-established, obstinate.
Invidious, envious, likely to incur hatred.
Invigilate, to watch over, to superintend.
Invigorate, to strengthen, to animate.
Invincible, unconquerable.
Inviolable, not to be broken or profaned.
Invisibility, imperceptibleness to the sight.
Invocate, to call upon in prayer, to invoke.
Invoice, a list of goods despatched, with prices.
Invoke, to summon, to call to.
Involuntary, not willingly, without intention.
Involve, to enwrap; imply; comprise; entangle.
Invulnerable, that cannot be wounded.
Inwrought, with figures worked in.
Iota, the Greek letter i; hence any insignificant thing.
I O U, "I owe you," a memorandum of debt.
Ipse dixit, "he himself said it;" an affirmation, statement of opinion.
Ipso facto, in or by the fact itself.
Iras'cible, easily irritated or angered.
Irate, wrathful, enraged.
Ire, wrath, resentment.
Ireful, angry, furious.
Iridescent, rainbow-hued.
Irksome, troublesome, wearisome.
Iron-clad, a war-ship plated with iron.
Ironical, with irony, sarcastic.
Irony, a kind of sarcasm.
Irradiate, to shed rays of light upon.
Irrational, void of reason; absurd.
Irreclaimable, not to be reclaimed.
Irreconcilable, not to be reconciled.
Irredeemable, that cannot be redeemed.
Irref'ragable, incapable of being broken up; undeniable, irrefutable.
Irref'utable, not to be overthrown by argument.
Irregularity, deviation from rule; wrong conduct.
Irrelevance, the state of not being pertinent, or of not sticking to the point.
Irreligion, contempt of religion; impiety.
Irremediable, admitting of no cure or redress.
Irrep'arable, not to be recovered or repaired.
Irrepressible, not to be repressed.
Irreproachable, free from blame or reproach.
Irresistible, not to be successfully opposed.
Irresolute, not constant in purpose.
Irrespective, having no regard to.
Irresponsible, not responsible; careless.
Irretrievable, not to be repaired or brought back.
Irreverence, want of reverence.
Irreversible, not to be reversed or recalled.
Irrev'ocable, not to be recalled.
Irrigate, to water by artificial means.
Irritable, easily angered, inflamed.
Irritant, that which causes irritation.
Irritation, provocation; the act of inflaming.
Irruption, a violent inroad or invasion.
Isinglass, gelatine obtained from fish.
Islam, the Mohammedan religion.
Islander, an inhabitant of an island.
Isle, an island.
Isolate, to place in a lonely situation.
Isosceles, having two equal sides (of a triangle).
Isotherm, an imaginary line passing through places of the same average temperature.
Issue, a sending out; offspring; result.
Isthmus, a neck of land joining two larger portions.
Italic, belonging to Italy; a printing type.
Item, a separate article or detail.
Iterate, to repeat; to do over again.
Itin'erant, wandering, not settled.
Itin'erary, a book of travels; travelling.
Itin'erate, to travel about; to wander.
Ivied, overgrown with ivy.
Ivory, the hard, bony substance of which the teeth and tusks of animals consist.

Jacinth, a gem.
Jackal, a wild animal.
Jackanapes, an impudent fellow; a coxcomb.
Jack-boot, a boot reaching over the knee.
Jack-knife, a large clasp-knife used by a sailor.
Jack-straw, a man of no private resources.
Jacobin, a violent revolutionist.
Jacobite, an upholder of the cause of James II. and his descendants.
Jacquerie, a revolt of the French peasants.
Jade, a worn-out horse; a hussy; a greenish stone.
Jaguar, a South American beast of prey.
Jail or gaol, a place of detention.
Jalap, a purgative medicine.
Jalousie, a Venetian blind.
Jamb, the sidepiece of a door, fireplace, etc.
Janitor, a door-keeper.
Japanning, a varnishing process.
Jardinière, an ornamental flower-stand.
Jargon, unintelligible talk; gibberish.
Jargonelle, a large pear.
Jarrah, a hard, Australian wood used for wood paving.
Jasper, a precious stone.
Jaundice, a disease caused by bile.
Jaunting-car, a light two-wheeled carriage with seats facing the wheels.
Jav'elin, a spear thrown by the hand.
Jealousy, suspicious fear of rivalry.
Jejune, empty; uninteresting, dry.
Jemmy, a burglar's implement.
Jeopardize, to expose to danger; to hazard.
Jeopardy, hazard, danger, peril.
Jeremi'ad, a tale of woe.
Jerked, cut into thin pieces and dried in the sun.
Jerry-built, hastily constructed of poor material.
Jester, a buffoon formerly kept by persons of rank to amuse them.
Jesuit, a member of a religious order in the Roman Catholic Church.
Jesuitical, belonging to the Jesuits; crafty, politic.
Jet, a rich black mineral; a sudden spurting out.
Jetsam, goods cast overboard to relieve a ship.
Jettison, the throwing overboard of goods to save a ship.
Jetty, a small pier; like jet.
Jeu d'esprit, a witty saying.
Jewellery, jewels or gems collectively.
Jewess, a female Jew or Hebrew.
Jib, the foremost sail of a ship; to refuse to move forward.
Jimp, handsome; natty.
Jingoism, eagerness to go to war.
Jinriksha, a small two-wheeled carriage drawn by a man, and common in Japan.
Jobbery, the making of money by unfair means.
Job-master, a livery-stable proprietor.
Jocose, waggish; given to joking.
Jocularity, merriment; readiness to jest.
Jo'cund, merry, gay, lively.
Johnsonian, in the style of Dr. Johnson, pompous in literary style.
Joint-stock, stock held by a number of persons.
Jointure, a husband's provision for his widow.
Joists, timbers supporting a floor or ceiling.
Jollification, a merry-making.
Jollity, merriment; festivity.
Jorum, a flowing bowl.
Joss-house, a Chinese temple.
Joss-stick, a small stick burned before idols.
Journal, a diary; a newspaper issued daily; a magazine.
Journalism, work connected with journals.
Journey, to travel from one place to another.
Journeyman, a workman hired by the day.
Jovial, gay, merry.
Jubilant, shouting for joy or triumph.
Jubilation, a great rejoicing.
Jubilee, a 50th anniversary; a time of rejoicing.
Judgment or judgement, the act of judging; opinion; sentence.
Judicature, the power and system of administering justice.
Judicial, relating to courts of justice.
Judicious, prudent, wise.
Juggernaut, a Hindu idol; a custom to which people sacrifice themselves.
Juggler, one who practises sleight of hand; a trickster.
Jugular, belonging to the throat.
Juice, the fluid part of many substances.
Jujube, a spiny shrub; a sweetmeat.
Julienne, a clear soup containing small pieces of vegetables and herbs.
Jumper, an outer jacket worn by a sailor.
Junction, union; a place of union.
Juncture, a joining; a critical point of time.
Junk, a Chinese ship; pieces of old cable.
Junta, a Spanish council of state.
Junto, a secret assembly; a faction.
Jurid'ical, used in courts of justice.
Jurisdiction, legal authority; the district over which any authority is exercised.
Jurisprudence, the science of law.
Jurist, one skilled in civil law.
Juror, one who serves on a jury.
Jury, a company of men sworn to decide a matter in court.
Jus gladii, the right of the sword.
Justiciary, one that administers justice.
Justifiable, that can be shown to be just.
Justification, defence, vindication.
Jute, the fibre of an Indian plant.
Juvenescent, growing young.
Juvenile, youthful.
Juxtaposition, the state of being placed near.

Kadi, a Turkish magistrate.
Kaftan, a loose garment worn in the East.
Kail or kale, a variety of cabbage.
Kaiser, a German emperor.
Kaleidoscope, an optical instrument showing a number of beautiful colours and forms.
Kamptulicon, a kind of floorcloth.
Kangaroo, a marsupial mammal of Australia.
Kaolin, a porcelain-clay.
Karoo or Karroo, the high, arid plains of South Africa.
Katydid, an American grasshopper.
Kavass, a Turkish armed constable or attendant.
Kayak, an Eskimo fishing-boat.
Keblah, the point towards which Mohammedans turn when praying.
Kedge, a small anchor.
Keel, the timber at the bottom of a ship.
Keepsake, a gift kept for the giver's sake.
Kelp, the ashes of seaweed.
Kelpie, a water-spirit in the form of a horse.
Kennel, a house for dogs; a gutter.
Kerchief, a square of muslin, etc., used in dress.
Kern, an Irish foot-soldier.
Kernel, the edible substance in a nut or fruit-stone.
Kerosene, a lamp-oil.
Kersey, a coarse woollen material.
Kestrel, a kind of hawk.
Ketchup, or Catsup, a sauce
Keystone, the middle stone of an arch.
Khaki, a yellowish cloth used for soldiers' uniforms.
Khan, an Eastern prince or governor; an Eastern inn.
Khedive, the ruler of Egypt.
Khit'mutgar, an under-butler in India.
Kibble, a strong bucket used in a mine.
Kickshaw, something fantastical.
Kidnap, to steal and carry off a person.
Kilderkin, a small barrel.
Kiln, a large oven for drying or burning.
Kilogramme, a French measure of weight.
Kilt, the short skirt worn by a Highlander.
Kindergarten, a school for young children.
Kine, the old plural of cow.
Kinematics, the science of pure motion.
Kinetic, causing or concerned with motion.
King's-evil, a scrofulous disease.
Kink, a twist in a rope preventing it from running freely, or in a pipe causing an obstruction.
Kinsfolk, relations.
Kiosk, an Eastern garden-pavilion; an ornamental hut used as a shop for tobacco, etc.
Kirk, a church in Scotland.
Kirtle, an upper garment; a gown.
Kismet, an Eastern term for fate.
Kit, a tub; an outfit, as of sailors; a small violin.
Kith, one's acquaintances.
Kittiwake, a species of gull.
Kleptomania, a mania for stealing.
Knack, a petty contrivance; a lucky dexterity.
Knacker, a dealer in old horses.
Knag, a knot in wood.
Knap, a protuberance; to break short.
Knapsack, a bag carried on the back.
Knavery, dishonesty; petty villainy.
Knickerbockers, loose knee-breeches.
Knick-knack, an ornamental trifle.
Knight, a non-hereditary title; a champion.
Knight-errant, a knight who wandered in search of adventures.
Knitting, a kind of close network done with needles.
Knoll, a hillock; to knell, to sound as a bell.
Knot, the interlacing or tying of a cord, etc.; a nautical mile.

Knotty, full of knots; intricate; rugged.
Knout, a Russian instrument of punishment.
Knowledge, certain belief; learning; skill.
Knuckle-duster, an iron instrument to cover the knuckles and give greater effect to a blow.
Kobold, an underground spirit.
Koran, the Mohammedan scriptures.
Kow-tow, the Chinese ceremony of prostration before the Emperor.
Kraal, a South African native village.
Kreutzer, an Austrian copper coin.
Kriegspiel, a German war-game.
Krone (-ne), a Danish, Norwegian, and Swedish coin.
Kudos, fame, credit.
Kumiss, fermented mare's milk.
Kümmel, a liqueur made in Russia, flavoured with caraway.
Kursaal, a public hall at German health resorts.
Kyle, a Scotch name for a strait.
Kyrie, "Lord have mercy upon us," a phrase in the Communion Service.

Laager, the Boer name for an encampment fenced in by ox-waggons.
Labefaction, becoming ruinous, tottering.
Label, a descriptive ticket attached to an object.
Labial, formed with the lips; a letter of the alphabet so formed.
Laboratory, a place where chemical work and chemical experiments are conducted.
Laborious, hard-working; involving hard toil.
Labour, toil, exertion; childbirth, travail.
Labyrinth, a maze.
Lac of rupees, a hundred thousand rupees.
Lacerate, to rend, mangle.
Lâche, loose, slack; cowardly.
Laches, remissness, negligence.
Lachrymal, belonging to tears.
Lachrymose, given to tears.
Lackadaisical, affectedly languid, languishing.
Lackey, an attendant, footman.
Laconic, sparing of words, concise.
Lacquer, varnish made of shellac.
Lacrosse, a game of Canadian origin played with a kind of racquet.
Lactation, the act of suckling; period of suckling.
Lacu'na, a small pit, a gap, hiatus.
Lacus'trine, belonging to lakes.
Lading, loading.
Lady-chapel, a chapel dedicated to the Virgin Mary, and usually situated behind the high altar.
Lady-day, "day of our Lady," March 25th.
Lager-beer, a kind of light beer largely manufactured in Germany.
Laggard, one who lags or loiters.
Lagoon, a shallow lake formed near the coast by the overflowing of the sea, or near a river by the overflow of its waters.
Laic, belonging to the laity.
Lair, a den or lurking-place of wild beasts.
Laird, a Scotch title for the owner of an estate.
Laisser-faire, the principle of letting others alone to do as they please without interference.
Laity, people generally as distinct from the clergy.
Lama, a Buddhist priest of Tibet.
Lambent, licking or playing over a surface like a tongue of flame.
Lam'entable, worthy to be lamented, deplorable.
Lamina, pl. laminæ, a thin plate or layer.
Lammas, "Loaf mass," August 1st, the day on which first-fruits used to be offered.
Lamp-black, an oily soot of which the smoke of a lamp consists.
Lampoon, a scurrilous personal satire.
Lance-corporal, a private soldier invested with the temporary rank of corporal.
Lancet, a surgical instrument used for lancing; lance-shaped.
Land-agent, one employed to manage landed property for the owner.
Landau, a carriage which may be opened or closed.
Lande, a French name for a sandy plain.
Landing-net, a net for landing fish when they are caught.
Landing-stage, a platform at which boats discharge their passengers.
Landlocked, almost surrounded by land.
Landlubber, a sailor's contemptuous term for a landsman.
Landmark, a sign or post erected to mark a boundary.
Landscape, a view or prospect of the country; a picture representing the same.
Landscape gardening, laying out grounds with a view to picturesque effect.
Land-shark, one who swindles sailors when they come ashore; a swindler.
Landsturm, the local German militia.
Land-surveyor, one who surveys and maps estates.
Landwehr, the German reserve soldiery.
Langsyne, "long since," long ago.
Language, the expression of thought in words; speech of a particular race.
Languid, listless, lacking in energy.
Languish, to become weak or listless.
Languor, weakness, listlessness.
Lanigerous, wool-bearing.
Lanoline, an oily substance extracted from wool.
Lantern, a transparent case for holding a light; the lantern-shaped top of a dome through which light and air are admitted.
Lanyard, a short piece of rope used on board ship.
Lapel or lapelle, the lappet on a coat front.
Lapidary, one who cuts and polishes precious stones.
Lapis-lazuli, a rich ultramarine blue stone used for necklaces and various ornamental purposes.
Lapsed, fallen; void, forfeited.
Lapsus linguæ, a slip of the tongue.
Larboard, port, or left side of a vessel if one faces the bow.
Larceny, theft.
Lares, household gods.
Largess, a liberal gift or bounty.
Larghetto, a musical direction to play a movement rather slowly.
Largo, a musical term indicating a slow movement.
Larva, pl. larvæ, the first or partially developed stage in the life of an insect after leaving the egg; a grub.
Laryngi'tis, inflammation of the larynx.
Larynx, the voice organ.
Lascar, a native sailor belonging to the East Indies.
Lascivious, lustful, wanton.
Lassitude, listlessness, weariness, languor.
Lasso, a rope or leather noose used in South America for catching cattle.
Latent, hidden, dormant, potential.
Lateral, belonging to the side, on the side.
Lathe, a turning-machine for shaping wood and other substances.
Latin, belonging to the Latins; the language spoken by the ancient Romans who were Latins.
Latinity, Latin style or idiom; knowledge of Latin.
Latitude, distance north or south of the Equator; breadth, freedom, scope, laxity.
Latitudinarian, a person with broad or lax religious views.
Latrine, a water-closet in castles, barracks and public institutions.
Lattice, an open framework of laths crossing one another.
Laudable, praiseworthy.
Laudanum, tincture of opium.
Lau'datory, expressing praise, eulogistic.
Laughable, ridiculous, ludicrous.
Laughter, the act of laughing.
Launch, to thrust a vessel into the water; a large boat usually propelled by steam.
Laundress, a woman who washes and gets up linen and other wearing apparel.
Laureate, crowned with a laurel wreath; the official poet of the nation.
Laurel, a bay tree.
Lava, molten matter cast up by a volcano.
Lavatory, a place for washing.
Laver, a vessel used by Jewish priests for ceremonial purification; a kind of edible seaweed.
Lavishly, in a profuse or unstinting manner.
Lawlessness, defiance of the law, disregard for the law.
Lawn-tennis, an outdoor game played across a net with balls and racquets on a court marked in rectangles.
Lawsuit, legal proceedings.
Lawyer, a legal practitioner.
Laxative, an aperient.
Laxity, looseness, slackness.
Lay-figure, a dummy used by artists as a stand for drapery.
Lay'man, one of the laity.
Lazar, a leper.
Lazaretto, a public hospital or a place of quarantine for those suffering from infectious diseases.
Laziness, sloth, sluggishness, idleness.
Lea, a meadow or pasture.
Leaderette, a short leading article for a paper or magazine.
Leafage, foliage.
Leaflet, a small leaf or slip of paper containing printed matter.
Leaf-mould, soil enriched by decaying leaves.
League, a confederation, union.
Leakage, the gradual loss of a liquid through a small aperture.
Leakiness, the state of being leaky or not water-tight.
Leap-year, a year, which recurs every fourth year, of 366 days, when February contains an extra day.
Learning, knowledge.
Leasehold, a tenure on lease, for a term of years.
Leash, a lash or strap by which an animal is held.
Leasing, lying.
Leat, a mill-stream.
Leathern, made of leather.
Leaven, any substance which causes fermentation.
Lecherous, lustful.
Lectern, a reading-desk from which the lessons are read in church.
Lection, a special passage of Scripture appointed to be read in churches at a stated time; a variation in the reading of a passage.
Lecture, a formal address or discourse; a reproof.
Ledger, a tradesman's account-book in which all business transactions are entered.
Lee, the direction towards which the wind is blowing.
Lee-board, a board attached to the lee-side of a ship to prevent it from drifting.
Leech, a blood-sucking insect; a doctor.
Leeward, towards the lee.
Leeway, the distance which a vessel is driven out of her course by the wind.
Legacy, a bequest, a gift bequeathed by will.
Legality, lawfulness.
Legate, an official representative, an ambassador, especially of the Pope.
Legatee, one who receives a legacy.
Legatine, belonging to a legate.
Legation, an embassy, the official residence of an ambassador.
Legato, a musical term indicating that the passage is to be performed smoothly.
Legendary, mythical.
Legerdemain, sleight of hand.
Legibility, the state of being readable or distinct.
Legion, a body of soldiers in the ancient Roman army originally numbering 6,000 men, a vast number.
Legislation, the framing or enacting of laws.
Legislative, belonging to legislation.
Legitimacy, legality; the state of being the offspring of lawful union.
Leisure, spare time.
Lemonade, a cooling drink made from lemon-juice.
Lengthen, to make longer, prolong.
Leniency, quality of being lenient or merciful.
Lenity, mercifulness of disposition.
Lens, a piece of glass or other transparent substance curved so as to alter the direction of rays passing through it, thus magnifying or diminishing the apparent size of an object.
Lent, the forty days preceding Easter.
Lenticular, doubly convex.
Lento, a musical term denoting "slowly."
L'envoi, a kind of epilogue in which an author sometimes commends his book to the reader.
Leonine, like a lion; a form of rugged Latin verse consisting of alternate hexameters and pentameters.
Leopard, a kind of panther.
Leper, one suffering from leprosy.
Leprosy, a name for various diseases which affect the face and skin and gradually cause mortification.
Lese-majesty, high treason, especially in Germany.
Lesion, a wound, injury.
Lessee, a person to whom a lease is granted.
Lethal, causing death.
Lethar'gic, sleepy, heavy, torpid.
Lethe, forgetfulness, oblivion, named after an imaginary river in hell.
Letter-press, the printed matter in a book as distinct from the illustrations.
Lettre-de-cachet, a French term for a warrant for imprisonment for an unlimited time.
Lettuce, a juicy vegetable used for salad.
Levant, to decamp for the purpose of avoiding the payment of a debt.
Levantine, belonging to the Levant or Eastern Mediterranean.
Levee, a formal reception held in the morning by a monarch or person of rank; an embankment by a river.
Levelling, reducing to the same level.
Leverage, motive power resulting from the use of a lever.
Leveret, a young hare.
Leviathan, a huge sea beast.
Levitical, belonging to the priestly caste of the Levites.
Levity, lightness, frivolity.
Levy, the raising of a troop or of a tax by the authority of the government.
Lewdness, lust, impurity.
Lex talionis, the law of retaliation.
Lexicographer, the writer or compiler of a dictionary.
Lexicon, a dictionary.
Liability, the state of being accountable or responsible.
Liaison, a French term for the attaching of the final consonant of one word to the initial vowel of the next; an amour, intrigue.
Libation, a drink offering to a deity.
Libel, an injurious statement intended to or calculated to injure another.

Libellous, of the nature of a libel, slanderous.
Liberal, generous, open minded; a member of the Liberal party.
Liberalism, the principles of the Liberal party.
Liberate, to set at liberty, to free.
Liberticide, one who destroys liberty.
Libertine, an unrestrained or licentious person.
Libidinous, full of lusts or passions.
Libra, "the balance," one of the signs of the Zodiac.
Library, a collection of books; a room where books are housed.
Libration, a state of equipoise or of a slightly swaying motion.
Librettist, one who writes librettos or books of words to accompany music.
License or licence, a permit or authorisation; wantonness, excess.
Licentiate, one vested with special authority to preach or to teach.
Licentious, throwing off all restraint, wanton, dissolute.
Lichen, a kind of moss or fungus which sometimes spreads over the surface of rocks and trunks of trees; a skin disease.
Lich-gate, a gate with a porch at the entrance of a churchyard.
Lickerish, tempting, pleasing to the palate; having a keen relish.
Lief, gladly, willingly.
Liege, one bound by feudal obligations as lord or vassal.
Lien, a legal term denoting the right to retain the property of another as security for the payment of a claim.
Lieu, place or stead.
Lieutenant-general, the officer next in rank to a general.
Life-annuity, a fixed sum of money paid yearly during a person's lifetime.
Ligament, a strong fibrous band by which the bones in the body are attached to one another.
Ligature, something that binds, a bandage.
Lighter-man, a man employed on a lighter or flat, open boat, used in loading and unloading vessels.
Light-fingered, nimble with the fingers, thievish.
Light-infantry, infantry lightly armed for ease in skirmishing.
Lightning, the electric flash which precedes thunder.
Lightning-conductor, a rod and wire-cord for directing the course of the lightning current from a building into the earth.
Light-ship, an anchored vessel carrying a light for the guidance of sailors.
Ligneous, wooden; like wood.
Lignite, a kind of coal or fossil wood.
Lignum vitæ, a South American tree with very hard wood.
Likelihood, probability.
Lilac, a shrub bearing mauve or white flowers; mauve.
Lilliputian, diminutive, like the Lilliputians in Gulliver's Travels.
Lily-livered, white livered, cowardly.
Limb, an arm or leg of the body; a branch.
Limber, flexible, pliant; the forepart of a gun carriage.
Limbo, a place on the borders of hell, according to early theologians, where the souls of unbaptised infants and of the just who died before the Christian dispensation await the coming of Christ.
Lime-juice, the juice of the citron, used to make a cooling drink and as a preventive against scurvy.
Limitation, restriction.
Limner, a painter, especially a portrait painter.
Limpid, clear, transparent.
L'inconnu, the unknown.
Linch-pin, a pin to prevent a wheel from slipping off the axle.
Linden, a lime-tree.
Lineage, race, descent.
Lineal, belonging to a line, in a direct line.
Lineaments, features, outward form.
Lingerer, a loiterer, one who is slow in coming or going.
Lingo, a dialect.
Lingua franca, a mixed dialect used by Europeans as a means of intercourse with eastern nations.
Linguist, one versed in many languages.
Linguistics, the comparative study of languages.
Liniment, an embrocation or oily lotion.
Link-boy, one who carries a torch to light pedestrians or passengers.
Links, common where golf is played; fastenings for cuffs; units of measurement 22 yds.
Linoleum, oil-cloth for covering floors.
Linseed-cake, the residue of the linseed after the oil has been pressed out.
Linsey-woolsey, a mixed material made of wool and linen.
Linstock, the stick that formerly held the gunner's match.
Lintel, the stone or wooden coping above a door.
Lionize, to treat as a lion or celebrity.
Liquefaction, the process of becoming liquid, or making liquid.
Liquefy, to melt or make liquid.
Liqueur, an alcoholic cordial.
Liquidate, to settle or wind up (business affairs).
Liquidator, one who winds up a business.
Liquor, a liquid, alcoholic drink.
Liquorice, "sweet root," a root possessing medicinal properties.
Lira, an Italian coin worth about tenpence.
Lissom, lithe, graceful, pliant.
Listener, one who listens, a hearer.
Litany, a form of prayer containing a repeated supplication.
Literal, according to the letter, following the actual words.
Literary, belonging to, or versed in, letters or literature.
Literate, educated, cultured.
Literature, the collective literary productions of a country; the history of letters.
Lithesome, lissom, graceful.
Lithography, the art of engraving on stone.
Litigant, one engaged in a lawsuit.
Litigation, the act of carrying on a lawsuit.
Litigious, fond of litigation.
Litterateur, a man of letters.
Little Go, the name by which the Cambridge Previous Examination is known.
Littoral, belonging to the coast.
Liturgical, belonging to a liturgy.
Liturgy, a set form of prayer or ritual.
Livelihood, means of living.
Liveliness, vivacity, sprightliness.
Livelong, lasting long, entire, whole.
Liveried, wearing a livery.
Livery, a special uniform, a distinctive dress.
Livery-stable, a place where horses are kept for hire.
Livid, leaden in hue.
Llama, a wool-bearing quadruped something like a camel, found in Peru.
Load-line, a line painted on the outside of a vessel to show the depth to which she may sink without being over-loaded.
Loadstar or lodestar, the pole-star.
Loamy, having rich soil.
Loan, something lent.
Loathing, abhorrence, shrinking, repulsion.
Loathsomeness, repulsiveness.
Lobby, an entrance-hall.
Lobe, the rounded part of an organ, a term applied to the lower part of the ear, also to each half of the brain and lungs.
Lobster, an edible shell-fish.
Locality, situation, position, neighbourhood.
Localize, to determine the locality of; to restrict to a certain locality.
Locate, to place, to station; to determine the locality of.
Loch, a Scotch name for a lake or inlet.
Lock-jaw, a disease which causes the muscles of the jaw to contract so that they can no longer act.
Lock-out, the act on the part of a master of shutting his employés out from his works in order to enforce his claims.
Locomotion, the act of moving from place to place.
Locum tenens, one who undertakes temporary duty for another.
Locus, a line marked out by a point moving according to a fixed rule.
Locus standi, a recognized position.
Lodgment, the act of lodging; the occupation of a military position.
Log, a piece of a tree trunk; a piece of wood or an instrument attached to a line used in measuring the rate of a ship's progress.
Loggerhead, a wooden head, a blockhead.
Loggia, a corridor or arcade supported on one side by pillars and open to the air on that side.
Logic, the art of reasoning.
Logical, in accordance with logic, consistent.
Logician, one skilled in logic.
Logos, the Divine Word, the word of God incarnate.
Log-rolling, a working with others to secure one another's own personal ends.
Logwood, the wood of a Mexican tree from which a red dye is obtained.
Loiterer, one who is tardy or lags behind.
Lollard, a term applied to the followers of Wycliffe.
Loneliness, the state of being lonely.
Lonesome, feeling lonely.
Long-boat, the principal boat on board a ship.
Longeval, long-lived.
Longevity, length of life.
Longitude, the distance east or west of a given meridian expressed in degrees.
Longitudinal, going from east to west; lengthwise.
Long-shoreman, a wharf-labourer, stevedore.
Long-suffering, patient, enduring.
Looby, a clumsy hulking fellow.
Loofa, a fibrous substance used in bathing.
Loom, a weaving-machine; to appear large and indistinct in the distance.
Loophole, a small hole in a fortification through which bullets may be fired from within; a way of escape.
Loose-box, a place where horses are kept untethered.
Loot, plunder.
Loquacious, talkative.
Loquacity, talkativeness.
Lorcha, a light vessel, a Chinese junk.
Lord-lieutenant, one who acts as a viceroy or deputy-governor.
Lore, learning, wisdom.
Lorgnette, an opera-glass, spectacles fitted into a handle.
Loricated, coated over with plates like a coat of mail.
Lorn, forlorn, desolate, lonely.
Lorry, a four-wheeled waggon without sides.
Losel, a good-for-nothing, a lazy worthless fellow.
Lothario, a gay rakish fellow.
Lotion, a wash or embrocation.
Lottery, a game of chance in which the prizes are drawn by lot.
Louis d'or, an old French coin roughly equivalent to 20 francs.
Lounge, to loll, lie at ease; to stroll idly; a kind of sofa.
Lout, a clumsy, unmannerly fellow.
Louvre, a window with sloping boards in a tower or building for light and ventilation, and to allow the sound of bells to go out.
Loveliness, the state of being lovely, beauty.
Loving cup, a large cup of wine passed from guest to guest.
Lowering, cloudy, threatening, sullen.
Lowlander, a native of lowlands, especially of the Scotch Lowlands.
Lowliness, humility.
Loyalist, a faithful adherent of the ancestral line of sovereigns.
Loyalty, fidelity.
Lozenge, a diamond-shaped object, a medicinal sweetmeat.
Lubricate, to lessen friction by oiling.
Lubricity, oiliness, slipperiness, shiftiness; wantonness.
Lucidity, clearness.
Lucifer, "light-bearer"—Satan's name before his fall; the morning star.
Lucrative, profitable, productive of gain.
Lucubration, a work composed with the help of the midnight oil, a carefully studied composition.
Ludicrous, laughable, ridiculous, absurd.
Luff, the side of a vessel facing the wind; to sail near the wind.
Luggage, travellers' baggage.
Lugubrious, doleful.
Lukewarm, tepid.
Lullaby, hush-a-by, a slumber song.
Lumbago, rheumatism in the lower part of the back.
Lumbar, belonging to the loins.
Luminary, that which gives light; a star, the sun or moon.
Luminosity, the power of giving light, brilliancy.
Luminous, light-giving, shining.
Lunacy, madness, insanity.
Lunar, belonging to the moon.
Lunatic, a madman, an insane person.
Luncheon, a light meal between breakfast and dinner.
Lunette, a high window in the walls of a building with a vaulted roof.
Lungs, the organs of respiration.
Lunge, to thrust.
Lupus, a disease that mortifies the flesh, usually affecting the face.
Lurch, to heel over, sway to one side.
Lure, to entice, inveigle, decoy.
Lurid, wan and gloomy, ghastly pale.
Luscious, sweet and juicy to taste.
Lustiness, robustness, vigour.
Lustration, the rite of purification.
Lustre, brilliancy, polish.
Lustrum, a period of five years.
Lusus naturæ, a freak of nature.
Lute, a stringed instrument like a guitar.
Lutheran, a follower of Luther.
Luxuriance, profuse growth, exuberance.
Luxurious, abounding in luxury, fond of luxury, voluptuous.
Luxury, the state of abundance or ease, dainty living.
Lyce'um, a place of higher education where lectures are given, named after the place where Aristotle taught.
Lymph, water; an almost colourless fluid found in animal bodies.
Lymphatic, conveying lymph; colourless.
Lynch, to inflict summary punishment without recourse to law.
Lynch-law, summary justice, exercised by unauthorised people.
Lynx-eyed, sharp-sighted as a lynx.
Lyre, a musical instrument like a harp, with strings.
Lyrical, of the nature of a lyric or song dealing with the emotions.
Lyrist, one who plays the lyre; a lyric poet.

Macadamize, to cover a road with small broken stones which when rolled produce a smooth hard surface.
Macaroni, wheat flour made into long narrow tubes; a fop, a dandy.
Macaroon, a biscuit made of flour, almonds, eggs and sugar.
Macassar-oil, a kind of hair-oil.
Mace, a spice made of the outer network which coats a nutmeg; a staff of office.
Macerate, to make lean, to soften by steeping.
Machiavellian, cunning and unprincipled like the doctrines of Machiavelli the Italian statesman.
Machine-gun, a gun which can fire many shots in succession.
Machinery, mechanical contrivances for reducing labour, machines.
Mackerel, a salt-water fish which forms an important article of diet.
Mackintosh, a waterproof cloak or coat.
Macrocosm, "the great world." the universe.
Madam, "my lady," a formal and respectful mode of addressing a lady.
Madder, a red vegetable dye.
Madeira, a choice kind of sherry.
Mademoiselle, a French term used as a formal mode of addressing a young lady.
Madonna, the Virgin Mary, a painting of the Virgin.
Madrepore, coral.
Madrigal, a graceful lyric arranged for several voices.
Mænad, a Bacchante, a frenzied woman.
Maes'tro, a master of any art, a composer.
Magazine, a periodical; a storehouse, a warehouse.
Magenta, a deep pink colour.
Maggoty, full of maggots; full of whims.
Magi, the wise men of the East.
Magically, in a magic or mysterious manner.
Magician, a sorcerer, an enchanter.
Magisterial, belonging to a magistrate; severe, authoritative.
Magistracy, a body of magistrates, the office of a magistrate.
Magnanimity, nobility or generosity of spirit.
Magnanimous, large-hearted, generous.
Magnate, a person of importance, a dignitary.
Magnetic, having the properties of a magnet, attractive.
Magnetism, the properties of the magnet, attractive force.
Magnificat, "My soul doth magnify the Lord" —the Virgin Mary's song of thanksgiving.
Magnificence, splendour, grandeur.
Magnifico, a Venetian grandee.
Magnify, to make great; extol.
Magniloquent, grandiloquent, bombastic.
Magnitude, size.
Magnum, a two quart measure.
Magnum opus, the great work of a man's life, a masterpiece.
Magyar, a Hungarian.
Maharajah, the title of an Indian prince.
Mahatma, one versed in occult mysteries.
Mahdi, a great religious leader expected by the Mohammedans; a false prophet claiming to be this leader.
Mahl-stick or maul-stick, a painter's stick used to steady the hand.
Mahogany, a reddish wood of a South American tree, much used for furniture.
Mahout, an elephant driver.
Maidenliness, girlishness, girlish modesty.
Mail-train, a train which carries the post-office mails.
Maimed, disfigured, mutilated, crippled.
Mainland, the main body of land as opposed to islands.
Maintain, to support, uphold.
Maintenance, means of support; the upholding or continuance.
Maize, Indian corn.
Majestically, in a dignified or stately manner.
Majesty, dignity, stateliness.
Majolica, a kind of enamelled china.
Major-domo, a house-steward.
Major-general, the title of the officer who ranks next to a lieutenant-general.
Majority, the greater number; the age of 21.
Make-shift, a temporary expedient.
Maladjustment, a wrong or unsatisfactory adjustment.
Maladministration, mismanagement (of public affairs).
Maladroit, awkward, clumsy.
Malady, illness, disease.
Malaise, discomfort, uneasiness.
Malapert, saucy.
Malapropos, ill-timed, out of place.
Malarial, of the nature of malaria, or fever due to poisonous exhalations.
Malcontent, one discontented with the government.
Mal de mer, sea-sickness.
Mal de tête, headache.
Malediction, a curse, an imprecation.
Malefactor, an evil-doer, a criminal.
Malevolent, malicious, spiteful, vindictive.
Malfeasance, evil doing.
Malformation, a deformity, a faulty formation.
Malice, spite, ill-will.
Malicious, spiteful.
Malign, to speak evil of, slander; baneful, ill-disposed.
Malignant, malicious, deadly.
Malingerer, one who evades duties by feigning illness.
Malison, curse, imprecation.
Malleable, capable of being hammered into shape.
Malmsey, a kind of Canary wine.
Malpractice, an evil practice.
Malt-liquor, any liquor made of malt or barley steeped and dried.
Maltreat, to ill-treat, injure.
Malversation, fraud, peculation, corrupt practices when in office.
Mammal, an animal that suckles its young.
Mammon, wealth, riches.
Mammoth, an extinct monster resembling a huge elephant.
Manacle, a fetter for the wrist.
Management, the act of managing or administering.
Manchet, a small loaf of fine white bread.
Manchu, a Manchurian.
Mandamus, a writ issued by a high court ordering a person or society to carry out some duty.
Mandarin, a Chinese magistrate; a small and choice species of orange.
Mandate, an official order.
Mandible, the jaw of an insect.
Mandoline, a musical instrument resembling a guitar.
Mandrake, a plant possessing narcotic properties.
Manducate, to chew.
Manège, the art of training horses.
Manes, the spirits or shades of the departed.
Mange, a skin disease to which dogs and other animals are liable.
Mangrove, a tree which grows in the Indies, the bark of which is used in tanning.
Man-hole, an opening in a drain for convenience in repairing it.
Mania, madness, insanity, a craze.
Maniac, a madman, a raving lunatic.
Manicure, the care of the hands.
Manifestation, a making visible, a revelation or display.
Manifesto, a proclamation, a public statement or declaration.
Manifold, many in number, numerous.
Manikin, a little man, a dwarf.
Manipulate, to handle, to work upon with the hands.
Manna, the food given by God to the Israelites in the wilderness.
Mannerism, a trick of speech or gesture.
Manœuvre, a clever device to gain an end; a skilful movement of men or ships.
Manor, that part of a nobleman's lands which he retained for his own use.
Mansard, a roof with a broken slope.
Manse, a Scotch name for the minister's house.
Manslaughter, the act of killing a person without deliberate intention.
Mantel-piece, a projecting ledge over a fireplace.
Mantilla, a piece of lace drapery worn over the head and shoulders.
Mantua-maker, a dress-maker.
Manual, a hand-book or handy treatise on a subject.
Manufactory, the works where certain goods are manufactured.
Manufacture, to make or produce.
Manumission, the act of releasing from slavery.
Manumit, to set free.
Manuscript, a document written by hand.
Manx, belonging to the Isle of Man.
Maori, an aboriginal of New Zealand.
Marauder, one who makes a plundering raid.
Marchioness, the wife of a marquis.
Margarine, an oily substance used as a substitute for butter.
Marginal, in the margin.
Mariage de convenance, a marriage from motives of interest.
Marine, belonging to the sea; a soldier in the navy.
Marine store, a store where materials belonging to old ships are sold.
Mariolatry, the worship of the Virgin Mary.
Marionette, a dancing puppet.
Marital, belonging to a husband.
Maritime, belonging to the sea.
Markedly, in a pronounced manner, pointedly.
Marketable, saleable.
Marline, a small rope used for winding round another rope.
Marlinespike, a spiked instrument used for separating the strands of a rope.
Marmalade, preserve made of oranges.
Maroon, to put ashore on an uninhabited place and leave to shift for oneself.
Maroon or marone, a kind of red colour.
Marque (letters of), a permit from the sovereign authorising a private person to seize an enemy's ship as a prize.
Marquetry, work inlaid with various coloured words, ivory and other ornamental substances.
Marquess or marquis, a noble who ranks next to a duke.
Marriageable, fit for marriage.
Marshal, to set in order, array; a military officer of high rank.
Marshalling, the act of arranging in order or putting in array.
Marsupial, a pouched animal.
Martello-tower, one of a number of circular towers built along the coast for defensive purposes.
Martial-law, special laws enforced in a district in war time.
Martingale, a strap connecting a horse's bit with the girth; a spar under a bowsprit.
Martinmas, the feast of St. Martin, November 11th.
Martyr, a witness for the faith; one who suffers for a cause; one who dies for his religion.
Martyrology, a book or history of martyrs.
Marvel, a wonder.
Marvellous, wonderful.
Mascotte or mascot, a lucky penny; any thing or person supposed to bring good luck.
Masculine, of male gender; manly, virile.
Masonic, belonging to a mason.
Masonry, mason's work; the profession of a freemason.
Masquerade, an entertainment in which the performers are masqued.
Massacre, wholesale slaughter.
Massage, a course of medical treatment consisting of the application of friction to the affected parts.
Masseur m., masseuse f., one who practises massage.
Massiveness, bulkiness.
Mass-meeting, a monster meeting, a general, open meeting.
Massy, massive, bulky.
Master-key, a key able to open many locks.
Master-piece, a supreme work of art.
Mastery, the upper-hand.
Masticate, to chew.
Mastication, the act of chewing.
Mastiff, a large strong dog used as a house-dog.
Matador, the one who despatches the bull in a bull-fight.
Match-making, attempting to bring about a marriage.
Material, corporeal as opposed to spiritual, substantial; the substance of which anything is made.
Mate'rially, in a substantial or material degree.
Matériel, the sum total of the instruments employed for any purpose.
Maternal, belonging to a mother.
Maternity, motherhood.
Mathematically, in a mathematical or exact manner.
Mathematics, the science which deals with magnitude and number.
Matins, morning service according to the book of Common Prayer.
Matinée, an afternoon performance of a play or concert.
Matricide, one guilty of the murder of his mother.
Matriculate, to pass a college entrance examination and thus become an undergraduate.
Matrimonial, belonging to marriage.
Matrimony, marriage.
Matrix, the womb; the cavity of a mould or of a seal.
Matronly, like a married woman; staid.
Mattress, a bed-case stuffed with wool or horse-hair and quilted.
Maturity, ripeness.
Matuti'nal, belonging to the morning.
Maudlin, foolishly sentimental, mawkish.
Maugre, in spite of.
Maxim, a precept, a wise saying.
Maximum, the fullest amount, the highest number attainable.
Mayonnaise, a rich white sauce used for fish and poultry.
Mayor, the chief magistrate of a town.
Mayoralty, the office of a mayor.
Maze, a labyrinth.
Mazurka, a Polish dance.
Mea culpa, mine is the fault, the blame is mine.
Meadow, rich pasture land.
Meagre, scanty, poor.
Mealies, maize or Indian corn.
Meanness, lack of generosity; base or ignoble conduct; low condition.
Measles, an infectious disease marked by a red rash and attended with fever.
Measurable, able to be measured or estimated; moderated.
Measure, extent, degree; dimensions; standard of measurement; metre; means to an end; a legal enactment.
Mechanically, in a mechanical or perfunctory manner.

Mechanic, an artisan; belonging to a machine.
Mechanician, one skilled in mechanics; one who constructs machinery.
Medal, a metal disc containing a device or inscription.
Medallion, a large medal, a round tablet with a portrait or inscription.
Meddle, to interfere.
Medial, middle, intervening.
Mediate, to intervene between two parties at variance in order to bring about a reconciliation.
Me'diator, one who intervenes to bring about a reconciliation.
Medical, belonging to medicine.
Medicate, to render medicinal.
Medic'inal, having medical properties.
Medie'val, belonging to the middle ages.
Me'diocre, ordinary, commonplace.
Mediocr'rity, the state of being mediocre or commonplace.
Meditation, thought, reflection.
Med'itative, thoughtful, reflective.
Medium, middling, not extreme; anything which serves as a bridge or ground of communication; a person by whom communications are conducted.
Medul'lary, of the nature of marrow.
Meerschaum, a light clay much used for pipe bowls.
Meeting-house, a place of assembly, conventicle.
Megaphone, an instrument for magnifying the sounds of a speaker.
Megrim, sick headache; a sudden attack to which horses are subject.
Meister-singer, a member of a German guild of poets.
Melancholia, a nervous disease attended by confirmed melancholy.
Melancholy, depression of spirits, gloom.
Mélange, a medley.
Melanism, darkness of skin; a deepening of the colours of the skins of living animals.
Mêlée, a confused fight in which the combatants intermingle in a hand-to-hand encounter.
Meliorate, to ameliorate, make better, improve.
Mellif'luent, flowing sweetly along.
Melodic, pertaining to melody.
Melodrama, a sentimental and sensational drama.
Melody, a musical air or tune.
Melon, a juicy fruit of the cucumber genus.
Membrane, a thin tissue which covers or lines various organs in the body.
Memento, a token of remembrance, a souvenir.
Memoir, a biographical record.
Memorabilia, things worthy of note.
Memorandum (pl. -da), a record or note of things to be remembered.
Memorial, something which commemorates the dead, a written petition.
Memory, the faculty of remembering; remembrance.
Menace, a threat.
Menacing, threatening.
Menage, a household, household arrangements.
Menagerie, a collection of wild beasts kept for show; general management.
Mendacious, guilty of falsehood, lying.
Mendacity, untruthfulness, falsehood.
Mendicancy, a state of beggary.
Mendicant, a beggar.
Menial, servile, mean; a domestic servant.
Meningi'tis, inflammation of the coatings of the brain and spinal cord.
Menses, see Med. Dict.
Menstrual, occurring every month, monthly.
Mensurable, capable of being measured.
Mentally, in the mind.
Mentor, a monitor, counsellor, guide.
Menu, a bill of fare, a list of the dishes ready at a restaurant.
Mephistophelian, cynically wicked like Mephistopheles in Faust.
Mephitic, poisonous or noxious (to smell).
Mercantile, belonging to trade or commerce.
Mercenary, greedy for gain, avaricious; a soldier who enters foreign service for hire.
Mercery, silk or woollen goods.
Merchandise, goods for sale.
Merciful, full of mercy or pity.
Merciless, pitiless, ruthless.
Mercurial, like mercury or quicksilver; resembling mercury, sprightly.
Mere, a lake; only.
Meretricious, wanton, alluring.
Merge, to cause to be absorbed, to be absorbed.
Meridian, belonging to mid-day; an imaginary great circle passing through the poles and any given place.
Meritorious, possessing merit, worthy, deserving.
Merriment, gaiety.
Merry-andrew, a clown or mountebank.
Merry-thought, a V shaped bone in the breast of a fowl.
Mésalliance, a marriage with one of lower station.
Mesmeric, pertaining to mesmerism.
Mesmerism, the power of subjugating the will of a person acted upon to the will of the operator; hypnotism.
Mesne (meen), intermediate, coming in between.
Message, a communication written or verbal sent by one to another.
Messenger, one who carries a message.
Messieurs, Messrs., plural of Mr.
Messuage, a dwelling house with out-buildings and land attached.
Mestizo, a person of mixed birth, the offspring of Spanish and American-Indian parents.
Metallic, made of metal, like metal; lustrous; clear-sounding.
Metallurgy, the art of working metals.
Metamorphosis, transformation.
Metaphor, a condensed simile with the word expressing likeness omitted.
Metaphorical, figurative.
Mete, to measure out, allot, apportion.
Metempsycho'sis, the transmigration of souls from one bodily form into another.
Meteor, a shooting star.
Meter, a mechanical device for registering the amount of gas consumed.
Metheg'lin, mead.
Methodical, systematic.
Methodist, a follower of John Wesley.
Methylated, mixed with methyl or spirits of wood.
Metre, the regular recurrence of accent in lines of verse; the unit of length (about 39 inches) in the metric system.
Metric, pertaining to the metre.
Metronome, an instrument for beating time in music.
Metropolis, the mother city, capital.
Metropolitan, belonging to the metropolis, the bishop of the chief ecclesiastical city, an archbishop.
Mezzo, an Italian term meaning "half" or "middle."
Mezzo-tint, a process of engraving on metal.
Mica, mineral rock consisting of thin transparent plates.
Miasma, a poisonous exhalation from swamps.
Michaelmas, the feast of St. Michael, September 29th.
Microbe, a minute organism present in diseased organic matter.
Microcosm, the world in miniature (said of man).
Microm'eter, an instrument for measuring small distances.
Microscope, an instrument for magnifying the size of minute objects so as to render them clearly visible.
Microsco'pist, one skilled in the use of the microscope.
Midden, a dust heap, manure heap.
Middleman, an agent between the producer and the consumer.
Midriff, the diaphragm.
Mid'wifery, the art of a midwife, the nursing of a woman in childbirth.
Mien, expression of countenance, bearing.
Mignonette, an annual which bears a flower with a very sweet scent.
Migration, the act of passing from one region to another.
Mi'gratory, given to migrating.
Mikado, the Emperor of Japan.
Mildew, a parasitic fungus, blight.
Mileage, the number of miles traversed.
Militant, fighting.
Militarism, military despotism, a military spirit.
Military, belonging to the army.
Militate, to conflict, contend, fight.
Militia, a body of men trained to serve for home defence.
Milk-sop, an unmanly effeminate person.
Millboard, strong cardboard or paste-board.
Millenarian, one who believes in the millennium or the reign of Christ on earth for 1000 years.
Millennial, belonging to the millennium.
Millimetre, the thousandth part of a metre.
Millinery, the art of making and trimming hats and bonnets; articles made by milliners.
Millionaire, one who possesses at least a million pounds.
Mill-wright, a workman who constructs or repairs the machinery of mills.
Milt, the soft roe of a fish, the spleen.
Mime, a burlesque or farce; an actor in a farce.
Mimetic, imitative.
Mimicry, imitation, a burlesque representation.
Mimosa, a shrub with delicate, sensitive leaves, and bearing a beautiful yellow flower.
Minaret, a tall slender turret.
Min'atory, threatening, menacing.
Mincing, affected in speech or gait.
Mineral, a name given to all inorganic substances found in the earth, or to those substances which are neither animal nor vegetable.
Mineralogy, the science which treats of minerals.
Miniature, on a small scale, a minute portrait generally painted on ivory.
Minimum, the smallest quantity or number possible.
Minion, a fawning favourite; a size of type.
Minister, one who serves or ministers; a pastor, a clergyman; the head of a department in the government.
Ministe'rial, belonging to the ministry.
Ministrant, one who ministers.
Ministrative, serving.
Ministry, the act of serving; the duties or office of a clergyman; the body of ministers who govern the country.
Minor, less or inferior in size or importance; a person under the age of 21.
Minority, the lesser of two numbers into which the whole is divided; the condition of being under 21.
Minster, an abbey church, cathedral.
Minstrel, a bard.
Minstrelsy, the art of a minstrel.
Mint, a place where money is coined by government authority; a plant with fragrant leaves from which a sauce is prepared.
Minuend, the upper or larger number in a subtraction sum.
Minuet, a stately old-fashioned dance for two persons.
Minus, less, without; the sign of subtraction.
Min'ute, 60th part of an hour or of a degree; a brief note of some transaction.
Minu'te, exceedingly small.
Minutes, the records of business transacted at a meeting.
Minutiæ, minute details.
Miracle-play, an early form of the drama in which scriptural subjects are represented.
Miraculous, having the nature of a miracle.
Mira'ge, an inversion of images and other optical illusions due to certain atmospheric conditions.
Miriness, muddiness.
Mirror, a glass or polished surface which reflects images.
Misadventure, a mishap, accident.
Mis'anthrope, one who hates, despises, or distrusts his fellow men.
Misan'thropy, dislike of mankind.
Misapplication, an erroneous application.
Misapprehension, a misunderstanding.
Misappropriating, appropriating wrongfully, applying to wrong purposes.
Misbegotten, ill-begotten, unlawfully begotten.
Misbehaviour, ill behaviour, misconduct.
Misbelief, erroneous belief.
Miscalculation, an error in calculation.
Miscarriage, mismanagement, failure in the conduct of an affair, unsuccessful issue; the act of giving birth prematurely.
Miscellaneous, of various kinds, heterogeneous.
Mischief, harm, injury; the intention to injure; playful annoyance.
Mis'chievous, harmful, injurious; intending to injure; teasing.
Misconception, a misunderstanding.
Misconduct, improper or unbecoming conduct.
Misconstruction, a misinterpretation.
Miscon'strue, to interpret amiss, to put a wrong construction upon.
Miscount, to miscalculate.
Miscreant, an evil-doer, scoundrel.
Misdeed, an evil deed.
Misdemeanour, an offence against the law; an act of misconduct.
Misdirect, to direct wrongly.
Misdoer, an evil-doer.
Mise-en-scène, the putting on the stage, the staging.
Miser, one who loves money and hoards it, a penurious person.
Miserable, wretched, unhappy.
Misere're, the 51st Psalm, a penitential psalm.
Misery, wretchedness, unhappiness, misfortune.
Misfit, an article of dress which does not fit.
Misfortune, trouble, distress, ill-fortune.
Misgiving, fear, apprehension.
Misguided, mistaken, led astray.
Misinterpretation, an erroneous explanation, misconstruction.
Mislay, to lay aside and forget the place of.
Mismanagement, error in management, bad management.
Misnomer, a name wrongly or inappropriately applied.
Miso'gamist, one who hates marriage.
Miso'gynist, a woman-hater.
Misprint, a printer's error, an error in print.
Misprision, a mistake; neglect to recognize a criminal offence; failure to give information about the capital crime of another.
Mispronunciation, incorrect pronunciation.
Misquote, to quote wrongly or inaccurately.
Misrepresent, to represent unjustly or untruly.
Misrule, misgovernment, disorder.
Missal, a mass-book.
Misshapen, ill-shapen, deformed.
Missile, a weapon for hurling to a distance.
Missionary, one who goes on a mission, usually for the spread of religion.
Missive, something sent, a note.
Misspell, to spell incorrectly.

Mistakable, capable of being mistaken, easy to mistake.
Mistletoe, a parasitic plant bearing a wax-like berry, found on oaks and apple-trees.
Mistral, a violent north-west wind prevalent in the south of France.
Misunderstanding, a misconception causing estrangement.
Misuse, to use wrongly; to ill-use; to misapply.
Mite, a minute quantity; a minute insect.
Mitigation, an alleviation, amelioration.
Mitred, wearing a mitre or conical bishop's cap.
Mixture, a compound of various ingredients.
Mizzle, to drizzle.
Mnemonics, a system of aids to memory.
Moat, a ditch or trench originally for defensive purposes.
Mobile, able to be moved easily.
Mobilization, a gathering of troops in readiness for active service.
Mob-rule, the supremacy of the disorderly rabble.
Moc'casin, a shoe worn by North American Indians.
Mockery, derision; a travesty, an empty pretence.
Mock-heroic, a composition in which the heroic style is burlesqued.
Mock-turtle, a soup flavoured so as to resemble turtle soup.
Model, a pattern to be imitated; a miniature reproduction of some object; one who sits to artists as a model of the human form.
Modeller, one who shapes or fashions objects in clay.
Moderate, to check or restrain.
Moderator, one who restrains within due limits; the president of the Presbyterian Church Council.
Modern, belonging to the present day.
Modernness, state of being modern.
Modesty, humility, delicacy, purity.
Modicum, a small or scanty amount.
Modification, a slightly altered form, an alteration.
Modish, fashionable, up to date.
Modist, one who follows the fashions.
Modiste, a fashionable dressmaker.
Modulate, to vary the voice or the key.
Modus operandi, method of procedure.
Modus vivendi, an arrangement by which living together is rendered possible.
Mogul, the title of the former native rulers of the Mogul empire in Hindostan.
Mohair, a silky fabric made of the hair of the Angora goat.
Mohammedanism, adherence to the doctrines of Mohammed, the Mohammedan religion.
Moiety, a half, a share.
Moire, watered silk, any watered material.
Moire antique, a rich watered silk like those worn in former days.
Moisten, to make moist.
Molar, one of the back teeth, a grinder; pertaining to the mass or whole of a body.
Molasses, treacle.
Molecule, the smallest particle of a substance that may be looked upon as having separate existence.
Molest, to harass, annoy.
Mollify, to soften, appease.
Mollusc, one of a class of invertebrates including oysters and mussels.
Momentary, lasting only a moment.
Momentous, of serious import, critical.
Momentum, impetus, the combined effect of the mass and velocity of a body.
Monachism, monastic life, the system of monasticism.
Monarch, a supreme ruler, sovereign.
Monastery, an abode where monks live, a convent.
Monastic, belonging to monks.
Monasticism, the adoption of a monastic life; the system of life in monasteries.
Monetary, financial.
Money-market, business done on the Stock Exchange.
Money-order, a post-office order, a postal order.
Monger, a dealer, vendor.
Mongrel, an animal of mixed breed.
Monitor, one who admonishes, exhorts or warns; a senior scholar invested with limited authority and having special duties.
Monitory, admonitory, hortatory, in a warning manner.
Monitress, a senior pupil in a girls' school who has special duties and limited authority.
Monochord, a musical instrument with one string.
Monochrome, a painting in one colour.
Monocle, a single eyeglass.
Monody, a sad song or lament arranged for a single voice.
Monogamy, the custom of marrying one wife only.
Monogram, two or more letters interwoven in one design.
Monograph, a treatise on one special theme.
Monolith, a single block or pillar of stone.
Monologue, a soliloquy.
Monomaniac, a person who is mad on one point.
Monopoly, the exclusive right of selling, exclusive possession.
Monosyllable, a single syllable.
Monotheism, the belief in one God.
Monotint, a painting in one tint.
Monotone, an utterance in a uniform tone or pitch.
Monot'onous, lacking in variety, tedious.
Monot'ony, tedious uniformity.
Monseigneur, a French title, "my lord," used of Bishops.
Monsieur, Mr., a French title.
Monsoon, a wind which blows periodically in the Indian Ocean.
Monstrance, a sacred vessel in which the consecrated host is presented to the people for adoration in Roman Catholic churches.
Monstrosity, an abnormal being; something huge or enormous.
Monstrous, abnormal, unnatural; huge, enormous.
Mont-de-piété, a French pawn-shop.
Monumental, like a monument, memorable.
Moodiness, sullenness, gloominess.
Moon-calf, a deformed thing; a fool.
Moon-lighter, one of a band of lawless ruffians who were guilty of agrarian outrages by night in Ireland.
Moon-struck, crazy, mad.
Moor, one of mixed African and Arabian descent.
Mooring, anchors and cables by which a ship is held fast.
Moot, to bring forward or introduce a subject at a meeting, for discussion.
Mope, to pine, to be downcast.
Mopish, given to pining or moping.
Moraine, the debris of boulders and gravel brought down by a glacier.
Morale, moral tone, the degree of courageous endurance in danger.
Moralist, one who moralises or points a moral.
Morality, obedience to moral laws; virtue.
Morally, in a moral manner.
Morass, a marsh, quagmire.
Moravian, a member of a small Protestant sect.
Morbid, diseased, unhealthy-minded.
Morceau, a fragment, a small piece.
Mordacious, inclined to bite, sarcastic.
Mordant, biting, caustic.
Morganat'ic, a term applied to the marriage of a prince with one who is not of royal birth.
Morgue, a French name for a place where the bodies of those found dead are exposed to view for identification.
Moribund, in a dying condition, effete.
Mormon, one of a polygamous American religious sect.
Morning-star, a star which is visible early in the morning, especially the planet Venus; a cruel mediæval weapon.
Morocco, a fine grained leather made of goat-skin.
Morose, surly.
Morphia, a narcotic drug obtained from opium.
Morphology, the science which treats of the forms of organic life.
Morsel, a little bit.
Mortality, the state of being mortal or liable to death; the death-rate.
Mortally, fatally, or in a deadly manner.
Mortar, cement for binding stones; a vessel in which ingredients are pounded with a pestle; a kind of cannon.
Mortar-board, a mason's board for holding mortar; a square college cap.
Mortgage, to pledge lands or buildings as security for money lent.
Mortification, the process of becoming gangrened; annoyance, humiliation.
Mortise, to join boards together by means of a projecting wedge on one, and a corresponding aperture on the other, to dovetail.
Mortuary, a chamber where the bodies of the dead are placed.
Mosaics, artistic designs or pictures wrought in inlaid stone or glass work.
Moslem, Mohammedan.
Mosque, a Mohammedan temple.
Mosquito, a kind of gnat with a poisonous bite.
Moss-trooper, a raider who infested the bogs on the borders of England and Scotland.
Mot, a witty saying, an epigram.
Mote, a particle of dust.
Motet or motett, a musical composition usually dealing with a sacred subject.
Mother-of-pearl, the pearly substance which lines the shell of the pearl-oyster.
Mother Church, a Church which has been instrumental in establishing daughter Churches.
Mother-tongue, one's native language.
Mother-wit, natural inborn wit, common sense.
Motif, the leading theme of a musical or dramatic composition.
Motion, the act of moving; a proposal before a meeting.
Motive, that which moves or actuates.
Motivity, the ability to produce motion; capacity for movement.
Motley, a jester's parti-coloured dress; heterogeneous.
Motor, a machine which produces motion.
Motto, a short pithy phrase, the characteristic phrase attached to a coat of arms; the verse in a Christmas cracker.
Moujik, see mujik.
Mould, soil or earth; the hollow case in which liquid or soft substances take their shape before they are hardened.
Moulder, to crumble away; decay.
Mouldiness, the state of being decayed or mildewed.
Moult, to cast or shed the feathers.
Mound, the orb surmounted by a cross which forms part of the regalia.
Mountain-dew, whisky.
Mountaineer, one who climbs mountains, one who dwells on the mountains.
Mountebank, a quack, charlatan.
Mourn, to lament, grieve.
Moustache, the hair on the upper lip.
Movable, able to be moved.
Mucilage, a solution of gum.
Mucus, a viscous fluid secreted by the mucous membrane.
Muezzin, one who at stated times calls the Mohammedans to prayer.
Muffettee, a woollen cuff for the wrist.
Mufti or muftee, civilian dress as opposed to military costume.
Mujik or moujik, a Russian peasant.
Mulatto, one who is of mixed race, having one white and one black parent.
Mulct, to punish by a fine.
Muleteer, a mule-driver.
Mulish, like a mule, stubborn.
Mullion, a vertical division between two panes of a window.
Multifarious, diversified, of manifold variety.
Multiform, having many forms.
Multiple, a number which contains another number an exact number of times.
Multiplication, the process of adding a number to itself; repetition; reproduction; increase.
Multiplicity, manifold repetition.
Multitudinous, containing a vast number.
Multum in parvo, a great deal in a small compass, a compendium.
Mummer, a masquerader; an actor.
Mummery, masquerading, buffoonery, empty show.
Mummy, a dead body which has been embalmed.
Mumps, a disease causing a swelling of the glands of the neck.
Mundane, earthly, terrestrial.
Muni'cipal, belonging to a free town or municipality.
Municipality, a town or district which has the right of self-government.
Munificence, liberality on a large and generous scale.
Muniment, means of defence; charter or title-deeds.
Munitions, military stores.
Mural, belonging to a wall.
Murderous, bloodthirsty, cruel.
Murmur, a low indistinct sound; a complaint.
Murrain, a foot and mouth disease which attacks cattle.
Murrey, mulberry colour.
Muscatel, a grape with a choice flavour.
Muscle, fibrous tissue which, by contracting, produces bodily movements.
Muscovite, belonging to Moscow, Russian.
Muscular, belonging to the muscles, having strong muscles.
Muse, to ponder, meditate; one of the Nine Muses; poetic inspiration.
Museum, a building containing a classified collection of antiquities or of artistic or scientific objects of interest.
Musically, in a musical or harmonious manner.
Musician, one skilled in music.
Musing, pondering, meditating.
Musketry, the practice of firing with hand guns.
Muslin, a thin, gauzy, cotton material.
Mussulman, a Mohammedan.
Mustard, a pungent condiment prepared from the seed of a plant.
Muster, to gather together, collect.
Mustiness, mouldiness, staleness.
Mutability, liability to change.
Mutation, the process of changing.
Mutatis mutandis, the necessary alterations having been made.
Mute, silent; a dumb man; an attendant at a funeral; a small clip used to deaden the sound of stringed instruments; a non-continuant consonant sound.
Mutilate, to disfigure, maim, mangle.
Mutineer, one who rebels against constituted authority.
Mutinous, rebellious.
Mutiny, a rebellion or revolt against recognised authority.

Mutual, reciprocal.
Muzzle, the mouth and nose of a dog; a cage of wire or leather fastened on to the mouth of a dog to prevent its biting; the mouth of a gun.
Muzzy, confused or dazed through drink.
Mynheer, a Dutch title equivalent to Mr.
Myology, the science which treats of the muscles.
Myope, one who is short-sighted.
Myopia, near sight or short sightedness.
Myriad, ten thousand, a countless number.
Myr'midon, one who carries out another's orders without scruple or hesitation.
Myrrh, an aromatic gum obtained from an Arabian shrub.
Myrtle, a flowering evergreen shrub with glossy leaves and a sweet scent.
Mysterious, full of mystery.
Mystery, something strange and secret or beyond comprehension; an early form of the drama dealing with sacred subjects.
Mystical, belonging to a sacred mystery.
Mysticism, a tendency to seek direct communion with God by ecstatic contemplation.
Mystify, to puzzle, confuse.
Myth, a legend dealing with an early period of the life of a nation; a fictitious story.
Mythical, fabulous, fictitious.
Mythology, the myths of a people; the study and investigation of myths.

Nabob, a governor under the Mogul Empire in India; a very wealthy man.
Nacre, mother-of-pearl.
Nadir, the point of the celestial sphere exactly opposite the zenith.
Naiad, a water nymph.
Naïf m., naïve f., unaffected, artless.
Naïveté, simplicity of manner, artlessness.
Namby-pamby, silly; foolishly sentimental.
Namesake, one who is named after another.
Nankeen, a cotton cloth of a yellowish colour.
Napery, household linen.
Naphtha, an inflammable liquid.
Napkin, a cloth used at table to wipe the hands.
Narcissus, a spring flower.
Narcotic, a drug which produces torpor.
Nard, an aromatic plant.
Narghile, a tobacco-pipe used in the East.
Narra'tion, the act of telling or writing.
Nar'rative, an account of an event; a story.
Narrow-minded, not liberal in one's views.
Narwhal, a member of the whale family.
Nasal, belonging to the nose; sounded through the nose.
Nascent, coming into existence; growing.
Nastiness, filthiness, obscenity; a display of ill-temper.
Nasturtium, a genus of plants.
Natal, belonging to one's birth.
Natation, the act of swimming.
Natatorial, adapted to swimming.
National, belonging to a nation; public; general.
Nationalist, an advocate of national independence.
Nativity, birth; time, place, etc., of birth.
Nattiness, neatness, trimness.
Natural, produced by nature; unaffected; an idiot.
Naturalist, a student of natural history.
Naughtily, wickedly; mischievously.
Nausea, sickness of the stomach; disgust.
Nauseously, loathsomely.
Nautch-girl, an Indian dancing-girl.
Nautical, belonging to ships or sailors.
Nautilus, a mollusc of southern seas.
Nave, the centre part of a church; the hub of a wheel.
Navel, the centre of the abdomen.
Navigable, admitting of the passage of ships.
Navigation, the art of managing a ship.
Navvy, a labourer engaged in digging, etc.
Navy, the warships of a nation; a fleet.
Nazarite, a Jew vowed to an austere life.
Neapolitan, belonging to Naples.
Neap-tides, the lowest tides.
Neat-herd, a cow-herd.
Nebula (pl. nebulæ), a misty patch of light in the heavens; a mistiness in the eye; a fine cloud as of dust.
Nebular, akin to nebulæ.
Nebulous, misty, cloudy.
Necessary, essential; needful; inevitable.
Necessitate, to make necessary; to force.
Necessitous, poverty-stricken; in need.
Necklace, a string of beads, etc., worn on the neck.
Necrology, a list or register of deaths; obituary records.
Necromancy, the art of revealing future events by communication with the dead.
Necromantic, relating to necromancy.
Necropolis, a cemetery.
Nectar, the beverage of the gods; the honey of plants.
Née, born; a term denoting a married woman's maiden name.
Neediness, want, poverty.
Needle-gun, a breech-loading rifle fired by the impact of a needle.
Needlessness, unnecessariness.
Ne'er-do-well, a good-for-nothing fellow.
Nefarious, wicked, abominable.
Negation, denial.
Negative, a word implying denial as "not"; a developed photograph.
Neglect, to omit by carelessness; to slight.
Negligence, an act of neglect; carelessness.
Negociate or negotiate, to treat with, to bargain.
Negotiation, the act of negotiating.
Negress, a black woman.
Negus, a spiced drink of wine, etc.
Neighbour, one who lives near to another.
Nem. con., no one dissenting.
Nem'esis, the goddess of vengeance or ultimate justice.
Neology, the introduction of new words or doctrines.
Neophyte, a recent convert.
Neoterism, the introduction of new words or expressions.
Nepenthe, a drug that drives away pain.
Nephew, the son of a brother or sister.
Nepotism, favouritism to relatives.
Nerveless, without strength; lacking will.
Nervous, relating to the nerves; timid.
Nescience, ignorance.
Nest-egg, an egg left in the nest to keep the hen from forsaking it; something laid by as a beginning.
Net or nett, allowing of no deduction; clear (profit).
Nethermost, lowest.
Neuralgia, nerve pain.
Neuri'tis, inflammation of a nerve.
Neurot'ic, acting on the nerves; liable to nerve complaints.
Neutrality, the state of giving no support to either side.
Neutralize, to render neutral, and of no effect.
Neutral-tint, a dull grayish tint.
Newsmonger, one who circulates news.
Niaiserie, foolishness; nonsense.
Niblick, a golf-club with an iron head.
Nicety, accuracy; delicate management.
Niche, a recess for a statue, etc.
Nickel, a whitish metal.
Nicotine, a poisonous alkaloid in tobacco.
Niece, the daughter of a brother or sister.
Niggardliness, avarice, stinginess.
Nightingale, a bird that sings at night.
Ni'hilism, nothingness; the principles of the Nihilists.
Nihilist, a member of a secret Russian society.
Nimbleness, quickness, activity.
Nimbus, a halo; a rain-cloud.
Nimrod, a great hunter.
Nincompoop, a fool, a simpleton.
Niobe (ni'-o-be), a grief-stricken woman.
Nirva'na, the final state of absolute repose as taught by Buddhism.
Nisi prius, a court for the trial of civil cases.
Nitre, saltpetre or nitrate of potash.
Nitrogen, a gas which forms nearly four-fifths of the atmosphere.
Nitro'genous, containing nitrogen.
Niveous, snowy; like snow.
Nobility, persons of high rank; dignity; greatness of character.
Nocturnal, belonging to the night.
Nodule, a small lump.
Noetic, pertaining to the intellect.
Noggin, a small mug; a measure equal to a gill.
Noisome, noxious, unwholesome, offensive.
Nolens volens, whether you will or no; in any case.
Nomad, one of a wandering tribe.
Nom de plume, a name assumed by an author.
No'menclature, the system of names used in any science.
Nominal, not real, existing merely in name.
Nominate, to appoint; to suggest as a candidate.
Nominee, a person nominated.
Non-acceptance, refusal to receive or agree to.
Nonage, minority, childhood.
Nonagenarian, a person ninety years old.
Nonce, the present occasion.
Nonchalance, indifference, carelessness.
Nonconformist, one who refuses to conform to the established Church.
Nondescript, difficult to describe; odd.
Nonentity, non-existence; a person of no importance whatever.
Nonesuch, that which is unequalled.
Nonjuring, not swearing allegiance.
Nonpareil, of unequalled excellence; a small printing type.
Nonplus, to confound, to puzzle.
Nonsensical, meaningless, foolish.
Non-seq'uitur, an erroneous conclusion.
Nonsuit, the abandonment of a lawsuit.
Noontide, mid-day.
Noose, a running knot which ties the tighter the more it is drawn.
Norm, a rule; a model.
Normal, according to rule, usual, regular.
Norse, belonging to Scandinavia.
Northern lights, the aurora-borealis.
North-seeking pole, the end of a magnet that points to the north.
Norwegian, a native of Norway.
Nostalgia, home-sickness.
Nostrils, the apertures of the nose.
Nostrum, a patent medicine.
Nota bene, mark well.
Notability, the quality of being remarkable; a well-known person.
Notary, a legal officer who attests contracts, etc.
Noticeable, meriting or likely to attract notice.
Notification, the act of making known.
Notional, ideal; imaginary.
Notoriety, public knowledge or exposure; doubtful fame; ill-repute.
Notorious, publicly known (usually in a bad sense).
Nought, nothing.
Nourishment, food; sustenance.
Nous, the intellect; common sense.
Novelist, a writer of novels.
Novice, a beginner; one in a religious house who has not yet taken the vow.
Novitiate, the time of being a novice.
Novus homo, one who has risen in the world.
Nowhere, not in any place.
Noxious, harmful, injurious.
Nuance, a gradation of hue or tint.
Nubile, marriageable.
Nucleus, a central part round which matter gathers; the body of a comet.
Nudity, nakedness.
Nu'gatory, trifling; futile.
Nuisance, something that annoys or offends.
Nullah, a mountainous watercourse in the East Indies.
Null and void, of no legal validity; invalid.
Nullify, to annul; to make void.
Nullity, without validity; nonentity.
Numbness, the state of being without sensation.
Numeral, expressing a number; a figure.
Numeration, the art of numbering.
Numer'ical, denoting number.
Numismatic, relating to coins or medals.
Numskull, a dunce, a blockhead.
Nuncio, an envoy from the Pope.
Nunnery, a religious house for women.
Nuptials, a marriage.
Nurseryman, a man who rears plants for sale.
Nurture, to educate; to bring up; the act of nourishing, education.
Nutriment, nourishment; food.
Nutri'tious, nourishing.
Nu'tritive, nourishing.
Nymph, a youthful goddess of the woods and waters, etc.

Oaf, a changeling; a dolt.
Oakum, old ropes unravelled.
Oarsman, one who pulls at an oar; a boating man.
Oa'sis, a fertile spot in the midst of a desert.
Oasthouse, a building where hops are dried.
Oaten, made of oats.
Oath, a solemn declaration with an appeal to God to witness its truth; an imprecation.
Obbligato, a free musical accompaniment.
Ob'durate, hardened; stubborn.
Obedience, submission to authority.
Obeisance, a bow or act of reverence.
Obelisk, a lofty four-sided pillar tapering as it rises.
Obese, fat; corpulent.
Obesity, extreme fatness.
Obey, to show obedience to.
Obfuscate, to darken; to bewilder.
Obit, a death, the anniversary of a death.
Oblit, a Latin word meaning "he (or she) died."
Obiter dictum, a casual remark.
Obituary, relating to the death of a person.
Objectionable, liable to be opposed or disapproved of; unpleasant.
Objective, relating to an object; external.
Objuration, a binding by oath.
Objurgation, reproof; censure.
Oblate, flattened at the poles.
Oblation, an offering; a sacrifice.
Obligation, the binding power of a vow or contract; indebtedness for a favour.
Ob'ligatory, imposing an obligation; binding.
Obliging, civil, complaisant.
Oblique, not perpendicular or horizontal, inclined; wanting in directness.
Obliquity, obliqueness; wrong conduct.
Obliteration, effacement; extinction.
Oblivion, forgetfulness; the state of being lost to memory; complete pardon.
Ob'loquy, censorious speech; disgrace; slander.
Obnoxious, disagreeable; offensive.
Oboe, a wind instrument.
Obscene, offensive; indecent; ill-omened.
Obscenity, the quality of being obscene.
Obscu'rantist, an opponent of the progress of knowledge.
Obscurity, darkness; unintelligibleness; lowly condition.
Obsecrate, to entreat, to implore.
Obsequies, funeral rites.
Obsequious, compliant; servilely submissive.

Observance, attention; the performance of a religious duty.
Observation, the act of observing; a remark.
Observatory, a place for astronomical observations.
Obsession, the state of being assailed by an evil spirit.
Obsolescent, becoming obsolete or out of date.
Obsolete, gone out of use.
Obstacle, a hindrance, an obstruction.
Obstetric, belonging to midwifery.
Obstinacy, stubbornness; persistency.
Obstreperous, loud, clamorous, turbulent.
Obstruction, something which blocks the way.
Obtainable, that may be procured.
Obtrude, to push or be pushed where one is not wanted.
Obtrusive, inclined to obtrude.
Obtuse, not pointed; not acute; dull, stupid.
Obverse, the face or head of a coin, or medal.
Obviate, to avoid, to prevent, to remove.
Obvious, evident; easily discovered.
Occasional, happening at intervals; incidental; befitting a special occasion.
Occident, the west.
Occiput, the hinder part of the head.
Occlude, to shut up; to absorb.
Occlusion, the act of occluding.
Occult, secret; hidden; unknown.
Occultation, the state of being concealed.
Occupant, one who has possession.
Occupier, an occupant.
Occur, to happen; to come to one's mind.
Occurrence, an event; something that occurs.
Oceanic, belonging to the ocean.
Ochlocracy, government by the common people.
Ochre, clay usually yellow, used as a pigment.
Octagonal, having eight sides and angles.
Octave, consisting of eight; an interval in music; the week after a Saint's day.
Octavo, a book in which a sheet is folded into eight leaves.
Octogenarian, a person eighty years old.
Oc'topus, a species of cuttle-fish.
Octoroon, the child of a quadroon and a white.
Octrol, a tax on goods as they are brought through the gates of a city.
Ocular, depending on the eye; known by the eye.
Oculist, an eye-specialist.
Odalisk, a female slave in a Turkish harem.
Oddfellow, a member of a secret, mutual society.
Oddity, a strange person or thing; singularity.
Oddment, a thing left over.
Odious, hateful, detestable; causing hate.
Odium, hatred, the quality of provoking hate.
Odorif'erous, fragrant, perfumed.
Odorous, having a sweet scent.
Odour, scent, fragrance; repute.
Offal, waste; carrion; refuse; dung.
Offence, crime; injury; displeasure; attack.
Offensively, disagreeably; by way of attack.
Offertory, alms collected in church.
Officialism, exaggerated official routine.
Official receiver, an official who examines bankrupts.
Officiate, to discharge an office; to preside.
Officious, forward in assisting; interfering.
Offing, the horizon at sea.
Offscouring, matter rubbed off in cleaning; refuse.
Offspring, children; production of any kind.
Ogee, a moulding with an outward and an inward curve, like a modified S.
Ogham, ancient Irish writing.
Ogre, a monster who figures in fairy tales.
Ointment, a fatty substance applied as a salve.
Olea'ginous, oily, unctuous.
Oleograph, an imitation of an oil painting.
Olfactory, relating to the sense of smell.
Oligarchy, a form of government which places the supreme power in the hands of a few.
Olive-branch, the branch of an olive-tree; the emblem of peace.
Olla-podri'da, a sort of hash made in Spain; a curious mixture.
Olympiad, the interval of four years between two celebrations of the Olympic games, used in reckoning time in ancient Greece.
Omega, the last letter of the Greek alphabet.
Omelet, a kind of pancake made with eggs.
Omen, a sign of a coming event; a prognostication.
Ominous, foreshowing evil; inauspicious.
Omission, neglect to do something; a leaving out.
Omnibus, a large passenger vehicle.
Omnip'otence, almighty power; unlimited power.
Omnipresent, present in every place at the same time.
Omniscience, boundless knowledge.
Omnium-gatherum, a mixed collection of people or things.
Omniv'orous, all-devouring.
Oneness, unity; the quality of being one.
Onerary, fitted for carrying burdens.
Onerous, burdensome; oppressive.
Onion, a plant and its edible bulbous root.
Onomatopœia, the forming of words in imitation of sounds, as in crunch, patter.
Ontology, a branch of metaphysics dealing with the idea of existence.
Onus, a load of responsibility; the burden.
Onyx, a gem.
Oolite, a variety of limestone.
Ooze, to pass through gradually; to flow slowly.
Opacity, want of transparency.
Opacous, obscure, dull.
Opal, a precious stone of varying hue.
Opalescent, resembling the opal in colour, like the northern horizon on summer evenings.
Opaque, not transparent; dark.
Op'era-bouffe (pl. op'eras-bouffes), comic opera.
Opera-cloak, a lady's evening cloak.
Operate, to act; to produce an effect; to perform an operation upon a person; to work a machine.
Operatic, belonging to the opera.
Op'erative, having the power of acting; effective; a workman.
Operator, one who operates.
Operetta, a short, light, musical drama.
Ophthalmia, a disease of the eye-lids.
O'piate, a medicine that causes sleep.
Opine, to think, to judge.
Opinion, mental view, judgment.
Opinionative, having undue faith in one's opinion.
Opium, a narcotic drug.
Oppidan, a student at Eton College boarded in a house.
Oppo'nent, an antagonist; an adversary.
Opportune, seasonable, convenient, occurring at a convenient time.
Opportunist, one who waits upon opportunities to turn them to his own advantage.
Opposite, placed in front; adverse, contrary.
Opposition, position facing something; resistance; a party opposed to another.
Oppression, unjust treatment; severity; lassitude.
Opprobrious, reproachful; disgraceful.
Opprobrium, scurrility; disgrace.
Oppugn, to oppose, to resist.
Optic, relating to the sense of sight.
Optician, a dealer in optical instruments.
Optimism, the doctrine that everything in nature is ordered for the best; persistent good nature; hopefulness.
Optional, left to one's own choice.
Opulence, wealth, affluence.
Opulent, wealthy, affluent.
Opuscule, a small work.
Oracle, the answer given by a god; the god himself, or the place where he was consulted; a wise person.
Oracular, relating to oracles; seemingly wise.
Oral, uttered, not written.
Orangeman, a member of an Irish Protestant Society.
Oration, a public speech delivered with care.
Oratorical, befitting an orator; rhetorical.
Or'atory, eloquence; a place of worship.
Orb, a circle; a sphere; a celestial body; the eye.
Orbit, the line described by the revolution of a planet; the hollow containing the eye.
Orchard, a garden of fruit-trees.
Orchestral, relating to an orchestra or body of musicians.
Orchestration, the arrangement of music for an orchestra.
Ordain, to appoint; to decree; to admit to holy orders.
Ordeal, a severe trial or test.
Orderliness, regularity.
Orderly, methodical, regular; a soldier employed as an officer's messenger or servant.
Ordinance, a law, a rule; a rite.
Ordinarily, according to custom.
Ordination, the act of ordaining.
Ordnance, cannon, guns.
Ordnance survey, the official construction of plans and maps of the United Kingdom.
Ordure, dung, filth.
Ore, metal as it is taken from the mine.
Organ'ic, belonging to organs or parts performing some function.
Organism, an organic structure, anything possessing organic life.
Organization, the act of arranging.
Orgasm, excessive excitement.
Orgy (pl. orgies), a drunken revel.
Oriel window, a projecting window.
Orient, the East; bright.
Oriental, belonging to the East.
Orientation, the eastward position of the chancel of a church; the determination of the eastern point by a compass.
Orifice, an opening.
Oriflamme, the ancient royal standard of France.
Origin, the beginning or source of anything.
Originally, in the beginning, at first.
Originator, one who begins or gives origin to anything.
Or'ison, a prayer, a supplication.
Ornamental, serving to ornament or adorn.
Ornate, decorated; elaborately finished.
Ornithology, the science of birds.
Orphan, a child bereft of one or both parents.
Orphanage, a home for orphans.
Orrery, a structural device which shows the motions of the planets.
Orthodox, holding recognized doctrines or opinions; strictly correct.
Orthography, the art of spelling and writing correctly.
Orts, refuse; that which remains.
Oscillation, a moving to and fro like a pendulum.
Osculation, the act of kissing; the act of touching like two curves.
Osiery, a place where osiers or willows are grown.
Osseous, bony; consisting of bone.
Ossification, the process of changing into a bony substance.
Ostensible, apparent; seeming, not real.
Ostentation, outward show; ambitious display.
Ostentatious, fond of show; showy.
Ostracism, banishment from ancient Athens.
Ostrich, the largest living bird.
Otiose, idle, without employment.
Otology, the study of the ear.
Ottoman, relating to the Turks; a kind of couch.
Oust, to expel; to dislodge.
Outbid, to bid higher than another.
Outcrop, the rising of a layer of rock to the surface.
Outfitter, a provider of outfits.
Out-herod, to surpass in cruelty or wickedness.
Outlander, a foreigner.
Outlaw, one excluded from the benefit of the law; a robber.
Outlawry, the act of outlawing a man.
Outmanœuvre, to gain advantage in manœuvring; to out-wit.
Out-put, the produce of a factory or mine.
Out'rage, unprovoked violence; injury; insult.
Outrance, the final extremity.
Outré, exaggerated; singular.
Outspan, to unyoke oxen from a waggon.
Outwit, to get the better of by stratagem.
Outwork, an outer part of a fortification.
Ovation, an enthusiastic public reception.
Overalls, loose trousers worn over others.
Overbearing, arrogant, imperious.
Overdue, not paid or arrived at the proper time.
Overestimate, to place too high a value on.
Overhaul, to inspect closely; to examine.
Overreach, to reach too far; to deceive.
Overseer, a superintendent.
Oversight, superintendence; a mistake.
Overt, open, public; apparent.
Overture, an introductory piece of music; a proposal.
Overweening, arrogant, vain.
Overwork, to work too hard.
Overwrought, worked too much; over-excited.
Oviform, having the shape of an egg.
Ovum (pl. ova), an egg.
Owlet, a small owl.
Oxonian, a member of the University of Oxford.
Oxygen, a gas forming part of the atmosphere.
Oyer, a hearing in a court of law.
Oyez, the cry of a public crier or officer of a court of law before he makes his proclamation.
Oyster-patty, a small pie of oysters.
Ozone, a kind of oxygen, forming a very small part of the atmosphere.

Pabulum, food for the mind or body.
Pace, a step; gait; degree of speed; to accompany competitors in a race to set the speed.
Pachydermatous, thick-skinned.
Pacific, peacemaking, mild, appeasing.
Pacification, the act of making peace.
Pacify, to appease, to quiet.
Package, a bundle; something packed up.
Pack-ice, large floating masses of ice collected together.
Pack-saddle, a saddle on which burdens are laid.
Pact, a contract; a covenant.
Paddle-box, the case of a steamer's paddle-wheel.
Paddock, a small grassy enclosure; a toad.
Paddy, rice in the husk; an Irishman.
Pa'dishah, a title of the Sultan of Turkey and Persia.
Padre, father, a term applied to a priest in some lands.
Pæan, a song of triumph.
Paganism, heathenism.
Pa'geantry, pomp; showy display.
Pagoda, a Hindu temple or idol; an Indian coin.
Paillasse, an under-mattress.
Painstaking, laborious; taking great care.
Pair-royal, three cards of the same kind in some games.
Pal, a chum, a partner.
Palace, the residence of a sovereign or bishop.
Paladin, a knight-errant, a champion.
Palæography, an ancient mode of writing; the art of reading ancient manuscripts.
Palæolithic, relating to the earlier stone age.
Palæontology, the science of fossil remains.
Palanquin, an Eastern carriage borne on the shoulders of men.

Palatable, pleasing to the taste.
Palate, the roof of the mouth; the sense of taste.
Palatial, belonging to or like a palace.
Palat'inate, the area governed by a count-palatine.
Palat'ine, one invested with royal rights.
Pala'ver, idle chatter; a conference; to flatter.
Pales'tra, a place for wrestling, etc.
Palestrian, relating to wrestling.
Pal'ette, a light board on which a painter mixes his colours.
Palfrey, a lady's saddle-horse.
Pali, the sacred language of the Buddhists.
Pal'impsest, parchment from which the writing has been erased and again written on.
Palindrome, a word or sentence which is the same read backwards or forwards.
Palisade, a protective fence of stakes.
Pall-bearer, one who walks beside the coffin at a funeral and formerly held the corners of the pall.
Palladium, a statue of Pallas; a defence; a metal.
Pallet, a small bed.
Palliate, to excuse; to lessen guilt; to alleviate.
Palliative, extenuating; mitigating.
Pallid, pale, sickly-looking.
Pallor, paleness.
Palmer, a pilgrim come back from the Holy Land.
Palmistry, the telling of fortunes by the hand.
Palm Sunday, the Sunday before Easter.
Palpable, perceptible by the touch; plain.
Palpitation, a violent throbbing of the heart.
Palsy, paralysis.
Paltriness, meanness; worthlessness.
Palu'dal, marshy.
Pampas, the treeless plains of South America.
Pamper, to glut; to overfeed.
Pamphleteer, a writer of pamphlets.
Panace'a, a universal remedy.
Pan-Anglican, representing all those holding the doctrines of the Anglican Church
Pandect, a treatise that comprehends the whole of a science.
Pandemonium, the abode of devils; an unruly gathering.
Panegyr'ic, a laudatory speech or writing.
Panel, a board enclosed in a frame; a roll containing the names of those summoned to serve on a jury.
Panelling, work done in panels; a structure of panels.
Panic, sudden fear; great fright.
Pannage, food for swine in the forests.
Pannel, a kind of rustic saddle.
Pannier, a basket thrown over a horse's back
Panoply, complete armour.
Panopticon, a kind of prison in which the cells are all visible from one point; an exhibition room.
Panorama, an extensive view represented by a series of pictures.
Pantaloons, trousers; clowns in a pantomime.
Pantechnicon, a place for the storing of furniture, or for the sale of manufactured articles of every kind.
Pantheism, the doctrine that God and the universe are one.
Pantheon, a temple of all the gods.
Pantile, an earthenware tile of an ogee shape.
Pantisoc'racy, a community in which all are equal.
Pantol'ogist, a writer on general knowledge.
Pantomime, dumb show; a Christmas theatrical entertainment.
Pantomimic, relating to pantomime.
Panton, a horseshoe of a special kind.
Panurgy, ability to perform all kinds of work.
Papacy, the office and authority of the Pope.
Paper-money, bank-notes, etc.
Papier-mâché, the pulp of paper made into various articles and japanned.
Papist, a Roman Catholic.
Papoose, a North American Indian baby.
Papulous, spotty, pimply.
Papy'rus, an Egyptian plant from which paper was made in ancient times.
Par, state of equality; equal value.
Parable, an allegory told to point a moral.
Parab'ola, a geometrical curve; the curve made by a projectile.
Parachute, a sort of umbrella by aid of which a descent is made from a balloon.
Paraclete, one who assists; the Comforter.
Paradigm, an example; an example of inflection.
Paradox, a statement which, though appearing contradictory, is nevertheless true.
Paradoxical, having the nature of a paradox.
Paraffin, a fatty substance obtained from shale and coal.
Paragon, a model; a pattern of perfection.
Paragraph, a passage in a book or writing begun on a fresh line.
Parallax, a seeming change in the position of anything, caused by the observer changing his position.
Parallel, extended in the same direction and preserving the same distance.
Paral'ogism, false reasoning.
Paralyse, to strike with paralysis; to render powerless.
Paralysis, loss of power in any part of the body.
Paralytic, one affected with paralysis; pertaining to paralysis.
Paramount, above all the rest; chief.
Paramour, a lover; a mistress.
Parapet, a wall breast-high.
Paraphernalia, articles of adornment, etc.
Paraphrase, to express the meaning of a passage in other words.
Parasite, a hanger-on; a plant or animal which lives upon another.
Parasitic, resembling a parasite; fawning.
Parasol, a small umbrella for the sun.
Parcæ, the three Fates.
Parchment, skins prepared for writing on.
Pard, a leopard or panther.
Parentage, extraction, birth.
Paren'thesis (pl. parentheses), a clause inserted in a sentence without being necessary to its completeness.
Parenthetical, pertaining to a parenthesis.
Par excellence, above all, pre-eminently.
Pariah, an outcast; one of the lowest orders of the Hindus.
Pari'etal, belonging to the sides or walls.
Pari passu, with equal steps.
Parishioner, one belonging to a parish.
Parisienne, a female native of Paris.
Parity, equality; resemblance.
Parlance, conversation; manner of speech.
Parliamentary, pertaining to parliament.
Parlour, a sitting-room for common use.
Parnassian, relating to Parnassus, a mountain sacred to the Muses.
Parochial, belonging to a parish.
Parody, a comic imitation of a poem, etc.
Parole, word of honour; a password.
Paroquet, a small parrot.
Paroxysm, a sudden fit of pain or anger.
Par'quetry, inlaid woodwork used for flooring.
Parricide, the murder or murderer of a parent.
Parry, to turn aside, to evade.
Parsimonious, frugal, sparing, stingy.
Parsonage, the residence of a parish minister.
Parterre, flower-beds with paths between.
Par'thenon, an Athenian temple.
Parthian arrow, a parting shot.
Partiality, a preference; a tendency to favour without reason.
Participation, a sharing in common.
Particle, a small part; an uninflected word.
Particoloured, of various colours.
Particularly, especially.
Parti-pris, having one's mind made up.
Partisan, an adherent of a party; a kind of pike.
Partition, the act of separating; a division.
Partitive, separating; signifying a part.
Partnership, joint interest; the union of two or more persons in business.
Part-song, a song for several voices.
Parturition, the bringing forth of young.
Party-spirit, the spirit that binds a party; intolerance.
Parvenu, one lately risen from obscurity.
Paschal, relating to the passover or to Easter.
Pasha, a Turkish governor or military officer.
Pashalic, the jurisdiction of a pasha.
Pasquinade, a lampoon, a satire.
Pass-book, a book in which entries are made of goods bought on credit; a book kept by each customer of a bank.
Passé, passée, no longer in one's youth.
Passe-partout, a master-key.
Passenger, a traveller on a boat, railway, etc.
Passible, capable of feeling pain or pleasure.
Passim, in many places; here and there.
Passing-bell, a bell tolled for a death.
Passion, violent emotion; great suffering.
Passionate, moved by passion; easily angered.
Passionists, a religious order.
Passive, unresisting; suffering, not acting.
Passive resister, one who declined to pay rates for the support of voluntary schools after the Education Act of 1903.
Passover, a Jewish festival.
Paste and scissors, literary work lacking originality; cutting and pasting extracts.
Pastel, a dye; a coloured crayon.
Pastern, a part of a horse's foot.
Pastor, a shepherd; a clergyman.
Pastoral, belonging to a pastor; rural; pertaining to a bishop.
Pastry, pies, tarts, etc.
Pasturage, lands grazed by cattle.
Pasty, a small pie; resembling paste.
Patchou'li, an Eastern plant, and the perfume obtained from it.
Patefaction, the act of making manifest.
Patella, the knee-cap; a little dish.
Patentee, one who has taken out a patent.
Paterfamilias, the father of a family.
Paternal, fatherly; hereditary.
Paternoster, the Lord's Prayer.
Pathetic, moving, containing pathos.
Patho'geny, the study of the development of disease.
Pathol'ogy, the study of the causes, symptoms, and effects of diseases.
Pathos, that which excites pity or sympathy.
Patience, the power of enduring, forbearance.
Patois, a dialect.
Patriarch, the head of a family; a very old man.
Patrician, a nobleman.
Patrimony, a heritage from one's ancestors.
Patriotic, animated by a love of country.
Patristic, relating to the fathers of the Christian Church.
Patrol', the guard that goes the round of a camp at night.
Patronage, support; protection; the right of appointing to a living.
Patronizing, having the air of bestowing a favour.
Patronymic, a name derived from an ancestor.
Patten, a wooden shoe raised high on an iron ring to walk in mud.
Pattern, a model for copying; an example.
Paucity, smallness of number or quantity.
Pauperism, the state of living on charity.
Pause, a short stop in action, speech, etc.
Pavement, a roadway paved with stone, etc.
Pavilion, a tent; a building having a tent-shaped roof.
Pavior, one occupied in laying pavements.
Pav'onine, resembling a peacock's tail; belonging to a peacock.
Pawl, a short piece of metal acting as a catch to a ratchet wheel, so as to allow it to move in one direction only.
Pax, a tablet with a sacred picture on it, and kissed after Mass.
Paynim, a heathen, a Moor.
Peaceably, without disturbance.
Pea-jacket, a short woollen coat worn by seamen.
Pearlash, a crude carbonate of potash.
Pearliness, the quality of resembling pearls.
Peasantry, peasants, country people.
Peas-cod, a pea-pod.
Pebbly, full of pebbles or small stones.
Peccable, liable to sin.
Peccadillo, a petty fault; a small crime.
Peccant, guilty, wrong, erring.
Pec'cary, an American animal resembling a hog.
Pecca'vi, literally, "I have sinned," a term of confession.
Pec'toral, belonging to the breast.
Peculation, the appropriating of another's money to one's own use.
Peculiarity, something singular; an oddity; something distinctive and not common.
Pecuniary, relating to money.
Pedagogics, the art of teaching.
Pedagogue, a teacher of the young.
Pedagogy, the office of a pedagogue.
Pedal, belonging to a foot; part of a machine, etc., worked by the foot.
Pedan'tic, marked by pedantry.
Ped'antry, ostentatious display of learning.
Pedestrian, one who goes on foot; a walker.
Pedigree, genealogy, lineage.
Pedom'eter, an instrument fixed to the leg, to measure the distance covered in walking.
Peduncle, a flower-stalk.
Peduncular, belonging to a peduncle.
Peeress, a peer's wife; a lady holding a title of nobility.
Peevishness, fretfulness; querulousness.
Peg'asus, a mythical winged horse.
Pelican, a bird which feeds on fish.
Pelisse, a kind of cloak.
Pellet, a little ball, or shot.
Pellicle, a thin skin.
Pellucid, clear, transparent.
Pelt-monger, a dealer in skins.
Peltry, skins in their undressed state.
Pelvis, the lower part of the abdomen.
Pemmican, meat dried and pressed into cakes.
Pe'nal, enacting punishment.
Penalty, punishment; a fine.
Penance, punishment suffered voluntarily in expiation of a sin.
Pena'tes (-es), the ancient Roman household gods.
Penchant, a leaning toward; a liking.
Pencilled, marked as with a pencil.
Pendant, a hanging ornament; an earring; a flag.
Pendulous, hanging, swinging.
Pendulum, a weight hung so that it may easily swing backwards and forwards, as in a clock.
Penetrable, that may be pierced or penetrated.
Penetration, the act of entering; acuteness; the power of piercing.
Peninsula, a piece of land nearly surrounded by water.
Penitent, repentant, contrite.
Penitential, expressing penitence.
Penitentiary, a house of correction and reform.
Penniless, poor; having no money.
Pennon, a small pointed flag.
Penny-a-liner, a writer paid by the line.
Pennyweight, twenty-four grains (troy weight).
Pensile, hanging, suspended.
Pension, an allowance granted for past services.
Pensionary, maintained by a pension.

Pensive, sorrowfully thoughtful.
Pentagon, a figure with five angles.
Pentateuch, the first five books in the Bible.
Pentecost, Whitsuntide; a Jewish festival.
Penthouse, a shed jutting out from a building.
Penultimate, belonging to the last syllable but one.
Penumbra, an imperfect shadow.
Penurious, niggardly; sordidly mean; poor.
Peony, a plant with large brilliant flowers.
People, a nation; persons in general; kinsfolk.
Peppermint, a species of mint and the liquor distilled from it.
Pepsin, an extract of gastric juice taken from animals, used as an aid to digestion.
Peptic, helping digestion.
Perambulation, the act of wandering over; a travelling survey.
Perambulator, an infant's carriage; one who perambulates.
Per annum, by the year.
Perceive, to discover by the senses; to observe.
Per cent, by the hundred.
Percentage, rate per cent.
Perceptible, that may be perceived.
Perceptivity, the power of perceiving.
Percipient, having the power of perceiving.
Percolation, the act of filtering through.
Percussion, the shock of collision, impact.
Perdition, destruction, ruin; eternal death.
Perdu, perdue, in ambush; hidden.
Perdurable, lasting; long continuing.
Peregrination, a roundabout journey.
Per'emptory, positive; not admitting of argument; dictatorial.
Perennial, lasting through the year; lasting more than two years (botany); annual.
Perfectibility, the ability to attain perfection.
Perfervid, very fervid; extremely ardent.
Perfidious, treacherous; false to a trust.
Per'fidy, treachery; breach of faith.
Perforation, the act of boring a hole.
Performance, something done; completion; an acting, etc.
Perfu'mery, perfumes collectively.
Perfunctory, careless; negligent.
Peri, an elf descended from a fallen spirit.
Pericardium, the membrane surrounding the heart.
Perigee, the point of the moon's orbit nearest the earth.
Perihelion, the point of a planet's orbit nearest the sun.
Perilous, dangerous, hazardous.
Perim'eter, the sum of all the sides of a figure.
Period'ic, relating to a period; happening at stated intervals.
Periodicity, the quality of being periodic.
Peripatetic, a follower of Aristotle; one who walks around from place to place.
Periph'ery, the boundary line of a figure.
Periph'rasis, circumlocution.
Periplus, a sailing round.
Perishable, liable to perish; subject to decay.
Peristaltic, belonging to the vermicular motion of the intestines.
Peristyle, a series of columns round a court, etc.
Peritone'um, the lining of the abdomen.
Peritoni'tis, inflammation of the peritoneum.
Perjury, the crime of false swearing.
Permanence, continuance in the same state.
Permeability, the state of being permeable or not water-proof.
Permeate, to pass through the pores of.
Permian, a name given to certain strata of rocks.
Permissible, allowable.
Permit', to allow; to give permission.
Per'mit, a written permission.
Permutation, the exchange of one thing for another; interchange.
Pernicious, destructive; harmful.
Peroration, the conclusion of an oration.
Peroxidize, to oxidize in a high degree.
Perpend, to weigh in the mind; to consider.
Perpendicular, at right angles to the horizon; upright.
Perpetration, the act of committing a crime.
Perpetually, continually; incessantly.
Perpetu'ity, something to which there is no end; indefinite duration.
Perplexity, intricacy; bewilderment.
Perquisite, something gained in an office or situation over and above the settled wages.
Per se, by itself.
Persecute, to harass; to pursue with intent to injure.
Perseverance, persistence in any design.
Persiflage, frivolous talk; banter.
Persistence, perseverance, obstinacy.
Personality, individuality; an uncomplimentary remark passed on an individual.
Personally, in person; individually.
Personation, the counterfeiting of another person.
Personifica'tion, impersonation; a figure of speech attributing personality to things.
Personnel, the members of a staff.
Perspective, the art of representing objects in a picture as they would appear to an observer.
Perspicacious, quick-sighted; keen of apprehension.
Perspicacity, quickness of discernment.
Perspicu'ity, freedom from obscurity.
Perspiration, moisture emitted from the pores of the skin.
Persuade, to induce; to influence by argument, etc.
Persuasion, the act of persuading; belief.
Persuasiveness, the quality of being able to persuade.
Pertinacious, obstinate; resolute; determined to cling.
Pertinacity, the state of being pertinacious.
Pertinent, quite to the purpose; apposite.
Perturbation, disturbance of mind; cause of disquiet.
Peruke or Perruque, a cap of false hair.
Perusal, the act of reading carefully.
Peruvian, belonging to or a native of Peru.
Pervade, to pass over or through; to be well diffused.
Perversion, a leading astray; a turning from the right way.
Perversity, stubbornness; peevishness.
Per'vert, one who has turned from the supposed truth.
Pervert', to lead astray.
Pervicacious, extremely obstinate.
Pervious, admitting passage; penetrable.
Pesa'de, the motion of a horse when rearing.
Pessimism, the habit of taking a despondent view of life.
Pestif'erous, infectious; noxious.
Pestilence, a fatal contagious disease.
Pestilential, pertaining to pestilence; destructive.
Pestle, an instrument for pounding in a mortar.
Petard, an instrument of war formerly used to blow up a barrier, etc.
Petit, petite, small.
Petition, an entreaty, a supplication.
Petrel, a sea bird.
Petrifaction, the act of changing into stone.
Petro'geny, the study of the origin of rocks.
Petroleum, an inflammable liquid obtained from the earth.
Petrol'ogist, one versed in the study of rocks.
Pettifogging, doing petty legal business.
Pettiness, smallness; meanness.
Petty jury, common jury.
Petulance, peevishness; frowardness.
Pew, an enclosed seat in church.
Pewterer, a smith who works in pewter.
Phaeton, an open four-wheeled carriage.
Phalanx, a body of troops in close order.
Phantasm, a phantom; an imaginary vision.
Phantas'magoria, shadow pictures; shadowy imaginings.
Phantasy, imagination; a whim.
Phantom, a spectre; a fancied vision.
Pharisaic, pertaining to the Pharisees; hypocritical.
Pharmaceutical, relating to the art of preparing medicines.
Pharmacopœ'ia, a book of rules for the preparation of medicines.
Pharmacy, the art of preparing medicines.
Pharos, a light-house; a beacon.
Phase, appearance; aspect.
Pheasant, a game-bird.
Phenom'enal, remarkable; out of the ordinary.
Phial, a small glass bottle.
Philander, to play at love.
Philanthropic, showing a love of mankind.
Philat'elist, a collector of postage-stamps.
Philharmonic, loving harmony or music.
Philhellenist, one friendly towards Greece.
Philip'pic, a speech full of invective; an oration.
Phil'istine, one of an ancient people of Palestine; a person without culture.
Philis'tinism, the manners, etc., of modern Philistines.
Philol'ogy, the study of languages.
Philomath, one fond of learning.
Philomel, the nightingale.
Philosophical, belonging to philosophy; calm.
Philosophy, mental science.
Philtre, a love-potion.
Phlebi'tis, inflammation of a vein.
Phlebotomy, the practice of letting blood.
Phlegm, the slimy matter discharged from the throat by coughing; apathy.
Phlegmatic, abounding in phlegm; dull, cold.
Phlogiston, an element formerly supposed to exist in every combustible body.
Phœbus, Apollo; the sun.
Phœnix, a unique, fabulous Egyptian bird which died in giving birth to its successor.
Phonetics, the science of sounds, particularly of the voice.
Phonic, belonging to sound.
Phonograph, an instrument which records and reproduces sounds; a mark representing a sound.
Phonology, the science of vocal sounds.
Phonom'eter, an instrument for measuring sound.
Phosphorescence, the quality of becoming luminous without combustion.
Photog'raphy, the art of producing pictures by the action of light on a sensitized surface.
Photogravure, a process for reproducing pictures.
Photom'eter, an instrument for measuring light.
Photosphere, the luminous envelope round the sun.
Phrase, a mode of speech; an expression.
Phraseology, mode of expression; diction.
Phrenet'ic, mad, frantic.
Phrenitis, inflammation of the brain.
Phrenology, the science of reading the character from protuberances on the skull.
Phthisis (thisis), pulmonary consumption.
Phylactery, a charm or amulet.
Physic, the science of healing; a medicine.
Physical, relating to nature or to natural philosophy; material; bodily.
Physician, one skilled in medicine; a doctor.
Physicist, one versed in physics.
Physics, the science which treats of the laws of nature.
Physiocratic, belonging to a school of political economy.
Physiognomy, the art of telling the character from the face.
Physiolatry, the worship of nature.
Physiology, the science which treats of the laws of life in plants and animals.
Physique, bodily structure.
Piacular, expiatory; needing expiation.
Pia mater, a thin membrane covering the brain.
Pianissimo, very softly and quietly.
Pianist, a pianoforte-player.
Pianoforte, a musical instrument.
Piastre, a silver coin of various values.
Piazza, a walk under a roof supported by pillars.
Pibroch, martial music played on the bagpipe.
Picador', a horseman at a bull-fight whose duty it is to excite the bull.
Picaroon, a plunderer, a cheat.
Piccalilli, a pickle of mixed vegetables.
Piccolo, a small flute.
Pickaninny, a little negro child.
Picket-guard, a guard always prepared for an alarm or attack.
Pick-thank, an officious fellow working for his own interests.
Pic-nic, a pleasure outing where the members of the party take their provisions with them.
Pictorial, relating to or containing pictures
Picturesque, like a picture.
Piebald, spotted with various colours.
Piecemeal, in pieces; by degrees.
Piece-work, work done by the piece instead of by the hour.
Pied à terre, a resting-place, temporary lodgings.
Pier, the support of a bridge or arch; a jetty; a landing-place.
Piercing, penetrating; sharp.
Pietist, one who expresses extreme piety; a member of a religious order.
Piety, the quality of being pious.
Pigeon-hole, an entrance hole in a pigeon-house; a division in a case to hold papers.
Piggin, a small vessel to hold liquids.
Pig-iron, unforged iron.
Pigment, a colouring substance; paint.
Pilaster, a square column generally set within a wall.
Pilgrimage, a journey to some sacred spot.
Pillage, plunder; the act of plundering.
Pillar, a column-like support.
Pillion, a cushion behind a horseman for a woman to ride on.
Pillory, an old instrument of punishment consisting of a wooden frame with holes, through which the head and hands of the offender were put.
Pillow, a cushion on which the head rests in bed.
Pilose, hairy.
Pilotage, the work or fee of a pilot.
Pilot-engine, a locomotive sent in advance of a train to see that the line is clear.
Pimp, one who procures lewd women.
Pinafore, a kind of apron worn by a child.
Pince-nez, eye-glasses which fit on the nose with a spring.
Pinchbeck, an alloy resembling gold.
Pine'tum, a collection of various kinds of pines.
Pinfold, an enclosure for stray cattle.
Pinion, a wing; a part of a bird's wing; to fetter.
Pin-money, an allowance made to a wife for her private use.
Pinnace, a man-of-war's boat; a small vessel.
Pinnacle, a turret; a pointed summit.
Pioneer, one of a band of soldiers who go before an army to clear the way; one who prepares the way for those who come after.
Pious, devout; religious; showing deep filial respect.
Pipette, a small tube used by chemists.
Piquancy, tartness; liveliness.
Pique, slight anger caused by one's pride being hurt.
Piquet, a game of cards.
Piracy, the act of robbing on the high seas; an offence against the laws of copyright.

Piratical, belonging to piracy.
Pirouette, to whirl round on one foot.
Pis aller, the last shift; the worst.
Piscatorial, relating to fishing.
Pisciculture, the artificial rearing of fish.
Pisci'na, a stone basin in Roman Catholic churches.
Pistol, a small hand-gun.
Piston, a close-fitting, sliding rod in an engine or pump.
Pitch-dark, extremely dark.
Pitch-pipe, a small pipe used to give the key-note.
Piteous, mournful; exciting pity.
Pithiness, energy; force.
Pitiable, deserving pity.
Pitiless, without pity; merciless.
Pittance, a small portion; a scanty allowance.
Pivot, a pin on which anything turns; that on which a matter depends.
Pizzicato, a term in violin playing, denoting that the strings must be plucked by the fingers.
Placable, capable of being appeased.
Placard, a bill stuck on a wall, etc., to attract public attention.
Place-hunter, one who tries hard to obtain a public office.
Placeman, one holding a government office.
Placenta, the after-birth.
Placid, gentle; quiet; serene.
Placket, a petticoat; a slit in a skirt, etc.
Pla'giarism, the act of stealing from the works or thoughts of another.
Plague, a malignant epidemic disease; anything troublesome; a great evil.
Plague-spot, a mark of plague.
Plaguy, vexatious, troublesome.
Plaice, a flat fish.
Plaid, a striped woollen wrap worn in Scotland.
Plain-song, a simple chant.
Plaintiff, one who sues another in a court of law.
Plaintive, expressive of sorrow; complaining.
Plait, to fold; to braid.
Planchet, a flat piece of metal for a coin.
Plane, a level surface; a joiner's tool; a kind of tree.
Planet, a heavenly body which moves round the sun.
Planetary, pertaining to the planets.
Plantigrade, walking on the sole of the foot; flat-footed.
Plaque, an ornamental plate or disc.
Plasma, a variety of quartz; elementary matter in plant and animal bodies.
Plaster, lime and sand mixed with water for overlaying walls, etc.; an adhesive substance spread on cloth, etc., and applied to the body.
Plastic, having the power to give form; capable of being moulded.
Plateau, an elevated plain.
Plate-rack, a frame for plates, etc., when not in use.
Platinoid, a metal with which platinum is associated.
Plat'inum, a heavy silver coloured metal.
Platitude, dulness; a vapid remark; a truism.
Platon'ic, belonging to the philosophy of Plato.
Platonic love, affection unmixed with carnal desires.
Plaudit, applause.
Plausible, seemingly right or praiseworthy.
Play-bill, a bill advertising a play.
Play-wright, a writer of plays.
Pleasance, gaiety; a secluded part of a garden.
Pleasantry, gaiety; lively talk; a trick.
Pleasurable, delightful; giving pleasure.
Plebe'ian, of mean birth; vulgar; not aristocratic.
Pleb'iscite, the vote of an entire nation.
Plectrum, a small piece of horn, etc., for striking the strings of certain instruments.
Plenary, full, complete.
Plenipotentiary, a negociator invested with full power.
Plenitude, fulness, completeness.
Plenteous, copious, abundant, fruitful.
Pleonasm, the use of unnecessary words.
Pleth'ora, fulness, especially of blood.
Pleurisy, a chest disease (see Med. Dict.).
Pliability, flexibility.
Pliancy, the state of being pliant.
Pliant, easily bent; easily influenced.
Plication, a fold; a plait.
Pliers, a small kind of pincers.
Plighted, pledged, promised.
Plinth, the square foundation of a column, etc.
Plodder, a dull, heavy, laborious man.
Plough-share, the blade of a plough.
Plumage, a bird's feathers.
Plumbago, a mineral used for lead pencils; a plant.
Plumber, a worker in lead.
Plumb-line, a line with a weight attached to show the perpendicular.
Plunge, to put suddenly under water; to dive; to rush into.
Plural, implying or consisting of more than one.
Pluralist, a clergyman holding more than one benefice.
Plus, the name of the mathematical sign of addition.
Plutoc'racy, the rule or power of the wealthy.
Pluvious, rainy, relating to rain.
Ply, to practise or work at diligently; to solicit.
Pneumatic, pertaining to air; worked by air; filled with air.
Pneumonia, an inflammation of the lungs.
Po'cocurant'ism, indifference; carelessness; apathy.
Pod'agra, gout in the foot.
Podesta, an Italian magistrate.
Poesy, the art of the poet; poetry.
Poetaster, an indifferent poet; a bad rhymer.
Poetically, in a manner suitable to poetry.
Poet-laureate, a poet who has been chosen by the sovereign to celebrate events of regal or national importance.
Poignant, stimulating the palate; keen; painful.
Point d'appui, point of support.
Poise, to balance; to weigh.
Poisonous, having the qualities of poison.
Polemical, controversial, disputative.
Pole-star, a star near the North Pole of the celestial sphere; a guide.
Policy (pl. policies), the art of government; skill in management; line of conduct; a written insurance contract.
Pol'ish, to render smooth and glossy; to refine; refinement; gloss.
Po'lish, belonging to Poland and its people.
Politeness, good-breeding; elegance of manners.
Political, relating to the art of government.
Politician, one skilled in politics.
Pollard, a tree with the top cut off; an animal that has cast its horns; a hornless ox.
Poll-clerk, a clerk who assists at an election.
Poll-tax, a tax per head.
Pollution, defilement; corruption.
Polo, a game at ball played on horseback.
Poltroon, a coward; a scoundrel.
Polyandry, the practice of having more than one husband at a time.
Polychrome, having many colours.
Polyg'amy, the practice of having more than one wife at a time.
Polyg'amous, practising polygamy.
Polyglot, speaking many languages; in many languages.
Polysyllabic, having many syllables.
Polytechnic, relating to, or instructing in, many arts.
Polytheism, the doctrine of a plurality of gods.
Pomade or pomatum, a fragrant ointment for the hair.
Pommel, the raised projection on a sword-hilt or on the front of a saddle.
Pompous, magnificent, grand; boastful.
Poncho, a simple cloak worn by horsemen in South America.
Ponderous, heavy, weighty; forcible.
Pongee, a soft silk of Eastern manufacture.
Poniard, a dagger.
Pontiff, a high priest; the pope.
Pontifical, belonging to a pontiff; a book of ecclesiastical rites and ceremonies.
Pontoon, a light structure used to support a temporary bridge.
Pony, a small horse; £25, in betting language.
Popery, the Roman Catholic religion.
Popinjay, a parrot; a woodpecker; a fop.
Populace, the multitude; the common people.
Popularity, the state of being in favour with people.
Populous, full of people, thickly inhabited.
Porcelain, a semi-transparent earthenware.
Pores, the minute openings in the skin for perspiration.
Pornography, obscene literature.
Porosity, the state of being porous.
Porous, having pores or minute passages.
Porphyry, a hard, igneous rock.
Porringer, a small vessel for porridge.
Portage, the act or price of carrying.
Portcullis, a strong grating hung over a gateway and let down to keep out an enemy.
Porte, the Turkish government.
Portentous, prodigious; foreshadowing evil.
Portfolio, a case to hold loose papers, etc.; the office of a minister of state.
Port-hole, an opening in a vessel's side.
Portico, a porch supported by rows of columns.
Portière, a door curtain.
Portion, a part, a share; an inheritance.
Portmanteau, a travelling bag or trunk.
Portraiture, the art of portrait-painting.
Portrayal, the art of portraying or describing.
Position, situation; a principle laid down; attitude; social standing.
Positivism, a system of philosophy based on the acceptance of experienced facts.
Positively, absolutely, certainly, indubitably.
Posse, a body of men.
Possession, the state of owning; that which is owned.
Possessor, he that possesses; a proprietor.
Possibility, the state of being possible.
Post-chaise, a travelling-carriage.
Post-date, to date later than the real time.
Poste restante, a department in a post-office where letters are kept till called for.
Posterior, happening or placed after; later or hinder.
Posterity, succeeding generations.
Postern, a small door or gate; a covered passage under a rampart.
Pos'thumous, born after the death of the father; published after the author's death.
Postilion, one who rides one of the horses in a carriage and guides them.
Post-mortem, after death.
Post-obit, a bond for repayment of money on the death of a person by whose will the borrower hopes to benefit.
Postponement, the act of putting off.
Post-prandial, occurring after dinner.
Postcript, a paragraph added after the signature to a letter.
Postulate, a position to be accepted without proof, an essential condition.
Posture, situation; attitude; state.
Posture-master, one who teaches or practises artificial attitudes.
Potable, drinkable.
Potash, an alkali procured from the ashes of plants.
Potation, a draught; a drinking-bout.
Pot-boiler, a literary or artistic effort produced merely to earn money.
Potency, power, influence, strength.
Potential, powerful; existing in possibility not in act.
Potently, powerfully.
Potion, a draught; a dose of medicine.
Pot-pourri, a dish of meats, etc., cooked together; a mixture of dried flowers, etc.; a medley.
Potsherd, a broken piece of earthenware.
Pot-walloper, an elector of slight qualifications, before the year 1832.
Poulterer, a dealer in poultry.
Poultice, a soft application of meal, etc., for relieving a sore.
Poundage, a certain sum deducted from a pound; payment rated by the weight of the commodity.
Pourparler, a conference to arrange the terms of a treaty.
Poverty, indigence; necessity.
Powerlessness, the state of lacking power.
Practicability, the state of being feasible or possible.
Practice, the habit of doing anything; customary use; the exercise of any profession; performance.
Practise, to do habitually; to exercise any profession; to perform.
Practitioner, one who practises a profession, particularly that of medicine.
Pragmatic, meddling; impertinently busy; interfering.
Prairie, a wide tract of grassy, treeless land.
Praiseworthy, deserving praise.
Prandial, pertaining to a dinner.
Pratique, permission for a vessel to trade with a port after quarantine.
Praxis, practice; an example for practice.
Prayer, a petition to God; an entreaty.
Preach, to discourse publicly on sacred subjects; to proclaim.
Preamble, a preface or introduction.
Prebend, a clerical office in cathedral churches.
Preb'endary, the holder of a prebend.
Precarious, uncertain; depending on another's will.
Prec'atory, relating to prayer; beseeching.
Precaution, a preventive measure; caution exercised beforehand.
Precede, to go before in time, rank, etc.
Prece'dence, the act or state of going before.
Prece'dent, going before.
Prec'edent, anything said or done that may serve as an example to be followed in the future.
Precentor, the leader of a choir.
Preceptor, a teacher; the head of certain houses of the Knights Templars.
Precinct, a boundary; a district within certain limits.
Precious, valuable; of great price.
Precipice, a headlong descent; a steep cliff.
Precipitancy, rash or headlong haste.
Precipitate, to throw headlong; to hurry blindly; to settle at the bottom of a vessel (chem.); that which so settles.
Precipitation, the act of precipitating.
Précis, a summary.
Precise, exact; strict; nice; finical.
Precisianism, exaggerated exactness.
Precision, the quality of being precise.
Preclude, to shut out; to hinder.
Precocious, ripe before time; forward.
Preconceive, to form an opinion beforehand.
Preconcerted, arranged beforehand.
Precursor, a forerunner; a harbinger.
Precursory, serving as a forerunner.
Predaceous, in the habit of preying on other animals.
Predatory, plundering; practising rapine.
Predecessor, one who has preceded another in any place or state.

Predestination, the doctrine that everything has been finally foreordained by God.
Predial, relating to farms or land.
Pre'dicable, that may be affirmed of something.
Predicament, a difficult situation; a category or class (Logic).
Predict, to foretell.
Predilection, a prepossession in favour of something.
Predominance, prevalence; superiority.
Pre-eminent, surpassing others.
Pre-emption, the right of purchasing before another.
Preen, to adjust the feathers as a bird does.
Preface, an introduction to a book, etc.
Pref'atory, introductory.
Prefect, a governor; the head of a French department.
Pref'erable, more to be desired.
Preference, choice; higher regard.
Preferential, having a preference.
Preferment, advancement to a higher station.
Preglacial, earlier than the glacial period.
Pregnant, being with young; full of meaning.
Prehensile, adapted for grasping.
Prehistor'ic, before the earliest period mentioned in history.
Prejudice, a judgment already formed without proper consideration; bias.
Prelacy, the office of a prelate.
Prelate, an ecclesiastic of the highest order, a bishop.
Prelection, a lecture read in public.
Preliminary, previous; introductory.
Prel'ude, something introductory: an introductory air.
Prelude', to serve as a prelude; to introduce.
Premature, ripe too soon; done, said, etc., before the proper time.
Premeditation, the act of meditating or planning beforehand.
Premier, first, chief; the Prime Minister.
Premise', to say or write previously; to lay down premises.
Prem'ise, proposition antecedently supposed or proved.
Premises, houses or tenements.
Premium, a reward; a sum paid for insurance; payment made for instruction in a trade, etc.
Premonition, previous warning.
Premonitory, giving previous notice.
Preoccupation, previous occupation.
Prepar'atory, serving to prepare; introductory.
Prepense, premeditated.
Preponderance, superiority of weight, power, etc.
Prepossession, previous possession; preconceived opinion; prejudice.
Preposterous, contrary to reason; absurd.
Pre-Raphaelite, belonging to the style of art before Raphael's time; pertaining to the Pre-raphaelite brotherhood.
Prerogative, an exclusive privilege.
Presage, a foreboding of some future event.
Presbyterian, a member of a religious sect.
Pres'bytery, a body of elders.
Pre'science, foreknowledge.
Prescribe, to lay down authoritatively; to write directions for a remedy.
Prescription, that which is prescribed; a custom continued until it has the force of law.
Prescriptive, established by long use.
Presentation, the act of presenting.
Presentiment, anticipation of something about to happen.
Preservation, the state of being kept from harm or decay.
Preservative, having the power of preserving.
Presidency, the office, etc., of a president.
Presidential, belonging to a president.
Press (the), newspaper literature.
Press-gang, a band of sailors employed to force men into the naval service.
Pressman, a man in charge of a printing press; a journalist.
Prestidigitator, a juggler.
Prestige, literally illusion or fascination; the influence proceeding from recognition of past achievements.
Prestissimo, very quickly (music).
Presto, quick; at once.
Presumably, that may be supposed; probably, perhaps.
Presumption, a supposition; over-boldness.
Presumptive (heir), an heir who may be ousted from his right by the birth of a nearer relative.
Presumptuous, arrogant, over-bold, insolent.
Presuppose, to suppose beforehand; to premise.
Pretension, a claim.
Preter'ita, the past; things finished.
Preterite, past; the past tense.
Pretermission, the act of omitting.
Preternatural, different from what is natural.
Pretext, an excuse; a pretence.
Prevailing, predominant; having greater influence.
Prevalence, the state of being predominant or wide-spread.
Prevaricate, to quibble; to avoid a direct reply.
Preventive, tending to hinder.
Previously, beforehand; antecedently.
Prevision, foresight.
Prey, something to be seized and devoured; plunder.
Priceless, invaluable; beyond price.
Prie-dieu, a desk to kneel at in prayer.
Priesthood, the office of a priest; priests.
Priggish, full of conceit or affectation.
Primacy, the office of a primate.
Prima donna, the principal female singer in an opera.
Prima facie, at first sight or appearance.
Primal, first.
Primary, first; chief; original; elementary.
Primate, an archbishop.
Primeval, belonging to the earliest times.
Priming, the powder in the pan of a gun.
Primitive, relating to the beginning; original; old-fashioned; not derivative.
Primogeniture, the state of being the first-born.
Primordial, first, existing from the beginning.
Principal, chief; first in rank, power, etc.
Principia, first principles.
Principle, a fundamental truth; an element; a motive; a rule of conduct.
Prink, to adorn for show.
Priority, precedence in time, place, etc.
Priory, a religious house.
Prism, a solid figure whose two ends are similar, equal and parallel, and its faces parallelograms.
Pristine, ancient, primitive; original.
Privacy, secrecy; retirement, retreat.
Privateer, a private ship fitted out to plunder an enemy's ships.
Privation, the state of being deprived; want.
Privilege, an advantage; right or immunity.
Privily, secretly, privately.
Privy Council, a body of councillors selected by the sovereign to advise him in cases of emergency.
Probability, likelihood; appearance of truth.
Probate, the proving of a will.
Probationer, one who is on trial; a novice.
Probe, a surgeon's instrument; to examine.
Probity, honesty; integrity.
Problematic, uncertain; open to dispute.
Proboscis, the trunk of an elephant; a snout.
Procacity, petulance; insolence.
Pro-cathedral, a church used as a temporary cathedral.
Procedure, the manner or act of proceeding.
Proceeds, produce; the money derived from anything.
Processional, relating to a procession.
Procès-verbal, a statement of facts in connection with a legal proceeding; the minutes of a meeting.
Proclaim, to announce publicly; to promulgate.
Proclamation, announcement by authority.
Proclivity, tendency; inclination.
Procrastination, a putting off; dilatoriness.
Procreation, generation; production.
Procrustean, making conformable by force; bullying.
Proctor, the manager of another's affairs; a university official.
Procumbent, lying down, prone.
Procurator, one who manages another's affairs.
Procure, to obtain; to contrive.
Procuress, a bawd; a female pimp.
Prodigality, waste; excessive liberality.
Prodigious, amazing; monstrous.
Prodigy, a precocious person; something very much out of the ordinary.
Prod'uce, product; that which is yielded.
Produce', to bring forth; to offer to view; to make.
Productivity, the power to produce.
Proem, a preface, an introduction.
Profanation, the violating of anything sacred.
Profanity, irreverent conduct or speech.
Professedly, by open avowal.
Professional, relating to a profession.
Professorial, relating to a professor.
Proffer, to offer; to propose.
Proficient, advanced in any study, art, etc.
Profile, the side-view of the human face.
Profit, gain; pecuniary advantage; benefit.
Prof'ligacy, the quality of being profligate.
Profligate, dissolute; lost to virtue.
Pro forma, for form's sake.
Profundity, depth; depth of knowledge.
Profuseness, lavishness, prodigality.
Profusion, lavishness; abundance.
Progenitor, an ancestor; a parent.
Progeny, offspring; descendants.
Prognostication, a foretoken, a forecast.
Programme, a plan of the order to be followed in an entertainment or series of events.
Progression, motion forward; progress.
Progressive, going forward; improving.
Prohibition, the act of forbidding; an interdict.
Prohibitive, implying prohibition; impossible; excessive.
Pro'ject, a scheme; a plan.
Project', to throw forward; to propose; to scheme; to draw in outline on a new plane.
Projectile, a body impelled forward; a shot.
Prolapse, a displacement of an internal organ.
Prolegom'ena, introductory observations.
Proletarian, relating to the lowest or poorest class of the nation.
Proletariate, the lower classes.
Prolific, fruitful, productive.
Prolix, long, tedious; not concise.
Prolixity, wearisome length.
Proloc'utor, the chairman of Convocation.
Prologue, a preface; an introduction to a play, etc.
Prolongation, a lengthening or delaying.
Promenade, a walk; a place for walking; to stroll in public.
Prominent, standing out; very easily seen.
Promiscuous, mingled in confusion; indiscriminate.
Prom'issory, containing a promise.
Prom'ontory, a headland, a cape.
Promoter, one who promotes; one who advances or assists a movement.
Prompter, one who suggests the words to an actor when he falters.
Promptitude, readiness; quickness.
Promulgate, to publish; to make known.
Prone, lying face downwards; inclined.
Prong, the sharp point of a fork, antler, etc.
Pronoun, a word used instead of a noun.
Pronouncement, a formal declaration.
Pronunciation, the act or mode of utterance.
Procemium, an introduction, a preface.
Proof-sheets, a printer's proofs, i.e., first impressions in printing for correction.
Propaganda, a society for the spreading of principles and opinions.
Propagation, the act of propagating or spreading.
Pro patria, for one's country.
Propeller, that which propels; the screw that drives a vessel forward.
Propensity, a leaning towards; tendency.
Prophecy (pl. prophecies), an inspired utterance; a declaration of something to come; a forewarning, a premonition.
Prophesy, to predict, to foretell.
Prophetical, foretelling future events.
Prophylactic, guarding against disease.
Propinquity, nearness in place, time, or blood.
Propitiate, to conciliate; to make propitious.
Propit'iatory, able to propitiate.
Propitious, favourable, kind.
Proplasm, a mould, a matrix.
Proportional, in proportion; corresponding magnitude.
Proposal, an offer; a plan; an offer of marriage.
Proposition, an offer of terms; a proposal; a problem, a theorem (math.); a motion before a meeting.
Propound, to offer for consideration.
Propri'etary, an owner; relating to an owner.
Proprietress, a female owner.
Propriety, conformity with established laws of conduct; fitness.
Propulsion, the act of driving forward.
Pro rata, in proportion.
Prorogation, the act of proroguing.
Prorogue', to put off; to adjourn (Parliament).
Prosa'ic, resembling prose; commonplace.
Proscenium, the part of a stage in front of the curtain.
Proscribe, to outlaw; to condemn; to prohibit.
Proscription, the act of proscribing.
Prose, writing or speech not in verse.
Prosecution, legal proceedings against a person; the prosecutors.
Prosecutor, one who institutes legal proceedings against another; one who carries on any scheme, etc.
Proselyte, a convert to some religion, party, etc.
Proselytize, to make proselytes.
Prosiness, the state of being dull or tedious.
Prosody, that part of grammar treating of the laws of versification.
Prosopopœia, a figure by which things are spoken of as persons.
Pros'pect, a view, aspect; expectation.
Prospect', to explore for gold, etc.
Prospective, looking forward; in the future.
Prospectus, a plan of some proposed enterprise.
Prostitute, a base hireling; to misuse for base purposes.
Prostrate, lying at full length; lying at mercy.
Prostration, the act of prostrating; weakness.
Protagonist, a leading character.
Prote'an, changing form with ease; variable.
Protection, defence; shelter; a passport; the supporting of home industries by taxing imports.
Protectionist, one who favours protection, an anti-free-trader.
Protectorate, government by a protector; a system of government involving the protection of a weak nation by a strong one.
Protégé, one under the care or patronage of another.
Protein or Proteid, an essential principle in nitrogenous foods.
Pro'test, a solemn declaration of opinion against something.
Protest', to make a protest; to affirm solemnly.
Protestant, one of the reformed faith; a supporter of the Reformation.

Protestation, a solemn declaration; a protest.
Pro'tocol, the original draft of an agreement; a record.
Protomartyr, the first martyr.
Protoplasm, the essence or basis of living matter.
Prototype, the original of a copy; a model.
Protozo'a, the lowest forms of animal life.
Protracted, drawn out; delayed.
Protraction, the act of protracting; delay; a plan.
Protractor, a mathematical instrument.
Protrude, to thrust forward; to project.
Protrusion, the act of protruding.
Protuberance, a prominence, a swelling.
Proven, proved.
Provençal, belonging to Provençe in Southern France.
Proverbial, relating to, or used as a proverb; as well known as a proverb.
Providence, divine care; God; prudence.
Providential, effected by providence; prudent.
Provider, one who provides or supplies.
Provincial, relating to a province; unpolished.
Provincialism, a mode of expression peculiar to a country district.
Provisional, temporarily established.
Provi'so, a condition; a stipulation.
Provocation, that which rouses anger.
Provoc'ative, serving to provoke.
Provoke, to incense; to rouse; to stir up.
Provost, the head of certain bodies; a chief magistrate in Scotland.
Provost-marshal, a military officer who attends to breaches of discipline.
Prowess, bravery; military valour.
Proximate, next; near and immediate.
Proximo, in the next month.
Proxy, a person acting for another; a written authority so to act.
Prude, a woman affecting exaggerated modesty.
Prudent, cautious, discreet.
Prudential, characterised by prudence.
Prudery, the behaviour of a prude.
Prurience, itching desire or appetite.
Pry, to peep narrowly; to peer inquisitively.
Psalmist, a writer of psalms or sacred songs.
Psalmody, the singing of psalms; a book of psalms.
Psalter, the Book of Psalms; a psalm-book.
Pseudo, a prefix meaning false or counterfeit.
Pseudonym, an assumed name.
Psyche, a maiden beloved by Cupid; the soul.
Psychical, belonging to the soul or mind.
Psychology, the science of the soul or mind.
Ptomaine, a term for those bodies, generally poisonous, generated in putrefying animal matter.
Puberty, the transition stage from childhood to manhood or womanhood.
Pubescent, arriving at puberty.
Publican, a collector of taxes; an inn-keeper.
Publicity, the state of being generally known.
Public-minded, having regard to the public welfare.
Publisher, one who issues books.
Puce, a brownish shade.
Pucelage, a state of virginity.
Puddler, one who works at converting cast-iron into wrought-iron.
Puerile, childish; foolish.
Puerility, the state of being puerile.
Puerperal, belonging to childbirth.
Pugilism, the act of boxing or fighting with the fists.
Pugilist, one who fights with his fists.
Pugnacious, quarrelsome; inclined to fight.
Pugnacity, quarrelsomeness.
Puisne (puny), younger; lower in rank.
Pu'issance, power, strength, force.
Pu'issant, powerful, strong.
Puke, to vomit.
Puling, whining, crying.
Pullet, a young hen.
Pulley, a wheel moving on an axis with a groove in which a rope runs.
Pullman-car, a well-furnished railway car.
Pul'monary, affecting the lungs.
Pulpit, a stand in church from which the sermon is delivered.
Pulsation, the beating of the pulse; a throb.
Pulverize, to reduce to powder.
Pumice, a hard, porous, volcanic substance.
Puncheon, a perforating tool; a liquid measure.
Punchinello, a buffoon; Punch.
Punctilio, nicety in behaviour and forms.
Punctilious, particular in matters of etiquette.
Punctuality, exactness with regard to time.
Punctuation, the art of putting in the stops in writing.
Puncture, a hole made with a sharp point.
Pundit, a learned Brahmin.
Pungent, sharp to taste or smell; keen.
Punic, relating to the Carthaginians; faithless.
Puniness, feebleness; pettiness; smallness.
Punishable, that may be punished.
Punitive, inflicting punishment.
Punkah, a large fan for ventilating Indian houses.
Punster, one given to making puns.
Pupil, a scholar; a ward; the central portion of the eye encircled by the iris.
Pupilage, the state of being a pupil; wardship.
Pupil-teacher, a pupil learning to teach.
Puppet, a small image moved by wires in a mock drama; one who is made a tool of.
Purblind, near-sighted.
Purchasable, that may be bought.
Purchase, to buy; to acquire by contract; leverage; point d'appui.
Purely, in a pure manner; merely.
Purgative, having the power to purge.
Purgatory, according to the Roman Catholic Church, a state after death in which souls are purified.
Purge, to cleanse; to clear from guilt; to evacuate the bowels.
Purification, the act of making pure.
Purifier, that which purifies.
Purism, exactness in the use of words.
Puritan, a member of a Protestant religious body in the 16th and 17th centuries.
Puritanical, relating to the Puritans; strict.
Purity, freedom from guilt or admixture.
Purlieu, the boundaries of any place; the outskirts.
Purloin, to steal, to take by theft.
Pur'port, to signify, to imply; design, meaning.
Purring, the low murmuring of a cat.
Purse-proud, puffed up with pride of wealth.
Pursuant, conformably with; as a consequence to; in accordance with.
Pursuit, the act of pursuing; endeavour to attain; an occupation.
Pur'suivant, an attendant on the heralds; a State messenger.
Purveyance, the procuring of victuals.
Purveyor, one who provides victuals.
Pus, matter secreted in a festering sore.
Puseyite, a follower of Dr. Pusey; a ritualistic High-Churchman.
Pusillanim'ity, cowardice.
Pusillanimous, cowardly; lacking spirit.
Puss, a name for a cat or a hare.
Pustule, a pimple containing matter.
Putrefac'tion, the state of putrefying.
Putrefy, to decay; to make rotten.
Putrescent, growing putrid.
Putrid, rotten, decaying; corrupt.
Pygmy, a dwarf; very small.
Pyramid, a solid figure tapering to a point; a sepulchral monument in Egypt.
Pyram'idal, having the form of a pyramid.
Pyre, a funeral pile.
Pyretic, a medicine for cases of fever.
Pyrites, a metal containing sulphur in combination.
Pyrom'eter, an instrument for measuring degrees of heat.
Pyrotechnic, belonging to fireworks.
Pyrrhonism, scepticism; universal doubt.
Pythoness, the priestess of the oracle at Delphi; a kind of witch.
Pyx, the sacred box in which the host is kept; the box of specimen coins at the British Mint.

Quackery, pretended skill, especially in medicine.
Quadragesima, the Latin name for Lent; the first Sunday in Lent.
Quadrangle, a square encircled by buildings; a figure having four sides and four angles.
Quadrant, the fourth part of a circle; an instrument for measuring altitudes.
Quadrate, square; divisible into four equal parts; to square with.
Quadrilateral, having four sides.
Quadrille, a dance; a game of cards.
Quadripartite, divided into four parts.
Quadroon, the child of a mulatto and a white.
Quad'ruped, a four-footed animal.
Quad'ruple, fourfold; four times told.
Quaff, to drink; to swallow in large draughts.
Quagmire, a shaking marsh; a bog.
Quail, a bird; to lose courage.
Quaint, out of the common; old-fashioned.
Quaker, a member of the religious Society of Friends.
Qualification, that which makes a person or thing fit for any duty or office; restriction, modification.
Qualify, to fit for anything; to restrict; to modify.
Qualitative, relating to quality.
Qualm, a sudden fit of sickness; a scruple.
Quandary, a difficult situation; a dilemma.
Quantitative, relating to quantity.
Quantity, mass, amount; bulk; a large portion.
Quantum, a quantity; an amount.
Quarantine, a period during which a ship arrived from an infected port is forbidden to hold intercourse with the shore.
Quarrel, a brawl; a falling out between friends.
Quarrelling, disputing, discord, wrangling.
Quarry, a pit from which stone is taken; a hawk's prey; an animal pursued in the chase.
Quart, the fourth part of a gallon.
Quarter-Day, the day when quarterly payments are due; a day occurring four times a year.
Quarter-deck, a part of the upper deck abaft the main-mast.
Quartering, the uniting of two or more coats of arms on a shield; providing with quarters or lodgings.
Quarter-master, an officer in charge of the soldiers' quarters and the stores; a petty officer in the navy.
Quartern, the fourth part of a pint or peck.
Quarter-sessions, a court held quarterly in every county or borough to try criminal cases.
Quarto, a book having the sheet folded into four leaves.
Quartz, a crystalline mineral.
Quash, to crush; to subdue; to make void.
Qua'si, as it were.
Quatrain, a stanza of four lines rhyming alternately.
Quaver, to shake the voice; to vibrate; a note in music.
Quay, a landing-place; a wharf.
Quean, a worthless woman.
Queasy, sick; causing nausea; fastidious.
Queerish, somewhat queer or odd.
Quell, to subdue; to crush.
Quench, to extinguish; to allay; to still.
Querist, one who asks questions.
Querulous, fretful; complaining.
Query (pl. queries), a question, an inquiry.
Quest, search; the act of seeking; inquiry.
Questionable, doubtful; disputable; suspicious.
Queue, a pigtail; a string of people waiting to gain admission to a place.
Quibble, to argue over trifling points.
Quicken, to become alive; to stimulate; to hasten.
Quicksand, moving sand; unsolid ground.
Quickset, a living plant set to grow to form part of a hedge.
Quiddity, essence; a trifling nicety.
Quidnunc, one eager to know or pretending to know all the news.
Quid pro quo, a return for something given.
Quiescence, the state of being quiescent.
Quiescent, resting; calm.
Quietude, rest, repose; calmness.
Quie'tus, a final settlement; death.
Quill-driver, a slang term for a clerk or writer.
Quilting, the making of or materials for a quilt.
Quinquagesima, the fiftieth; the name of the Sunday before Lent.
Quinsy, inflammation of the throat.
Quintes'sence, an extract from anything containing all its virtues in a small quantity.
Quire, twenty-four sheets of paper.
Quirk, a cunning evasion; a taunt; a quibble.
Quittance, discharge from a debt or obligation.
Quiveringly, tremblingly.
Qui vive, who goes there? (military); alert
Quixot'ic, exaggeratedly romantic or chivalrous.
Quizzical, given to quizzing or making fun of.
Quodlibet, a nice point; a subtlety.
Quoit, a flattish ring of iron used in a throwing game.
Quondam, former.
Quorum, a sufficient number of the members of a body to transact business.
Quota, a share; a proportion assigned to each.
Quotation, the act of quoting; a passage quoted; a suggested price.
Quoth, say, said (I); says, said (he).
Quotidian, daily; returning every day.

Rabbi (pl. rabbis), a Hebrew word meaning "Master," a teacher of the Jewish Law.
Rabbinical, belonging to the rabbis.
Rabbit-warren, a place where rabbits burrow and breed.
Rabble, a disorderly mob.
Rabidly, in mad fury.
Rabies, a form of madness to which dogs are subject.
Racial, characteristic of a race, peculiar to a race.
Racily, in a smart or jaunty manner; with zest.
Racket, a tennis bat; a tumultuous uproar.
Rack-rent, an unreasonably high rent.
Racy, lively, smart.
Radial, belonging to a ray or to a radius.
Radiance, brightness, glory.
Radiation, act of emitting rays.
Radically, in a thorough manner.
Radish, the root of a plant which is used as salad.
Radium, see Dict. of Gen. Infor.
Radius (pl. radii), a straight line joining the centre of a circle to any point on its circumference.
Radix, a root.
Rafter, a slanting beam forming one of the supports of the roof of a building.
Ragout, a highly spiced stew.
Ragstone, a kind of siliceous rock.
Raid, an inroad, incursion, descent.
Raillery, mockery, banter.
Rail-chairs, iron blocks in which rails rest and by which they are clamped to the sleepers.
Raiment, dress, apparel.

Rain-gauge, an instrument for measuring the rain-fall.
Raise, to lift.
Raisin, a dried grape.
Raison d'être, justification for existence, justification.
Rajah, a native Indian prince.
Rajpoot, a descendant of the old royal race of Hindostan.
Rake of a ship, the projection of the stern beyond the extreme ends of the keel; the deflection of a mast from the perpendicular.
Rallentando, a musical term denoting that the passage is to be played more slowly.
Rally, to reassemble after a rout; to recover strength after an illness; to banter.
Ramadan, the ninth month of the Mohammedan year, observed as a fast.
Ramification, the spreading out like the branches of a tree.
Ramose, abounding in branches.
Rampant, standing on the hind-legs; aggressive, overleaping bounds.
Ramrod, a rod used for ramming down the charge of a gun.
Ranche, an American term for a grazing farm.
Rancid, putrid.
Rancorous, cherishing ill-will, virulent.
Random, hap-hazard. chance.
Rapacious, greedy, grasping.
Rapacity, greed, voracity.
Rapidity, swiftness.
Rapier, a long slender dagger.
Rap'ine, plunder, violent seizure.
Rappee, a kind of snuff.
Rapprochement, a friendly approach, an approach to a friendly understanding.
Rapt, carried away by ecstasy.
Raptores, birds of prey.
Rapture, ecstasy.
Rapturous, ecstatic.
Rara avis, "a rare bird," some one especially rare and exquisite.
Raree-show, a peep-show.
Rarefaction, the becoming less dense, the expansion of a gas.
Rarefy, to render less dense, to cause to expand.
Rarity, scarcity; something uncommon or rare.
Rascally, villainous, scoundrelly.
Rasure, erasure, scraping out.
Ratable, liable to be taxed; able to be valued at a certain price.
Ratafi'a, a flavouring essence obtained from the kernels of fruits.
Ratchet, a bar which works on a toothed wheel.
Rate, a fixed proportion; a local tax; speed, degree of motion; to estimate; to chide.
Rath or rathe, early.
Ratification, the act of confirming.
Ratio (pl. ratios), proportion.
Ratioc'ination, the act or process of reasoning.
Rational, in accordance with reason, reasonable.
Rationa'le (a-le), the theoretical justification or explanation.
Ratlin or ratline, the short horizontal rope forming one of the steps of the rigging.
Rattan, a tall palm with a smooth slender stem used for walking-sticks.
Rattlesnake, a poisonous snake which makes a rattling sound with its tail.
Raucous, hoarse, harsh-sounding.
Ravage, to devastate.
Ravel, to fray out.
Ra'ven, a kind of crow.
Rav'en or Rav'in, to go eagerly in quest of prey.
Ravenous, voracious.
Ravine, a rocky defile, chasm.
Ravishment, ecstasy, extreme delight.
Razzia, an Arabic term for a plundering raid.
Reachable, able to be reached; attainable.
React, to act in a counter direction, to act mutually.
Reactionary, acting in the opposite direction, retrogressive, opposing progress.
Readdress, to address anew or afresh.
Readership, the office or function of a reader; a professorship.
Readiness, willingness; state of preparation; ease, facility.
Readjourn, to adjourn again.
Readjustment, a fresh adjustment; a new arrangement.
Readmit, to admit again.
Ready-reckoner, a book of arithmetical tables to aid in speedy calculation.
Reaffirm, to affirm over again or anew.
Reafforest, to turn into forest land again.
Reagent, a chemical substance which by its action serves as a test of the presence of other substances.
Realgar, a compound of sulphur and arsenic.
Realism, the representation in art or literature of things as they are without idealization; the doctrine that general terms represent real existences.
Realist, one who in art or literature represents things as they are without idealization.
Reality (pl. realities), that which is true or really exists.
Realization, the actual attainment of some end; the faculty of realizing.
Realm, kingdom, dominion, sphere.
Real-school, a German school in which modern subjects are taught.
Ream, twenty quires.
Reanimate, to inspire with fresh life.
Reaper, one who cuts and gathers in the harvest.
Reappear, to appear again.
Rear-admiral, the third degree of admiral rank, Admiral, Vice-Admiral, and Rear-Admiral.
Rear-guard, a body of troops appointed to protect the rear of a column.
Rear-mouse, see reremouse.
Rearrangement, a fresh arrangement, a readjustment.
Reasonable, in accordance with reason.
Reasoning, the exercise of the reason; the chain of an argument.
Reassemble, to assemble again.
Reassert, to assert over again, to repeat.
Reassurance, a statement which gives renewed confidence; a second insurance.
Rebate, a sum allowed as discount.
Rebeck, a stringed musical instrument.
Rebellion, a revolt against recognized authority
Rebellious, revolting against recognized authority.
Rebuff, a check, a repulse.
Rebus, a pictorial device to illustrate a name, like a picture puzzle.
Rebut, to violently repel.
Recal'citrant, restive, refractory.
Recant, to withdraw a statement.
Recapitulate, to recount the heads of a discourse, to sum up.
Recede, to draw back.
Receipt, a written acknowledgment of money or goods received; the act of receiving.
Recension, the critical re-editing or revision of a text or manuscript.
Recent, late, of late occurrence.
Receptacle, a place for the reception of something.
Reception, the act of receiving.
Receptivity, the power of understanding or of absorbing.
Recess, an interval, vacation; a niche.
Réchauffé, something heated and served up a second time; a tedious reproduction of old ideas.
Recherché, rare and choice.
Recipe, a list of ingredients.
Recipient, the receiver.
Reciprocal, done by each to the other.
Reciprocate, to mutually interchange.
Reciprocity, mutual interchange.
Recital, a narration or enumeration; a musical performance on the organ or piano.
Recitation, the act of reciting.
Re'citative, narrative in song, musical declamation.
Reckless, heedless, daring.
Reckoning, calculation; an account.
Reclaim, to recover; recall to the path of duty.
Recluse, a hermit.
Recognition, the act of knowing again; the act of acknowledging or admitting.
Recog'nizance, a formal obligation undertaken in the presence of a magistrate.
Recoil, to rebound. shrink back.
Recollection, remembrance.
Recommencement, a beginning anew, a renewal.
Recommend, to speak on behalf of, or in favour of.
Recommitment, a second committal.
Recompense, a reward.
Reconcilable, capable of being reconciled.
Reconciliation, the renewal of friendly relations after a quarrel.
Recondite, far-fetched, abstruse; learned.
Recon'naissance, scouting, preparatory observations in military tactics.
Reconnoitre, to take a military survey, to scout.
Reconquest, a winning back by conquest.
Reconstruct, to construct anew.
Recorder, an official who records or registers.
Recoup, to compensate for a loss.
Recourse, resort.
Recovery, a winning back; restoration to health.
Recreant, a coward, a renegade.
Recreative, affording recreation or amusement.
Recrimination, a retort, a counter accusation.
Recrim'inative, making counter charges.
Recrudescent, becoming sore again, breaking out anew.
Recruit, a newly enlisted soldier.
Rectangular, having its angles right angles.
Rectify, to set right, to correct.
Rectilineal, contained by right lines or straight lines.
Rectitude, uprightness, integrity.
Recto, a printer's term for the right-hand page.
Rector, an incumbent of the Church of England who is entitled to the tithes of his benefice; the head of a college.
Recumbent, in a reclining posture.
Recu'perative, restorative.
Recur, to occur again.
Recurrent, occurring again at intervals.
Recurring, occurring again.
Rec'usant, one who obstinately refuses to conform.
Redactor, one who arranges and edits literary material.
Redan', a V shaped field work with the projecting arms facing the enemy.
Red'argue, to refute.
Redeemable, able to be redeemed or reclaimed.
Redemption, the act of buying back or reclaiming.
Redintegration, the act of making whole again.
Rediscovery, a second discovery of the same thing.
Redistribution, the act of distributing anew or in a different manner.
Redivi'vus, restored to life again.
Red'olent, smelling strongly (of).
Redoubt or redout, an inner fortification or field-work surrounded by a parapet and detached from the outer defences.
Redoubtable, formidable.
Redound, to turn out, to result, conduce.
Redress, compensation, reparation.
Reductio ad absurdum, the process of reducing an hypothesis to an absurdity and thus proving the truth of the counter hypothesis.
Reduction, the act of reducing, diminution.
Redundancy, excess, superfluity.
Reduplicate, to redouble, repeat.
Re-echo, resound.
Reef, a ridge of rock projecting above the waves.
Re-election, the repetition of an election; the being elected for a second time.
Re-enactment, an enacting again or anew.
Reeve, a bailiff.
Refection, a repast, refreshment.
Refectory, a room in a monastery or other institution, where meals are taken.
Ref'erable, able to be referred or attributed.
Referee', one to whom reference may be made to decide a moot point, an umpire.
Referendum, see Dict. of Gen. Infor.
Refinement, delicacy of feeling; an unnecessarily subtle distinction.
Refinery, a factory where sugar and other substances are purified.
Reflection, thoughtful meditation; a reflected image; implied censure.
Reflective, referring back, or bending back.
Reflex action, involuntary movements due to the action of a stimulus from the surface upon a nerve centre.
Reformation, an amendment.
Reformatory, an institution for the reclaiming of youthful criminals.
Refraction, the bending or deflection of a ray of light as it passes through a new medium.
Refractory, perversely obstinate, recalcitrant.
Refrain, to abstain; the burden of a song.
Refrangible, able to be refracted or deflected.
Refreshment, that which refreshes, food.
Refrigerator, an ice machine, a freezing machine.
Refugee, one who has fled for refuge.
Refulgence, a bright glow.
Refund, to pay back again.
Refurbish, to polish up or deck out anew.
Refusal, the act of refusing or rejecting.
Refuse, to withhold consent; to reject.
Ref'use, rejected rubbish.
Refutation, the act of disproving.
Refute, to disprove.
Regal, royal, kingly.
Regale, to feast.
Regalia, the crown jewels.
Regally, in a royal manner.
Regardless, heedless, careless (of).
Regatta, a series of yacht or boat races.
Regency, the rule of a regent.
Regeneration, the process of recreating or being recreated, reformation.
Regent, a deputy ruler.
Regicide, one guilty of the murder of a monarch.
Regi'me, rule, government.
Regimen, regulated or prescribed diet.
Regiment, a body of troops under the command of a colonel.
Regimentals, the uniform of a regiment.
Region, a district.
Registered, inscribed in an official register.
Registration, the act of recording or being recorded in a register.
Registry, an official record of names.
Regius, royal, appointed by the crown.
Regius professor, a professor whose chair was founded by the Crown.
Regnal, belonging to the reign of a sovereign.
Regnant, ruling or reigning.
Regrate, to buy and then resell in the same market at a higher price.
Regression, the act of returning to the original position.
Regrettable, deplorable.
Regularity, conformity to rule, uniformity.

Regulate, to reduce to rule, to put in order.
Regulation, a rule, an ordinance.
Regurgitation, the process of being reabsorbed.
Rehabilitate, to reinstate.
Rehearsal, a preliminary performance.
Rehearse, to perform beforehand.
Reichsrath, legislative assembly of Austria.
Reichstag, legislative assembly of Germany.
Reilluminate, to re-enlighten.
Reimbursement, a refunding, recouping.
Reindeer, a deer which is a native of Arctic regions.
Reinforcement, an additional force sent to strengthen an army.
Reins, bridle-straps; the kidneys.
Reinsert, to insert again.
Reinstate, to restore to a former position, rehabilitate.
Reiterate, to repeat continually.
Reiteration, the act of continually repeating.
Rejection, refusal to accept.
Rejoicing, joy or exultation.
Rejoinder, a reply or retort.
Rejuvenate, to restore to youth.
Rejuvenescent, growing young again.
Relapse, a falling back.
Relate, to narrate; refer, concern.
Relation, narration; connexion; one who is related or akin.
Relaxation, relief from strain or tension; recreation.
Relay, a relief supply.
Release, a setting at liberty, deliverance.
Relegate, to banish, dismiss.
Relent, to relax severity, to feel compunction for past severity.
Relentlessly, without compunction or pity, ruthlessly.
Relevance, pertinency.
Reliable, trustworthy.
Reliance, confidence, trust.
Relic, that which remains as a personal memorial, souvenir.
Relict, a widow.
Relief, release from something arduous or painful; a raised design.
Relieving, affording relief or release.
Relievo, a raised design.
Religieuse, a nun.
Religion, the belief in a supernatural power governing the universe and claiming obedience and adoration.
Religious, belonging to religion; devout, pious.
Relinquish, to give up, abandon.
Reliquary, a casket for holding sacred relics.
Rell'quiæ, remains, especially fossil remains.
Reluctance, unwillingness, disinclination.
Relumine, to rekindle.
Rely', to depend.
Remainder, that which remains or is left.
Remand, to commit to prison again pending trial.
Remarkably, in a marked manner, noticeably, extremely.
Reme'diable, able to be remedied.
Rem'ediless, without remedy, past cure, hopeless.
Rem'edy, a cure.
Remember, to bear in mind, call to mind.
Remembrance, the act or faculty of remembering; memory; a memento, souvenir.
Reminis'cence, a recollection.
Reminis'cent, recalling to the memory.
Remission, the act of remitting or excusing.
Remissness, laxity, neglect of duty.
Remit, to pardon, excuse; to send or despatch.
Remittance, a sum of money sent or despatched.
Remnant, what is left.
Remon'strance, expostulation, dissuasion.
Remon'strate, to expostulate
Remorse, compunction, unavailing regret.
Remorseless, ruthless, pitiless.
Remote, far removed, distant.
Remould, to cast in a new mould, to fashion anew.
Removable, able to be removed.
Removal, the act of removing.
Remunerate, to recompense.
Remu'nerative, profitable, paying.
Renaissance, a revival, especially the 'revival of learning.'
Renascence, a coming to life again, a revival.
Rencontre, an unexpected meeting.
Rendezvous, an appointed or customary place of meeting.
Renegade, a cowardly deserter of his party, a traitor to his cause.
Renewal, the act of renewing.
Rennet, a preparation used for curdling milk.
Renounce, to forswear, give up, abandon.
Renovate, to renew.
Renovation, the process of restoring or repairing.
Renowned, celebrated, famous.
Rental, the annual rent.
Rentes, funds or government stock.
Rent-roll, a record or register of rents due to the owner.
Renunciation, the act of renouncing.
Reoccupy, to occupy anew.
Reorganization, the process of reconstituting or setting on a fresh footing.
Repair, to mend, restore; to betake oneself.
Rep'arable, able to be repaired.
Repartee', a witty retort.
Repast, a meal.
Repatriate, to restore to one's country.
Repayable, able to be repaid.
Repeal, to revoke, rescind.
Repeatedly, time after time, constantly.
Repel, to repulse; to cause repulsion.
Repellent, repulsive; repelling.
Repentance, sorrow for wrong-doing, contrition.
Repercussion, reverberation.
Rep'ertoire, a list of works which a performer is ready to perform.
Rep'ertory, a store-house, treasury.
Repetition, the act of repeating; recitation; tautology.
Repine, to complain, to murmur.
Replenishment, the act of renewing a supply.
Replete, fully supplied or furnished.
Repletion, satiety.
Replevin, the recovery of goods seized for debt under a pledge to submit the case to legal decision.
Rep'lica, a copy of a work of art made by the original artist.
Reporter, one who takes notes of public speeches with a view to publication.
Repository, a warehouse, a place where goods are stored.
Repoussé, raised designs on beaten metal.
Reprehend, to blame, censure.
Reprehensible, culpable, blamable.
Representation, the act of representing; a pictorial or dramatic reproduction; the statement of a case.
Representative, one who stands in the place of another; one who is deputed to represent the views of others, a delegate; characteristic.
Repressible, able to be repressed or checked.
Reprieve, the postponement or suspension of capital punishment; a temporary respite.
Reprimand, to reprove, censure.
Reprisal, an act of retaliation.
Reproachful, expressing reproach or disapproval.
Rep'robate, a hardened sinner.
Reproduce, to make a copy or a reproduction; to beget.
Reproduction, a copy, a representation.
Reproof, a reprimand.
Reprove, to reprimand, censure.
Reptation, the act of crawling or creeping.
Reptile, an animal that crawls on its belly.
Republic, a state in which the supreme authority is in the hands of representatives chosen by the people.
Republican, one who is in favour of a republic.
Republication, a second publication, a reissue.
Repudiation, the act of disclaiming or refusing to acknowledge.
Repugnant, displeasing, repellent, distasteful.
Repulsive, causing repulsion or strong dislike.
Rep'utable, of good report.
Repute, report, hearsay.
Reputedly, by report or hearsay.
Request, a petition.
Requiem, a mass for the dead.
Requiescat in pace, "may he rest in peace."
Require, to need; demand, request.
Requisite, needful, necessary.
Requisition, a formal demand.
Requi'tal, the act of requiting, paying back or recompensing.
Reredos, a decorative screen at the back of an altar.
Rescind, to repeal, abrogate.
Rescission, the act of rescinding.
Rescript, the official answer of a pope or monarch, an imperial edict.
Rescue, to deliver, to reclaim.
Research, investigation, especially scientific investigation.
Resemblance, likeness, similarity.
Resentment, anger caused by a sense of injury.
Reservation, the act of keeping back or withholding.
Reservoir, a huge tank where water is stored up for the supply of the public.
Residence, a place of abode.
Residential, belonging to residences, containing residences.
Residentiary, one who by virtue of his office is obliged to have a certain residence, or to reside for a fixed time.
Residual, consisting of the residue or what is left.
Residuary, belonging to the residue.
Residue, what is left; the remainder.
Residuum, what is left behind, the lees, sediment.
Resignation, patient submission.
Resilience, a rebounding, elasticity.
Resinous, like resin.
Resistance, the act of holding out or withstanding.
Resistless, not to be resisted, irresistible.
Resolute, firm, determined.
Resolution, firmness, determination; a formal decision.
Resolvent, able to cause solution.
Resonance, the power to give back or reflect sound.
Resonator, a board or device for causing resonance.
Resorption, the gradual absorption of an organ.
Resource, a source of help, something to have recourse to.
Respectability, state of being respectable or reputable.
Respectfully, in a respectful manner.
Respiration, the act of breathing.
Respiratory, belonging to respiration.
Res'pite, temporary relief from pain or anxiety.
Resplendent, splendid, gorgeous.
Respondent, one who replies to a charge or a challenge in court of law.
Responsible, accountable, liable; involving responsibility.
Responsions, the preliminary examination at the Oxford University.
Responsory, returning answer.
Restaurant, a place where refreshments are served.
Restau'rateur, one who keeps a restaurant.
Restitution, the act of restoring, or making reparation for, what has been wrongfully taken.
Restive, chafing at restraint.
Restor'ative, something which has power to restore.
Restraint, check, controlling power.
Restrictive, limiting, imposing restrictions.
Resultant, that which results from a combination of causes.
Resume, to take up again; repeat.
Résumé, a brief summary.
Resumption, the act of resuming.
Resurgam, "I shall rise again."
Resurgent, rising again.
Resurrection, the act of rising again after death.
Resuscitate, to restore to life again, reanimate.
Resuscitation, the act of bringing to life again, restoring.
Re'tail, the sale of small quantities of an article.
Retail', to pass on second hand information.
Retaliation, the rendering of evil for evil.
Retal'iatory, returning evil for evil.
Retardation, the diminution of the rate of motion.
Retention, the act of retaining.
Retentiveness, tenacity of memory.
Reticence, silence, reserve.
Reticular, in structure like the meshes of a net.
Reticule, a small work-bag; a telescope glass covered with a fine net-work of lines.
Retiform, like the meshes of a net in structure.
Ret'ina, the inner coating of the eye which receives impressions from without.
Retirement, seclusion; the act of withdrawing.
Retouch, to put the finishing touches to.
Retract, to withdraw (a statement).
Retraction, the act of withdrawing a statement.
Retreat, a place of retirement or seclusion; to go back.
Retrenchment, a curtailing of expense.
Retribution, inevitable punishment following upon wrong-doing.
Retrib'utive, of the nature of retribution.
Retrievable, capable of being retrieved.
Retrieve, to regain, to recover what has been morally lost.
Retriever, a dog specially trained to find out and fetch game which has been shot.
Retroactive, having a backward action.
Retrocession, the act of receding or going back.
Retrograde, moving backward.
Retrospect, a survey of the past.
Retrospective, of the nature of a retrospect
Retroussé, up-turned.
Returning-officer, an officer who superintends an election and announces the result.
Return-match, a second match played by the same opponents.
Reunion, a meeting again after parting.
Revaccinate, to vaccinate again.
Reveal, to disclose, make manifest.
Reveille (re-vell-y), the morning bugle-call to the soldiers, or summons to awake.
Revelation, a disclosure, a manifestation.
Revelry, riotous feasting or merriment.
Revengeful, vindictive.
Revenue, annual income, especially the income of a state.
Reverberation, a resounding, re-echoing.
Revere, to regard with reverence.
Reverence, a feeling of veneration.
Reverend, worthy to be revered; the title accorded to ministers of religion.
Reverent, full of awe or veneration.
Reverential, behaving with reverence.
Reverie, deep absorption, meditation.
Reverse, the exact opposite; a defeat.
Reversible, able to be reversed.

Reversion, the act of reverting or going back to an original type; a postponed right to possession.
Revetment, a retaining or facing wall.
Review, to look at carefully, inspect; to pass a criticism upon.
Revile, to abuse, to address in scurrilous language.
Revision, a looking over again carefully; a reconsidering.
Revival, a reawakening, a recovery of life.
Revivalist, a preacher who strives to effect a religious awakening.
Revivify, to inspire with new life and vigour.
Revocation, the repeal or recall.
Revoke, to repeal or annul.
Revolt, to rebel; to produce a feeling of repulsion.
Revolting, repulsive.
Revolutionary, tending to, or favouring, revolution.
Revolutionize, to put on an entirely new footing, to reconstitute.
Revolve, to travel round in a circle; to turn over and over in the mind, to ponder.
Revolver, a pistol.
Revulsion, a sudden change of feeling causing a recoil.
Reynard, a fox.
Rhabdomancy, divination by means of a rod.
Rhadamanthine, stern, severe.
Rhapsodical, extravagant in language.
Rhapsody, a wild excited utterance.
Rhenish, belonging to the Rhine.
Rheom'eter, an instrument for measuring the strength of an electric current.
Rhetoric, the art of persuasive oratory, art of eloquence.
Rhetor'ical, belonging to rhetoric; eloquent.
Rhetori'cian, one skilled in oratory.
Rheum, phlegm, catarrh.
Rheumatism, (see Med. Dict.).
Rhinal, pertaining to the nose.
Rhinoc'eros, a thick-skinned African river quadruped.
Rhododendron, an evergreen shrub which bears beautiful rose-like flowers.
Rhomboidal, shaped like a rhomboid, i.e., a parallelogram, which is neither equiangular nor equilateral.
Rhubarb, a juicy plant much used for food; a root used as a medicine.
Rhyme, similarity of sound in the final syllable or syllables of lines of verse.
Rhymster, an indifferent poet who writes rhyming verses.
Rhythm, the regular recurrence of accent.
Rhythmical, having rhythm.
Ribaldry, scurrility, vulgar and offensive language.
Ribbon or riband, silk or velvet woven into a narrow strip.
Riches, wealth, opulence.
Ricochet (ric-o-shay), to rebound and skim along the surface of the ground.
Riddance, the act of freeing from an encumbrance.
Ridicule, mockery.
Ridiculous, absurd.
Rife, prevalent.
Rifle-corps, a body of men armed with rifles.
Rifle-range, a practising-ground for rifle shooting.
Rigadoon, a lively French dance for two people; the music for this dance.
Right of way, legal right to pass through another man's property.
Righteous, upright.
Rigidity, stiffness.
Rigmarole, a long confused story.
Rigorous, strict, exacting.
Rigour, severity.
Rind, the outer husk or skin of a fruit.
Rinderpest, a disease which attacks cattle.
Ring-fence, an encircling fence.
Ringleader, one who takes the lead in mischief.
Ringworm, a skin disease which attacks the head especially and appears in rings.
Rinse, to cleanse with water.
Riotous, disorderly, tumultuous.
Riparian, belonging to the bank of a river.
Risibility, tendency to laugh.
Ritual, a series of prescribed rites; formality in religious practices.
Ritualism, love of ritual.
Rivage, the banks of a river.
Rivalry, emulation.
Riveter, one who fastens or clinches bolts and rivets.
Road-metal, small broken stones used for making roads.
Roadstead, a place where ships can ride at anchor.
Roan, reddish brown.
Robbery, the act of robbing.
Roburite, a kind of explosive.
Robust, strong, hale.
Rochet, a bishop's surplice.
Rock-crystal, a transparent variety of quartz.
Rocket, a firework which can be hurled through the air with a line attached for saving life at sea.
Roco'co, a form of architecture characterized by excessive ornament.
Rodent, gnawing; one of a class of animals to which the rabbit and squirrel belong.
Rodomontade, empty boasting, foolish ranting.
Roe, a female deer; the spawn of fishes.
Rogation, supplication.
Rogue, a dishonest person; a child full of fun and mischief.
Roguery, dishonesty.
Roguish, like a rogue, mischievous, frolicsome.
Roister, to be riotously noisy, to bluster, bully.
Rôle, the special part which a person plays or is fit to play.
Romaic, a modern form of Greek.
Romance, a term applied to those modern languages which are derived from Latin; a highly imaginative tale which borders on the impossible.
Romanesque, a style of architecture based on the Roman style.
Romanic, belonging to, or derived from, the Romans.
Romanticism, romantic or imaginative style in literature.
Ro'many or rommany, the language of the gipsies.
Rondeau, a short rhymed poem containing a refrain.
Ronion or ronyon, an animal or person subject to mange.
Rood, a cross.
Rood-screen, a screen separating the choir from the nave, and surmounted by a cross.
Rookery, a place where rooks congregate; a thieves' quarter.
Rooster, the domestic fowl.
Rope-walk, a long narrow walk where ropes are made.
Rosary, a string of beads with the help of which some count their prayers.
Roscius, an actor.
Roseate, rosy in hue.
Rose'mary, a fragrant plant.
Rosette, a rose-shaped ornament.
Rosewood, the rose-scented wood of a Brazilian tree.
Rosicrucian, belonging to the secret society of the Rosicrucians.
Rosinante, a worthless nag, like Don Quixote's Rosinante.
Roster, an official list of names, a roll.
Rostrum, a raised platform from which a speaker addresses an assembly.
Rotary, revolving like a wheel.
Rotation, regular order or sequence which recurs, movement like that of a wheel.
Ro'tatory, having a circular or wheel-like motion.
Rote, the mechanical repetition of something to be, or already, learnt.
Rotund, round in shape.
Rotunda, a round building with a dome.
Rotundity, roundness.
Roué, a dissipated man.
Rouge, a red powder used as a cosmetic.
Rouge-et-noir, a game of chance played with cards.
Rough-cast, roughly moulded; a kind of mortar containing gravel used as a coating for walls.
Rough-hewn, roughly shaped, unfinished.
Rough-riders, men who can ride horses which have not been broken in; irregular cavalry.
Roulette, a game of chance played with an ivory ball on a green table.
Roundelay, a song in which the various parts are repeated.
Roundhead, a name given to the Parliamentary soldiers in the time of Charles I.
Round-number, an approximate calculation, a rough estimate.
Round-robin, a written protest from a number of people to which their signatures are appended in the form of a circle.
Roup, a Scotch term for a sale by auction.
Rousing, having the power to rouse, startling.
Route, the road taken, the line of march.
Routine, the daily round of duties.
Rowan, the mountain ash.
Rowdyism, rough disorderly conduct.
Rowel, the sharp pointed wheel of a spur.
Rowlock, the groove on the side of a boat in which the oar rests.
Royalist, an advocate of the monarchical form of government; an adherent of the royal cause.
Royalty, the state of being royal; the royal family.
Rubescent, growing red, blushing.
Rubicon, the dividing line, the boundary line, named after a river in Italy.
Rubi'ginous, rust-coloured, mildewed.
Rubbing, friction; an impression obtained by rubbing from a brass or other engraved surface.
Rubi'go, mildew, a kind of rust on plants.
Rubric, the directions in the prayer-book for the conduct of services originally printed in red type.
Ruby (pl. rubies), a dark red transparent stone of great value.
Rudder, the blade of the steering apparatus; the handle is called the tiller.
Ruddiness, a red glow, a red complexion.
Rudiment, a first beginning, an element.
Rudimentary, elementary, embryonic.
Rueful, full of rue or sorrow, piteous.
Ruffianly, like a ruffian, brutal.
Rugose, wrinkled.
Rugosity, the state of being wrinkled.
Ruination, act of ruining; ruin.
Ruinous, causing ruin; in a ruined condition.
Ruminant, an animal that chews the cud.
Ruminate, to chew the cud; to ponder, reflect.
Rummage, a disorderly heap, a state of confusion or disorder.
Rumour, an unconfirmed report.
Rum-shrub, an alcoholic drink containing rum and lemon juice.
Runic, the old Gothic and Scandinavian writing or character.
Rupee, an Indian coin of varying value, nominally worth about two shillings, but actually worth considerably less.
Rupture, a breach; hernia (see Med. Dict.).
Rural, rustic, belonging to the country.
Ruridecanal, belonging to a rural dean.
Russ, Russian.
Russophile, a friend or lover of Russia.
Russophobia, fear of Russia.
Rustic, rural, countrified.
Rustication, the temporary banishment of a student from a university for misconduct.
Ruthless, merciless, pitiless.

Sabaoth, a Hebrew word meaning "hosts" or "armies."
Sabbatarian, one who observes the Sabbath strictly.
Sabbath, the day of rest.
Sable, a costly brown fur; black, dark in hue.
Sab'ot, a wooden shoe.
Sabre, a cavalry sword with a one-edged curved blade.
Sabretache, a leather pocket worn by a cavalry officer suspended from the belt.
Sabulous, sandy.
Saccharin, a substitute for sugar obtained from coal-tar.
Saccharine, of the nature of sugar.
Sacerdotal, belonging to the priesthood.
Sachet, a little packet of perfume, a scented case for gloves or handkerchiefs.
Sackcloth, coarse cloth of which sacks are made, once worn as a sign of mourning.
Sacramental, belonging to, or of the nature of, a sacrament.
Sacred, hallowed, holy.
Sacrifice, a victim slain and offered to a deity; the giving up of something for the benefit of another.
Sacrificial, belonging to a sacrifice.
Sacrilege, the act of profaning or laying violent hands upon some sacred object.
Sacrilegious, guilty of sacrilege, of the nature of sacrilege.
Sacring, consecrating.
Sacristan, a church official who has charge of the sacred vessels.
Sacristy, the chamber in which the sacred vessels of a church are kept.
Sacrosanct, peculiarly sacred.
Sacrum, the triangular bone at the lower end of the spinal column.
Saddlery, leather goods such as saddles and bridles.
Saddle-tree, the wooden framework of a saddle.
Sadducee, a member of a Jewish sect who maintained that there was no resurrection.
Safe-conduct, a permit to pass through a district in safety without being molested.
Safety-lamp, a lamp with a wire-gauze covering for use in mines where there may be dangerous gases.
Safety-valve, an escape valve for steam to relieve the strain of undue pressure.
Saffron, a deep yellow dye obtained from a kind of crocus.
Saga, a national story embodying the early history of the Scandinavian nations.
Sagacious, intelligent, shrewd, discerning.
Sagacity, shrewdness, intelligence.
Sagittate, arrow-headed.
Sahara, a sandy desert in the north of Africa.
Sahib, a title of respect applied by natives of India to Europeans.
Saint Simonism, a socialistic system named after its originator, Count de St. Simon.
Saintliness, saintly conduct, holiness of life.
Salaam, "Peace," an Eastern word of greeting.
Salacious, lustful.
Salamander, a metal utensil for browning meat; a fabulous animal supposed to live in flames.
Salangane, a swift that builds an edible nest.
Salaried, endowed with a salary.
Salary, regular payment for services rendered.
Saleable, fit for sale, able to be sold.
Salesman, a shopman.
Salient, prominent, striking; any angle less than two right angles.

Sali'ne, having the properties of salt, consisting of salt.
Sali'va, the fluid secreted in the mouth.
Salle-à-manger, a dining-room.
Sallow, pale yellowish white; a kind of willow.
Sally (pl. sallies), the act of rushing out unexpectedly upon the enemy.
Sally-port, a gate in a fortress through which a sally may be made.
Salmagundi, a savoury dish of several ingredients, a medley.
Salmon, a fish with deep pink flesh.
Saloon, a large reception room.
Saltation, a leaping or bounding.
Saltire, a diagonal cross.
Salt-junk, hard salt beef, a staple article of sailors' diet.
Salt-pan, a shallow pan in which salt is obtained from sea-water by evaporation.
Saltpetre, a compound of nitric acid and potash.
Salubrious, beneficial to health.
Salutary, wholesome, morally beneficial.
Salutation, a greeting.
Salute, to greet, to offer a formal greeting to.
Salvage, money paid by the owner of goods to those not in his employment for saving them from fire or shipwreck.
Salvation, the act of saving; safety, redemption.
Salve, ointment.
Salver, a tray.
Salvo, a volley fired as a salute.
Sal-volatile, salts of ammonia.
Samaritan, a native of Samaria, a charitable person.
Samian, belonging to the island of Samos; a kind of earthenware.
Samite, a heavy rich silk fabric.
Samovar, a Russian tea urn.
Sample, a representative specimen.
Sampler, a piece of canvas embroidered in cross-stitch with the alphabet and name and age of the worker.
Sanatorium, an institution to which people resort for medical treatment.
Sanatory, connected with health, healthful.
Sanctify, to make holy.
Sanctimonious, affectedly pious.
Sanctimony, an affectation of piety.
Sanction, permission.
Sanctity, holiness.
Sanctuary, a sacred building; a place of refuge.
Sanctum, a private room.
Sanctus-bell, a bell rung at the sacring of the mass.
Sandal, a shoe consisting of a sole furnished with straps for binding on the foot.
Sand-bag, a bag of sand used as a protection against the enemy's fire.
Sand-blast, sand propelled by a current of air against a glass or metal surface to mark it.
Sand-blind, semi blind, purblind.
Sandwich, two slices of bread and butter put together with a layer of meat, etc., between.
Sang-froid, coolness, calmness, freedom from agitation.
Sanguinary, involving much bloodshed.
Sanguineous, like blood, sanguine.
Sanguin'olent, sanguine, blood red.
Sanhedrin, the national council of the Jews.
Sanitary, relating to health, health-promoting.
Sanitation, the arrangements for keeping houses in a wholesome condition by the removal of waste products.
Sanity, the state of being sane, soundness of mind.
Sanscrit, the ancient language of India, now a dead language.
Sans-culotte, a republican at the time of the French Revolution.
Santon, a dervish.
Sapient, wise.
Saponaceous, soapy.
Sapor, taste or flavour.
Sapper, a soldier who saps or mines, a soldier in the Royal Engineers.
Sapphire, a transparent gem of a rich blue colour.
Saraband, a stately Spanish dance.
Saracen, a name formerly given to the Mohammedans of Palestine and Arabia.
Sarcasm, biting satire or irony.
Sarcastic, caustic, ironical, bitterly satirical.
Sarcenet, a thin silk.
Sarcoph'agus, a stone coffin.
Sard, a deep red variety of quartz.
Sardine, a small fish much used for food preserved in oil.
Sardon'ic, bitterly mirthful.
Sargasso, a sea-weed which has given its name to the Sargasso Sea, a portion of the Atlantic.
Sartorial, belonging to a tailor's craft.
Sassafras, a North American aromatic shrub possessing medicinal properties.
Sassenach, the Highland name for a Saxon.
Satanic, belonging to Satan, fiendish, diabolical.
Satchel, a little sack or bag, generally worn suspended by a strap.
Sateen, a cotton material with a glossy surface like satin.
Satellite, a small orb which revolves round a larger planet; one who always follows in the wake of another.
Sati'ety, surfeit, repletion.
Satirical, sarcastic, ironical.
Satirist, one skilled in satire, a writer of satire.
Satisfaction, contentment; amends, reparation.
Satisfactory, giving satisfaction.
Satisfying, productive of satisfaction, appeasing hunger.
Satrap, a Persian title for the ruler of a province.
Saturate, to steep or soak thoroughly.
Saturnalia, a festival of Saturn, a wild unrestrained revel.
Sat'urnine, gloomy in disposition.
Satyr, a mythological woodland deity half man half goat, a wanton person.
Saucer, a shallow basin to hold a cup.
Sauciness, pertness, impertinence.
Sauer-kraut, a dish common in Germany made of a preparation of fermented cabbage.
Saunterer, one who strolls along in a leisurely manner.
Saurian, a scaly reptile such as the lizard and crocodile.
Sausage, a skin filled with meat chopped and seasoned.
Savagery, the state of being uncivilized or barbarous.
Savanna, one of the treeless plains of North America.
Savant, a learned man.
Saveloy, a kind of sausage.
Saviour, one who saves, the Redeemer.
Savoir-faire, the knowledge of how to act in social matters, readiness, tact.
Savoir-vivre, the knowledge of how to behave, good-breeding.
Savory, an aromatic herb resembling thyme.
Savour, taste, flavour.
Savouriness, state of being savoury or pleasing to the taste.
Savoyard, an Italian organ-grinder.
Saw, a proverbial saying or maxim; a toothed implement for sawing.
Sawyer, one who saws.
Saxifrage, a kind of rock plant.
Scabbard, sword sheath.
Scaffolding, a temporary erection of planks and wooden poles.
Scagliola, a kind of plaster polished and coloured so as to resemble marble.
Scald, a Scandinavian poet who in olden times recited his songs on great occasions.
Scale-beam, the beam of a scale or balance.
Scalene, a triangle having its sides and angles unequal.
Scaling-ladder, a ladder used in scaling an enemy's wall.
Scallop or scollop, a shell-fish with two fan-shaped and fluted shells.
Scalpel, a small surgical knife.
Scan, to scrutinize; to divide a line of poetry into feet and mark the accented syllables.
Scandalize, to shock.
Scandal-monger, one who retails scandal.
Scandalous, shameful, outrageous.
Scandinavian, belonging to Scandinavia (Norway and Sweden).
Scansion, the division of a line of poetry into metrical feet and the marking of the accented syllables or the quantities (in classical verse).
Scantiness, scarcity.
Scantling, a little bit, a small portion.
Scape-goat, a goat which was annually sent away into the wilderness by the Jewish High Priest after the sins of the people had been symbolically laid upon it; one who suffers for the sins of another.
Scapula, a shoulder-blade.
Scapular, a monastic garment worn on the shoulders.
Scarab or scarabee, a beetle, a jewel cut in the shape of a beetle.
Scarcity, dearth.
Scare-crow, a grotesque figure set up to scare the crows; any person dressed in an unsightly manner.
Scarf, a long strip of silk, lace or wool for wearing round the neck.
Scarlatina, a contagious fever characterized by a scarlet rash.
Scarlet, bright red.
Scarp, a steep incline.
Scarpines, instruments of torture for the feet.
Scathe, harm, injury.
Scaur, a steep rocky cliff.
Scavenger, a street cleaner.
Scene-painter, one who paints stage scenery.
Scenery, a view, landscape.
Scenic, belonging to a scene, dramatic.
Scent, odour; sense of smell.
Sceptic, a disbeliever.
Scepticism, a state of disbelief.
Sceptre, a rod used as a symbol of sovereignty.
Schedule, a list, catalogue.
Scheme, a plan, design.
Scheming, planning, designing.
Scherzo, a lively movement forming part of a musical composition.
Schiedam, a kind of gin.
Schism, a sundering, division, a breach of unity in religious matters.
Schismatic, one guilty of schism, a heretic.
Schist, rock such as slate composed of plates or layers one above another.
Schnapps, a kind of gin.
Scholar, a learned and cultured person; a pupil; one who holds a scholarship.
Scholastic, belonging to learning.
Scholasticism, a love of abstruse and subtle criticism.
Scholiast, one of the early commentators on the classics.
Scholium, a critical note on the ancient classics by one of the early commentators.
Schooner, a swift sailing vessel with two or three masts.
Schottische, a dance something like a polka.
Sciagraphy, the art of shading correctly or delineating shadows; a design showing a vertical section of a building; the art of telling the hour by means of the shadow of the sun.
Sciatica, (see Med. Dict.).
Science, knowledge, systematic knowledge arrived at by a series of close observations and experiments.
Scientif'ic, belonging to science, in accordance with science.
Sci'entist, one who is versed in science or occupied in scientific investigation.
Scimitar, a curved and single-edged Eastern sword.
Scintillate, to sparkle, to emit sparks.
Sciolism, superficial knowledge.
Sciolist, one who has a superficial knowledge of many subjects.
Sciomachy, a fighting with shadows, a vain strife.
Sciomancy, the attempt to prophesy by means of the shades of the dead.
Scion, graft, shoot; offspring, descendant.
Scission, a sundering, division.
Scissors, a two-bladed steel implement for cutting.
Scoffer, one who mocks or jeers.
Sconce, a bracket to hold a candle; a small fort.
Scorbu'tic, suffering from scurvy.
Scorch, to parch, to singe; to ride a bicycle at a dangerous speed.
Score, a notch, the number twenty; the reckoning; a register of the points gained in a game; the manuscript or printed reproduction of a piece of music; to make a deep line or groove.
Scoriaceous, like cinders from a volcano.
Scornful, contemptuous.
Scorpion, a reptile with lobster-shaped claws and a powerful sting.
Scot, one of Scotch race; a tax or contribution.
Scotch, belonging to Scotland (see Scottish.)
Scot-free, free from payment of scot.
Scotticism, an idiom or form of speech peculiar to Scotland.
Scottish, a form preferable to Scotch, as Scotsman is to Scotchman.
Scoundrel, a rascal, villain.
Scour, to make clean by friction; to traverse hastily.
Scourge, a whip of leather thongs; a plague.
Scout, to go out to obtain information about the enemy; to reject contemptuously.
Scowl, an angry frown.
Scrabble, to scrawl; to scratch; to withdraw from competition.
Scragginess, leanness.
Scrannel, thin, piping, squeaking.
Scrap-iron, bits of old iron for melting down again.
Scratch, to scrape the surface; to scrape together.
Scrawl, to write carelessly.
Scream, to utter a sharp shrill cry.
Screech, to utter a harsh scream.
Screed, a long wordy written narrative.
Screen, to conceal by means of a movable partition; to shelter; to sift.
Screenings, dust or refuse left behind after sifting.
Screes, loose shale which collects on the side of a mountain.
Screw-propeller, a revolving fan-wheel by the working of which a steamship is propelled.
Screw-steamer, a steamer driven by a screw.
Scribbler, one who writes hurriedly and carelessly.
Scribe, a copyist; one of a sect of teachers of the Jewish law.
Scrimmage, a tussle, a mêlée.
Scrimp, to stint, to eke out.
Scrip, a stock certificate; a small bag.
Scriptural, in accordance with, or belonging to, Scripture.
Scrivener, a professional copyist.
Scrofula, a disease once known as king's evil.
Scrofulous, affected with scrofula.
Scrutineer, one appointed to examine and count votes.
Scrutinize, to look closely at.
Scrutiny, a careful survey, a close investigation.
Scud, to run along, or to be carried along swiftly; a driven cloud.

Scull, to row with short oars or sculls.
Scullion, a kitchen boy.
Sculpsit, "carved" or "engraved," a word preceded by the name of the sculptor, on a statue.
Sculptor, an artist who carves images in stone or marble.
Sculptural, belonging to or resembling sculpture.
Scum, froth which rises and settles on the surface of a liquid.
Scumble, to temper the effect of a colour by covering it with a thin wash of another colour.
Scupper, a hole in the side of a vessel through which water may be drained off the deck.
Scurf, dandriff.
Scurrile, using vulgar offensive language.
Scurrility, offensive language, low abuse.
Scurrilous, using unseemly and offensive language.
Scurry, to hurry, to bustle about.
Scurvily, shabbily, meanly.
Scurvy-grass, grass possessing medicinal properties useful in cases of scurvy.
Scutch, to beat flax in order to separate the woody parts of the stalks.
Scutcheon, a shield emblazoned with a device.
Scutiform, shield-shaped.
Scuttle, to sink a ship by cutting a hole in the bottom; a coal-box.
Scuttle-butt, a cask specially constructed for holding the daily supply of fresh water used on board ship.
Scythe, a sharp curved iron blade with a long handle for mowing.
Sea-board, a strip of land bordering on the coast line.
Sea-coal, coal, as distinct from charcoal.
Sea-cow, a term applied to huge sea beasts like the walrus.
Sea-farer, a traveller by sea.
Sea-faring, going to sea.
Sea-girt, surrounded or girded by the sea.
Sea-island, a term applied to cotton grown on the islands off the coasts of Georgia, South Carolina, and Florida.
Sea-level, the level of the surface of the ocean.
Sealing-wax, a resinous substance used for sealing letters.
Seamanship, the art of navigation.
Seamstress, a woman who earns her living by needlework.
Seamy, full of seams; squalid; the under or worst (side of anything).
Seance, a sitting or meeting, especially of spiritualists.
Sea-nymph, a sea-maiden, a goddess of the sea.
Sea-piece, a painting of the sea, a seascape.
Sear, yellow, withered; to brand with a hot iron.
Searching, thorough.
Search-warrant, a legal warrant authorising an officer of the law to search premises for stolen property or incriminating documents.
Seascape, a sea-piece, a painting of the sea.
Seasonable, befitting the season, appropriate.
Season-ticket, a ticket available for frequent use for a fixed period.
Sea-way, the head-way made by a vessel in its course.
Sea-worthy, in proper repair for a voyage.
Sebaceous, excreting an oily substance.
Secede, to withdraw from membership of some association, or from adherence to some cause.
Secession, the act of withdrawing from membership.
Seclude, to place in retirement.
Seclusion, a state of retirement.
Secondary, minor, less important, subordinate.
Second-cousins, the children of first cousins.
Seconder, one who supports a motion proposed by another.
Seconds, an inferior quality of flour; those who support the principals in a duel; the lower part of a song.
Second-sight, the supposed power of seeing into the future attributed by some to the Scottish Highlanders.
Secrecy, concealment, reserve.
Secret, hidden, concealed.
Secretarial, belonging to a secretary.
Secretariate, the office or position of a secretary.
Secretary-bird, a kind of crane with a tufted crest suggestive of pens behind the ear.
Secrete, to store up secretly; to separate some product from the blood or from some other circulating fluid.
Secretion, a substance secreted by a gland.
Secretiveness, a tendency to be secret and reserved.
Sect, a body of persons holding peculiar views about religion.
Sectarian, belonging to a sect, a bigoted partisan of a sect.
Sectary, a member of a sect.
Sectile, able to be cut.
Section, a piece cut off; a division.
Secular, belonging to this world, not spiritual.
Secularist, one who devotes himself to this world only; one who wishes to separate secular from religious education.
Secularize, to make secular.
Secure, safe, sure.
Security, safety; a guarantee.
Sedan'-chair, a popular carriage of a century ago consisting of a covered chair for one person, borne on poles.
Sedate, grave, composed, dignified.
Sed'ative, a composing draught.
Sed'entary, involving much sitting.
Sedilia, seats in a recess in the walls of a chancel.
Sediment, that which settles at the bottom of a vessel containing a liquid; dregs, grounds, lees.
Sedimentary, of the nature of sediment.
Sedition, disloyal conduct, revolt against the authority of the State.
Seditious, disaffected, disloyal.
Seduce, to entice away, to allure to evil.
Seductive, alluring, enticing.
Sedu'lity, diligent application.
Sed'ulous, persistently industrious.
Seediness, shabbiness; the state of being out of sorts.
Seemliness, that which is seemly or becoming.
Seethe, to boil.
Segregation, separation, isolation.
Seguidilla, a Spanish dance.
Seigneur, a lord.
Seigniorial, belonging to a lord, lordly.
Seismol'ogy, the science of earthquakes.
Seismom'etry, the art of measuring the intensity of earthquakes.
Seize, to take possession of forcibly.
Seizin, the act of taking legal possession.
Seizure, the act of taking forcible possession of.
Selection, a choice.
Selenology, the science of the moon.
Self-assertion, assertiveness, self-importance.
Self-confidence, a belief in self, self-assurance.
Self-conscious, unduly sensitive as to the impression one makes on others.
Self-contained, reserved.
Self-control, self-restraint; moderation.
Self-denial, the refusal to indulge oneself.
Self-esteem, a high opinion of oneself.
Self-important, pompous, puffed up.
Self-indulgence, excessive indulgence of self.
Self-interest, one's own personal advantage.
Selfish, loving self unduly.
Self-possession, the possession of one's faculties in times of difficulty or emergency.
Self-reliant, having confidence in oneself.
Self-righteous, virtuous in one's own opinion, pharisaical.
Self-sacrifice, a giving up of oneself for others.
Self-same, the very same.
Self-sufficiency, the state of being independent of others, self-confidence.
Self-willed, determined to have one's own way, obstinate.
Selvedge or selvage, the woven border or edge of a fabric.
Semaphore, a signal post with arms.
Sematology, the study of communicating by signs.
Semblance, likeness, outward resemblance.
Semeiology, the science of signs or symptoms.
Semination, the act of sowing, propagation.
Semibreve, a musical note equivalent in length to two minims or four crotchets.
Semicircle, a half-circle.
Semicolon, a punctuation mark representing a pause of half the length of a colon.
Semicolumnar, like a half-column in shape, flat on one side and rounded on the other.
Semi-detached, (of a villa) detached from other houses on one side.
Seminal, belonging to seed, germinal.
Sem'inarist, an English Roman Catholic priest trained in a foreign seminary.
Seminary, a school, place of instruction.
Semi-official, partially official.
Semit'ic, belonging to the descendants of Shem, a race including the Hebrews.
Semolina, a farinaceous food consisting of granules of wheat flour.
Semper eadem, "always the same."
Semper paratus, "always ready."
Sempervirent, evergreen.
Sempiternal, everlasting.
Senate, an upper legislative assembly; the title of the governing body of certain universities.
Senatorial, belonging to a senate.
Senes'cent, growing old.
Seneschal, an official who had the management of affairs in some great household in former times.
Senile, belonging to, or characteristic of, old age.
Senior, the elder.
Seniority, superiority in age or position.
Senna, a medicinal herb used as an aperient medicine.
Sensational, causing sensation, startling, melodramatic.
Senseless, foolish.
Sensibility, susceptibility, sensitiveness to impressions; common sense, wisdom.
Sensitive, keenly alive to impressions, having delicate perceptions.
Sensitive-plant, a kind of mimosa whose leaves shrink when touched.
Sensitize, to render sensitive to the chemical action of rays of light.
Sensual, under the dominion of the senses, carnal.
Sensuality, sensual indulgence, voluptuousness.
Sensuous, sensitive to impressions received through the senses.
Sententious, full of proverbial wisdom, didactic.
Sentient, alive to physical impressions.
Sentimental, full of affected sentiment.
Sentimentality, the affectation of high-flown feelings.
Sentinel, a watchman, a sentry.
Sentry, a soldier on guard.
Separable, able to be separated.
Separatist, one who withdraws from his Church or political party, a dissenter.
Sepia, brown colouring matter obtained from a species of cuttle-fish.
Sepoy, a native soldier in the British Indian army.
Septenary, happening every seven years, lasting seven years.
Septen'trional, northern.
Septett, a musical composition for seven voices or instruments.
Septuagesima, the third Sunday before Lent.
Septuagint, the Greek translation of the Old Testament made at Alexandria in the third century B.C. by seventy-two translators.
Sepul'chral, belonging to a sepulchre, ghostly, funereal.
Sepulchre, place of burial, tomb.
Sep'ulture, the act of burying.
Sequel, that which follows, the issue, continuation.
Sequence, regular order or succession.
Sequester, to withdraw or seclude; to confiscate.
Sequestration, confiscation.
Seraglio, an Eastern harem, the women's apartments.
Serai (se-ri'), an Eastern palace, an inn for travellers in the East.
Seraph (pl. seraphs or seraphim), an angel belonging to the highest of the angelic orders.
Seraph'ic, like a seraph, angelic.
Serb, Servian.
Sere or sear, yellow, withered; to scorch.
Serenade, the musical address of a lover to his mistress performed under her window at night.
Serene, calm, clear, unruffled.
Seren'ity, calmness, clearness, tranquillity.
Serf, one bound to the soil, a bondman.
Sergeant or serjeant, a non-commissioned officer ranking above a corporal.
Sergeant-major, a non-commissioned officer of the highest rank.
Serial, belonging to a series; a story that appears in parts at regular intervals.
Seriatim, in successive order, one after another.
Sericulture, the rearing of silkworms.
Series, a regular succession or sequence governed by a fixed law, or in accordance with certain principles of classification.
Serio-comic, having grave and humorous elements.
Serious, grave, momentous; solemn.
Sermonize, to lecture, moralize.
Serpentine, winding, meandering; a stone used for ornamental purposes consisting of a silicate of magnesia.
Serration, saw-like indentation.
Serried, in dense array.
Serum, the fluid which separates from blood clot.
Serviceable, useful, profitable.
Serviette, a table-napkin.
Servile, slavish, obsequious, cringing.
Servility, slavish cringing.
Servitor, a servant, attendant.
Servitude, a state of bondage or slavery.
Sesame (am-e), an Arabian plant with an oily seed; 'Open Sesame,' the magic pass-word in the tale of Ali Baba, hence denoting an infallible means of solving a difficulty.
Sesquipedalian, consisting of a metrical foot and a half, a term applied to very long words.
Session, a sitting, the period during which Parliament sits without prorogation; an academic year.
Setaceous, having bristles; resembling bristles.
Setose, bristly.
Settee, a seat with a back for two or three persons; a kind of brigantine used in the Mediterranean.
Several, many, separate, distinct.
Severe, stern, stringent, strict.
Severity, sternness, strictness, austerity.
Sèvres, a costly china named after the place near Paris where it is made.
Sewage, waste products carried off by sewers.
Sewer, an underground channel for drainage.

Sewing-machine, a machine for saving hand-labour in sewing and worked either by means of a handle or a treadle.
Sex, the natural distinction between male and female.
Sexagenarian, a person who has reached the age of sixty.
Sexagesima, the second Sunday before Lent.
Sextant, an instrument used for the measurement of angular distances.
Sexton, a subordinate official who has charge of a church and churchyard, a grave-digger.
Sexual, relating to sex.
Shabbiness, dinginess; meanness.
Shabrack, the saddle-cloth of a cavalry soldier.
Shadoof, a simple contrivance for raising water by means of a bucket attached to a long pole which acts as a lever, commonly used on the banks of the Nile.
Shadowy, like a shadow, dim, unsubstantial.
Shagreen, a grained leather obtained from certain skins.
Shako, a plumed circular cap worn by an infantry soldier.
Shale, loose slaty rock.
Shallop, a light skiff, a fishing smack.
Shallot', a kind of onion.
Shamanism, a religion involving the belief in magic prevalent among the non-Aryan races of the north-east of Asia.
Shambles, a slaughter-house.
Shamefaced, shy, modest.
Shampoo, to apply friction to the head or body after bathing with or in hot water.
Shamrock, a plant with a clover-shaped leaf which is the national emblem of Ireland.
Shandrydan, a jolting two-wheeled Irish cart drawn by one horse.
Sha'n't, a contracted form of "shall not."
Shapeliness, comeliness, symmetry.
Shard, a broken piece of pottery, a potsherd; the hard case which protects a beetle's wings.
Share-broker, a dealer in shares.
Shareholder, one who holds shares in a company.
Sharp-shooter, a rifleman who is skilled in shooting.
Shatter, to shiver, to break to pieces.
Shawl, a warm covering for the shoulders.
Shawm, an ancient musical instrument, a pipe of reeds.
Sheaf (pl. sheaves), a bundle, especially a bundle of grain.
Shealing or shieling, a little hut or shanty.
Shearing, the process of clipping the wool of a sheep.
Shearling, a sheep that has been sheared for the first time.
Sheathe, to put into a sheath or scabbard.
Shebeen, an unlicensed house where alcoholic drinks are sold.
Sheen, brightness, lustre.
Sheep-walk, a grazing-place for sheep.
Sheer-hulk, an old dismasted ship supporting a kind of crane for hoisting masts.
Sheers, a kind of crane for hoisting or lowering masts.
Sheet-anchor, a ship's main anchor.
Sheet-lightning, lightning which flashes over a broad expanse as opposed to forked lightning.
Sheik, an Arab chief.
Shekel, a Hebrew word indicating a weight of about half an ounce, or a coin worth about half-a-crown.
Shellac, a clear resinous substance used as varnish.
Shelterless, without shelter.
Shelve, to put on the shelf, lay aside; to slope downward.
Shepherd, one who tends sheep.
Sherbet, an effervescing summer drink.
Sheriff, the chief magistrate of a county.
Sherry, a white wine named from Xeres where it is made.
Shib'boleth, the test-word by the pronunciation of which Jephthah distinguished between friend and foe, hence, the language peculiar to a party.
Shield, a piece of defensive armour which soldiers used to carry on the left arm.
Shillelah, an Irish name for a cudgel.
Shingles, a skin disease which appears as a half girdle round the waist.
Shiny, glossy, lustrous.
Ship-broker, an agent who negotiates the sale of ships.
Shipment, the act of putting on board ship.
Shipping, a collection of ships; all that concerns ships.
Ship's-husband, the agent employed by the owner of a vessel to look after its repairs and see that it is furnished with all necessaries.
Shivering, shaking, quivering; shattering.
Shoal, a vast throng, a crowd (especially of fishes); a shallow, a sand-bank.
Shock, the nervous exhaustion following upon a sudden and painful emotion, the vibration caused by a violent collision; the effect produced by an electric stimulus; a number of sheaves of corn standing together.
Shoddy, coarse inferior cloth made of old woollen material re-woven; worthless trash.
Shoemaker, one who makes and repairs boots and shoes.
Shooting-box, a small house temporarily occupied during the shooting season.
Shooting-star, a meteor.
Shop-lifter, one who lifts or steals goods from shops.
Shop-walker, a shop official who conducts customers to the various departments and sees that they are properly served.
Shore, the sea-shore, coast, beach; to prop up with beams.
Short-circuit, the path of least resistance between two points of a circuit.
Shorthand, a system of rapid reporting with the help of symbols which represent words and phrases.
Short-horn, a special breed of cattle.
Short-sighted, able to see for only a short distance; unable to look ahead.
Shot tower, an elevated place from which shot is made by dropping molten lead through a sieve into the water below.
Shovel-hat, a soft felt hat with a low crown and broad brim.
Shoveller, a species of duck with a broad bill.
Showiness, gaudiness.
Shrewd, sagacious, acute.
Shrewish, waspish, ill-tempered, vixenish.
Shriek, a shrill scream.
Shrievalty, the office or position of a sheriff.
Shrift, confession and absolution.
Shrill, high-pitched, piercing.
Shrine, the tomb of a saint, a casket containing sacred relics.
Shrive, to administer absolution after hearing a confession.
Shrove-Tuesday, the Tuesday before Ash Wednesday.
Shrubbery, a plantation.
Shrunken, shrivelled, diminished in size.
Shuddering, shivering with horror or repulsion.
Shunt, to turn the wheels of a car from one line on to another.
Shyly, in a shy or timid manner.
Siamese, belonging to Siam.
Siberia, a vast tract of country in the north of Asia belonging to Russia.
Sibilant, having a hissing sound like the letters s and z.
Sibyl, a prophetess of classical mythology who under the influence of the god Apollo was inspired to utter oracles.
Sibylline, prophetic, oracular.
Siccative, having the property of drying.
Sickle, a reaping-hook.
Sickliness, unhealthiness, delicacy.
Sick-list, a list of those who are ill.
Sideboard, a piece of dining-room furniture standing on one side of the room for holding dishes and decanters.
Side-dish, an extra dish, an entrée.
Sidelong, in a slanting direction, towards the side.
Sidereal, belonging to the stars.
Sidesman, one who shares the duties of a churchwarden.
Side-wind, a wind blowing from one side; an indirect rumour.
Siding, a railway line by the side of the main line used for shunting.
Sidle, to nestle up to the side, to move sideways.
Siege, a blockade of a fortified place.
Siege-train, the necessary apparatus for conducting a siege.
Sienna, a reddish brown colouring matter.
Sierra, a Spanish name for a mountain range.
Sies'ta, an afternoon nap.
Sieve, a utensil for sifting.
Sigh, a long deep breath expressing sorrow or relief.
Sigillaria, the name of a genus of fossil plants.
Sightliness, comeliness.
Signal, a sign; striking, remarkable.
Signalize, to render memorable.
Signatory, one who signs a document as a pledge that he will abide by its provisions.
Signature, the name of a person written by his own hand.
Signet, a seal, an instrument for sealing.
Significance, the thing signified, the bearing, the importance.
Signification, the act of indicating; the meaning.
Signify, to indicate; to matter.
Sign-manual, signature, the signature of the sovereign.
Sikh, a member of a warlike race in the north of India.
Silence, absence of sound, absence of speech.
Silhouette, a black profile portrait.
Silica, an oxide of silicon such as quartz and flint.
Silkworm, a worm from whose cocoon silk is obtained.
Sillabub, a dish consisting of milk curdled with wine or cider.
Silliness, foolishness.
Silvan or sylvan, belonging to the woods, woodland.
Silvery, like silver.
Simian, ape-like.
Similarity, resemblance, likeness.
Simile, a comparison of things generally unlike which resemble each other in some particular.
Similitude, likeness; comparison, figure.
Simony, the sin of buying or selling the presentation to a sacred office.
Simoom, a fierce hot wind from the desert prevalent in the north of Africa.
Simpering, smiling in an affected manner.
Simplicity, guilelessness; freedom from ostentation.
Simplification, the act of making clear and simple, or less complex.
Simula'crum, an image, a phantom.
Simulation, a deceptive pretence of what does not really exist.
Simultaneous, happening at the same moment.
Sinapism, a mustard-plaster.
Sincere, true, genuine.
Sincerity, genuineness, reality.
Sinecure, a paid appointment with merely nominal duties.
Sine die, an adjournment "without a day" being named.
Sine quâ non, an essential condition.
Sinewy, brawny, stalwart.
Singe, to scorch.
Single-minded, sincere in intention.
Single-stick, a method of fencing with sticks; a stick so used.
Singular, single, relating to one; peculiar, strange.
Singularity, peculiarity, eccentricity.
Sinister, "left-handed," boding ill, ill-omened.
Sinless, without sin.
Sinologue, one skilled in the Chinese language.
Sinuate, wavy, winding.
Sinuosity, the property of being winding.
Sinuous, winding.
Siphon, a bent tube with a long and short arm for drawing off a liquid over the edge of a vessel.
Sirdar, the title of the commander-in-chief of the Egyptian army.
Sire, a title of respect used in addressing a sovereign.
Siren, one of the sea-nymphs of classical mythology who lured the passing voyager to his death by their songs of bewitching sweetness.
Sirloin, the upper part of a loin of beef.
Sirocco, a hot and often dust-laden wind which blows over Italy from the south.
Sirrah, a modification of the word "sir," an angry and chiding form of address.
Site, the position or situation of a building.
Sitology, the science relating to diet.
Situate, situated, located.
Sitz-bath, a bath taken sitting, a hip-bath.
Sixteenmo, sexto-decimo, the size of a book consisting of leaves formed by folding each sheet into sixteen equal parts.
Sizable, of reasonable or fitting size.
Sizar, a student belonging to the Cambridge or Dublin University who is received on lower terms than ordinary students.
Skean-dhu, the knife stuck in the stocking which is a characteristic feature of the Highland dress.
Skein, a knot of yarn, silk or thread.
Skeleton-key, a key so constructed that it can pick locks.
Sketchiness, the quality of being indicated slightly in mere outline.
Skew-bald, having white and coloured spots.
Skewer, a pin made of wood or iron for trussing poultry or keeping meat in shape.
Skilful, expert.
Skimming, passing lightly over the surface; removing what rises to the surface of a liquid.
Skirmish, a slight and irregular encounter between small parties of two opposing forces.
Skittles, a game played with nine-pins in a long covered alley.
Skull-cap, a cap fitting close to the head.
Skunk, a kind of otter which has a very offensive smell; its fur; a mean, low person.
Sky-larking, indulging in frolicsome pranks.
Slake, to assuage, quench; to moisten with water.
Slanderous, defamatory, calumnious.
Slang, terms invented and popularly used but not recognized as belonging to the language.
Slate, a laminated rock, thin plates of which are used for roofing and for writing-tablets; to scold, chide.
Slatternly, like a slattern or sloven.
Slaughter, the act of slaying, carnage.
Slaughterous, murderous.
Slav, one of the Slavonic race to which Russians, Poles, and Bohemians belong.
Slavery, bondage.
Slave-trade, traffic in slaves.
Slayer, one who slays, a destroyer.
Sleepiness, drowsiness.
Sleeve, that part of a garment which covers the arm.
Sleigh, a sledge or wheelless carriage for sliding over snowy ground.
Sleight, skilful manipulation, dexterity.

Sleuth-hound, a blood-hound.
Sliding-rule, a mathematical instrument for aiding calculation, consisting of two graduated parts which can slide along one another.
Slight, insignificant, trifling; slender; a mark of disregard or contempt.
Sliminess, the quality of being slimy or sticky.
Slippery, causing to slip owing to its smooth surface; unreliable, not to be depended on.
Slogan, the ancient battle-cry of the Scottish Highlanders.
Sloop, a light one-masted vessel.
Sloth, indolence, sluggishness.
Slough, a miry place, a bog.
Slough, a skin which is cast.
Slovenliness, slatternliness, untidiness.
Slow-worm, a kind of lizard.
Sloyd, a Swedish system of technical instruction.
Sluggard, a slothful person who is fond of lying in bed.
Sluice, a movable barrier for shutting off or admitting a stream of water; a violent rush of water.
Slumbering, sleeping, dormant.
Sluttish, like a slut, dirty and slovenly.
Small-arms, rifles and other light weapons that can be carried by hand.
Small-bore, of small calibre (used of a gun), small in the barrel.
Small-clothes, tight knee-breeches.
Smaragdus, an emerald.
Smattering, a mere superficial or trifling knowledge.
Smelling-salts, salts of ammonia.
Smiling, showing pleasure by the expression of the countenance, especially of the mouth.
Smirch, to make smutty, to smear.
Smirk, a forced unnatural smile.
Smock-frock, a kind of coarse linen over-all worn by agricultural labourers in some parts of England.
Smoking, the act of emitting fumes of smoke, the act of inhaling and emitting tobacco smoke.
Smooth-bore, a gun with a smooth barrel.
Smother, to stifle, to suffocate.
Smoulder, to burn away slowly without flame.
Smug, wearing a self-satisfied expression.
Smuggling, unlawfully importing or exporting goods secretly in order to evade the import and export duties.
Smut, a fragment of soot, a black; a kind of mildew which attacks some plants.
Snaffle-bit, a light slender bit attached to a bridle which crosses the nose.
Snap-dragon, the plant known as antirrhinum; a Christmas pastime consisting in snatching raisins out of a dish of burning brandy and eating them.
Snappish, irritable.
Snap-shot, an instantaneous photograph.
Snare, a running noose for entrapping animals; something which entraps or beguiles.
Sneak, a mean cowardly tell-tale or thief.
Sneeze, a noisy and convulsive involuntary emission of air through the nose.
Snivelling, whining, whimpering.
Snobbism or Snobbery, vulgar imitation of persons of high station.
Snooze, to doze.
Snow-line, the line of perpetual snow.
Snuffer, a kind of scissors for snuffing wicks.
Snuggery, a cosy retreat, sanctum.
Soaking, steeping, saturating.
Soap-boiler, a manufacturer of soap.
Soar, to fly to a great height, to mount aloft.
Sobri'ety, soberness.
Sobriquet, a nickname; an assumed name.
Soc, the right of holding a court in a certain district.
Soccage, land tenure by virtue of definite service.
Sociable, fond of society, of a friendly disposition.
Socialism, the theory that all men should be on an equal footing in point of wealth and property.
Socially, with reference to society.
Society, an association of persons for some common aim.
Socinian, an adherent of the doctrines of Socinus who denied the divinity of Christ.
Sociology, the science of the origin and development of human society.
Socratic, belonging to Socrates.
Sofa, a couch.
Soffit, an ornamental ceiling formed by the under part of a balcony or staircase; the under part of an arch.
Soi-disant, so called by himself, self-styled.
Soirée, an evening reception or entertainment, a conversazione.
Sojourn, to stay, abide, tarry.
Solace, a source of consolation.
Solar, belonging to the sun.
Soldiery, a collective term for soldiers.
Sole, a choice flat fish; single, only.
Solecism, a grammatical error, a social error, an impropriety.
Solemnity, gravity, seriousness; a solemn rite.
Solemnization, the celebration of a solemn rite.
Sol-fa, to sing the notes of the musical scale.
Solfeggio, the act of practising the notes of the musical scale.
Solicit, to entreat.
Solicitor, a lawyer, an advocate.
Solicitor-general, a crown lawyer who ranks next to the attorney-general.
Solicitous, anxious, concerned.
Solicitude, a feeling of concern or anxiety.
Solidarity, a unity based upon mutual interests or joint responsibility.
Solidungulate, having an uncloven hoof.
Soliloquize, to give expression to one's thoughts when alone.
Soliloquy (pl. soliloquies), the act of talking aloud to oneself.
Solitaire, a stud; a game to be played by one person with marbles on a board.
Solitary, alone, lonely.
Solitude, the state of being alone; a lonely place.
Solstice, one of the two periods of the year when the sun is at its greatest distance north or south of the equator.
Solstitial, belonging to a solstice.
Soluble, able to be dissolved.
Solution, a fluid containing a solid dissolved in it; an explanation of a difficulty or a problem.
Solve, to find the solution or explanation.
Solvency, the ability to pay one's debts.
Somatology, that branch of science which treats of the properties of matter.
Sombre, dull in colour, gloomy.
Sombre'ro, a shady felt-hat worn by Spaniards.
Somersault, a turning head over heels.
Somnam'bulist, one who walks in his sleep.
Som'nolence, sleepiness, drowsiness.
Sona'ta, a musical composition in several movements arranged for instruments just as a cantata was for voices.
Songster (f. songstress), a singing-bird; one who sings.
Sonnet, a poem consisting of a fourteen lined stanza in which the metre is usually iambic pentameter.
Sonneteer, a writer of sonnets.
Sonorous, full-sounding.
Soothe, to calm, allay, assuage.
Soothsayer, a prophet diviner.
Sootiness, smuttiness, griminess.
Sophism, a specious saying.
Sophisticate, to make specious or insincere; to render artificial.
Sophistry, the art of making what is false seem true by specious arguments.
Soporif'ic, sleep-producing.
Sopra'no, a treble voice.
Sorcerer, a wizard, a magician.
Sorcery, the art or practice of magic.
Sordid, mean, base, squalid.
Sorghum, sorgho grass or Indian millet.
Sororal, sisterly.
Sorrowful, sad.
Sortie, the sallying forth of a body of soldiers from a besieged place to attack the enemy.
Sortilege, the act of drawing lots for the purpose of divination.
Sottish, dull, stupid, dazed with drink.
Sotto voce, in an undertone, in an aside.
Sou, a French coin worth a halfpenny.
Soubrette, a pert intriguing maid-servant, one of the stock characters in French comedy.
Soughing, the sighing of the wind in the trees.
Soul, the animating spirit.
Source, origin, that from which anything springs.
Sour, acid or sharp to the taste.
Souse, to steep in a liquid, to saturate, to pickle.
Southerly, belonging to the south.
Southing, motion towards the south, the time at which the moon or other planet passes the meridian of a given place.
Souvenir, a memento, a token of remembrance.
Sovereignty, kingship, kingly power, supremacy.
Sowar, a native cavalry soldier in the Indian army.
Spa, a well with medicinal properties; a place where there are mineral springs.
Spacious, roomy, vast.
Spade, an iron implement for digging.
Spandrel, the flat space between the head of a door or arch and the enclosing frame or moulding.
Sparingly, in a sparing manner, frugally.
Sparkling, glittering, scintillating.
Sparse, scanty, scattered here and there.
Spasmodic, occurring in fits or spasms, convulsive.
Spatial, relating to space.
Spatula, a broad knife used for spreading plasters or pastes.
Spavined, suffering from a disease of the hock joint, a disease to which horses are subject.
Speaker, one who speaks; one who makes a speech; the president of the House of Commons.
Specialist, one who possesses special knowledge of a particular subject.
Specialize, to devote oneself to the study of a special subject; to indicate in a specific manner.
Specialty, a characteristic product, article of sale, or pursuit.
Specie, gold and silver coin.
Species, a class of beings or objects which have certain characteristics in common which differentiate them from others of the same genus.
Specif'ic, special, precise; a sovereign remedy for a special complaint.
Specification, a precise definition or description.
Specimen, a representative of a class of objects, a typical example, a sample.
Specious, having a false appearance of truth, fallacious, plausible.
Spectacle, a sight, pageant.
Spectacular, of the nature of a show or pageant.
Spectator, an onlooker.
Spectral, like a spectre or phantom, ghostlike.
Spectre, a ghost, a phantom.
Spectrum, light split up into the coloured rays of which it is composed.
Speculation, cogitation, theorising about future possibilities; a commercial venture involving risk of loss.
Speculative, given to theorising; meditative; of the nature of speculation.
Speedily, rapidly; in a short time.
Spendthrift, an extravagant person, a prodigal.
Sperm-oil, oil obtained from the sperm whale.
Sphere, a globe; range or province.
Spherical, globe-shaped.
Sphinx, a mythological monster with a woman's head and a lion's body; a mysterious person who is hard to comprehend.
Spicily, in a spicy or piquant manner.
Spigot, a wooden pin or spile for stopping a vent-hole in a cask.
Spikenard, a costly and fragrant oil.
Spindrift, fine spray blown by the wind.
Spinach, a plant whose leaves are boiled as a vegetable.
Spinnaker, a kind of sail carried by a yacht.
Spinney, a thicket or plantation.
Spinous, having spines or spikes, thorny.
Spiral, winding round and upward at the same time.
Spirit-level, an instrument for testing whether the level of a given surface is true by means of the position of a bubble of air in a small glass tube filled with alcohol.
Spiritual, belonging to the spirit or the soul, immaterial, holy.
Spiritualist, one who believes in intercourse with disembodied spirits.
Spirituality, the love of spiritual or holy things; the domain of spiritual authority.
Spirituel, witty.
Spirituous, alcoholic.
Spirom'eter, an instrument for measuring breathing-power.
Spissitude, thickness or density.
Spiteful, malicious.
Splash-board, a board in front of a vehicle to act as a mud-guard.
Spleen, a gland near the stomach formerly supposed to be the seat of melancholy; spite, anger.
Splendid, magnificent.
Splendour, magnificence.
Splenet'ic, ill-tempered, spiteful.
Splice, to join, as two ropes by interweaving their strands.
Spoke, one of the supports proceeding from the hub to the rim of a wheel.
Spolia opi'ma, the name given by the Romans to the spoil taken by a Roman general.
Spoliation, the act of spoiling or plundering.
Spondee, a metrical foot consisting of two long syllables.
Sponge, a many-celled marine organism which attaches itself to rocks, and which is largely made use of for washing purposes.
Sponsor, a god-parent, one who stands surety for another.
Spontane'ity, the quality of being spontaneous or voluntary.
Spontaneous, of one's own accord, natural, instinctive.
Spook, a ghost.
Spoor, trail.
Sporadic, scattered, breaking out only here and there.
Sporran, an ornament worn by Highlanders in front of the kilt.
Spouse, a husband or wife.
Sprain, an excessive straining of the muscles or tendons.
Sprightly, nimble, active, lively.
Sprightliness, nimbleness, vivacity.
Spring-bok, a South African antelope.
Springe, a snare, trap.
Sprite, a mischievous little spirit, an elf.
Spruce, smart, dapper.
Spume, foam, froth.
Spuminess, frothiness.
Spurious, not genuine.

Sputum, matter expectorated.
Squadron, a body of cavalry; a division of the fleet.
Squalid, sordid, grimy.
Squalor, griminess and sordidness.
Squander, to waste, to lavish.
Square, having four equal sides and all its angles right angles.
Square-toes, a nickname for a very prim and precise person.
Squatter, a settler.
Squaw, the wife of a Red Indian.
Squeak, a sudden short and shrill cry.
Squeamish, sensitive, fastidious.
Squeeze, to press tightly together.
Squirearchy, the whole body of squires or landed gentry.
Squinch, a small arch across the angle of a square tower to strengthen it.
Squirm, to writhe.
Squirrel, a nimble little woodland rodent with bright eyes and a large bushy tail.
Squint, the act of looking askew; a hagioscope.
Stability, firmness, constancy.
Stablish, to establish, to make firm or secure.
Stadium, the Greek name for a race-course, a Greek measure equivalent to nearly six hundred feet.
Staff-sergeant, a senior sergeant on a regimental staff.
Stage, a raised platform on which plays are performed; a step or degree of progress.
Stage-coach, a public coach for conveying travellers from stage to stage of their journey.
Stage-manager, one who has the management of the staging of a play.
Stage-struck, seized with an irresistible longing to go on the stage.
Stage-whisper, a loud theatrical aside.
Stagnant, not flowing, foul through standing.
Stagnation, inactivity; foulness caused by inactivity.
Staid, sedate, grave.
Stain, to discolour; to dye; defile.
Staithes, the end of a line of rails for discharging coals into a ship.
Stalac'tite, an icicle-shaped deposit pendent from the roof of a cavern.
Stalag'mite, a formation similar to a stalactite but deposited upright on the floor of a cavern.
Stale-mate, a position in chess when any move will place the king in check.
Stalking-horse, a dummy horse under the cover of which the hunter stalks the game.
Stallage, the sum paid for the right of erecting a stall or booth.
Stalwart, muscular, well-grown.
Stamina, strength of constitution, staying power.
Stammering, stuttering, hesitating speech.
Stamp-duty, a duty imposed on certain stamps necessary for legal documents.
Stampede, a wild rush of cattle under sudden panic.
Stamping-machine, a machine for crushing ore; a machine for stamping coins.
Stanchion, an upright iron pillar or support.
Standard-bearer, the soldier who bears the flag or standard.
Stand-point, point of view.
Stanhope, a two-wheeled uncovered vehicle; a kind of printing-press.
Stannary, belonging to tin mines.
Stanniferous, rich in tin.
Stanza, a representative verse or division of a poem.
Staple, chief or principal; the iron groove to receive a bolt.
Stapler, a dealer in wool or some other staple commodity.
Starboard, the right hand side of a vessel when one faces the bow.
Star-chamber, a famous unconstitutional court instituted in the reign of Henry VII.
Starchiness, stiffness, primness.
Stare, to look fixedly.
Star-gazer, one who keeps his gaze fixed on the stars, an unpractical, visionary person.
Stark, stiff, rigid; completely.
Starling, a bird something like a thrush.
Starred, decorated with stars; fated.
Star-spangled, ornamented with stars, star-sprinkled.
Starstone, a kind of sapphire.
Starvation, lack of food, famine.
Starveling, a half-starved puny creature.
State-craft, the art of a statesman.
State-house, a senate house, a parliament house.
Stateliness, dignity of demeanour, majesty.
State-room, a grand reception room in a castle or mansion; a daintily fitted cabin in a vessel.
States-general, the French legislative assembly prior to the French Revolution.
Statesman, one occupied in the management of affairs of state; a Cumberland farmer.
Statics, the science relating to bodies at rest.
Stationary, fixed, at a stand-still.
Stationer, one who sells paper, pens and other writing materials.
Stationery, goods sold by a stationer, paper and envelopes, etc.
Station-master, the superintendent of a railway station.
Statistician, one versed in statistics.
Statuary, a collection of statues, sculpture.
Statue, a figure in bronze or marble.
Statuesque, like a statue, calm, motionless.
Statuette, a little statue.
Stature, height (of a human being).
Status, rank, standing.
Status quo, the existing condition.
Statute, a law, ordinance.
Statute-roll, a record of statutes.
Stat'utory, belonging to a statute.
Staunch or stanch, faithful, reliable; to stop a flow of blood.
Steadfast, constant, firm.
Steadiness, constancy, firmness, soberness.
Stealth, secrecy.
Steam-launch, a light boat propelled by steam.
Steam-navigation, the use of the steam engine in propelling boats and ships.
Steam-packet, a mail steamer.
Steed, a poetical term for a charger or riding horse.
St. Elmo's fire, a curious phenomenon in the form of a light sometimes seen, during a thunderstorm, on the top of masts.
Steelyard, a balance with a lever arm for heavy weights.
Steeple, a spire.
Steeple-chase, a horse race across open country over all intervening obstacles.
Steerage, the art of steering; a cabin in the forepart of a vessel where passengers may be accommodated at a very low fare.
Steganog'raphy, the art of writing in cipher.
Stellar, belonging to the stars.
Stench, a strongly offensive odour.
Stencil, to decorate with a design by painting over a perforated metal plate.
Stenog'raphy, the art of writing in shorthand.
Stentorian, loud (of a voice).
Step-child, the child of husband or wife by a former marriage.
Steppes, the barren plains of Southern Russia.
Stercoraceous, a term applied to animals which are manure hunters.
Stereoscope, an optical instrument with two eye-pieces for viewing photographs.
Stereotype, a solid metal plate cast from a sheet of movable type.
Sterility, barrenness, unfruitfulness.
Sterilize, to free from bacteria and other germs.
Sterling, genuine; a term applied to coin.
Stern-chase, a chase in which one ship follows in the wake of another.
Stern-sheets, that part of a vessel which is nearest the stern.
Sternum, the breast-bone, the bone to which the ribs are attached.
Sternutation, the act of sneezing.
Stertorous, breathing noisily, snoring.
Stethom'eter, an instrument for testing the powers of respiration of the various parts of the chest.
Stethoscope, an instrument used in testing the condition of the heart and lungs.
Stevedore, a labourer employed to load or unload vessels.
Stewardess, a female attendant on board ship.
Sthenic, producing strength, invigorating.
Stichom'etry, the estimation of the length of a book or manuscript by the number of lines.
Stickleback, a tiny fresh-water fish with spikes or spines on its back.
Stigma, a brand, a mark of disgrace.
Stigmata, the bodily marks of Christ's passion.
Stigmatize, to brand with infamy or contempt.
Stile, a ladder over a fence or wall.
Stiletto, a short sharp Italian dagger.
Still, motionless; continually; nevertheless.
Still, the main apparatus used in distillation.
Still-born, born dead.
Still-life, the pictorial representation of fruit, flowers, and other inanimate objects.
Stilted, affectedly grand or pompous in expression.
Stilton, a choice variety of cheese made in the midlands.
Stimulant, whatever acts as a stimulus, especially alcoholic drink.
Stimulate, to apply a stimulus, to goad, to incite.
Stimulus (pl. stimuli), an incentive, a motive power.
Stinginess, parsimony, meanness.
Stingo, old ale, strong malt liquor.
Stingy, parsimonious, mean.
Stipendiary, one who receives a stipend or annual income, especially a clergyman receiving a fixed income.
Stipple, to use dots instead of lines in engraving or painting.
Stipulate, to bargain, to make a proviso, to make conditions.
Stipulation, a condition, proviso.
Stirring, active, energetic.
Stirrup-cup, a farewell cup drunk on horseback.
Stithy, an anvil, a blacksmith's forge.
Stiver, a farthing; a Dutch coin worth only a trifle.
Stock, a supply; goods on hand for sale; shares in government funds; a tree trunk, a block of stone, a lifeless inert being.
Stockade, a defensive work consisting of a palisade.
Stock-breeder, a sheep and cattle breeder.
Stock-broker, a dealer in stocks and shares.
Stock-fish, cod or hake dried and salted.
Stock-holder, one who has shares in government stock.
Stock-jobber, one who makes a business of speculating in stocks and shares.
Stock-taking, the process of making an inventory of goods in stock.
Stoical, having the fortitude of a stoic, unmoved by pleasure or pain.
Stoicism, the doctrines of the stoics; stoical fortitude.
Stole, a narrow strip of silk worn over the shoulders as a vestment by the clergy.
Stolid, impassive, stupidly heavy in manner.
Stomach, a bag-shaped organ in the body in which the food is principally digested.
Stom'acher, the lower part of a bodice.
Stomach'ic, belonging to the stomach, for the stomach.
Stomatitis, inflammation of the mouth.
Stook, a group of corn-sheaves standing together.
Stop-cock, a device for opening or closing a pipe by means of a cock or key.
Storage, the housing of goods.
Storax, an aromatic resin obtained from a plant and used medicinally.
Storied, famed in story.
Storm-signal, a coast signal giving warning of the approach of a storm.
Stoup, a jar or flagon.
Stove, an apparatus for heating or cooking.
Stowage, the act of laying by or storing up for future use.
Stowaway, one who lies in hiding on board a ship that he may secure a passage without payment.
Strabism, squinting.
Strabot'omy, the cutting of a muscle to cure squinting.
Straggler, a loiterer, one who lags behind or wanders away from the rest.
Straight, direct, not curved or crooked; straightforward.
Strain, a melody; to pour through a strainer; inherent tendency, natural disposition.
Strainer, a perforated utensil for straining, a colander.
Strait, a narrow neck of water joining two larger bodies (of water); a difficult position, a difficulty.
Strait-laced, prim, unnecessarily punctilious.
Strait-waistcoat, a stiff jacket for violent lunatics to prevent their harming others.
Straminеous, like straw.
Strangeness, unfamiliarity; oddity, eccentricity; unusual character.
Strangles, a throat disease to which horses are subject.
Strangulation, the act of strangling; suffocation by strangling.
Stratagem, a cunning device, a wily artifice.
Strate'gic, belonging to, or of the nature of, strategy.
Strat'egy, the art of directing an army.
Strath, a Scotch term for a valley traversed by a river.
Strathspey, the name of a national Scotch dance.
Stratification, the formation of rock in successive layers in the earth's crust.
Stratum (pl. strata), a layer.
Stratus, a low-lying cloud which is frequently seen on summer evenings.
Straw-board, a kind of stout cardboard.
Streaky, containing lines or streaks.
Streamlet, a little stream, a brooklet.
Stream-tin, tin found as an alluvial deposit.
Strengthening, making stronger, acting as a tonic.
Strenuous, arduous, active, vigorous.
Stress, accent, emphasis; strain.
Stretcher, a light framework on which to carry the sick or wounded; a framework upon which a picture canvas is stretched.
Strewn, scattered, sprinkled about.
Stria (pl. striæ), a narrow streak or line, a narrow furrow.
Striation, the condition of being striated or marked with narrow lines or furrows.
Stricture, censure, severe comment; an abnormal contraction of the intestines or other internal canal.
Strident, harsh-sounding, grating.
Strigil, a flesh-scraper used in the baths by the ancient Romans.
Strikingly, in a striking manner, remarkably; impressively.
Stringency, severity, strictness.
Stringent, severe, strict.

String-halt or spring-halt, a disease among horses causing a spasmodic jerking of the hind-legs.
Stringiness, the condition of being stringy.
Stripling, a youth just passing out of boyhood.
Strolling, walking leisurely, roaming about.
Strong-room, a secure chamber for valuables.
Strop, a strip of leather on which razors are sharpened.
Strophé, the name given by the Greeks to the first of the two corresponding stanzas of a choric ode, the answering stanza being called the antistrophe.
Structural, belonging to form or structure.
Structure, a building; the process of construction; organic formation.
Strum, to play on the piano or other musical instrument in loud and unskilful manner.
Strumose or Strumous, scrofulous.
Strychnine, a poisonous drug.
Stubbornness, obstinate persistency in one's own way.
Stucco, a fine plaster used for facing walls.
Stud, a collection of race horses; a fastening for a collar or cuff.
Stud-book, a book in which the pedigrees of race-horses are recorded.
Student, one who studies, a scholarly person.
Studio, an artist's workroom.
Studious, devoted to study.
Studies, objects of study.
Stuffing-box, a device by which a piston-rod is made to closely fit the groove in which it works.
Stultify, to make foolish, to place in a ridiculous position.
Stultil'oquy, foolish babble.
Stump-orator, one who makes a ranting oration to a chance audience from an open-air platform.
Stunning, causing bewilderment, stupefying.
Stupe, cloth steeped in a fomentation.
Stupefaction, a state of dull stupidity, a dulling of the senses.
Stupefy, to reduce to a condition of dull insensibility.
Stupendous, overwhelmingly great, amazing.
Stupidity, dullness of comprehension.
Stupor, torpor, dullness of sensation.
Sturdiness, robustness, hardiness; resolution, determination.
Sturgeon, a large Russian fresh-water fish from which both caviare and isinglass are obtained.
Stutterer, a stammerer.
Sty (pl. sties), a place where pigs are kept; a painful boil on the eyelid.
Stygian, belonging to the Styx, a fabled river of Hades, hence dark, gloomy.
Style, mode of expression in literature or art; fashion in dress or behaviour; a pointed instrument for writing on wax; the stem of a pistil.
Stylish, smart, fashionable.
Stylist, a writer who pays attention to style, a master of style.
Stylite, one of a class of fanatical ascetics who passed their lives standing on a pillar.
Stylus, a style or pointed instrument used by the ancients for writing on waxed tablets.
Styptic, having the power to check the flow of blood.
Suasion, persuasion.
Suave, bland in manner, affable.
Suavity, sweetness of manner, affability.
Subacid, slightly acid.
Subacrid, somewhat pungent.
Subaërial, exposed to the sky or atmosphere.
Sub'altern, a junior officer in the army who has not reached the rank of captain.
Subaquatic, below the surface of the water.
Subarctic, near the arctic region.
Sub-committee, a committee selected from the members of a larger committee.
Subcutaneous, below the skin.
Subdivide, to divide into smaller divisions.
Subdue, to subjugate, to repress; to allay.
Sub-editor, an under-editor.
Suberic, belonging to cork, obtained from cork.
Subinfeudation, the re-letting of property held on feudal tenure.
Subjacent, lying below.
Subjective, arising out of the inner consciousness, not derived from external objects.
Subjectively, in a subjective manner.
Subject-matter, the theme.
Sub judice, still under judicial consideration.
Subjugation, the holding or being held under subjection, the act of reducing to submission.
Sublease, a lease granted to an under-tenant
Sublimation, the process of vaporising a substance by heat to free it from impurities.
Sublime, lofty in idea or conception; grand.
Sublimity, loftiness of thought; grandeur.
Sublineation, the act of underlining.
Sublu'nary, under the moon; belonging to the earth, mundane.
Submarine, below the surface of the sea.
Submaxillary, belonging to the lower jaw.
Submerge, to plunge below the surface of the water.
Submersion, the state of being submerged, the act of submerging.
Submission, the act or state of submitting.
Submissive, obedient, yielding.
Submit, to yield; to refer.
Submultiple, a number which is contained in another number an exact number of times, a factor.
Subordinate, in an inferior or dependent position; secondary.
Suborn, to procure false witness.
Subpœna, a writ requiring the attendance of a person in a court of law under penalty of a fine.
Sub rosa, "under the rose," secretly.
Subscribe, to sign one's name below; to contribute regularly.
Subscription, a sum of money voluntarily contributed.
Subsection, a section of a section, a subdivision.
Sub'sequent, following.
Subservient, servile, submissive; helping in a minor degree.
Subside, to sink, settle down, abate.
Subsidence, settling or sinking down, abating.
Subsidiary, helping in a subordinate manner.
Subsidize, to make a money-grant to a State in order to secure its services.
Subsidy, a grant of money paid by a State, usually to another State, on a definite understanding.
Subsist, to exist, to support life.
Subsistence, means of sustenance.
Subsoil, the soil immediately underneath the surface stratum.
Substantial, possessing substance, solid, important, well-founded.
Substantiate, to make good, to verify, prove.
Substantive, having real existence, a noun.
Substitute, a person or thing taking the place of another.
Substratum, the underlying stratum or layer, the fundamental basis.
Substructure, the underlying structure or foundation.
Subsultus, a sudden convulsive movement.
Subtenant, an under tenant, the tenant of a tenant.
Subterfuge, a cunning evasion, a ruse.
Subterranean, underground.
Subterraneous, subterranean, underground.
Subtilization, the act of rarefying or making less dense, rarefaction; the process of drawing over-fine distinctions.
Subtle, delicately discriminating; cunning.
Subtlety, refined cunning; delicate discrimination.
Subtorrid, subtropical, near the tropics.
Subtraction, the process of withdrawing or subtracting.
Subtrahend, the number to be subtracted from another.
Subtropical, near the tropics.
Subulate, awl-shaped.
Suburban, on the outskirts of a town.
Subvene, to arrive or intervene so as to effect some purpose.
Subversion, the overthrow, the total ruin.
Subvert, to overthrow, upset, ruin.
Subway, an underground passage or tunnel.
Succedaneous, acting as a substitute.
Succeed, to follow in order; to be successful.
Success, the attaining of one's aim.
Succession, the following in due sequence or regular order.
Successor, one who succeds or follows another in holding some office.
Succinct, terse, concise.
Succory, a kind of chicory plant.
Succour, to help, aid.
Succulent, juicy.
Succumb, to yield.
Succursal, subordinate, supplementary.
Succussion, the act of shaking, a shock.
Suckling, a child or young animal which is still suckled.
Sucrose, a form of sugar obtained from beetroot and sugar-cane.
Suction, the act of sucking or drawing in by first forming a vacuum.
Sudatorium, a hot-air chamber in the baths which acts as a sweating-bath.
Su'datory, producing sweat.
Suddenness, unexpectedness, swiftness.
Sudorif'ic, producing sweat.
Sue, to prosecute, to lay a claim against a person in a court of law.
Sufferance, endurance; forbearance.
Suffice, to be sufficient, to satisfy.
Sufficiency, a sufficient quantity, an adequate amount, competency; self-assurance.
Sufficient, enough, adequate.
Suffix, a particle attached to the end of a word or root to vary its meaning.
Suffocate, to stifle.
Suffragan, an assistant (bishop).
Suffrage, the right of voting for a representative in Parliament, vote of approval.
Suffruticose, woody or bushy at the base.
Suffumigate, to burn fumes underneath.
Suffuse, to overspread.
Sugar, a saccharine substance used for sweetening.
Sugar-baker, a sugar-refiner.
Sugary, like sugar, sweet.
Suggestion, proposal.
Suggestive, containing a suggestion, abounding in ideas.
Suici'dal, tending to self-destruction.
Suicide, self-destruction.
Sui generis, in a class by itself, peculiar, not to be classed with others.
Suint, the natural oil in wool.
Suitable, appropriate, fitting, becoming.
Suite, a train of attendants or followers; a set of rooms, a set of furniture for a room.
Suitor, one who sues or petitions, one who pays his addresses to a woman.
Sulcate, furrowed.
Sulkiness, sullenness, gloomy anger.
Sullenness, moroseness, sulkiness, surliness.
Sully, to stain, soil.
Sul'phurous, of or like sulphur.
Sulphu'ric acid, a strong acid popularly known as vitriol.
Sultan, the title of the supreme ruler of a Mohammedan State, especially applied to the ruler of Turkey.
Sultriness, oppressive heat.
Sultry, oppressively hot.
Sum'marily, in a prompt or conclusive manner.
Summary, rapid and complete; a concise abstract.
Summation, the process of finding the sum total of a series of numbers.
Summit, the highest point, the top, the culminating point.
Summon, to demand the presence of.
Summons (pl. summonses), an imperative call, an order to appear in a court of law.
Summum bonum, the "supreme good, highest aim of existence.
Sump, a reservoir used in salt works; the bottom of the shaft of a mine.
Sumpter, a baggage (mule).
Sumptuary, regulating expense, especially in connexion with dress and luxuries.
Sumptuous, luxurious, costly.
Sunder, sever, separate.
Sun-dew, an insect-eating plant.
Sun-dial, an instrument for indicating the time of day by means of the shadow of a rod cast by the sun upon a graduated dial.
Sundown, sunset.
Sunspot, a dark spot on the surface of the sun.
Sunstroke, an affection of the brain produced by exposure to the sun.
Sun-worship, a form of religion involving worship of the sun as a divinity.
Super, an actor who appears on the stage without having anything to say.
Superabundant, over abundant, exuberant.
Superannuation, removal from office on account of old age.
Superb, splendid, magnificent.
Supercargo, the official in charge of a ship's cargo.
Supercilliary, above the eyebrow.
Supercilious, contemptuous, disdainful.
Superdominant, the note immediately above the dominant fifth.
Superer'oga''tion, the act of going beyond the call of duty.
Su'pererog''atory, beyond what is required.
Superexcellent, more than excellent, excessively good.
Superfetation, the conception of a second embryo during the period of gestation.
Superficial, on the surface, lacking in thoroughness.
Superficies, a surface.
Superfine, exceedingly fine, extra fine.
Superflu'ity, excess, superabundance.
Super'fluous, excessive, unnecessary, superabundant.
Superheated, heated above the degree possible under normal conditions.
Superhuman, more than human, supernatural.
Superimpose, to place on the top of something.
Superincumbent, lying on the top of something else.
Superintendent, one who exercises control or supervision.
Superior, higher, better in quality.
Superiority, the quality of being higher or more excellent.
Superjacent, lying above.
Super'lative, of the highest degree.
Supernaculum, ale of the best quality.
Supernal, belonging to what is above, relating to things heavenly.
Supernatural, miraculous, transcendental.
Supernumerary, an extra person or thing; one who appears on the stage without speaking.
Superpose, to place above or on the top.
Supersaturated, saturated to excess.
Superscription, an inscription written above, a title.
Supersede, to set aside and replace by another; to take the place of another.
Supersensible, beyond the range of the senses.
Supersensitive, over-sensitive.

Superstition, irrational belief and foolish observances based upon ignorance.
Superstructure, a structure reared upon something else as foundation.
Supervise, to exercise watchful control over, to superintend.
Supervisor, an overseer, one who exercises supervision.
Supine, lying down, lax, indolent.
Supination, the position of lying on the back; indolence.
Supplant, to forcibly or fraudulently take the place of, to oust.
Supplement, an extra part added to supply a deficiency.
Supplementary, additional, supplying deficiencies.
Suppleness, lissomness, pliancy.
Suppliant, one who makes a petition or entreaty.
Supplication, an entreaty, prayer.
Supplicatory, of the nature of a supplication or entreaty.
Supporter, one who supports, an adherent.
Supposition, that which is supposed, a hypothesis.
Suppositious, stealthily and dishonestly substituted.
Suppress, to put down, to quell; to conceal; to withhold.
Suppressible, able to be overpowered; able to be concealed.
Suppuration, the formation of pus or matter due to inflammation.
Supremacy, the state of being supreme or having the mastery.
Supreme, exercising supremacy, absolute; the highest.
Sural, belonging to the calf of the leg.
Surcease, to cease, refrain.
Surcharge, to overburden, to overweight.
Sur'cingle, a horse's girth; the girdle of a cassock.
Surd, an algebraical quantity or root which cannot be expressed in rational numbers.
Sure, certain; safe, secure.
Surety, one who makes himself answerable for another, bail, security.
Surf, sea-foam caused by the breaking of the waves.
Surfaceman, a man employed on the railway to see that the railroad is in proper repair.
Surfeit, an excess in eating causing distaste or satiety.
Surge, to seethe like the waves of the sea.
Surgeon, a doctor who treats surgical cases and performs operations.
Surgery, the surgical art; a room where a doctor compounds his medicines.
Surgical, belonging to surgery.
Surlily, in a morose or sullen manner.
Surloin or sirloin, a joint of beef.
Surmise, a conjecture.
Surmount, to overcome.
Surpassing, exceeding, excelling.
Surplice, a white robe worn by the clergy during divine service.
Surplus, the excess, what is left over.
Surprise, astonishment, something unexpected.
Surrebut'ter, the answer of the plaintiff to the defendant's rejoinder.
Surrender, to yield, to capitulate.
Surreptitious, underhand, unauthorized.
Surrogate, one deputed to act for another.
Surround, to encircle, encompass.
Surtax, an extra or additional tax.
Surtout, an overcoat.
Surveillance, watchful supervision.
Surveyor, one who measures land.
Survival, that which survives.
Survivor, one who survives or outlives another.
Susceptible, sensitive to impressions, impressionable.
Susceptivity, a state of sensitiveness to impressions.
Suspect, to distrust, to think evil of; to imagine, fancy.
Suspend, to cause to hang; to remove from office temporarily; to withdraw (a law) for a time; to withhold.
Suspense, anxiety arising from uncertainty.
Suspension, temporary abrogation (of a law); temporary deprivation of office; the act of suspending or causing to hang.
Suspicion, distrust; slight idea.
Suspicious, prone to think evil of others, distrustful.
Sustain, to uphold, maintain; endure.
Sustenance, that which sustains, nutriment, nourishment.
Sustentation, maintenance, support.
Sutile, stitched or sewn.
Sutler, a camp-follower who sells provisions and other requisites to the troops.
Suttee, the practice once prevalent among high-caste Hindus of burning the widow on her husband's funeral pyre.
Sutural, belonging to a suture.
Suture, the natural joining together of the bones of the skull by dovetailing or overlapping.
Suzerain, an over-lord.
Su'zerainty, the exercise of supreme or paramount authority by one State over another.
Swab, a mop.
Swaddling-band, a bandage for wrapping round the body of an infant.
Swaggerer, a boaster, a braggart.
Swain, a youth, a lover.
Swannery, a place where swans are reared.
Swan-skin, the skin of a swan with the down on it; a fine flannel with a downy surface.
Sward, an expanse of grass or turf.
Swart, black, swarthy.
Swarthy, dusky in hue.
Swashbuckler, a blustering boisterous fellow.
Swath, a layer of grass cut with one sweep of the scythe.
Swathe, to bandage, to wrap round and round.
Sweating-system, the custom of paying employés or work people a starvation wage in order to make large profits, or produce a cheap article.
Swedenborgian, a follower of Swedenborg, a Swedish philosopher of the 18th century, who founded a religious sect.
Swedish, belonging to Sweden.
Sweepstakes, a form of gambling in which the stakes contributed by all the players go to the winner or winners.
Sweetmeat, confectionery in which sugar is the chief ingredient.
Swelter, to perspire with heat, to be overcome with heat.
Swerve, to turn aside from the straight course; to depart from rectitude.
Swimming, the act of moving through the water; floating on the surface; dizziness.
Swindler, a fraudulent person, a rogue.
Swing-bridge, a bridge so constructed that it can be swung open.
Swinge, to beat, to flog.
Swingle, to separate the flax from the tow by beating it.
Swirl, to sweep round in an eddy.
Switch, a pliant twig; a short movable rail used for shunting waggons or railway-carriages from one set of rails to another; a device for turning on or shutting off an electric current.
Swivel, a hook or ring that turns round upon a pivot.
Sword-dance, a favourite dance of the Scotch Highlanders performed between two crossed swords.
Sword-play, skilled use of the sword, fencing with the sword.
Swordsman, one skilled in the use of the sword.
Sybarite, a luxurious or voluptuous person.
Sycophant, an obsequious flatterer, one who curries favour by tale-bearing.
Syllabarium, a list of the primitive syllables in a language.
Syllabic, consisting of a syllable.
Syllable, a single sound consisting of one or more letters and forming a word or part of a word.
Syllabus, a short summary of a prescribed course of study, or of a series of lectures.
Syllogism, an argument in a logical form consisting of two premises followed by a conclusion.
Sylph, an imaginary spirit of the air; a slender graceful woman.
Sylvan, wooded, abounding in trees.
Symbol, a sign or token.
Symbolism, the use or language of signs and symbols.
Symbol'ical, of the nature of a type or emblem, figurative.
Symmet'rical, having its parts in harmonious proportion.
Symmetry, harmonious proportion.
Sympathet'ic, entering into the feelings of another kindly; having kindred feeling.
Sympathize, to enter into another's feelings, to express sympathy.
Sympathy, compassion, kindred feeling; reciprocal or harmonious relations.
Symphony, an elaborate orchestral composition of movements.
Symposiarch, one who presides at a banquet.
Symposium, a banquet.
Symptom, a sign or indication, especially of disease.
Synæ'resis, the combining of two vowels or syllables so as to form one.
Synagogue, a Jewish place of worship.
Syn'chronize, to make to agree in point of time.
Syn'chronous, happening at the same time.
Syncli'nal, inclined towards one another in a downward direction so that they finally meet.
Syn'cope, a fainting fit; contraction due to the elision or omission of one or more letters in a word.
Syndic, a chief magistrate; a member of the senate of a university.
Syndicate, a council, a senate, a board of managers.
Synod, a council, especially an ecclesiastical council.
Synonym, a word identical in meaning with another word.
Synon'ymous, identical in meaning.
Synop'sis (pl. synopses), a general view or summary of a subject.
Synop'tic, representing a subject from the same point of view.
Syntax, that branch of grammar which deal with the arrangement of words in sentences.
Syn'thesis, the process of building up or constructing, as opposed to analysis.
Synthet'ic, of the nature of synthesis; a term applied to highly inflected languages.
Syriac, the language of Syria, a form of Aramaic.
Syrian, belonging to Syria, a native of Syria.
Syringe, an instrument consisting of a cylinder fitted with a piston for drawing in and forcibly ejecting fluid.
Syrinx, a musical instrument of reeds known as Pan's pipes; a fistula.
Syrup, a strongly sweetened juice thickened by boiling.
System, method, plan; orderly arrangement; the bodily constitution.
Systemat'ic, according to system, methodical.
Syzygy, the conjunction of two heavenly bodies in a line with the earth.

Tabard, a tunic worn over armour; a herald's coat.
Tabby, a kind of waved silk; a brindled cat.
Tabefaction, the act of wasting away.
Tabernacle, a tent; a place of worship; an altar cupboard.
Tabes, a wasting disease.
Tableau (pl. tableaux), a picture.
Tableau vivant, a representation of a scene by people dressed in character.
Table d'hôte, dinner in the public room of a hotel.
Tablet, a flat piece of wood, etc., to write on; a medicine or sweetmeat in a small square.
Table-talk, conversation at table; familiar talk.
Table-turning, the moving of tables by supposed spiritual agency.
Taboo, to forbid approach to or use of.
Tabor, a small drum to accompany a pipe.
Tabular, set down in the form of tables; formed in lamine.
Tabulate, to reduce to tables or synopses.
Tachom'eter, an instrument to measure velocity.
Tacit, implied, not expressed by words.
Taciturn, silent; not given to conversation.
Taciturnity, habitual silence.
Tact, skill in doing or saying the right thing.
Tactician, one skilled in tactics.
Tactics, the art of manœuvring troops on the field of battle; method of action.
Tactless, wanting in tact.
Tædium vitæ, weariness of life.
Tael, a Chinese coin worth about 5/-; a weight.
Taf'feta, a thin silk material.
Taffrail, the upper part of the stern of a ship.
Tafia, rum distilled from molasses.
Tailor-bird, a small bird which sews leaves together for its nest.
Tailoring, the calling of a tailor.
Tail-race, the flow of water from a mill after it has turned the wheel.
Taint, to stain; to infect; to corrupt.
Talc, a mineral.
Tale-bearing, the act of informing with intent to injure.
Talented, possessing considerable ability.
Talion, the law of retaliation.
Talipes, the disease known as club-foot.
Talisman, a charm to preserve from harm.
Talkative, fond of talking.
Tallow-chandler, a maker of tallow candles.
Tally (pl. tallies), a stick to keep accounts by; anything made to suit another.
Talmud, a book containing the Jewish traditions and explanations.
Talon, the claw of a bird of prey.
Tamable or tameable, that may be tamed.
Tamarind, a tropical tree and its fruit.
Tambourine, a kind of small drum.
Tamil, the language spoken in parts of India and Ceylon.
Tamper, to meddle; to experiment with unfairly.
Tamping, the filling up of a hole in a rock for blasting.
Tandem, a vehicle drawn by two horses harnessed one behind the other.
Tangent, a straight line which touches a curve but does not cut it.
Tangible, perceptible to the touch; real.
Tankard, a large drinking-vessel.
Tannery, a place where hides are made into leather.
Tan-pit, a vat in which hides are laid.
Tantalize, to torment by raising false hopes.
Tan'talus, a mythical personage; a genus of birds; a locked case of decanters.
Tantamount, equivalent.
Tantivy, with great swiftness.
Tape-line, a measuring tape marked with inches, etc.

Tapestry, an ornamental fabric used for covering walls, etc.
Tapioca, a farinaceous food obtained from the cassava plant.
Tapis, tapestry, carpeting.
Tap-room, a room in an inn where drink is served.
Tarboosh, a red cap or fez.
Tardily, in a slow or dilatory manner.
Tare, a weed; vetch; the weight of a cask in which goods are contained.
Target, a small shield; a mark for firing at.
Tariff, a list of the duties on goods; a list of charges.
Tarnish, to soil; to dim the brightness of.
Tarpan, the small wild horse of Tartary.
Tarpaulin, canvas tarred to keep out the wet.
Tarry, to stay; to delay; to wait.
Tartan, a checked cloth worn in the Highlands of Scotland; a small sailing vessel.
Tartar, a native of Tartary; a formidable person.
Tartarean, belonging to Tartarus or hell.
Tartness, sharpness; sourness; acidity.
Tasselled, adorned with tassels.
Taster, one who tests the quality by tasting.
Tattered, ragged; full of rents.
Tatting, the making of a kind of lace.
Tattler, an idle talker; a gossip.
Tattoo, the beat of drum to summon soldiers to their quarters.
Tattoo, to mark the skin with figures, etc.
Taunt, to reproach with insult or sarcasm.
Taurine, belonging to a bull.
Taut, tight, not slack.
Tautol'ogy, repetition of the same idea in different words.
Tavern, an inn, a public-house.
Tawdriness, gaudy finery.
Tawny, of a yellow colour like things tanned.
Taxable, that may be taxed.
Taxation, the act of levying taxes.
Tax'idermy, the art of preserving and mounting the skins of animals.
Tea-caddy, a small box to hold tea.
Teacher, one who teaches; an instructor.
Teamster, one who drives a team.
Tear-stained, showing traces of tears.
Teasel, a plant with large burs.
Teaser, one who teases; that which puzzles.
Teat, the nipple.
Techily or tetchily, in a fretful manner.
Technical, belonging to the arts, or to a particular art.
Technicality, anything technical.
Technol'ogy, the knowledge of industrial arts.
Tecton'ics, the art of constructing.
Tedder, an implement for spreading hay.
Tedious, wearisome; slow; irksome.
Tedium, tediousness.
Teethe, to cut the teeth.
Teetotaler, one pledged to total abstinence.
Tegument, a natural covering.
Telautograph, a telegraph for copying writings at a distance.
Telegram, a telegraphic message.
Telegraph'ic, belonging to or sent by telegraph.
Teleg'raphy, the art of sending messages by telegraph.
Telem'eter, an instrument for determining distances.
Teleology, the science of final causes.
Telep'athy, the transmission of thoughts from one person to another at a distance.
Telephone, an instrument for transmitting sound, especially that of the human voice.
Telephonic, belonging to the telephone.
Telescope, an instrument for viewing distant objects.
Telic, denoting the end or aim.
Tel'lural, belonging to the earth.
Temerarious, rash; careless.
Temerity, rashness; contempt of danger.
Temperament, state with respect to the predominance of any quality; disposition.
Temperance, moderation; sobriety.
Temperate, moderate; free from ardent passion.
Temperature, degree of any quality, especially of heat or cold.
Tempered, of a certain temper; hardened.
Tempestuous, stormy, turbulent.
Temporal, belonging to this world; measured by time.
Temporalities, revenues of an ecclesiastic from lands, etc.
Temporarily, only for a time.
Temporize, to comply with the time or occasion.
Tempt, to entice to evil; to provoke.
Temptation, the act of tempting; an enticement.
Tempus fugit, "time flies."
Tenable, that may be held or maintained.
Tenacious, inclined to hold fast; retentive.
Tenacity, the state of being tenacious.
Tenancy, temporary possession of lands, etc.
Tenant, a temporary occupant.
Tenantry, the tenants on an estate.
Tendency, direction towards; inclination.
Tender, an offer; a small vessel; the carriage attached to a locomotive to carry the fuel and water; sensitive to touch or in feeling.
Tender, to offer for acceptance; to offer to supply goods or do certain work at a certain price.
Tenderness, kind attention; caution; fondness.
Tendon, that which connects a muscle with a bone.
Tendril, a slender clinging shoot of a plant.
Tenebrosity, darkness; gloom.
Tenement, anything held by a tenant; a set of apartments.
Tenet, a principle or opinion.
Tennis, a game with rackets and balls.
Tenon, the end of a piece of timber shaped to fit into a cavity prepared for it.
Tenor, continuity of state; general course or drift; the higher adult male voice.
Tense, stretched tightly; not lax.
Tensile, capable of extension.
Tension, the act of stretching; strain.
Tentacle, a thread-like organ of touch possessed by certain insects.
Tentatively, as an experiment.
Tenter-hooks, in a state of great strain.
Tent-pegging, a cavalry sport.
Tenuirostral, slender-beaked.
Tenu'ity, thinness; rarity.
Tenure, the manner of holding lands, etc.
Tepefaction, the act of making tepid.
Tepid, lukewarm.
Tercen'tenary, a three hundredth anniversary.
Tergiversation, subterfuge, evasion.
Termagant, furious; a turbulent woman.
Terminable, limitable; that may be terminated.
Terminal, relating to an end or boundary.
Termination, the act of terminating; limit; end.
Terminology, the arrangement of terms and names.
Terminus, a boundary; the station at either end of a railway.
Terpsichore'an, relating to the art of dancing.
Terrace, a raised walk usually turfed; a row of houses.
Terra-cotta, a kind of earthenware.
Terra incognita, an unexplored country.
Terraqueous, composed of land and water.
Terrestrial, relating to land; earthly.
Terribly, in a dreadful manner; violently.
Terric'olous, living on the earth.
Terrier, a variety of dog.
Terrific, dreadful, causing terror.
Territorial, relating to land; confined to a district.
Terrorism, government by fear; intimidation.
Terse, neat, concise.
Tertium quid, a third something.
Tesselated, formed in small squares.
Tes'sera (pl. tesseræ), a small piece of marble, etc., used in tesselated work.
Testacean, relating to shelled animals.
Testamentary, relating to a will, or bequeathed by will.
Testator, a man who leaves a will.
Testatrix, a woman who leaves a will.
Tester, an old coin; a canopy above a bed, etc.
Testicle, a seed organ; part of the organs of generation in males.
Testify, to certify; to give evidence.
Testily, fretfully, peevishly.
Testimonial, a certificate of character or capabilities; a gift subscribed for and bestowed as a token of esteem.
Testimony, proof, evidence; open attestation.
Tet'anus, lock-jaw.
Tête-à-tête, an interview between two persons.
Tether, a rope for tying grazing cattle.
Tetrahedron, a solid figure bounded by four triangles.
Tetrapod, a four-footed animal.
Tetrasyllable, a word of four syllables.
Teuton, one of the Germanic family of races; a German.
Teutonic, relating to the Teutons.
Text, that on which a comment is written; a Scriptural verse; an author's own words.
Text-book, a book giving the chief points of a certain branch of study.
Textile, woven; capable of being woven.
Textual, relating to or contained in the text.
Texture, a thing woven; manner of weaving; disposition of the parts of any body.
Thaler, a German coin worth about 3s.
Thanatol'ogy, the study of doctrines of death.
Thanksgiving, the act of returning thanks, especially for divine favours.
Thaumaturgical, relating to thaumaturgy or magic.
Thean'thropism, the state of being both divine and human.
Theatre, a play-house; a place of exhibition.
Theat'rically, in a manner suiting the stage.
Theatricals, a dramatic performance.
Their, of them; belonging to them.
Theism, the belief in a God.
Theistic, belonging to theism.
Theme, a subject on which one speaks or writes.
Theoc'racy, government immediately superintended by God.
Theod'olite, an instrument used in surveying land.
Theog'ony, the origin of the gods.
Theolo'gian, one versed in theology.
Theologically, according to the principles of theology.
Theology, the science of divine things.
Theoph'any, the appearance of God to man.
Theorem, a proposition to be proved.
Theoretical, depending on theory; speculative.
Theorist, one who forms theories.
Theosoph'ical, relating to theosophy, the knowledge of divine things.
Therapeutic, curative; relative to the art of healing.
There, in that place.
Therefore, for that reason.
Thermæ, hot springs or baths.
Thermal, relating to heat.
Thermometer, an instrument for determining the temperature.
Thermometrical, pertaining to the thermometer.
Thesau'rus, a treasury of knowledge.
Thesis, a proposition to be maintained.
Thespian, relating to the drama.
Theurgy, a kind of magic.
Thews, sinews; muscles.
Thicket, a small close wood.
Thieving, stealing.
Thigh, the upper part of the leg.
Thill, the shaft of a cart.
Thimble-rig, a sleight-of-hand trick.
Thinness, the state of being thin or meagre.
Thirsty, in want of drink; parched; hotly desirous.
Thirtytwomo, a small size in books, the sheet being folded into 32 parts.
Thistle, a prickly plant.
Thither, to that place; to that end.
Thole-pin, a pin in the gunwale of a boat to keep the oar in place.
Thoroughfare, a passage through; a public way.
Thought-reader, one who professes to read the thoughts of another.
Thousand, the number of ten hundred.
Thraldom, bondage; slavery.
Thrall, a slave; servitude.
Thrashing or threshing, the process of beating grain from the husk; a beating.
Threadbare, worn out; trite.
Threatening, using threats, menacing.
Three Rs, reading, writing, and arithmetic.
Three-decker, a war-vessel having guns on three decks.
Threnet'ic, sorrowful; doleful.
Thren'ody, a song of lamentation.
Threshold, the step under a door; entrance; beginning.
Thrice, three times.
Thriftily, frugally, with economy.
Thrilling, causing a tingling sensation; exciting.
Thriving, prosperous, flourishing.
Throe, extreme pain or anguish.
Throttle, the wind-pipe; to suffocate.
Throughout, everywhere, in every part.
Thrush, a singing bird; an infantile disease; a horse's foot disease.
Thunder-bolt, a powerful flash of lightning; a severe reproof or menace.
Thurible, a censer.
Thurifer, one who carries the thurible.
Thwart, transverse; a rower's seat placed athwart a boat; to cross; to oppose.
Thyme, a fragrant herb.
Thymy, full of thyme; fragrant.
Thyrsus, the staff of Bacchus.
Tiara, an ornament for the head.
Tic-douloureux, painful affection of a nerve, generally in the face.
Ticklish, tottering; difficult; easily tickled.
Tidal, relating to the tides; influenced by the tides.
Tide-waiter, an officer who watches the landing of goods to collect the duties.
Tidiness, neatness; trimness.
Tidings, news, intelligence.
Tie-beam, a beam to secure the rafters.
Tiers état, the third estate; the commons.
Tiffin, an Anglo-Indian lunch.
Tighten, to make tighter; to straiten.
Tillage, the art of cultivating the soil.
Tiller, a husbandman; the bar by which a rudder is turned.
Tilth, husbandry, tillage.
Timbered, furnished with timbers; wooded.
Timbre, the sonorous quality of a voice or instrument.
Timbrel, a kind of drum or tambourine.
Time-fuse, a fuse which will explode a charge at a certain moment.
Time-honoured, honoured on account of long use or age.
Timeliness, seasonableness.
Time-server, one who follows the opinions of the times to serve his own ends.
Timidity, fearfulness; habitual cowardice.
Timorous, full of fear; full of scruples.

Tincture, a colour or taste superadded; a solution of medicinal substances in spirits.
Tin-foil, tin beaten into thin leaves.
Tinge, to colour slightly.
Tinker, a mender of kettles, pots, etc.
Tinning, the process of coating with tin.
Tintinnabulation, a sound as of the tinkling of bells.
Tippet, a sort of shoulder cape.
Tippler, one who drinks to excess.
Tipstaff, a staff tipped with metal, or the officer carrying it.
Tipsy-cake, a sponge cake saturated with wine.
Tirade', an outburst of reproof or abuse.
Tire, (noun) a head-dress; attire; a hoop of iron or rubber round the rim of a wheel.
Tiresomeness, the state of being wearisome.
Tiring-room, the room in which players dress for the stage.
Tissue, a fine gauzy fabric; the fabric composing the organs of the body.
Titan'ic, belonging to the Titans; gigantic.
Tithe, the tenth part; the part assigned for the maintenance of the clergy.
Tithing, an ancient district of ten householders each responsible for the good conduct of the rest.
Titillate, to tickle.
Title-deed, a document proving the right to property.
Title-page, the page of a book containing the title.
Title-role, the character which gives a play its title.
Titular, nominal; having the title only of an office.
Tmesis, the separation of a compound word by the addition of other words between.
Toady (pl. toadies), one who fawns; a hanger on.
Toast-master, one who announces the toasts at public dinners.
Tobacconist, a dealer in tobacco.
Toboggan, a sled for sliding down snowy slopes in Canada.
Tocsin, an alarm-bell.
Toddy, a liquor obtained from certain palms; spirit and water mixed and sweetened.
Toffee or toffy, a sweetmeat.
Toga, the loose robe of adults among the ancient Romans.
Toilet, the cover of a dressing-table; dress; the act of dressing.
Toilet-glass, a mirror on the dressing-table.
Toil-worn, worn out with hard work.
Tokay, a wine made at Tokay in Hungary.
Tolerable, that may be endured; passable.
Tolerance, the power or act of enduring.
Toleration, forbearance towards opponents in matters of opinion.
Tolerator, one who tolerates.
Toll-bar, a barrier across a road where toll is collected.
Toll-booth, a place where tolls were collected; a prison.
Tomahawk, an Indian war hatchet.
Tomato (pl. tomatoes), a plant and its fruit.
Tombstone, a stone over a grave.
Tome, a volume; a book.
Tomtom, an Indian drum.
Ton, a measure of weight or capacity; the fashion.
Tonal, relating to tone.
Tongs, an instrument for taking hold of anything.
Tongue, the organ of speech and taste; a language.
Tonic, relating to tones or sounds; a medicine which restores vigour to the system.
Tonite, a powerful explosive.
Tonnage, the weight a ship can carry; a duty on ships.
Tonsil, one of two glands in the throat.
Tonsilli'tis, inflammation of the tonsils.
Tonsorial, pertaining to the barber's art.
Tonsure, the act of shaving the head; the shaven patch on the top of a priest's head.
Tontine, a kind of life-annuity.
Tooling, ornamental work done with a tool.
Toothsome, palatable; pleasing to the taste.
Topaz, a gem, generally yellow.
Top-draining, the draining of the surface of land.
Top-dressing, a surface dressing of manure.
Toper, an excessive drinker.
To'piary, clipped into fantastic shapes.
Topical, local; relating to a topic or theme.
Topog'rapher, one who describes a particular place, etc.
Topog'raphy, the art of the topographer.
Topon'omy, the place-names of a locality.
Top-sawyer, the sawyer who stands above the timber in a saw pit.
Toque, a kind of bonnet.
Torch-light, the light given by torches.
Tor'eador, a Spanish bull-fighter.
Toreutic, pertaining to carved and similar work.
Tor'ment, anything which gives pain; anguish.
Torment', to put to pain; to tease; to harass.
Tormentor, one who torments; a kind of harrow.
Tornado (pl. tornadoes), a hurricane.
Torpe'do (pl. torpedoes), a fish; a submarine engine of war.
Torpedo-boat, a vessel which discharges torpedoes.
Torpescent, growing torpid.
Torpid, numbed; not active.
Torpids, the Lent boat-races at Oxford.
Torpor, numbness, dulness, inactivity.
Torrent, a violent and rapid stream.
Torricellian vacuum, the vacuum in the barometer.
Torrid, parched; dried with heat; burning.
Torsion, the act of twisting.
Torso, a headless, limbless statue.
Tortoise, an animal covered with a shell.
Tortuous, winding; twisted; roundabout.
Torture, anguish; pain inflicted to punish.
Tory (pl. Tories), one of the Conservative party.
Tot, anything extremely small; to add.
Total'ity, the complete sum or quantity.
Totem, the symbol or badge of a savage tribe or family.
Totemism, the practice of having totems.
Totterer, one who threatens to fall.
Touch-hole, the hole in a gun by which the charge is ignited.
Touchiness, peevishness.
Touch-stone, a stone for testing gold and silver; a test.
Touch-wood, decayed wood used as tinder.
Toughen, to grow or make tough.
Tour, a ramble; a long journey.
Tour de force, a feat of strength.
Tourist, one who travels for the purpose of sight-seeing.
Tournament, an ancient military contest of skill; a contest to prove superiority of skill in a game.
Tournure, figure, contour.
Tout, to seek customers in a pushing manner; one who touts.
Tout-à-fait, entirely, quite.
Tout ensemble, the whole effect.
Toward, in the direction of; nearly; regarding.
To'wardly, ready to do or learn; docile.
Towelling, material for making towels.
Towing-path, a path by a river or canal for horses towing boats.
Town-clerk, the clerk to a town-council.
Town councillor, a member of a town-council.
Toxical, relating to poisons; poisonous.
Toxicology, the science of poisons.
Traceable, capable of being traced.
Tracery, ornamentation in Gothic windows.
Trache'a, the windpipe.
Tracheot'omy, the cutting of an opening in the windpipe.
Tracing-paper, transparent paper used in copying drawings, etc.
Trackless, untrodden; having no path.
Tract, anything drawn out; an expanse of land or water; a treatise.
Tractable, easily led or managed.
Tractarian, one of the writers of the famous Oxford tracts; one holding the views contained therein.
Tractate, a tract; a treatise.
Traction, the act of drawing; the state of being drawn.
Trade-mark, a distinguishing mark placed on goods by the manufacturer.
Trade-price, price charged to retail dealers.
Tradesfolk, people employed in trade.
Trades-union, a union of the workmen in a trade to defend their interests.
Trade-wind, an ocean wind which blows constantly in one direction.
Tradition, opinions, etc., handed down from age to age by word of mouth.
Traduce, to calumniate, to slander.
Traducianism, the doctrine that the soul as well as the body is begotten.
Traffic, commerce; trade; goods and people on a railway, road, etc.
Tragedian, a writer or actor of tragedy.
Tragedienne, an actress of tragedy.
Tragedy, a dramatic representation of a tragic nature; a mournful or dreadful event.
Tragic, calamitous; mournful; dreadful.
Tragi-comedy, a drama containing both tragedy and comedy.
Trailer, a climbing plant; a wicker carriage drawn by a bicycle.
Train-band, a body of militia formerly used in London.
Training-ship, a vessel on which boys are trained for the sea.
Train-mile, mile done by a train, a unit in railway reckonings.
Train-oil, oil from the blubber of whales.
Trait, a feature; a stroke; a touch.
Traitor, one guilty of treachery.
Traitress, a female traitor.
Trajec'tory, the path described by a body, such as a comet, under the force of attraction.
Trammelled, fettered; hampered.
Tramway, a street rail-road for cars.
Trance, a state of profound insensibility; an ecstasy; catalepsy.
Tranquil, quiet; peaceful; undisturbed.
Tranquillity, the state of being tranquil.
Transaction, any matter carried out; negotiation.
Transatlantic, beyond or crossing the Atlantic.
Transcend, to surpass; to rise above.
Transcendent, excellent; surpassing others.
Transcendental, supereminent; speculative.
Transcribe, to copy; to write again.
Transcript, a copy from an original.
Transept, one of the aisles at right angles to the nave.
Transfer, to convey or make over from one to another.
Trans'ferable, that may be transferred.
Transference, the act of transferring.
Transfigure, to change the outward appearance of.
Transfix, to pierce through.
Transformation, a complete change in form.
Transgress, to offend by violating a law.
Transgression, the violation of a law; a sin.
Transgressor, one who transgresses.
Transhipment, the act of removing goods to another ship.
Transient, passing, fleeting.
Transit, a passing across or through.
Transition, change from one state or topic to another.
Transitory, continuing a short time; fleeting.
Translate, to remove; to turn into another language.
Translation, the act of translating.
Translucent, transparent, clear.
Transmarine, lying beyond the sea.
Transmigration, passage from one place or state into another.
Transmission, the act of transmitting.
Transmit, to send from one place to another; to permit the passage of.
Transmutation, the act of transmuting.
Transmute, to change from one nature or substance to another.
Transoceanic, across or crossing the ocean.
Transom, a cross-beam in a window or other structure.
Transparent, clear; that can be seen through.
Transpire, to emit in vapour; to happen; to become known.
Transplant, to remove and plant in another place.
Transportation, removal; banishment.
Transpose, to change the order of.
Transposition, the act of transposing.
Transubstantiation, the Roman Catholic doctrine that the elements of the Eucharist are changed into the body and blood of Christ.
Transverse, being in a cross direction.
Trapeze, a sort of swing used in gymnastics.
Trappings, ornaments, specially for horses.
Trappist, a member of an order of monks.
Travail, labour; toil; labour in childbirth.
Traveller, one who journeys, especially in a foreign land; a travelling agent.
Traveller's tree, a tree of Madagascar.
Traverse, to pass across; to thwart; crosswise.
Travesty, a ridiculous misrepresentation of a serious work or subject.
Trawler, a fishing-boat dragging a net along the bottom of the sea.
Treacherous, faithless, perfidious.
Treachery, perfidy, breach of faith.
Treacle, the syrup obtained in refining sugar.
Treadmill, a wheel used as a prison punishment.
Treason, treachery against the State.
Treasure-trove, treasure discovered in the earth, the owner being unknown.
Treasury, a place where riches are kept; a government financial department.
Treatise, a written discourse on a particular subject.
Treaty (pl. treaties), negotiation; an agreement between two or more States.
Treble, threefold; the highest part in music.
Trefoil, a three-leaved plant, as clover.
Trellis, an openwork structure of iron or wood.
Tremendous, such as to inspire fear or wonder.
Tremolo, a quavering effect in music.
Tremor, a quivering or trembling motion.
Tremulous, trembling; feeling fear, shaking.
Trenchant, sharp, cutting.
Trencher, a wooden plate for cutting on.
Trencher-man, a good eater.
Trend, to lie in any particular direction; to turn.
Trental, an office for the dead.
Trepan', a surgical instrument; to catch, ensnare.
Trepanning, the operation of removing a portion of the skull to relieve the brain.
Trepidation, a trembling; a state of terror.
Trespass, to transgress; to enter unlawfully on another's land.
Tresses, ringlets or locks of hair.
Trestle, the frame of a table; a movable frame for the support of anything.
Triad, a body of three.
Triangular, having three angles.
Tribal, belonging to a tribe or family.
Tribulation, distress; deep affliction.
Tribu'nal, the seat of a judge; a court of justice.
Tribune, an ancient Roman magistrate chosen by the people; a platform.

Trib'utary, paying tribute; subordinate; a stream flowing into another stream.
Tribute, an annual payment made to another nation; homage.
Trice, a short time; to haul or tie up with a rope.
Trickster, one who cheats.
Tri'colour, the three-coloured flag of France.
Tricycle, a three-wheeled velocipede.
Trident, the three-pronged sceptre of Neptune; a three-pronged instrument.
Tridentine, relating to the Council of Trent.
Triennial, lasting three years; happening every third year.
Trifling, of little worth or consequence.
Trigamist, one who has three husbands or wives at a time.
Trigonom'etry, a branch of mathematics dealing with angles.
Trillion, a million twice multiplied by itself.
Trilogy, three dramas forming a whole, yet each complete in itself.
Trimestral, occurring every three months.
Trimmer, one who trims; a time-server.
Trinal, three-fold.
Trinity, the union of the three persons of the Godhead.
Trinket, a small ornament of no great value.
Trio, a musical composition for three performers; three together.
Tripar'tite, divided into three parts.
Tripe, the intestines; a dish prepared from he stomach of ruminating animals.
Triple, threefold; three times repeated.
Triplet, three of a kind; three lines rhyming together.
Trip'licate, threefold.
Tripod, a stand, etc., with three feet or legs.
Tripos, an examination for honours at Cambridge.
Triptych, three pictures, etc., joined together by hinges.
Trisect, to divide into three equal parts.
Trite, worn out, stale, not new.
Triton, a sea-god; a genus of molluscs.
Trituration, the act of grinding to a powder.
Triumphal, used in celebrating a victory.
Triumvirate, a coalition of three men in power.
Triune, three in one.
Trivial, trifling; of little worth or moment.
Triviality, the state of being trivial; a trifle.
Trivially, in a trivial manner.
Troglodyte, a cave-dweller.
Trojan, a native of Troy; a brave fellow.
Troll, to move circularly; to run round; to sing heartily.
Trolley or trolly, a small cart or truck.
Trooper, a horse-soldier.
Trope, a word used in a different sense from that which really belongs to it.
Trophy, something taken and kept in memory of a victory.
Tropics, the space between the tropics of Cancer and Capricorn.
Tropical, belonging to the tropics.
Troth-plight, the act of betrothing; betrothed.
Troubadour, one of the early poets of Provence.
Troublesome, tiresome; vexatious; uneasy.
Troublous, tumultuous; disordered.
Trough, a long hollow vessel; anything shaped like a trough.
Troupe, a party of performers.
Trousering, material for trousers.
Trousseau, the outfit of a bride.
Troy, a weight in which 12 ounces go to the pound.
Truancy, the act of playing truant.
Truant, an idler; a boy who stays away from school without leave.
Truce, a temporary cessation of hostilities by agreement.
Truckle, a small castor; to give way servilely.
Truculent, savage; cruel; terrible of aspect.
True, not false; genuine; faithful; exact.
Truism, a self-evident truth.
Truly, really; according to truth; faithfully.
Trumpery, rubbish; something of no value.
Truncated, cut short, lopped.
Truncheon, a short staff; a cudgel.
Trundle, to roll or bowl along.
Trunk-hose, wide breeches gathered in near the knee.
Trunnions, the knobs of a gun that support it on the carriage.
Truss, a bundle; a bandage worn for rupture; to pack close; to skewer ready for cooking.
Trustee, one chosen to manage property in trust for another.
Tryst, a promise to meet.
Trysting-place, the place chosen for a meeting.
Tsetse, a fly of South Africa.
T-square, a ruler shaped like a T.
Tube, a pipe; a hollow cylindrical body.
Tubercle, a small swelling or growth; a pimple.
Tuber'culosis, tuberculous disease.
Tubing, material for making tubes; tubes.
Tubular, resembling a tube; long and hollow.
Tuft-hunter, one who toadies to persons of rank.
Tui'tion, guardianship; teaching.
Tulle, a kind of thin silk net.
Tumbler, an acrobat; a large drinking-glass; a kind of pigeon.
Tumbrel or tumbril, a cart; a ducking-stool.
Tumid, swollen; protuberant; pompous.
Tumour, a morbid swelling.
Tumult, the commotion of a multitude; an uproar.
Tumultuous, full of tumult; turbulent.
Tu'mulus (pl. tumuli), a burial-mound.
Tunable, that may be put in tune; harmonious.
Tundra, one of the vast plains of Siberia.
Tune, a melody; an air; the state of giving the proper sounds.
Tunic, a loose garment.
Tunnel, an under-ground passage cut through a hill, under a river, etc.
Tunnelled, having a tunnel through.
Tunny, a fish.
Turanian, a term for a group of languages.
Turban, a head-dress worn in the East.
Turbid, thick, muddy.
Turbine, a horizontal water-wheel.
Turbot, a flat fish.
Turbulence, tumultuousness; confusion.
Tureen, a vessel for holding soup or vegetables.
Turf, earth covered with grass; a kind of fuel; the racecourse.
Turgescent, swelling, becoming turgid.
Turgidity, the state of being swollen.
Turkey, a large domestic fowl.
Turmoil, trouble, disturbance; agitation.
Turn-coat, one who forsakes his party or principles.
Turn-cock, a man who turns the water on or off from the main.
Turnery, wood-work done with a turning-lathe.
Turning-lathe, a lathe for shaping wood, etc.
Turnip, an esculent root.
Turnkey, one in charge of the keys of a prison.
Turn-over, a small pie; money received from customers during a certain period.
Turnstile, a barrier on a pivot which turns as any one passes through.
Turpentine, a resinous substance which exudes from certain trees.
Turpitude, base wickedness.
Turps, shortened form of turpentine.
Turquoise, a gem of a greenish-blue colour.
Turret-ship, an ironclad with its guns mounted on revolving turrets.
Turtle-soup, a soup made from turtle-flesh.
Tutelage, guardianship.
Tu'telary, having the guardianship of any person or thing.
Tutor, one who instructs another.
Tutorial, pertaining to a tutor.
Tweezers, small pincers.
Twelfth-night, the eve of the Epiphany.
Twilight, the faint light before sunrise and after sunset.
Twinge, a short, sudden, sharp pain; a pinch.
Twin-screw, a steamer having two propellers on separate shafts.
Twitter, to chirp.
Type, an emblem, a mark; a model; a letter in metal, etc., to print from.
Type-metal, a metal used for types.
Type-setting, the process of placing types ready for printing.
Type-writer, a machine to do the work of writing.
Typhoid, enteric fever.
Typhoon, a violent hurricane on the Chinese and Japanese seas.
Typhus, a contagious fever.
Typical, emblematic; characteristic.
Typify, to represent by an emblem or model.
Typographic, belonging to printing.
Typog'raphy, the art of printing.
Tyrannical, acting like a tyrant; despotic.
Tyran'nicide, the act of killing, or he who kills a tyrant.
Tyr'annous, tyrannical; arbitrary; severe.
Tyrant, a despotic ruler; an oppressor.
Tyro or tiro, one who has not yet mastered an art or subject.
Tyrolese, a native of the Tyrol.
Tzar, Tzarina, the Emperor and Empress of Russia.

Ubiq'uitous, present everywhere.
Ubiq'uity, the state of being ubiquitous.
Udder, the organ of the cow, etc., which secretes the milk.
Udometer, a rain-gauge.
Ugliness, lack of beauty; moral deformity.
Uhlan, a light cavalryman in continental armies.
Ukase, an imperial decree in Russia.
Ulcer, a sore which discharges matter.
Ulterior, lying beyond; not openly declared.
Ultimate, final; most remote.
Ultimatum, a final condition or offer.
Ultimo, the month preceding the present one.
Ultramarine, beyond the sea; a blue colour.
Ultramontane, beyond the mountains; one who strongly advocates the papal claims.
Ultroneous, voluntary.
Umber, a brown colouring matter.
Umbles, the entrails of a deer.
Umbra, the complete shadow in an eclipse.
Umbrage, a shade, a shadow; resentment.
Umbrageous, shady.
Umlaut, (German) the modification of a vowel.
Umpire, one called upon to decide a dispute by the mutual consent of the parties at variance.
Unaccented, having no stress laid on it.
Unaccompanied, not attended; without accompaniment.
Unaccredited, not authorized.
Unaccustomed, not habituated; not used.
Unacknowledged, not owned.
Unacquainted, without previous knowledge; strange.
Unadvisable, not advisable or prudent.
Unaffected, free from affectation; sincere.
Unalloyed, not mixed; perfect.
Unalterable, that cannot be altered.
Unane'led, without receiving extreme unction.
Unanim'ity, the state of being unanimous.
Unan'imous, being of one mind.
Unanswerable, not to be refuted.
Unappropriated, not appropriated or claimed.
Unassailable, not to be assailed or contested.
Unassuming, modest; not forward.
Unatoned, not expiated or atoned for.
Unattached, not attached to any particular regiment, etc.
Unauthenticated, not attested as genuine.
Unauthorized, not duly sanctioned.
Unavailable, not available.
Unavailing, useless; vain.
Unavoidably, inevitably.
Unawares, unexpectedly; without warning.
Unbalanced, not balanced; unsteady.
Unbecoming, unsuitable; indecorous.
Unbeliever, an infidel; one who does not believe.
Unbiased or unbiassed, free from prejudice.
Unbosom, to reveal in confidence.
Unbounded, without limit or restraint.
Uncanny, weird, mysterious.
Uncanonical, not according to the canons.
Unceasing, endless, continual.
Unceremoniously, without ceremony.
Unchangeable, without change.
Uncircumcised, not circumcised.
Uncle, the brother or brother-in-law of one's father or mother.
Uncomfortable, affording no comfort; not at ease.
Uncommunicative, reserved.
Uncom'promising, not allowing of compromise; unyielding.
Unconcern, want of interest or anxiety.
Unconditioned, unlimited; infinite.
Unconscionable, beyond reasonable limits.
Unconscious, without consciousness; unknowing.
Unconstitutional, contrary to the constitution.
Uncontrollable, that cannot be controlled.
Uncouple, to loose.
Uncouth, odd; awkward.
Unction, the act of anointing; the ointment used; warmth of devotion; pretended fervour.
Unctuous, oily; fawningly affable or fervid.
Undeceive, to make known a deception.
Undemon'strative, not given to showing one's feelings.
Undeniable, that cannot be denied.
Undenominational, not denominational.
Underbuy, to buy at a lower price than another.
Undercroft, a vault under the chancel of a church.
Undercurrent, a current running below the surface; a hidden influence.
Underestimated, not valued highly enough.
Undergraduate, a university student who has not taken his first degree.
Underhand, secretly; by fraudulent means.
Underpinning, the placing of supports under a building.
Underrate, to rate too low.
Under-secretary, a subordinate secretary.
Undersigned (the), the person or persons signing some document.
Undertaker, one who manages funerals.
Undertow, an undercurrent running in a different direction from the surface current.
Underwrite, to write under something else.
Underwriter, an insurer of ships.
Undesirable, not to be wished.
Undeterred, not deterred or prevented.
Undeviating, not deviating; regular.
Undiluted, not diluted.
Undiscerning, lacking discernment.
Undisciplined, lacking discipline; untrained.
Undistinguishable, not to be distinctly seen; not to be known by any peculiar property.
Undiversified, not diversified.
Undoing, ruin; destruction.
Undoubtedly, without question.
Undress, ordinary dress.
Undulation, a waving motion.
Undulatory, moving in the manner of waves.
Uneasiness, trouble; a state of disquiet.
Unembarrassed, not embarrassed.
Unendowed, not endowed.
Unequi'vocal, not equivocal; clear.
Unerring, committing no mistake; certain.

Unexcelled, not surpassed.
Unexceptionable, not liable to objection.
Unexhausted, not exhausted; not spent.
Unfamiliar, unaccustomed; strange.
Unfathomable, that cannot be fathomed.
Unfavourable, not propitious.
Unfeigned, not feigned; sincere.
Unfilial, undutiful towards parents.
Unforeseen, not foreseen.
Unfrequented, rarely visited.
Unfunded, not funded.
Unfurl, to unfold; to expand.
Ungainliness, the state of being awkward.
Ungodliness, wickedness; neglect of God.
Ungovernable, not to be ruled or restrained.
Ungrammatical, not in accordance with the rules of grammar.
Ungrudgingly, willingly; cheerfully.
Ungual, belonging to a nail, claw, or hoof.
Unguent, an ointment.
Unhallowed, unholy; profane.
Unhouseled, not having received the sacrament.
Unicorn, a fabulous one-horned animal.
Uniformity, conformity to one pattern.
Unify, to make or view as one.
Unimpassioned, not moved by passion; calm.
Unimpeachable, not to be impeached.
Unimpugnable, not to be called in question.
Uninhabitable, unfit to be inhabited.
Unintentional, happening without design.
Unintelligibly, so as not to be understood.
Uninterruptedly, without interruption.
Union, the act of joining and making one; concord; conjunction of mind or interests.
Unionist, a member of a union; a member of a political party opposed to Irish Home Rule.
Unique, peculiar, incomparable.
Unison, concord of sound.
Unit, a single person, number, or thing; a standard of measurement.
Unitarian, a member of a religious sect opposed to belief in the Trinity.
Unity (pl. unities), the state of being one; concord; uniformity.
Universal, general, extending to all.
Universalist, one who holds the doctrine of universal salvation.
Universe, the entire system of created things.
University (pl. universities), an educational institution which confers degrees.
Unjustifiable, not to be justified or defended.
Unkempt, uncombed; not polished.
Unlade, to unload; to discharge a cargo.
Unleavened, not leavened.
Unlettered, unlearned, untaught.
Unlicensed, having no legal permission.
Unlikelihood, improbability.
Unlimber, to take off the limbers; not easy to bend.
Unman, to deprive of courage; to dishearten.
Unmanageable, not easily governed.
Unmerited, not deserved.
Unmistakable, not to be mistaken.
Unmitigated, not softened or lessened.
Unmoor, to set free from moorings.
Unnavigable, that cannot be navigated.
Unnecessarily, without necessity.
Unoccupied, not occupied; not engaged in any work.
Unofficial, not official.
Unorthodox, not orthodox.
Unpalatable, not palatable; disagreeable.
Unparalleled, having no equal.
Unparliamentary, contrary to the rules of parliament.
Unplumbed, unfathomed.
Unpre'cedented, having no precedent.
Unpremeditated, not thought of beforehand.
Unprepossessing, not of a pleasing appearance.
Unpresentable, not presentable.
Unprincipled, with no settled principles; wicked.
Unprivileged, without certain privileges.
Unquestionably, without doubt.
Unreasoning, without reasoning powers; illogical, unreasonable.
Unregenerate, not brought to a new life.
Unreliable, that cannot be relied on.
Unrequited, not recompensed; not returned.
Unrighteous, unjust; wicked.
Unrivalled, without an equal.
Unruly, ungovernable, turbulent.
Unsavoury, tasteless; ill-smelling; unpleasing.
Unscathed, unharmed.
Unscriptural, not according to the Scriptures.
Unscrupulous, unprincipled; without scruple or consideration.
Unsearchable, inscrutable; beyond knowledge
Unseasoned, not seasoned; without seasoning.
Unsectarian, belonging to no one sect in particular.
Unseemliness, indecency; indecorum.
Unserviceable, useless; not fit for use.
Unsightly, disagreeable to the sight; ugly.
Unsized, not arranged by size; not containing size or glue.
Unslaked, not slaked or moistened, not quenched.
Unsociable, not fond of company.
Unsolicited, not solicited, not asked for.
Unsophisticated, not adulterated; simple, unaffected.
Unstable, not fixed; inconstant; irresolute.
Unsuitable, not suitable; unfit.
Unswerving, not swerving; firm.
Unsymmetrical, lacking symmetry.
Untenable, that cannot be held or defended.
Untidiness, want of neatness.
Untimely, happening at an unnatural time.
Unto'ward, froward, perverse; awkward.
Untractable, not easily managed; difficult.
Untrammelled, not fettered, free.
Untutored, uninstructed, untaught.
Unutterably, inexpressibly, ineffably.
Unvarying, not liable to change.
Unwarily, without caution.
Unwarrantable, not justifiable.
Unwary, wanting caution, imprudent.
Unwholesome, injurious to health.
Unwieldy, unmanageable; ponderous, bulky.
Unwonted, unusual; unaccustomed.
Unyielding, not yielding; obstinate.
Upbraid, to charge with anything disgraceful; to reproach.
Upheaval, a lifting up from beneath.
Upholsterer, one who makes or provides carpeting, sofas, mattresses, etc.
Upland, high ground above valleys.
Uprightness, honesty, integrity.
Uproarious, making a great noise or tumult.
Upstart, one suddenly raised to wealth or power.
Uranium, a hard metal.
Urban, belonging to a town or city.
Urbanity, civility; politeness, suavity.
Urchin, a hedgehog; a name for a child.
Urgency, pressing necessity for action.
U'rinal, a place for passing urine.
Ursine, relating to or like a bear.
Usage, treatment; custom, practice.
Usance, use; usury; interest paid for money.
Usher, an officer to introduce strangers; a schoolmaster.
Usual, common, frequent, customary.
Usufruct, life-interest in lands, etc.; enjoyment of the use of a possession.
Usurer, one who practises usury.
Usurious, practising excessive usury.
Usurp, to seize and hold without legal right.
Usury, the practice of lending money at an exorbitant rate of interest.
Utensil, an article of usefulness; a household vessel.
Uterus, the womb.
Utilitarianism, the doctrine that actions are right or wrong according to their utility.
Utility, usefulness; advantageousness.
Utilize, to make profitable use of.
Utopia, "nowhere"; a perfect condition of things, a place where everything is perfect.
Utterance, manner of speaking; pronunciation.
Uxorious, exaggeratedly fond of a wife.

Vacancy, empty space; an unfill'ed situation.
Vacant, empty; unfilled; empty of thought.
Vacation, the act of vacating; the interval between two terms; holidays.
Vaccinate, to inoculate against small-pox.
Vaccine, belonging to or obtained from cows; lymph obtained from cows.
Vacillation, a wavering of mind.
Vacu'ity, emptiness; space unoccupied; inanity.
Vacuum, a space unoccupied by matter.
Vade-mecum, a hand-book.
Vagabond, a vagrant; a good-for-nothing fellow.
Vaga'ry, a wild freak; a caprice.
Vagrancy, the state of being a vagrant.
Vagrant, a worthless wanderer; a tramp.
Vague, unsettled; not clear as to meaning.
Vagueness, the quality of being vague.
Vainglory, empty pride; boastfulness.
Valance, the drapery round a bed, etc.
Valedictory, bidding farewell.
Valetudinarian, one of a weak constitution; constantly ailing.
Valhalla, see Walhalla.
Valiant, brave, heroic.
Valid, having force; conclusive; legal.
Validity, the state of being valid.
Valise, a travelling bag.
Valorous, brave, valiant.
Valuable, precious; deserving regard.
Valuation, the value set upon anything; appraisement.
Valueless, being of no value.
Valve, a leaf of a folding-door; a kind of lid to an aperture which admits the passage of a fluid but prevents its return.
Vandalism, damage done to works of art wilfully or in ignorance.
Vanguard, the troops who precede the main body of an army.
Vanity, idle show; petty pride; empty pleasure; conceit; fruitless desire.
Vanquish, to conquer; to overcome.
Vantage-ground, superiority of place or opportunity.
Vapid, spiritless, dead.
Vaporous, full of vapour; flatulent.
Vapour, visible steam; vain imagination.
Variability, the state of being variable.
Variable, changeable, inconstant.
Variance, discord, disagreement.
Variant, a different form or reading.
Variation, change; difference; deviation.
Varicose, dilated, as a vein.
Variegate, to diversify with various colours.
Variegation, diversity of colours.
Variety, change; difference; a kind.
Variorum, an edition of a work containing notes by different commentators.
Variously, in different ways.
Vary, to change; to deviate; to disagree.
Vaseline, a substance obtained from petroleum and used as a liniment, etc.
Vassalage, the state of a vassal; servitude.
Vatican, the Pope's palace at Rome; the papal authority.
Vaticination, prophecy.
Vaudeville, a popular song; a play containing such songs.
Vault, a continued arch; a cellar; an underground chamber for the interment of the dead; a leap.
Vaunt, to boast; to display with ostentation.
Veda, the ancient Hindu sacred books.
Veering, turning about, shifting.
Vegetable, a plant; belonging to plants.
Vegetarian, one who excludes animal food from his diet.
Vegetate, to grow as plants; to lead a dull life.
Ve'hemence, the state of being vehement.
Ve'hement, violent; ardent; eager.
Vehicle, a carriage; a means of conveyance.
Vehic'ular, relating to a vehicle.
Veil, a cover for the face; a cover; a disguise.
Veldt, open country in South Africa.
Velocity, speed, swiftness.
Velvet, a fabric having a short soft pile.
Venal, ready to take bribes.
Venality, a spirit of greed or mercenariness.
Vendee, the person to whom a thing is sold.
Vender, one who sells.
Vendetta, the practice in Corsica of avenging the death of a relative.
Vendor, one who sells.
Veneer, a thin coating as of superior wood over inferior wood; outward show or polish.
Venerable, worthy of veneration.
Veneration, reverent regard or respect.
Venereal, relating to sexual intercourse.
Venetian-blind, a blind made of overlapping slips of wood.
Vengeance, punishment inflicted for an injury.
Vengeful, vindictive, revengeful.
Venial, pardonable; allowable.
Venison, the flesh of deer.
Venom, poison; spite.
Venomous, poisonous; malicious.
Venous, pertaining to the veins.
Ventilate, to let in fresh air; to discuss.
Ventilator, a contrivance to let in fresh air.
Ventriloquial, relating to ventriloquism.
Ventriloquist, one who speaks in such a manner as to give the impression that the sound proceeds from some other source.
Venturesome, daring, bold.
Venue, a thrust (fencing); the place of trial (law); a scene of encounter.
Veracious, true; observant of truth.
Veracity, the quality of being veracious.
Veranda, a gallery with sloping roof built out from a house.
Verbal, spoken, not written; literal.
Verba'tim, word for word.
Verbiage, superfluity of words.
Verbose, containing or using too many words.
Verbosity, the state of being verbose.
Verdant, green, fresh; ignorant.
Verderer, an officer of the royal forests.
Verdict, the decision of a jury; judgment.
Verdigris, the rust of brass or copper.
Verdure, greenness of vegetation.
Verification, the act of verifying.
Verify, to prove the truth of; to confirm.
Verisimilitude, probability, likelihood.
Veritable, true, agreeable to fact.
Verity, truth; a true assertion.
Vermeil, see vermilion.
Vermicelli, paste rolled into little worm-like forms.
Vermilion, a brilliant red pigment.
Vermin, any noxious animal or insect.
Vernac'ular, native, of one's own country.
Vernal, belonging to the spring or youth.
Versatile, changeable; able to apply oneself easily to a new task or to any accomplishment.
Versification, the art or system of making verses.
Version, a translation; an account or description.
Ver'tebral, relating to or having a spine.
Vertex (pl. vertices), the top; the point overhead.
Vertical, relating to the vertex; immediately overhead.
Verti'go, giddiness; a swimming in the head.
Vertu, objects of art, etc.
Vesper, the evening star; evening.
Vespers, evening service in the Roman Church.

Vestibule, an entrance-hall; a lobby.
Vestige, a footprint; a trace or remains of anything.
Vestment, a garment.
Vestry, a room adjoining a church in which the vestments, etc., are kept; a parochial assembly.
Vesture, dress; a garment; covering.
Veteran, experienced; an old soldier.
Vet'erinary, relating to the treatment of the diseases of domestic animals.
Veto, prohibition; refusal to assent to.
Vexation, uneasiness; annoyance.
Via media, a middle course.
Viaduct, a long bridge over a valley.
Vial, a small bottle.
Viand, food; meat dressed.
Viaticum, provisions for a journey; the last rites to the dying.
Vibrant, vibrating; resonant.
Vibrate, to quiver; to move to and fro; to cause to shake.
Vibration, the act of vibrating.
Vibratory, vibrating; causing vibration.
Vicarage, the benefice or house of a vicar.
Vicar-general, an officer who assists a bishop.
Vicarious, delegated; acting in the place of another.
Vice, a fault; evil conduct; a kind of iron press; taking the place of, or next in rank to.
Vice-admiral, an officer next in rank to an admiral.
Vice-chancellor, an officer next in rank to a chancellor.
Vicegerent, one intrusted with the power of a superior.
Vice-regal, belonging to a viceroy.
Viceroy, one who governs in place of the king with royal authority.
Vicinity, nearness; neighbourhood.
Vicious, devoted to vice; faulty; spiteful.
Vicissitude, unlooked-for change.
Victimize, to make a victim of; to swindle.
Victor, a conqueror.
Victoria Cross, see Dict. of Gen. Infor.
Victorious, successful in battle, etc.
Victual, food; to supply with food.
Victualler, one who provides victuals.
Vide, see, look at.
Videlicet, to wit, that is, viz.
Viduity, widowhood.
Vie, to endeavour to rival; to contend.
Viennese, a native or natives of Vienna.
View-halloo, the huntsman's cry at sight of the fox.
Viewless, not visible; dark.
Vigil, watch; devotion performed in the customary hours of rest.
Vigilant, watchful; circumspect.
Vignette, a small illustration at either end of a chapter; a small photograph.
Vigorous, full of strength; forcible.
Vigour, strength; mental force; energy.
Viking, an ancient Scandinavian sea-rover.
Vile, base; mean; worthless; wicked.
Vilify, to debase; to defame.
Villa, a country seat; a suburban residence; a Roman house.
Villager, an inhabitant of a village.
Villain, a wicked wretch; a serf in feudal times.
Villainy, wickedness; depravity; a crime.
Villeinage, the state of a villain; base servitude.
Vinculum, a tie; a bond.
Vindicate, to justify; to maintain.
Vindication, justification; defence.
Vindictive, revengeful.
Vine-clad, covered with vines.
Vinegar, an acid liquid used as a condiment; anything really or metaphorically sour.
Vinous, having the qualities of wine.
Vintager, one who gathers the harvest of the vine.
Vintner, one who sells wine.
Vi'ola, a large kind of violin; a genus of plants.
Violation, infringement; desecration; rape.
Violence, force; injury; outrage.
Violinist, one who plays the violin.
Violoncellist, one who plays the violoncello.
Violoncello, a stringed instrument.
Viperous, venomous.
Vira'go, a vixenish woman.
Virginity, maidenhood; chastity.
Viridity, greenness.
Virile, manly.
Virility, manhood.
Virtually, in effect.
Virtue, moral excellence; power, efficacy.
Virtuoso, a skilled musician; an authority on the arts.
Virtuous, morally good; chaste.
Vir'ulence, the state of being virulent.
Virulent, poisonous; bitter, malignant.
Virus, poisonous or contagious matter.
Visage, the face; look.
Vis-à-vis, face to face.
Viscid, glutinous, sticky.
Viscosity, the quality of being viscous.
Viscount, a nobleman next in rank below an earl.
Viscous, glutinous, sticky, tenacious.
Visé, an indorsement on a passport showing that it has been passed by an official.
Visible, that can be seen; apparent.
Visionary, affected by phantoms; imaginary; a day-dreamer.
Visitant, one who visits another.
Visitation, the act of visiting; an official visit of inspection; communication of divine love or anger.
Vista, a view; a prospect through an avenue.
Visual, relating to sight; used in sight.
Vital, containing or necessary to life; essential.
Vitality, vital power.
Vitals, internal organs essential to life.
Vitiate, to spoil; to make less pure.
Vitreous, consisting of or resembling glass.
Vitrifaction, the process of vitrifying.
Vitrify, to change into glass; to become glass.
Vitriol, a name given to sulphuric acid.
Vitu'perate, to censure; to rail at abusively.
Vitu'perative, angry; abusive.
Vivacious, lively, gay, sprightly.
Vivacity, liveliness, cheerfulness.
Vivandière, a woman attached to continental regiments who sells spirits, etc.
Vivâ voce, by word of mouth.
Viva rex, long live the king.
Vivid, lively; striking.
Vivify, to animate; to endue with life.
Vivisection, the act of making experiments on living animals in the interests of science.
Vixen, a she-fox; a bad-tempered woman.
Vizier, a minister of state in Mohammedan countries.
Vocabulary, a dictionary; a person's stock of words.
Vocal, relating to or uttered by the voice.
Vocalist, a singer.
Vocation, a call to any work, etc.; occupation.
Vocif'erate, to clamour; to cry out noisily.
Vocif'erous, clamorous, noisy.
Vodka, a Russian intoxicant.
Vogue, fashion, mode.
Void, empty; vacant; ineffectual; null.
Voidance, the state of being void; ejection.
Voilà, there is; there are; behold!
Volapük, a universal language invented by Johann Schleyer in 1879.
Volatile, having the power to pass off by rapid evaporation; flying; fickle; lively.
Volat'ilize, to make volatile.
Volcanic, relating to a volcano.
Volcano (pl. volcanoes), a burning mountain.
Volition, the act or power of willing.
Volt, a turning round; a fencing term; a unit of electro-motive power.
Voltameter, an instrument for measuring an electric current.
Volubility, the state of being voluble.
Voluble, having a ready flow of words.
Volume, something rolled; a book; bulk.
Voluminous, consisting of many complications; consisting of many volumes; bulky.
Voluntary, acting without compulsion; an organ solo in church.
Voluntary-school, an elementary school built and partly supported by voluntary contributions.
Volunteer, a soldier not in the regular army; to offer one's services.
Voluptuary, a man devoted to pleasure and luxury.
Voluptuous, given to excess of pleasure; sensual.
Vomit, to throw up from the stomach; to emit with violence.
Voracious, greedy; rapacious.
Voracity, the quality of being voracious.
Vortex (pl. vortices), a whirlpool; a whirlwind.
Votaress, a female votary.
Votary, one devoted as by a vow to any service, study, etc.
Voter, one who has the right to vote.
Vouch, to maintain; to bear witness.
Voucher, one who bears witness; written evidence of the truth of a fact.
Vouchsafe, to deign, to condescend.
Vowel, a letter that can be sounded by itself.
Voyager, one who travels by water, a traveller.
Vulcanite, the hard kind of vulcanised india-rubber.
Vulgar, belonging to the common people; mean, low.
Vulgarity, the state of being vulgar; a vulgar act.
Vulgate, a noted ancient Latin version of the Bible.
Vul'nerable, capable of receiving injury.
Vulture, a large bird of prey.
Vying, attempting to equal or excel.

Wad, a piece of tow or soft material used as a pad; the pad which keeps the charge in a gun.
Waddy, a stout club used by the natives of Australia.
Wafer, a thin sweet biscuit; a thin cake of unleavened bread used for sacramental purposes in the Roman Church.
Waft, to bear onward through sky or sea; a breath, a whiff, a puff.
Wage, to carry on (war); stipulated payment for work done, wages.
Wager, to stake, to bet.
Waggish, full of playful mischief or mischievous humour.
Waggle, to sway from side to side.
Wagon or Waggon, a strongly built four-wheeled cart for carrying goods.
Wagonage, payment for conveyance by wagon.
Wagonette, a light four-wheeled vehicle for carrying passengers.
Waif, a homeless wanderer, a vagabond.
Wailing, lamentation.
Wain, a waggon.
Wainscot, the wooden skirting or panelling round a room.
Waist, the narrowest part of the human body just above the hips.
Waist-band, a band, belt or ribbon for the waist.
Waiting-maid, a female attendant in domestic service.
Waitress, a female waiter.
Waive, to forego, not to press a claim.
Wake, to awake; to keep vigil; a night watch over a corpse held by the friends of the deceased the night before the funeral.
Wake, the trail of a ship in the water; hence the track, the rear.
Wakeful, sleepless; on the alert, watchful.
Waldenses, a sect of French Protestants of the 12th century named after their leader Waldo.
Walhalla, the name in Norse mythology of the abode of heroes slain in battle.
Walk, to travel on foot, to promenade.
Wallaby, a kind of kangaroo.
Wall-eye, a horse's eye with an iris light grey or nearly white.
Walloon, the native language of the Flemish.
Wallowing, rolling in mire or mud.
Walnut, a tree valuable both for its wood and its rich nuts.
Walpurgis-night, the night of the witches' revel, supposed to take place on the eve of May 1st.
Walrus, a large tusked amphibious mammal found in Arctic seas.
Waltz or valse, a graceful dance for two persons.
Wampum, shells or beads used by North American Indians as money, and as ornaments.
Wan, pale and weary.
Wand, a rod, a slender stick.
Wanderer, one who roams from place to place, a homeless person.
Wanderoo, an Indian baboon.
Wane, to gradually decrease or diminish.
Wanton, unrestrained, licentious.
Wantonness, idle sport, levity, licentiousness.
Wapentake, an ancient term still retained in Yorkshire for the divisions of the county corresponding to the hundreds in other counties.
Warble, a small tumour on the backs of cattle containing the maggot of the warble-fly.
Warbler, a singing bird.
War-cry, a battle-cry.
Ward, a minor entrusted to the care of a guardian; a division of a city or town; a room for several patients in a hospital; part of a lock; to guard.
War-dance, a dance which among certain savage tribes is a prelude to war.
Warden, the title of the head of a college; one who keeps ward or guard.
Wardrobe, a piece of furniture resembling a cupboard for the safe keeping of dresses and other wearing apparel.
Ward-room, the officers' mess room on board a man-of-war.
Wardship, guardianship, the functions of a guardian.
Warehouseman, one who keeps a wholesale warehouse or serves in one.
Warfare, armed strife, fighting.
Warily, in a wary or cautious manner.
Warm-blooded, having warm blood; fiery, impulsive.
Warming-pan, a covered pan to hold live coals used in olden times for warming beds.
Warning, an admonition, a caution; a notice of impending danger; a notice of dismissal.
War office, the department under the Secretary of State for War controlling military matters.
War-path, the path of hostility.
Warrant, a guarantee, an assurance; a justification, authorization; a writ.
Warrantable, justifiable.
Warrant-officer, a non-commissioned officer of the highest grade in the army or navy.
Warranty, authority, a guarantee, a deed of security.
Warren, a place where rabbits burrow and breed.
Warrior, a poetical term for a soldier.
War-ship, a man-of-war.
Wash-board, a wooden plank placed so as to prevent the sea from washing over a ship's gunwale.
Wash-leather, soft leather used for household purposes; leather from which regimental belts are made.
Waspish, fiery-tempered, irritable.
Wassail, "the wish of health," a liquor compounded of spiced ale and roasted apples in which healths were drunk on festive occasions.

Wassail-bowl, the bowl in which the wassail used to be mixed.
Wastage, gradual waste due to time and use.
Waste-pipe, a pipe for carrying off waste water.
Watchman, one who patrols the streets of a town or guards buildings by night.
Watch-spring, the main-spring of a watch.
Watch-word, a pass-word; the motto of a party.
Water-bailiff, a custom-house official who inspects vessels on their arrival in port or on their departure; one appointed to prevent poaching in preserved waters.
Water-bed, an india-rubber case filled with water used as a bed for the sick to prevent bed-sores.
Water-cart, a cart for watering roads.
Water-colour, colour mixed with water as distinct from oil-colour; a picture in water-colours.
Water-course, a channel hollowed out by a stream of water; a running stream
Water-fall, a cascade, a fall in a water-course.
Water-fowl, amphibious birds that frequent lakes and rivers.
Water-gauge, an instrument for measuring the height or amount of water.
Watering-place, a health resort by the sea-side or where there are mineral springs; a place where horses and cattle are watered.
Water-line, the line made by the water on the side of a ship marking the depth to which she sinks in the water.
Water-logged, filled with water and so unable to move.
Water-meter, an instrument constructed to record the amount of water which passes through it.
Water-mill, a mill worked by water power.
Water-parting, a ridge of high land separating river-basins.
Water-power, water applied as motive power to work machinery.
Waterproof, impervious to water; an outer covering made of rain-proof material
Watershed, the line of separation between two river-basins.
Water-spout, a hollow moving column of water produced by a whirlwind.
Water-tight, closely fitted so as to be impervious to water.
Water-way, a water-highway, a canal or navigable river.
Water-works, the means and appliances by which water is stored, filtered, and supplied for public use.
Water-worn, worn or fretted by the action of water.
Wattle, a pliant twig, withy or osier; the pink fleshy appendage below the throat of a cock or turkey.
Wavering, faltering, hesitating; tottering.
Waxend, thread stiffened with cobbler's wax.
Waxwork, a figure modelled in wax.
Wayfaring, journeying on foot.
Waylay, to intercept, to lie in wait for.
Wayward, headstrong, wilful.
Weald, a wold or open tract of wooded country.
Wealth, riches, abundance.
Wean, to cease to suckle; gradually to accustom to the loss of something.
Weanling, a young animal just weaned.
Weapon, an instrument of defence or attack.
Weariness, fatigue.
Wearisome, causing weariness, tiresome.
Weary, tired, fatigued.
Weasel, a small fierce carnivorous animal which preys on birds, moles, rats, etc.
Weather-beaten, marked by exposure to wind and weather.
Weather-cock, a weather-vane which shows the direction of the wind.
Weaver, one who weaves cloth in a loom.
Webbed, having the toes connected by a strong membrane, web-footed.
Wedding, a marriage; a silver wedding is the 25th anniversary of the wedding day, a golden or diamond are the 50th or 60th anniversaries respectively.
Wedlock, the state of marriage, matrimony.
Ween, to think, deem.
Weevil, a kind of beetle destructive to plant-life.
Weight, heaviness, pressure; a metal counterpoise of fixed standard used in weighing.
Weir, a dam across a stream to raise the level of the water for the purpose of working a mill; a row of stakes across a stream to prevent fish from passing through.
Weird, strange, uncanny.
Welcome, a hearty reception.
Weld, to hammer metals together after they have been softened by heat; to unite closely.
Welfare, well-being.
Welkin, an obsolete term for the sky, the clouds.
Well-appointed, having good appointments, well-equipped
Well-informed, possessed of general information.
Wellington, a high riding-boot named after the great Duke.
Well-meaning, with good intentions.
Well-proportioned, having its parts in proper proportion.
Welsh, belonging to Wales.
Welt, a border of leather round the edge of a boot or shoe above the sole.
Welter, to roll about in mire or gore.
Wench, a girl; a bold immodest girl.
Wend, to go; a member of a Slavonian race formerly dwelling on the south shore of the Baltic.
Wergeld or wergild, an Anglo-Saxon fine for murder.
Wesleyan, a follower of John Wesley, a member of the sect of Arminian Methodists.
Westering, travelling westward.
Westerly, blowing from the west; situated towards the west.
Wether, a castrated ram.
Wet-nurse, a nurse who suckles the child of another woman.
Whalebone, a tough flexible substance obtained from the upper jaw of a whale.
Whaler, a ship that goes on a whaling expedition.
Wharf (pl. wharves), a quay or landing place built on the bank of a river.
Wharfage, the fee charged by the owners of a wharf for the right to make use of it
Wharfinger, one who owns or has the management of a wharf.
Whatsoever, of any kind whatever.
Wheal, a mine
Wheaten, made of wheat.
Wheedling, coaxing, cajoling.
Wheel-wright, a wheel-maker, a carriage-builder.
Wheeze, to breathe noisily or huskily.
Whelm, to engulf, to utterly destroy.
Whelp, a puppy, a cub.
Whence, from what place or source?
Whereat, whereupon, upon which.
Wherry (pl. wherries), a light swift boat.
Whet, to sharpen, make keen; to stimulate, incite.
Whetstone, a stone upon which knives and edged tools are sharpened.
Whey, the watery liquid which separates from the curd when milk is curdled.
Whiggism, adherence to the political tenets of the Whigs.
Whilst, during the time that, at the same time as.
Whim, an odd caprice.
Whimperer, one who whimpers or whines.
Whimsical, full of whims, odd, eccentric.
Whimsy (pl. whimsies), a foolish whim; an odd idea.
Whining, whimpering.
Whinnying, neighing.
Whip-cord, cord used for making whip-lashes.
Whipper-in, one who whips in hounds to prevent their wandering from the scent.
Whipping-post, a post to which criminals were tied to be whipped.
Whipster, a contemptuous term for a young upstart, a whipper-snapper.
Whir, to make a whizzing noise.
Whirligig, a merry-go-round.
Whirlpool, a whirling eddy of water.
Whirlwind, a swift circular current of air.
Whirring, a whizzing sound.
Whisker, the hair on the side of the face.
Whisky or whiskey, a spirit distilled from barley and other cereals.
Whispering, speaking below the breath.
Whist, a game of cards played by four persons, two on each side.
Whistle, a shrill sound made by blowing; an instrument to make this sound.
White-flag, a flag used in war as a token of surrender or desire for a parley.
White lie, a slight and well-meant deviation from truth.
Whitechapel cart, a light spring cart.
Whitlow, a painful gathering near the finger nail.
Whitsunday, the seventh Sunday after Easter; the feast of Pentecost.
Wholesale, the sale of goods in large quantities as opposed to retail; extensive, on a large scale.
Wholesome, good for health, salutary; fresh, fit to eat.
Whooping cough, an infectious disease, usually confined to childhood, characterized by paroxysms of coughing attended by whooping.
Whore, a prostitute.
Wickedness, sinfulness, evil conduct, crime.
Wicket, the stumps at which the bowler aims in cricket; a small door set in a larger one; a small gate.
Widower, a man whose wife is dead.
Widowhood, the state of being a widow
Wieldy, able to be wielded, not cumbersome.
Wigwam, the hut of a Red Indian.
Wilderness, a barren waste.
Wildfire, a highly inflammable compound hard to be extinguished when once ignited.
Williness, guile, cunning.
Will o' the wisp, a Jack o' lanthorn, a deceptive phosphorescent flame which hovers over morasses.
Willowy, like a willow, pliant, graceful.
Willy-nilly, willing or not willing.
Wily, guileful, cunning.
Wimble, a kind of gimlet; a carpenter's brace.
Wimple, a white linen covering for the head and shoulders worn by nuns.
Wince, to shrink back from sudden pain or shock.
Winch, a crank or handle attached to the axis of a wheel by which it may be turned; a machine for hoisting weights.
Windegg, an egg imperfectly developed.
Windfall, unripe fruit blown down by the wind; an unexpected access of good fortune.
Wind-gauge, an instrument for measuring the force with which the wind is blowing.
Windlass, a revolving cylinder used for hoisting weights.
Windmill, a mill with arms or sails set in motion by the wind.
Window-sash, the wooden framework in which the panes of glass are set.
Windward, in the direction of the quarter from which the wind is blowing, against the wind.
Wine-press, a press in which the juice is pressed out of the grapes in the process of wine-making.
Winnow, to separate the chaff from the grain with a winnowing fan; to sift.
Winsome, winning, engaging.
Winter-quarters, a place where soldiers are quartered during the winter.
Wire-gauze, gauze made of fine woven wire.
Wire-puller, one who works behind the scenes to gain his own ends.
Wiry, like wire, tough.
Wisdom-tooth, a double tooth not cut until the time of manhood or womanhood.
Wiseacre, a foolish person who assumes airs of wisdom.
Wisp, a small bundle, especially of straw or hay.
Wistful, full of sad longing.
Witless, without wits, dull, stupid.
Witchcraft, sorcery, magic.
Wit'enagemot", "the council of wise men"—the legislative council of England in Anglo-Saxon times.
Withdrawal, the act of withdrawing.
Withers, the part below a horse's neck between the shoulder-bones.
Withstand, to resist, oppose, gainsay.
Witnesser, one who witnesses, one who signs a document as witness.
Witticism, a witty saying.
Wittingly, knowingly, consciously.
Wizard, a sorcerer, a magician.
Wizened, dried-up, shrivelled.
Woad, a plant from which a blue dye is obtained.
Woebegone, melancholy, overcome with woe.
Wold, an open tract of wooded country.
Woman (pl. women), a human female.
Womanish, effeminate.
Womanly, like a woman.
Womb, the uterus; any large dark cavity.
Wonder, a marvel; astonishment surprise.
Wondrous, marvellous, wonderful.
Won't, a contracted form of "will not."
Wont, accustomed.
Woo, to court, make love to.
Woodbine, honeysuckle.
Wood-cut, a picture produced from an engraving on wood.
Wood-cutter, a woodman, one who fells trees
Wood-engraving, the art of engraving on wood.
Woodland, belonging to the woods, sylvan.
Wood-nymph, a tree-nymph, a dryad.
Wooer, one who woos, a suitor, a lover.
Woof, the weft, the threads that cross the warp in the loom.
Wool-combing, the process of combing wool to straighten the fibres.
Wool-gathering, vaguely dreaming.
Woollen, made of wool.
Woolsack, the seat of the Lord Chancellor in the House of Lords.
Wool-stapler, a dealer in wool.
Wordiness, verbosity, prolixity.
Word-picture, a scene described in words.
Workable, practicable, feasible.
Workhouse, a poor-house.
Workmanship, the skill with which a work is wrought, the execution.
Worldliness, worldly-mindedness, love of this world.
Worldling, one who is worldly-minded, one who loves the things of this world.
Wormwood, a plant with a very bitter taste possessing medicinal properties; bitterness.
Worn, weary, exhausted, worn out.
Worrying, harassing, annoying; inclined to worry, over-anxious.
Worse, inferior; more wicked; less healthy.
Worship, to adore.
Worshipful, worthy of honour.
Worshipper, one who worships or adores.
Worsted, woollen yarn; defeated.

Worthily, in a worthy manner; adequately.
Wot, to know.
Would-be, pretentious, vainly aspiring.
Wound, to injure, to pain; a cut or injury.
Wound, the past tense and past participle of the verb to wind.
Wrack, seaweed cast up by the waves; destruction, ruin.
Wraith, a ghost, a spirit.
Wrangle, to bicker, to quarrel about trifles.
Wrangler, one who disputes about trifles; one who has obtained a first-class in the mathematical tripos at the Cambridge University.
Wrap, a shawl; to enfold, to enclose.
Wrapper, an outer covering for enclosing a newspaper; a wrap, a shawl.
Wrath, fierce anger.
Wreak, to inflict, to visit.
Wreath, a chaplet, a garland.
Wreathe, to adorn with a wreath, to encircle.
Wreckage, the act of wrecking; the débris cast ashore after a wreck.
Wrecker, one who wrecks vessels for the sake of plunder.
Wrench, to violently wring or twist off or asunder.
Wrest, to seize from or to pluck away by violence; to attach a forced meaning to anything to suit one's own ends.
Wrestler, one who wrestles with another in order to throw him.
Wretched, extremely miserable; deplorable; depraved.
Wriggle, to turn and twist about.
Wright, a maker, fabricator.
Wring, to twist violently or forcibly.
Wrinkle, a slight fold or furrow on the surface.
Wrist, the narrowest part where the hand and arm join.
Wristband, the band of a sleeve at the wrist.
Writ, a legal document containing a summons or other judicial command.
Write, to set down in writing; to be an author.
Writership, the functions or position of a writer.
Writhe, to turn and twist about from uneasiness or pain.
Wrong, wicked, not right; incorrect; mistaken.
Wrongheaded, misguided, headstrong, perverse.
Wroth, extremely angry.
Wrought, worked, made.
Wrought-iron, cast-iron rendered malleable by puddling.

Yacht, a light decked vessel built for racing purposes or for pleasure excursions.
Yahoo, a degraded brutal person (see Swift's "Gulliver's Travels").
Yak, a species of ox with long silky hair found in Central Asia, especially in Tibet.
Yam, the large edible root of a plant of the genus Dioscorea which grows in tropical climates.
Yankee, a colloquial term for a citizen of the United States.
Yard, three feet in lineal measure; a cross-beam attached to a mast to enable a sail to be spread; a court or enclosed place.
Yard-arm, one arm of the yard or cross-beam attached to a ship's mast.
Yataghan, a long, curved, Turkish dagger.
Yawl, a fishing smack, a small sailing boat with a deck and two masts; a small ship's boat.
Yawn, to gape.
Yeanling, a lamb just yeaned.
Year-book, a book published annually containing a record of the notable events and achievements of the year.
Yearning, a craving, an earnest longing.
Yeast, a leavening substance obtained from malt-liquor in the process of fermentation.
Yellow-fever, a deadly, contagious fever prevalent in tropical climates.
Yellow-hammer, a small song-bird with yellow feathers.
Yellow-jack, yellow-fever.
Yeoman (pl. yeomen), the owner of a small landed estate.
Yeomanry, a British volunteer cavalry force who provide their own horses and uniform.
Yestereve, yesterday evening, last evening.
Yield, to submit, surrender; give up.
Yo'del, the musical call of the Swiss mountaineers to one another.
Yoke, to couple or join; a wooden framework under which two oxen draw together; a wooden framework for the shoulders used by milkmen.
Yokel, a dull rustic; a boorish peasant.
Yolk, the yellow part of an egg.
Yore, (of) yore, (of) old.
Young-eyed, having the bright lustrous eyes characteristic of youth.
Youth, the period of adolescence or early life; the young collectively; a young man, a stripling.
Yule-log, the Christmas log.
Yule-tide, Christmas time.

Zeal, fiery enthusiasm, passionate ardour.
Zealot, a fiery enthusiast, a fanatic.
Zealous, full of zeal or ardour.
Zebu, a hump-backed ox common in India.
Zemindar', a native landholder in India paying taxes direct to the Government.
Zena'na, the women's apartments in a native Indian household.
Zend, the old language of Persia.
Zenith, the point in the sky immediately overhead; the culminating or highest point.
Zephyr, a poetical name for the west wind; a thin cotton fabric for summer wear.
Zero, a cipher; the point, indicated by the figure 0, from which thermometers and barometers are graduated.
Zest, ardour, zeal, eagerness.
Zeugma, a grammatical figure by which a term which belongs to one word or clause is made to apply also to another.
Zigzag, going from side to side in a slanting direction, thus forming a series of acute angles.
Zinc, a metallic element of a bright bluish-white colour.
Zinc-blende, native sulphide of zinc, blende.
Zincog'raphy, the art of etching on zinc.
Zither, a musical instrument with a flat sounding-board and several strings.
Zodiac, a zone in the heavens containing the twelve constellations whose symbols are known as the signs of the zodiac.
Zodi'acal, belonging to the zodiac.
Zoetrope, a mechanical optical toy.
Zone, a belt or region.
Zoochem'istry, that branch of chemistry which deals with the chemical constituents of the animal body.
Zoog'raphy, an account of the appearance, nature, and habits of animals.
Zoolite, a fossil animal, a petrified animal organism.
Zoology, that branch of biology which deals with animal life.
Zooph'agous, a carnivorous or flesh-eating animal.
Zoophyte, a name applied to certain animal organisms which closely resemble plant-life.
Zoot'omy, the science of comparative anatomy, the dissection of the lower animals.
Zoroastrianism, the doctrines of Zoroaster as embodied in the sacred writings of the Parsees; fire-worship.

ABBREVIATIONS AND CONTRACTIONS.

A1 First class (of ships).
A.A.G. Assistant Adjutant General.
A.B. (L. Artium Baccalaureus). Bachelor of Arts. (Also B.A.)
A.B. Able-bodied seaman.
Abp. Archbishop.
A.C. (L. Ante Christum). Before Christ.
a/c. Account.
A.C.A. Associate of Chartered Accountants.
A.C.P. Associate of the College of Preceptors.
A.C.S. Additional Curates' Society.
A.C.S. Anglo-Continental Society.
A.D. (L. Anno Domini). In the year of our Lord.
A.D.C. Aide-de-camp.
Ad lib. (L. ad libitum). At pleasure.
Adm. Admiral.
Æt. (L. Ætatis). In the year of his age.
A.F.A. Associate of the Faculty of Actuaries.
A.G. Adjutant General.
Ag. (L. Argentum). Silver.
A.H. (L. Anno Hegiræ). In the year of the Hegira. (The Mohammedan era).
A.I.A. Associate of the Institute of Actuaries.
A.I.C. Associate of the Institute of Chemistry.
Assoc.Inst.C.E. Associate of the Institute of Civil Engineers.
A.K.C. Associate of King's College (London).
A.L.S. Associate of the Linnæan Society.
A.M. (L. Anno Mundi). In the year of the world.
A.M. (L. Ante Meridiem). Before noon.
A.M. (L. Artium Magister) Master of Arts. (Also M.A.)
A.M.Inst.C.E. Associate-member of the Institute of Civil Engineers.
A.M.S. Army Medical Staff.
An. (L. Anno). In a year.
Anon. Anonymous.
A.O.D. Ancient Order of Druids.
A.O.F. Ancient Order of Foresters.
App. Appendix.
A.P.S. Aborigines Protection Society.
A.P.U.C. Association for the Promotion of the Unity of Christendom.
Aq. (L. Aqua). Water.
A.Q.M.G. Assistant Quarter Master General.
A.R. (L. Anno Regni). In the year of the reign.
A.R.A. Associate of the Royal Academy.
A.R.A.M. Associate of the Royal Academy of Music.
A.R.C.E. Academical rank of Civil Engineers.
Arch. Archdeacon.
A.R.C.S. Associate of the Royal College of Science.
A.R.H.A. Associate of the Royal Hibernian Academy.
A.R.I.B.A. Associate of the Royal Institute of British Architects.
A.R.S.A. Associate of the Royal Scottish Academy.
A.R.S.M. Associate of the Royal School of Mines.
A.S. Anglo-Saxon.
A.S. In the year of our salvation. (Ecclesiastical).
A.S.C. Army Service Corps.
A.S.R.S. Army Scripture Readers' Society.
Atty. Gen. Attorney General.
Au. (L. Aurum). Gold.
A.U.C. (L. Ab Urbe Condita). From the building of Rome.
A.V. Authorized Version of the Bible.
A.V. Artillery Volunteers.
Av. Avenue.
A.V.D. Army Veterinary Department.
Avoir. Avoirdupois.
B.A. Bachelor of Arts. (Also A.B.)
B.A.O. Bachelor of the Art of Obstetrics.
Bart. Baronet. (Also Bt.)
B.C. Before Christ.
B. Ch. Bachelor of Chirurgiæ.
B.C.L. Bachelor of Civil Law.
B.C.S. Bengal Civil Service.
B.D. Bachelor of Divinity.
B.L. Bachelor of Laws. (Also LL.B.)
B/l. Bill of lading.
B.M. Bachelor of Medicine.
B.Mus. Bachelor of Music. (Also Mus. B.)
Bn. Battalion.
B.O. Branch-office. (Postal.)
Bomb. S.C. Bombay Staff Corps.
B.P. British Public.
Bp. Bishop.
Brig. Gen. Brigadier-General.
Brit. Britain, Britannia, Briton, British.
B.S. Bachelor in Surgery.
B.Sc. Bachelor of Science.
B.S.C. Bengal Staff Corps.
B.S.L. Botanical Society, London.
Bt. Baronet. (Also Bart.)
B.Th. Bachelor of Theology.
B.Th.U. British Thermal Unit.
B.T.U. Board of Trade Unit.
B.V. Blessed Virgin.
B.V.M. (L. Beata Virgo Maria). Blessed Virgin Mary.
C. Cent, Centigrade, Centime.
C. (L. Circa) about.
C.A. Chartered Accountant.
Cal. California.
Cantab. (L. Cantabrigiensis). Of Cambridge.
Cantuar. (L. Cantuariensis). Of Canterbury. (The Primate uses Cantuar as his surname).
C.Ass. Church Association.
C.Aug.F. Curates' Augmentation Fund.
C.B. Companion of the Bath.
C.B.F. Colonial Bishopric's Fund.
C.C. County Councillor. County Council.
C.C.C. Corpus Christi College.
C.D.I. Church Defence Institution.
C.D.V. Carte-de-visite.
C.E. Civil Engineer.
Cel. Celsius (Thermometer).
Cent. (L. centum). A hundred.
C.E.T.S. Church of England Temperance Society.
C.E.W.H.S. Church of England Women's Help Society.
C.E.W.M.S. Church of England Working Men's Society.
C.E.Z.M.S. Church of England Zenana Missionary Society.
Cf. (L. confer). Compare.
C.F. Chaplain of the Forces.
C.G. Coast-guard.
C.G. Commissary-general.
C.G.S The units of length, mass and time (centimetre, gramme, second), used in modern scientific calculations.
C.G.U. Church Guild's Union.
C.I. Order of the Crown o India.

C.I.E. Companion of the Order of the Indian Empire.
C.I.V. City, Imperial Volunteers.
C.J. Chief Justice.
C.L.B. Church Lads' Brigade.
C.L.C.R. Cheshire Lines Committee Railway.
C.L.R. Central London Railway.
cm. Centimetres.
C.M. Certificated Master.
C.M. (L. Chirurgiæ Magister). Master in Surgery.
C.M. Common metre.
C.M.G. Companion of the Order of St. Michael and St. George.
C.M.S. Church Missionary Society.
Co. Company.
Co. County.
C.O. Commanding Officer.
C.O. Colonial Office.
c/o. Care of.
C.O.D. Cash on delivery.
Col. Colonel.
Coll. College.
Com. Commander.
Com. Commissioner.
Com. Commodore.
Con. (L. contra). Against.
Conn. Connecticut.
C.O.P. Clergy Orphan Corporation.
Cor.Mem. Corresponding Member.
Cor.Sec. Corresponding Secretary.
C.O.S. Charity Organisation Society.
C.P. Clerk of the Peace.
C.P. Common Pleas.
C.P.A.S. Church Pastoral Aid Society.
C.P.C. Clerk of the Privy Council.
C.P.R. Canadian Pacific Railway.
C.P.S. (L. Custos Privati Sigilli). Keeper of the Privy Seal.
Cr. Credit, Creditor.
C.R. (L. Custos Rotulorum). Keeper of the Rolls.
C.R. Caledonian Railway.
C.R. Cambrian Railway.
Cres. Crescendo. (Musical).
C.S. Chemical Society.
C.S. Civil Service.
C.S. Clerk to the Signet.
C.S. Court of Session.
C.S.I. Companion of the Star of India.
C.S.L.R. City and South London Railway.
C.S.U. Christian Social Union.
C.T. Certificated Teacher.
C.T.C. Cyclists' Touring Club.
Cu. (L. cuprum). Copper.
Curt. Current; the present month.
C.V.O. Commander of the Royal Victorian Order.
Cwt. (c-L. centum, and wt.-Eng. weight). A hundredweight.

d. (L. denarius). A penny.
D.C. (It. Da Capo). From the beginning; again. (Musical).
D.C.L. Doctor of Civil Law.
D.D. (L. Divinitatis Doctor). Doctor of Divinity.
D.D.D. (L. Dat, donat, dicatque). "He—the donor—gives this, presents and dedicates it." Letters often written after the name of a donor, on a fly-leaf.
Deft. Defendant.
Del. Delaware.
Del. (L. delineavit). He (or she) drew it.
D.F. Dean of the Faculty.
D.F. Defender of the Faith. (Also F.D.).
D.G. (L. Dei Gratia). By the Grace of God.
D.Hy. Doctor of Hygiene.
Dim. Diminuendo. (Musical).
Dis. Discount.
D.L. Deputy Lieutenant.
D.L.I. Durham Light Infantry
D.Lit. Doctor of Literature.
D.L.O. Dead Letter Office.
D.M. (L. Dis Manibus). "To the Divine Manes." Letters at the head of a Roman tombstone.
D.M.D. Doctor of Dental Medicine.
D.Mus. Doctor of music. (See Mus. D.)
Do. (It. Ditto). The same.
D.O. District-office. (Postal).
Dols. Dollars.
D.O.M. (L. Deo optimo Maximo). To God the best and Greatest.
Doz. Dozen.
D.P.H. Diploma of Public Health.
Dr. Debtor.
Dr. Doctor.
dr. Dram.
D.S. (It. Dal Segno). From the sign.
D.Sc. Doctor of Science.
D.S.O. Companion of the Distinguished Service Order.
D.S.Sc. Diplomate in Sanitary Science.
D.T. (L. Doctor Theologiæ). Doctor of Theology.
Dunelm. (L. Dunelmensis). Of Durham.
D.V. (L. Deo volente) God willing.
D.V.H. Diploma in Veterinary Hygiene.
dwt. (d—L. denarius, and wt. —Eng. weight). A penny weight.

E. Earl.
Eblan. (L. Eblanensis). Of Dublin.
Ebor. (L. Eboracensis). Of York. (The Archbishop of York uses Ebor as his surname).
E.C. Established Church.
E.C.U. English Church Union.
Ed. Editor.
E.D.S. English Dialect Society.
E.E. Errors excepted.
E.E.T.S. Early English Text Society.
e.g. (L. exempli gratia). For example.
E.L.R. East London Railway.
Eng. England or English.
Env.Ext. Envoy Extraordinary.
Eq. Equal.
E.R. (L. Edvardus Rex). King Edward.
Esq. Esquire.
E.T. English Translation.
Et al. (L. et alibi). And elsewhere.
Et al. (L. et alii). And others.
etc. (L. et cæteri, cæteræ, or cætera). And others; and so on.
Et seq. (L. et sequentes). And the following.
Ex.div. Exclusive of dividend.
Exec. Executor.
Execx. Executrix.
Exon. (L. Exoniensis). Of Exeter. (The Bishop of Exeter uses Exon as his surname).
E.&O.E. Errors and Omissions excepted.

F. Fahrenheit.
f. Franc.
F.A. Football Association.
Fahr. Fahrenheit. (Thermometer).
F.A.M. Free and Accepted Mason.
F.A.S. Fellow of the Antiquarian Society.
F.A.S.E. Fellow of the Antiquarian Society (Edinburgh).
F.A.S.L. Fellow of the Antiquarian Society (London.)
F.B.S. Fellow of the Botanical Society.
F.B.S.E. Fellow of the Botanical Society (Edinburgh).
F.C. (L. Fieri curavit). "He directed this to be done." Letters put at the end of a monumental inscription, after the donor's name.
F.C.A. Fellow of Chartered Accountants.
Fcp. Foolscap.
F.C.P. Fellow of the College of Preceptors.
F.C.P.S. Fellow of the Cambridge Philosophical Society.
F.C.S. Fellow of the Chemical Society.
F.D. (L. Fidei Defensor.) Defender of the Faith. (Also D.F.).
Fec. (L. fecit). He (or she) did it.
F.E.I.S. Fellow of the Educational Institute of Scotland.
F.F.A. Fellow of the Faculty of Actuaries.
F.F.P.S. Fellow of the Faculty of Physicians and Surgeons (Glasgow).
F.G.S. Fellow of the Geological Society.
F.H.S. Fellow of the Horticultural Society.
F.I.A. Fellow of the Institute of Actuaries.
F.I.C. Fellow of the Institute Society of Chemistry.
F.I.Inst. Fellow of the Imperial Institute.
fir. Firkin.
F.J.I. Fellow of the Institute of Journalists.
F.K.Q.C.P.I. Fellow of King's and Queen's College of Physicians, Ireland.
fl. Florin.
Fla. Florida.
F.L.S. Fellow of the Linnæan Society.
F.M. Field-Marshal.
F.O. Foreign-office.
F.O. Field-Officer.
fo. Folio.
f.o.b. Goods bought (or sold) to be delivered "free on board."
F.P. Fire plug.
F.P.S. Fellow of the Philological Society.
F.R.A.S. Fellow of the Royal Astronomical Society.
F.R.C.I. Fellow of the Royal Colonial Institute.
F.R.C.P. Fellow of the Royal College of Physicians.
F.R.C.P.E. Fellow of the Royal College of Physicians (Edinburgh).
F.R.C.S. Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons.
F.R.C.S.Eng. Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons (England).
F.R.C.S.E. Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons (Edinburgh).
F.R.C.S.I. Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons (Ireland).
F.R.C.V.S. Fellow of the Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons.
F.R.G.S. Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society.
F.R.H.S. Fellow of the Royal Horticultural Society.
F.R.I.B.A. Fellow of the Royal Institute of British Architects.
F.R.M.S. Fellow of the Royal Microscopical Society.
F.R.Met.Soc. Fellow of the Royal Meteorological Society.
F.R.P.S. Fellow of the Royal Photographic Society.
F.R.S. Fellow of the Royal Society.
F.R.S.E. Fellow of the Royal Society (Edinburgh).
F.R.S.L. Fellow of the Royal Society of Literature.
F.S.A. Fellow of the Society of Antiquaries.
F.S.A.Scot. Fellow of the Society of Antiquaries (Scotland).
F.S.S. Fellow of the Statistical Society.
F.T.C.D. Fellow of Trinity College, Dublin.
F.Z.S. Fellow of the Zoological Society.

Ga. Georgia (United States).
G.A. General Assembly.
gal. Gallon
G.B. Great Britain.
G.B&I. Great Britain and Ireland.
G.C.B. Grand Cross of the Bath.
G.C.H. Grand Cross of the Guelphs of Hanover.
G.C.I.E. Knight Grand Commander of the Indian Empire.
G.C.L.H. Grand Cross of the Legion of Honour.
G.C.M.G. Grand Cross of St. Michael and St. George.
G.C.R. Great Central Railway.
G.C.S.I. Grand Commander of the Star of India.
G.C.V.O. Knight Grand Cross of the Royal Victorian Order.
G.D. Grand Duke (or Duchess).
Gdns. Gardens.
G.E.R. Great Eastern Railway.
G.F.S. Girls Friendly Society.
G.L. Grand Lodge.
gm. Grammes.
G.M. Grand Master.
G.M.K.P. Grand Master of the Knights of St. Patrick.
G.N.R. Great Northern Railway.
G.N.R. Great Northern Railway. (Ireland).
G.N.S.R. Great North of Scotland Railway.
Gov.Gen. Governor-General.
G.P.O. General Post-office.
gr. Grain.
Gr. Greek.
G.S.W.R. Glasgow and South Western Railway.
G.S.W.R. Great Southern and Western Railway. (Ireland).
G.W.R. Great Western Railway.

H.A.C. Honourable Artillery Company.
H.B.M. His (or Her) Britannic Majesty.
H.C. House of Commons.
H.C. Herald's College
h.e. (L. hoc est). That (or this) is.
H.E. His Eminence.
H.E. His Excellency.
Heb. Hebrew.
H.G. Horse Guards.
H.H. His (or Her) Highness.
H.H. His Holiness (the Pope).
hhd. Hogshead.
H.I.H. His (or Her) Imperial Highness.
Hil. Hilary
H.I.M. His Imperial Majesty.
H.J. (L. Hic Jacet). Here lies.
H.J.S. (L. Hic Jacet Sepultus.) Here lies buried.
H.L. House of Lords.
h.l. (L. hoc loco). In this place.
H.L.I. Highland Light Infantry.
H.M. His (or Her) Majesty
H.M.C. His (or Her) Majesty's Customs.
H.M.I.S. His Majesty's Inspector of Schools.
H.M.S. His Majesty's Service
H.M.S. His Majesty's Ship.
H.P. Half-pay.
H.P. Horse-power.
H.R.H. His (or Her) Royal Highness.
H.R.I.P. (L. hic requiescit in pace). Here rests in peace.
H.S. (L. hic situs). Here lies.
H.S.H. His (or Her) Serene Highness.
H.S.S. (L. Historiæ Societatis Socius). Fellow of the Historical Society.
H.W.M. High water mark.

Ia. Iowa.
Ib. or Ibid. L. Ibidem. In the same place.
I.C.S. Indian Civil Service.
Id. (L. idem. The same.
i.e. (L. id est. That is.
I.H.S. (more properly IHS or IHC). The first three letters of the name Jesus in Greek.
Ill. Illinois.
I.L.P. Independent Labour Party.
I.M. Isle of Man.
I.M.D. Indian Medical Department.
Imp. (L. Imperator). Emperor: Imperial.

I.M.S. Indian Medical Service.
in. Inch.
Incog. (It. incognito, incognita). Unknown.
Ind. Indiana.
Inst. (L. instante). Instant; of the present month.
Inst. Institute; Institution.
Int. Interest.
In trans. (L. in transitu). On the way.
Inv. (L. invenit). He designed.
I.O.C.I. The Imperial Order of the Crown of India.
I.O.G.T. Independent Order of Good Templars.
I.O.O.F. Independent Order of Oddfellows.
I.O.U. I owe you.
I.P.D. (L. In præsentia Dominorum). In presence of the Lords (of Session), Edinburgh.
i.q. (L. idem quod). The same as.
I.R.O. Inland Revenue Office.
I.R.R. Irish Royal Rifles.
I.S.O. Imperial Service Order
It. Italian.
I.W. Isle of Wight.
I.Y. Imperial Yeomanry.

J.A. Judge-Advocate.
J.C. Jesus Christ.
J.C.D. (L. Juris Civilis Doctor). Doctor of Civil Law.
J.D. (L. Jurum Doctor) Doctor of Laws.
J.G.W. Junior Grand Warden.
J.P. Justice of the Peace.
Jr. Junior.
J.U.D. (L. Juris Utriusque Doctor). Doctor of both Civil and of Canon Law.
J.W. Junior Warden.

K. King.
Kan. Kansas.
K.B. Knight of the Bath.
K.B. King's Bench.
K.C. King's Counsel.
K.C.B. Knight Commander of the Bath.
K.C.H. Knight Commander of the Guelphs of Hanover.
K.C.I.E. Knight Commander of the Indian Empire.
K.C.M.G. Knight Commander of St. Michael and St. George.
K.C.S. Knight of the Order of Charles III. (Spain).
K.C.S.I. Knight Commander of the Star of India.
K.C.V.O. Knight Commander of the Victorian Order.
K.D.G. King's Dragoon Guards.
K.E. Knight of the Eagle (Prussia).
Ken. Kentucky.
K.G. Knight of the Garter.
K.G.C. Knight of the Grand Cross.
K.G.C.B. Knight of the Grand Cross of the Bath.
K.G.C.M.G. Knight of the Grand Cross of St. Michael and St. George.
K.G.F. Knight of the Golden Fleece (Spain).
K.G.H. Knight of the Guelphs of Hanover.
K.H. Knight of Hanover.
kilog. Kilogramme.
kilom. Kilometre.
K.L.H. Knight of the Legion of Honour.
K.L.B. Knight of Leopold of Belgium.
K.M Knight of Malta.
K. Mess. King's Messenger.
K.N.S. Knight of the Royal Northern Star (Sweden).
K.O.S.B. King's Own Scottish Borderers.
K.P. Knight of St. Patrick.
K.R.R. King's Royal Rifles.
K.S. Knight of the Sword (Sweden).
K.T. Knight of the Thistle.
K.T. Knight Templar.

L. Lord or Lady.
L. Latin.
L. (L. libra). Pound (Sterling).
L.A. Legislative Assembly.
L.A. Law Agent.
L.A. Literate in Arts.
La. Louisiana.
L.A.H. Licentiate of Apothecaries' Hall (Ireland.)
L.A.S. Licentiate of the Apothecaries' Society. (Also L.S.A).
Lat. Latitude.
Lb. (L. Libra). Pound.
L.B.S.C.R. London Brighton and South Coast Railway.
L.C. Lord Chamberlain.
L.C. Lord Chancellor
l.c. Lower case (type).
L.C.C. London County Council
L.Ch. Licentiate in Surgery.
L.C.J. Lord Chief Justice.
L.C.P. Licentiate of the College of Preceptors.
L.D. Lady Day.
L.D.S. Licentiate of Dental Surgery.
L.F.P.S. Licentiate of the Faculty of Physicians and Surgeons.
L.G. Life Guards.
L.I. Long Island.
L.I. Light Infantry.
Lib. (L. Liber). Book.
Lic. Med. Licentiate in Medicine
Lieut. Lieutenant.
Lieut. Col. Lieutenant-Colonel.
Lieut. Gen. Lieutenant-General.
Lieut. Gov. Lieutenant-Governor.
Linn. Linnæan.
L.L.A. Lady-literate in Arts.
LL.B. (L. Legum Baccalaureus.) Bachelor of Laws (the double letter L is used to denote the plural). (Also B.L.)
LL.D. (L. Legum Doctor). Doctor of Laws
LL.M. (L. Legum Magister). Master of Laws.
L.L.I. Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland.
L.M. Long Metre.
L.M. Licentiate in Midwifery.
L.N.W.R. London and North Western Railway.
loc. cit. (L. loco citato.) In the place quoted.
Lon. Longitude.
loq. (L. loquitur). Speaks.
L.O.S. Licentiate of the Obstetrical Society.
L.P. Lord Provost.
L.R.C. Labour Representative Committee.
L.R.C.P. Licentiate of the Royal College of Physicians.
L.R.C.P.E. Licentiate of the Royal College of Physicians (Edinburgh).
L.R.C.S. Licentiate of the Royal College of Surgeons.
L.S. Linnæan Society.
L.S. (L. locus sigilli.) The place of the seal.
L.S.A. Licentiate of the Society of Apothecaries (Also L.A.S.).
L.S.D. (L. Libræ, Solidi, Denarii). Pounds, shillings, pence.
L.Sc. Licentiate in Sanitary Science.
L.S.W.R. London and South Western Railway.
L.T.S.R. London, Tilbury, and Southend Railway.
L.W.M. Low water mark.
LXX. (70) Septuagint version.

M. Marquis.
M. Monsieur.
M. (L. mille). A thousand.
M. (L. meridies). Noon.
m. Mile.
M.A. Master of Arts. (Also A.M.)
Maj. Gen. Major-General.
M.A.O. Master of the Art of Obstetrics.
Mass. Massachusetts.
M. Ast. S. Member of the Astronomical Society.
M.B. (L. Medecinæ Baccalaureus). Bachelor of Medicine. (Also B.M.)
M.C. Master in surgery. (Also C.M.)
M.C. Master of Ceremonies.
M.C. Member of Congress.
M.C.C. Marylebone Cricket Club.
M.C.P. Member of the College of Preceptors.
M.C.S. Madras Civil Service.
M.D. (L. Medicinæ Doctor.) Doctor of Medicine.
Md. Maryland.
Mdlle. Mademoiselle.
Mdme. Madame.
M.D.R. Metropolitan District Railway.
M.E. Mechanical, Military, or Mining Engineer.
M.E. Methodist Episcopal.
Me. Maine.
Mem. Memorandum.
Messrs. Messieurs, Gentlemen.
M.F.H. Master of Foxhounds.
M.G.W.R. Midland Great Western Railway.
M.Hon. Most Honourable.
M.H.S. Member of the Historical Society.
M.Inst.C.E. Member of the Institution of Civil Engineers.
Mich. Michigan.
M.I.E.E. Member of the Institute of Electrical Engineers.
M.I.M.E. Member of the Institute of Mechanical Engineers.
Mid. Midshipman.
min. Minute.
Minn. Minnesota.
Min. Plen. Minister Plenipotentiary.
Miss. Mississippi.
M.L.A. Member of the Legislative Assembly.
M.L.C. Member of the Legislative Council.
MM. Their Majesties.
MM. Messieurs.
mm. Millimetres.
M.N.S. Member of the Numismatical Society.
Mo. Missouri.
M.O. Money Order. (Postal).
Mod. (L. moderato). Moderately. (Musical).
M.O.H. Medical Officer of Health.
M.O.O. Money Order Office. (Postal).
M.P. Member of Parliament.
M.P.S. Member of the Pharmaceutical Society.
M.P.S. Member of the Philological Society.
Mr. (L. Magister). Mister.
M.R. Master of the Rolls.
M.R. Midland Railway.
M.R. Metropolitan Railway.
M.R.A.S. Member of the Royal Academy of Science.
M.R.A.S. Member of the Royal Asiatic Society.
M.R.C.P. Member of the Royal College of Physicians.
M.R.C.S. Member of the Royal College of Surgeons.
M.R.C.V.S. Member of the Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons.
M.R.G.S. Member of the Royal Geographical Society.
M.R.I. Member of the Royal Institution.
M.R.I.A. Member of the Royal Irish Academy.
Mrs. Mistress.
M.R.S.L. Member of the Royal Society of Literature.
M.S. Master in Surgery.
M.S. (L. memoriæ sacrum). Sacred to the memory.
M.S.B. Member of School Board.
M.S.H. Master of Staghounds.
MSS. Manuscripts.
M.S.S. Member of the Statistical Society.
Mt. Mountain.
Mus. B. (L. Musicæ Baccalaureus). Bachelor of Music. (Also B. Mus.).
Mus. D. (L. Musicæ Doctor). Doctor of Music. (Also D. Mus.).
M.V.O. Member of the Victorian Order.
M.W.G.M. Most Worthy Grand Master.

N.A. North America.
N.B. North Britain.
N.B. New Brunswick.
N.B. (L. nota bene). Note well.
N.B.R. North British Railway.
N.C. North Carolina.
N.C.U. National Cyclists' Union.
N.D. No Date.
N.Dak. North Dakota.
N.E. New England.
N.E.R. North Eastern Railway.
Neb. Nebraska.
nem. con. (L. nemine contradicente). No one contradicting.
nem. dis. (L. nemine dissentiente). No one dissenting.
net. (It. netto) Lowest. (Used in the Commercial World, to denote a price that is subject to no deduction whatever).
Nev. Nevada.
N.F. Newfoundland.
N.G. New Granada.
N.H. New Hampshire.
N.J. New Jersey.
N.L. North Latitude.
N.L.R. North London Railway.
N.M. New Mexico.
N.O. New Orleans.
No. (L. numero). Number.
Non obst. (L. non obstante). Notwithstanding.
Non pros. (L. non prosequitur.) He does not prosecute.
Non seq. (L. non sequitur). It does not follow.
N.P. Notary-public.
N.P. New Providence.
N.R.A. National Rifle Association.
N.S. New Style.
N.S. Nova Scotia.
N.S.A. National Skating Association.
N.S.E.P. National Society for the Education of the Poor.
N.S.R. North Staffordshire Railway.
N.S.W. New South Wales.
N.U.T. National Union of Teachers.
N.V.M. Nativity of the Virgin Mary.
N.W.P. North West Passage.
N.W.T. North West Territories.
N.Y. New York.
N.Z. New Zealand.
N.Z.C. New Zealand Cross.

O. Ohio.
o/a. On account of.
Ob. (L. obiit.) Died.
O.F Oddfellows.
O.H.G. Old High German.
O.H.M.S. On His Majesty's Service.
O.M. Old measurement.
O.M. Order of Merit.
O.M.C. Oxford Mission to Calcutta.
On. Oregon.
O.O.O. Stand for the three anthems; O sapientia, O radix, O Adonai, sung in the Roman Catholic Church for nine days before Christmas.
O.P. Order of Preachers.
O.P. Out of print.
O.P. Opposite Prompter.
Op. cit. (L. opere citato). In the work referred to.
O.S. Old style
O.S. Out of stock.
O.S. Ordinary Seaman.
O.S.B. Order of St. Benedict.
O.T. Old Testament.
Oxon. (L. Oxoniensis). Of Oxford. (The Bishop o Oxford uses Oxon as his surname).
Oz. Ounce.

P. Princeps. (Attached to the signature of the Prince of Wales).
P. President.
P.B. (L. Philosophiæ Baccalaureus). Bachelor of Philosophy. (Also Ph. B.)
P.C. Privy Council, Privy Councillor.
P.C. Perpetual Curate.
P.C. Police Constable.
p.c. Post-Card.
P.D. (L. Post diluvium). After the flood.
P.D. (L. Philosophiæ Doctor). Doctor of Philosophy. (Also Ph. D.)

pd. Paid.
P.E. Protestant Episcopal.
P.E.I. Prince Edward Island.
Penn. Pennsylvania.
per an. (L. per annum). Yearly.
per cent. (L. per centum). By the hundred.
P.G.M. Past Grand Master.
Ph.B. See P.B.
Ph.D. See P. D.
Pinx. (L. Pinxit). He (or she) did it. (Put with the Artist's name or initials on a Painting).
Pl. Place.
P.L. Poet Laureate.
P.M. (L. post meridiem). After noon.
P.M. Past Master.
P.M. Post-Master.
P.M.G. Postmaster-General.
P.O. Post-office.
P.O. Postal order.
P.&O. Peninsular & Oriental.
P.O.O. Post-office Order.
Pop. Population.
P.O.S.B. Post-office Savings Bank.
p.p. Pages.
p.p. Past participle.
P.P. Parish Priest.
P.P. Parcels Post.
P.P.C. (Fr. pour prendre congé). To take leave.
P.P.S. Additional Postscript.
p.pr. Participle present.
Pr. Prince. Priest.
P.R. Prize Ring.
P.R.A. President of the Royal Academy.
P.R.C. (L. Post Romam Conditam). After the building of Rome.
Preb. Prebend.
pref. Prefix.
P.R.I.B.A. President of the Royal Institute of British Architects.
Prof. Professor.
pro tem. (L. pro tempore). For the time being.
prox. (L. proximo). In the next month.
P.R.S. President of the Royal Society.
P.R.S.A. President of the Royal Scottish Academy.
P.S. (L. post scriptum). Post script.
P.S. Privy Seal.
Ps. Psalms.
P.T. Pupil Teacher.
P.T.C. Pupil Teachers' Centre.
P.T.O. Please turn over.
Pub. Published, Publisher, Publication.
Pub. Doc. Public Documents.

Q. Query or question.
Q.A.B. Queen Anne's Bounty.
Q.C. Queen's College.
q.d. (L. quasi dicat). As if he should say.
q.e. (L. quod est). Which is.
Q.E.D. (L. quod erat demonstrandum). Which was to be demonstrated.
Q.E.F. (L. quod erat faciendum). Which was to be done.
Q.E.I. (L. quod erat inveniendum). Which was to be found out.
q.l. (L. quantum libet). As much as you please.
Q.M. Quarter-master.
Q.M.G. Quartermaster General.
q.p. (L. quantum placet). As much as you please.
qr. Quire.
Q.S. Quarter Sessions.
q.s. (L. quantum sufficit). Enough.
qt. Quart.
q.v. (L. quod vide). Which see.
Q.V.C.S.F. Queen Victoria's Clergy Sustentation Fund.

R. (L. Rex). King; (L. Regina). Queen.
R. Réaumur.
R.A. Royal Academy; Royal Academician.
R.A. Rear-Admiral.
R.A. Royal Arch.
R.A. Royal Artillery.
R.A.M. Royal Academy of Music.
R.A.M.C. Royal Army Medical Corps.
R.A.S. Royal Asiatic Society.
R.A.S. Royal Astronomical Society.
R.B.A. Royal Society of British Artists.
R.C. Roman Catholic.
R.C.P. Royal College of Physicians.
R.C.S. Royal College of Surgeons.
R.D. Rural Dean.
R.D. Royal Dragoons.
R.D. Rural District (Postal).
R.D.C. Rural District Council.
R.E. Royal Exchange.
R.E. Royal Engineers.
ref. Reference.
Ref. Ch. Reformed Church.
Reg. Registrar.
Reg. Prof. Regius Professor.
Reg. Regent.
Rep. Report.
Rep. Representative.
Rep. Republic.
ret. Returned.
R. et I. King and Emperor of India.
Rev. Reverend.
R.F.A. Royal Field Artillery.
R.G.G. Royal Grenadier Guards.
R.G.R. Royal Garrison Regiment.
R.G.S. Royal Geographical Society.
R.H. Royal Highlanders. (Black Watch).
R.H.A. Royal Horse Artillery.
R.H.A. Royal Hibernian Academy.
R.H.S. Royal Horticultural Society.
R.H.S. Royal Humane Society.
R.I. Rhode Island.
R.I.B.A. Royal Institute of British Architects.
R.I.C. Royal Irish Constabulary.
R.I.M. Royal Indian Marine.
R.I.P. (L. Requiescat in pace). May he rest in peace.
R.L.O. Returned letter office. (Postal).
R.M. Royal Mail.
R.M. Royal Marines.
R.M.A. Royal Marine Artillery.
R.M.A. Royal Military Asylum.
R.M.L.I. Royal Marine Light Infantry.
R.M.S. Royal Mail Steamer.
R.N. Royal Navy.
R.N.R. Royal Naval Reserve.
R.R.C. Royal Red Cross. (For zeal and devotion in nursing sick and wounded soldiers and sailors).
Rs. Rupees.
R.S. Royal Society.
R.S.A. Royal Scottish Academy.
R.S.E. Royal Society of Edinburgh.
R.S.L. Royal Society of London.
R.S.M. Royal School of Mines.
R.S.N.A. Royal Society of Northern Antiquities.
R.S.O. Railway Sub office. (For letters).
R.S.S. (L. Regiæ Societatis Socius). Member of the Royal Society.
R.S.V.P. (Fr. Répondez s'il vous plaît). Please reply.
Rt. Hon. Right Honourable.
Rt. Rev. Right Reverend.
R.T.S. Religious Tract Society.
Rt. Wp. Right Worshipful.
R.U.I. Royal University, Ireland.
R.V. Revised Version.
R.V. Rifle Volunteers.
R.W.D.G.M. Right Worshipful Deputy Grand Master.
R.W.G.M. Right Worshipful Grand Master.
R.W.G.R. Right Worthy Grand Representative.
R.W.G.S. Right Worthy Grand Secretary.
R.W.G.T. Right Worthy Grand Treasurer.
R.W.G.T. Right Worthy Grand Templar.
R.W.G.W. Right Worshipful Grand Warden.
R.W.S. Royal Society of Painters in Water Colours.
R.W.S.G.W. Right Worshipful Senior Grand Warden.
R.Y.S. Royal Yacht Squadron.
Rx. 10 rupees.

S. Saint.
S. Sunday.
s. Shilling.
S.A. South Africa.
S.A. South America.
S.A. South Australia.
Salop. Shropshire.
S.A.M.C. South American Missionary Society.
S.B. South Britain.
S.B.A. Society of Biblical Archæology.
S.C. South Carolina.
S.C. (L. Senatus Consultum). A decree of the Senate.
Sc. (L. Sculpsit). He engraved it.
sc. (L. scilicet). That is to say.
Sc.B. (L. Scientiæ Baccalaureus). Bachelor of Science. (Also B. Sc.).
Sc.D. (L. Scientiæ Doctor). Doctor of Science. (Also D. Sc.)
S.C.L. Student in Civil Law.
scr. Scruple.
S. Dak. South Dakota.
S.D.F. Social Democratic Federation.
S.D.R. Somerset and Dorset Railway.
S.D.R. Sheffield District Railway.
S.D.U.K. Society for the diffusion of useful knowledge.
Sec. Secretary.
Sec. Leg. Secretary of Legation.
Sen. Senate, Senator.
seq. (L. sequentia). The following.
S.E.C.R. South Eastern and Chatham Railway.
s.f. (L. sub fine). Towards the end.
S.F.T.C.D. Senior Fellow of Trinity College, Dublin.
S.G. Solicitor-General.
s. in. (L. sub initio). Towards the beginning.
S.J. Society of Jesus. (Order of the Jesuits.)
Skr. Sanskrit.
S.L. Solicitor at Law.
S.M. Sergeant-Major.
Sm. Caps. Small Capitals.
S.M.R. Sheffield and Midland Railway.
S.O. Sub-office (Postal).
Sp. Spain, Spanish.
S.P. (L. Sine prole). Without Offspring.
S.P.C.A. Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.
S.P.C.C. Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.
S.P.C.K. Society for the Promotion of Christian Knowledge.
S.P.G. Society for the Propagation of the Gospel.
S.P.Q.R. (L. Senatus Populusque Romanus). The Roman Senate and People.
Sq. (L Sequens). The following.
sq. Square.—sq. ft., square foot, &c., &c.
S.R.S. (L. Societatis Regiæ Socius). Member of the Royal Society.
SS. Saints.
S.S. Sunday School.
S.S.C. Solicitor before the Supreme Courts. (Scotland).
St. Saint.
S.T.D. (L. Sacræ Theologiæ Doctor). Doctor of Theology.
S.T.P. (L. Sacræ Theologiæ Professor). Professor of Theology.
Sub. Substitute.
Suff. Suffix.
Supt. Superintendent.
Sup. (L. Supra). Above.
Sur. Gen. Surgeon-General.
Surv. Gen. Surveyor-General.
s.v. (L. sub voce) Under the word or heading.
S.W. South Wales.
S.W. Senior Warden.
Sw. Sweden, Swedish.
Swit. Switzerland.
Syn. Synonym, Synonymous.
S.Y.R. South Yorkshire Railway.

T.C.D. Trinity College Dublin.
Temp. (L. tempore). In the time of (Musical).
Tenn. Tennessee.
Teut. Teutonic.
Tex. Texas.
T.M.O. Telegraph Money Order, (Postal).
T.O. Turn over.
T.O. Telegraph-office.
tonn. Tonnage.
Tr. Translator, Translation.
tr. Transpose. (Used in correcting Printers' Proofs).
Tr. Treasurer
Tr. Trustee.
T.R.H. Their Royal Highnesses.
T.T.L. To take leave.
Typo. Typographer.

U.C. (L. urbis conditæ). From the building of the city of Rome.
U.D.C. Urban District Council.
U.F.C United Free Church.
U.K. United Kingdom.
U.K.A. Ulster King-at-arms.
ult. (L. ultimo). In the last month.
Unit. Unitarian.
Up. Upper.
U.P. United Presbyterian.
U.S. United States.
U.S. (L. ut supra). As above
U.S.A. United States of America.
U.S.A. United States Army.
U.S.M. United States Mail.
U.S.N. United States Navy.
U.S.S. United States Senate.
U.S.S. United States Ship.
Ut. Utah.

V. Victoria.
v. (L. versus). Against.
v. (L. vide). See.
V.A. Vicar-Apostolic.
V.A. Vice-Admiral.
V.A. Royal Order of Victoria and Albert.
Va. Virginia.
Vat. Vatican.
V.C. Vice-Chancellor.
V.C. Victoria Cross.
V.D. Volunteer Decoration.
V.D.L. Van Diemen's Land.
V.D.M. (L. Verbi Dei Minister). Minister of the Word of God.
Ven. Venerable.
V.G. Vicar-General.
v.g. (L. verbi gratia). For example.
V.I. Vancouver's Island.
Vis. Viscount.
viz. (L. videlicet). Namely
Vol. Volume.
V.P. Vice-President.
V.P. (L. Vita patris). In his father's lifetime.
V.Rev. Very Reverend.
V.S. Veterinary Surgeon.

W. Wales, Welsh.
W.C.L. White Cross League.
W.C.R. Waterloo and City Railway.
w.f. Wrong fount. (Used in correcting Printers' Proofs).
W.I. West Indies.
W.Lon. West Longitude.
W.L.R. West London Railway.
W.M. Worshipful Master.
W.M.A. Women's Mission Association.
W.O. War Office.
W.S. Writer to the Signet.
W.T. Washington Territory.
W.T.R. Waterford and Tramore Railway.
wt. Weight.
W.Va. West Virginia.

X. Christ. (The X is the same as the Greek letter X-Chi the first letter of Christ's name).
Xmas. Christmas.
Xn. Christian.

yd. Yard.
Y.M.C.A. Young Men's Christian Association.
yr. Year.
Y.W.C.A. Young Women's Christian Association.

Zoo. Zoological Gardens.
Z.S. Zoological Society.

FLETCHER AND SON, LTD., PRINTERS, NORWICH.

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS-URBANA
030 P194 C001
Pannell's reference book for home and of
UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS-URBANA
3 0112 124483634